

Uniform State Test Implementation

On April 1, 2013, Virginia will adopt the NMLS Uniform State Test (“UST”) for mortgage loan originators. The UST will replace the state specific test component currently required in Virginia. For additional information about UST implementation, including enrollment scenarios, test content outlines, and a list of frequently asked questions, please visit the NMLS Resource Center.