Preface

The State Corporation Commission is vested with regulatory authority over many businesses and economic interests in Virginia. These interests are as varied as the SCC's powers, which are derived from the Constitution of Virginia and state statutes. The SCC's authority ranges from setting rates charged by public utilities to serving as the central filing office in Virginia for corporate charters.

Established by the Virginia Constitution of 1902 to oversee the railroad and telephone and telegraph industries operating in the Commonwealth, the SCC's jurisdiction now includes supervision of many businesses that have a direct impact on Virginia consumers. The SCC is charged with administering the Virginia laws related to the regulation of public utilities, insurance, state-chartered financial institutions, investment securities, retail franchising, and utility and railroad safety. In addition, it is the state's central filing office for Uniform Commercial Code financing statements and for documents that create corporations, limited liability companies, business trusts, and limited partnerships.

The SCC's structure is unique. No other state has placed in a single agency such a broad array of regulatory responsibility. Created by the state constitution as a permanent department of government, the SCC possesses legislative, judicial, and administrative powers. The decisions of the SCC can be appealed only to the Supreme Court of Virginia.

STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

RULES OF PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE

PART I.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

5 VAC 5-20-10. Applicability.

The State Corporation Commission Rules of Practice and Procedure are promulgated pursuant to the authority of § 12.1-25 of the Code of Virginia and are applicable to the regulatory and adjudicatory proceedings of the State Corporation Commission except where superseded by more specific rules for particular types of cases or proceedings. When necessary to serve the ends of justice in a particular case, the commission may grant, upon motion or its own initiative, a waiver or modification of any of the provisions of these rules, except 5 VAC 5-20-220, under terms and conditions and to the extent it deems appropriate. These rules do not apply to the internal administration or organization of the commission in matters such as the procurement of goods and services, personnel actions, and similar issues, nor to matters that are being handled administratively by a division or bureau of the commission.

5 VAC 5-20-20. Good faith pleading and practice.

Every pleading, written motion, or other document presented for filing by a party represented by an attorney shall be signed by at least one attorney of record in the attorney's individual name, and the attorney's mailing address and telephone number, and where available, telefax number and email address, shall be stated. An individual not represented by an attorney shall sign the individual's pleading, motion, or other document, and shall state the individual's mailing address and telephone number. A partnership not represented by an attorney shall have a partner sign the partnership's pleading, motion, or other document, and shall state the partnership's mailing address and telephone number. A nonlawyer may only represent the interests of another before the commission in the presentation of facts, figures, or factual conclusions, as distinguished from legal arguments or conclusions. In the case of an individual or entity not represented by counsel, each signature shall be that of the individual or a qualified officer or agent of the entity. Documents signed pursuant to this rule need not be under oath unless so required by statute.

The commission allows electronic filing. Before filing electronically, the filer shall complete an electronic document filing authorization form, establish a filer authentication password with the Clerk of the State Corporation Commission and otherwise comply with the electronic filing procedures adopted by the commission. Upon establishment of a filer authentication password, a filer may make electronic filings in any case. All documents submitted electronically must be capable of being printed as paper documents without loss of content or appearance.

The signature of an attorney or party constitutes a certification that (i) the attorney or party has read the pleading, motion, or other document; (ii) to the best of the attorney's or party's knowledge, information, and belief formed after reasonable inquiry, the pleading, motion or other document is well grounded in fact and is warranted by existing law or a good faith argument for the extension, modification, or reversal of existing law; and (iii) the pleading, motion or other document is not interposed for any improper purpose, such as to harass or to cause unnecessary delay or needless increase in the cost of litigation. A pleading, written motion, or other document will not be accepted for filing by the Clerk of the Commission if it is not signed.

An oral motion made by an attorney or party in a commission proceeding constitutes a representation that the motion (i) is well grounded in fact and is warranted by existing law or a good faith argument for the extension, modification, or reversal of existing law; and (ii) is not interposed for any improper purpose, such as to harass or to cause unnecessary delay or needless increase in the cost of litigation.

5 VAC 5-20-30. Counsel.

Except as otherwise provided in 5 VAC 5-20-20, no person other than a properly licensed attorney at law shall file pleadings or papers or appear at a hearing to represent the interests of another person or entity before the commission. An attorney admitted to practice in another jurisdiction, but not licensed in Virginia, may be permitted to appear in a particular proceeding pending before the commission in association with a member of the Virginia State Bar. The Virginia State Bar member will be counsel of record for every purpose related to the conduct and disposition of the proceeding.

In all appropriate proceedings before the Commission, the Division of Consumer Counsel, Office of the Attorney General, may appear and represent and be heard on behalf of consumers' interests, and investigate matters relating to such appearance, and otherwise may participate to the extent reasonably necessary to discharge its statutory duties.

5 VAC 5-20-40. Photographs and broadcasting of proceedings.

Electronic media and still photography coverage of commission hearings will be allowed at the discretion of the commission.

5 VAC 5-20-50. Consultation by parties with commissioners and hearing examiners.

No commissioner or hearing examiner shall consult with any party or any person acting on behalf of any party with respect to a pending formal proceeding without giving adequate notice and opportunity for all parties to participate.

5 VAC 5-20-60. Commission staff.

The commissioners and hearing examiners shall be free at all times to confer with any member of the commission staff. However, no facts nor legal arguments likely to influence a pending formal proceeding and not of record in that proceeding shall be furnished ex parte to any commissioner or hearing examiner by any member of the commission staff.

5 VAC 5-20-70. Informal complaints.

All correspondence and informal complaints shall be referred to the appropriate division or bureau of the commission. The head of the division or bureau receiving this correspondence or complaint shall attempt to resolve the matter presented. Matters not resolved to the satisfaction of all participating parties by the informal process may be reviewed by the full commission upon the proper filing of a formal proceeding in accordance with the rules by any party to the informal process.

PART II.

COMMENCEMENT OF FORMAL PROCEEDINGS.

5 VAC 5-20-80. Regulatory proceedings.

A. Application. Except where otherwise provided by statute, rule or commission order, a person or entity seeking to engage in an industry or business subject to the commission's regulatory authority, or to make changes in any previously authorized service, rate, facility, or other aspect of such industry or business that, by statute or rule, must be approved by the commission, shall file an application requesting authority to do so. The application shall contain (i) a specific statement of the action sought; (ii) a statement of the facts that the applicant is prepared to prove that would warrant the action sought; (iii) a statement of the legal basis for such action; and (iv) any other information required by law or regulation. Any person or entity filing an application shall be a party to that proceeding.

B. Participation as a respondent. A notice of participation as a respondent is the proper initial response to an application. A notice of participation shall be filed within the time prescribed by the commission and shall contain (i) a precise statement of the interest of the respondent; (ii) a statement of the specific action sought to the extent then known; and (iii) the factual and legal basis for the action. Any person or entity filing a notice of participation as a respondent shall be a party to that proceeding.

C. Public witnesses. Any person or entity not participating in a matter pursuant to subsection A or B of this section may make known their position in any regulatory proceeding by filing written comments in advance of the hearing if provided for by commission order or by attending the hearing, noting an appearance in the manner prescribed by the commission, and giving oral testimony. Public witnesses may not otherwise participate in the proceeding, be included in the service list, or be considered a party to the proceeding.

D. Commission staff. The commission staff may appear and participate in any proceeding in order to see that pertinent issues on behalf of the general public interest are clearly presented to the commission. The staff may, inter alia, conduct investigations and discovery, evaluate the issues raised, testify and offer exhibits, file briefs and make argument, and be subject to cross-examination when testifying. Neither the commission staff collectively nor any individual member of the commission staff shall be considered a party to the case for any purpose by virtue of participation in a proceeding.

5 VAC 5-20-90. Adjudicatory proceedings.

A. Initiation of proceedings. Investigative, disciplinary, penal, and other adjudicatory proceedings may be initiated by motion of the commission staff or upon the commission's own motion. Further proceedings shall be controlled by the issuance of a rule to show cause, which shall give notice to the defendant, state the allegations against the defendant, provide for a response from the defendant and, where appropriate, set the matter for hearing. A rule to show cause shall be served in the manner provided by § 12.1-19.1 or § 12.1-29 of the Code of Virginia. The commission staff shall prove the case by clear and convincing evidence.

B. Answer. An answer or other responsive pleading shall be filed within 21 days of service of the rule to show cause, unless the commission shall order otherwise. The answer shall state, in narrative form, each defendant's responses to the allegations in the rule to show cause and any affirmative defenses asserted by the defendant. Failure to file a timely answer or other responsive pleading may result in the entry of judgment by default against the party failing to respond.

5 VAC 5-20-100. Other proceedings.

A. Promulgation of general orders, rules, or regulations. Before promulgating a general order, rule, or regulation, the commission shall, by order upon an application or upon its own motion, require reasonable notice of the contents of the proposed general order, rule, or regulation, including publication in the Virginia Register of Regulations, and afford interested persons an opportunity to comment, present evidence, and be heard. A copy of each general order, rule, and regulation adopted in final form by the commission shall be filed with the Registrar of Regulations for publication in the Virginia Register of Regulations.

B. Petitions in other matters. Persons having a cause before the commission, whether by statute, rule, regulation, or otherwise, against a defendant, including the commission, a commission bureau, or a commission division, shall proceed by filing a written petition containing (i) the identity of the parties; (ii) a statement of the action sought and the legal basis for the commission's jurisdiction to take the action sought; (iii) a statement of the facts, proof of which would warrant the action sought; (iv) a statement of the legal basis for the action; and (v) a certificate showing service upon the defendant.

Within 21 days of service of a petition under this rule, the defendant shall file an answer or other responsive pleading containing, in narrative form, (i) a response to each allegation of the petition and (ii) a statement of each affirmative defense asserted by the defendant. Failure to file a timely answer may result in entry of judgment by default against the defendant failing to respond. Upon order of the commission, the commission staff may participate in any proceeding under this rule in which it is not a defendant to the same extent as permitted by 5 VAC 5-20-80 D.

C. Declaratory judgments. Persons having no other adequate remedy may petition the commission for a declaratory judgment. The petition shall meet the requirements of subsection B of this section and, in addition, contain a statement of the basis for concluding that an actual controversy exists. In the proceeding, the commission shall by order provide for the necessary notice, responsive pleadings, and participation by interested parties and the commission staff.

PART III.

PROCEDURES IN FORMAL PROCEEDINGS.

5 VAC 5-20-110. Motions. Motions may be filed for the same purposes recognized by the courts of record in the Commonwealth. Unless otherwise ordered by the commission, any response to a motion must be filed within 14 days of the filing of the motion, and any reply by the moving party must be filed within ten days of the filing of the response.

5 VAC 5-20-120. Procedure before hearing examiners.

A. Assignment. The commission may, by order, assign a matter pending before it to a hearing examiner. Unless otherwise ordered, the hearing examiner shall conduct all further proceedings in the matter on behalf of the commission in accordance with these rules. In the discharge of his duties, the hearing examiner shall exercise all the adjudicatory powers possessed by the commission including, inter alia, the power to administer oaths; require the attendance of witnesses and parties; require the production of documents; schedule and conduct pre-hearing conferences; admit or exclude evidence; grant or deny continuances; and rule on motions, matters of law, and procedural questions. The hearing examiner shall, upon conclusion of all assigned duties, issue a written final report and recommendation to the commission at the conclusion of the proceedings.

B. Objections and certification of issues. An objection to a ruling by the hearing examiner during a hearing shall be stated with the reasons therefor at the time of the ruling. Any objection to a hearing examiner's ruling may be argued to the commission as part of a response to the hearing examiner's report. A ruling by the hearing examiner that denies further participation by a party in interest or the commission staff in a proceeding that has not been concluded may be immediately appealed to the commission by filing a written motion with the commission for review. Upon the motion of any party or the staff, or upon the hearing examiner's own initiative, the hearing examiner may certify any other material issue to the commission for its consideration and resolution. Pending resolution by the commission of a ruling appealed or certified, the hearing examiner shall retain procedural control of the proceeding.

C. Responses to hearing examiner reports. Unless otherwise ordered by the hearing examiner, responses supporting or objecting to the hearing examiner's final report must be filed within 21 days of the issuance of the report. A reply to a response to the hearing examiner's report may only be filed with leave of the commission. The commission may accept, modify, or reject the hearing examiner's recommendations in any manner consistent with law and the evidence, notwithstanding an absence of objections to the hearing examiner's report.

5 VAC 5-20-130. Amendment of pleadings.

No amendment shall be made to any pleading after it is filed except by leave of the commission, which leave shall be liberally granted in the furtherance of justice. The commission shall make such provision for notice and for opportunity to respond to the amended pleadings as it may deem necessary and proper.

5 VAC 5-20-140. Filing and service.

A pleading or other document shall be considered filed with the commission upon receipt of the original and required copies by the Clerk of the Commission no later than the time established for the closing of business of the clerk's office on the day the item is due. The original and copies shall be stamped by the Clerk to show the time and date of receipt.

Electronic filings may be submitted at any time and will be deemed filed on the date and at the time the electronic document is received by the commission's database; provided, that if a document is received when the clerk's office is not open for public business, the document shall be deemed filed on the next regular business day. A filer will receive an electronic notification identifying the date and time the document was received by the commission's database. An electronic document may be rejected if it is not submitted in compliance with these rules.

When a filing would otherwise be due on a day when the clerk's office is not open for public business during all or part of a business day, the filing will be timely if made on the next regular business day that the office is open to the public. Except as otherwise ordered by the commission, when a period of 15 days or fewer is permitted to make a filing or take other action pursuant to commission rule or order, intervening weekends or holidays shall not be counted in determining the due date.

Service of a pleading, brief, or other document filed with the commission required to be served on the parties to a proceeding or upon the commission staff, shall be effected by delivery of a true copy to the party or staff, or by deposit of a true copy into the United States mail or overnight express mail delivery service properly addressed and postage prepaid, or via hand-delivery, on or before the date of filing. Service on a party may be made by service on the party's counsel. Alternatively, electronic service shall be permitted on parties or staff in cases where all parties and staff have agreed to such service, or where the commission has provided for such service by order. At the foot of a formal pleading, brief, or other document required to be served, the party making service shall append a certificate of counsel of record that copies were mailed or delivered as required. Notices, findings of fact, opinions, decisions, orders, or other documents to be served by the commission may be served by United States mail. However, all writs, processes, and orders of the commission, when acting in conformity with § 12.1-27 of the Code of Virginia, shall be attested by the Clerk of the Commission and served in compliance with § 12.1-19.1 or 12.1-29 of the Code of Virginia.

5 VAC 5-20-150. Copies and format.

Applications, petitions, motions, responsive pleadings, briefs, and other documents filed by parties must be filed in an original and 15 copies unless otherwise directed by the commission. Except as otherwise stated in these rules, submissions filed electronically are exempt from the copy requirement. One copy of each responsive pleading or brief must be served on each party and the commission staff counsel assigned to the matter, or, if no counsel has been assigned, on the general counsel.

Each document must be filed on standard size white opaque paper, 8-1/2 by 11 inches in dimension, must be capable of being reproduced in copies of archival quality, and only one side of the paper may be used. Submissions filed electronically shall be made in portable document format (PDF).

Each document shall be bound or attached on the left side and contain adequate margins. Each page following the first page shall be numbered. If necessary, a document may be filed in consecutively numbered volumes, each of which may not exceed three inches in thickness. Submissions filed electronically may not exceed 100 pages of printed text of 8-1/2 by 11 inches.

Each document containing more than one exhibit should have dividers separating each exhibit and should contain an index. Exhibits such as maps, plats, and photographs not easily reduced to standard size may be filed in a different size, as necessary. Submissions filed electronically that otherwise would incorporate large exhibits impractical for conversion to electronic format shall be identified in the filing and include a statement that the exhibit was filed in hardcopy and is available for viewing at the commission or that a copy may be obtained from the filing party. Such exhibit shall be filed in an original and 15 copies.

All filed documents shall be fully collated and assembled into complete and proper sets ready for distribution and use, without the need for further assembly, sorting, or rearrangement.

The Clerk of the Commission may reject the filing of any document not conforming to the requirements of this rule.

5 VAC 5-20-160. Memorandum of completeness.

With respect to the filing of a rate application or an application seeking actions, that by statute or rule must be completed within a certain number of days, a memorandum shall be filed by an appropriate member of the commission staff within ten days of the filing of the application stating whether all necessary requirements imposed by statute or rule for filing the application have been met and all required information has been filed. If the requirements have not been met, the memorandum shall state with specificity the remaining items to be filed. The Clerk of the Commission immediately shall serve a copy of the memorandum on the filing party. The first day of the period within which action on the application must be concluded shall be set forth in the memorandum and shall be the initial date of filing of applications that are found to be complete upon filing. Applications found to require supplementation shall be complete upon the date of filing of the last item identified in the staff memorandum. Applications shall be deemed complete upon filing if the memorandum of completeness is not timely filed.

5 VAC 5-20-170. Confidential information.

A person who proposes in good faith in a formal proceeding that information to be filed with or delivered to the commission be withheld from public disclosure on the ground that it contains trade secrets, privileged, or confidential commercial or financial information shall file this information under seal with the Clerk of the Commission, or otherwise deliver the information under seal to the commission staff, or both, as may be required. Items filed or delivered under seal shall be securely sealed in an opaque container that is clearly labeled "UNDER SEAL," and, if filed, shall meet the other requirements for filing contained in these rules. An original and 15 copies of all such information shall be filed with the clerk. One additional copy of all such information shall also be delivered under seal to the commission staff counsel assigned to the matter, or, where no counsel has been assigned, to the general counsel who, until ordered otherwise by the commission, shall disclose the information only to the members of the commission staff directly assigned to the matter as necessary in the discharge of their duties. Staff counsel and all members of the commission staff, until otherwise ordered by the commission, shall maintain the information in strict confidence and shall not disclose its contents to members of the public, or to other staff members not assigned to the matter. The commission staff or any party may object to the proposed withholding of the information.

When an application (including supporting documents and prefiled testimony) contains information that the applicant claims to be confidential, the filing shall be made under seal and accompanied by a motion for protective order or other confidential treatment. The provision to a party of information claimed to be trade secrets, privileged, or confidential commercial or financial information shall be governed by a protective order or other individual arrangements for confidential treatment.

On every document filed or delivered under seal, the producing party shall mark each individual page of the document that contains confidential information, and on each such page shall clearly indicate the specific information requested to be treated as confidential by use of highlighting, underscoring, bracketing or other appropriate marking. All remaining materials on each page of the document shall be treated as nonconfidential and available for public use and review. If an entire document is confidential, or if all information provided in electronic format under Part IV of these rules is confidential, a marking prominently displayed on the first page of such document or at the beginning of any information provided in electronic format, indicating that the entire document is confidential shall suffice.

Upon challenge, the information shall be treated as confidential pursuant to these rules only where the party requesting confidential treatment can demonstrate to the satisfaction of the commission that the risk of harm of publicly disclosing the information outweighs the presumption in favor of public disclosure. If the commission determines that the information should be withheld from public disclosure, it may nevertheless require the information to be disclosed to parties to a proceeding under appropriate protective order.

Whenever a document is filed with the clerk under seal, an original and one copy of an expurgated or redacted version of the document deemed by the filing party or determined by the commission to be confidential shall be filed with the clerk for use and review by the public. A document containing confidential information shall not be submitted electronically. An expurgated or redacted version of the document may be filed electronically. Documents containing confidential information must be filed in hardcopy and in accordance with all requirements of these rules. Upon a determination by the commission or a hearing examiner that all or portions of any materials filed under seal are not entitled to confidential treatment, the filing party shall file one original and one copy of the expurgated or redacted version of the document reflecting the ruling.

When the information at issue is not required to be filed or made a part of the record, a party who wishes to withhold confidential information from filing or production may move the commission for a protective order without filing the materials. In considering such a motion, the commission may require production of the confidential materials for inspection in camera, if necessary.

A party may request additional protection for extraordinarily sensitive information by motion filed pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-110, and filing the information with the Clerk of the Commission under seal and delivering a copy of the information to commission staff counsel under seal as directed above. Whenever such treatment has been requested under Part IV of these rules, the commission may make such orders as necessary to permit parties to challenge the requested additional protection.

The commission, hearing examiners, any party and the commission staff may make use of confidential material in orders, filing pleadings, testimony, or other documents, as directed by order of the commission. When a party or commission staff uses confidential material in a filed pleading, testimony, or other document, the party or commission staff must file both confidential and nonconfidential versions of the pleading, testimony, or other document. Confidential versions of filed pleadings, testimony, or other documents shall clearly indicate the confidential material contained within by highlighting, underscoring, bracketing or other appropriate marking. When filing confidential pleadings, testimony, or other documents, parties must submit the confidential version to the Clerk of the Commission securely sealed in an opaque container that is clearly labeled "UNDER SEAL." Nonconfidential versions of filed pleadings, testimony, or other documents shall expurgate, redact, or otherwise omit all references to confidential material.

The commission may issue such order as it deems necessary to prevent the use of confidentiality claims for the purpose of delay or obstruction of the proceeding.

A person who proposes in good faith that information to be delivered to the commission staff outside of a formal proceeding be withheld from public disclosure on the ground that it contains trade secrets, privileged, or confidential commercial or financial information may deliver the information under seal to the commission staff, subject to the same protections afforded confidential information in formal proceedings.

5 VAC 5-20-180. Official transcript of hearing.

The official transcript of a hearing before the commission or a hearing examiner shall be that prepared by the court reporters retained by the commission and certified by the court reporter as a true and correct transcript of the proceeding. Transcripts of proceedings shall not be prepared except in cases assigned to a hearing examiner, when directed by the commission, or when requested by a party desiring to purchase a copy. Parties desiring to purchase copies of the transcript shall make arrangement for purchase with the court reporter. When a transcript is prepared, a copy thereof shall be made available for public inspection in the clerk's office. If the transcript includes confidential information, an expurgated or redacted version of the transcript shall be made available for public inspection in the clerk's office. Only the parties who have executed an agreement to adhere to a protective order or other arrangement for access to confidential treatment in such proceeding and the commission staff shall be entitled to access to an unexpurgated or unredacted version of the transcript. By agreement of the parties, or as the commission may by order provide, corrections may be made to the transcript.

5 VAC 5-20-190. Rules of evidence.

In proceedings under 5 VAC 5-20-90, and all other proceedings in which the commission shall be called upon to decide or render judgment only in its capacity as a court of record, the common law and statutory rules of evidence shall be as observed and administered by the courts of record of the Commonwealth. In other proceedings, evidentiary rules shall not be unreasonably used to prevent the receipt of evidence having substantial probative effect.

5 VAC 5-20-200. Briefs.

Written briefs may be authorized at the discretion of the commission, except in proceedings under 5 VAC 5-20-100 A, where briefs may be filed by right. The time for filing briefs and reply briefs, if authorized, shall be set at the time they are authorized. The commission may limit the length of a brief. The commission may by order provide for the electronic filing or service of briefs.

5 VAC 5-20-210. Oral argument.

The commission may authorize oral argument, limited as the commission may direct, on any pertinent matter at any time during the course of the proceeding.

5 VAC 5-20-220. Petition for rehearing or reconsideration.

Final judgments, orders, and decrees of the commission, except judgments prescribed by § 12.1-36 of the Code of Virginia, and except as provided in §§ 13.1-614 and 13.1-813 of the Code of Virginia, shall remain under the control of the commission and subject to modification or vacation for 21 days after the date of entry. Except for good cause shown, a petition for rehearing or reconsideration must be filed not later than 20 days after the date of entry of the judgment, order, or decree. The filing of a petition will not suspend the execution of the judgment, order, or decree, nor extend the time for taking an appeal, unless the commission, within the 21-day period following entry of the final judgment, order or decree, shall provide for a suspension in an order or decree granting the petition. A petition for rehearing or reconsideration must be served on all parties and delivered to commission staff counsel on or before the day on which it is filed. The commission will not entertain responses to, or requests for oral argument on, a petition. An order granting a rehearing or reconsideration will be served on all parties and commission staff counsel by the Clerk of the Commission.

5 VAC 5-20-230. Extension of time.

The commission may, at its discretion, grant a continuance, postponement, or extension of time for the filing of a document or the taking of an action required or permitted by these rules, except for petitions for rehearing or reconsideration filed pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-220. Except for good cause shown, motions for extensions shall be made in writing, served on all parties and commission staff counsel, and filed with the commission at least three days prior to the date the action sought to be extended is due.

PART IV.

DISCOVERY AND HEARING PREPARATION PROCEDURES.

5 VAC 5-20-240. Prepared testimony and exhibits.

Following the filing of an application dependent upon complicated or technical proof, the commission may direct the applicant to prepare and file the testimony and exhibits by which the applicant expects to establish its case. In all proceedings in which an applicant is required to file testimony, respondents shall be permitted and may be directed by the commission or hearing examiner to file, on or before a date certain, testimony and exhibits by which they expect to establish their case. Any respondent that chooses not to file testimony and exhibits by that date may not thereafter present testimony or exhibits except by leave of the commission, but may otherwise fully participate in the proceeding and engage in cross-examination of the testimony and exhibits of commission staff and other parties. The commission staff also shall file testimony and exhibits when directed to do so by the commission. Failure to comply with the directions of the commission, without good cause shown, may result in rejection of the testimony and exhibits by the commission. With leave of the commission and unless a timely objection is made, the commission staff or a party may correct or supplement any prepared testimony and exhibits before or during the hearing. In all proceedings, all evidence must be verified by the witness before introduction into the record, and the admissibility of the evidence shall be subject to the same standards as if the testimony were offered orally at hearing, unless, with the consent of the commission, the staff and all parties stipulate the introduction of testimony without need for verification. An original and 15 copies of prepared testimony and exhibits shall be filed unless otherwise specified in the commission's scheduling order and public notice, or unless the testimony and exhibits are filed electronically and otherwise comply with these rules. Documents of unusual bulk or weight and physical exhibits other than documents need not be filed in advance, but shall be described and made available for pretrial examination.

5 VAC 5-20-250. Process, witnesses, and production of documents and things.

A. Subpoenas. Commission staff and any party to a proceeding shall be entitled to process, to convene parties, to compel the attendance of witnesses, and to compel the production of books, papers, documents, or things provided in this rule.

B. Commission issuance and enforcement of other regulatory agency subpoenas. Upon motion by commission staff counsel, the commission may issue and enforce subpoenas at the request of a regulatory agency of another jurisdiction if the activity for which the information is sought by the other agency, if occurring in the Commonwealth, would be a violation of the laws of the Commonwealth that are administered by the commission.

A motion requesting the issuance of a commission subpoena shall include:

1. A copy of the original subpoena issued by the regulatory agency to the named defendant;

2. An affidavit of the requesting agency administrator stating the basis for the issuance of the subpoena under that state's laws; and

3. A memorandum from the commission's corresponding division director providing the basis for the issuance of the commission subpoena.

C. Document subpoenas. In a pending proceeding, at the request of commission staff or any party, the Clerk of the Commission shall issue a subpoena. When a matter is under investigation by commission staff, before a formal proceeding has been established, whenever it appears to the commission by affidavit filed with the Clerk of the Commission by the commission staff or an individual, that a book, writing, document, or thing sufficiently described in the affidavit, is in the possession, or under the control, of an identified person and is material and proper to be produced, the commission may order the Clerk of the Commission to issue a subpoena and to have the subpoena duly served, together with an attested copy of the commission's order compelling production at a reasonable place and time as described in the commission's order.

D. Witness subpoenas. In a pending proceeding, at the request of commission staff or any party, the Clerk of the Commission shall issue a subpoena.

5 VAC 5-20-260. Interrogatories to parties or requests for production of documents and things.

The commission staff and any party in a formal proceeding before the commission, other than a proceeding under 5 VAC 5-20-100 A, may serve written interrogatories or requests for production of documents upon a party, to be answered by the party served, or if the party served is an entity, by an officer or agent of the entity, who shall furnish to the staff or requesting party information as is known. Interrogatories or requests for production of documents, including workpapers pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-270, that cannot be timely answered before the scheduled hearing date may be served only with leave of the commission for good cause shown and upon such conditions as the commission may prescribe. Such otherwise untimely interrogatories or requests for production of documents, including workpapers pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-270, may not be served until such leave is granted. No interrogatories or requests for production of documents may be served upon a member of the commission staff, except to discover factual information that supports the workpapers submitted by the staff pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-270. All interrogatories and requests for production of documents shall be filed with the Clerk of the Commission. Responses to interrogatories and requests for production of documents shall not be filed with the Clerk of the Commission.

The response to each interrogatory or document request shall identify by name the person making the response. Any objection to an interrogatory or document request shall identify the interrogatory or document request to which the objection is raised, and shall state with specificity the basis and supporting legal theory for the objection. Objections shall be served with the list of responses or in such manner as the commission may designate by order. Responses and objections to interrogatories or requests for production of documents shall be served within 10 days of receipt, unless otherwise ordered by the commission. Upon motion promptly made and accompanied by a copy of the interrogatory or document request and the response or objection that is subject to the motion, the commission will rule upon the validity of the objection; the objection otherwise will be considered sustained.

Interrogatories or requests for production of documents may relate to any matter not privileged, which is relevant to the subject matter involved, including the existence, description, nature, custody, condition, and location of any books, documents, or other tangible things, and the identity and location of persons having knowledge of evidentiary value. It is not grounds for objection that the information sought will be inadmissible at the hearing if the information appears reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

Where the response to an interrogatory or document request may only be derived or ascertained from the business records of the party questioned, from an examination, audit, or inspection of business records, or from a compilation, abstract, or summary of business records, and the burden of deriving or ascertaining the response is substantially the same for one entity as for the other, a response is sufficient if it (i) identifies by name and location all records from which the response may be derived or ascertained; and (ii) tenders to the inquiring party reasonable opportunity to examine, audit, or inspect the records subject to objection as to their proprietary or confidential nature. The inquiring party bears the expense of making copies, compilations, abstracts, or summaries.

5 VAC 5-20-270. Hearing preparation.

In a formal proceeding, a party or the commission staff may serve on a party a request to examine the workpapers supporting the testimony or exhibits of a witness whose prepared testimony has been filed in accordance with 5 VAC 5-20-240. The movant may request abstracts or summaries of the workpapers, and may request copies of the workpapers upon payment of the reasonable cost of duplication or reproduction. Copies requested by the commission staff shall be furnished without payment of copying costs. In actions pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-80 A, the commission staff shall, upon the filing of its testimony, exhibits, or report, provide (in either paper or electronic format) a copy of any workpapers that support the recommendations made in its testimony or report to any party upon request and may additionally file a copy of such workpapers with the Clerk of the Commission. The Clerk of the Commission shall make any filed workpapers available for public inspection and copying during regular business hours.

5 VAC 5-20-280. Discovery applicable only to 5 VAC 5-20-90 proceedings.

This rule applies only to a proceeding in which a defendant is subject to a monetary penalty or injunction, or revocation, cancellation, or curtailment of a license, certificate of authority, registration, or similar authority previously issued by the commission to the defendant:

1. Discovery of material in possession of the commission staff. Upon written motion of the defendant, the commission shall permit the defendant to inspect and, at the defendant's expense, copy or photograph any relevant written or recorded statements, the existence of which is known, after reasonable inquiry, by the commission staff counsel assigned to the matter to be within the custody, possession, or control of commission staff, made by the defendant, or representatives, or agents of the defendant if the defendant is other than an individual, to a commission staff member or law enforcement officer.

A motion by the defendant under this rule shall be filed and served at least 10 days before the hearing date. The motion shall include all relief sought. A subsequent motion may be made only upon a showing of cause as to why the motion would be in the interest of justice. An order granting relief under this rule shall specify the time, place, and manner of making discovery and inspection permitted, and may prescribe such terms and conditions as the commission may determine.

Nothing in this rule shall require the disclosure of any information, the disclosure of which is prohibited by statute. The disclosure of the results of a commission staff investigation or work product of commission staff counsel shall not be required.

2. Depositions. After commencement of a proceeding to which this rule applies, the commission staff or a party may take the testimony of a party or a person not a party, other than a member of the commission staff, by deposition on oral examination or by written questions. Depositions may be used for any purpose for which they may be used in the courts of record of the Commonwealth. Except where the commission or hearing examiner finds that an emergency exists, no deposition may be taken later than 10 days in advance of the formal hearing. The attendance of witnesses at depositions may be compelled by subpoena. Examination and cross-examination of the witness shall be as at hearing. Depositions may be taken in the City of Richmond or in the town, city, or county in which the deposed person resides, is employed, or does business. The parties and the commission staff, by agreement, may designate another place for the taking of the deposition. Reasonable notice of the intent to take a deposition must be given in writing to the commission staff counsel and to each party to the action, stating the time and place where the deposition is to be taken. A deposition may be taken before any person (the "officer") authorized to administer oaths by the laws of the jurisdiction in which the deposition is to be taken. The officer shall certify his authorization in writing, administer the oath to the deponent, record or cause to be recorded the testimony given, and note any objections raised. In lieu of participating in the oral examination, a party or the commission staff may deliver sealed written questions to the officer, who shall propound the questions to the witness. The officer may terminate the deposition if convinced that the examination is being conducted in bad faith or in an unreasonable manner. Costs of the deposition shall be borne by the party noticing the deposition, unless otherwise ordered by the commission.

3. Requests for admissions. The commission staff or a party to a proceeding may serve upon a party written requests for admission. Each matter on which an admission is requested shall be stated separately. A matter shall be deemed admitted unless within 21 days of the service of the request, or some other period the commission may designate, the party to whom the request is directed serves upon the requesting party a written answer addressing or objecting to the request. The response shall set forth in specific terms a denial of the matter set forth or an explanation as to the reasons the responding party cannot truthfully admit or deny the matter set forth. Requests for admission shall be filed with the Clerk of the Commission and simultaneously served on commission staff counsel and on all parties to the proceeding.

LEADING MATTERS DISPOSED OF BY FORMAL ORDERS

BUREAU OF FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS

CASE NO. BAN20090531
MAY 12, 2010

APPLICATION OF
EZ LOANS OF VIRGINIA, INC.

For authority for an other business operator to conduct open-end auto title lending business from the licensee's payday lending offices

ORDER GRANTING OTHER BUSINESS AUTHORITY

EZ Loans of Virginia, Inc. ("Licensee"), a licensed payday lender, has applied to the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to 10 VAC 5-200-100 and § 6.1-463 of the Code of Virginia, for authority for an other business operator to conduct open-end auto title lending business from its payday lending offices. The application was investigated by the Commission's Bureau of Financial Institutions ("Bureau").

Having considered the application and the Bureau's report, the Commission finds that the application meets the criteria in 10 VAC 5-200-100 B.

THEREFORE, the authority requested in the application is GRANTED subject to the following conditions:

1. The Licensee shall not make a payday loan to a borrower to enable the borrower to purchase or pay any amount owed in connection with the (i) goods or services sold, or (ii) loans offered, facilitated, or made, by the other business operator at the Licensee's payday lending offices.

2. The other business operator shall comply with all federal and state laws and regulations applicable to its other business, including any applicable licensing requirements.

3. The other business operator shall not use or cause to be published any advertisement or other information that contains any false, misleading, or deceptive statement or representation concerning its other business, including the rates, terms, or conditions of the products, services, or loans that it offers. The other business operator shall not make or cause to be made any misrepresentation as to (i) its being licensed to conduct the other business, or (ii) the extent to which it is subject to supervision or regulation.

4. The Licensee shall not make a payday loan or vary the terms of a payday loan on the condition or requirement that a person also (i) purchase a good or service from, or (ii) obtain a loan from or through, the other business operator. The other business operator shall not (a) sell its goods or services, (b) offer, facilitate, or make loans, or (c) vary the terms of its goods, services, or loans, on the condition or requirement that a person also obtain a payday loan from the Licensee.

5. The other business operator shall maintain books and records for its other business separate and apart from the Licensee's payday lending business and in a different location within the Licensee's payday lending offices. The Bureau shall be given access to all such books and records and be furnished with any information and records that it may require in order to determine compliance with all applicable conditions, laws, and regulations.

6. Any loan made by the other business operator pursuant to an open-end credit agreement shall be secured by a security interest in a motor vehicle, as defined in § 46.2-100 of the Code of Virginia.

7. The Licensee shall not make a payday loan to a person if (i) the person has an outstanding open-end loan from the other business operator, or (ii) on the same day the person repaid or satisfied in full an open-end loan from the other business operator.

8. The other business operator shall not make an open-end loan to a person pursuant to an open-end credit agreement if (i) the person has an outstanding payday loan from the Licensee, or (ii) on the same day the person repaid or satisfied in full a payday loan from the Licensee.

9. The other business operator and the Licensee shall not make an open-end loan and a payday loan contemporaneously or in response to a single request for a loan or credit.

10. The Licensee and other business operator shall provide each applicant for a payday loan or open-end credit plan with a separate disclosure, signed by the applicant, that clearly identifies all of the loan products available in the Licensee's payday lending offices along with the corresponding Annual Percentage Rate, interest rate, and other costs associated with each loan product.

11. Upon entering into an open-end credit plan secured by a borrower's motor vehicle, the other business operator shall record its security interest with the Department of Motor Vehicles and maintain adequate supporting documentation thereof in its loan file.

12. The other business operator shall not enter into an open-end credit plan secured by a prospective borrower's motor vehicle if the motor vehicle is already subject to a purchase money security interest or other outstanding lien. The other business operator shall maintain adequate supporting documentation in its loan file that a borrower's motor vehicle was not subject to a purchase money security interest or other outstanding lien at the time the borrower entered into the open-end credit plan.

APPLICATION OF
CHEQUE CASHING, INC. D/B/A ACE AMERICA'S CASH EXPRESS

For authority for an other business operator to conduct open-end auto title lending business from the licensee's payday lending office(s)

ORDER GRANTING OTHER BUSINESS AUTHORITY

Cheque Cashing, Inc. d/b/a Ace America's Cash Express ("Licensee"), a licensed payday lender, has applied to the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to 10 VAC 5-200-100 and § 6.1-463 of the Code of Virginia, for authority for an other business operator to conduct open-end auto title lending business from its payday lending office(s). The application was investigated by the Commission's Bureau of Financial Institutions ("Bureau").

Having considered the application and the Bureau's report, the Commission finds that the application meets the criteria in 10 VAC 5-200-100 B.

THEREFORE, the authority requested in the application is GRANTED subject to the following conditions:

1. The Licensee shall not make a payday loan to a borrower to enable the borrower to purchase or pay any amount owed in connection with the (i) goods or services sold, or (ii) loans offered, facilitated, or made, by the other business operator at the Licensee's payday lending office(s).

2. The other business operator shall comply with all federal and state laws and regulations applicable to its other business, including any applicable licensing requirements.

3. The other business operator shall not use or cause to be published any advertisement or other information that contains any false, misleading, or deceptive statement or representation concerning its other business, including the rates, terms, or conditions of the products, services, or loans that it offers. The other business operator shall not make or cause to be made any misrepresentation as to (i) its being licensed to conduct the other business, or (ii) the extent to which it is subject to supervision or regulation.

4. The Licensee shall not make a payday loan or vary the terms of a payday loan on the condition or requirement that a person also (i) purchase a good or service from, or (ii) obtain a loan from or through, the other business operator. The other business operator shall not (a) sell its goods or services, (b) offer, facilitate, or make loans, or (c) vary the terms of its goods, services, or loans, on the condition or requirement that a person also obtain a payday loan from the Licensee.

5. The other business operator shall maintain books and records for its other business separate and apart from the Licensee's payday lending business and in a different location within the Licensee's payday lending office(s). The Bureau shall be given access to all such books and records and be furnished with any information and records that it may require in order to determine compliance with all applicable conditions, laws, and regulations.

6. Any loan made by the other business operator pursuant to an open-end credit agreement shall be secured by a security interest in a motor vehicle, as defined in § 46.2-100 of the Code of Virginia.

7. The Licensee shall not make a payday loan to a person if (i) the person has an outstanding open-end loan from the other business operator, or (ii) on the same day the person repaid or satisfied in full an open-end loan from the other business operator.

8. The other business operator shall not make an open-end loan to a person pursuant to an open-end credit agreement if (i) the person has an outstanding payday loan from the Licensee, or (ii) on the same day the person repaid or satisfied in full a payday loan from the Licensee.

9. The other business operator and the Licensee shall not make an open-end loan and a payday loan contemporaneously or in response to a single request for a loan or credit.

10. The Licensee and other business operator shall provide each applicant for a payday loan or open-end credit plan with a separate disclosure, signed by the applicant, that clearly identifies all of the loan products available in the Licensee's payday lending offices along with the corresponding Annual Percentage Rate, interest rate, and other costs associated with each loan product.

11. Upon entering into an open-end credit plan secured by a borrower's motor vehicle, the other business operator shall record its security interest with the Department of Motor Vehicles and maintain adequate supporting documentation thereof in its loan file.

12. The other business operator shall not enter into an open-end credit plan secured by a prospective borrower's motor vehicle if the motor vehicle is already subject to a purchase money security interest or other outstanding lien. The other business operator shall maintain adequate supporting documentation in its loan file that a borrower's motor vehicle was not subject to a purchase money security interest or other outstanding lien at the time the borrower entered into the open-end credit plan.

APPLICATION OF EXPRESS CHECK ADVANCE OF VIRGINIA, LLC, D/B/A EXPRESS CHECK ADVANCE

For authority for an other business operator to conduct the business of tax preparation and electronic tax filing services from the licensee's payday lending offices

ORDER GRANTING OTHER BUSINESS AUTHORITY

Express Check Advance of Virginia, LLC d/b/a Express Check Advance ("Licensee"), a licensed payday lender, has applied to the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to 10 VAC 5-200-100 and § 6.2-1820 of the Code of Virginia, for authority for an other business operator to conduct the business of tax preparation and electronic tax filing services from the licensee's payday lending offices. The application was investigated by the Commission's Bureau of Financial Institutions ("Bureau").

Having considered the application and the Bureau's report, the Commission finds that the application meets the criteria in 10 VAC 5-200-100 B.

THEREFORE, the authority requested in the application is GRANTED subject to the following conditions:

(1) The licensee shall not make a payday loan to a borrower to enable the borrower to purchase or pay any amount owed in connection with the (i) goods or services sold, or (ii) loans offered, facilitated, or made, by the other business operator at the licensee's payday lending offices.

(2) The other business operator shall comply with all federal and state laws and regulations applicable to its other business, including any applicable licensing requirements.

(3) The other business operator shall not use or cause to be published any advertisement or other information that contains any false, misleading, or deceptive statement or representation concerning its other business, including the rates, terms, or conditions of the products, services, or loans that it offers. The other business operator shall not make or cause to be made any misrepresentation as to (i) its being licensed to conduct the other business, or (ii) the extent to which it is subject to supervision or regulation.

(4) The licensee shall not make a payday loan or vary the terms of a payday loan on the condition or requirement that a person also (i) purchase a good or service from, or (ii) obtain a loan from or through, the other business operator. The other business operator shall not (a) sell its goods or services, (b) offer, facilitate, or make loans, or (c) vary the terms of its goods, services, or loans, on the condition or requirement that a person also obtain a payday loan from the licensee.

(5) The other business operator shall maintain books and records for its other business separate and apart from the licensee's payday lending business and in a different location within the licensee's payday lending offices. The Bureau shall be given access to all such books and records and be furnished with any information and records that it may require in order to determine compliance with all applicable conditions, laws, and regulations.

(6) The licensee shall not make, arrange, or broker a payday loan that is secured by an interest in a borrower's tax refund, or in whole or in part by (i) any other assignment of income payable to a borrower, or (ii) any assignment of an interest in a borrower's account at a depository institution. This condition shall not be construed to prohibit the licensee from making a payday loan that is secured solely by a check payable to the licensee drawn on a borrower's account at a depository institution.

(7) The other business operator shall not engage in the business of (i) accepting funds for transmission to the Internal Revenue Service or other government instrumentalities, or (ii) receiving tax refunds for delivery to individuals, unless licensed or exempt from licensing under Chapter 19 of Title 6.2 of the Code of Virginia.

CASE NO. BAN20091409
FEBRUARY 18, 2010

APPLICATION OF
FIRST MARKET BANK

For a certificate of authority to conduct a banking and trust business following a merger with Union Bank and Trust Company and for authority to operate the authorized offices of the merging banks

ORDER GRANTING AUTHORITY

First Market Bank, a Virginia state-chartered bank, has applied to the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to § 6.1-44 of the Code of Virginia, for a certificate of authority to conduct a banking and trust business following a merger with Union Bank and Trust Company, a Virginia state-chartered bank. Both banks are subsidiaries of Union Bankshares Corporation, a bank holding company based in Bowling Green, Virginia. First Market Bank proposes to be the surviving bank in the merger and seeks authority to operate all of the currently authorized offices of the merging banks. The resulting bank will be renamed "Union First Market Bank." The application was investigated by the Bureau of Financial Institutions ("Bureau").

Having considered the application and the report of the Bureau, the Commission finds that: (1) the provisions of law have been complied with; (2) the capital stock of the resulting bank will be $20,949,000, and its surplus will be not less than $297,749,000; (3) the public interest will be served by the banking facilities of the resulting bank in the communities where its offices will be located; (4) the oaths of all directors have been taken and filed in accordance with the provisions of § 6.1-48 of the Code of Virginia; (5) the resulting bank will conduct a legitimate banking business; (6) the moral fitness, financial responsibility, and business qualifications of those named as officers and directors of the resulting bank are such as to command the confidence of the community; and (7) the deposits of the resulting bank will be insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

THEREFORE, a certificate of authority to conduct a banking and trust business is GRANTED to First Market Bank, effective upon the issuance by the Clerk of the Commission of a certificate of merger in the proposed transaction. The resulting bank is authorized to operate a main office at 111 Virginia Street, Suite 200, City of Richmond, Virginia, and is authorized to maintain and operate, in addition to its current offices and facilities, all of the previously authorized office locations of Union Bank and Trust Company, as listed in Attachment A. The authority granted herein shall expire one (1) year from the date of this Order unless extended by Commission order prior to the expiration date.

CASE NO. BAN20100368
JUNE 15, 2010

APPLICATION OF
GULFPORT FINANCIAL, L.L.C. D/B/A VIRGINIA CASH ADVANCE

For authority for an other business operator to conduct business as an authorized delegate or agent of a money order seller or money transmitter from the licensee's payday lending offices

ORDER GRANTING OTHER BUSINESS AUTHORITY

Gulfport Financial, L.L.C. d/b/a Virginia Cash Advance ("Licensee"), a licensed payday lender, has applied to the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to 10 VAC 5-200-100 and § 6.1-463 of the Code of Virginia, for authority for an other business operator to conduct business as an authorized delegate or agent of a money order seller or money transmitter from its payday lending offices. The application was investigated by the Commission's Bureau of Financial Institutions ("Bureau").

Having considered the application and the Bureau's report, the Commission finds that the application meets the criteria in 10 VAC 5-200-100 B.

THEREFORE, the authority requested in the application is GRANTED subject to the following conditions:

1. The Licensee shall not make a payday loan to a borrower to enable the borrower to purchase or pay any amount owed in connection with the (i) goods or services sold, or (ii) loans offered, facilitated, or made, by the other business operator at the Licensee's payday lending offices.

2. The other business operator shall comply with all federal and state laws and regulations applicable to its other business, including any applicable licensing requirements.

3. The other business operator shall not use or cause to be published any advertisement or other information that contains any false, misleading, or deceptive statement or representation concerning its other business, including the rates, terms, or conditions of the products, services, or loans that it offers. The other business operator shall not make or cause to be made any misrepresentation as to (i) its being licensed to conduct the other business, or (ii) the extent to which it is subject to supervision or regulation.

4. The Licensee shall not make a payday loan or vary the terms of a payday loan on the condition or requirement that a person also (i) purchase a good or service from, or (ii) obtain a loan from or through, the other business operator. The other business operator shall not (a) sell its goods or services, (b) offer, facilitate, or make loans, or (c) vary the terms of its goods, services, or loans, on the condition or requirement that a person also obtain a payday loan from the Licensee.

5. The other business operator shall maintain books and records for its other business separate and apart from the Licensee's payday lending business and in a different location within the Licensee's payday lending offices. The Bureau shall be given access to all such books and records and be furnished with any information and records that it may require in order to determine compliance with all applicable conditions, laws, and regulations.

6. The other business operator shall be and remain a party to a written agreement to act as an authorized delegate or agent of a person licensed or exempt from licensing as a money order seller or money transmitter under Chapter 12 of Title 6.1 of the Code of Virginia. The other business operator shall not engage in money order sales or money transmission services on its own behalf or on behalf of any person other than a licensed or exempt money order seller or money transmitter with whom it has a written agreement.

AUGUST 27, 2010

APPLICATION OF UNION FIRST MARKET BANK

For a certificate of authority to conduct a banking and trust business following a merger with Northern Neck State Bank and The Rappahannock National Bank of Washington and for authority to operate the authorized offices of the merging banks

ORDER GRANTING AUTHORITY

Union First Market Bank, a Virginia state-chartered bank, has applied to the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to § 6.1-44 of the Code of Virginia, for a certificate of authority to conduct a banking and trust business following a merger with Northern Neck State Bank, a Virginia state-chartered bank, and The Rappahannock National Bank of Washington, a national bank headquartered in Virginia. All three banks are subsidiaries of Union First Market Bankshares Corporation, a multi-bank holding company based in Richmond, Virginia. Union First Market Bank proposes to be the surviving bank in the merger and seeks authority to operate all of the currently authorized offices of the merging banks. The application was investigated by the Bureau of Financial Institutions ("Bureau").

Having considered the application and the report of the Bureau, the Commission finds that: (1) the provisions of law have been complied with; (2) the capital stock of the resulting bank will be $12,088,000, and its surplus will be not less than $404,003,000; (3) the public interest will be served by the banking facilities of the resulting bank in the communities where its offices will be located; (4) the oaths of all directors have been take and filed in accordance with the provisions of § 6.1-48 of the Code of Virginia; (5) the resulting bank will conduct a legitimate banking business; (6) the moral fitness, financial responsibility, and business qualifications of those named as officer and directors of the resulting bank are such as to command the confidence of the community; and (7) the deposits of the resulting bank will be insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

THEREFORE, a certificate of authority to conduct a banking and trust business is GRANTED to Union First Market Bank, effective upon the issuance by the Clerk of the Commission of a certificate of merger in the proposed transaction. The resulting bank is authorized to operate a main office at 111 Virginia Street, Suite 200, City of Richmond, Virginia, and is authorized to maintain and operate, in addition to its current offices and facilities, the offices of Northern Neck Bank and The Rappahannock National Bank of Washington listed in Attachment A. The authority granted herein shall expire one (1) year from the date of this Order unless extended by Commission order prior to the expiration date.

CASH-2-U FINANCIAL SERVICES OF VIRGINIA, LLC D/B/A CASH-2-U TITLE LOANS

For authority for an other business operator to conduct a payday lending business from the licensee's motor vehicle title lending offices

ORDER GRANTING OTHER BUSINESS AUTHORITY

Cash-2-U Financial Services of Virginia, LLC d/b/a Cash-2-U Title Loans ("Licensee"), a licensed motor vehicle title lender, has applied to the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to 10 VAC 5-210-70 and § 6.2-2215 (18) of the Code of Virginia, for authority for an other business operator to conduct a payday lending business from the Licensee's motor vehicle title lending offices. The application was investigated by the Commission's Bureau of Financial Institutions ("Bureau").

Having considered the application and the Bureau's report, the Commission finds that the application meets the criteria in 10 VAC 5-210-70 B.

THEREFORE, the authority requested in the application is GRANTED subject to the following conditions:

1. The Licensee shall not make a motor vehicle title loan to a borrower to enable the borrower to purchase or pay any amount owed in connection with the (i) goods or services sold, or (ii) loans offered, facilitated, or made, by the other business operator at the Licensee's motor vehicle title lending offices.

2. The other business operator shall comply with all federal and state laws and regulations applicable to its other business, including any applicable licensing requirements.

3. The other business operator shall not use or cause to be published any advertisement or other information that contains any false, misleading, or deceptive statement or representation concerning its other business, including the rates, terms, or conditions of the products, services, or loans that it offers. The other business operator shall not make or cause to be made any misrepresentation as to (i) its being licensed to conduct the other business or (ii) the extent to which it is subject to supervision or regulation.

4. The Licensee shall not make a motor vehicle title loan or vary the terms of a motor vehicle title loan on the condition or requirement that a person also (i) purchase a good or service from, or (ii) obtain a loan from or through, the other business operator. The other business operator shall not (a) sell its goods or services, (b) offer, facilitate, or make loans, or (c) vary the terms of its goods, services, or loans, on the condition or requirement that a person also obtain a motor vehicle title loan from the Licensee.

5. The other business operator shall maintain books and records for its other business separate and apart from the Licensee's motor vehicle title lending business and in a different location within the Licensee's motor vehicle title lending offices. The Bureau shall be given access to all such books and records and be furnished with any information and records that it may require in order to determine compliance with all applicable conditions, laws, and regulations.

6. The Licensee shall not make a motor vehicle title loan to a person if (i) the person has an outstanding payday loan from the other business operator or (ii) on the same day the person repaid or satisfied in full a payday loan from the other business operator.

7. The other business operator shall not make a payday loan to a person if (i) the person has an outstanding motor vehicle title loan from the Licensee or (ii) on the same day the person repaid or satisfied in full a motor vehicle title loan from the Licensee.

8. The other business operator and the Licensee shall not make a payday loan and a motor vehicle title loan contemporaneously or in response to a single request for a loan or credit.

9. The Licensee and other business operator shall provide each applicant for a motor vehicle title loan or payday loan with a separate disclosure, signed by the applicant, that clearly identifies all of the loan products available in the Licensee's motor vehicle title lending offices along with the corresponding Annual Percentage Rate, interest rate, and other costs associated with each loan product. The disclosure shall also identify the collateral, if any, that will be used to secure repayment of each loan product.

Brooke Enterprises, Inc. d/b/a Cash Today, a licensed payday lender, has applied to the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to 10 VAC 5-200-100 and § 6.2-1820 of the Code of Virginia, for authority for an other business operator to conduct a motor vehicle title lending business from the Licensee's payday lending offices. The application was investigated by the Commission's Bureau of Financial Institutions ("Bureau").

Having considered the application and the Bureau's report, the Commission finds that the application meets the criteria in 10 VAC 5-200-100 B.

THEREFORE, the authority requested in the application is GRANTED subject to the following conditions:

1. The Licensee shall not make a payday loan to a borrower to enable the borrower to purchase or pay any amount owed in connection with the (i) goods or services sold, or (ii) loans offered, facilitated, or made, by the other business operator at the Licensee's payday lending offices.

2. The other business operator shall comply with all federal and state laws and regulations applicable to its other business, including any applicable licensing requirements.

3. The other business operator shall not use or cause to be published any advertisement or other information that contains any false, misleading, or deceptive statement or representation concerning its other business, including the rates, terms, or conditions of the products, services, or loans that it offers. The other business operator shall not make or cause to be made any misrepresentation as to (i) its being licensed to conduct the other business, or (ii) the extent to which it is subject to supervision or regulation.

4. The Licensee shall not make a payday loan or vary the terms of a payday loan on the condition or requirement that a person also (i) purchase a good or service from, or (ii) obtain a loan from or through, the other business operator. The other business operator shall not (a) sell its goods or services, (b) offer, facilitate, or make loans, or (c) vary the terms of its goods, services, or loans, on the condition or requirement that a person also obtain a payday loan from the Licensee.

5. The other business operator shall maintain books and records for its other business separate and apart from the Licensee's payday lending business and in a different location within the Licensee's payday lending offices. The Bureau shall be given access to all such books and records and be furnished with any information and records that it may require in order to determine compliance with all applicable conditions, laws, and regulations.

6. The other business operator shall be licensed or exempt from licensing under Chapter 22 (§ 6.2-2200 et seq.) of Title 6.2 of the Code of Virginia.

7. The Licensee shall not make a payday loan to a person if (i) the person has an outstanding motor vehicle title loan from the other business operator, or (ii) on the same day the person repaid or satisfied in full a motor vehicle title loan from the other business operator.

8. The other business operator shall not make a motor vehicle title loan to a person if (i) the person has an outstanding payday loan from the Licensee, or (ii) on the same day the person repaid or satisfied in full a payday loan from the Licensee.

9. The other business operator and the Licensee shall not make a motor vehicle title loan and a payday loan contemporaneously or in response to a single request for a loan or credit.

10. The Licensee and other business operator shall provide each applicant for a payday loan or motor vehicle title loan with a separate disclosure, signed by the applicant, that clearly identifies all of the loan products available in the Licensee's payday lending offices along with the corresponding Annual Percentage Rate, interest rate, and other costs associated with each loan product. The disclosure shall also identify the collateral, if any, that will be used to secure repayment of each loan product.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
v.
BUCKEYE CHECK CASHING OF VIRGINIA, INC. D/B/A CHECK$MART, Defendant

SETTLEMENT ORDER

ON A FORMER DAY, the Staff reported to the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") that Buckeye Check Cashing of Virginia, Inc. d/b/a Check$mart ("Defendant") is licensed to engage in business as a payday lender under Chapter 18 of Title 6.1 of the Code of Virginia; that on April 4, 2008, the Bureau of Financial Institutions examined the Defendant and alleged that it had violated § 6.1-459 (1) of the Code of Virginia in 19 instances,[1] § 6.1-459 (8) of the Code of Virginia in five instances,[2] § 6.1-459 (10) of the Code of Virginia in 13 instances,[3] § 6.1-459 (14) of the Code of Virginia in six

[1] At the time of the examination, § 6.1-459 (1) provided as follows:

> Each payday loan agreement shall be evidenced by a written agreement, which shall be signed by the borrower and a person authorized by the licensee to sign such agreements and dated the same day the loan is made and disbursed. The loan agreement shall set forth, at a minimum: (i) the principal amount of the loan; (ii) the fee charged; (iii) the annual percentage rate, which shall be stated using that term, applicable to the transaction calculated in accordance with Federal Reserve Board Regulation Z; (iv) evidence of receipt from the borrower of a check, dated the same date, as security for the loan, stating the amount of the check; (v) an agreement by the licensee not to present the check for payment or deposit until a specified maturity date, which date shall be at least seven days after the date the loan is made and after which date interest shall not accrue on the amount advanced at a greater rate than six percent per year; (vi) an agreement by the licensee that the borrower shall have the right to cancel the loan transaction at any time before the close of business on the next business day following the date of the transaction by paying to the licensee, in the form of cash or other good funds instrument, the amount advanced to the borrower; and (vii) an agreement that the borrower shall have the right to prepay the loan prior to maturity by paying the licensee the principal amount advanced and any accrued and unpaid fees.

[2] At the time of the examination, § 6.1-459 (8) provided that "[a] licensee shall not require or accept a post-dated check as security for, or in payment of, a loan."

[3] Section 6.1-459 (10) provides that "[a] licensee shall not take an interest in any property other than a check payable to the licensee as security for a loan."

instances,[4] § 6.1-459 (17) of the Code of Virginia in one instance,[5] and § 6.1-461 of the Code of Virginia in one instance;[6] that upon being informed that the Commissioner of Financial Institutions intended to recommend the imposition of a fine, the Defendant offered to settle this case by paying a fine in the sum of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($25,000), tendered said sum to the Commonwealth of Virginia, and waived its right to a hearing in the case; and the Commissioner of Financial Institutions recommended that the Commission accept the Defendant's offer of settlement pursuant to the authority granted under § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the Defendant's offer of settlement, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Financial Institutions, is of the opinion that the Defendant's offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Defendant's offer in settlement of this case is accepted.

(2) This case is dismissed.

(3) The papers filed herein shall be placed in the file for ended causes.

[4] At the time of the examination, § 6.1-459 (14) provided as follows:

> Upon receipt of a check given as security for a loan, the licensee shall stamp the check with an endorsement stating: "This check is being negotiated as part of a payday loan pursuant to Chapter 18 (§ 6.1-444 et seq.) of this title, and any holder of this check takes it subject to all claims and defenses of the maker.

[5] Section 6.1-459 (17) provides as follows:

> A borrower shall be permitted to make partial payments, in increments of not less than $5, on the loan at any time prior to maturity, without charge. The licensee shall give the borrower signed, dated receipts for each payment made, which shall state the balance due on the loan. Upon repayment of the loan in full, the licensee shall mark the original loan agreement with the word "paid" or "canceled," return it to the borrower, and retain a copy in its records.

[6] At the time of the examination, § 6.1-461 provided as follows:

> In addition to the loan principal and the fee permitted under § 6.1-460, no further or other amount whatsoever shall be directly or indirectly charged, contracted for, collected, received or recovered except (i) any deposit item return fee incurred by the licensee, not to exceed $25, if the check given by the borrower as security is returned because the account on which it was drawn was closed by the borrower or contained insufficient funds, or the borrower stopped payment on the check, and (ii) if judgment is obtained against the borrower, court costs and reasonable attorneys' fees if awarded by the court, incurred as a result of the returned check in an amount not to exceed $250. A licensee shall not be entitled to collect or recover from a borrower any sum otherwise permitted pursuant to §§ 6.1-330.54, 8.01-27.2, or § 8.01-382.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
v.
OPTIMA FUNDING GROUP, INC.
Defendant

SETTLEMENT ORDER

On December 29, 2009, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") issued a Rule to Show Cause ("Rule") in this case against Optima Funding Group, Inc. ("Defendant"). The Rule, among other things, alleged that the Defendant: (i) violated §§ 6.1-416 and 6.1-417 of the Mortgage Lender and Broker Act ("Act"), § 6.1-408 et seq. of the Code of Virginia, by conducting business from, and maintaining records in, unlicensed offices; (ii) violated § 6.1-422 A(1) of the Act by obtaining Broker Fee Agreements and Financing Agreements in which blanks were left to be filled in after execution; (iii) violated § 6.1-2.9:5(3) of the Code of Virginia by failing to provide borrowers with a good faith estimate of the processing time required for their loan; (iv) violated Rule 10 VAC 5-160-70 A by failing to obtain criminal history records on four prospective employees; (v) violated Rule 10 VAC 5-160-50 by failing to provide documents requested by the Bureau of Financial Institutions ("Bureau") as part of its examination of the Defendant; and (vi) engaged in conduct that would be grounds for denial of a license under the Act, which constitutes a basis for license revocation under § 6.1-415 A(1) of the Act. Additionally, the Rule required the Defendant to file a responsive pleading on or before January 29, 2010.

As a proposal to settle all matters arising from these allegations and have the Rule dismissed, the Defendant and Mr. WookHyun Nam ("Mr. Nam"), the Defendant's president and one hundred percent (100%) owner, offered to abide by the provisions of this Order and waived their right to a hearing in the case. The Commissioner of Financial Institutions ("Commissioner") recommended that the Commission accept the Defendant's offer of settlement pursuant to the authority granted under § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the Defendant's offer of settlement, and the recommendation of the Commissioner, is of the opinion that the Defendant's offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Defendant's offer in settlement of this case is accepted.

(2) The Defendant shall surrender the mortgage broker license.

(3) The Defendant and Mr. Nam shall cease and desist from violating the provisions of the Act.

(4) Mr. Nam shall not act as, or otherwise perform the duties of, a senior officer of director of a mortgage lender or mortgage broker that is (i) a successor or assign of the Defendant, or (ii) owned or operated by an immediate family member of Mr. Nam. Additionally, Mr. Nam shall not acquire a ten percent (10%) or greater interest in a mortgage lender or mortgage broker that is owned or operated by an immediate family member of Mr. Nam. For purposes of this paragraph, a senior officer means a person who has a significant management responsibility within an organization or otherwise has the authority to influence or control the conduct of the organization's affairs, including, but not limited to, its compliance with applicable laws and regulations.

(5) The Defendant shall not merge into, be acquire by, or otherwise consolidate with a mortgage lender or mortgage broker that is owned or operated by an immediate family member of Mr. Nam.

(6) This case is dismissed.

(7) The papers filed herein shall be placed in the file for ended causes.

On January 19, 2010, F & L Marketing Enterprises, LLC d/b/a Cash-2-U Payday Loans filed a Motion to Reconsider and to Delay the Effective Date of a Regulation until July 1, 2010.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of this Motion, grants reconsideration for the purpose of continuing our jurisdiction over this matter and considering the merits of the above-referenced Motion.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Reconsideration is granted for the purpose of continuing our jurisdiction over this matter and considering the above-referenced Motion.

(2) This matter is continued pending further order of the Commission.

CASE NO. BFI-2009-00344
JANUARY 25, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In the matter of adopting rules for the conduct of other business in payday lending offices

ORDER ON RECONSIDERATION

On December 29, 2009, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") issued an Order Adopting a Regulation in this matter. Thereafter, on January 19, 2010, F & L Marketing Enterprises, LLC d/b/a Cash-2-U Payday Loans ("F & L Marketing Enterprises") filed a Motion to Reconsider and to Delay the Effective Date of a Regulation until July 1, 2010 ("Motion"). In its Motion, F & L Marketing Enterprises requested that the Commission reconsider and delay the effective date of the amended regulation until July 1, 2010. In support of its Motion, F & L Marketing Enterprises stated that the February 1, 2010 effective date (i) does not leave adequate time for affected parties to implement the required changes affecting motor vehicle title lending in an orderly manner, and (ii) will result in a disruption of motor vehicle title loan services available to customers. On January 19, 2010, the Commission issued an Order Granting Reconsideration for the purpose of continuing our jurisdiction over this matter and considering the merits of the Motion.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the Motion and the record in this proceeding, is of the opinion and finds that companies currently engaged in open-end auto title lending business from one or more payday lending offices pursuant to a prior Commission approval order should be given some additional time to comply with the two additional conditions set forth in subdivisions F 6 and F 7 of 10 VAC 5-200-100. However, we are not persuaded by the Motion or the affidavit that was attached thereto that F & L Marketing Enterprises needs an additional five months to implement these two conditions. Furthermore, we do not believe that it is either necessary or appropriate to extend the effective date of the amended regulation, which would impact a multitude of other provisions that are unrelated to auto title lending, in order to accommodate the concerns raised in the Motion. Accordingly, we believe it is reasonable and in the public interest to give licensees and third parties who are currently offering open-end auto title loans from payday lending offices pursuant to a prior Commission approval order until March 1, 2010, to comply with the conditions set forth in subdivisions F 6 and F 7 of 10 VAC 5-200-100.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:f

(1) F & L Marketing Enterprises' Motion is granted in part. The effective date of the amended regulation shall remain February 1, 2010, but licensees and third parties who are currently offering open-end auto title loans from payday lending offices pursuant to a prior Commission approval order shall have until March 1, 2010, to comply with the conditions set forth in subdivisions F 6 and F 7 of 10 VAC 5-200-100.

(2) This case is dismissed.

ON A FORMER DAY, the Staff reported to the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") that American Home Loan, Inc. d/b/a Allymac Mortgage Services ("Defendant") is licensed to engage in business as a mortgage broker under Chapter 16 of Title 6.1 of the Code of Virginia; that on May 13, 2009, the Bureau of Financial Institutions ("Bureau") examined the Defendant and alleged that it had violated §§ 6.1-2.9:5, 6.1-416, 6.1-423.1, and 6.1-424 of the Code of Virginia as well as 10 VAC 5-160-60; that upon being informed that the Commissioner of Financial Institutions intended to recommend the imposition of a fine, the Defendant offered to settle this case by surrendering its mortgage broker license, surrendered said license, and waived its right to a hearing in the case; and the Commissioner of Financial Institutions recommended that the Commission accept the Defendant's offer of settlement pursuant to the authority granted under § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Defendant's offer in settlement of this case is accepted.

(2) This case is dismissed.

(3) The papers filed herein shall be placed in the file for ended causes.

v.
LOUDOUN MORTGAGE, LLC,
Defendant

ORDER REVOKING A LICENSE

The Commissioner of Financial Institutions ("Commissioner") has reported to the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") that Loudoun Mortgage, LLC ("Defendant") is licensed to engage in business as a mortgage broker under Chapter 16 of Title 6.1 of the Code of Virginia; that the bond filed by the Defendant pursuant to § 6.1-413 of the Code of Virginia was cancelled on October 13, 2009; and the Commissioner, pursuant to delegated authority, gave written notice to the Defendant by certified mail on October 20, 2009, (1) of his intention to recommend revocation of its license unless a new bond was filed by November 20, 2009, and (2) that a written request for a hearing was required to be filed in the Office of the Clerk on or before November 10, 2009. As of the date of this Order, the Defendant has not filed, nor has the Commission received, a new bond or written request for a hearing.

The Commissioner, upon the Defendant's failure to request a hearing, has recommended that the Commission enter an order revoking the Defendant's license to engage in business as a mortgage broker.

THE COMMISSION is of the opinion and finds that the Defendant has failed to maintain its bond in force as required by law.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED that the license granted to the Defendant to engage in business as a mortgage broker is hereby revoked.

COMMUNITY MORTGAGE SERVICES CORPORATION,
Defendant

ORDER REVOKING A LICENSE

ON A FORMER DAY, the Commissioner of Financial Institutions ("Commissioner") reported to the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") that Community Mortgage Services Corporation ("Defendant") is licensed to engage in business as a mortgage broker under Chapter 16 of Title 6.1 of the Code of Virginia; that the Defendant failed to (i) pay its annual fee due May 25, 2009, in violation of § 6.1-420 of the Code of Virginia, (ii) respond to the Bureau of Financial Institutions ("Bureau") regarding complaints from appraisal companies, in violation of 10 VAC 5-160-50, and (iii) pay fees for appraisal services described in § 6.1-425 A 5 of the Code of Virginia; that the Commissioner, pursuant to delegated authority, gave written notice to the Defendant by certified mail on November 4, 2009, (1) of his intention to recommend revocation of its license, and (2) that a written request for a hearing was required to be filed in the Office of the Clerk on or before December 4, 2009; and that no written request for a hearing was filed.

Accordingly, the Commission finds that the Defendant has failed to pay its annual fee, respond to the Bureau regarding complaints from appraisal companies, and pay fees for certain appraisal services, which are grounds for license revocation under § 6.1-425 of the Code of Virginia, and

IT IS ORDERED that the license granted to the Defendant to engage in business as a mortgage broker is hereby revoked.

SETTLEMENT ORDER

The Commissioner of Financial Institutions has reported to the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") that Mortgage Source LLC ("Defendant") is licensed to engage in business as a mortgage lender and mortgage broker under Chapter 16 of Title 6.1 of the Code of Virginia; that on May 19, 2009, the Commission's Bureau of Financial Institutions examined the Defendant and alleged that it had violated §§ 6.1-2.9:5 and 6.1-422 of the Code of Virginia, 10 VAC 5-160-30, 10 VAC 5-160-50, 10 VAC 5-160-60, and 12 C.F.R. § 226.18; that upon being informed that the Commissioner of Financial Institutions intended to recommend the imposition of a fine, the Defendant offered to settle this case by paying a fine in the sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000), tendered said sum to the Commonwealth of Virginia, and waived its right to a hearing in this case; and the Commissioner of Financial Institutions recommended that the Commission accept the Defendant's offer of settlement pursuant to the authority granted under § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the Defendant's offer of settlement, and the recommendation of the Commissioner, is of the opinion that the Defendant's offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Defendant's offer in settlement of this case is accepted.

(2) This case is dismissed.

(3) The papers filed herein shall be placed in the file for ended causes.

ORDER REVOKING A LICENSE

The Commissioner of Financial Institutions ("Commissioner") has reported to the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") that Lifetime Financial Partners, Inc. ("Defendant"), is licensed to engage in business as a mortgage lender and a mortgage broker under Chapter 16 of Title 6.1 of the Code of Virginia; that the bond filed by the Defendant pursuant to § 6.1-413 of the Code of Virginia was cancelled on February 4, 2010; and the Commissioner, pursuant to delegated authority, gave written notice to the Defendant by certified mail on February 10, 2010, (1) of his intention to recommend revocation of its license unless a new bond was filed by March 10, 2010, and (2) that a written request for a hearing was required to be filed in the Office of the Clerk on or before March 3, 2010. As of the date of this Order, the Defendant has not filed, nor has the Commission received, a new bond or written request for hearing.

The Commissioner, upon the Defendant's failure to request a hearing, has recommended that the Commission enter an order revoking the Defendant's license to engage in business as a mortgage lender and a mortgage broker.

NOW THE COMMISSION is of the opinion and finds that the Defendant has failed to maintain its bond in force as required by law.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT the license granted to the Defendant to engage in business as a mortgage lender and a mortgage broker is hereby revoked.

SETTLEMENT ORDER

The Commissioner of Financial Institutions has reported to the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") that Nationwide Mortgage Concepts, LLC ("Defendant") is licensed to engage in business as a mortgage lender and mortgage broker under Chapter 16 of Title 6.1 of the Code of Virginia; that the Defendant sent "VA BENEFITS" solicitations to Virginia consumers in violation of 10 VAC 5-160-60 and the Mortgage Lender and Broker Act; and that upon being informed that the Commissioner of Financial Institutions intended to recommend the imposition of a fine, the Defendant offered to settle this case by paying a fine in the sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) and abiding by the provisions of this Order, tendered said sum to the Commonwealth of Virginia, and waived its right to a hearing in the case. The Commissioner of Financial Institutions has recommended that the Commission accept the Defendant's offer of settlement pursuant to the authority granted under § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Defendant's offer in settlement of this case is accepted.

(2) The Defendant shall cease and desist from sending its "VA BENEFITS" solicitations or any other false, misleading, or deceptive advertisements to Virginia consumers.

(3) The Defendant shall comply with all provisions of 10 VAC 5-160-60 and § 6.1-424 of the Code of Virginia.

(4) This case is dismissed.

CITIFINANCIAL OF VIRGINIA, INC.

In Re: Approval of a Settlement Agreement between CitiFinancial Services, Inc., CitiFinancial, Inc., and CitiFinancial of Virginia, Inc., and the State Mortgage Regulators of the affected States in the United States

ORDER APPROVING SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

ON THIS DAY came the Bureau of Financial Institutions ("the Bureau"), by counsel, having found that (i) CitiFinancial Services, Inc., CitiFinancial, Inc., and CitiFinancial of Virginia, Inc., (collectively, "CitiFinancial") is a group of affiliated companies based in Baltimore, Maryland, (ii) CitiFinancial, Inc. held a Virginia mortgage lender and broker license pursuant to Chapter 16 (§ 6.1-409 et seq.) of the Code of Virginia until June 2005, (iii) CitiFinancial of Virginia, Inc., was a licensed Virginia industrial loan association pursuant to Chapter 5 (§ 6.1-227 et seq.) of the Code of Virginia until 2007, (iv) CitiFinancial Services, Inc. is a Virginia licensed consumer finance company pursuant to Chapter 6 (§ 6.1-244 et seq.) of the Code of Virginia, (v) CitiFinancial failed inadvertently to report certain loans required to be reported pursuant to the federal Home Mortgage Disclosure Act ("HMDA"), 12 U.S.C. § 2801 et seq., for the reporting years 2004 through 2007, (vi) such underreporting was the result of an unintentional computer programming error, (vii) CitiFinancial has corrected all of its reports for the affected years, and (viii) CitiFinancial has established and implemented internal controls to ensure compliance with the reporting requirements of HMDA;

The Bureau requested Commission approval and acceptance of a Settlement Agreement dated March 23, 2010 ("the Agreement"), a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof, by and between the affected State Mortgage Regulators[1] and CitiFinancial, and authority to execute any documents attendant to the Agreement necessary to evidence the Commission's acceptance of the Agreement;

[1] The affected State Mortgage Regulators are as follows: Alabama, Arizona, Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Hawaii, Idaho, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, and West Virginia.

THE COMMISSION, having considered the terms of the Agreement together with the recommendation of the Bureau that the Commission approve and accept the Agreement, is of the opinion, finds, and ORDERS that (i) the Agreement be, and it is hereby, APPROVED AND ACCEPTED, and (ii) the Commissioner of Financial Institutions be, and he is hereby, authorized to execute any attendant documents necessary to evidence the Commission's approval and acceptance of the Agreement.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In re: annual assessment of licensed money order sellers and money transmitters

ORDER TO TAKE NOTICE

In order to defray the costs of examining and supervising money order sellers and money transmitters licensed under Chapter 12 of Title 6.1 of the Code of Virginia ("licensees"), § 6.1-373 B of the Code of Virginia requires licensees to pay an annual assessment calculated in accordance with a schedule set by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"). The schedule is required to bear a reasonable relationship to the dollar volume of money orders sold and money transmission business conducted by licensees, either directly or through their authorized delegates, the costs of their examinations, and to other factors relating to their supervision and regulation.

NOW THE COMMISSION, based on information supplied by the Staff of the Bureau of Financial Institutions ("Bureau"), proposes to adopt a regulation setting an assessment schedule that will promote the efficient and effective examination and supervision of licensees. Based on annual reports filed with the Bureau by licensees for the calendar year ending 2009, the schedule set forth in the proposed regulation is projected to generate a total annual assessment of $471,176.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The proposed regulation, entitled "Assessment Schedule for the Examination and Supervision of Money Order Sellers and Money Transmitters," is appended hereto and made a part of the record herein.

(2) Comments or requests for a hearing on the proposed regulation must be submitted in writing to Joel H. Peck, Clerk, State Corporation Commission, c/o Document Control Center, P.O. Box 2118, Richmond, Virginia 23218, on or before June 18, 2010. Requests for a hearing shall state why a hearing is necessary and why the issues cannot be adequately addressed in written comments. All correspondence shall contain a reference to Case No. BFI-2010-00144. Interested persons desiring to submit comments or request a hearing electronically may do so by following the instructions available at the Commission's website: http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case.

(3) This Order and the proposed regulation shall be posted on the Commission's website at http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case.

(4) The Commission's Division of Information Resources shall send a copy of this Order, including a copy of the proposed regulation, to the Virginia Registrar of Regulations for publication in the Virginia Register of Regulations.

JULY 21, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In re: annual assessment of licensed money order sellers and money transmitters

ORDER ADOPTING A REGULATION

On May 17, 2010, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") entered an Order to Take Notice of a proposal to adopt a regulation pursuant to § 6.1-373 B of the Code of Virginia. The proposed regulation, 10 VAC 5-120-50, prescribes an assessment schedule for money order sellers and money transmitters licensed under Chapter 12 of Title 6.1 of the Code of Virginia ("licensees") in order to defray the cost of their examination and supervision. The Order and proposed regulation were published in the Virginia Register of Regulations on June 7, 2010, posted on the Commission's website, and mailed to all licensees and other interested parties. Licensees and other interested parties were afforded the opportunity to file written comments or request a hearing on or before June 18, 2010.

Comments on the proposed regulation were filed by Mr. Randy Mersky on behalf of Global Express Money Orders, Inc.[1] In his comment letter, Mr. Mersky contended that the examination process has historically been more complicated, involved, and time consuming for money transmitters, and that the assessment rate for money orders should be much lower than the assessment rate for money transmission. Mr. Mersky also recommended that the assessment schedule take into account a licensee's overall size or net worth.[2]

On June 22, 2010, the Commission entered an Order directing the Bureau of Financial Institutions ("Bureau") to file a written response to Mr. Mersky's comments. On June 25, 2010, the Bureau filed a Response to Comments. The Bureau reported to the Commission that it had contacted regulators in several other states (California, Ohio, Texas, and Wyoming) that have substantial experience regulating and examining money order sellers and money transmitters, and that all of the state regulators uniformly indicated that (i) money order sellers must comply with the same laws as money transmitters, (ii) regulators use the same programs and procedures to examine both products, and (iii) the time allotted by regulators for examinations is identical. The Bureau also indicated that the complexity and length of a particular licensee's examination is already factored into the proposed assessment schedule, and that the overall size or net worth of a licensee is redundant and/or inapt as a proxy for the amount of regulatory resources that need to be devoted to an institution.

On July 8, 2010, the Bureau filed a Supplement to Response in which it requested leave to supplement its Response to Comments on the basis that it had inadvertently omitted certain germane information. Specifically, the states of Ohio, Texas, and Wyoming had all informed the Bureau that they apply the same assessment rate to money order sellers and money transmitters. The Bureau requested that this supplemental information be appended to its Response to Comments.

[1] After the comment period deadline, a comment letter was filed by Mr. Ezra C. Levine on behalf of The Money Services Round Table. The Money Services Round Table requested that the proposed regulation be amended to include a cap of $100,000 per licensee.

[2] In his comments, Mr. Mersky also "suggested" that a hearing be held to discuss this matter further.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the proposed regulation, the comments timely filed, the Bureau's Response to Comments, the record herein, and applicable law, finds that the Bureau's request for leave to supplement its Response to Comments should be granted, that a hearing is unnecessary, and that the regulation should be adopted as proposed.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The proposed regulation, 10 VAC 5-120-50, attached hereto is adopted effective July 27, 2010.

(2) This Order and the attached regulation shall be posted on the Commission's website at http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case.

(3) The Commission's Division of Information Resources shall send a copy of this Order, including a copy of the attached regulation, to the Virginia Registrar of Regulations for publication in the Virginia Register of Regulations.

(4) This case is dismissed from the Commission's docket of active cases.

Ex Parte: In re: motor vehicle title lending regulations

ORDER TO TAKE NOTICE

Chapter 477 of the 2010 Virginia Acts of Assembly amends the Code of Virginia by adding Chapter 21 of Title 6.1 of the Code of Virginia ("Chapter 21"), which establishes a comprehensive licensing and regulatory framework for motor vehicle title lenders and motor vehicle title loans. Chapter 21 will become effective on October 1, 2010. Section 6.1-494 of Chapter 21 authorizes the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to adopt regulations that it deems appropriate to effect the purposes of such chapter.

The Bureau of Financial Institutions ("Bureau") has submitted to the Commission proposed regulations that define various terms used in Chapter 21, clarify and implement certain requirements, limitations, and prohibitions applicable to motor vehicle title lenders and motor vehicle title loans, and prescribe the contents of the pamphlet that licensees must furnish to prospective borrowers. Since the final regulations will be made effective on or after the date that Title 6.1 of the Code of Virginia is replaced by Title 6.2 of the Code of Virginia,[1] all of the affected statutory citations that appear in the proposed regulations reference Title 6.2 rather than Title 6.1.

NOW THE COMMISSION, based on the information supplied by the Bureau, is of the opinion and finds that the proposed regulations should be considered for adoption with an effective date of October 1, 2010.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The proposed regulations, entitled "Motor Vehicle Title Lending," are appended hereto and made a part of the record herein.

(2) Comments on the proposed regulations must be submitted in writing to Joel H. Peck, Clerk, State Corporation Commission, c/o Document Control Center, P.O. Box 2118, Richmond, Virginia 23218, on or before August 30, 2010. All correspondence shall contain a reference to Case No. BFI-2010-00165. Interested persons desiring to submit comments electronically may do so by following the instructions available at the Commission's website: http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case.

(3) The Commission shall conduct a hearing in the Commission's Courtroom, Second Floor, Tyler Building, 1300 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia, at 2:00 p.m. on September 7, 2010, to consider the adoption of the proposed regulations.

(4) This Order and the attached proposed regulations shall be posted on the Commission's website at http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case.

(5) The Commission's Division of Information Resources shall send a copy of this Order, including a copy of the attached proposed regulations, to the Virginia Registrar of Regulations for publication in the Virginia Register of Regulations.

NOTE: A copy of Attachment A entitled "Chapter 210 Motor Vehicle Lending" is on file and may be examined at the State Corporation Commission, Clerk's Office, Document Control Center, Tyler Building, First Floor, 1300 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia.

[1] Chapter 794 of the 2010 Virginia Acts of Assembly recodifies Title 6.1 of the Code of Virginia as Title 6.2 of the Code of Virginia effective October 1, 2010. Chapter 21 of Title 6.1 will become Chapter 22 of Title 6.2.

Ex Parte: In re: motor vehicle title lending regulations

ORDER ADOPTING REGULATIONS

On July 22, 2010, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") entered an Order to Take Notice of a proposal by the Bureau of Financial Institutions to adopt regulations pursuant to Chapter 21 of Title 6.1 of the Code of Virginia ("Chapter 21"),[1] which establishes a comprehensive licensing and regulatory framework for motor vehicle title lenders and motor vehicle title loans. The proposed regulations define various terms used in Chapter 21, clarify and implement certain requirements, limitations, and prohibitions applicable to motor vehicle title lenders and motor vehicle title loans, and prescribe the contents of the pamphlet that licensees must furnish to prospective borrowers. The Order to Take Notice and proposed regulations were published in the Virginia Register of Regulations on August 16, 2010, posted on the Commission's website, and mailed to various interested parties. Interested parties were afforded the opportunity to file written comments on or before August 30, 2010, and a public hearing was scheduled for September 7, 2010.

Comments on the proposed regulations were filed by Mr. Blake Sims, Buckeye Title Loans of Virginia, LLC, Select Management Resources, LLC, the Virginia Department of Motor Vehicles, the Virginia Poverty Law Center, Dominion Management Services, Inc., the Office of the Attorney General, and ACE Cash Express, Inc.

On September 7, 2010, the Commission convened a hearing to consider the adoption of the proposed regulations. Staff counsel responded to the written comments filed and offered alternative suggestions for addressing some of the concerns that were raised in the written comments. The suggestions from Staff counsel pertained to the definition of "good funds instrument" in 10 VAC 5-210-10, the references to "active duty" in subsection D of 10 VAC 5-210-50, and the prohibition set forth in subsection F of 10 VAC 5-210-50. Staff counsel also responded to questions from the Commission regarding (i) subsection D of 10 VAC 5-210-30, which in specifying the text of the borrower rights and responsibilities pamphlet states that a motor vehicle title lender is required to record its lien with the Virginia Department of Motor Vehicles;[2] and (ii) subsection B of 10 VAC 5-210-70, which contains the standards for approving other business in motor vehicle title lending offices.

The only members of the public who participated in the hearing were David B. Irvin, representing the Office of the Attorney General, and James W. Speer, Executive Director of the Virginia Poverty Law Center. Mr. Irvin offered testimony in furtherance of the suggestion in his comment letter that the words "and conditions" be inserted after the word "costs" in three locations in 10 VAC 5-210-70 of the proposed regulations. Mr. Irvin indicated that the primary purpose of his suggestion was to ensure that consumers are aware of the type of security interest that a lender may take in connection with the various loan products that are available in a motor vehicle title lender's office. Mr. Speer testified at the hearing in support of the proposed regulations. In particular, Mr. Speer emphasized the importance of retaining the proposed requirement in subsection N of 10 VAC 5-210-50 that a licensee obtain proof of mailing from the United States Postal Service or other common carrier when sending the written notices and accounting specified by § 6.2-2217 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the proposed regulations, the written comments filed, the record herein, and applicable law, concludes that the proposed regulations should be modified to incorporate certain suggestions that were made by commenters and Staff counsel. The Commission further concludes that the proposed standards for approving other business in motor vehicle title lending offices should be clarified, and that the proposed regulations, as modified, should be adopted with an effective date of October 1, 2010.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The proposed regulations, as modified herein and attached hereto, are adopted effective October 1, 2010.

(2) This Order and the attached regulations shall be posted on the Commission's website at http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case.

(3) The Commission's Division of Information Resources shall send a copy of this Order, including a copy of the attached regulations, to the Virginia Registrar of Regulations for publication in the Virginia Register of Regulations.

(4) This case is dismissed from the Commission's docket of active cases.

NOTE: A copy of Attachment A entitled "Chapter 210, Motor Vehicle Title Lending" is on file and may be examined at the State Corporation Commission, Clerk's Office, Document Control Center, Tyler Building, First Floor, 1300 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia.

[1] Chapter 794 of the 2010 Virginia Acts of Assembly recodifies Title 6.1 of the Code of Virginia as Title 6.2 of the Code of Virginia effective October 1, 2010. Chapter 21 of Title 6.1 will become Chapter 22 of Title 6.2.

[2] In order to accommodate loans secured by motor vehicles that are titled in other jurisdictions, Dominion Management Services, Inc. suggested in its comment letter that the regulations require licensees to record their liens with the Virginia Department of Motor Vehicles "or applicable division of motor vehicles in the state / territory / district where titled." However, as Staff counsel pointed out during the hearing, this suggestion conflicts with subsection 11 of § 6.2-2215 of the Code of Virginia, which requires a licensee to "file to have its security interest in a motor vehicle added to a certificate of title by complying with the requirements of § 46.2-637 [of the Code of Virginia]." In prescribing the procedure for recording a security interest, § 46.2-637 specifically references the Department of Motor Vehicles of the Commonwealth.

ORDER

The Commissioner of Financial Institutions ("Commissioner") has reported to the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") that William David Timberlake ("Defendant"), of Virginia Beach, Virginia, is the Chief Executive Officer and majority owner of Cornerstone Mortgage Funding Corporation, a mortgage broker licensed under Chapter 16 of Title 6.1 of the Code of Virginia ("Mortgage Lender and Broker Act"); that on May 17, 2010, the Defendant pled guilty to the felony of wire fraud, in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1343; that on August 27, 2010, the Defendant was convicted of wire fraud in the United States District Court, Eastern District of Virginia (Norfolk Division); and that in the opinion of the Commissioner, the conviction and the acts that led to it are reasonably related to the qualifications, functions or duties of a person employed by, or having an ownership interest in, a licensee under the Mortgage Lender and Broker Act. On August 2, 2010, the Commissioner gave written notice to the Defendant by certified mail (1) of his intention to recommend to the Commission that the Defendant be barred, pursuant to § 6.1-425.1 of the Code of Virginia, from any position of employment, management or control of any mortgage lender or mortgage broker licensed under the Mortgage Lender and Broker Act, and (2) that a written request for a hearing was required to be filed in the Office of the Clerk on or before September 2, 2010; and that no written request for a hearing was received or filed.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein and the LM recommendation of the Commissioner, finds that the Defendant has pled guilty to and been convicted of a felony, and the conviction involved an offense reasonably related to the qualifications, functions or duties of a person engaged in business under the Mortgage Lender and Broker Act.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Defendant is barred from any position of employment, management or control of a licensee under the Mortgage Lender and Broker Act.

(2) This case is dismissed.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In re: other business in payday lending offices

ORDER TO TAKE NOTICE

Section 6.2-1815 of the Code of Virginia provides that the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") shall adopt such regulations as it deems appropriate to effect the purposes of Chapter 18 (§ 6.2-1800 et seq.) of Title 6.2 of the Code of Virginia. The Commission's payday lending regulations are set forth in Title 10 of the Virginia Administrative Code.

The Bureau of Financial Institutions ("Bureau") has submitted to the Commission proposed amendments to 10 VAC 5-200-100 ("Section 100") of the Virginia Administrative Code, which governs the conduct of other business in payday lending offices. The impetus for the proposed amendments is Chapter 477 of the 2010 Virginia Acts of Assembly ("Chapter 477"), which became effective on October 1, 2010, and primarily established a licensing and regulatory framework for motor vehicle title lenders and motor vehicle title loans. More significant to Section 100 is that Chapter 477 also amended Virginia's open-end lending statute, § 6.2-312 of the Code of Virginia (formerly § 6.1-330.78 of the Code of Virginia). As amended, § 6.2-312 C provides in pertinent part as follows:

> (i) A licensee, as defined in § 6.2-1800, shall not engage in the extension of credit under an open-end credit plan described in this section and, (ii) a third party shall not engage in the extension of credit under an open-end credit plan described in this section at any office, suite, room, or place of business where a licensee conducts the business of making payday loans.

The proposed regulation reflects this amendment, but retains certain conditions for open-end auto title lending because other business operators are permitted by Chapter 477 to continue collecting payments on any outstanding open-end loans. Also included in the proposal as a result of Chapter 477 is a set of uniform conditions that would be applicable to the conduct of a motor vehicle title lending business from a licensee's payday lending offices. Notably, the proposed conditions for motor vehicle title lending are largely a subset of the conditions in Section 100 that have been applicable to the conduct of an open-end auto title lending business from a licensee's payday lending offices.

Another source of proposed changes to Section 100 is 10 VAC 5-210-70 of the Virginia Administrative Code, which was adopted by the Commission effective October 1, 2010, and governs the conduct of other business in motor vehicle title lending offices. Although 10 VAC 5-210-70 was initially proposed to mirror Section 100, the Commission ultimately clarified the standards for approving other business in motor vehicle title lending offices (subsection B) and added a disclosure requirement at the end of subsections E, H, and I when it adopted 10 VAC 5-210-70. Accordingly, in order to similarly clarify Section 100 and promote consistency between these two regulations, the proposal also includes modifications that track the Commission's changes to 10 VAC 5-210-70.

Lastly, based on Chapter 794 of the 2010 Virginia Acts of Assembly, which recodified Title 6.1 of the Code of Virginia as Title 6.2 of the Code of Virginia effective October 1, 2010, the Bureau is also proposing to update the affected statutory references that are found throughout Section 100.

NOW THE COMMISSION, based on the information supplied by the Bureau, is of the opinion and finds that the proposed regulation should be considered for adoption with an effective date of January 1, 2011.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The proposed regulation, entitled "Other Business in Payday Lending Offices," is appended hereto and made a part of the record herein.

(2) Comments or requests for a hearing on the proposed regulation must be submitted in writing to Joel H. Peck, Clerk, State Corporation Commission, c/o Document Control Center, P.O. Box 2118, Richmond, Virginia 23218, on or before December 10, 2010. Requests for a hearing shall state why a hearing is necessary and why the issues cannot be adequately addressed in written comments. All correspondence shall contain a reference to Case No. BFI-2010-00253. Interested persons desiring to submit comments or request a hearing electronically may do so by following the instructions available at the Commission's website: http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case.

(3) This Order and the attached proposed regulation shall be posted on the Commission's website at http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case.

(4) The Commission's Division of Information Resources shall send a copy of this Order, including a copy of the attached proposed regulation, to the Virginia Registrar of Regulations for publication in the Virginia Register of Regulations.

DECEMBER 27, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In re: other business in payday lending offices

ORDER ADOPTING A REGULATION

On November 2, 2010, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") entered an Order to Take Notice of a proposal by the Bureau of Financial Institutions ("Bureau") to amend 10 VAC 5-200-100 of the Virginia Administrative Code, which governs the conduct of other business in payday lending offices. The Order and proposed regulation were published in the Virginia Register of Regulations on November 22, 2010, posted on the Commission's website, and mailed to all licensed payday lenders and other interested parties. Licensed payday lenders and other interested parties were afforded the opportunity to file written comments or request a hearing on or before December 10, 2010. No comments or requests for a hearing were filed.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the proposed regulation, the record herein, and applicable law, concludes that the proposed regulation should be adopted with an effective date of January 1, 2011.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The proposed regulation, 10 VAC 5-200-100 of the Virginia Administrative Code, as attached hereto, is adopted effective January 1, 2011.

(2) This Order and the attached regulation shall be posted on the Commission's website at http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case.

(3) The Commission's Division of Information Resources shall send a copy of this Order, including a copy of the attached regulation, to the Virginia Registrar of Regulations for publication in the Virginia Register of Regulations.

(4) This case is dismissed from the Commission's docket of active cases.

NOTE: A copy of Attachment A entitled "Other Business in Payday Lending Offices" is on file and may be examined at the State Corporation Commission, Clerk's Office, Document Control Center, Tyler Building, First Floor, 1300 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia.

NOVEMBER 16, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In re: Mortgage Lenders and Brokers

ORDER TO TAKE NOTICE

Section 6.2-1613 of the Code of Virginia provides that the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") shall adopt such regulations as it deems appropriate to effect the purposes of Chapter 16 (§ 6.2-1600 et seq.) of Title 6.2 of the Code of Virginia. The Commission's regulations governing licensed mortgage lenders and brokers ("Licensees") are set forth in Title 10 of the Virginia Administrative Code.

The Bureau of Financial Institutions ("Bureau") has submitted to the Commission proposed amendments to 10 VAC 5-160 ("Chapter 160") of the Virginia Administrative Code, which governs the conduct of Licensees. The impetus for the proposed amendments is Chapter 831 of the 2010 Virginia Acts of Assembly ("Chapter 831"), which became effective on July 1, 2010, and required all Licensees to register with the Nationwide Mortgage Licensing System and Registry ("NMLS"). The proposed regulation sets forth the requirements for Licensees to transition to NMLS and maintain current and accurate records in NMLS, as well as the requirements for new mortgage lenders and brokers to apply for licensure through NMLS. The proposed regulation also clarifies certain operating rules for Licensees through their participation in NMLS and supervision of mortgage loan originators, also licensed through NMLS.

NOW THE COMMISSION, based on information supplied by the Bureau, is of the opinion and finds that the proposed regulation should be considered for adoption with a proposed effective date of January 1, 2011.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The proposed regulation, entitled "Mortgage Lenders and Brokers," is appended hereto and made a part of the record herein.

(2) Comments or requests for a hearing on the proposed regulation must be submitted in writing to Joel H. Peck, Clerk, State Corporation Commission, c/o Document Control Center, P.O. Box 2118, Richmond, Virginia 23218, on or before December 20, 2010. Requests for hearing shall state why a hearing is necessary and why the issues cannot be adequately addressed in written comments. All correspondence shall contain a reference to Case No. BFI-2010-00255. Interested persons desiring to submit comments or request a hearing electronically may do so by following the instructions available at the Commission's website: http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case.

(3) This Order and the attached proposed regulation shall be posted on the Commission's website at http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case.

(4) The Commission's Division of Information Resources shall send a copy of this Order, including a copy of the attached proposed regulation, to the Virginia Registrar of Regulations for publication in the Virginia Register of Regulations.

CLERK'S OFFICE

CASE NO. CLK-2009-00012
JANUARY 22, 2010

DOUGLAS ROBERT JOHNSON, Petitioner,
v.
FLUVANNA COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS,
LOUISA COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS,
and
JAMES RIVER WATER AUTHORITY, Respondents.

FINAL ORDER

Douglas Robert Johnson ("Petitioner"), pro se, filed a Petition on April 24, 2009, and an Affidavit on April 30, 2009, in the Office of the Clerk ("Clerk") of the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") seeking an order (i) declaring that the certificate of incorporation of James River Water Authority ("JRWA") issued by the Clerk is void ab initio; (ii) enjoining the Fluvanna County Board of Supervisors ("Fluvanna Board") from forming a water authority until a referendum is held; (iii) requiring the Respondents to reimburse the Petitioner for his costs associated with the Petition; and (iv) awarding such other relief that the Commission deems appropriate.

On May 8, 2009, the Commission issued a Scheduling Order docketing the Petition; assigning the matter to a Hearing Examiner; directing the Respondents to file an answer or other responsive pleading; and directing the Clerk to respond to the Petition and address, in particular, the specific requests for relief therein.[1]

On June 1, 2009, responsive pleadings and Motions to Dismiss with supporting Memoranda were filed by Respondents. In their Motions to Dismiss, Respondents argued that Petitioner lacks standing to challenge the action of the Commission and that the Commission does not have jurisdiction to review the action of the Fluvanna Board.

On June 9, 2009, Petitioner filed an Objection to Motion to Dismiss with a supporting Memorandum in which he argued that the Commission did not have jurisdiction to issue a certificate to JRWA and the Commission should revoke the certificate because it was issued without knowledge of two pending circuit court cases challenging the creation of the water authority. Petitioner maintained the Motions to Dismiss should be denied and Petitioner requested an opportunity to be heard. On June 15, 2009, Petitioner filed a supplement to his first Memorandum correcting a typographical error and providing new information pertaining to petitions filed with the Fluvanna Board.

On June 29, 2009, Petitioner filed a Motion for Summary Judgment with a supporting Memorandum, to deem the certificate issued to JRWA void ab initio and for injunctive relief. By ruling dated June 30, 2009, Respondents were directed to file any responses to Petitioner's Motion for Summary Judgment on or before July 13, 2009.

Also on June 30, 2009, the Clerk, by counsel, filed the Clerk's Response to Petition ("Clerk's Response") denying Petitioner's allegation that the Commission has jurisdiction in this matter. The Clerk further stated that the articles of incorporation for JRWA complied with applicable law and, pursuant to § 13.1-820 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), the Commission issued a certificate of incorporation to JRWA on April 21, 2009. The Clerk stated that once a certificate is issued, the Commission's authority to afford relief to Petitioner is constrained and governed by § 13.1-813 of the Code. Section 13.1-813 confers standing to file a petition only upon a member or director of the corporation. The Clerk moved for dismissal of the Petition because Petitioner is not a member or director of JRWA and, therefore, lacks standing to seek the relief requested in the Petition.

On July 6, 2009, Petitioner filed an Objection to Motion to Dismiss with a supporting Memorandum in which he stated that the Clerk's Motion to Dismiss is incorrectly based on the assumption that the JRWA was chartered under the Virginia Nonstock Corporation Act. Petitioner stated the JRWA was chartered under the Virginia Water and Waste Authorities Act. Petitioner argued the language of the Virginia Nonstock Corporation Act, relied upon by the Clerk, is not applicable to the Virginia Water and Waste Authorities Act.

Respondent Fluvanna Board filed a Response to Petitioner's Motion for Summary Judgment ("Fluvanna Board Response") on July 13, 2009, requesting that the Petition be dismissed on two grounds: Petitioner has appealed this case to the Virginia Supreme Court and, therefore, the Commission no longer has jurisdiction;[2] and the determination of whether the Fluvanna Board improperly disregarded the citizen petition calling for a referendum is properly before the Fluvanna Circuit Court and is a matter over which the Commission has no jurisdiction. Also on July 13, 2009, the Louisa County Board of Supervisors filed a Response adopting in their entirety the arguments contained in the Fluvanna Board's Response and asked that this case be dismissed.

On July 15, 2009, the Petitioner filed a Response in which he argued that the actions of the Fluvanna Circuit Court (presumably in not granting Petitioner's request for relief) are not relevant to this Petition in that this action is based on the facts that existed at the time of incorporation, April 21, 2009. Petitioner stated he is requesting a determination of whether the actions of the Commission regarding the issuance of a certificate conform to the law as set forth in the Virginia Water and Waste Authorities Act. On July 20, 2009, Petitioner submitted a Memorandum of Law Concerning Merits in which Petitioner argued the facts in this case and renewed his plea to be heard on the merits of the case.

[1] The Scheduling Order dropped the Commission as a party Respondent to the proceeding because the Petitioner alleged no illegal action on the part of the Commission.

[2] On May 8, 2009, the Petitioner appealed the Clerk's issuance of the JRWA's certificate of incorporation to the Supreme Court of Virginia ("Virginia Supreme Court"). By unpublished opinion dated November 16, 2009, the Virginia Supreme Court dismissed the Petitioner's appeal on procedural grounds. See Johnson v. State Corporation Comm'n, et al., No. 091703.

On August 13, 2009, the Hearing Examiner issued his Report in which he recommended that the Motions to Dismiss be granted on the grounds that Petitioner does not have standing to challenge the Commission's actions and that the Commission does not have jurisdiction in the matter. At the conclusion of his Report, the Hearing Examiner also advised the parties that comments associated with his Report must be filed within 21 days. The Petitioner and Fluvanna Board filed timely comments.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record, the Report of the Hearing Examiner, the comments and applicable statutes, is of the opinion that the findings and recommendations of the Hearing Examiner should be adopted for the reasons stated therein.

Specifically, we agree with the Hearing Examiner's conclusion that the Petitioner lacks standing to challenge the validity of JRWA's certificate of incorporation. Although the JRWA was formed as a water authority pursuant to the Virginia Water and Waste Authority Act, § 15.2-5100 et seq. of the Code, it is also undisputed that the JRWA was organized as a domestic non-stock corporation. Virginia's domestic non-stock corporations are governed by the Virginia Nonstock Corporation Act, § 13.1-801 et seq. of the Code (the "Nonstock Corporation Act"). Section 13.1-813 A of the Nonstock Corporation Act precludes the Commission from granting a hearing relating to:

> any certificate issued by the Commission except on a petition by a member or director, filed with the Commission and the corporation within 30 days after the effective date of a certificate, in which the member or director asserts that the certification of corporate action contained in the articles contains a misstatement of a material fact as to compliance with statutory requirements….

In addition, § 13.1-813 C of the Nonstock Corporation Act authorizes the Commission to "act on a petition filed by a corporation at anytime" to correct clerical errors or to eliminate the effects of filings made by persons "without the authority to act for the corporation."

The Petitioner has not alleged that he is a member or director of the JRWA with authority to challenge JRWA's certificate pursuant to § 13.1-813 A. Moreover, he did not file his Petition on behalf of JRWA in accordance with § 13.1-813 C. Therefore, he lacks standing to challenge the legitimacy of JRWA's certificate of incorporation.

We note further that the Petitioner's request for relief in this proceeding is based upon his contention that the process followed by the Fluvanna Board when deciding to form the JRWA was invalid or inappropriate. We agree with the Hearing Examiner's conclusion that the Commission lacks jurisdiction to review the propriety of the Fluvanna Board's decision-making process.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

1. The Motions to Dismiss are hereby GRANTED;

2. The Petition is hereby DISMISSED with prejudice; and

3. The case is dismissed, and the papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. CLK-2009-00013
NOVEMBER 5, 2010

PETITION OF
GEORGE H. CHRISTIAN

For injunctive and declaratory relief

FINAL ORDER

On June 24, 2009, George H. Christian ("Petitioner") filed a Petition with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") wherein he challenged the alleged denial of his request for records by the Commission's Office of the Clerk ("Clerk's Office") and the position of the Clerk's Office that the Virginia Freedom of Information Act, § 2.2-3700 et seq. of the Code of Virginia (the "Act"), is inapplicable to the Commission and its various operating divisions, including the Clerk's Office. The Petitioner seeks declaratory and injunctive relief as provided under the Act.

The Petitioner's written request for records that gave rise to this proceeding was received by the Clerk's Office on May 18, 2009. Therein, the Petitioner requested that the Clerk's Office produce, for the period of 2008, any public records listing "all overpayments or unused payments that the Commissioner's authority to order a refund has lapsed" as well as certain other public records related thereto. The Clerk's Office responded four days later, on May 22, 2009, and informed the Petitioner, among other things, that it is the policy of the Clerk's Office to provide information and documents upon request to the extent it is able. With respect to the Petitioner's specific request for documents, the Clerk's Office initially declined to comply because it pertained "to data that is not readily available." However, on July 9, 2009, the Clerk's Office provided the Petitioner with the requested information after determining that such information could be provided in the form of a monthly summary.

On July 10, 2009, the Commission issued a Scheduling Order, in which it, among other things, docketed the matter; made the Clerk's Office a party to the case; and directed the Clerk's Office to file an answer or other responsive pleading to the Petition, on or before July 15, 2009.

On July 15, 2009, the Clerk's Office filed a Motion to Dismiss and Answer to Petition. In its Motion, the Clerk's Office raised several legal arguments in support of its position that the Petition should be dismissed. On December 1, 2009, the Petitioner filed a Memorandum in Support of Petitioner's Response in Opposition to the Motion to Dismiss, in which he argued that the Commission is subject to the Act. On December 2, 2009, oral argument was heard on the Motion to Dismiss. Philip R. de Haas, Esquire, appeared on behalf of the Clerk's Office, while the Petitioner appeared pro se.

On May 21, 2010, the Petitioner filed a Motion to Expedite Disposition, in which he requested, among other things, that the Commission grant an expedited hearing for a temporary injunction within seven (7) days pursuant to § 2.2-3713 of the Code. The Clerk's Office filed a Response to Petitioner's Motion to Expedite Disposition on May 25, 2010. The Petitioner filed a Reply on June 1, 2010.

On September 2, 2010, the Chief Hearing Examiner issued her Report in this matter. The Examiner, citing Rule 5-20-100 C of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, noted that establishing the existence of an actual controversy is a threshold requirement for a petitioner seeking declaratory relief from the Commission. In this case, the Petitioner was unable to demonstrate that an actual controversy exists because the Clerk's Office timely provided the requested information to the Petitioner and he suffered no harm as a result. Consequently, the Examiner recommended that the Commission enter an order adopting the findings in her Report, dismissing the Petition for Injunctive and Declaratory Judgment, and dismissing this case from the Commission's docket of active cases.

On September 23, 2010, the Petitioner and Clerk's Office separately filed Comments to the Report.[1]

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the entire record in this proceeding, including the Report and the Comments thereto, adopts the Chief Hearing Examiner's recommendation to dismiss the Petition on the grounds that no actual controversy exists in this matter given the Clerk's Office's timely response to the Petitioner's request for records. Furthermore, because no actual controversy exists, we find that it is not necessary to address other arguments raised by Petitioner.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Petition of George H. Christian for injunctive and declaratory relief is hereby DISMISSED; and

(2) The papers herein shall be placed in the file for ended causes.

[1] On October 9, 2010, Petitioner also filed a Motion to Permit Untimely Comments to Chief Hearing Examiner's Findings. We have accepted Petitioner's Comments to the Report.

NOVEMBER 23, 2010

PETITION OF
GEORGE H. CHRISTIAN

For injunctive and declaratory relief

ORDER DENYING RECONSIDERATION AND OTHER RELIEF

On November 5, 2010, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") entered a Final Order in this matter. On November 18, 2010, George H. Christian ("Petitioner") filed a Petition for Reconsideration and/or Rehearing pursuant to Rule 5 VAC 5-20-220 ("Petition for Reconsideration"). On November 22, 2010, the Petitioner filed a Motion for Leave to Amend Petition for Reconsideration and/or Rehearing pursuant to Rule 5 VAC 5-20-220 ("Motion for Leave") and a Motion to Correct Final Order Nunc Pro Tunc ("Motion to Correct") (collectively, "Motions").

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the Petition for Reconsideration and the Motions, finds that the Motion for Leave should be granted, and the Petition for Reconsideration and the Motion to Correct should be denied.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Motion for Leave is hereby GRANTED.

(2) The Petition for Reconsideration, as amended, is hereby DENIED.

(3) The Motion to Correct is hereby DENIED.

(4) The papers herein shall be placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. CLK-2009-00015
MARCH 19, 2010

JEFFREY BAILEY, RICHARD RICE,
and
DEBORAH KNOTT, et al.,
Petitioners,
v.
SHORT PUMP COMMUNITY CENTER, INC.,
Respondent

FINAL ORDER

On October 8, 2009, Jeffrey Bailey, Richard Rice, and Deborah Knott, et al. (collectively, "Petitioners") filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") a petition styled "Petition for Denial of Certificate of Dissolution" ("Petition"), pursuant to Rule 5 VAC 5-20-100 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure. The Petition alleged, among other things, that the Petitioners are members of Short Pump Community Center, Inc. ("Corporation" or "Respondent"); that Jeffrey Bailey, Richard Rice, and Deborah Knott are members of the Board of Directors of the Corporation; that the Corporation's Board of Directors met on September 10, 2009, and voted to dissolve the Corporation; that on September 14, 2009, the Corporation filed Articles of Dissolution with the Commission; that the motion to dissolve the Corporation was never brought before the members of the Corporation for a vote; and that the filing of the Articles of Dissolution was not authorized by the members of the Corporation. The Petitioners also alleged that the action of the Board of Directors was contrary to the stated purpose of the Corporation and that the members of the Board of Directors representing the Short Pump Civic Association, Inc., and the Short Pump Ruritan Club, Inc. voted in favor of the dissolution and stand to direct funds from the Corporation to these two organizations. The Petitioners sought denial of the Articles of Dissolution and an order directing the Board of Directors of the Corporation to take a new vote on the issue of dissolution, with the board members representing the Short Pump Civic Association, Inc., and the Short Pump Ruritan Club, Inc., abstaining from the vote. The Petitioners further requested the order to provide that if the new vote recommends dissolution of the Corporation, then all members of the Corporation be permitted to vote on the issue of dissolution.

On October 28, 2009, the Respondent filed a Response to Petition for Denial of Certificate of Dissolution. In its Response, the Respondent stated, among other things, that the members of the Corporation had no right to vote on the dissolution; that the Corporation's stated purpose had failed; that the Corporation's Articles of Incorporation determine who or which organization receives the assets of the Corporation in dissolution; and that the dissolution of the Corporation was undertaken in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Code of Virginia and the Articles of Incorporation. The Respondent requested that the Commission deny the Petitioners' requests for relief, dismiss the Petition, and award the Respondent its costs.

By order dated November 12, 2009, the Commission docketed the Petition, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Office of the Clerk of the Commission ("Clerk") to file a response to the Petition no later than November 20, 2009, and scheduled a hearing on the matter for December 10, 2009. The Clerk filed a response on November 19, 2009.

On December 10, 2009, Howard P. Anderson, Jr., presided over the hearing in this matter, in which he heard testimony from both the Petitioners and the Respondent. On January 22, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued his Report and made the following findings and recommendations:

(1) The members of the Corporation do not have the right to vote on the issue of dissolution of the Corporation;

(2) The Commission does not have the authority to determine whether a conflict of interest exists involving the Board of Directors' vote to dissolve the Corporation;

(3) Respondent should not be awarded its costs;

(4) The Petition should be denied; and

(5) The Certificate of Dissolution issued by the Commission on September 14, 2009, should be affirmed.

Following the issuance of the Hearing Examiner's Report, both the Petitioners and the Respondent filed comments to the Report as well as motions. The Petitioners objected to the findings in the Report and filed a motion for a rehearing by the full Commission. The Respondent supported the findings of the Hearing Examiner and subsequent to the submission of its comments, filed a Motion to Correct the Record regarding a case pending in the Henrico County Circuit Court.[1]

Upon consideration of the record herein, the Report of the Hearing Examiner, and the comments filed thereto, the Commission is of the opinion, and so finds, that the findings and recommendations of the Hearing Examiner should be adopted. The Commission also finds that a rehearing on this matter is not necessary following the full and fair hearing before the Hearing Examiner, and the subject matter of the Respondent's Motion to Correct the Record is not properly before the Commission.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Petitioners' Motion for Rehearing is DENIED;

(2) The Respondent's Motion to Correct the Record is DENIED;

[1] In addition to the comments filed by the parties, the Commission received numerous letters from interested persons that were passed to the file in this proceeding. We acknowledge the views held by these persons; however, such correspondence does not change the conclusions of law and fact compelled by the record herein.

(3) The Respondent's request for an award of costs is DENIED;

(4) The Petition is DENIED;

(5) The Certificate of Dissolution issued by the Commission on September 14, 2009, is AFFIRMED; and

(6) This matter is DISMISSED with prejudice and the papers filed herein shall be placed in the file for ended causes.

IN RE:
METIS/AMERICA MARKETING, INC., et al.

DISSOLUTION ORDER

On December 18, 2009, the Circuit Court for the City of Richmond ("Circuit Court") entered a Consent Decree For Dissolution ("Consent Decree") in Case No. CL09-4278-6 directing that the Clerk of the Circuit Court certify to the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") that Metis/America Marketing, Inc., a Virginia corporation, was dissolved pursuant to § 13.1-749 A of the Code of Virginia. Thereafter, the Clerk of the Circuit Court delivered to the Commission a certified copy of the Consent Decree.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT Metis/America Marketing, Inc. is hereby DISSOLVED pursuant to § 13.1-749 A of the Code of Virginia.

The Clerk of the Circuit Court is requested to advise the Commission when all of the assets of the corporation have been distributed to its creditors and shareholders, upon receipt of which advice the Commission will enter an order terminating the corporation's existence. This case is continued generally on the Commission's docket.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In re: annual registration fees for limited liability companies

ORDER TO TAKE NOTICE

Chapter 703 of the 2010 Virginia Acts of Assembly ("Chapter 703 of the Acts"), among other things, requires each domestic limited liability company and each foreign limited liability company registered to transact business in the Commonwealth to pay an annual registration fee of $50, assessed in accordance with a schedule set by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"). The schedule shall be in accordance with § 13.1-1062, as amended by Chapter 703 of the Acts. The second enactment of Chapter 703 of the Acts directs the Commission to enter an order setting this schedule no later than August 1, 2010.

NOW THE COMMISSION, based on information supplied by the Clerk of the Commission, proposes to adopt a regulation setting an assessment schedule as required by Chapter 703 of the Acts.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The proposed regulation, entitled "Assessment Schedule for Limited Liability Companies," is appended hereto and made a part of the record herein.

(2) Comments or requests for a hearing on the proposed regulation must be submitted in writing to Joel H. Peck, Clerk, State Corporation Commission, c/o Document Control Center, P.O. Box 2118, Richmond, Virginia 23218, on or before July 2, 2010. Requests for hearing shall state why a hearing is necessary and why the issues cannot be adequately addressed in written comments. All correspondence shall contain a reference to Case No. CLK-2010-00006. Interested persons desiring to submit comments or request a hearing electronically may do so by following the instructions available at the Commission's website: http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case.

(3) This Order and the attached proposed regulation shall be posted on the Commission's website at http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case.

(4) The Commission's Division of Information Resources shall send a copy of this Order, including a copy of the attached proposed regulation, to the Virginia Registrar of Regulations for publication in the Virginia Register of Regulations.

NOTE: A copy of Attachment A entitled "Assessment Schedule for Limited Liability Companies" is on file and may be examined at the State Corporation Commission, Clerk's Office, Document Control Center, Tyler Building, First Floor, 1300 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In re: annual registration fees for limited liability companies

ORDER ADOPTING A REGULATION

On June 1, 2010, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") entered an Order to Take Notice of a proposal by the Commission to adopt a regulation pursuant to Chapter 703 of the 2010 Virginia Acts of Assembly ("Chapter 703 of the Acts"), now codified as § 13.1-1062 of the Code of Virginia. The proposed regulation, 5 VAC 5-40-20, places in the Virginia Administrative Code the schedule by which the Commission shall assess limited liability companies in accordance with § 13.1-1062 of the Code of Virginia. The second enactment of Chapter 703 of the Acts directs the Commission to enter an order setting this schedule no later than August 1, 2010. The Order and proposed regulation were published in the Virginia Register of Regulations on June 21, 2010, and published on the Commission's website. Interested parties were afforded the opportunity to provide written comments or request a hearing on or before July 2, 2010.

No comments were filed, nor were any requests for hearing made in this matter.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the proposed regulation and applicable law, concludes that the proposed regulation should be adopted with an effective date of August 1, 2010.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The proposed regulation, 5 VAC 5-40-20, as attached hereto, is adopted effective August 1, 2010.

(2) This Order and the attached regulation shall be posted on the Commission's website at http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case.

(3) The Commission's Division of Information Resources shall send a copy of this Order, including a copy of the attached regulation, to the Virginia Registrar of Regulations for publication in the Virginia Register of Regulations.

(4) This case is dismissed from the Commission's docket of active cases.

NOTE: A copy of Attachment A entitled "Chapter 40 Administration of the Office of the Clerk" is on file and may be examined at the State Corporation Commission, Clerk's Office, Document Control Center, Tyler Building, First Floor, 1300 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In re: fees charged by the Office of the Clerk of the Commission

ORDER TO TAKE NOTICE

Chapter 669 of the 2010 Virginia Acts of Assembly ("Chapter 669 of the Acts") amends §§ 12.1-20, 12.1-21.1, and 12.1-21.2 of the Code of Virginia to permit the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to charge and collect reasonable fees for furnishing and certifying a copy of any document or any information from its records. Chapter 669 of the Acts eliminates these fee amounts from statute, giving the Commission the discretion to charge an amount that it deems reasonable.

NOW THE COMMISSION, based on information supplied by the Clerk of the Commission, proposes to adopt a regulation establishing certain fees to be charged and collected by the Office of the Clerk of the Commission, with a proposed effective date of July 1, 2010.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The proposed regulation, entitled "Fees to be Charged by the Office of the Clerk," is appended hereto and made a part of the record herein.

(2) Comments or requests for a hearing on the proposed regulation must be submitted in writing to Joel H. Peck, Clerk, State Corporation Commission, c/o Document Control Center, P.O. Box 2118, Richmond, Virginia 23218, on or before June 18, 2010. Requests for hearing shall state why a hearing is necessary and why the issues cannot be adequately addressed in written comments. All correspondence shall contain a reference to Case No. CLK-2010-00007. Interested persons desiring to submit comments or request a hearing electronically may do so by following the instructions available at the Commission's website: http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case.

(3) This Order and the attached proposed regulation shall be posted on the Commission's website at http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case.

(4) The Commission's Division of Information Resources shall send a copy of this Order, including a copy of the attached proposed regulation, to the Virginia Registrar of Regulations for publication in the Virginia Register of Regulations.

NOTE: A copy of Attachment A entitled "Chapter 40. Administration of the Office of the Clerk of the Commission" is on file and may be examined at the State Corporation Commission, Clerk's Office, Document Control Center, Tyler Building, First Floor, 1300 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In re: fees charged by the Office of the Clerk of the Commission

ORDER ADOPTING A REGULATION

On May 18, 2010, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") entered an Order to Take Notice of a proposal by the Commission to adopt a regulation pursuant to Chapter 669 of the 2010 Virginia Acts of Assembly ("Chapter 669 of the Acts"). The proposed regulation, 5 VAC 5-40-10, places in the Virginia Administrative Code the fees charged by the Commission for copying and other services that are repealed from the Code of Virginia by Chapter 669 of the Acts. The Order and proposed regulation were published in the Virginia Register of Regulations on June 7, 2010, and published on the Commission's website. Interested parties were afforded the opportunity to provide written comments or request a hearing on or before June 18, 2010.

No comments were filed, nor were any requests for hearing made in this matter.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the proposed regulation, the recommendations of the Office of the Clerk of the Commission ("Clerk"), and applicable law, concludes that the proposed regulation should be modified to reflect certain technical changes recommended by the Clerk and that the proposed regulation, as modified, should be adopted with an effective date of July 1, 2010.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The proposed regulation, 5 VAC 5-40-10, as modified herein and attached hereto, is adopted effective July 1, 2010.

(2) This Order and the attached regulation shall be posted on the Commission's website at http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case.

(3) The Commission's Division of Information Resources shall send a copy of this Order, including a copy of the attached regulation, to the Virginia Registrar of Regulations for publication in the Virginia Register of Regulations.

(4) This case is dismissed from the Commission's docket of active cases.

NOTE: A copy of Attachment A entitled "Chapter 40. Administration of the Office of the Clerk of the Commission" is on file and may be examined at the State Corporation Commission, Clerk's Office, Document Control Center, Tyler Building, First Floor, 1300 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia.

OCTOBER 15, 2010

IN RE:
PETITION OF SKYMARK, LLC.

ORDER VACATING CERTIFICATE OF AMENDMENT

On or after June 20, 2010, Jeff Schrock filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") Articles of Amendment ("Articles") on behalf of Skymark, LLC ("Petitioner"), to change the name of the limited liability company to Eli Schrock Racing, LLC. The Commission issued a Certificate of Amendment ("Certificate") changing the name of the Petitioner in accordance with the Articles on July 1, 2010. Thereafter, on September 13, 2010, the Petitioner, by counsel, filed a petition to void the Articles and revoke the Certificate alleging that the person who signed the Articles had no authority to execute any filings on behalf of the Petitioner. The petition also alleged that Jeff Schrock is the registered agent of Skymark Holdings, LLC, and that the filing on behalf of the Petitioner contained a clerical error, in that it omitted "Holdings" from the name of the LLC. The petition sought an order revoking and declaring void ab initio the Certificate and other relief.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the petition and exhibits and affidavits attached thereto and the recommendation of the Clerk of the Commission, finds that the Articles were signed and filed by a person having no authority to act on behalf of the Petitioner, and that the Certificate issued by the Commission on July 1, 2010, should be vacated pursuant to § 13.1-1004 E of the Code of Virginia.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Certificate is vacated effective July 1, 2010;

(2) The Clerk of the Commission shall make such entries in the records of his office as may be necessary to reflect the relief afforded in this Order; and

(3) This case is dismissed from the Commission's docket and the papers herein shall be placed in the file for ended causes.

BUREAU OF INSURANCE

CASE NO. INS-1995-00107
SEPTEMBER 24, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
CAPITOL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
Defendant

FINAL ORDER

Capitol Life Insurance Company ("Defendant"), a foreign corporation domiciled in the State of Texas, is licensed to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia.

By Order Suspending License ("Order") entered herein July 17, 1995, the Defendant's license was suspended due to financial regulatory concerns.

The Defendant was also ordered not to issue any new contracts or policies of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia until further order of the Commission.

The Defendant's March 31, 2010 Quarterly Statement reported capital and surplus in compliance with the minimums set forth in § 38.2-1028 of the Code of Virginia.

In light of the foregoing, the Commission's Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Order entered by the Commission be vacated and this case be closed.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Order Suspending License entered by the Commission should be vacated.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Order Suspending License entered by the Commission is hereby, VACATED.

(2) This case be, and is hereby, DISMISSED.

(3) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-1998-00202
SEPTEMBER 28, 2010

PETITION OF
JOSEPH AND GAETANA PITTA

For review of HOW Insurance Company, Home Warranty Corporation and Home Owners Warranty Corporation Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal

ORDER

On October 14, 1994, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond, Virginia, entered an Order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") the Receiver of HOW Insurance Company, Home Warranty Corporation, and Home Owners Warranty Corporation (collectively, "HOW Companies"). The receivership Order granted the Commission the authority to proceed with the rehabilitation or liquidation of the HOW Companies and established a receivership appeal procedure to govern appeals and challenges to decisions rendered by the Receiver or the Receiver's duly authorized representatives. On June 13, 2005, the Commission entered its Order Approving Plans of Liquidation for the HOW Companies. The receivership is now being liquidated after more than fifteen years, and all outstanding claims are to be resolved and closed.

On April 21, 1998, Joseph and Gaetana Pitta ("Petitioners") first filed a Petition for Review ("Petition") with the Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal in Claim No. 3485684-A. By Order dated October 8, 1998, the Commission docketed the Petition, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Deputy Receiver to file an Answer or other responsive pleading to the Petition. On October 30, 1998, the Deputy Receiver filed a Motion to Dismiss and Answer to Petition for Review. In his Motion, among other things, the Deputy Receiver asserted that the Petitioners' claims for coverage were time-barred by the express contractual provisions of the Insurance/Warranty Program and, further, that the defects alleged did not constitute Major Structural Defects as the term was defined by the documents defining the scope of the Program and the process for submitting covered claims. The Deputy Receiver argued that the Petitioners' failed to assert a claim upon which relief may be granted, and the Petition should be dismissed.

The Petitioners responded by asserting, among other things, that the builder advised them to contact him during the two-year warranty period; the builder had deceptive tactics to avoid coverage; the garage was attached and housed various HVAC and electrical equipment; and the grounds for denial in the Determination of Appeal was not applicable. No further action was taken at that time.

By Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated September 5, 2001, the Deputy Receiver was directed to revisit his argument that the alleged defects in the Petitioners' attached garage floor did not constitute a Major Structural Defect. Additionally, the parties were directed to submit additional documents or arguments relative to the case.

On or about September 28, 2001, the Deputy Receiver filed a Supplemental Memorandum in Support of Motion to Dismiss. No pleadings or other activities occurred until September 27, 2007, when the Chief Hearing Examiner issued a ruling advising the parties that the matter would be dismissed unless good cause was shown on or before October 19, 2007, why the matter should not be dismissed from the Commission's docket of active cases.

On November 27, 2007, the Chief Hearing Examiner issued her report in which she recommended that the Commission enter an order dismissing the Petition with prejudice due to the Petitioners' failure to file a response to the ruling. Subsequent to the November 27, 2007 Report, it was discovered that the Petitioners did in fact timely file a response to the ruling; however, it was not entered into the Commission's case management system due to a clerical error. By Order of the Commission entered on December 21, 2007, the case was remanded to the Chief Hearing Examiner for further proceedings.

On May 11, 2010, the Chief Hearing Examiner issued her Report and made the following findings and recommendations:

(1) The Petitioners' claim under the Builder's Limited Warranty is time-barred pursuant to the express terms of the Insurance[Warranty Documents;

(2) The Petitioners have alleged no defect that can be defined as a Major Structural Defect under the terms of the Insurance/Warranty Documents and have no compensable claim under that coverage;

(3) The Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal in Claim No . 3485684-A should be affirmed; and

(4) The Petition for Review should be dismissed with prejudice.

No comments were filed on the Chief Hearing Examiner's Report.

Upon consideration of the record herein and the Report of the Chief Hearing Examiner, the Commission is of the opinion, and so finds, that the findings and recommendations of the Chief Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Deputy Receiver's Motion to Dismiss is hereby GRANTED;

(2) The Petition of Joseph and Gaetana Pitta for review of the Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal is hereby DENIED;

(3) The Determination of Appeal in Claim No. 3485684-A issued by the Deputy Receiver is hereby AFFIRMED; and

(4) The case is DISMISSED and the papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-2001-00108
OCTOBER 5, 2010

PETITION OF
MARILYN S. HENDRICKS

For review of HOW Insurance Company, Home Warranty Corporation and Home Owners Warranty Corporation Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal

ORDER

On October 14, 1994, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond, Virginia, entered an Order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") the Receiver of HOW Insurance Company, Home Warranty Corporation, and Home Owners Warranty Corporation (collectively, "HOW Companies" or "HOW"). The receivership Order granted the Commission the authority to proceed with the rehabilitation or liquidation of the HOW Companies and established a receivership appeal procedure to govern appeals and challenges to decisions rendered by the Receiver or the Receiver's duly authorized representatives. The receivership is now being liquidated after more than fifteen years, and all outstanding claims are to be resolved and closed.

On April 29, 1996, the Petitioner first filed a Petition with the Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal in Claim No. 3371003. Six separate claims for repair of defects had been filed by the Petitioner with the HOW Companies and then with the Deputy Receiver. The Petition to the Commission was docketed and heard. At the conclusion of that hearing, it was determined that two claims, Dispute Files C1722 and C2325, would be withdrawn and the Petitioner would continue to pursue them with the builder and the Deputy Receiver.

The Deputy Receiver denied the Petitioner's claims in Dispute Files C1722 and C2325 in a Notice of Claim and Determination dated December 20, 2000. The Petitioner sent the Deputy Receiver a Notice of Appeal dated January 17, 2001, which the Deputy Receiver contends he received on January 22, 2001. Failing to reach a meeting of the minds, the Petitioner filed another Petition for Review with the Commission on May 18, 2001, contesting the Deputy Receiver's decision to deny her remaining claims.

By Order dated August 14, 2002, the Commission docketed the Petition, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Deputy Receiver to file an Answer or other responsive pleading to the Petition on or before September 27, 2002.

On September 27, 2002, the Deputy Receiver filed a Motion to Dismiss and Answer to Petition ("Motion to Dismiss") and a Memorandum in Support of the Motion to Dismiss. In his Motion to Dismiss, the Deputy Receiver contends that the Notice of Appeal was not filed timely, the Petitioner never perfected her Notice of Appeal although she was advised of the deficiency, and the Petitioner was thus barred from bringing the appeal to the Commission. The Deputy Receiver also denied liability or responsibility under the HOW Program with respect to the Petitioner's claims, and contends that the claims were barred due to the Petitioner's failure to cooperate in the investigation of her claims and previous adjudication of the same claims.

The Petitioner failed to file a response to the Motion. However, correspondence from the Petitioner that was attached to the Deputy Receiver's Motion made it clear that the Petitioner contended that her Notice of Appeal was timely filed. A hearing was scheduled to receive evidence on the timeliness of the Petitioner's notice; if untimely, what opportunity to perfect her appeal would have been available; and if timely, the merits of the Petitioner's claim.

On February 24, 2004, a hearing was convened telephonically, and the Petitioner appeared pro se. Joseph West, Esquire, appeared as counsel for the Deputy Receiver.

At the hearing, the Petitioner indicated that her specific complaints about the construction of her home were: (1) the slab foundation was poured improperly, (2) the truss system was not installed correctly, and (3) the house was not properly framed over the foundation. In support of her claims, the Petitioner submitted repair estimates as well as a report from an engineer hired by the builder to inspect the home.

The Petitioner stated that she provided access to her home on numerous occasions as unsuccessful attempts were made to repair her home. The Petitioner further stated that she had submitted documentation of her claims which HOW submitted for arbitration. HOW then submitted the documentation to an arbitrator but declined to pursue arbitration and relieved the builder of responsibility for the Petitioner's claims. The Petitioner asserted that since HOW relieved the builder of responsibility for her claims, they became insurance claims for which the Deputy Receiver is responsible.

The Deputy Receiver presented the testimony of David Thompson, a claims examiner for HOW. Mr. Thompson asserted that the Petitioner's appeal should be denied on several grounds. Mr. Thompson stated that the Petitioner's appeal of the Deputy Receiver's Notice of Claim Determination ("NCD") was not timely filed and that the Petitioner refused to provide an affidavit explaining why the NCD was late which would have likely cured this defect.

Mr. Thompson also asserted that the Petitioner refused to cooperate in an investigation of the claim by failing to provide requested documentation and by failing to provide access to the home. Mr. Thompson claimed that this investigation was necessitated by the extended period of time that elapsed between the filing of the Petitioner's initial claim and the filing of the claim that is the subject of this proceeding. Mr. Thompson stated that pursuant to the HOW warranty, the builder is responsible for all claims that arise during the first two years of coverage. Mr. Thompson further stated that HOW's liability for the Petitioner's claims made during the first two years of coverage only arises when the builder defaults on the claim. Mr. Thompson stated that because this claim was settled by the builder in 1995, the builder was not in default and therefore HOW had no liability on this claim.

The Deputy Receiver argued that although the 1995 settlement attempted to retain claims against HOW, the release of the builder from liability on these claims also released HOW because the builder was not in default.

On May 7, 2010, the Chief Hearing Examiner issued her Report and made the following findings and recommendations:

(1) There is no liability or claim under the Limited Warranty on the part of the HOW Companies; and

(2) The Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal in Claim Nos. C1722 and C2325 should be affirmed.

No comments were filed on the Chief Hearing Examiner's Report.

Upon consideration of the record herein and the Report of the Chief Hearing Examiner, the Commission is of the opinion, and so finds, that the findings and recommendations of the Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Deputy Receiver's Motion to Dismiss is hereby GRANTED;

(2) The Petition of Marilyn S. Hendricks for review of the Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal is hereby DENIED;

(3) The Determination of Appeal in Claim Nos. C1722 and C2325 issued by the Deputy Receiver is hereby AFFIRMED; and

(4) The case is DISMISSED and the papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-2002-01286
JUNE 18, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
CASUALTY RECIPROCAL EXCHANGE,
Defendant

ORDER TO TAKE NOTICE

Section 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia ("Code") provides in subdivision 8 of subsection A that the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") may suspend or revoke the license of any insurance company to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia whenever the company has been found insolvent by a court of any other state.

Casualty Reciprocal Exchange ("Defendant"), a Missouri domiciled insurer, was initially licensed to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia on July 2, 1920. On March 14, 2003, the Commission suspended the Defendant's license to transact the business of insurance in Virginia due to its failure to eliminate the impairment in its surplus. On August 18, 2004, the Circuit Court of Cole County, Missouri entered an Order of Liquidation With Finding of Insolvency against the Defendant.

The Commission's Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Defendant's license to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia be revoked.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT the Defendant TAKE NOTICE that the Commission shall enter an order subsequent to July 2, 2010, revoking the license of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia unless on or before July 2, 2010, the Defendant files with the Clerk of the Commission, Document Control Center, P.O. Box 2118, Richmond, Virginia 23218, a request for a hearing before the Commission with respect to the proposed revocation of the Defendant's license.

JULY 21, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
CASUALTY RECIPROCAL EXCHANGE,
Defendant

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE

In an Order entered herein June 18, 2010, Casualty Reciprocal Exchange, a Missouri domiciled insurer ("Defendant") licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, was ordered to take notice that the Commission would enter an order subsequent to July 2, 2010, revoking the license of the Defendant to transact new business unless on or before July 2, 2010, the Defendant filed with the Clerk of the Commission a request for a hearing before the Commission to contest the proposed suspension of the Defendant's license.

The Order to Take Notice was entered upon the recommendation of the Commission's Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau") based on an Order of Liquidation with a Finding of Insolvency against the Defendant entered on August 18, 2004, by the Circuit Court of Cole County in the State of Missouri.

As of the date of this Order, the Defendant has not requested a hearing with regards to the proposed revocation of its license. The Commission's Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Defendant's license to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia be revoked.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Pursuant to § 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia, the license of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia is hereby REVOKED;

(2) The Defendant shall transact no further business in the Commonwealth of Virginia;

(3) The Bureau of Insurance shall cause notice of the revocation of the Defendant's license to be published in the manner set forth in § 38.2-1043 of the Code of Virginia; and

(4) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-2003-00083
FEBRUARY 1, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
INSURANCE CORPORATION OF NEW YORK,
Defendant

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE

Section 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia ("Code") provides in subdivisions 7 and 8 of subsection A that the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") may suspend or revoke the license of any insurance company to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia whenever the company has had its certificate of authority revoked in the Commonwealth of Virginia or has been found insolvent by a court of any other state. Section 38.2-1041 of the Code provides that the Commission may immediately revoke or suspend the license of any insurer to do the business of insurance in Virginia without prior notice on the grounds specified in subdivisions 7 and 8 of subsection A of § 38.2-1040 of the Code.

Insurance Corporation of New York ("Defendant"), a New York domiciled insurer, was initially licensed to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia on September 24, 1969. By order entered May 27, 2003, the Defendant's license was suspended due to financial regulatory concerns. On June 30, 2009, the Supreme Court of the State of New York found the Defendant insolvent. On January 4, 2010, the Defendant's Virginia certificate of authority was revoked for failure to remit its corporate registration fee and annual report to the Clerk of the Commission.

The Commission's Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Defendant's license to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia be revoked.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Pursuant to § 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia, the license of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia is hereby REVOKED.

(2) The Defendant shall transact no further business in the Commonwealth of Virginia.

(3) The Bureau of Insurance shall cause notice of the revocation of the Defendant's license to be published in the manner set forth in § 38.2-1043 of the Code of Virginia.

(4) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-2005-00154
MAY 27, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
v.
DONALD R. O'ROARK,
Defendant

ORDER

On May 7, 2010, Donald R. O'Roark ("Petitioner") filed a Petition requesting that the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") modify a Settlement Order entered on August 22, 2005, in which he was ordered not to sell, solicit, or negotiate any variable life insurance policies except to himself or his immediate family.[1] The Petitioner acknowledges that he voluntarily agreed to the restriction; however, he argues that at the time of the agreement, he did not fully appreciate the extent to which this restriction would limit his ability to affiliate with insurers and other broker dealers. He notes that it has been nearly five years since the restriction was imposed, and that in the twenty eight years prior to when this case arose, the Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau") had received no complaints regarding his activities as a licensed agent.

The Bureau of Insurance has indicated that it does not oppose modifying the previously entered Settlement Order in order to allow the Petitioner to sell, solicit, or negotiate variable life insurance policies to the general public. The Bureau notes that an agent whose license has been revoked ordinarily may reapply to become licensed after a period of five years, pursuant to § 38.2-1832 of the Code of Virginia. Notwithstanding the prior agreement between the Petitioner and the Bureau, the Bureau believes it would be reasonable to impose a time frame similar to that found in § 38.2-1832 with respect to the current restriction on the Petitioner's sales activities. The Bureau notes that there have been no complaints filed against the Petitioner since the entry of the Settlement Order.

[1] In addition to the restriction on selling variable life insurance policies, the Petitioner agreed to pay a monetary penalty of $20,000 in order to settle allegations made by the Bureau of Insurance that he had violated §§ 38.2-502 and 38.2-503 of the Code of Virginia, as well as 14 VAC 5-40-40 of the Virginia Administrative Code.

The Commission, having considered the Petition and the Bureau's recommendation, is of the opinion that Ordering Paragraph (2) of the Settlement Order entered in this case on August 22, 2005, should be vacated.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Ordering Paragraph (2) of the Settlement Order entered herein on August 22, 2005, is hereby VACATED; and

(2) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-2008-00100
OCTOBER 25, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
v.
THE GLEBE, INC.,
Registrant

ORDER

The Glebe, Inc. ("Glebe"), is a Continuing Care Retirement Community ("CCRC") registered with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to provide continuing care services in the Commonwealth of Virginia pursuant to § 38.2-4901 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"). On May 9, 2008, the Commission entered a Consent Order ("Consent Order") prohibiting the Glebe from collecting Entrance Fees as defined in § 38.2-4900 of the Code until such time as the Commission determines that the Glebe is financially stable. The Glebe consented to the entry of the Order on May 7, 2008 because it was unable to meet its pro forma income and cash flow projections filed with the Commission's Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau").

On October 28, 2009, the Association of Glebe Residents ("Association") filed a Petition to Modify Consent Order ("Petition") in which it requested that the Commission modify the Consent Order. The requested modification would allow the Glebe to place unearned portions of new residents' Entrance Fees into an escrow account and collect the earned portion of the fees from the escrow account at six-month intervals over a forty-eight month period. The proposed modification provides that the Glebe would request approval from the Bureau before collecting any portion of the entrance fees from the escrow account. In support of its request, the Association stated that the Order eliminates a source of income for the Glebe and draws attention to the Glebe's financial troubles, affecting marketing efforts to prospective residents.

On November 5, 2009, the Commission entered a Scheduling Order in this matter in which it assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, set this matter for hearing, and directed the Bureau and the Glebe to file an answer or other responsive pleading on or before November 17, 2009.

On November 17, 2009, the Glebe filed a motion in which it requested an extension of time to file its answer until November 24, 2009. This motion was granted by the Hearing Examiner on November 17, 2009.

Also on November 17, 2009, the Bureau filed its Answer and Affirmative Defenses ("Answer") in which it requested that the Petition be denied. In its Answer, the Bureau stated that the proposed modification to the Consent Order would not make the Glebe financially stable and it would not adequately protect new residents for the full term of their contract with the Glebe.

On November 24, 2009, the Glebe filed its Answer in which it expressed its support for the proposed modification to the Consent Order. The Glebe argued that the interest of the residents of the Glebe and the purposes of the Continuing Care Retirement Community Act ("Act") found in Chapter 49 of Title 38.2 of the Code are best served by modifying the Consent Order.

On April 26, 2010, the Commission convened a hearing in the case. A. Carter McGee, Esquire, and Garren R. Laymon, Esquire, appeared on behalf of the Association. J.R. Smith, Esquire, and Robert Dean Pope, Esquire, appeared on behalf of the Glebe. Donald C. Beatty, Esquire, and John O. Cox, Esquire appeared on behalf of the Bureau.

At the hearing, the Association presented the testimony of Mr. Cecil G. Short, Rev. Hugh E. Nichols, and Mr. Donald C. Johnson, all residents of the Glebe. The witnesses for the Association described the Glebe, their lives at the Glebe, and the effect of the Consent Order on their lives. Mr. Short and Reverend Nichols both testified that they used the proceeds from the sale of a primary residence to fund the Entrance Fee for the Glebe.

The Glebe presented the testimony of Mr. Ned Stephenson, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Glebe. Mr. Stephenson testified that low occupancy created financial difficulty for the Glebe, which ultimately led to the entry of the Consent Order. Mr. Stephenson testified that there were approximately $5 million in Entrance Fees deferred by the Glebe pursuant to the Consent Order. Mr. Stephenson also testified to the efforts the Glebe has made to improve its financial condition including hiring new management, deferring refunds on entrance fees and negotiating with bondholders. Mr. Stephenson testified that the Glebe is currently in default on its bonds and that if it was allowed to take Entrance Fees it would consider first paying former residents to whom refunds of part of the Entrance Fee are owed.

The Bureau presented the testimony of Toni Janoski, Senior Financial Analyst for the Bureau. Ms. Janoski testified as to the events leading up to the entry of the Consent Order. Ms. Janoski stated that in April of 2008 the Glebe notified the Bureau that it had defaulted on its principal payments on its bond and that the bond was in default as of January 24, 2008. Ms. Janoski testified further as to the current financial condition of the Glebe. Ms. Janoski testified that the Glebe's liabilities exceed its assets by more than $21 million and that the Glebe is experiencing recurring operating losses. Ms. Janoski stated that the Glebe had not provided any information that would lead her to believe it would not continue to experience such losses.

On July 29, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued a Hearing Examiner's Report ("Report") finding that the Petition should be granted. The Hearing Examiner stated that the financial condition of the Glebe warranted caution but was not dire. He found that the requested modification of the Consent Order adequately protects both current and prospective residents and will better allow the Glebe to meet its financial obligations. The Hearing Examiner recommended that the Commission enter an order adopting the findings in the Report and granting the Petition.

On August 9, 2010, the Bureau filed its Objections to Report of Hearing Examiner ("Objections"). In its Objections, the Bureau argued that the Hearing Examiner did not apply the appropriate statutory standard in his assessment of the Glebe's financial condition. The Bureau asserted that the appropriate standard for considering the financial stability of the Glebe is found in § 38.2-4907 of the Code, which authorizes the Commission to protect residents and prospective residents when the Commission determines that a provider has been or will be unable to meet the pro forma income or cash flow projections previously filed by the provider and such failure may endanger the ability of the provider to perform fully its obligation pursuant to its continuing care contracts. The Bureau states that the Glebe currently meets this standard. Further, the Bureau notes that it is undisputed that: (1) in both 2008 and 2009, the Glebe's external auditors questioned the Glebe's ability to continue as a going concern; and (2) the Glebe is insolvent insofar as it is unable to make payments on its obligations as they come due and its liabilities exceed its assets. Moreover, the Bureau noted that on June 28, 2010, the Glebe filed for relief under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code ("Bankruptcy Filing"), providing further evidence of its financial instability. The Bureau also argued that the Consent Order should not be lifted because it states that it will remain in effect until such time as the Glebe has demonstrated that it is financially stable and that no such demonstration had been made.

On August 11, 2010, the Glebe filed its Response to the Report of Hearing Examiner ("Response"). In its Response, the Glebe objected to the Report to the extent that it recommends making the Glebe's ability to collect entrance fees conditional on approval by the Bureau. The Glebe also argued that its Bankruptcy Filing is not in and of itself determinative of the Glebe's financial stability, but rather a means to restructure its debt obligations to its bondholders. The Glebe states that it is optimistic that a consensual plan of reorganization can occur in the near future. On August 28, 2010, the counsel for the Association filed a Motion to Withdraw as Counsel. In support of the Motion to Withdraw, counsel for the Association stated that no further assistance from counsel is required by the Association. There was no opposition to this motion.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record herein, is of the opinion and finds that the Petition of the Association of Glebe Residents should be denied.

Section 38.2-4907 of the Code authorizes the Commission to protect residents or prospective residents of a CCRC when the Commission determines that:

> 1. A provider has been or will be unable to meet the pro forma income or cash flow projections previously filed by the provider and such failure may endanger the ability of the provider to perform fully its obligation pursuant to its continuing care contracts; or
> 2. A provider is bankrupt, insolvent, under reorganization pursuant to federal bankruptcy laws or in imminent danger of becoming bankrupt or insolvent.

It is undisputed that the Glebe's current financial condition meets both standards enumerated in the Act. The Glebe is currently unable to meet its pro forma income projections filed with the Bureau and has filed for bankruptcy protection pursuant to Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code in an effort to restructure its debt. The purpose of the Consent Order is to protect the investments of current and future residents of the Glebe, and it requires that the Glebe cease collecting entrance fees from new residents until such time as the Commission has determined that it is financially stable. It is clear based on the evidence in this case that the Glebe remains financially unstable. We are hopeful that the Glebe's efforts to restructure its debt will enable it to become financially stable, which would allow the Commission to modify the Consent Order in the future. We find that the Consent Order should remain in effect until such time as the Glebe can demonstrate that it is financially stable.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Petition of the Association of Glebe Residents is hereby DENIED;

(2) The Motion to Withdraw of the Association of Glebe Residents is hereby GRANTED; and

(3) The papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-2008-00248
FEBRUARY 12, 2010

APPLICATION OF INTERSTATE MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

For approval to distribute the remaining assets of the corporation pursuant to Virginia Code § 38.2-216

FINAL ORDER

Interstate Mutual Fire Insurance Company ("Interstate Mutual") is a Virginia domiciled mutual assessment property and casualty insurer licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") pursuant to Chapter 25 (§ 38.2-2500 et seq.) of Title 38.2 of the Code of Virginia ("Code").

By Order entered herein November 25, 2008, Interstate Mutual's license to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia was suspended based on the voluntary consent of Interstate Mutual's President due to Interstate Mutual's failure to maintain a membership of at least 100 persons at all times as required by § 38.2-2515 of the Code.

On September 8, 2008, Interstate Mutual filed its Articles of Dissolution and Dissolution Application with the Commission's Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau"), reflecting that the dissolution of Interstate Mutual was approved by the Board of Directors on August 17, 2007.

The Dissolution Application provided that after all liabilities and obligations of Interstate Mutual were paid, satisfied, and discharged, the remaining assets of Interstate Mutual would be distributed pursuant to an established and agreed formula to those members of Interstate Mutual who owned Interstate Mutual Policies during calendar years 2005, 2006 and 2007.

By Order entered May 5, 2009, the Dissolution Application was approved ("Order Approving Application"). The Order Approving Application required Interstate Mutual to promptly distribute its remaining assets and file an affidavit of compliance with the Bureau. The Order Approving Application further required Interstate Mutual to surrender its license to transact the business of insurance to the Bureau upon completion of the distribution of its assets.

By letter dated December 17, 2009, and received by the Bureau on December 22, 2009, Interstate Mutual submitted an affidavit of compliance with the Order Approving Application and surrendered its license to transact the business of insurance.

The Bureau has recommended that this case be closed.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record, the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance and the law applicable hereto, is of the opinion that this case should be closed.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Order Suspending License entered by the Commission should be, and is hereby, VACATED;

(2) This case be, and is hereby, DISMISSED;

(3) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

MARCH 17, 2010

ALFRED W. GROSS AS DEPUTY RECEIVER OF SHENANDOAH LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, IN RECEIVERSHIP FOR CONSERVATION AND REHABILITATION, Plaintiff,
v.
WILMA S. BAKER
GWENDOLYN S. JONES,
and
STEVEN A. SLEDGE, Defendants

ORDER

On April 19, 2009, Alfred W. Gross, Commissioner of the Bureau of Insurance, State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), in his capacity as Deputy Receiver of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company ("Shenandoah"), in receivership for conservation and rehabilitation, by counsel, filed a Petition for Interpleader requesting that the Commission, among other things: (i) hear the competing claims by the Defendants as to insurance proceeds from insurance policy no. 000999724 ("Policy") issued to William A. Sledge by Shenandoah; (ii) restrain and enjoin the Defendants from instituting or prosecuting any proceeding before any other court in the Commonwealth related to their competing claims to the insurance proceeds under the Policy; and (iii) dismiss the Deputy Receiver from this proceeding and forever discharge him and Shenandoah from any and all liability to the Defendants for any claim, demand, action, or cause of action arising out of, or in any way connected with, the Policy.

Unbeknownst to the Deputy Receiver, on April 3, 2009, Defendant Wilma Baker filed a Complaint in the matter styled Wilma Baker v. Gwendolyn Jones, in the Circuit Court ("Circuit Court") for the City of Portsmouth, Case Number CL09000933-00. The Complaint requested that the Circuit Court take jurisdiction over this matter and find that Wilma Baker is entitled to the proceeds of the Policy.

On May 4, 2009, Defendant Gwendolyn S. Jones filed an Answer in the Circuit Court requesting that the Circuit Court find that Gwendolyn S. Jones and Steven Sledge are the beneficiaries of the Policy.

On May 27, 2009, the Deputy Receiver, by counsel, filed a Motion for Continuance ("Motion"). In support of his Motion, the Deputy Receiver stated that Defendant Wilma S. Baker filed a complaint for declaratory judgment to determine the rights under the Policy in this matter in the Circuit Court and, in the interest of judicial economy, requested that the Commission continue this matter.

On July 21, 2009, the Commission entered an order continuing this matter.

On December 2, 2009, the Deputy Receiver filed a Notice of Nonsuit ("Notice") in this matter. In support of his Notice, the Deputy Receiver stated that the Defendants had executed among themselves a Compromise and Settlement Agreement, wherein the Defendants agreed to a division of the proceeds of policy no. 000999724 issued by Shenandoah to owner and insured, William A. Sledge. Additionally, the Defendants executed a Release and Agreement in favor of Shenandoah and the Deputy Receiver which released all claims known or unknown that the Defendants have now or may have in the future against Shenandoah or the Deputy Receiver. Based on the foregoing and good cause having been shown, the Deputy Receiver requested that the Commission dismiss this case.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein and the request of the Deputy Receiver, is of the opinion that this matter should be dismissed.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Deputy Receiver's Petition for Interpleader is here DISMISSED; and

(2) The case is dismissed, and the papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-2009-00122
JULY 20, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
AMERIN GUARANTY CORPORATION,
Defendant

FINAL ORDER

Amerin Guaranty Corporation ("Defendant"), a foreign corporation domiciled in the State of Pennsylvania, is licensed to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia.

By Impairment Order entered herein June 3, 2009, the Defendant was ordered to eliminate the impairment in its surplus and restore the same to at least $3,000,000 and advise the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") of the accomplishment thereof by affidavit of the Defendant's president or other authorized officer on or before September 4, 2009.

The Defendant was also ordered not to issue any new contracts or policies of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia while the impairment of the Defendant's surplus exists and until further order of the Commission.

The Defendant's March 31, 2010 Quarterly Statement reported surplus in compliance with the minimum requirement of $3,000,000 set forth in § 38.2-1028 of the Code of Virginia.

In light of the foregoing, the Commission's Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Impairment Order entered by the Commission be vacated and this case be closed.

THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Impairment Order entered by the Commission should be vacated.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Impairment Order entered by the Commission is hereby, VACATED;

(2) This case be, and is hereby, DISMISSED; and

(3) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-2009-00123
FEBRUARY 4, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
THE GUARDIAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA,
Defendant

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on a market conduct examination performed by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, in certain instances, has violated §§ 38.2-316 A, 38.2-316 B, and 38.2-316 C 1 of the Code of Virginia by failing to comply with policy and form requirements; violated §§ 38.2-510 A 2, 38.2-510 A 5, and 38.2-510 A 15 of the Code of Virginia by failing to comply with unfair claim settlement practices; violated § 38.2-511 of the Code of Virginia by failing to maintain a complete complaint register; violated §§ 38.2-1812 A, 38.2-1822 A, and 38.2-1833 A 1 of the Code of Virginia by failing to comply with agent licensing requirements; violated §§ 38.2-3405 B, 38.2-3407.1 B, 38.2-3407.4 A, 38.2-3407.15 B 1, 38.2-3407.15 B 2, 38.2-3407.15 B 3, 38.2-3407.15 B 4, 38.2-3407.15 B 4 a (ii) (c), 38.2-3407.15 B 4 a (ii) (d), 38.2-3407.15 B 5, 38.2-3407.15 B 6, 38.2-3407.15 B 7, 38.2-3407.15 B 8, 38.2-3407.15 B 9, 38.2-3407.15 B 10, 38.2-3407.15 B 11, and 38.2-3407.15 C of the Code of Virginia by failing to comply with the provisions relating to accident and sickness insurance; violated §§ 38.2-5804 A, 38.2-5804 A 1, 38.2-5804 A 2, and 38.2-5804 C of the Code of Virginia by failing to comply with the requirements of the complaint system for MCHIPs; and violated 14 VAC 5-400-50 A, 14 VAC 5-400-60 A, 14 VAC 5-400-60 B, 14 VAC 5-400-70 A, and 14 VAC 5-400-70 B by failing to properly handle claims.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been advised of its right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendant, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, has made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendant has tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Sixty-two Thousand Dollars ($62,000), waived its right to a hearing, agreed to the entry by the Commission of a cease and desist order, and agreed to comply with the Corrective Action Plan contained in the Market Conduct Examination Report as of June 30, 2007.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendant pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendant, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendant's offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendant in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted;

(2) The Defendant cease and desist from any future conduct which constitutes a violation of §§ 38.2-316 A, 38.2-316 B, 38.2-316 C 1, 38.2-510 A 2, 38.2-510 A 5, 38.2-510 A 15, 38.2-511, 38.2-1812 A, 38.2-1822 A, 38.2-1833 A 1, 38.2-3405 B, 38.2-3407.1 B, 38.2-3407.4 A, 38.2-3407.15 B 1, 38.2-3407.15 B 2, 38.2-3407.15 B 3, 38.2-3407.15 B 4, 38.2-3407.15 B 4 a (ii) (c), 38.2-3407.15 B 4 a (ii) (d), 38.2-3407.15 B 5, 38.2-3407.15 B 6, 38.2-3407.15 B 7, 38.2-3407.15 B 8, 38.2-3407.15 B 9, 38.2-3407.15 B 10, 38.2-3407.15 B 11, 38.2-3407.15 C, 38.2-5804 A, 38.2-5804 A 1, 38.2-5804 A 2, or 38.2-5804 C of the Code of Virginia, or 14 VAC 5-400-50 A, 14 VAC 5-400-60 A, 14 VAC 5-400-60 B, 14 VAC 5-400-70 A, or 14 VAC 5-400-70 B; and

(3) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

FEBRUARY 19, 2010

PETITION OF
ROSALIE M. LOVELACE

For review of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal

FINAL ORDER

On February 12, 2009, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond entered an order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") as Receiver of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company ("Shenandoah" or "Company"). In addition, on February 12, 2009, the Commission, by Order Appointing Deputy Receiver for Conservation and Rehabilitation ("Order Appointing Deputy Receiver"), appointed Alfred W. Gross, Commissioner of the Commission's Bureau of Insurance as Deputy Receiver, in accordance with Title 38.2, Chapter 15 of the Code of Virginia. Pursuant to his grant of authority, the Deputy Receiver in his Second Directive of Deputy Receiver Adopting Receivership Appeal Procedure established appeal procedures for appeals or challenges of any decision made by the Deputy Receiver with respect to claims against Shenandoah.

On June 26, 2009, Rosalie M. Lovelace ("Petitioner") filed a Petition for Review ("Petition") with the State Corporation Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's denial of her "Hardship Request" made in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 002045417.

By Order dated July 10, 2009, the Commission docketed the Petition, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Deputy Receiver to file an Answer or other responsive pleading to the Petition on or before July 22, 2009.

On July 21, 2009, the Deputy Receiver filed his Answer to the Petition and asked that the Petition be denied.

By Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated August 31, 2009, a telephonic hearing was scheduled for September 30, 2009.

On September 30, 2009, a telephonic hearing was conducted as scheduled. John O. Cox, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Commission. Robert A. Dybing, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Deputy Receiver. Ms. Lovelace appeared pro se.

In the Notice of Appeal, the Petitioner acknowledged receiving a check for surrendering her life insurance policy. At the hearing, the Petitioner testified that she and her husband have several medical issues which have caused them financial hardship.[1]

[1] Petitioner's Exhibit 1; Tr. at 8-11.

Donald Beatty, Senior Counsel in the Commission's Office of General Counsel and receivership manager for Shenandoah, testified as to the terms of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver. Specifically, Mr. Beatty testified that paragraph 12(e) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver orders Shenandoah to cease payment of policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[2] Mr. Beatty further testified that paragraph 13(b) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver authorizes the Deputy Receiver to implement a hardship exemption from the moratorium on policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[3] Mr. Beatty confirmed that prior to establishing the hardship exemption, the Deputy Receiver consulted with outside legal counsel, accounting and investment consultants, as well as the Company's Chief Financial Officer and in-house actuary. Mr. Beatty maintained that the 70% limit was established to preserve the Company's ability to pay claims and continuing business expenses.

On December 17, 2009, the Hearing Examiner reconvened the hearing in this matter. During this hearing the Petitioner testified that she understood the difference between taking a loan on her whole life policy and opting to surrender her policy but did not realize Shenandoah was paying only 70% of her cash value. The Petitioner could not make payments on a policy loan and her only option was to surrender the policy.[4]

On January 7, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued his Report in which he found that the moratorium on the cash surrender of policies, balanced with a 70% payout in hardship cases, is a prudent and reasonable approach to managing the Company's resources. The Hearing Examiner recommended that the Petition be dismissed, and the Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal be affirmed.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record herein and the Report of the Hearing Examiner, is of the opinion that the findings and recommendations of the Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

1. The Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 002045417 is hereby AFFIRMED;

2. The Petition of Rosalie M. Lovelace for review of the Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal is hereby DISMISSED; and

3. The papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

JANUARY 19, 2010

PETITION OF
JUANITA B. JONES

For review of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal

FINAL ORDER

On February 12, 2009, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond entered an order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") as Receiver of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company ("Shenandoah" or "Company"). In addition, on February 12, 2009, the Commission, by Order Appointing Deputy Receiver for Conservation and Rehabilitation ("Order Appointing Deputy Receiver"), appointed Alfred W. Gross, Commissioner of the Commission's Bureau of Insurance, as Deputy Receiver in accordance with Title 38.2, Chapter 15, of the Code of Virginia. Pursuant to his grant of authority, the Deputy Receiver, in his Second Directive of Deputy Receiver Adopting Receivership Appeal Procedure, established appeal procedures for appeals or challenges of any decision made by the Deputy Receiver with respect to claims against Shenandoah.

On June 29, 2009, Juanita B. Jones ("Petitioner") filed a Petition for Review ("Petition") with the State Corporation Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's denial of her "Hardship Request" made in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 000958911.[1]

By Order dated July 24, 2009, the Commission docketed the Petition, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Deputy Receiver to file an Answer or other responsive pleading to the Petition on or before August 31, 2009.

On August 24, 2009, the Deputy Receiver filed his Answer to the Petition and asked that the Petition be denied.

By Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated September 1, 2009, a telephonic hearing was scheduled for October 8, 2009.

On October 5, 2009, Shenandoah filed a Motion for Continuance. In its Motion, Shenandoah asked that the hearing in this case be continued until after the Commission decided identical issues in Case No. INS-2009-00152, Petition of Rosalie M. Lovelace, For Review of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal. Shenandoah maintained that it would promote judicial efficiency if the hearing in this matter was continued pending the resolution of Case No. INS-2009-00152. In a Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated October 6, 2009, the motion was denied.

[1] Ms. Jones' filing was titled Notice of Appeal.

On October 8, 2009, a telephonic hearing was conducted as scheduled. John O. Cox, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Commission. Robert A. Dybing, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Deputy Receiver. Ms. Jones appeared pro se.

In the Notice of Appeal, the Petitioner acknowledged receiving a check for surrendering her life insurance policy representing 70% of the cash surrender value of the policy but maintained she should have received 100% of the cash surrender value of the policy. At the hearing, the Petitioner testified that she has several medical issues and she surrendered her policy in order to get all of her money. The Petitioner's husband also testified to the financial difficulties they were having.

Donald Beatty, Esquire, senior counsel in the Commission's Office of General Counsel and receivership manager for Shenandoah, testified as to the day-to-day operations of the company and its efforts to be rehabilitated. Additionally, Mr. Beatty testified as to the terms of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver. Specifically, Mr. Beatty testified that paragraph 12(e) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver orders Shenandoah to cease payment of policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[2] Mr. Beatty further testified that paragraph 13(b) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver authorizes the Deputy Receiver to implement a hardship exemption from the moratorium on policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[3] Mr. Beatty confirmed that prior to establishing the hardship exemption, the Deputy Receiver consulted with outside legal counsel, accounting and investment consultants, as well as the Company's Chief Financial Officer and in-house actuary. Mr. Beatty maintained that the 70% limit was established to preserve the Company's ability to pay claims and continuing business expenses.

On December 2, 2009, the Hearing Examiner issued his Report in which he found that the moratorium on the cash surrender of policies, balanced with a 70% payout in hardship cases, is a prudent and reasonable approach to managing the Company's resources. The Hearing Examiner recommended that the Petition be dismissed, and the Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal be affirmed.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record herein and the Report of the Hearing Examiner, is of the opinion that the findings and recommendations of the Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

1. The Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 000958911 is hereby AFFIRMED;

2. The Petition of Juanita B. Jones for review of the Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal is hereby DISMISSED; and

3. The papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

FEBRUARY 1, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
FINANCIAL GUARANTY INSURANCE COMPANY,
Defendant

ORDER SUSPENDING LICENSE

In an Order to Take Notice entered herein December 28, 2009, Financial Guaranty Insurance Company, a New York corporation ("Defendant") licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, was ordered to take notice that the Commission would enter an order subsequent to January 18, 2010, suspending the license of the Defendant to transact new business unless on or before January 18, 2010, the Defendant filed with the Clerk of the Commission a request for a hearing before the Commission to contest the proposed suspension of the Defendant's license.

The Order to Take Notice was entered due to the Defendant's failure to eliminate the impairment in its surplus and restore the same to at least $3,000,000 and advise the Commission of the accomplishment thereof by affidavit of the Defendant's president or other authorized officer on or before November 16, 2009.

As of the date of this Order, the Defendant has not filed a request to be heard before the Commission with respect to the proposed suspension of the Defendant's license.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Pursuant to § 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia, the license of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia is hereby SUSPENDED;

(2) The Defendant shall issue no new contracts or policies of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia until further order of the Commission;

(3) The appointments of the Defendant's agents to act on behalf of the Defendant in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby SUSPENDED;

(4) The Defendant's agents shall transact no new insurance business on behalf of the Defendant in the Commonwealth of Virginia until further order of the Commission;

(5) The Bureau of Insurance shall cause an attested copy of this Order to be sent to each of the Defendant's agents appointed to act on behalf of the Defendant in the Commonwealth of Virginia as notice of the suspension of such agent's appointment; and

(6) The Bureau of Insurance shall cause notice of the suspension of the Defendant's license to be published in the manner set forth in § 38.2-1043 of the Code of Virginia.

PETITION OF GHULAM NASEER

ORDER

On October 14, 1994, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond, Virginia, entered an Order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") the Receiver of HOW Insurance Company ("HOWIC"), Home Warranty Corporation ("HWC"), and Home Owners Warranty Corporation ("HOW") (collectively, "HOW Companies" or "HOW"). The receivership order granted the Commission the authority to proceed with the rehabilitation or liquidation of the HOW Companies and established a receivership appeal procedure ("RAP") to govern appeals and challenges to decisions rendered by the Receiver or the Receiver's duly authorized representatives.

On August 14, 2009, Ghulam Naseer ("Petitioner") filed a Petition for Review ("Petition") with the Clerk of the Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal in Claim No. 4209113.

By Order dated August 31, 2009, the Commission docketed the Petition, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Deputy Receiver to file an Answer or other responsive pleading to the Petition on or before October 1, 2009.

On September 30, 2009, the Deputy Receiver filed a Motion to Dismiss and Answer to Petition for Review ("Motion to Dismiss"), and a Memorandum in Support of Motion to Dismiss Petition for Review. In his Motion to Dismiss, the Deputy Receiver contends that the Petitioner failed to assert a claim on which relief under the HOW Program may be granted and should be dismissed based on the following: (i) the Petitioner filed this instant claim on August 19, 2008, more than four years after the expiration of all HOW Program coverage on March 31, 2004. Specifically, the HOW Insurance/Warranty Document states that claims must be reported not more than 30 days after the expiration of the applicable coverage term.[1] Thus, the claim is time-barred and the applicable grace period has expired; and (ii) the Petitioner is barred from making a claim with respect to the alleged defects inasmuch as the Petitioner executed a release and accepted a settlement payment.

By Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated September 30, 2009, the Petitioner was directed to file any response to the Motion to Dismiss on or before October 16, 2009.

On October 12, 2009, the Petitioner filed a Motion for Extension of Time to Respond to the Deputy Receiver's Motion to Dismiss, which was granted by a Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated October 14, 2009. The Petitioner was directed to respond to the Motion to Dismiss on or before October 30, 2009.

On October 30, 2009, the Petitioner filed an Answer to Motion to Dismiss ("Answer") and a Memorandum in Support of Answer to Motion to Dismiss ("Petitioner's Memorandum"). In the Petitioner's Memorandum, he asserts, among other things, that: (i) the Petitioner's claim for defects described in his Petition for review is not time-barred since it originated in a claim that was filed in 2003; and (ii) the Petitioner's execution of the 2003 release/settlement did not extinguish his current claim for structural damage on the left side of his dwelling.

On December 10, 2009, Howard P. Anderson, Jr., issued his Report and made the following findings and recommendations:

(1) There is no material fact in question.

(2) The Petitioner's claim was reported more than four years after all HOW Program coverage, including the applicable grace period, had expired and, therefore, is time-barred under the terms of the policy.

(3) The Petitioner signed a full and complete release of the HOW Companies from any further liability regarding the foundation of the Petitioner's home.

(4) The Deputy Receiver's Motion to Dismiss should be granted.

[1] HOW Insurance/Warranty Document, Part IC., p. 20.

(5) The Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal in Claim No. 4209113 should be affirmed.

(6) The Petition for Review should be dismissed with prejudice.

Upon consideration of the record herein and the Report of the Hearing Examiner, the Commission is of the opinion, and so finds, that the findings and recommendations of the Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Deputy Receiver's Motion to Dismiss is hereby GRANTED;

(2) The Petition of Ghulam Naseer for review of the Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal is hereby DENIED;

(3) The Determination of Appeal in Claim No. 4209113 issued by the Deputy Receiver is hereby AFFIRMED; and

(4) The case is DISMISSED with prejudice, and the papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

FEBRUARY 26, 2010

PETITION OF
RUTH A. HOHENSTEIN

For review of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal

FINAL ORDER

On February 12, 2009, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond entered an order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") as Receiver of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company ("Shenandoah" or "Company"). In addition, on February 12, 2009, the Commission, by Order Appointing Deputy Receiver for Conservation and Rehabilitation ("Order Appointing Deputy Receiver"), appointed Alfred W. Gross, Commissioner of the Commission's Bureau of Insurance as Deputy Receiver, in accordance with Title 38.2, Chapter 15 of the Code of Virginia. Pursuant to his grant of authority, the Deputy Receiver in his Second Directive of Deputy Receiver Adopting Receivership Appeal Procedure established appeal procedures for appeals or challenges of any decision made by the Deputy Receiver with respect to claims against Shenandoah.

On August 25, 2009, Ruth A. Hohenstein ("Petitioner") filed a Petition for Review ("Petition") with the Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's denial of her "Hardship Request" made in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 000720645. Additionally, on August 25, 2009, the Petitioner's husband filed a Petition with the Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's denial of his "Hardship Request" made in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 00717285.

By Order dated August 31, 2009, the Commission docketed the Petition, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Deputy Receiver to file an Answer or other responsive pleading to the Petition on or before October 1, 2009.

On September 24, 2009, the Deputy Receiver filed his Answer to the Petition and asked that the Petition be denied.

By Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated October 9, 2009, an evidentiary hearing was scheduled for December 2, 2009, via telephone conference call for the purpose of receiving testimony and evidence on the Petition.

On December 2, 2009, a hearing was convened as scheduled. The Petitioner failed to appear, was contacted, and had difficulty calling the telephone conference call number from outside of the country. The hearing was continued until December 14, 2009.

On December 14, 2009, a hearing was conducted as scheduled. John O. Cox, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Commission. The Petitioner and her husband appeared via telephone. Robert A. Dybing, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Deputy Receiver.

At the hearing, the Petitioner and her husband established their financial hardship and their need for the remaining cash value of their life insurance policies. Additionally, the Petitioner and her husband reiterated their need for the remaining cash value of their life insurance policies in order to pay outstanding obligations to the Internal Revenue Service and to offset household expenses. The Petitioner stated that she and her husband had requested the surrender of their life insurance policies prior to Shenandoah being placed in receivership.

Donald Beatty, Senior Counsel in the Commission's Office of General Counsel and Receivership Manager for Shenandoah, testified as to the day-to-day operations of the Company and its efforts to be rehabilitated. Additionally, Mr. Beatty testified as to the terms of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver. Specifically, Mr. Beatty testified that paragraph 12(e) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver orders Shenandoah to cease payment of policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[1] Mr. Beatty further testified that paragraph 13(b) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver authorizes the Deputy Receiver to implement a hardship exemption from the moratorium on policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[2] Mr. Beatty confirmed that prior to establishing the hardship exemption, the Deputy Receiver consulted with outside legal counsel, accounting and investment consultants, as well as the Company's Chief Financial Officer and in-house actuary. Mr. Beatty maintained that the 70% limit was established to preserve the Company's ability to pay claims and continuing business expenses.

On January 5, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued his Report in which he found that the moratorium on the cash surrender of policies, balanced with a 70% payout in hardship cases, is a prudent and reasonable approach to managing the Company's resources. The Hearing Examiner recommended that the Petition be dismissed, and the Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal be affirmed.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record herein and the Report of the Hearing Examiner, is of the opinion that the findings and recommendations of the Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

1. The Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 000720645 is hereby AFFIRMED;

2. The Petition for Review of Ruth A. Hohenstein is hereby DISMISSED; and

3. The case is dismissed, and the papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

FEBRUARY 26, 2010

PETITION OF
JOSEPH HOHENSTEIN

For review of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal

FINAL ORDER

On February 12, 2009, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond entered an order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") as Receiver of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company ("Shenandoah" or "Company"). In addition, on February 12, 2009, the Commission, by Order Appointing Deputy Receiver for Conservation and Rehabilitation ("Order Appointing Deputy Receiver"), appointed Alfred W. Gross, Commissioner of the Commission's Bureau of Insurance as Deputy Receiver, in accordance with Title 38.2, Chapter 15 of the Code of Virginia. Pursuant to his grant of authority, the Deputy Receiver in his Second Directive of Deputy Receiver Adopting Receivership Appeal Procedure established appeal procedures for appeals or challenges of any decision made by the Deputy Receiver with respect to claims against Shenandoah.

On August 25, 2009, Joseph Hohenstein ("Petitioner") filed a Petition for Review ("Petition") with the Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's denial of his "Hardship Request" made in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 00717285. Additionally, on August 25, 2009, the Petitioner's wife filed a Petition with the Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's denial of her "Hardship Request" made in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 000720645.

By Order dated August 31, 2009, the Commission docketed the Petition, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Deputy Receiver to file an Answer or other responsive pleading to the Petition on or before October 1, 2009.

On September 24, 2009, the Deputy Receiver filed his Answer to the Petition and asked that the Petition be denied.

By Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated October 9, 2009, an evidentiary hearing was scheduled for December 2, 2009, via telephone conference call for the purpose of receiving testimony and evidence on the Petition.

On December 2, 2009, a hearing was convened as scheduled. The Petitioner failed to appear, was contacted, and had difficulty calling the telephone conference call number from outside of the country. The hearing was continued until December 14, 2009.

On December 14, 2009, a hearing was conducted as scheduled. John O. Cox, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Commission. The Petitioner and his wife appeared via telephone. Robert A. Dybing, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Deputy Receiver.

At the hearing, the Petitioner and his wife established their financial hardship and their need for the remaining cash value of their life insurance policies. Additionally, the Petitioner and his wife reiterated their need for the remaining cash value of their life insurance policies in order to pay outstanding obligations to the Internal Revenue Service and to offset household expenses. The Petitioner stated that he and his wife had requested the surrender of their life insurance policies prior to Shenandoah being placed in receivership.

Donald Beatty, Senior Counsel in the Commission's Office of General Counsel and receivership manager for Shenandoah, testified as to the day-to-day operations of the Company and its efforts to be rehabilitated. Additionally, Mr. Beatty testified as to the terms of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver. Specifically, Mr. Beatty testified that paragraph 12(e) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver orders Shenandoah to cease payment of policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[1] Mr. Beatty further testified that paragraph 13(b) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver authorizes the Deputy Receiver to implement a hardship exemption from the moratorium on policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[2] Mr. Beatty confirmed that prior to establishing the hardship exemption, the Deputy Receiver consulted with outside legal counsel,

The Hearing Examiner recommended that the Petition be dismissed, and the Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal be affirmed.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record herein and the Report of the Hearing Examiner, is of the opinion that the findings and recommendations of the Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

1. The Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 00717285 is hereby AFFIRMED;

2. The Petition for Review of Joseph Hohenstein is hereby DISMISSED; and

3. The case is dismissed, and the papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

OCTOBER 1, 2010

PETITION OF
CHAMAN L. AND JYOTI KAUL

ORDER

On October 14, 1994, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond, Virginia, entered an Order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") the Receiver of HOW Insurance Company, Home Warranty Corporation, and Home Owners Warranty Corporation (collectively, "HOW"). The receivership Order granted the Commission the authority to proceed with the rehabilitation or liquidation of the HOW companies and established a receivership appeal procedure to govern appeals and challenges to decisions rendered by the Receiver or the Receiver's duly authorized representatives. The receivership is now being liquidated after more than fifteen years and all outstanding claims are to be resolved and closed.

On September 8, 2009, Chaman L. Kaul and Jyoti Kaul ("Petitioners") first filed a Petition with the Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal in Claim No. 0765243. In their Petition, among other things, the Petitioners sought payment from HOW for foundation damage observed in 1994 that they alleged was a continuation of the original damage that they claimed in 1992. The damage in 1992 was repaired and the Petitioners signed a release and settlement in December 1994. Additionally, the Petitioners claimed to have no record of having received five (5) checks paid to them pursuant to the December 1994 settlement agreement.

By Order dated September 16, 2009, the Petition was docketed and the Deputy Receiver was directed to file an Answer or other responsive pleading on or before October 19, 2009.

On October 19, 2009, the Deputy Receiver filed a Motion to Dismiss and Answer to Petition for Review ("Motion to Dismiss"), and a Memorandum in Support of the Motion to Dismiss. In his Motion to Dismiss, the Deputy Receiver contends that the claim was not filed timely with HOW and that the Petitioners are barred from making a claim with respect to the alleged defect in their home because they executed a release and accepted a settlement payment for this claim.

On October 20, 2009, the Hearing Examiner issued a ruling directing the Petitioners to file any response to the Deputy Receiver's Motion on or before November 13, 2009. On November 13, 2009, the Petitioners filed a response to the Deputy Receiver's Motion in which they requested that the Motion be denied and this matter be set for hearing on the merits. On January 8, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued a ruling setting a procedural schedule and setting this matter for hearing.

On May 26, 2010, a hearing was convened in this matter. Chaman L. Kaul appeared pro se in person. Joseph N. West, Esquire, and Robert Glarza, Esquire, appeared telephonically as counsel to the Deputy Receiver. Donald C. Beatty, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Commission.

At the hearing, Mr. Kaul testified on his own behalf. Mr. Kaul described the damage to his house and the efforts made to repair the house. Mr. Kaul stated that cracks in the foundation of his home led him to file a claim with HOW. Mr. Kaul testified that the engineers hired by HOW were instructed by the company to submit a repair estimate not to exceed $3,500. The estimated cost of repair was One Thousand Four Hundred One Dollars ($1,401), and HOW issued a settlement check to the Petitioners in that amount.

Mr. Kaul stated that the repairs performed by the contractor were insufficient to correct the problems with the foundation and that following the repairs, he discovered more damage to the house. Mr. Kaul testified that he informed HOW of this damage verbally and that on October 5, 1992, he informed HOW of the damage to the house in writing. The Petitioners' position is that this is a continuation of the original claim and was therefore filed before the expiration of warranty coverage.

Mr. Kaul stated that an independent engineer had provided a repair estimate on the house that was the subject of his October 5, 1992, letter to HOW. The engineer's report estimated that the cost to repair the foundation of the Petitioner's house was between $12,000 and $18,000. The engineer's report further stated that the repairs performed previously on the house did not adequately address the problems with the home's foundation.

The Deputy Receiver presented the testimony of Susan Roehm, assistant to the Deputy Receiver and custodian of records for HOW. Ms. Roehm testified that the Petitioners' warranty coverage expired on August 31, 1992, and that the last date for filing claims under the warranty was September 29, 1992. Ms. Roehm testified that the Petitioners' initial warranty claim was timely received by HOW on April 6, 1992, and as part of the settlement of the claim, the Petitioners executed a release of liability in favor of HOW.

Ms. Roehm confirmed that the Petitioners' second claim regarding damage to their home that was not repaired by the contractor used during the first claim was received on October 17, 1992. Ms. Roehm testified that because this claim was received after the expiration of the coverage on September 29, 1992, it was denied.

On July 22, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued his report. In his report, the Hearing Examiner made the following findings and recommendations:

(1) The Petitioners' claim filed on October 17, 1992, was not a continuation of the original claim filed on April 6, 1992, because the Petitioners had executed a release in favor of HOW regarding the initial claim;

(2) The claim filed on October 17, 1992, was filed with HOW after the expiration of coverage;

(3) The Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal in Claim No. 0765243 should be affirmed.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record herein and the Report of the Hearing Examiner, is of the opinion and finds that the findings and recommendations of the Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Deputy Receiver's Motion to Dismiss is hereby GRANTED.

(2) The Petition of Chaman L. and Jyoti Kaul for review of the Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal is hereby DENIED.

(3) The Determination of Appeal in Claim No. 0765243 issued by the Deputy Receiver is hereby AFFIRMED.

(4) The case is DISMISSED, and the papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

Re: Confidential Settlement Agreements

FINAL ORDER APPROVING DEPUTY RECEIVER'S SETTLEMENTS WITH GENERAL REINSURANCE CORPORATION, MILLIMAN, INC., PRICEWATERHOUSECOOPERS LLP, WACHOVIA BANK, NATIONAL ASSOCIATION, MISSOURI HOSPITAL PLAN, HOSPITAL SERVICES GROUP, HEALTHCARE SERVICES GROUP, PROVIDERS INSURANCE CONSULTANTS, AND MEDICAL LIABILITY ALLIANCE

On September 17, 2009, Alfred W. Gross, as Deputy Receiver ("Deputy Receiver") of Reciprocal of America ("ROA") and The Reciprocal Group ("TRG") (collectively, the "Companies"), filed with the Clerk of the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") his Application for Orders Setting Contingent Hearing, Approving Notice Procedures, Establishing Response Date, and Approving Deputy Receiver's Settlements with General Reinsurance Corporation, Milliman, Inc., PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, Wachovia Bank, National Association, Missouri Hospital Plan, Hospital Services Group, Healthcare Services Group, Providers Insurance Consultants, and Medical Liability Alliance ("Application") seeking, inter alia, that the Commission enter a final order approving: (a) a confidential mediated settlement among the Deputy Receiver, General Reinsurance Corporation ("General Re"), Milliman, Inc. ("Milliman"), and PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP ("PwC") ("General Re-Milliman-PwC Settlement"); (b) a confidential settlement between the Deputy Receiver and Wachovia Bank, National Association ("Wachovia") ("Wachovia Settlement"); and (c) a confidential settlement between the Deputy Receiver and the Missouri Hospital Plan, the Hospital Services Group, Healthcare Services Group, Providers Insurance Consultants, and Medical Liability Alliance (collectively, "MHP") ("MHP Settlement"), and making certain requested findings, all as described in the Application.[1]

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

1. On January 29, 2003, in Case No. CH03-135 styled Commonwealth of Virginia ex rel. State Corporation Commission v. Reciprocal of America, The Reciprocal Group, and Jody M. Wagner, Treasurer of Virginia, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond, Virginia, entered its Final Order Appointing Receiver for Rehabilitation or Liquidation ("Receivership Order"), appointing the Commission permanent Receiver of the Companies. The Receivership Order also appointed the Deputy Receiver.

2. Pursuant to the terms of the Receivership Order, the Deputy Receiver was authorized, inter alia, to institute and prosecute in his name or in the name of the Companies any and all suits and other legal proceedings including, but not limited to, the prosecution of any action which may exist on behalf of the Companies and their subscribers, members, insureds, policyholders, or creditors. In addition, the Receivership Order granted the Deputy Receiver the power to compromise such suits, legal proceedings, or claims on such terms and conditions as may be deemed appropriate.

3. On June 20, 2003, the Commission ordered that, inter alia, ROA and TRG be found and declared to be insolvent and that the Deputy Receiver proceed with the liquidation of ROA and TRG in accordance with the provisions of Title 38.2, Chapter 15 of the Virginia Code, other applicable Virginia law, and the Commission's order, subject to further orders of the Commission.[2]

4. On November 12, 2003, as authorized by the Receivership Order, the Deputy Receiver instituted legal proceedings styled Alfred W. Gross v. General Reinsurance Corporation, et al., Case No. 3:03cv955, in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia, which the United States Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation subsequently transferred to the United States District Court for the Western District of Tennessee for pre-trial proceedings as part of Multidistrict Litigation Docket No. 1551 ("MDL-1551"), where the case is now pending as Case No. 04-CV-2313 ("ROA Lawsuit").

5. Among the defendants in the ROA Lawsuit are General Re, Milliman, PwC, and Wachovia (collectively, "Settling Defendants"), as well as General Re employees Tommy N. Kellogg ("Kellogg"), Thomas M. Reindel ("Reindel"), and Victoria J. Seeger ("Seeger"), Milliman employee Robert L. Sanders ("Sanders"), and PwC partner Gary Stephani ("Stephani").

6. In the ROA Lawsuit, the Deputy Receiver asserts claims belonging to the Companies for the benefit of the Companies' policyholders, insureds, and other creditors and asserts claims on behalf of subscribers, members, insureds, policyholders, or creditors of the Companies that are common to them and result from the insolvency of the Companies, or are derivative claims, in that they involve injury to policyholders and creditors only insofar as the underlying conduct violated some legal duty to ROA, thereby decreasing the assets of the estate to which policyholders and creditors must look for satisfaction of their debts (collectively, "ROA Lawsuit Claims").

7. Subsequent to the ROA Lawsuit, Milliman asserted an action for interpleader against ROA in Milliman USA, Inc. v. Alfred W. Gross. et al., Case No. 2:07-CV-02662 (W.D. Tenn.), and General Re filed a petition to compel arbitration against ROA in General Reinsurance Corporation v. Alfred W. Gross. et al., Case No. 2:07-CV-02615 (W.D. Tenn.). Although both of those cases are pending in the same court as MDL-1551, neither of those cases has been made part of MDL-1551.

8. MHP also brought claims against, inter alia, Gen Re, Milliman, and Wachovia, now pending in MDL-1551 as Missouri Hospital Plan. et al. v. Doctors Insurance Reciprocal, et al., Case No. 04-CV-2294 (W.D. Tenn.) ("MHP Lawsuit"). In addition, MHP asserted claims against ROA in the ROA receivership proceeding.

9. By his Application filed on September 17, 2009, the Deputy Receiver informed the Commission that he had entered into the Settlements and requested the Commission's approval of the Settlements and the Settlement Agreements, which would resolve all claims between the Deputy Receiver and General Re, Milliman, PwC, Wachovia, Kellogg, Reindel, Seeger, Sanders, Stephani, and MHP.

[1] The General Re-Milliman-PwC Settlement is effectuated by a confidential mediated settlement agreement among the Deputy Receiver, General Re, Milliman, and PwC ("General Re-Milliman-PwC Settlement Agreement"), and a separate confidential mediated trust agreement between the Deputy Receiver and General Re ("General Re Settlement Trust Agreement").

The Wachovia Settlement is effectuated by a confidential settlement agreement between the Deputy Receiver and Wachovia ("Wachovia Settlement Agreement").

The MHP Settlement is effectuated by a confidential settlement agreement between the Deputy Receiver and MHP ("MHP Settlement Agreement").

Concurrently with the filing of the Application and pursuant to Commission Rule of Practice and Procedure 5 VAC 5-20-170 (Confidential information), the Deputy Receiver filed a motion for protective order relating to the General Re-Milliman-PwC Settlement Agreement, the General Re Settlement Trust Agreement, the Wachovia Settlement Agreement and the MHP Settlement Agreement (collectively, "Settlement Agreements" which effectuate the three "Settlements").

All four of the Settlement Agreements include certain conditions precedent, common among which is the requirement of a final order of the Commission approving the Deputy Receiver entering into the settlement agreement according to its terms.

Rpt. 116, Order of Liquidation with a Finding of Insolvency and Directing the Cancellation of Direct Insurance Policies (June 20, 2003).

10. On October 1, 2009, the District of Columbia Insurance Guaranty Association, Georgia Insurers Insolvency Pool, Indiana Insurance Guaranty Association, Kansas Insurance Guaranty Association, Maryland Property & Casualty Insurance Guaranty Association, Mississippi Insurance Guaranty Association, Missouri Property & Casualty Guaranty Association, North Carolina Insurance Guaranty Association, Pennsylvania Property & Casualty Insurance Guaranty Association, South Carolina Property & Casualty Insurance Guaranty Association, Tennessee Insurance Guaranty Association and Virginia Property and Casualty Insurance Guaranty Association ("Guaranty Associations") filed Limited Opposition of Guaranty Associations to Application to Approve Proposed Settlements and Motion for Entry of Protective Order Regarding Proposed Settlements. The Deputy Receiver filed a Reply to the Guaranty Associations Limited Opposition on October 16, 2009. On October 20, 2009, the Guaranty Associations filed a Notice of Withdrawal of Limited Opposition to Approve Proposed Settlements and Entry of Protective Order Regarding Proposed Settlements.

11. On November 16, 2009, Appalachian Regional Healthcare, Hardin Memorial Hospital, Highlands Regional Medical Center, Murray-Calloway County Hospital, Owensboro Mercy Health System, Regional Medical Center/Trover Clinic Foundation, T.J. Samson Community Hospital ("Kentucky Hospitals"), filed a Contingent Objection to the Application to Approve Proposed Settlements. The Deputy Receiver filed a Reply on December 2, 2009. On December 7, 2009, a Scheduling Order was entered ordering the Kentucky Hospitals to file any response it may have to the Deputy Receiver's Reply. On December 11, 2009, the Kentucky Hospitals filed a Response to the Deputy Receiver's Reply. In that Response the Kentucky Hospitals withdrew their Contingent Objection.

12. Pursuant to the Commission's October 6, 2009, Order Setting Contingent Hearing on Application for Approval of Deputy Receiver's Settlements with General Reinsurance Corporation, Milliman, Inc., PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, Wachovia Bank, National Association, Missouri Hospital Plan, Hospital Services Group, Healthcare Services Group, Providers Insurance Consultants, and Medical Liability Alliance, Approving Notice Procedures and Establishing Response Date ("October 6th Order"), no hearing was held because those persons who filed objections to the Application ("Notice of Objection") withdrew their objections and no other persons filed a Notice of Objection.[3]

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the Application, hereby makes the following findings:

1. The Deputy Receiver has exclusive standing to prosecute and compromise the settled claims, including the ROA Lawsuit Claims.

2. The Settlements and the Settlement Agreements are fair and reasonable to, and in the best interests of, ROA's policyholders and ROA's and TRG's creditors.

3. The Wachovia Settlement Agreement settles and compromises all claims which have been, were, or could have been asserted or alleged by ROA, TRG, their receivership estate, the Commission, the Deputy Receiver, and any additional or further deputy receivers or special deputy receivers for ROA or TRG and any party on whose behalf the Deputy Receiver asserted claims in the ROA Lawsuit including, but not limited to, the ROA Lawsuit Claims.

4. MHP's release of Proofs of Claim Numbers 1219, 1235, 1236, 1237, and 1238, pursuant to the MHP Settlement, is given to the Deputy Receiver in good faith.

5. The Deputy Receiver's payment of consideration to MHP, pursuant to the MHP Settlement, is an expense of administration for purposes of § 38.2-1509 of the Code of Virginia.

THEREFORE, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

1. Each of the Settlements is APPROVED.

2. The Deputy Receiver's entering into each of the Settlement Agreements, according to its terms, is APPROVED.

3. This matter is dismissed and the papers herein be passed to the file for ended cases.

Commissioner Jagdmann did not participate in this matter.

[3] On November 18, 2009, the Deputy Receiver filed timely proof of notice in compliance with the October 6th Order.

Ex Parte: In the matter of Adopting Amendments to the Rules Governing Surplus Lines Insurance

ORDER ADOPTING AMENDMENTS TO RULES

By Order to Take Notice entered December 17, 2009, all interested persons were ordered to take notice that subsequent to February 1, 2010, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") would consider the entry of an order adopting proposed amendments to the regulations entitled Rules Governing Surplus Lines Insurance ("Regulations"), proposed by the Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau") which amend the Regulations at 14 VAC 5-350-30, 14 VAC 5-350-90, 14 VAC 5-350-100, 14 VAC 5-350-160, and 14 VAC 5-350-165, unless on or before February 1, 2010, any person objecting to the adoption of the proposed amendments to the Regulations filed a request for a hearing with the Clerk of the Commission ("Clerk"). The Bureau also recommended that Forms SLB 1, SLB 4, SLB 6, and SLB 10 be deleted and Forms 3001 and 4052 be added.

The Order to Take Notice also required all interested persons to file their comments in support of or in opposition to the proposed amendments to the Regulations on or before February 1, 2010.

There were no comments on the proposed amendments to the Regulations filed with the Clerk. There was no request for a hearing filed with the Clerk.

The Bureau does not recommend further changes to the proposed amendments to the Regulations, and further recommends that the amendments to the Regulations be adopted as proposed.

THE COMMISSION, having considered the Bureau's recommendation, is of the opinion that the attached proposed amendments to the Regulations should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The proposed amendments to the Regulations entitled Rules Governing Surplus Lines Insurance at 14 VAC 5-350-30, 14 VAC 5-350-90, 14 VAC 5-350-100, 14 VAC 5-350-160, and 14 VAC 5-350-165 which are attached hereto and made a part hereof, should be, and they are hereby, ADOPTED to be effective April 1, 2010.

(2) AN ATTESTED COPY hereof shall be sent by the Clerk of the Commission to the Bureau of Insurance in care of Deputy Commissioner Brian P. Gaudiose, who forthwith shall give further notice of the adoption of the amendments to the Regulations by mailing a copy of this Order, including a clean copy of the attached final amended Regulations, to all licensed group self-insurance associations, local government group self-insurance pools and certain interested parties designated by the Bureau.

(3) The Commission's Division of Information Resources forthwith shall cause a copy of this Order, together with a copy of the amended Regulations, to be forwarded to the Virginia Registrar of Regulations for appropriate publication in the Virginia Register of Regulations, and shall make available this Order and the amended Regulations on the Commission's website, http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case.

(4) The Bureau shall file with the Clerk of the Commission an affidavit of compliance with the notice requirements of Ordering Paragraph (2) above.

MARCH 19, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In the matter of Adopting Amendments to the Rules Governing Surplus Lines Insurance

CORRECTING ORDER

In an Order Adopting Amendments to Rules ("Order") entered herein March 17, 2010, ordering paragraph 2 requires that a copy of the Order, including a clean copy of the attached final amended Regulations, be sent to all licensed group self-insurance associations, local government group self-insurance pools and certain interested parties designated by the Bureau. The correct language, however, should require that a copy of the Order, including a clean copy of the attached final amended Regulations, be sent to all licensed surplus lines brokers.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Ordering paragraph 2 shall be corrected to read: "AN ATTESTED COPY hereof shall be sent by the Clerk of the Commission to the Bureau of Insurance in care of Deputy Commissioner Brian P. Gaudiose, who forthwith shall give further notice of the adoption of the amendments to the Regulations by mailing a copy of this Order, including a clean copy of the attached final amended Regulations, to all licensed surplus lines brokers."

(2) All other provisions of the Order to Take Notice entered March 17, 2010, shall remain in full force and effect.

JULY 30, 2010

PETITION OF
SHIRLEY RUTH W. GIBSON

For review of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal

FINAL ORDER

On February 12, 2009, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond entered an order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") as Receiver of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company ("Shenandoah" or "Company"). In addition, on February 12, 2009, the Commission, by Order Appointing Deputy Receiver for Conservation and Rehabilitation, appointed Alfred W. Gross, Commissioner for the Commission's Bureau of Insurance, as Deputy Receiver, in accordance with Title 38.2, Chapter 15 of the Code of Virginia.[1] Pursuant to his grant of authority, the Deputy Receiver, in his Second Directive of Deputy Receiver Adopting Receivership Appeal Procedure, established appeal procedures for appeals or challenges of any decision made by the Deputy Receiver with respect to claims made against Shenandoah.

In the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver, the Commission imposed a moratorium which required Shenandoah to "cease the payment of policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, fund transfers, lapses, cash-outs and similar payments," etc.[2] The Commission's Order Appointing Deputy Receiver also authorized the Deputy receiver to "implement a procedure for the exemption from any such . . . moratorium . . . those hardship claims, as he may define them, that he, in his sole discretion, deems proper under the circumstances."[3]

The Deputy Receiver adopted a Hardship Policy for exemptions to the current and any future moratorium, and determined that the Hardship Policy would be limited to persons showing an immediate need for funds.[4] In addition, the Deputy Receiver determined that hardship exemptions would be limited to a maximum of 70% of the cash surrender value or policy loan value in order to conserve Shenandoah's cash reserves and maintain liquidity during the Receivership.[5]

On October 9, 2009, Shirley Ruth W. Gibson ("Petitioner") filed a Petition for Review ("Petition") with the Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's partial denial of her Hardship Request made in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 001050124.

By Order dated October 14, 2009, the Commission docketed the Petition, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Deputy Receiver to file an Answer or other responsive pleading to the Petition on or before November 16, 2009.

On November 6, 2009, the Petitioner filed additional documentation to support her hardship claim, including letters from a physician, a family friend, her employer, and a pastor.

On November 12, 2009, the Deputy Receiver filed his Answer and asked that the Petition be denied. In his Answer, the Deputy Receiver stated that the Petitioner's request for a hardship exemption was not fully granted due to her failure to present evidence of a current financial hardship.

By Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated February 3, 2010, an evidentiary hearing was scheduled for February 26, 2010, via telephone conference for the purpose of receiving testimony and evidence on the Petition.

On February 11, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed a list of witnesses and exhibits to be introduced during the telephonic hearing.

On February 26, 2010, a hearing was held in this matter. The Petitioner appeared pro se. Robert A. Dybing, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Deputy Receiver. John O. Cox, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Commission.

At the hearing, the Petitioner testified as to the circumstances that led her to apply for a Hardship Exemption. The Petitioner further testified that she did not provide the Deputy Receiver with any past due bills, bank statements, or documentation of her household income.

Donald Beatty, Esquire, senior counsel in the Commission's Office of General Counsel and receivership manager for Shenandoah, testified as to the day-to-day operations of the Company and its efforts to be rehabilitated. Additionally, Mr. Beatty testified as to the terms of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver. Specifically, Mr. Beatty testified that paragraph 12(e) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver orders Shenandoah to cease payment of policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[6] Mr. Beatty further testified that paragraph 13(b) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver authorizes the Deputy Receiver to implement a hardship exemption from the moratorium on policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[7] Mr. Beatty confirmed that prior to establishing the hardship exemption, the Deputy Receiver consulted with outside legal counsel, accounting and investment consultants, as well as the Company's Chief Financial Officer and in-house actuary.[8] Mr. Beatty maintained that the 70% limit was established to preserve the Company's ability to pay claims and continuing business expenses.[9]

Mr. Beatty further testified that in order for a policy owner to qualify for hardship relief and exemption from the moratorium, the Deputy Receiver requires evidence of imminent financial need to pay past-due bills, medical bills, past-due taxes, and bills of that nature.[10] Mr. Beatty testified that he did not receive the requested financial information necessary to grant the Petitioner's hardship request.[11]

On March 26, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued a Hearing Examiner's Report finding that the Petitioner has a hardship. The Hearing Examiner's Report recommended that the Commission enter an Order adopting the finding that the Petitioner has a hardship, reversing the Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal, and directing the Deputy Receiver to pay the Petitioner 70% of the cash value of her annuity.[12]

On April 7, 2010, the Petitioner filed comments to the report requesting that the funds from her annuity be sent directly to her financial institution.

On April 15, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed his Objections to Report of Hearing Examiner ("Objections"). In his Objections, the Deputy Receiver contended that the Petitioner, while deserving of sympathy, did not sufficiently demonstrate a financial hardship.[13]

The Deputy Receiver further asserted that the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver vested him with the "sole discretion" to adopt exemptions from the moratorium, and that the standard of review applicable to this matter should be whether the Deputy Receiver abused his discretion in the Determination of Appeal.[14]

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record herein, is of the opinion and finds that the Petitioner's Petition for Review is denied and the Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal is affirmed.

The Petitioner is definitely deserving of our sympathy. She tried to provide for the expenses of her retirement through her own savings, in this case, by purchasing an annuity from Shenandoah.

Through absolutely no fault of her own, her retirement plans were disrupted and damaged when Shenandoah's financial condition deteriorated and it was forced to ask this Commission to place it into receivership.

We agree with the Deputy Receiver that the appropriate standard of review in this proceeding is whether the Deputy Receiver abused his discretion in his Determination of Appeal. As sympathetic as we are to the Petitioner's plight, we cannot find on the facts of this case that the Deputy Receiver abused his discretion. That is the legal burden that the Petitioner must reach, and we do not find that she has met the legal standard necessary to show that the Deputy Receiver abused his discretion.

If the Petitioner's financial situation changes, the Petitioner is free to re-apply for a Hardship Exemption. The dismissal of this claim does not preclude the Petitioner from filing another Hardship Exemption request if her financial circumstances change for the worse.

The optimal outcome for this Petitioner, as well as all of the thousands of others similarly situated, is for the Deputy Receiver to be successful in his efforts to find a buyer for Shenandoah that will maximize the recovery of all policy owners. That is the goal.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Petitioner's Petition for Review is hereby DENIED;

(2) The Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal is hereby AFFIRMED;

(3) The Petition of Shirley Ruth W. Gibson for review of Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal is hereby DISMISSED; and

(4) The papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-2009-00244
JANUARY 11, 2010

PETITION OF
BARBARA H. JANISAITIS

For review of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal

FINAL ORDER

On February 12, 2009, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond entered an order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") as Receiver of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company ("Shenandoah"). In addition, the order appointed Alfred W. Gross, Commissioner of the Commission's Bureau of Insurance as Deputy Receiver, in accordance with Title 38.2, Chapter 15 of the Code of Virginia. Pursuant to his grant of authority, the Deputy Receiver in his Second Directive of Deputy Receiver Adopting Receivership Appeal Procedure established appeal procedures for appeals or challenges of any decision made by the Deputy Receiver with respect to claims against Shenandoah.

On October 20, 2009, Barbara H. Janisaitis ("Petitioner") filed a Petition for Review ("Petition") with the State Corporation Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's denial of her "Hardship Request" made in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 001044791.

On December 7, 2009, the Petitioner and Shenandoah, by counsel, filed a joint motion to dismiss this matter without prejudice. In support of their motion the parties stated that they have resolved the issues raised by the Petitioner. The parties have requested that this matter be dismissed without prejudice.

On December 9, 2009, the Hearing Examiner issued his report in this matter. In his report the Hearing Examiner granted the joint motion to dismiss and recommended that the Commission enter and Order adopting the findings of his report and passing the papers herein to the file for ended causes.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record herein, is of the opinion that this matter should be dismissed.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Joint Motion to Dismiss is hereby GRANTED;

(2) The Petition for Review of Barbara H. Janisaitis is hereby DISMISSED without prejudice; and

(3) The case is dismissed, and the papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
NORTH CAROLINA MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
Defendant

CONSENT ORDER

North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company ("Defendant") is a foreign corporation domiciled in the State of North Carolina and licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia. By Order To Take Notice entered herein on November 4, 2009, the Defendant was ordered to take notice that the Commission would enter an order subsequent to November 12, 2009, suspending the license of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance in Virginia unless on or before November 12, 2009, the Defendant requested a hearing before the Commission regarding the proposed suspension of its license.

By letter of Richard C. Barnes, the Defendant's Corporate Secretary, dated November 9, 2009, and received by the Clerk of the Commission on November 12, 2009, the Defendant requested a hearing in this matter.

By affidavit of James H. Speed, Jr., the Defendant's President and Chief Executive Officer, dated January 13, 2010, and received by the Commission's Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau") on January 22, 2010, the Defendant consented to the entry of an order prohibiting it from soliciting or issuing any new insurance policies or contracts in the Commonwealth of Virginia until further Order of the Commission.

In light of the foregoing, the Bureau has recommended that this Consent Order be entered in this matter.

THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that a Consent Order should be entered.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT the Defendant shall issue no new contracts or policies of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia until further Order of the Commission.

Ex Parte: In the matter of Adopting Amendments to the Rules Governing Settlement Agents

ORDER ADOPTING AMENDMENTS TO RULES

By Order to Take Notice ("Order") entered herein November 12, 2009, all interested persons were ordered to take notice that subsequent to December 21, 2009, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") would consider the entry of an order adopting amendments proposed by the Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau") to the Commission's "Rules Governing Settlement Agents" set forth in Chapter 395 of Title 14 of the Virginia Administrative Code unless on or before December 21, 2009, any person objecting to the adoption of the proposed amendments filed a request for hearing with the Clerk of the Commission ("Clerk").

The Order also required all interested persons to file their comments in support of or in opposition to the proposed amendments on or before December 21, 2009.

No comments or requests for a hearing were filed with the Clerk.

THE COMMISSION, having considered the proposed amendments, is of the opinion that the attached amendments to the Rules should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The proposed amendments to Chapter 395 of Title 14 of the Virginia Administrative Code entitled "Rules Governing Settlement Agents," which are to be published in Chapter 395 of Title 14 of the Virginia Administrative Code, amended at 14 VAC 5-395-30 and 14 VAC 5-395-40, which are attached hereto and made a part hereof, should be, and they are hereby, ADOPTED to be effective January 25, 2010.

(2) AN ATTESTED COPY hereof, shall be sent by the Clerk of the Commission to the Bureau in care of Deputy Commissioner Brian P. Gaudiose, who forthwith shall give further notice of the adoption of the amendments to the Rules by mailing a copy of this Order, including a clean copy of the attached final amended Rules, to all licensed title insurance companies and other interested parties designated by the Bureau.

(3) The Commission's Division of Information Resources forthwith shall cause a copy of this Order, including a copy of the amended Rules, to be forwarded to the Virginia Register of Regulations for appropriate publication in the Virginia Register of Regulations and shall make this Order and the attached amended Rules available on the Commission's website, http://www.scc.virginia.gov/caseinfo.htm.

(4) The Bureau of Insurance shall file with the Clerk of the Commission an affidavit of compliance with the notice requirements of paragraph (2) of this Order.

NOTE: A copy of Attachment A entitled "Rules Governing Settlement Agents" is on file and may be examined at the State Corporation Commission, Clerk's Office, Document Control Center, Tyler Building, First Floor, 1300 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia.

CASE NO. INS-2009-00250
SEPTEMBER 10, 2010

PETITION OF
FRANK P. HUSSEY

For review of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal

FINAL ORDER

On February 12, 2009, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond entered an order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") as Receiver of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company ("Shenandoah" or "Company"). In addition, on February 12, 2009, the Commission, by Order Appointing Deputy Receiver for Conservation and Rehabilitation ("Order Appointing Deputy Receiver"), appointed Alfred W. Gross, Commissioner of the Commission's Bureau of Insurance as Deputy Receiver, in accordance with Title 38.2, Chapter 15 of the Code of Virginia. Pursuant to his grant of authority, the Deputy Receiver in his Second Directive of Deputy Receiver Adopting Receivership Appeal Procedure established appeal procedures for appeals or challenges of any decision made by the Deputy Receiver with respect to claims against Shenandoah.

On November 2, 2009, Frank P. Hussey ("Petitioner") filed a Petition for Review ("Petition") with the Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's denial of his "Hardship Request" made in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 001059082.

By Order dated November 16, 2009, the Commission docketed the Petition, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Deputy Receiver to file an Answer or other responsive pleading to the Petition on or before December 17, 2009.

On December 14, 2009, the Deputy Receiver filed his Answer to the Petition and asked that the Petition be denied. In his Answer, the Deputy Receiver stated that the Petitioner's initial request for a hardship exemption was granted, but limited to an annual systematic surrender charge-free withdrawal of ten percent (10%) of the accumulated value of his annuity as long as total payments did not exceed seventy percent (70%) of the cash surrender or non-forfeiture of his policy. The Petitioner has challenged the determination, and instead seeks the full cash surrender of his policy.

By Chief Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated March 9, 2010, an evidentiary hearing was scheduled for May 12, 2010, via telephone conference call for the purpose of receiving testimony and evidence on the Petition.

On March 24, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed a list of witnesses and exhibits to be introduced during the telephonic hearing.

On May 12, 2010, a hearing was conducted as scheduled. John O. Cox, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Commission. The Petitioner appeared pro se, via telephone. Robert A. Dybing, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Deputy Receiver.

At the hearing, the Petitioner explained his financial hardship and his need for the remaining cash value of his life insurance policy. The Petitioner explained that while he paid all of his bills in a timely manner, he had to depend on loans from family and friends to do so. Additionally, the Petitioner stated that he would gladly pay a surrender charge in order to receive his money.

Donald Beatty, Esquire, senior counsel in the Commission's Office of General Counsel and receivership manager for Shenandoah, testified as to the day-to-day operations of the company and its efforts to be rehabilitated. Additionally, Mr. Beatty testified as to the terms of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver. Specifically, Mr. Beatty testified that paragraph 12(e) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver orders Shenandoah to cease payment of policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[1] Mr. Beatty further testified that paragraph 13(b) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver authorizes the Deputy Receiver to implement a hardship exemption from the moratorium on policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[2] Mr. Beatty confirmed that prior to establishing the hardship exemption, the Deputy Receiver consulted with outside legal counsel, accounting and investment consultants, as well as the Company's Chief Financial Officer and in-house actuary. Mr. Beatty maintained that the seventy percent (70%) limit was established to preserve the Company's ability to pay claims and continuing business expenses. Mr. Beatty also explained that the Petitioner could reapply for the hardship exemption if his circumstances changed and he was not able to pay his bills as they came due.

On July 28, 2010, the Chief Hearing Examiner issued her Report in which she found that: (i) the Petitioner failed to show that he had imminent financial need necessary to qualify for a hardship exemption to allow full cash surrender of his policy; (ii) the Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal should be affirmed; and (iii) the Petition should be dismissed without prejudice in order to allow the Petitioner the opportunity to reapply for a hardship request if he has information at a later date that would compel the full cash surrender of his policy.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record herein and the Report of the Chief Hearing Examiner, is of the opinion that the findings and recommendations of the Chief Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 001059082 is hereby AFFIRMED;

(2) The Petition of Frank P. Hussey for review of Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal is hereby DISMISSED without prejudice; and

(3) The case is dismissed, and the papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-2009-00251
MARCH 9, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
WOODOLPH ROMEO,
Defendant

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated subsections 1 and 9 of § 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia by providing materially incorrect, misleading, incomplete or untrue information in his license application filed with the Commission, and by having been convicted of a felony.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been notified of his right to a hearing before the Commission in this matter by certified letters dated September 29, 2009, and November 4, 2009, and mailed to the Defendant's address shown in the records of the Bureau of Insurance.

The Defendant, having been advised in the above manner of his right to a hearing in this matter, has failed to request a hearing and has not otherwise communicated with the Bureau of Insurance.

The Bureau of Insurance, upon the Defendant's failure to request a hearing, has recommended that the Commission enter an order revoking all of the Defendant's licenses to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent.

NOW THE COMMISSION is of the opinion and finds that the Defendant has violated subsections 1 and 9 of § 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia by providing materially incorrect, misleading, incomplete or untrue information in his license application filed with the Commission, and by having been convicted of a felony.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The licenses of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby REVOKED;

(2) All appointments issued under said licenses are hereby VOID;

(3) The Defendant transact no further business in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent;

(4) The Defendant shall not apply to the Commission to be licensed as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia prior to sixty (60) days from the date of this Order;

(5) The Bureau of Insurance shall notify every insurance company for which the Defendant holds an appointment to act as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia; and

(6) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

JUDGMENT ORDER

By Order entered herein on November 24, 2009, the Defendants were ordered to take notice that the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") would enter a Judgment Order subsequent to December 15, 2009, permanently enjoining the Defendants from transacting the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, unless on or before December 15, 2009, the Defendants filed with the Clerk of the Commission a responsive pleading and a request for a hearing. The Order was based on allegations by the Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau") that the Defendants violated § 38.2-1024 of the Code of Virginia by offering and selling hole-in-one insurance coverage to Virginia residents without being properly licensed to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia.

As of the date of this Order, the Defendants have failed to file a responsive pleading to object to the entry of a Judgment Order, nor have they requested a hearing.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

JANUARY 4, 2010

PETITION OF
ANTHEM HEALTH PLANS OF VIRGINIA, INC.,
HEALTHKEEPERS, INC.,
PENINSULA HEALTH CARE, INC.,
and
PRIORITY HEALTH CARE, INC.,

Petition of Anthem Health Plans of Virginia, Inc., Healthkeepers, Inc., Peninsula Health Care, Inc., and Priority Health Care, Inc., for approval to provide utilization management and case management for members receiving benefits under a Medicare Supplement plan from locations outside of Virginia

FINAL ORDER

On November 16, 2009, Anthem Health Plans of Virginia, Inc., HealthKeepers, Inc., Peninsula Health Care Inc., and Priority Health Care, Inc. (collectively, "Anthem") filed a Petition under Rule 5 VAC 5-20-80 of the State Corporation Commission's ("Commission") Rules of Practice and Procedure and the Final Order entered in Case No. INS-2007-00141.[1] In the Final Order, the Commission continued the requirement that Anthem cause the following services to be provided from offices located in Virginia: claims processing and case management, customer service, quality management, provider services, medical management, and network development. The Commission permitted Anthem to provide the following services from offices located outside of the Commonwealth of Virginia: actuarial, underwriting, marketing, community relations, distribution management, and sales. In the Final Order, the Commission also provided that if Anthem seeks to provide any of the aforementioned services currently required to be provided from offices located inside of Virginia, it should seek permission from the Commission by filing a petition ". . . setting forth a specific and detailed proposal for providing such services out of state, including specific and detailed information on how and where Anthem will provide such services, as well as safeguards for ensuring adequate levels of service."[2]

In the Petition, Anthem requests approval of the Commission to provide utilization management and case management for members receiving benefits under a Medicare Supplement plan from locations outside of Virginia.

According to Anthem:

(1) Currently, medical management utilization review and case management for Anthem's Medicare Supplement membership is performed by one full-time nurse in Virginia. Anthem does not seek to reduce or eliminate the work of this Virginia-based reviewer. Anthem is seeking approval to allow similarly trained personnel outside of Virginia to perform reviews. Alternative locations currently include nursing staff in Georgia and Wisconsin. The current Virginia workload does not justify the need to hire additional staff in Virginia to support it, but there is at times more work than one reviewer can handle alone. Moreover, support for periods of time when the Virginia reviewer is absent is needed.

(2) The engagement of reviewers located outside of Virginia will not change how providers and members interact with Anthem for utilization review of claims and case management. The assignment of reviewers occurs within Anthem's internal work flow, and the methodology by which time frames and standards of review are managed by Anthem would not change whether a case is retained by the Virginia-based reviewer or assigned to someone in another state. The level and speed of connectivity is no different between Anthem's in-state and out-of-state reviewers since both types are on the same internal communication network and have access to the same databases of information.

(3) Anthem believes utilization review of claims and case management services will not be degraded by having professional-level review services performed outside of Virginia. A larger stable of reviewers is expected to enhance the timeliness of review and reduce delay associated with the absence of local reviewers. The services will be conducted in accordance with both Virginia insurance and Department of Health regulations regardless of location.

As an ancillary matter, this Petition also seeks approval for the nursing staff that provides utilization review and case management services outside of Virginia to members to also be able to provide incidental customer and provider service functions in order that the member and the provider can be served to the extent possible by one telephone call, rather than having to be transferred around the Company for such incidental services. Examples of such incidental services include a member's request for an ID card, or information about other Anthem services, or a member's or provider's request for the status of a submitted claim.

(4) The relief sought by this Petition does not include relief to allow utilization review and case management services for Virginia customers from locations outside of the United States.

Finally, Anthem represents that it has provided an advance draft of the Petition to the Division of Consumer Counsel, Office of the Attorney General, the Medical Society of Virginia ("MSV"), and the Virginia Dental Association. Anthem stated that MSV has authorized Anthem to include in the Petition a representation that MSV does not object to the Petition.

On November 30, 2009, the Commission entered a Scheduling Order, in which it stated that "[i]f there is no opposition to the Petition, the Commission may grant the Petition without further proceedings."[3]

[3] Scheduling Order at 2.

On December 10, 2009 the Bureau filed its Response to the Petition. The Bureau states that it does not oppose the relief requested by Petitioners.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the Petition and the Bureau's Response thereto, finds the Petition should be granted.

Anthem's request is limited and we also note the absence of public comments on the Petition as well as the fact that MSV does not oppose the Petition.

THEREFORE, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Anthem's Petition is GRANTED.

(2) That when seeking utilization management and case management for members receiving benefits under a Medicare Supplement plan, Anthem is permitted to supplement its current Virginia-based reviewers with review organizations located outside of Virginia but within the United States.

(3) Anthem nursing staff that provides utilization review and case management services outside of Virginia to members may also provide incidental customer and provider service functions in order that members and providers can be served to the extent possible by one telephone call. Examples of incidental services include a member's request for an ID card, or information about other Anthem services, or a member's provider's request for the status of a submitted claim.

(4) The other provisions of the Final Order in Case No. INS-2007-00141 are not affected hereby, and Anthem shall continue to comply herewith.

(5) This matter is dismissed and the papers herein shall be placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-2009-00260
JANUARY 11, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
METROPOLITAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
Defendant

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on a market conduct examination performed by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, in certain instances, has violated §§ 38.2-503 and 38.2-514 B of the Code of Virginia by engaging in unfair trade practices; and violated §§ 38.2-3115 B, 38.2-3407.1 B, and 38.2-3407.4 A of the Code of Virginia, as well as 14 VAC 5-400-40 A, 14 VAC 5-400-50 A, 14 VAC 5-400-60 A, 14 VAC 5-400-60 B, 14 VAC 5-400-70 B, and 14 VAC 5-400-70 D by engaging in unfair settlement claims practices.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been advised of its right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendant, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, has made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendant has tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Eight Thousand Dollars ($8,000), waived its right to a hearing, agreed to the entry by the Commission of a cease and desist order, and agreed to comply with the Corrective Action Plan contained in the Market Conduct Examination Report as of June 30, 2007.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendant pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendant, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendant's offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendant in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted;

(2) The Defendant cease and desist from any future conduct which constitutes a violation of §§ 38.2-503, 38.2-514 B, 38.2-3115 B, 38.2-3407.1 B or 38.2-3407.4 A of the Code of Virginia or 14 VAC 5-400-40 A, 14 VAC 5-400-50 A, 14 VAC 5-400-60 A, 14 VAC 5-400-60 B, 14 VAC 5-400-70 B, and 14 VAC 5-400-70 D; and

(3) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
GROUP DENTAL SERVICE OF MARYLAND, INC.,
Defendant

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on a market conduct examination performed by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of a dental plan organization ("DPO") in the Commonwealth of Virginia, in certain instances, has violated §§ 38.2-5803 A 1, 38.2-5803 A 2, 38.2-5805 C 9, and 38.2-6108 A 1 of the Code of Virginia by failing to comply with Managed Care Health Insurance Plan and DPO requirements; violated §§ 38.2-3407.15 B 1, 38.2-3407.15 B 1 b, 38.2-3407.15 B 2, 38.2-3407.15 B 3, 38.2-3407.15 B 4, 38.2-3407.15 B 4 a (ii) (d), 38.2-3407.15 B 5, 38.2-3407.15 B 6, 38.2-3407.15 B 7, 38.2-3407.15 B 8, 38.2-3407.15 B 9, 38.2-3407.15 B 10, 38.2-3407.15 B 11, 38.2-3407.15 C, 38.2-6108 A 5, and 38.2-510 A 15 of the Code of Virginia by failing to comply with the requirements for provider contracts and claims; violated subsection 1 of § 38.2-502 and § 38.2-503 of the Code of Virginia, as well as 14 VAC 5-90-60 B 1, 14 VAC 5-90-130 A, 14 VAC 5-90-160, and 14 VAC 5-90-170 A by failing to comply with advertising requirements; violated §§ 38.2-316 A, 38.2-316 B, 38.2-316 C 1, 38.2-3407.4 A, 38.2-6109.1, 38.2-6109.2, 38.2-6110 A, and 38.2-6110 B of the Code of Virginia by failing to comply with policy and form requirements; violated §§ 38.2-1812 A, 38.2-1822 A, 38.2-1833 A 1, and 38.2-6112 of the Code of Virginia by failing to comply with agent licensing requirements; violated subsection 8 of § 38.2-606 of the Code of Virginia by failing to comply with the requirements of disclosure authorization forms; violated §§ 38.2-510 A 2 and 38.2-3407.1 B of the Code of Virginia, as well as 14 VAC 5-400-50 A, 14 VAC 5-400-60 A, and 14 VAC 5-400-70 B by failing to properly handle claims; and violated § 38.2-3542 C of the Code of Virginia by failing to comply with cancellation and non renewal requirements.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been advised of its right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendant, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, has made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendant has tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Thirty-nine Thousand Dollars ($39,000), waived its right to a hearing, agreed to the entry by the Commission of a cease and desist order, and agreed to comply with the Corrective Action Plan contained in the Market Conduct Examination Report as of June 30, 2008.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendant pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendant, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendant's offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendant in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted;

(2) The Defendant cease and desist from any future conduct which constitutes a violation of §§ 38.2-5803 A 1, 38.2-5803 A 2, 38.2-5805 C 9, 38.2-6108 A 1, 38.2-3407.15 B 1, 38.2-3407.15 B 1 b, 38.2-3407.15 B 2, 38.2-3407.15 B 3, 38.2-3407.15 B 4, 38.2-3407.15 B 4 a (ii) (d), 38.2-3407.15 B 5, 38.2-3407.15 B 6, 38.2-3407.15 B 7, 38.2-3407.15 B 8, 38.2-3407.15 B 9, 38.2-3407.15 B 10, 38.2-3407.15 B 11, 38.2-3407.15 C, 38.2-6108 A 5, 38.2-510 A 15, subsection 1 of § 38.2-502, 38.2-503, 38.2-316 A, 38.2-316 B, 38.2-316 C 1, 38.2-3407.4 A, 38.2-6109.1, 38.2-6109.2, 38.2-6110 A, 38.2-6110 B, 38.2-1812 A, 38.2-1822 A, 38.2-1833 A 1, 38.2-6112, subsection 8 of § 38.2-606, 38.2-510 A 2, 38.2-3407.1 B or 38.2-3542 C of the Code of Virginia, or 14 VAC 5-90-60 B 1, 14 VAC 5-90-130 A, 14 VAC 5-90-160, 14 VAC 5-90-170 A, 14 VAC 5-400-50 A, 14 VAC 5-400-60 A, or 14 VAC 5-400-70 B; and

JULY 20, 2010

PETITION OF
CAROLYN L. MCCRIMMON

For review of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal

FINAL ORDER

On February 12, 2009, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond entered an order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") as Receiver of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company ("Shenandoah" or "Company"). In addition, on February 12, 2009, the Commission, by Order Appointing Deputy Receiver for Conservation and Rehabilitation ("Order Appointing Deputy Receiver"), appointed Alfred W. Gross, Commissioner for the Commission's Bureau of Insurance, as Deputy Receiver, in accordance with Title 38.2, Chapter 15 of the Code of Virginia. Pursuant to his grant of authority, the Deputy Receiver, in his Second Directive of Deputy Receiver Adopting Receivership Appeal Procedure, established appeal procedures for appeals or challenges of any decision made by the Deputy Receiver with respect to claims made against Shenandoah.

On November 17, 2009, Carolyn L. McCrimmon ("Petitioner") filed a Petition for Review ("Petition") with the State Corporation Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's denial of her "Hardship Request" made in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 000748158.

By Order dated November 25, 2009, the Commission docketed the Petition, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Deputy Receiver to file an Answer or other responsive pleading to the Petition on or before December 30, 2009.

On December 29, 2009, the Deputy Receiver filed his Answer to the Petition and asked that the Petition be denied. In his Answer, the Deputy Receiver stated that the Petitioner's request for a hardship exemption was denied due to her failure to demonstrate an immediate need for funds that could not be satisfied from other sources.

By Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated March 9, 2010, an evidentiary hearing was scheduled for April 13, 2010, via telephone conference call for the purpose of receiving testimony and evidence on the Petition.

On March 18, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed a list of witnesses and exhibits to be introduced during the telephonic hearing.

On April 13, 2010, a telephonic hearing was convened as scheduled. The Petitioner appeared pro se. Robert A. Dybing, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Deputy Receiver. John O. Cox, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Commission.

At the hearing, the Petitioner established her financial hardship by testifying that her expenses exceed her income and that she had filed for bankruptcy. The Petitioner also documented additional expenses and reduction in income related to an injury.

Donald Beatty, Esquire, senior counsel in the Commission's Office of General Counsel and receivership manager for Shenandoah, testified as to the day-to-day operations of the company and its efforts to be rehabilitated. Additionally, Mr. Beatty testified as to the terms of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver. Specifically, Mr. Beatty testified that paragraph 12(e) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver orders Shenandoah to cease payment of policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[1] Mr. Beatty further testified that paragraph 13(b) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver authorizes the Deputy Receiver to implement a hardship exemption from the moratorium on policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[2] Mr. Beatty confirmed that prior to establishing the hardship exemption, the Deputy Receiver consulted with outside legal counsel, accounting and investment consultants, as well as the Company's Chief Financial Officer and in-house actuary. Mr. Beatty maintained that the 70% limit was established to preserve the Company's ability to pay claims and continuing business expenses.

On May 19, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued his Report in which he found that the Petitioner has a hardship and recommended that the Commission enter an order adopting his finding, reversing the Deputy Receiver's Decision, and directing the Deputy Receiver to pay the Petitioner 70% of the cash value of her account.

On June 9, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed Notice to the Hearing Examiner stating that he did not intend to contest the matter further. On June 29, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed Notice to the Hearing Examiner stating that the Petitioner had been paid 70% of her account value and requesting that this matter be dismissed with prejudice.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record herein and the Report of the Hearing Examiner, is of the opinion that the findings and recommendations of the Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 000748158 is hereby REVERSED;

(2) The Petition for Review of Carolyn L. McCrimmon is hereby GRANTED; and

(3) The case is dismissed, and the papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-2009-00265
JULY 23, 2010

DOROTHY L. BASAR

For review of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal

FINAL ORDER

On February 12, 2009, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond entered an order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") as Receiver of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company ("Shenandoah" or "Company"). In addition, on February 12, 2009, the Commission, by Order Appointing Deputy Receiver for Conservation and Rehabilitation ("Order Appointing Deputy Receiver"), appointed Alfred W. Gross, Commissioner for the Commission's Bureau of Insurance, as Deputy Receiver, in accordance with Title 38.2, Chapter 15 of the Code of Virginia. Pursuant to his grant of authority, the Deputy Receiver, in his Second Directive of Deputy Receiver Adopting Receivership Appeal Procedure, established appeal procedures for appeals or challenges of any decision made by the Deputy Receiver with respect to claims made against Shenandoah.

On November 17, 2009, Dorothy L. Basar ("Petitioner") filed a Petition for Review ("Petition") with the State Corporation Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's partial denial of her "Hardship Request" made in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 001045211.

By Order dated November 25, 2009, the Commission docketed the Petition, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Deputy Receiver to file an Answer or other responsive pleading to the Petition on or before December 30, 2009.

On December 29, 2009, the Deputy Receiver filed his answer and asked that the Petition be denied. In his Answer, the Deputy Receiver stated that the Petitioner's request for a hardship exemption was not fully granted due to her failure to present evidence of financial hardship sufficient to justify a full cash surrender.

By Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated March 9, 2010, an evidentiary hearing was scheduled for April 14, 2010, via telephone conference call for the purpose of receiving testimony and evidence on the Petition.

On March 17, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed a list of witnesses and exhibits to be introduced during the telephonic hearing.

On April 14, 2010, a hearing was held in this matter. The Petitioner was unable to appear. Joseph L. Basar, her son, testified on her behalf as her power of attorney. Mr. Basar established the Petitioner's hardship by testifying that the Petitioner resides in a skilled nursing facility and that her monthly expenses exceed her income.

Donald Beatty, Esquire, senior counsel in the Commission's Office of General Counsel and receivership manager for Shenandoah, testified as to the day-to-day operations of the company and its efforts to be rehabilitated. Additionally, Mr. Beatty testified as to the terms of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver. Specifically, Mr. Beatty testified that paragraph 12(e) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver orders Shenandoah to cease payment of policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[1] Mr. Beatty further testified that paragraph 13(b) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver authorizes the Deputy Receiver to implement a hardship exemption from the moratorium on policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[2] Mr. Beatty confirmed that prior to establishing the hardship exemption, the Deputy Receiver consulted with outside legal counsel, accounting and investment consultants, as well as the Company's Chief Financial Officer and in-house actuary. Mr. Beatty maintained that the 70% limit was established to preserve the Company's ability to pay claims and continuing business expenses.

Mr. Beatty testified that he did not have documentation of income or assets or certain information regarding expenses at the time the Petitioner's hardship request was evaluated.

On June 2, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued a Hearing Examiner's Ruling directing the Deputy Receiver to reconsider the Petitioner's hardship request in light of the information presented at the hearing.

On June 10, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed Notice to the Hearing Examiner stating that the Petitioner's request had been reviewed and approved by the Deputy Receiver. The Deputy Receiver also requested that the Hearing Examiner issue a ruling that this matter is now moot because the Petitioner had received the requested relief.

On June 21, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued a report in which he recommended that the Commission enter an order adopting the finding that the Deputy Receiver's determination that hardship relief is justified and dismissing this case from the docket of active matters.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record herein and the Report of the Hearing Examiner, is of the opinion that the findings and recommendations of the Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Deputy Receiver's revised determination of appeal is hereby AFFIRMED;

CASE NO. INS-2009-00266
OCTOBER 6, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
DORIS OWENS,
Defendant

FINAL ORDER

Based on allegations of the Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau"), on January 28, 2010, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") issued a Rule to Show Cause against the Defendant Doris Owens ("Owens"). Subsequently, on May 17, 2010, the Commission issued an Amended Rule to Show Cause ("Rule"). Therein, the Bureau alleged that Owens violated § 38.2-1809, 38.2-1813, 38.2-1826 and subsections 1, 3, 6, and 10 of § 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia by: (i) failing to retain all records relating to the sale of bail bonds; (ii) misappropriating premium funds and/or failing to remit such funds to the agency in the ordinary course of business; (iii) failing to properly notify the Bureau of an administrative action taken against her by the Department of Criminal Justice Services ("DCJS"); and (iv) providing materially incorrect, misleading, incomplete or untrue information in her health and life annuities applications filed with the Bureau on or about February 11, 2009.

An evidentiary hearing was conducted on June 16, 2010. The Defendant appeared, and being represented by counsel, fully participated in the hearing. The Bureau appeared by counsel. On August 17, 2010, the Hearing Examiner filed his report ("Report"), which thoroughly summarized the factual and procedural history of this case, as well as the evidence and arguments presented at the hearing. Additionally, the Hearing Examiner made a number of findings and recommendations in his Report. Specifically, the Hearing Examiner made the following findings:

(i) The Bureau proved by clear and convincing evidence that the Defendant misappropriated premium funds and/or failed to remit such funds to the agency in the ordinary course of business in violation of § 38.2-1813 A of the Code;

(ii) The Bureau proved by clear and convincing evidence that the Defendant failed to retain all records relating to her sale of bail bonds in violation of § 38.2-1809 B of the Code;

(iii) The Bureau failed to prove by clear and convincing evidence that the Defendant failed to notify the Bureau of the administrative action that was taken against her by DCJS as required by § 38.2-1826 of the Code;

(iv) The Bureau proved by clear and convincing evidence that the Defendant provided materially incorrect, misleading, incomplete, or untrue information in her insurance applications filed with the Bureau on or about February 11, 2009, in violation of subsection 1 of § 38.2-1831 of the Code; and

(v) The Bureau failed to prove by clear and convincing evidence that the Defendant obtained her licenses through misrepresentation or fraud in violation of subsection 3 of § 38.2-1831 of the Code.

Based on his findings, the Hearing Examiner agreed with the Bureau's recommended sanction of revocation of the Defendant's insurance licenses for a period of one (1) year. The Hearing Examiner concluded by recommending that the Commission enter an order adopting his findings and dismissing this case from the Commission's docket of active cases.

On September 7, 2010, the Bureau and the Defendant separately filed their Comments to the Report. The Bureau agreed with the findings and recommendations of the Hearing Examiner. The Defendant's counsel asked that the Commission place her on probation for a period of eighteen (18) to twenty-four (24) months as an alternative to revoking her licenses. Among other things, counsel noted that subsequent to the hearing, the Defendant completed payment to the agent to whom she owed the premiums.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the entire record in this proceeding, including the Report and the Comments thereto, adopts the Hearing Examiner's findings of fact as to the violations of law, but modifies the recommendation concerning the sanction to be imposed. We believe that the Defendant's licenses should be revoked for a period of four (4) months rather than one (1) year; however, should the Defendant elect to reapply for these or any other insurance licenses following the end of the four (4) month revocation period, she shall be placed on probation for a period of thirty-six (36) months. We believe the shorter revocation period is appropriate in light of the Defendant's successful efforts to repay the full amount of premium funds owed. As reflected in the record, we are also cognizant of the significant degree to which the Defendant contributes to her family's household income. However, we also believe our decision to revoke her licenses for some length of time, combined with an extended period of probation, properly takes into account the seriousness of the violations that she was found to have committed.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The licenses of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance in Virginia as an insurance agent be, and the same are hereby, REVOKED, for a period of four (4) months from the date of this Order.

(2) The Defendant shall be placed on probation for a period of thirty-six (36) months beginning on the date, if any, that she obtains an insurance license from the Bureau following the end of the revocation period.

(3) This case is dismissed from the Commission's docket and the papers herein shall be placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-2009-00267
JULY 30, 2010

PETITION OF MARIA LEAHY

For review of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal

FINAL ORDER

On February 12, 2009, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond entered an order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") as Receiver of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company ("Shenandoah" or "Company"). In addition, on February 12, 2009, the Commission, by Order Appointing Deputy Receiver for Conservation and Rehabilitation, appointed Alfred W. Gross, Commissioner for the Commission's Bureau of Insurance, as Deputy Receiver, in accordance with Title 38.2, Chapter 15 of the Code of Virginia.[1] Pursuant to his grant of authority, the Deputy Receiver, in his Second Directive of Deputy Receiver Adopting Receivership Appeal Procedure, established appeal procedures for appeals or challenges of any decision made by the Deputy Receiver with respect to claims made against Shenandoah.

In the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver, the Commission imposed a moratorium which required Shenandoah to "cease the payment of policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, fund transfers, lapses, cash-outs and similar payments," etc.[2] The Commission's Order Appointing Deputy Receiver also authorized the Deputy Receiver to "implement a procedure for the exemption from any such . . . moratorium . . . those hardship claims, as he may define them, that he, in his sole discretion, deems proper under the circumstances."[3]

The Deputy Receiver adopted a Hardship Policy for exemptions to the current and any future moratorium, and determined that the Hardship Policy would be limited to persons showing an immediate need for funds.[4] In addition, the Deputy Receiver determined that hardship exemptions would be limited to a maximum of 70% of the cash surrender value or policy loan value in order to conserve Shenandoah's cash reserves and maintain liquidity during the Receivership.[5]

On November 13, 2009, Maria Leahy ("Petitioner") filed a Petition for Review ("Petition") with the Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's partial denial of her Hardship Request made in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 001045433.

By Order dated December 9, 2009, the Commission docketed the Petition, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Deputy Receiver to file an Answer or other responsive pleading to the Petition on or before January 11, 2010.

On January 8, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed his Answer and asked that the Petition be denied. In his Answer, the Deputy Receiver stated that the Petitioner's request for a hardship exemption was denied due to her failure to demonstrate an immediate and severe financial need that could not be relieved from other sources.

By Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated January 25, 2010, an evidentiary hearing was scheduled for March 5, 2010, via telephone conference for the purpose of receiving testimony and evidence on the Petition.

On January 25, 2010, the Petitioner filed a response to the Deputy Receiver's Answer in which she stated that she had an imminent and severe financial need that forced her to borrow additional funds to meet her obligations.

On February 9, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed a list of witnesses and exhibits to be introduced during the telephonic hearing.

On March 5, 2010, a hearing was held in this matter. The Petitioner appeared pro se. Robert A. Dybing, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Deputy Receiver. John O. Cox, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Commission.

At the hearing, the Petitioner testified that her household income exceeds her fixed expenses. The Petitioner further testified that she had liquid assets in excess of the amount requested in her Hardship Request.

Donald Beatty, Esquire, senior counsel in the Commission's Office of General Counsel and receivership manager for Shenandoah, testified as to the day-to-day operations of the Company and its efforts to be rehabilitated. Additionally, Mr. Beatty testified as to the terms of the Order Appointing

[5] Id. at 4.

Deputy Receiver. Specifically, Mr. Beatty testified that paragraph 12(e) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver orders Shenandoah to cease payment of policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[6] Mr. Beatty further testified that paragraph 13(b) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver authorizes the Deputy Receiver to implement a hardship exemption from the moratorium on policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[7] Mr. Beatty confirmed that prior to establishing the hardship exemption, the Deputy Receiver consulted with outside legal counsel, accounting and investment consultants, as well as the Company's Chief Financial Officer.[8] Mr. Beatty maintained that the 70% limit was established to preserve the Company's ability to pay claims and continuing business expenses.[9]

Mr. Beatty further testified that a policy owner would not qualify for a Hardship Exemption if they could meet their financial obligations from other sources.[10]

Mr. Beatty testified that the Petitioner's request for a Hardship Exemption was denied because she was making all loan and bill payments and had other resources to meet her financial obligations.[11]

On March 25, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued a Hearing Examiner's Report finding that the Petitioner has a hardship. The Hearing Examiner recommended that the Commission enter an Order adopting the finding that the Petitioner has a hardship, reversing the Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal, and directing the Deputy Receiver to pay the Petitioner $9,500 from the cash value of her annuity.[12]

On April 15, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed his Objections to Report of Hearing Examiner ("Objections"). In his Objections, the Deputy Receiver contended that the Petitioner did not demonstrate a present financial hardship.[13]

The Deputy Receiver further asserted that the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver vested him with the "sole discretion" to adopt exemptions from the moratorium, and that the standard of review applicable to this matter should be whether the Deputy Receiver abused his discretion in the Determination of Appeal.[14]

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record herein, is of the opinion and finds that the Petitioner's Petition for Review is denied and the Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal is affirmed.

The Petitioner is definitely deserving of our sympathy. She tried to provide for the expenses of her retirement through her own savings, in this case, by purchasing an annuity from Shenandoah.

Through absolutely no fault of her own, her retirement plans were disrupted and damaged when Shenandoah's financial condition deteriorated and it was forced to ask this Commission to place it into receivership.

We agree with the Deputy Receiver that the appropriate standard of review in this proceeding is whether the Deputy Receiver abused his discretion in his Determination of Appeal. As sympathetic as we are to the Petitioner's plight, we cannot find on the facts of this case that the Deputy Receiver abused his discretion. That is the legal burden that the Petitioner must reach, and we do not find that she has met the legal standard necessary to show that the Deputy Receiver abused his discretion.

If the Petitioner's financial situation changes, the Petitioner is free to re-apply for a Hardship Exemption. The dismissal of this claim does not preclude the Petitioner from filing another Hardship Exemption request if her financial circumstances change for the worse.

The optimal outcome for this Petitioner, as well as all of the thousands of others similarly situated, is for the Deputy Receiver to be successful in his efforts to find a buyer for Shenandoah that will maximize the recovery of all policy owners. That is the goal.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Petitioner's Petition for Review is hereby DENIED;

(2) The Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal is hereby AFFIRMED;

CASE NO. INS-2009-00273
FEBRUARY 19, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In the matter of Adopting Amendments to the Rules Governing Local Government Group Self-Insurance Pools and the Rules Governing Group Self-Insurers of Liability Under the Virginia Workers' Compensation Act

ORDER ADOPTING RULES

By Order To Take Notice entered December 17, 2009, all interested persons were ordered to take notice that subsequent to February 1, 2010, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") would consider the entry of an order adopting amendments to the regulations entitled "Rules Governing Local Government Group Self-Insurance Pools" and "Rules Governing Group Self-Insurers of Liability Under the Virginia Workers' Compensation Act" ("Regulations"), proposed by the Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau") which amend the regulations at 14 VAC 5-360-10 through 14 VAC 5-360-160, 14 VAC 5-360-180 and 14 VAC 5-360-190, and 14 VAC 5-370-10 through 14 VAC 5-370-150, and 14 VAC 5-370-170 and 14 VAC 5-370-180, unless on or before February 1, 2010, any person objecting to the adoption of the proposed amendments to the Regulations filed a request for a hearing with the Clerk of the Commission ("Clerk").

The Order to Take Notice also required all interested persons to file their comments in support of or in opposition to the proposed amendments to the Regulations on or before February 1, 2010.

No request for a hearing was filed with the Clerk. By letter dated January 15, 2010, the Virginia Municipal Liability Pool and VML Insurance Programs (collectively, "VML") filed comments with the Clerk. The comments filed by VML suggested changes to 14 VAC 5-360-120 which currently requires that the contract between a liability pool and service agent must state that the service agent will handle all claims incurred during the contract period to their conclusion without additional compensation. The amendment suggested by VML requires that the contract between a liability pool and service agent must state that the service agent will handle all claims incurred during the contract period to their conclusion without additional compensation while allowing the Commission to approve alternative compensation methodology.

The Bureau has recommended that the changes suggested by VML be accepted.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the Bureau's recommendation, is of the opinion that the attached amendments to the Regulations should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The amendments to the regulations entitled Rules Governing Local Government Group Self-Insurance Pools and Rules Governing Group Self-Insurers of Liability Under the Virginia Workers' Compensation Act at 14 VAC 5-360-10 through 14 VAC 5-360-160, 14 VAC 5-360-180 and 14 VAC 5-360-190, and 14 VAC 5-370-10 through 14 VAC 5-370-150, and 14 VAC 5-370-170 and 14 VAC 5-370-180 which are attached hereto and made a part hereof, should be, and they are hereby, ADOPTED to be effective March 1, 2010.

(2) The Commission's Division of Information Resources forthwith shall cause a copy of this Order, together with the attached rules, to be forwarded to the Virginia Registrar of Regulations for appropriate publication in the Virginia Register of Regulations.

(3) The Commission's Division of Information Resources shall make available this Order and the adopted rules on the Commission's website, http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case.

(4) AN ATTESTED COPY hereof, together with a copy of the amended regulations, shall be sent by the Clerk of the Commission to the Bureau in care of Deputy Commissioner Douglas C. Stolte, who forthwith shall give further notice of the amendments to the regulations by mailing a copy of this Order, together with the amended regulations, to all licensed group self-insurance associations, local government group self-insurance pools and certain interested parties designated by the Bureau.

(5) The Bureau shall file with the Clerk of the Commission an affidavit of compliance with the notice requirements of Ordering Paragraph (4) above.

NOTE: A copy of Attachment A entitled "Rules Governing Local Governing Group Self-Insurance Pools " is on file and may be examined at the State Corporation Commission, Clerk's Office, Document Control Center, Tyler Building, First Floor, 1300 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia.

FEBRUARY 8, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
PARK AVENUE PROPERTY AND CASUALTY INSURANCE COMPANY,
Defendant

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE

Section 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia ("Code") provides in subdivision 8 of subsection A that the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") may suspend or revoke the license of any insurance company to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia whenever the company has been found insolvent by a court of any other state. Section 38.2-1041 of the Code provides that the Commission may immediately revoke or suspend the license of any insurer to do the business of insurance in Virginia without prior notice on the grounds specified in subdivision 8 of subsection A of § 38.2-1040 of the Code.

Park Avenue Property and Casualty Insurance Company ("Defendant"), an Oklahoma domiciled insurer, was initially licensed to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia on September 20, 2005. On November 18, 2009, the District Court of Oklahoma County, State of Oklahoma issued a Consent Order of Liquidation with a Finding of Insolvency and Permanent Injunction against the Defendant. On November 20, 2009, the District Court of Oklahoma County, State of Oklahoma issued a Final Order of Liquidation and Cancellation of Policies.

The Commission's Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Defendant's license to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia be revoked.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Pursuant to § 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia, the license of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia is hereby REVOKED;

(2) The Defendant shall transact no further business in the Commonwealth of Virginia;

(3) The Bureau of Insurance shall cause notice of the revocation of the Defendant's license to be published in the manner set forth in § 38.2-1043 of the Code of Virginia; and

(4) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-2009-00278
FEBRUARY 4, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
OPTIMA HEALTH PLAN,
Defendant

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on a market conduct examination performed by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of a health maintenance organization in the Commonwealth of Virginia, in certain instances, has violated §§ 38.2-503 and 38.2-510 A 15 of the Code of Virginia by failing to comply with unfair claim settlement practices; violated § 38.2-511 of the Code of Virginia by failing to maintain a complete complaint register; violated §§ 38.2-3407.14 A, 38.2-3407.14 B, 38.2-3407.15 B 4, 38.2-3407.15 B 7, 38.2-3407.15 B 8, 38.2-3407.15 B 9, 38.2-3407.15 B 10, 38.2-3407.15 B 11, and 38.2-3542 C of the Code of Virginia by failing to comply with the provisions relating to Accident and Sickness Insurance; violated §§ 38.2-5804 A and 38.2-5804 A 1 of the Code of Virginia by failing to comply with the requirements of the complaint system for MCHIPs; and violated 14 VAC 5-90-170 A, 14 VAC 5-211-150 A, 14 VAC 5-211-230 B 4 by failing to comply with advertising requirements.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-4316 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been advised of its right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendant, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, has made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendant has tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Twenty-four Thousand Dollars ($24,000), waived its right to a hearing, agreed to the entry by the Commission of a cease and desist order, and agreed to comply with the Corrective Action Plan contained in the Market Conduct Examination Report as of December 31, 2006.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendant pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendant, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendant's offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendant in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted;

(2) The Defendant cease and desist from any conduct which constitutes a violation of §§ 38.2-503, 38.2-510 A 15, 38.2-511, 38.2-3407.14 A, 38.2-3407.14 B, 38.2-3407.15 B 4, 38.2-3407.15 B 7, 38.2-3407.15 B 8, 38.2-3407.15 B 9, 38.2-3407.15 B 10, 38.2-3407.15 B 11, 38.2-3542 C, 38.2-5804 A or 38.2-5804 A 1 of the Code of Virginia, or 14 VAC 5-90-170 A, 14 VAC 5-211-150 A, or 14 VAC 5-211-230 B 4; and

(3) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-2009-00280
JANUARY 5, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
CHRISTINE M. KEPPERS,
Defendant

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.2-1826 C of the Code of Virginia by failing to report to the Commission within thirty days an administrative action that was taken against her by the State of California.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violation.

The Defendant has been notified of her right to a hearing before the Commission in this matter by certified letter dated November 10, 2009, and mailed to the Defendant's address shown in the records of the Bureau of Insurance.

The Defendant, having been advised in the above manner of her right to a hearing in this matter, has failed to request a hearing and has not otherwise communicated with the Bureau of Insurance.

The Bureau of Insurance, upon the Defendant's failure to request a hearing, has recommended that the Commission enter an order revoking all of the Defendant's licenses to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent.

THE COMMISSION is of the opinion and finds that the Defendant has violated § 38.2-1826 C of the Code of Virginia by failing to report to the Commission within thirty (30) days an administrative action that was taken against her by the State of California.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The licenses of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby REVOKED;

(2) All appointments issued under said licenses are hereby VOID;

(3) The Defendant transact no further business in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent;

(4) The Defendant shall not apply to the Commission to be licensed as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia prior to sixty (60) days from the date of this Order;

(5) The Bureau of Insurance shall notify every insurance company for which the Defendant holds an appointment to act as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia; and

(6) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-2009-00284
OCTOBER 4, 2010

PETITION OF
EVELYN R. SNUTCH

For review of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal

FINAL ORDER

On February 12, 2009, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond entered an Order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") as Receiver of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company ("Shenandoah"). In addition, on February 12, 2009, the Commission, by Order Appointing Deputy Receiver for Conservation and Rehabilitation, appointed Alfred W. Gross, Commissioner of the Commission's Bureau of Insurance as Deputy Receiver, in accordance with Title 38.2, Chapter 15 of the Code of Virginia. Pursuant to his grant of authority, the Deputy Receiver in his Second Directive of Deputy Receiver Adopting Receivership Appeal Procedure established appeal procedures for appeals or challenges of any decision made by the Deputy Receiver with respect to claims against Shenandoah.

On December 28, 2009, Evelyn R. Snutch ("Petitioner") filed a Petition for Review ("Petition") with the Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's denial of her "Hardship Request" made in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 000991603.

By Order dated January 27, 2010, the Commission docketed the Petition, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Deputy Receiver to file an Answer or other responsive pleading to the Petition on or before March 1, 2010.

On February 9, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed his Answer to the Petition, Motion to Dismiss, and Memorandum in Support of Motion to Dismiss, requesting the Commission deny the Petition and affirm the Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal. In support of his Motion to Dismiss, among other things, the Deputy Receiver stated that the Petitioner has already received the maximum amount permissible under the hardship procedure, and granting the relief requested would risk creating a preference in favor of the Petitioner and to the detriment of other policyholders, in violation of § 38.2-1509 of the Code of Virginia.

By Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated March 3, 2010, the Petitioner was directed to file a response to the Deputy Receiver's Motion to Dismiss on or before March 19, 2010.

The Petitioner filed her Response to the Motion to Dismiss on March 18, 2010. In her Response, the Petitioner stated she feared the foreclosure of her home, and she provided an itemized account of her outstanding bills with supporting documentation.

By Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated April 27, 2010, an evidentiary hearing was scheduled for June 11, 2010, via telephone conference call for the purpose of receiving testimony and evidence on the Petition.

On June 11, 2010, a hearing was conducted as scheduled. John O. Cox, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Bureau of Insurance. Robert A. Dybing, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Deputy Receiver. There was no appearance by or on behalf of the Petitioner. The Commission made numerous attempts to contact the Petitioner via telephone at the number she provided, and she could not be reached; therefore, the hearing was continued pending further ruling of the Hearing Examiner.

The Petitioner was subsequently contacted by the Office of the Hearing Examiner, and she advised that she did not wish to appear at a rescheduled hearing.

On July 20, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued his Report in which he found that the Deputy Receiver's Motion to Dismiss be granted, the Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal be affirmed, and the Petition be dismissed.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record herein and the Report of the Hearing Examiner, is of the opinion that the findings and recommendations of the Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

1. The Deputy Receiver's Motion to Dismiss is hereby GRANTED;

2. The Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 000991603 is hereby AFFIRMED;

3. The Petition of Evelyn R. Snutch for review of Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal is hereby DISMISSED; and

4. The case is dismissed, and the papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-2009-00285
JULY 8, 2010

PETITION OF
MARY M. CARPENTER

For review of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal

FINAL ORDER

On February 12, 2009, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond entered an order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") as Receiver of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company ("Shenandoah" or "Company"). In addition, on February 12, 2009, the Commission, by Order Appointing Deputy Receiver for Conservation and Rehabilitation ("Order Appointing Deputy Receiver"), appointed Alfred W. Gross, Commissioner of the Commission's Bureau of Insurance as Deputy Receiver, in accordance with Title 38.2, Chapter 15 of the Code of Virginia. Pursuant to his grant of authority, the Deputy Receiver in his Second Directive of Deputy Receiver Adopting Receivership Appeal Procedure established appeal procedures for appeals or challenges of any decision made by the Deputy Receiver with respect to claims against Shenandoah.

On December 28, 2009, Mary M. Carpenter ("Petitioner") filed a Petition for Review ("Petition") with the Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's denial of her "Hardship Request" made in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 000829156.

By Order dated January 22, 2010, the Commission docketed the Petition, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Deputy Receiver to file an Answer or other responsive pleading to the Petition on or before February 23, 2010.

On February 2, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed his Answer to the Petition and asked that the Petition be denied. In his Answer, the Deputy Receiver stated that the Petitioner's request for a hardship exemption was denied due to her failure to demonstrate an immediate need for funds that could not be satisfied from other sources. Additionally, the Deputy Receiver contended that the Petitioner intended to cash in her Shenandoah policy in order to purchase a replacement policy from another company.

By Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated February 26, 2010, an evidentiary hearing was scheduled for April 7, 2010, via telephone conference call for the purpose of receiving testimony and evidence on the Petition.

On March 18, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed a list of witnesses and exhibits to be introduced during the telephonic hearing. On April 7, 2010, the Petitioner filed her list of witnesses and exhibits to be introduced during the telephonic hearing.

On April 7, 2010, a telephonic hearing was convened as scheduled. C. Gary Triggs, Esquire, appeared on behalf of the Petitioner. Robert A. Dybing, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Deputy Receiver. John O. Cox, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Commission.

At the hearing, the Petitioner established her financial hardship and her need for the remaining cash value of her life insurance policy. The Petitioner also stated that the information relied upon by the Deputy Receiver concerning her intention of purchasing a new life insurance policy with the funds received from her Shenandoah policy was from an unscrupulous insurance agent that originally sold the Petitioner her Shenandoah policy. Additionally, five witnesses appeared on behalf of the Petitioner and corroborated her testimony.

Donald Beatty, Esquire, Senior Counsel in the Commission's Office of General Counsel and Receivership Manager for Shenandoah, testified as to the day-to-day operations of the company and its efforts to be rehabilitated. Additionally, Mr. Beatty testified as to the terms of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver. Specifically, Mr. Beatty testified that paragraph 12(e) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver orders Shenandoah to cease payment of policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[1] Mr. Beatty further testified that paragraph 13(b) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver authorizes the Deputy Receiver to implement a hardship exemption from the moratorium on policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[2] Mr. Beatty confirmed that prior to establishing the hardship exemption, the Deputy Receiver consulted with outside legal counsel, accounting and investment consultants, as well as the Company's Chief Financial Officer and in-house actuary. Mr. Beatty maintained that the 70% limit was established to preserve the Company's ability to pay claims and continuing business expenses.

On May 14, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued his Report in which he found that based upon the evidence presented, the Petitioner faces imminent and severe financial hardship and required funds from her Shenandoah policy to pay her bills. Failure to make a hardship exception for the Petitioner would create a preference in favor of those receiving hardship exemptions when faced with similar or less dire financial situations. Additionally, even if review was limited to the information before the Deputy Receiver when he made his Determination of Appeal, it showed that the Petitioner faced imminent and severe financial hardship. The Hearing Examiner recommended that the Commission enter an order adopting his findings and the Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal should be reversed.

On May 21, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed with the Commission a Notice to Hearing Examiner ("Notice"). In his Notice, the Deputy Receiver stated that: (i) Shenandoah does not intend to contest the matter further; and (ii) Shenandoah proposes to issue a check to the Petitioner in the amount of 70% of the amount available under her policy, calculated as of February 12, 2009, the date Shenandoah entered Receivership.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record herein, the Report of the Hearing Examiner, and the Notice to Hearing Examiner filed by the Deputy Receiver, is of the opinion that the findings and recommendations of the Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

MAY 6, 2010

PETITION OF DEDICATED RESOURCES

For review of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal

FINAL ORDER

On February 12, 2009, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond entered an order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") as Receiver of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company ("Shenandoah"). In addition, the Order appointed Alfred W. Gross, Commissioner of the Commission's Bureau of Insurance as Deputy Receiver, in accordance with Title 38.2, Chapter 15 of the Code of Virginia. Pursuant to his grant of authority, the Deputy Receiver in his Second Directive of Deputy Receiver Adopting Receivership Appeal Procedure established appeal procedures for appeals or challenges of any decision made by the Deputy Receiver with respect to claims against Shenandoah.

On December 28, 2009, Michael Moecker & Associates, Inc., bankruptcy trustees for Dedicated Resources, Inc. and Dedicated Trustees, Inc. (collectively, "Petitioner") filed a Petition for Review ("Petition") with the State Corporation Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's denial of its "Hardship Request" made in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 000734546.

By Order dated January 27, 2010, the Commission docketed the Petition, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Deputy Receiver to file an Answer or other responsive pleading to the Petition on or before March 1, 2010.

On March 1, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed his Answer to the Petition and asked that the Petition be denied.

In a Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated March 4, 2010, the matter was set for a telephonic hearing for April 15, 2010.

On April 2, 2010, the Petitioner filed a letter with the Clerk of the Commission in which it advised that it could no longer pursue its Petition because the fees associated with litigating this matter would cost more than the net cash value of the policy at issue. Among other things, the Petitioner asked that the April 15, 2010, telephonic hearing be cancelled, but maintained that it continued to face financial hardships.

On April 8, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued his Report in which he recommended that the hearing on the matter be cancelled and the Petition should be dismissed.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record herein and the Report of the Hearing Examiner, is of the opinion that the findings and recommendations of the Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

1. The Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 000734546 is hereby AFFIRMED;

2. The Petition for Review of Dedicated Resources is hereby DISMISSED; and

3. The case is dismissed, and the papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-2010-00016
APRIL 16, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
CAROL Y. KELLUM,
Defendant

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.2-1826 C and subsection 1 of § 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia by failing to report to the Commission within thirty days an administrative action that was taken against her by the State of California, and by providing materially incorrect, misleading, incomplete or untrue information in her license application filed with the Commission.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been notified of her right to a hearing before the Commission in this matter by certified letters dated February 16, 2010, and March 17, 2010, and mailed to the Defendant's address shown in the records of the Bureau of Insurance.

The Defendant, having been advised in the above manner of her right to a hearing in this matter, has failed to request a hearing and has not otherwise communicated with the Bureau of Insurance.

The Bureau of Insurance, upon the Defendant's failure to request a hearing, has recommended that the Commission enter an order revoking all of the Defendant's licenses to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent.

THE COMMISSION is of the opinion and finds that the Defendant has violated § 38.2-1826 C and subsection 1 of § 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia by failing to report to the Commission within thirty days an administrative action that was taken against her by the State of California and by providing materially incorrect, misleading, incomplete or untrue information in her license application filed with the Commission.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The licenses of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby REVOKED;

(2) All appointments issued under said licenses are hereby VOID;

(3) The Defendant transact no further business in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent;

(4) The Defendant shall not apply to the Commission to be licensed as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia prior to one (1) year from the date of this Order;

(5) The Bureau of Insurance shall notify every insurance company for which the Defendant holds an appointment to act as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia; and

CASE NO. INS-2010-00017
JULY 21, 2010

PETITION OF VERA B. FOOTE

For review of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal

FINAL ORDER

On February 12, 2009, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond entered an order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") as Receiver of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company ("Shenandoah" or "Company"). In addition, on February 12, 2009, the Commission, by Order Appointing Deputy Receiver for Conservation and Rehabilitation ("Order Appointing Deputy Receiver"), appointed Alfred W. Gross, Commissioner of the Commission's Bureau of Insurance, as Deputy Receiver, in accordance with Title 38.2, Chapter 15 of the Code of Virginia. Pursuant to his grant of authority, the Deputy Receiver, in his Second Directive of Deputy Receiver Adopting Receivership Appeal Procedure, established appeal procedures for appeals or challenges of any decision made by the Deputy Receiver with respect to claims against Shenandoah.

On January 12, 2010, Vera B. Foote ("Petitioner") filed a Petition for Review ("Petition") with the Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's denial of her "Hardship Request" made in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 001045557.

By Order dated January 27, 2010, the Commission docketed the Petition, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Deputy Receiver to file an Answer or other responsive pleading to the Petition on or before March 2, 2010.

On February 9, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed his Answer to the Petition and asked that the Petition be denied. In his Answer, the Deputy Receiver stated that the Petitioner applied for a hardship exemption and she was approved for and received a partial surrender of her policy. The Petitioner has challenged the determination to grant only a partial surrender, and instead seeks to fully surrender her policy.

By Chief Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated March 9, 2010, an evidentiary hearing was scheduled for May 13, 2010, via telephone conference call for the purpose of receiving testimony and evidence on the Petition.

On March 24, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed a list of witnesses and exhibits to be introduced during the telephonic hearing.

On May 13, 2010, a hearing was conducted as scheduled. John O. Cox, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Commission. The Petitioner appeared via telephone. Robert A. Dybing, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Deputy Receiver.

At the hearing, the Petitioner established her financial hardship by providing documentation of additional expenses and a budget which revealed expenses that exceeded her income. The Petitioner also documented additional and significant expected expenses related to home repairs and medical needs.

Donald Beatty, Esquire, senior counsel in the Commission's Office of General Counsel and receivership manager for Shenandoah, testified as to the day-to-day operations of the company and its efforts to be rehabilitated. Additionally, Mr. Beatty testified as to the terms of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver. Specifically, Mr. Beatty testified that paragraph 12(e) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver orders Shenandoah to cease payment of policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[1] Mr. Beatty further testified that paragraph 13(b) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver authorizes the Deputy Receiver to implement a hardship exemption from the moratorium on policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[2] Mr. Beatty confirmed that prior to establishing the hardship exemption, the Deputy Receiver consulted with outside legal counsel, accounting and investment consultants, as well as the Company's Chief Financial Officer and in-house actuary. Mr. Beatty maintained that the 70% limit was established to preserve the Company's ability to pay claims and continuing business expenses.

By Chief Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated May 19, 2010, the Deputy Receiver was directed to review the additional documentation and testimony presented at the hearing and advise the Commission in writing, within two weeks, what, if any, further action he intended to take on the Petitioner's hardship request.

On May 21, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed with the Commission a Notice to Hearing Examiner ("Notice"). In his Notice, the Deputy Receiver stated that (i) Shenandoah does not intend to contest the matter further, and (ii) Shenandoah proposes to issue a check to the Petitioner in the amount of 70% of the amount available under her policy, calculated as of February 12, 2009, the date Shenandoah entered Receivership.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record herein, the Report of the Hearing Examiner, and the Notice to Hearing Examiner filed by the Deputy Receiver, is of the opinion that the findings and recommendations of the Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

1. The Petition of Vera B. Foote for review of Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal is hereby DISMISSED with prejudice; and

2. The case is dismissed, and the papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

JUNE 7, 2010

PETITION OF LEE JOYNER, JR.

For review of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal

FINAL ORDER

On February 12, 2009, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond entered an order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") as Receiver of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company ("Shenandoah" or "Company"). In addition, on February 12, 2009, the Commission, by Order Appointing Deputy Receiver for Conservation and Rehabilitation ("Order Appointing Deputy Receiver"), appointed Alfred W. Gross, Commissioner for the Commission's Bureau of Insurance, as Deputy Receiver, in accordance with Title 38.2, Chapter 15 of the Code of Virginia. Pursuant to his grant of authority, the Deputy Receiver in his Second Directive of Deputy Receiver Adopting Receivership Appeal Procedure established appeal procedures for appeals or challenges of any decision made by the Deputy Receiver with respect to claims made against Shenandoah.

On January 25, 2010, Lee Joyner, Jr. ("Petitioner") filed a Petition for Review ("Petition") with the State Corporation Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's denial of his "Hardship Request" made in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 000876050.

By Order dated January 27, 2010, the Commission docketed the Petition, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Deputy Receiver to file an Answer or other responsive pleading to the Petition on or before March 2, 2010.

On February 26, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed his answer and asked that the Petition be denied.

On March 22, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed a Motion to Dismiss and Memorandum in Support of Motion to Dismiss. In support of his motion, the Deputy Receiver stated that the dispute between Shenandoah and the Petitioner has been resolved. The Deputy Receiver requested that the Commission dismiss the Petitioner's Petition, with prejudice.

On March 23, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued his Report in which he found that the Deputy Receiver's Motion to Dismiss should be granted and the Petition be dismissed with prejudice.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record herein and the Report of the Hearing Examiner, is of the opinion that the findings and recommendations of the Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Deputy Receiver's Motion to Dismiss is hereby GRANTED;

(2) The Petition of Lee Joyner, Jr. for review of Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal is hereby DISMISSED; and

(3) The papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

JULY 8, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
ROBERTA L. GARCIA-GUAJARDO,
GARY J. HUNTER,
and
SANIBEL & LANCASTER INSURANCE, LLC
Defendants

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau"), it is alleged that Gary J. Hunter and Sanibel & Lancaster Insurance, LLC (collectively, "Defendants"), duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, (i) violated § 38.2-310 of the Code of Virginia by charging fees to their customers that are not authorized by law; (ii) violated §§ 38.2-502, 38.2-512, and subsections 7 and 10 of § 38.2-1831 by combining the amount of administrative service fees with the premium down payments, thereby misrepresenting the actual cost of the insurance; (iii) violated § 38.2-1809 by refusing to make agency records available promptly upon request for examination by the Bureau's investigators; (iv) violated § 38.2-1812 by sharing commissions or other compensation with unlicensed individuals for referrals of business; (v) violated § 38.2-1812.2 and subsection 10 of § 38.2-1831 by charging administrative service fees that exceeded the fees listed on the agency's disclosure form; (vi) violated § 38.2-1813 by failing to handle all premiums, return premiums, or other funds received by the Defendants in a fiduciary capacity and by failing to maintain an accurate record and itemization of the funds deposited into the account; and (vii) violated § 38.2-1822 and subsection 14 of § 38.2-1831 by knowingly permitting an unlicensed individual to act as an agent of an insurer licensed in Virginia and by knowingly accepting business from such unlicensed agent.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendants' licenses upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendants have committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendants have been advised of their right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendants, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, have made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendants have: (1) agreed to comply with the Corrective Action Plan they have submitted to the Bureau. The Defendants understand that if they fail to comply with the terms of the Corrective Action Plan, the Bureau will, after opportunity and notice to be heard, seek to revoke their licenses; (2) agreed to be placed on probation for a period of 5 years from the date of entry of this Order; and (3) agreed to a monetary penalty in the amount of Fifteen Thousand Dollars ($15,000) of which Two Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($2,500) will be tendered to the Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Virginia within 30 days of the date of entry of this Order. If the Defendants abide by the Corrective Action Plan submitted to the Bureau, the remaining Twelve Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($12,500) of the penalty will be waived at the end of the probation period.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendants pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendants, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendants' offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendants in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted;

(2) The Defendants pay to the Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Two Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($2,500) within 30 days of the date of the entry of this Order;

(3) The Defendants abide by the Corrective Action Plan that was submitted to the Bureau of Insurance; and

(4) The Commission shall retain jurisdiction in this matter for all purposes, including the institution of a show cause proceeding, or taking such other action it deems appropriate, on account of the Defendants' failure to comply with the terms and undertakings of the settlement.

CASE NO. INS-2010-00019
DECEMBER 13, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
ROBERTA L. GARCIA-GUAJARDO,
GARY J. HUNTER,
and
SANIBEL & LANCASTER INSURANCE, LLC,
Defendants

JUDGMENT ORDER

On March 18, 2010, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") issued a Rule to Show Cause ("Rule") against Roberta L. Garcia-Guajardo ("Garcia-Guajardo"), Gary J. Hunter ("Hunter"), and Sanibel & Lancaster Insurance, LLC ("Sanibel") (collectively, "Defendants"), in which the Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau") alleged the following: (i) the Defendants violated § 38.2-310 of the Code of Virginia by charging customers a fee that is not authorized by law; (ii) the Defendants violated §§ 38.2-502, 38.2-512, and subsections 7 and 10 of § 38.2-1831 by combining the amount of an administrative service fee with the premium down payment, thereby misrepresenting the actual cost of the insurance; (iii) Sanibel and Hunter violated § 38.2-1809 by refusing to make agency records available promptly upon request for examination by Bureau investigators; (iv) Sanibel and Hunter violated § 38.2-1812 by sharing commissions or other compensation with unlicensed individuals for referrals of business; (v) the Defendants violated § 38.2-1812.2 and subsection 10 of § 38.2-1831 by charging an administrative service fee that exceeded the fee listed on the agency's disclosure form; (vi) Sanibel and Hunter violated § 38.2-1813 by failing to handle all premiums, return premiums, or other funds received by the agency in a fiduciary capacity and by failing to maintain an accurate record and itemization of the funds deposited into the account; (vii) Sanibel and Hunter violated § 38.2-1822 and subsection 14 of § 38.2-1831 by knowingly permitting an unlicensed individual to act as an agent of an insurer licensed in Virginia and by knowingly accepting business from such agent; and (viii) Garcia-Guajardo violated § 38.2-1822 by acting as an agent of an insurer licensed in Virginia without being properly licensed and after having voluntarily surrendered her insurance agent license to the Bureau. The Bureau sought the revocation of Sanibel's and Hunter's insurance agent licenses, the entry of a permanent injunction against Garcia-Guajardo, and the assessment of monetary penalties against each of the Defendants.

The Rule ordered the Defendants to file a responsive pleading on or before April 6, 2010, scheduled a hearing before the Commission on June 24 and 25, 2010, and assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner to conduct further proceedings.

On April 7, 2010, Hunter and Sanibel filed an answer to the Rule in which they denied the allegations of wrongdoing. On April 8, 2010, Garcia-Guajardo filed a Request for Extension ("Request") asking that the time to respond to the Rule be extended to April 16, 2010, and indicated that such request was not opposed by the Bureau. The Request was granted by Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated April 9, 2010. Garcia-Guajardo filed an answer to the Rule on April 16, 2010, in which she denied the allegations of wrongdoing brought by the Bureau.

On April 27, 2010, the Bureau filed a Motion for Default Judgment concerning Sanibel and Hunter on the grounds that they failed to file a timely response to the Rule and that the responsive pleading was not signed as required by 5 VAC 5-20-20. Additionally, the Bureau requested that an expedited hearing be scheduled to address its motion. On June 8, 2010, a hearing on the Bureau's Motion for Default Judgment was convened at which time counsel for the Bureau advised that Hunter and the Bureau were in settlement discussions. Based on the progress of the discussions, the Bureau withdrew its motion.

On June 22, 2010, the Bureau filed a Motion to Dismiss the Rule against Hunter and Sanibel after having reached settlement in this matter. The Bureau asked the Commission to enter a proposed Settlement Order that included a copy of an agreed-upon Corrective Action Plan and advised that the allegations and scheduled hearing in this matter with regard to Garcia-Guajardo should remain intact. The Commission entered the Settlement Order on July 8, 2010.[1]

On June 24, 2010, an evidentiary hearing in this matter was convened in Virginia Beach as scheduled. Garcia-Guajardo appeared, and being represented by counsel, fully participated in the hearing. The Bureau appeared by counsel. As a preliminary matter at the hearing, the Bureau's Motion to Dismiss the Rule against Hunter and Sanibel was granted. Additionally, in his opening statement, counsel for the Bureau advised the Hearing Examiner that the Bureau had elected not to proceed against Garcia-Guajardo regarding the allegations that she violated §§ 38.2-310, 38.2-502, 38.2-512, and 38.2-1812.2. The remainder of the hearing was devoted to the allegation that Garcia-Guajardo violated § 38.2-1822 by acting as an agent without being properly licensed and after having voluntarily surrendered her insurance agent license to the Bureau.

During the hearing, the Bureau called five witnesses: three former employees of Sanibel, a customer who purchased insurance from Sanibel, and Bureau investigator Linwood G. Bennett, Jr. The testimony and evidence presented by the Bureau included ten specific transactions occurring between July 2006 and December 2009 that it alleged were violations of § 38.2-1822. Garcia-Guajardo called as witnesses two current employees of Sanibel, and she also testified on her own behalf.

On October 1, 2010, the Hearing Examiner filed his report ("Report"), which thoroughly summarized the factual and procedural history of this case, as well as the evidence and arguments presented at the hearing. The Hearing Examiner began his analysis by discussing what activities require an insurance agent license. Focusing on the language of § 38.2-1822 and related statutes, the Hearing Examiner determined that an unlicensed individual may not provide a customer with a quote for the specific cost of insurance coverage from a specific insurance company or otherwise guide the customer to a decision to purchase insurance. He further concluded that the statute does not require that the unlicensed individual be the sole actor in the transaction for a violation to occur, nor can a violation of the statute be avoided by having a licensed agent contact the customer after an unlicensed individual has sold, solicited, or negotiated the contract.

The Hearing Examiner turned next to whether the Bureau presented clear and convincing evidence to support the allegations that Garcia-Guajardo acted as an insurance agent in the ten instances introduced at the hearing. He summarized the testimony of the Bureau's witnesses, including that of Sanibel's former employees, who testified that they observed Garcia-Guajardo regularly discuss insurance coverages with customers and were aware that customers' phone calls were transferred to her home phone line. He noted that the applications and related documents the Bureau introduced in support of the allegations contained notes written in Garcia-Guajardo's handwriting concerning coverages and costs, fees, where the customer needed to sign, and whether and when the policy was sold. In addition, the certification signatures on the applications were signed using a stamp that was in her sole possession. The Hearing Examiner ultimately found that the testimony of the Bureau's witnesses, some of which was corroborated by Garcia-Guajardo, combined with the consistency of the documents, met the clear and convincing evidentiary standard. The Hearing Examiner therefore made the following findings and recommendations:

(1) The Bureau provided clear and convincing evidence of ten (10) specific instances in which Garcia-Guajardo violated § 38.2-1822 of the Code of Virginia.

(2) Based upon Garcia-Guajardo's own testimony that she was aware she could not discuss coverages with a customer, she acted knowingly or willfully.

(3) Pursuant to § 38.2-218 of the Code, Garcia-Guajardo should be penalized the maximum amount of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) for each violation, for a total of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000).

(4) Pursuant to § 38.2-220, Garcia-Guajardo should be permanently enjoined from transacting the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia.

On October 22, 2010, the Bureau and Garcia-Guajardo separately filed their Comments to the Report.

THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the Rule, the record, the Hearing Examiner's Report, the Comments filed, and the applicable statutes, is of the opinion and finds that the Hearing Examiner's findings and recommendations as detailed in his Report should be adopted. We agree with the Hearing Examiner's interpretation of the law, and we find that the Bureau proved by clear and convincing evidence that Garcia-Guajardo acted as an agent without being properly licensed in ten specific instances. Furthermore, we consider the recommended penalties to be appropriate in this case given that the unlicensed activity by Garcia-Guajardo occurred over an extended period of time and after she had voluntarily surrendered her insurance agent license to the Bureau.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The findings and recommendations of the October 1, 2010 Hearing Examiner's Report are hereby adopted;

(2) Pursuant to § 38.2-218 of the Code, Garcia-Guajardo is penalized the maximum amount of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) for each violation, for a total of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000);

(3) Pursuant to § 38.2-220 of the Code, Garcia-Guajardo should be permanently enjoined from transacting the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia; and

(4) The Commission shall retain jurisdiction of this case pending the resolution of the Bureau of Insurance's case against the other two Defendants.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
LUCIUS WAYNE HENSLEY,
Defendant

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated §§ 38.2-1809 and 38.2-1813 of the Code of Virginia by failing to make records available promptly upon request for examination by the Commission or its employees, by failing to hold all premiums, return premiums, or other funds received by the Defendant in a fiduciary capacity, by failing to pay funds in the ordinary course of business to the insured or his assignee, insurer, insurance premium finance company or agent entitled to the payment, and by commingling business or personal funds with funds required to be maintained in a separate fiduciary account.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been notified of his right to a hearing before the Commission in this matter by certified letter dated February 24, 2010, and mailed to the Defendant's address shown in the records of the Bureau of Insurance.

The Defendant, having been advised in the above manner of his right to a hearing in this matter, has failed to request a hearing and has not otherwise communicated with the Bureau of Insurance.

The Bureau of Insurance, upon the Defendant's failure to request a hearing, has recommended that the Commission enter an order revoking all of the Defendant's licenses to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent.

THE COMMISSION is of the opinion and finds that the Defendant has violated §§ 38.2-1809 and 38.2-1813 of the Code of Virginia by failing to make records available promptly upon request for examination by the Commission or its employees, by failing to hold all premiums, return premiums, or other funds received by the Defendant in a fiduciary capacity, by failing to pay funds in the ordinary course of business to the insured or his assignee, insurer, insurance premium finance company or agent entitled to the payment, and by commingling business or personal funds with funds required to be maintained in a separate fiduciary account.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The licenses of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby REVOKED;

(2) All appointments issued under said licenses are hereby VOID;

(3) The Defendant transact no further business in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent;

(4) The Defendant shall not apply to the Commission to be licensed as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia prior to sixty (60) days from the date of this Order;

(5) The Bureau of Insurance shall notify every insurance company for which the Defendant holds an appointment to act as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia; and

(6) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

PETITION OF SIGMUND GUBENSKI
and
PETITION OF LUCY GUBENSKI

For review of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal

ORDER

On February 12, 2009, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond entered an Order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") as Receiver of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company ("Shenandoah" or "Company"). In addition, on February 12, 2009, the Commission, by Order Appointing Deputy Receiver for Conservation and Rehabilitation ("Order Appointing Deputy Receiver"), appointed Alfred W. Gross, Commissioner of the Commission's Bureau of Insurance as Deputy Receiver, in accordance with Title 38.2, Chapter 15 of the Code of Virginia. Pursuant to his grant of authority, the Deputy Receiver in his Second Directive of Deputy Receiver Adopting Receivership Appeal Procedure established appeal procedures for appeals or challenges of any decision made by the Deputy Receiver with respect to claims against Shenandoah.

On February 4, 2010, Sigmund and Lucy Gubenski ("Petitioners") filed Petitions for Review ("Petitions") with the Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's denial of their "Hardship Requests" made in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy Nos. 1047537 and 1047538.

By Order dated February 18, 2010, the Commission docketed the Petitions, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Deputy Receiver to file an Answer or other responsive pleading to the Petitions on or before March 24, 2010.

On March 24, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed his Answer to the Petitions and asked that the Petitions be denied. In his Answer, the Deputy Receiver, among other things, stated that the Petitioners' request for hardship exemptions were denied due to their failure to provide any information that they faced a severe and imminent financial hardship that could not be relieved from other sources.

By Chief Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated March 25, 2010, an evidentiary hearing was scheduled for May 25, 2010, via telephone conference call for the purpose of receiving testimony and evidence on the Petitions.

On May 4, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed a list of witnesses and exhibits to be introduced during the telephonic hearing. On May 6, 2010, the Petitioners filed a list of witnesses and exhibits to be introduced during the telephonic hearing.

On May 25, 2010, a telephonic hearing was convened as scheduled. Roger F. Perry, Esquire, appeared on behalf of the Petitioners. Robert A. Dybing, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Deputy Receiver. John O. Cox, Esquire, appeared as counsel to the Bureau of Insurance.

At the hearing, Mrs. Gubenski explained the Petitioners' financial hardships and their need for the remaining cash value of their life insurance policies. Among other things, Mrs. Gubenski stated that she and her husband needed their hardship exemption for extraordinary costs such as assisted living or home health care.

Donald Beatty, Esquire, Senior Counsel in the Commission's Office of General Counsel and Receivership Manager for Shenandoah, testified as to the day-to-day operations of the Company and its efforts to be rehabilitated. Additionally, Mr. Beatty testified as to the terms of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver. Specifically, Mr. Beatty testified that paragraph 12(e) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver orders Shenandoah to cease payment of policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[1] Mr. Beatty further testified that paragraph 13(b) of the Order Appointing Deputy Receiver authorizes the Deputy Receiver to implement a hardship exemption from the moratorium on policy loans, cash or surrender values, surrenders, and similar payments.[2] Mr. Beatty confirmed that prior to establishing the hardship exemption, the Deputy Receiver consulted with outside legal counsel, accounting and investment consultants, as well as the Company's chief financial officer and in-house actuary. Mr. Beatty maintained that the 70% limit was established to preserve the Company's ability to pay claims and continuing business expenses.

On August 12, 2010, the Chief Hearing Examiner issued her Report in which she recommended that the Petitioners' Hardship Requests be remanded to the Deputy Receiver with direction to the Petitioners to submit additional documentation on the costs of assisted living or home health care.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record herein and the Report of the Chief Hearing Examiner, is of the opinion that the findings and recommendations of the Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

1. The Petitions of Sigmund and Lucy Gubenski for review of Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal are hereby REMANDED to the Deputy Receiver for further consideration, upon documentation of the Petitioners of assisted living and home health care; and

2. The cases are dismissed, and the papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
JOHN MICHAEL SANTOS,
Defendant

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.2-1826 C of the Code of Virginia by failing to report to the Commission within thirty days an administrative action that was taken against him by the State of Indiana.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violation.

The Defendant has been notified of his right to a hearing before the Commission in this matter by certified letters dated January 19, 2010 and February 16, 2010, and mailed to the Defendant's address shown in the records of the Bureau of Insurance.

The Defendant, having been advised in the above manner of his right to a hearing in this matter, has failed to request a hearing and has not otherwise communicated with the Bureau of Insurance.

The Bureau of Insurance, upon the Defendant's failure to request a hearing, has recommended that the Commission enter an order revoking all of the Defendant's licenses to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent.

THE COMMISSION is of the opinion and finds that the Defendant has violated § 38.2-1826 C of the Code of Virginia by failing to report to the Commission within thirty days an administrative action that was taken against him by the State of Indiana.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The licenses of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby REVOKED;

(2) All appointments issued under said licenses are hereby VOID;

(3) The Defendant transact no further business in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent;

(4) The Defendant shall not apply to the Commission to be licensed as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia prior to sixty (60) days from the date of this Order;

(5) The Bureau of Insurance shall notify every insurance company for which the Defendant holds an appointment to act as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia; and

(6) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

VACATING ORDER

On February 25, 2010, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") entered an Order in this case revoking the Defendant's insurance agent license for failing to report to the Commission within thirty (30) days an administrative action that was taken against him by the State of California. Subsequent to the entry of the Order, the Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau") received information indicating that the Defendant properly reported the administrative action to the National Insurance Producer Registry ("NIPR"); however, it appears that NIPR failed to forward such information to the Bureau. Consequently, the Bureau recommends that the Order be vacated and the Defendant's license reinstated.

The Commission, having considered the facts of the case and the Bureau's recommendation, is of the opinion that the Order Revoking License should be vacated and the Defendant's license reinstated.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Order Revoking License in this case is hereby VACATED;

(2) The Defendant's insurance agent license is hereby reinstated; and

(3) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated §§ 38.2-512, 38.2-3103, and subsections 10 and 12 of § 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia by making false or fraudulent statements or representations on or relative to an application or any document or communication relating to the business of insurance for the purpose of obtaining a fee, commission, money, or other benefit from any insurer, agent, broker, premium finance company, or individual; by knowingly securing, attempting to secure or causing to be secured a life insurance policy on any person who is not in an insurable condition by means of misrepresentations or false or fraudulent statements; by using fraudulent, coercive, or dishonest practices in the conduct of business in the Commonwealth; and by forging another's name to an application for insurance or to any document related to an insurance transaction.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been advised of his right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendant, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, has made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendant has tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Seven Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($7,500), waived his right to a hearing, agreed to complete four (4) hours of continuing education courses on the subject of ethics within twelve (12) months of the date of entry of this Order and provide written proof of completion to the Bureau, and agreed to be placed on probation for a period of five (5) years from the date of entry of this Order.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendant pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendant, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendant's offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendant in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted;

(2) The Defendant be placed on probation for a period of five (5) years from the date of entry of this Order; and

(3) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-2010-00040
JULY 20, 2010

PETITION OF
LOUIS E. LANCASTER

For review of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal

FINAL ORDER

On February 12, 2009, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond entered an order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") as Receiver of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company ("Shenandoah" or "Company"). In addition, on February 12, 2009, the Commission, by Order Appointing Deputy Receiver for Conservation and Rehabilitation ("Order Appointing Deputy Receiver"), appointed Alfred W. Gross, Commissioner of the Commission's Bureau of Insurance, as Deputy Receiver, in accordance with Title 38.2, Chapter 15 of the Code of Virginia. Pursuant to his grant of authority, the Deputy Receiver, in his Second Directive of Deputy Receiver Adopting Receivership Appeal Procedure, established appeal procedures for appeals or challenges of any decision made by the Deputy Receiver with respect to claims against Shenandoah.

On March 9, 2010, Louis E. Lancaster ("Petitioner") filed a Petition for Review ("Petition") with the Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's denial of his "Hardship Request" made in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy Nos. 000418843, 000499708, and 000430610.

By Order dated March 18, 2010, the Commission docketed the Petition, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Deputy Receiver to file an Answer or other responsive pleading to the Petition on or before April 16, 2010.

On April 9, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed his Answer to the Petition and asked that the Petition be denied. In his Answer, the Deputy Receiver stated that the Petitioner's request for a hardship exemption was denied due to his failure to provide any information that he faced a severe and imminent financial hardship that could not be relieved from other sources.

By Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated May 6, 2010, an evidentiary hearing was scheduled for June 14, 2010, via telephone conference call for the purpose of receiving testimony and evidence on the Petition.

On May 24, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed a list of witnesses and exhibits to be introduced during the telephonic hearing.

On June 9, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed with the Commission a Notice to Hearing Examiner ("Notice"). In his Notice, the Deputy Receiver stated that (i) Shenandoah does not intend to contest the matter further, and (ii) Shenandoah proposes to issue a check to the Petitioner in the amount of 70% of the amount available under her policy, calculated as of February 12, 2009, the date Shenandoah entered Receivership.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record herein, the Report of the Hearing Examiner, and the Notice to Hearing Examiner filed by the Deputy Receiver, is of the opinion that the findings and recommendations of the Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Deputy Receiver's Motion to Dismiss is hereby GRANTED;

(2) The Petition of Louis E. Lancaster for review of Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal is hereby DISMISSED with prejudice; and

(3) The case is dismissed, and the papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.2-1826 C and subsection 1 of § 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia by failing to report to the Commission within thirty (30) days an administrative action that was taken against him by the State of Colorado, and by providing materially incorrect, misleading, incomplete or untrue information in his license application filed with the Commission.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been notified of his right to a hearing before the Commission in this matter by certified letter dated February 17, 2010, and mailed to the Defendant's address shown in the records of the Bureau of Insurance.

The Defendant, having been advised in the above manner of his right to a hearing in this matter, has failed to request a hearing and has not otherwise communicated with the Bureau of Insurance.

The Bureau of Insurance, upon the Defendant's failure to request a hearing, has recommended that the Commission enter an order revoking all of the Defendant's licenses to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent.

NOW THE COMMISSION is of the opinion and finds that the Defendant has violated § 38.2-1826 C and subsection 1 of § 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia by failing to report to the Commission within thirty (30) days an administrative action that was taken against him by the State of Colorado, and by providing materially incorrect, misleading, incomplete or untrue information in his license application filed with the Commission.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The licenses of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby REVOKED;

(2) All appointments issued under said licenses are hereby VOID;

(3) The Defendant transact no further business in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent;

(4) The Defendant shall not apply to the Commission to be licensed as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia prior to sixty (60) days from the date of this Order;

IMPAIRMENT ORDER

National States Insurance Company ("Defendant"), a foreign corporation domiciled in the State of Missouri and licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, is required to maintain minimum capital of $1,000,000 and minimum surplus of $3,000,000.

Section 38.2-1036 of the Code of Virginia provides that if the Commission finds an impairment of the required minimum surplus of any foreign insurer, the Commission may order the insurer to eliminate the impairment and restore the minimum surplus to the amount required by law and may prohibit the insurer from issuing any new policies in the Commonwealth of Virginia while the impairment of its surplus exists.

The Annual Statement of the Defendant, dated December 31, 2009, and filed with the Commission's Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau"), indicates capital of $3,500,000 and surplus of $2,284,839, an impairment in surplus of $715,161.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) On or before June 21, 2010, the Defendant eliminate the impairment in its surplus and restore the same to at least $3,000,000, and advise the Commission of the accomplishment thereof by affidavit of the Defendant's president or other authorized officer.

(2) The Defendant shall issue no new contracts or policies of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia while the impairment of the Defendant's surplus exists and until further order of the Commission.

ORDER TO TAKE NOTICE

Pursuant to § 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") may suspend or revoke the license of any insurance company to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia whenever the Commission finds that the company has violated any law of this Commonwealth.

National States Insurance Company, a foreign corporation domiciled in the State of Missouri ("Defendant"), is licensed by the Commission to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia.

By order entered herein March 24, 2010, the Defendant was ordered to eliminate the impairment in its surplus and restore the same to at least $3,000,000 and advise the Commission of the accomplishment thereof by affidavit of the Defendant's president or other authorized officer on or before June 21, 2010.

As of the date of this order, the Defendant has failed to eliminate the impairment in its surplus.

THEREFORE, IT IS ORDERED that the Defendant TAKE NOTICE that the Commission shall enter an order subsequent to July 12, 2010, suspending the license of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia unless on or before July 12, 2010, the Defendant files with Joel H. Peck, Clerk, State Corporation Commission, Document Control Center, P.O. Box 2118, Richmond, Virginia 23218, a request for a hearing before the Commission with respect to the proposed suspension of the Defendant's license.

ORDER SUSPENDING LICENSE

In an order entered herein July 1, 2010, National States Insurance Company, a Missouri corporation ("Defendant") licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, was ordered to take notice that the Commission would enter an order subsequent to July 12, 2010, suspending the license of the Defendant to transact new business unless on or before July 12, 2010, the Defendant filed with the Clerk of the Commission a request for a hearing before the Commission to contest the proposed suspension of the Defendant's license.

The Order to take Notice was entered due to the Defendant's failure to eliminate the impairment in its surplus and restore the same to at least $3,000,000 and advise the Commission of the accomplishment thereof by affidavit of the Defendant's president or other authorized officer on or before June 21, 2010.

As of the date of this Order, the Defendant has not filed a request to be heard before the Commission with respect to the proposed suspension of the Defendant's license.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED THAT:

(1) Pursuant to § 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia, the license of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia is hereby SUSPENDED;

(2) The Defendant shall issue no new contracts or policies of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia until further order of the Commission;

(3) The appointments of the Defendant's agents to act on behalf of the Defendant in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby SUSPENDED;

(4) The Defendant's agents shall transact no new insurance business on behalf of the Defendant in the Commonwealth of Virginia until further order of the Commission;

(5) The Bureau of Insurance shall cause an attested copy of this Order to be sent to each of the Defendant's agents appointed to act on behalf of the Defendant in the Commonwealth of Virginia as notice of the suspension of such agent's appointment; and

(6) The Bureau of Insurance shall cause notice of the suspension of the Defendant's license to be published in the manner set forth in § 38.2-1043 of the Code of Virginia.

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.2-1826 C of the Code of Virginia by failing to report to the Commission within thirty (30) days an administrative action that was taken against her by the State of Colorado.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violation.

The Defendant has been notified of her right to a hearing before the Commission in this matter by certified letter dated March 3, 2010, and mailed to the Defendant's address shown in the records of the Bureau of Insurance.

The Defendant, having been advised in the above manner of her right to a hearing in this matter, has failed to request a hearing and has not otherwise communicated with the Bureau of Insurance.

The Bureau of Insurance, upon the Defendant's failure to request a hearing, has recommended that the Commission enter an order revoking all of the Defendant's licenses to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent.

NOW THE COMMISSION is of the opinion and finds that the Defendant has violated § 38.2-1826 C of the Code of Virginia by failing to report to the Commission within thirty (30) days an administrative action that was taken against her by the State of Colorado.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The licenses of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby REVOKED;

(2) All appointments issued under said licenses are hereby VOID;

(3) The Defendant transact no further business in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent;

(4) The Defendant shall not apply to the Commission to be licensed as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia prior to sixty (60) days from the date of this Order;

(5) The Bureau of Insurance shall notify every insurance company for which the Defendant holds an appointment to act as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia; and

(6) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated §§ 6.1-2.26 and 38.2-1822 of the Code of Virginia by acting as a settlement agent without being properly registered with the Virginia State Bar, and by acting as an agent of an insurer without first obtaining a license in the manner and form prescribed by the Commission.

The Commission is authorized by § 6.1-2.27 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties and to suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations of Chapter 1.3 (§ 6.1-2.19 et seq.) of Title 6.1 of the Code of Virginia.

The Commission is also authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been advised of its right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendant, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, has made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendant has tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Forty Thousand Dollars ($40,000) and waived its right to a hearing.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendant pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendant, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendant's offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendant in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted; and

(2) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated §§ 38.2-503, 38.2-504, and 38.2-512 of the Code of Virginia by making, publishing, disseminating, circulating, or placing before the public an advertisement, announcement or statement containing an assertion, representation or statement relating to the business of insurance which was untrue, deceptive or misleading, by making, publishing disseminating, circulating, directly or indirectly, or aiding, abetting or encouraging the making, publishing, dissemination or circulation of any oral or written statement or any pamphlet, circular, article or literature that is false, and maliciously critical of, or derogatory to, any person with respect to the business of insurance or with respect to any person in the conduct of his or her insurance business and that is calculated to injure that person, and by making false or fraudulent statements or representations on or relative to an application for the purpose of obtaining a fee, commission, money, or other benefit from any insurer, agent, broker, premium finance company, or individual.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been advised of his right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendant, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, has made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendant has tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000), waived his right to a hearing, agreed not to sell Medicare Advantage plans for a period of one (1) year from the date of entry of this Order, agreed to attend six (6) hours of ethics classes to be completed one (1) year from the date of entry of this Order and provide proof of completion to the Bureau of Insurance, and agreed to be placed on probation for a period of one (1) year from the date of entry of this Order. The Defendant has been advised that if the Bureau finds that he has not complied with the terms and conditions of his probation, it will initiate formal action to revoke his license.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendant pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendant, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendant's offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendant in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted;

(2) The Defendant shall not sell Medicare Advantage plans for a period of one (1) year from the date of entry of this Order;

(3) The Defendant shall attend six (6) hours of ethics classes to be completed one (1) year from the date of entry of this Order and provide proof of completion to the Bureau of Insurance;

(4) The Defendant shall be placed on probation for a period of one (1) year from the date of entry of this Order; and

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on a market conduct examination performed by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.2-310 of the Code of Virginia by charging or collecting fees for the procurement of insurance that were not included in the premium or stated in the policy; violated § 38.2-502 by misrepresenting the benefits, advantages, conditions or terms of an insurance policy; violated § 38.2-1318 by failing to provide convenient access to files, documents, and records relating to the examination; violated § 38.2-1905 A by failing to notify insureds in writing that a policy had been surcharged for an at fault accident; violated § 38.2-1906 D by making or issuing insurance contracts or policies not in accordance with the rate and supplementary rate information filings in effect for the Defendant; violated § 38.2-2234 A by failing to include all information required by the statute in its insurance credit disclosure notice; violated § 38.2-2234 B by failing to rate policies with accurate credit information; violated §§ 38.2-2208 A, 38.2-2208 B, 38.2-2212 D, 38.2-2212 E, and 38.2-2212 F by failing to properly terminate policies of insurance; violated § 38.2-510 A 10, as well as 14 VAC 5-400-30, and 14 VAC 5-400-80 D, by failing to properly handle claims; violated §§ 38.2-2214 and 38.2-2220 by failing to use standard forms in the precise language filed and approved by the Bureau; violated §§ 38.2-305 A, 38.2-305 B, 38.2-2202 A, and 38.2-2202 B by failing to include accurate information in policies; and violated §§ 38.2-604 B, 38.2-604.1, and 38.2-610 A by failing to include accurate information in notices.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been advised of its right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendant, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, has made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendant has tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Twenty-two Thousand Dollars ($22,000), waived its right to a hearing, confirmed that restitution was made to seven (7) consumers in the amount of One Thousand Five Hundred Fifty-eight Dollars and Forty-one Cents ($1,558.41), and agreed to comply with the Corrective Action Plan set forth in its letters to the Bureau of Insurance dated December 8, 2009, February 9, 2010, and March 11, 2010.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendant pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendant, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendant's offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendant in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted; and

(2) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

APPLICATION OF AMERICAN CAPITOL INSURANCE COMPANY

For approval of an assumption reinsurance agreement pursuant to § 38.2-136 C of the Code of Virginia

ORDER APPROVING APPLICATION

By petition filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") on April 15, 2009, American Capitol Insurance Company ("Petitioner"), a Texas-domiciled insurer licensed by the Commission to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, requested approval of an assumption reinsurance agreement pursuant to § 38.2-136 of the Code of Virginia ("Code").

Effective January 1, 1998, the Petitioner entered into a 100% coinsurance agreement which provided for assuming all of Universal Life Insurance Company's ("ULIC") individual life insurance policies in force with issue dates on or before December 31, 1997. The coinsurance agreement further provided for the coinsured policies to be assumed via an assumption reinsurance agreement in the case of ULIC being placed into receivership.

On April 24, 2009, the Circuit Court of Jefferson County, Alabama entered an order placing ULIC into receivership, triggering the assumption reinsurance agreement provision of the coinsurance agreement. Because the coinsurance agreement does not provide for policyholder's consent to the assumption reinsurance agreement provision, the Petitioner has applied for approval pursuant to § 38.2-136 of the Code.

ULIC has waived its right to a hearing pursuant to § 38.2-136 C of the Code, as evidenced by letter of Denise B. Azar, Receiver for Universal Life Insurance Company, dated March 31, 2010.

The Bureau of Insurance, having reviewed the application to ensure that Virginia policyholders will not lose any rights or claims afforded under their original contracts pursuant to Chapter 17 of Title 38.2 of the Code, has recommended that the application be approved.

The Commission, having considered the application, the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance that the application be approved, and the law applicable hereto, is of the opinion that the application should be granted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT the application of American Capitol Insurance Company for the approval of the reinsurance agreement pursuant to § 38.2-136 C of the Code of Virginia be, and it is hereby, APPROVED.

APPLICATION OF MADISON NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

For approval of an assumption reinsurance agreement pursuant to § 38.2-136 C of the Code of Virginia

ORDER APPROVING APPLICATION

By petition filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") on April 15, 2009, Madison National Life Insurance Company ("Petitioner"), a Wisconsin-domiciled insurer licensed by the Commission to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, requested approval of an assumption reinsurance agreement pursuant to § 38.2-136 of the Code of Virginia ("Code").

Effective September 1, 2006, the Petitioner entered into an assumption reinsurance agreement which provided for assuming all of Standard Life Insurance Company of Indiana's ("Standard Life") individual life insurance policies and annuity contracts.

On December 18, 2008, the Circuit Court of Marion County, Indiana, entered an order placing Standard Life into rehabilitation. On January 28, 2009, the Commission entered an order suspending the license of Standard Life to transact the business of insurance in Virginia.

Pursuant to § 38.2-136 C of the Code, the Petitioner has requested that the Commission waive the policy holder consent to this transaction required by § 38.2-136 B by finding that the transfer of the policies to the Petitioner is in the best interest of policyholders.

Standard Life has waived its right to a hearing pursuant to § 38.2-136 C of the Code, as evidenced by letter of Stephen M. Coons, Secretary and General Counsel for Standard Life Insurance Company, dated April 22, 2010.

The Bureau of Insurance, having reviewed the application to ensure that Virginia policyholders will not lose any rights or claims afforded under their original contracts pursuant to Chapter 17 of Title 38.2 of the Code, has recommended that the application be approved.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the application, the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance that the application be approved, and the law applicable hereto, is of the opinion that the application should be approved.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT the application of Madison National Life Insurance Company for the approval of the reinsurance agreement pursuant to § 38.2-136 C of the Code of Virginia be, and it is hereby, APPROVED.

ORDER TO TAKE NOTICE

Pursuant to § 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") may suspend or revoke the license of any insurance company to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia whenever the Commission finds that the company is insolvent, or is in a condition that any further transaction of business in this Commonwealth is hazardous to its policyholders, creditors, and public in this Commonwealth.

American Community Mutual Insurance Company, a foreign corporation domiciled in the State of Michigan ("Defendant"), is licensed by the Commission to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia.

By order entered April 8, 2010, the Defendant's license was suspended by the Circuit Court of Ingham County, Michigan due to financial regulatory concerns. The Michigan Commissioner of Insurance was appointed the rehabilitator and the Director of Receiverships at the Michigan Office of Financial and Insurance Regulation was appointed special deputy rehabilitator.

The Commission's Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Defendant's license to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia be suspended.

THEREFORE, IT IS ORDERED THAT the Defendant TAKE NOTICE that the Commission shall enter an order subsequent to May 21, 2010, suspending the license of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia unless on or before May 21, 2010, the Defendant files with the Clerk of the Commission, Document Control Center, P.O. Box 2118, Richmond, Virginia 23218, a request for a hearing before the Commission with respect to the proposed suspension of the Defendant's license.

ORDER SUSPENDING LICENSE

In an Order entered herein May 12, 2010, American Community Mutual Insurance Company, a Michigan corporation ("Defendant") licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, was ordered to take notice that the Commission would enter an order subsequent to May 21, 2010, suspending the license of the Defendant to transact new business unless on or before May 21, 2010, the Defendant filed with the Clerk of the Commission a request for a hearing before the Commission to contest the proposed suspension of the Defendant's license.

The Order to Take Notice was entered due to the suspension of the Defendant's license by the Defendant's domestic regulator, the appointment of the Michigan Commissioner of Insurance as rehabilitator for the Defendant, and the appointment of the Director of Receiverships at the Michigan Office of Financial and Insurance Regulation as special deputy rehabilitator.

As of the date of this Order, the Defendant has not filed a request to be heard before the Commission with respect to the proposed suspension of the Defendant's license.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED THAT:

(1) Pursuant to § 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia, the license of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia is hereby SUSPENDED;

(2) The Defendant shall issue no new contracts or policies of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia until further order of the Commission;

(3) The appointments of the Defendant's agents to act on behalf of the Defendant in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby SUSPENDED;

(4) The Defendant's agents shall transact no new insurance business on behalf of the Defendant in the Commonwealth of Virginia until further order of the Commission;

(5) The Bureau of Insurance shall cause an attested copy of this Order to be sent to each of the Defendant's agents appointed to act on behalf of the Defendant in the Commonwealth of Virginia as notice of the suspension of such agent's appointment; and

(6) The Bureau of Insurance shall cause notice of the suspension of the Defendant's license to be published in the manner set forth in § 38.2-1043 of the Code of Virginia.

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendants, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.2-305 A of the Code of Virginia by failing to provide accurate information required by statute in its insurance policies; violated § 38.2-502 by misrepresenting the benefits, advantages, conditions or terms of an insurance policy; violated § 38.2-511 by failing to maintain a complete complaint register; violated § 38.2-610 A by failing to include accurate information in its policies; violated § 38.2-1318 by failing to provide convenient access to files, documents and records relating to the examination; violated § 38.2-1906 D by making or issuing insurance contracts or policies not in accordance with the rate and supplementary rate information filings in effect for the Defendants; violated § 38.2-2118 by failing to provide replacement cost notices; violated § 38.2-2126 A by failing to send credit adverse action notices; violated § 38.2-2126 B by failing to update credit information once every three years; violated § 38.2-2206 for failing to obtain signed rejection of higher UM limits; violated § 38.2-2234 by failing to rate policies with accurate credit information; violated §§ 38.2-510 A 1 and 38.2-510 A 10, as well as 14 VAC 5-400-40 A, 14 VAC 5-400-70 A, 14 VAC 5-400-70 D, and 14 VAC 5-400-80 D for failing to properly handle claims; violated §§ 38.2-2113 C, 38.2-2114 A, 38.2-2114 B, and 38.2-2114 E, 38.2-2208, 38.2-2212 E, and 38.2-2212 F by failing to properly terminate policies of insurance; and violated §§ 38.2-2214 and 38.2-2220 by using forms that did not contain the precise language of the standard forms filed and adopted by the Commission.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendants' licenses upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendants have committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendants have been advised of their right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendants, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, have made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendants have tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Sixty-two Thousand Dollars ($62,000), waived their right to a hearing, and confirmed that restitution was made to nineteen (19) consumers in the amount of Two Thousand Six Hundred Twenty-three Dollars and Fifty-two Cents ($2,623.52).

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendants pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendants, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendants' offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendants in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted; and

Based on a market conduct examination performed by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.2-317 A of the Code of Virginia by failing to use standard forms in the precise language filed and approved by the Commission; violated § 38.2-610 A by failing to give to applicants for insurance written notice of an adverse underwriting decision in the form approved by the Commission; violated § 38.2-1906 D by making or issuing insurance contracts or policies not in accordance with the rate and supplementary rate information filings in effect for the Defendant; violated § 38.2-2126 A by failing to provide credit adverse action notices; violated §§ 38.2-2113 C, 38.2-2114 A, 38.2-2114 C, and 38.2-2114 E by failing to properly terminate policies of insurance; violated §§ 38.2-510 A 1, 38.2-510 A 3, 38.2-510 A 6, as well as 14 VAC 5-400-30, 14 VAC 5-400-40 A, 14 VAC 5-400-50 C, 14 VAC 5-400-60 B, 14 VAC 5-400-70 A, 14 VAC 5-400-70 B, and 14 VAC 5-400-70 D, by failing to properly handle claims; violated §§ 38.2-305 A, 38.2-502, 38.2-2120, and 38.2-2124 by failing to include accurate information in policies; and violated §§ 38.2-305 B, 38.2-604.1, and 38.2-2118 by failing to include accurate information in its notices.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been advised of its right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendant, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, has made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendant has tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Twenty-seven Thousand Dollars ($27,000), waived its right to a hearing, confirmed that restitution was made to five hundred eighty-three (583) consumers in the amount of Ninety-nine Thousand Two Hundred Fifty-two Dollars and Eight Cents ($99,252.08), and agreed to comply with the Corrective Action Plan set forth in its letter to the Bureau of Insurance dated January 7, 2010.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendant pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendant, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendant's offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendant in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted; and

(2) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

PETITION OF
ELWANDA N. KNIGHT

For review of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal

FINAL ORDER

On February 12, 2009, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond entered an order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") as Receiver of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company ("Shenandoah" or "Company"). In addition, on February 12, 2009, the Commission, by Order Appointing Deputy Receiver for Conservation and Rehabilitation ("Order Appointing Deputy Receiver"), appointed Alfred W. Gross, Commissioner for the Commission's Bureau of Insurance as Deputy Receiver, in accordance with Title 38.2, Chapter 15 of the Code of Virginia. Pursuant to his grant of authority, the Deputy Receiver in his Second Directive of Deputy Receiver Adopting Receivership Appeal Procedure established appeal procedures for appeals or challenges of any decision made by the Deputy Receiver with respect to claims made against Shenandoah.

On April 21, 2010, Elwanda N. Knight ("Petitioner") filed a Petition for Review ("Petition") with the Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's denial of her "Hardship Request" made in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 002014316.

By Order dated June 7, 2010, the Commission docketed the Petition, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Deputy Receiver to file an Answer or other responsive pleading to the Petition on or before June 28, 2010.

On June 16, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed his Answer to the Petition, Motion to Dismiss, and Memorandum in Support of Motion to Dismiss. In support of his motion, the Deputy Receiver stated that the dispute between Shenandoah and the Petitioner has been resolved.

On June 21, 2010, the Chief Hearing Examiner issued her Report in which she recommended that the Deputy Receiver's Motion to Dismiss be granted and the Petition be dismissed with prejudice.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record herein and the Report of the Chief Hearing Examiner, is of the opinion that the findings and recommendations of the Chief Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

1. The Deputy Receiver's Motion to Dismiss is hereby GRANTED;

2. The Petition of Elwanda N. Knight for review of Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal is hereby DISMISSED with prejudice; and

3. The case is dismissed, and the papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.2-1826 C of the Code of Virginia by failing to report to the Commission within thirty (30) days an administrative action that was taken against him by the State of North Dakota.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violation.

The Defendant has been notified of his right to a hearing before the Commission in this matter by certified letter dated April 6, 2010, and mailed to the Defendant's address shown in the records of the Bureau of Insurance.

The Defendant, having been advised in the above manner of his right to a hearing in this matter, has failed to request a hearing and has not otherwise communicated with the Bureau of Insurance.

The Bureau of Insurance, upon the Defendant's failure to request a hearing, has recommended that the Commission enter an order revoking all of the Defendant's licenses to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent.

THE COMMISSION is of the opinion and finds that the Defendant has violated § 38.2-1826 C of the Code of Virginia by failing to report to the Commission within thirty (30) days an administrative action that was taken against him by the State of North Dakota.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The licenses of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby REVOKED;

(2) All appointments issued under said licenses are hereby VOID;

(3) The Defendant transact no further business in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent;

(4) The Defendant shall not apply to the Commission to be licensed as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia prior to sixty (60) days from the date of this Order;

(5) The Bureau of Insurance shall notify every insurance company for which the Defendant holds an appointment to act as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia; and

(6) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

Pursuant to his grant of authority, the Deputy Receiver, in his Second Directive of Deputy Receiver Adopting Receivership Appeal Procedure, established appeal procedures for appeals or challenges of any decision made by the Deputy Receiver with respect to claims made against Shenandoah.

On May 3, 2010, Jesse H. Harrelson ("Petitioner") filed a Petition for Review ("Petition") with the Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's denial of his "Hardship Request" made in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 001056000.

By Order dated May 12, 2010, the Commission docketed the Petition, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Deputy Receiver to file an Answer or other responsive pleading to the Petition on or before June 17, 2010.

On June 15, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed his Answer to the Petition, Motion to Dismiss, and Memorandum in Support of Motion to Dismiss. In support of his motion, the Deputy Receiver stated that the dispute between Shenandoah and the Petitioner has been resolved.

On June 21, 2010, the Chief Hearing Examiner issued her Report in which she recommended that the Deputy Receiver's Motion to Dismiss be granted and the Petition be dismissed with prejudice.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record herein and the Report of the Chief Hearing Examiner, is of the opinion that the findings and recommendations of the Chief Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

1. The Deputy Receiver's Motion to Dismiss is hereby GRANTED;

2. The Petition of Jesse H. Harrelson for review of Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal is hereby DISMISSED with prejudice; and

ORDER TO TAKE NOTICE

Pursuant to § 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") may suspend or revoke the license of any insurance company to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia whenever the Commission finds that the company is insolvent, or is in a condition that any further transaction of business in this Commonwealth is hazardous to its policyholders, creditors, and public in this Commonwealth.

Imperial Casualty and Indemnity Insurance Company ("Defendant"), an Oklahoma domiciled insurer, was initially licensed to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia on October 6, 1961.

On May 12, 2010, the District Court of Oklahoma County in the State of Oklahoma issued a Consent Order of Liquidation with a Finding of Insolvency and Permanent Injunction against the Defendant.

The Commission's Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Defendant's license to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia be revoked.

THEREFORE, IT IS ORDERED THAT the Defendant TAKE NOTICE that the Commission shall enter an order subsequent to June 17, 2010, revoking the license of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia unless on or before June 17, 2010, the Defendant files with the Clerk of the Commission, Document Control Center, P.O. Box 2118, Richmond, Virginia 23218, a request for a hearing before the Commission with respect to the proposed revocation of the Defendant's license.

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE

In an Order to Take Notice ("Order") entered herein June 8, 2010, Imperial Casualty and Indemnity Company, an Oklahoma domiciled insurer ("Defendant") licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, was ordered to take notice that the Commission would enter an order subsequent to June 17, 2010, revoking the license of the Defendant to transact new business unless on or before June 17, 2010, the Defendant filed with the Clerk of the Commission a request for a hearing before the Commission to contest the proposed suspension of the Defendant's license.

The Order was entered upon the recommendation of the Commission's Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau") based on a Consent Order of Liquidation with a Finding of Insolvency and Permanent Injunction against the Defendant entered on May 12, 2010, by the District Court of Oklahoma County in the State of Oklahoma.

As of the date of this Order, the Defendant has not requested a hearing with regards to the proposed revocation of its license. The Commission's Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Defendant's license to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia be revoked.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Pursuant to § 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia, the license of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia is hereby REVOKED;

(2) The Defendant shall transact no further business in the Commonwealth of Virginia;

(3) The Bureau of Insurance shall cause notice of the revocation of the Defendant's license to be published in the manner set forth in § 38.2-1043 of the Code of Virginia; and

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendants, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated §§ 38.2-1812, 38.2-1813 and 38.2-1822 of the Code of Virginia by receiving commissions from an insurer for services as an agent prior to becoming licensed and appointed, by failing to hold all premiums, return premiums, or other funds received by the Defendants in a fiduciary capacity, and by failing to pay funds in the ordinary course of business to the insured or his assignee, insurer, insurance premium finance company or agent entitled to the payment.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendants' licenses upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendants have committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendants have been advised of their right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendants, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, have made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendants have tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Seven Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($7,500), waived their right to a hearing, and agreed to the entry by the Commission of a cease and desist order.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendants pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendants, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendants' offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendants in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted;

(2) The Defendants cease and desist from any conduct which constitutes a violation of §§ 38.2-1812, 38.2-1813, or 38.2-1822 of the Code of Virginia; and

v.
ZACHURIAH D. COLLAR,
Defendant

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.2-1826 C of the Code of Virginia by failing to report to the Commission within thirty (30) days an administrative action that was taken against him by the State of North Carolina.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violation.

The Defendant has been notified of his right to a hearing before the Commission in this matter by certified letter dated April 29, 2010, and mailed to the Defendant's address shown in the records of the Bureau of Insurance.

The Defendant, having been advised in the above manner of his right to a hearing in this matter, has failed to request a hearing and has not otherwise communicated with the Bureau of Insurance.

The Bureau of Insurance, upon the Defendant's failure to request a hearing, has recommended that the Commission enter an order revoking all of the Defendant's licenses to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent.

NOW THE COMMISSION is of the opinion and finds that the Defendant has violated § 38.2-1826 C of the Code of Virginia by failing to report to the Commission within thirty (30) days an administrative action that was taken against him by the State of North Carolina.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The licenses of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby REVOKED;

(2) All appointments issued under said licenses are hereby VOID;

(3) The Defendant transact no further business in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent;

(4) The Defendant shall not apply to the Commission to be licensed as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia prior to sixty (60) days from the date of this Order;

(5) The Bureau of Insurance shall notify every insurance company for which the Defendant holds an appointment to act as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia; and

(6) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
NHEALTH, INC.,
Defendant

ORDER SUSPENDING LICENSE

nHealth, Inc. ("Defendant"), is a domestic corporation licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia. Due to financial regulatory concerns, the Commission's Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau") requested that the Defendant consent to the entry of an order prohibiting it from soliciting or issuing any new insurance policies or contracts in the Commonwealth of Virginia.

By letter of Paul L. Kitchen, the Defendant's president and chief executive officer, dated June 2, 2010, and received by the Bureau on June 2, 2010, the Defendant consented to the entry of an order prohibiting it from soliciting or issuing any new insurance policies or contracts in the Commonwealth of Virginia.

In light of the foregoing, the Bureau has recommended that the Defendant's license to transact the business of insurance in Virginia be suspended.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendant's license to transact the business of insurance in Virginia should be suspended.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Pursuant to § 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia, the license of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia is hereby SUSPENDED;

(2) The Defendant shall issue no new contracts or policies of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia until further order of the Commission;

(3) The appointments of the Defendant's agents to act on behalf of the Defendant in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby SUSPENDED;

(4) The Defendant's agents shall transact no new insurance business on behalf of the Defendant in the Commonwealth of Virginia until further order of the Commission;

(5) The Bureau of Insurance shall cause an attested copy of this Order to be sent to each of the Defendant's agents appointed to act on behalf of the Defendant in the Commonwealth of Virginia as notice of the suspension of such agent's appointment; and

(6) The Bureau of Insurance shall cause notice of the suspension of the Defendant's license to be published in the manner set forth in § 38.2-1043 of the Code of Virginia.

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendants, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.2-317 of the Code of Virginia by delivering or issuing for delivery insurance policies or endorsements without having filed such policy forms or endorsements with the Commission at least thirty days prior to their effective date.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendants' licenses upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendants have committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendants have been advised of their right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendants, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, have made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendants have tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) per company for an amount totaling Fifteen Thousand Dollars ($15,000) and waived their right to a hearing.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendants pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendants, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendants' offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendants in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted; and

(2) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on a market conduct examination performed by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.2-305 A of the Code of Virginia by failing to provide accurate information required by statute in its insurance policies; violated § 38.2-502 by misrepresenting the benefits, advantages, conditions or terms of insurance policies; violated § 38.2-511 by failing to maintain a complete complaint register; violated § 38.2-1906 D by making or issuing insurance contracts or policies not in accordance with the rate and supplementary rate information filings in effect for the Defendant; violated § 38.2-2204 by failing to allow permissive use of automobiles; violated §§ 38.2-610 A, 38.2-2208 A, 38.2-2208 B, 38.2-2212 D, and 38.2-2212 E by failing to properly terminate policies of insurance; violated §§ 38.2-604 A 2 and 38.2-604.1 A for failing to provide applicable notice to insureds; violated §§ 38.2-604 B, 38.2-604 C, 38.2-604.1 B, 38.2-2206 A, and 38.2-2210 A by failing to include accurate information in its notices; violated §§ 38.2-1812 and 38.2-1833 by failing to properly appoint agents and agencies; and violated 14 VAC 5-400-40 A for failing to properly handle claims.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been advised of its right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendant, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, has made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendant has tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Twenty Six Thousand Two Hundred Dollars ($26,200), waived its right to a hearing, agreed to comply with the Corrective Action Plan set forth in its letters to the Bureau of Insurance dated March 24, 2010 and April 27, 2010, and the Defendant has confirmed that restitution was made to seven (7) consumers in the amount of Seven Hundred Forty-two Dollars and Twenty-seven Cents ($742.27).

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendant pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendant, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendant's offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendant in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted; and

(2) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

JULY 30, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
NATIONAL GUARDIAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
Defendant

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, in certain instances, has violated §§ 38.2-301, 38.2-305, and 38.2-316 of the Code of Virginia by issuing policies on the life of an individual that was neither aware of the purchase nor consented to it, by failing to specify the contents of insurance policies, and by failing to properly file forms or policies with the Commission.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been advised of its right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendant, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, has made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendant has tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000), waived its right to a hearing, and agreed to comply with the Corrective Action Plan set forth in its letter to the Bureau of Insurance dated July 13, 2010.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendant pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendant, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendant's offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendant in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted; and

(2) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

JUNE 29, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In the matter of Adopting Amendments to the Rules Governing Health Maintenance Organizations

ORDER TO TAKE NOTICE

Section 12.1-13 of the Code of Virginia provides that the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") shall have the power to promulgate rules and regulations in the enforcement and administration of all laws within its jurisdiction, and § 38.2-223 of the Code of Virginia provides that the Commission may issue any rules and regulations necessary or appropriate for the administration and enforcement of Title 38.2 of the Code of Virginia.

The rules and regulations issued by the Commission pursuant to § 38.2-223 of the Code of Virginia are set forth in Title 14 of the Virginia Administrative Code.

The Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau") has submitted to the Commission proposed amendments to Chapter 211 of Title 14 of the Virginia Administrative Code entitled "Rules Governing Health Maintenance Organizations" ("Rules"), which amend the Rules at 14 VAC 5-211-70 and 14 VAC 5-211-160.

The proposed amendments to the Rules are necessary in Section 70 at the request of the Virginia Association of Health Plans to conform amendments to § 38.2-3541 of the Code of Virginia passed by the 2010 General Assembly with regard to group health insurance continuation and conversion requirements. Amendments to Section 160 of the Rules are necessary to conform its amendments to § 38.2-3412.1 of the Code of Virginia regarding mental health parity.

The Commission is of the opinion that the proposed amendments to 14 VAC 5-211-70 and 14 VAC 5-211-160 should be considered for adoption.

THEREFORE, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The proposed amendments to the "Rules Governing Health Maintenance Organizations," which amend the Rules at 14 VAC 5-211-70 and 14 VAC 5-211-160, be attached hereto and made a part hereof.

(2) All interested persons who desire to comment in support of or in opposition to, or request a hearing to oppose the adoption of the proposed amendments, shall file such comments or hearing request on or before August 16, 2010, with the Clerk of the Commission, Document Control Center, P.O. Box 2118, Richmond, Virginia 23218 and shall refer to Case No. INS-2010-00118. Interested persons desiring to submit comments electronically may do so by following the instructions available at the Commission's website: http://www.scc.virginia.gov/caseinfo.htm.

(3) If no written request for a hearing on the proposed amendments is filed on or before August 16, 2010, the Commission, upon consideration of any comments submitted in support of or in opposition to the proposed amendments, may adopt the amendments proposed by the Bureau of Insurance.

(4) AN ATTESTED COPY hereof, together with a copy of the proposed amendments, shall be sent by the Clerk of the Commission to the Bureau of Insurance in care of Deputy Commissioner Jacqueline K. Cunningham, who forthwith shall give further notice of the proposed adoption of the amendments by mailing a copy of this Order, together with the proposed amendments, to all insurers licensed by the Commission as health maintenance organizations in the Commonwealth of Virginia, as well as all interested parties.

(5) The Commission's Division of Information Resources forthwith shall cause a copy of this Order, together with the proposed amendments, to be forwarded to the Virginia Registrar of Regulations for appropriate publication in the Virginia Register of Regulations.

(6) The Commission's Division of Information Resources shall make available this Order and the attached proposed amendments on the Commission's website: http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case.

(7) The Bureau of Insurance shall file with the Clerk of the Commission an affidavit of compliance with the notice requirements of paragraph (4) above.

NOTE: A copy of Attachment A entitled "Rules Governing Health Maintenance Organizations" is on file and may be examined at the State Corporation Commission, Clerk's Office, Document Control Center, Tyler Building, First Floor, 1300 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia.

AUGUST 31, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In the matter of Adopting Amendments to the Rules Governing Health Maintenance Organizations

ORDER ADOPTING AMENDMENTS TO RULES

By Order entered herein June 29, 2010, all interested persons were ordered to take notice that subsequent to August 16, 2010, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") would consider the entry of an order adopting amendments proposed by the Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau") to the Commission's Rules Governing Health Maintenance Organizations ("Rules"), set forth in Chapter 211 of Title 14 of the Virginia Administrative Code, unless on or before August 16, 2010, any person objecting to the adoption of the proposed amendments filed a request for hearing with the Clerk of the Commission (the "Clerk").

The Order to Take Notice also required all interested persons to file their comments in support of or in opposition to the proposed amendments on or before August 16, 2010.

Comments were filed by the Virginia Association of Health Plans ("VAHP") on August 13, 2010. No request for a hearing was filed with the Clerk.

The Bureau considered the comments filed by the VAHP, and responded to these comments by letter dated August 23, 2010, a copy of which is filed in the case file. The Bureau recommends that the proposed rules be amended at 14 VAC 5-211-70 in response to these comments as follows:

- change references from "group policy" to "group contract";

- add language indicating that the continuation of coverage provisions are not applicable if continuation of coverage is required under COBRA; and

- change the reference from "insurer's" to "health care plan's" current rate.

The amendments to the Rules are necessary to conform the Rules to (i) amendments made to § 38.2-3541 of the Code of Virginia regarding group health insurance continuation and conversion requirements and (ii) § 38.2-3412.1 of the Code of Virginia regarding mental health parity.

THE COMMISSION, having considered the proposed amendments, the filed comments, the Bureau's letter response, and the Bureau's recommendation for additional amendments, is of the opinion that the attached amendments to the Rules should be adopted.

THEREFORE IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The amendments to Chapter 211 of Title 14 of the Virginia Administrative Code entitled "Rules Governing Health Maintenance Organizations," amended at 14 VAC 5-211-70 and 14 VAC 5-211-160, which are attached hereto and made a part hereof, should be, and they are hereby, ADOPTED to be effective January 1, 2011.

(2) AN ATTESTED COPY hereof, together with a copy of the adopted amendments, shall be sent by the Clerk of the Commission to Jacqueline K. Cunningham, Deputy Commissioner, Bureau of Insurance, State Corporation Commission, who forthwith shall give further notice of the adoption of the amendments to the Rules by mailing a copy of this Order, including a clean copy of the final amended Rules, to all insurers licensed by the Commission as health maintenance organizations in the Commonwealth of Virginia, as well as all interested parties.

(3) The Commission's Division of Information Resources shall cause a copy of this Order, together with the amended Rules, to be forwarded to the Virginia Registrar of the Regulations for appropriate publication in the Virginia Register of Regulations and shall make this Order and the attached amended Rules available on the Commission's website, http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case.

(4) The Bureau shall file with the Clerk of the Commission an affidavit of compliance with the notice requirements of paragraph (2) above.

JULY 21, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
EQUIFAX SETTLEMENT SERVICES, LLC,
Defendant

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 6.1-2.26 of the Code of Virginia by acting as a settlement agent without being properly registered with the Virginia State Bar.

The Commission is authorized by § 6.1-2.27 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties and to suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations of Chapter 1.3 (§ 6.1-2.19 et seq.) of Title 6.1 of the Code of Virginia.

The Commission is also authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been advised of its right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendant, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, has made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendant has tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) and waived its right to a hearing.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendant pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendant, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendant's offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendant in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted; and

(2) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-2010-00126
NOVEMBER 8, 2010

APPLICATION OF
NATIONAL COUNCIL ON COMPENSATION INSURANCE, INC.

For revisions of advisory loss costs and assigned risk workers' compensation insurance rates

FINAL ORDER

On July 16, 2010, the National Council on Compensation Insurance, Inc. ("NCCI"), filed an application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") for approval of certain changes applicable to voluntary market advisory loss costs and assigned risk rates and rating values for new and renewal workers' compensation insurance policies becoming effective on or after April 1, 2011 ("Application"). The Application consists of two separate filings: a voluntary market loss cost filing and an assigned risk market rate filing. The voluntary loss cost filing addresses two categories of workers' compensation classifications: (i) industrial classification, including coal mine classifications, and (ii) federal ("F") classifications. The assigned risk rate filing addresses the same two categories.

With respect to voluntary loss costs, NCCI proposed an overall decrease of 12.4% for industrial classifications; a decrease of 3.8% for F classifications; a decrease of 23.5% for the surface coal mine classification; and an increase of 0.6% for the underground coal mine classification.

With respect to the assigned risk rates, NCCI proposed an overall decrease of 14.1% for industrial classifications; a decrease of 5.2% for F classifications; a decrease of 25.2% for the surface coal mine classification; and a decrease of 0.7% for the underground coal mine classification.

Jay A. Rosen ("Rosen") and Dr. Harry L. Shuford ("Shuford") filed direct testimony and exhibits on behalf of NCCI. Shuford recommended changes to the current methodology upon which the assigned risk rates are calculated. The recommended changes related to revisions to the internal rate of return model used to calculate the indicated assigned risk profit and contingencies provision in order to address what he viewed as inconsistent treatment of expenses by the model.

On July 29, 2010, the Commission entered an Order Scheduling Hearing, wherein the Commission docketed the case; required publication of the notice of proceeding; outlined a procedural schedule that provided respondents with the opportunity to participate and file testimony and exhibits; and scheduled an evidentiary hearing to investigate whether the rates and advisory loss costs set forth in the Application are excessive, inadequate, or unfairly discriminatory, and if there were any other issues subject to investigation.

On August 5, 2010, the Iron Workers Employers Association and the Washington Construction Employers Association (collectively, "Respondents") filed their Notice of Participation. On August 20, 2010, the Office of the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Counsel ("Consumer Counsel") filed its Notice of Participation.

On September 10, 2010, Glenn A. Watkins ("Watkins"), David C. Parcell ("Parcell"), and Scott J. Lefkowitz ("Lefkowitz") filed direct testimony and exhibits on behalf of the Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau"). The Bureau supported NCCI's proposed decreases to the voluntary loss costs. With respect to the assigned risk rates, the Bureau recommended the following: (i) an overall decrease of 16.0% for industrial classifications compared to a 14.1% decrease proposed by NCCI; (ii) a decrease of 7.3% for F classifications compared to a 5.2% decrease proposed by NCCI; (iii) a decrease of 26.5% for the surface coal mine classification compared to 25.2% decrease proposed by NCCI; and (iv) a decrease of 2.5% for the underground mine classification compared to 0.7% proposed by NCCI.

The differences between NCCI's proposed changes to assigned risk rates and the Bureau's recommended changes to assigned risk rates are due to Watkins' disagreement with NCCI's proposed changes to the current methodology used to calculate the indicated assigned risk profit and contingencies provision in assigned risk rates.

On October 1, 2010, Rosen and Shuford filed rebuttal testimony in which they accepted the proposed voluntary loss cost changes but disagreed with the proposed assigned risk rate changes recommended by Lefkowitz in his direct testimony. NCCI's disagreement with Lefkowitz's recommended changes stemmed from Lefkowitz's reliance on Watkins' indicated assigned risk profit and contingencies provision. Shuford continued to maintain that expenses within the currently approved internal rate of return model are treated in an inconsistent manner.

On October 19, 2010, the Bureau and NCCI filed a Joint Pre-Trial Motion for Approval of Stipulation to Admit Testimony ("Joint Pre-Trial Motion") requesting that the testimony and exhibits of Rosen, Shuford, Parcell, Lefkowitz, and Watkins be admitted into the record without personal appearances or verifications by those witnesses at the hearing. With respect to the unresolved matter involving the calculation of the indicated assigned risk profit and contingencies provision, NCCI and the Bureau agreed to address this area of disagreement in the upcoming working group, and for purposes of compromise, to average the final assigned rate indications proposed in the rebuttal testimony of Rosen and the direct testimony of Lefkowitz as follows: (i) a decrease of 15.1% in the overall average rate level for industrial classifications in the assigned risk plan; (ii) a decrease of 6.2% in the overall average rate level for "F" classifications in the assigned risk plan; and (iii) a decrease of 25.8% and 1.5% in the overall average rate level for the surface and underground coal mine classifications, respectively, in the assigned risk plan.

On October 26, 2010, the hearing was held in the Commission's courtroom in Richmond, Virginia, to consider the Application. Charles H. Tenser, Esquire, appeared on behalf of NCCI; Scott A. White, Esquire, appeared on behalf of the Bureau; and Kiva Bland Pierce, Esquire, appeared on behalf of Consumer Counsel.

At the hearing, counsel for NCCI indicated his support for the Joint Pre-Trial Motion in his opening statement. He then called Rosen as a witness to summarize the working group's review of the changes to the class ratemaking methodology that were approved by the Commission last year in Case No. INS-2009-00142. In his opening statement, counsel for the Bureau also supported the Joint Pre-Trial Motion and noted that other than the issue involving the assigned risk profit and contingencies provision, there were no issues of disagreement between NCCI and the Bureau. Counsel for Consumer Counsel indicated no objection to the entry of an order approving the Joint Pre-Trial Motion. Hearing no objection to the Joint Pre-Trial Motion, the Commission granted the motion.

The Commission has considered the record in its entirety, including the Application, the pre-filed testimony and rebuttal testimony, the Joint Pre-Trial Motion to stipulate certain witnesses' testimony, and the evidence and exhibits presented at the hearing.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The following changes applicable to voluntary market advisory loss costs and assigned risk rates shall be, and they are hereby, APPROVED, for use with respect to new and renewal workers' compensation insurance policies effective on or after April 1, 2011: (i) an overall decrease of 12.4% to the voluntary loss costs for industrial classifications; (ii) a decrease in the voluntary loss costs of 3.8% for F classifications; (iii) a decrease in the voluntary loss costs of 23.5% for the surface coal mine classification; (iv) an increase in the voluntary loss costs of 0.6% for the underground coal mine classification; (v) an overall decrease of 15.1% to the assigned risk rates for industrial classifications; (vi) a decrease to the assigned risk rates of 6.2% for F classifications; (vii) a decrease to the assigned risk rates of 25.8% for the surface coal mine classification; and (viii) a decrease to the assigned risk rates of 1.5% for the underground coal mine classification.

(2) Except as otherwise ordered herein, all other proposed revisions that have been filed by NCCI in this proceeding on behalf of its members and subscribers, including those relating to minimum premiums, rating values, rules, regulations and procedures for writing workers' compensation voluntary loss costs and assigned risk rates shall be, and they are hereby, APPROVED, for use with respect to new and renewal policies effective on or after April 1, 2011.

(3) The working group should, in addition to ongoing activities, continue to monitor the appropriateness and impact of the change to the methodology used to calculate loss costs and assigned risk rates for individual classifications and the impact of the change to the methodology used to calculate certain parameters that are required to determine the experience modifications of individual employers. The working group shall also study the proper methodology to be used in calculating the assigned risk profit and contingencies factor.

(4) The working group should investigate the reasons for the changes to the underlying data compiled from the United States Department of Labor database used to calculate the occupational disease components of voluntary loss costs and assigned risk rates for coal mine classifications. The working group shall report on the reasons for the changes and determine an appropriate method to compile the data.

(5) On or before June 1, 2011, NCCI, the Bureau, Consumer Counsel, and the Respondents in this proceeding, shall endeavor to recommend jointly to the Commission a proposed schedule for any year 2011 voluntary loss costs/assigned risk rate revision proceeding before the Commission. The proposed schedule shall address: (i) "pre-filing" of any discovery requests by the Bureau, Consumer Counsel, and any other parties; (ii) the date on which NCCI proposes to file with the Commission any voluntary loss costs/assigned risk rate revision application and its direct testimony; (iii) the date on which NCCI proposes to file its responses to pre-filed discovery requests; (iv) the dates for the pre-filing of the direct testimony of the Bureau, Consumer Counsel, and any respondents; (v) the date for filing by NCCI of its rebuttal testimony; and (vi) the date of any proposed hearing before the Commission.

(6) NCCI and any other persons participating in future voluntary loss costs and assigned risk rate application proceedings before the Commission, when proposing methodologies or data sources that are different from the methodologies or data sources upon which then current voluntary loss costs and/or assigned risk rate or rating values are based, shall be required to disclose the impact on voluntary loss costs and/or assigned risk rate or rating values of the change employing both the methodology it proposes to replace as well as the newly proposed methodology.

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendants, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated §§ 38.2-317 and 38.2-1906 A of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), as well as 14 VAC 5-335-10 et seq., by delivering or issuing for delivery insurance policies or endorsements without having filed such policy forms or endorsements with the Commission at least thirty (30) days prior to their effective date, by failing to file with the Commission certain rate and supplementary rate information, and by issuing policies or endorsements that did not comply with the Rules Governing Claims-Made Liability Policies.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1040 of the Code to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendants' licenses upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendants have committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendants have been advised of their right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendants, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, have made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendants have tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Sixty-six Thousand Dollars ($66,000), waived their right to a hearing, and agreed to comply with the Corrective Action Plan provided to the Bureau on June 29, 2010, which is attached and made a part of this Order.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendants pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendants, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendants' offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendants in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted;

(2) The Defendant shall comply with the attached Corrective Action Plan and shall document such compliance to the Bureau. Such compliance may be verified by the Bureau; and

(3) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.2-1826 C of the Code of Virginia by failing to report to the Commission within thirty days an administrative action that was taken against him by the State of Kentucky.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violation.

The Defendant has been notified of his right to a hearing before the Commission in this matter by certified letter dated June 2, 2010, and mailed to the Defendant's address shown in the records of the Bureau of Insurance.

The Defendant, having been advised in the above manner of his right to a hearing in this matter, has failed to request a hearing and has not otherwise communicated with the Bureau of Insurance.

The Bureau of Insurance, upon the Defendant's failure to request a hearing, has recommended that the Commission enter an order revoking all of the Defendant's licenses to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent.

THE COMMISSION is of the opinion and finds that the Defendant has violated § 38.2-1826 C of the Code of Virginia by failing to report to the Commission within thirty days an administrative action that was taken against him by the State of Kentucky.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The licenses of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby REVOKED;

(2) All appointments issued under said licenses are hereby VOID;

(3) The Defendant transact no further business in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent;

(4) The Defendant shall not apply to the Commission to be licensed as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia prior to sixty (60) days from the date of this Order;

(5) The Bureau of Insurance shall notify every insurance company for which the Defendant holds an appointment to act as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia; and

(6) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on a market conduct examination performed by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.502 (1) of the Code of Virginia by misrepresenting the benefits, advantages, conditions or terms of an insurance policy; violated § 38.2-510 A 3, as well as 14 VAC 5-400-30, 14 VAC 5-400-40 A, 14 VAC 5-400-50 C, and 14 VAC 5-400-70 A, by failing to properly handle claims; and violated § 38.2-2214 by failing to use standard forms in the precise language filed and approved by the Commission.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been advised of its right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendant, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, has made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendant has tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000), waived its right to a hearing, agreed to comply with the Corrective Action Plan set forth in its letters to the Bureau of Insurance dated May 7, 2010, and June 16, 2010, and confirmed that restitution was made to four (4) consumers in the amount of One Thousand Five Hundred Twenty-nine Dollars and Fifty-nine Cents ($1,529.59).

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendant pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendant, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendant's offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

CASE NO. INS-2010-00130
SEPTEMBER 30, 2010

PETITION OF
CATHERINE V. THOMPSON

For review of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal

FINAL ORDER

On February 12, 2009, the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond entered an Order appointing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") as Receiver of Shenandoah Life Insurance Company ("Shenandoah"). In addition, on February 12, 2009, the Commission, by Order Appointing Deputy Receiver for Conservation and Rehabilitation, appointed Alfred W. Gross, Commissioner for the Commission's Bureau of Insurance as Deputy Receiver, in accordance with Title 38.2, Chapter 15 of the Code of Virginia. Pursuant to his grant of authority, the Deputy Receiver, in his Second Directive of Deputy Receiver Adopting Receivership Appeal Procedure, established appeal procedures for appeals or challenges of any decision made by the Deputy Receiver with respect to claims made against Shenandoah.

On July 6, 2010, Catherine V. Thompson ("Petitioner") filed a Petition for Review ("Petition") with the Commission contesting the Deputy Receiver's denial of her "Hardship Request" made in connection with Shenandoah Life Policy No. 000815757.

By Order dated July 21, 2010, the Commission docketed the Petition, assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner, and directed the Deputy Receiver to file an Answer or other responsive pleading to the Petition on or before August 10, 2010.

On August 10, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed his answer and stated that the Petitioner's Hardship Request for a policy loan of $2,000 had been approved.

On August 10, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed his Motion to Dismiss and Memorandum in Support of Motion to Dismiss. In support of his Motion to Dismiss, the Deputy Receiver stated that the Petitioner's Hardship Request had been approved. The Deputy Receiver requested that the Commission dismiss the Petitioner's Petition with prejudice.

On August 11, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued her Report in which she recommended that the Deputy Receiver's Motion to Dismiss should be granted and the Petition should be dismissed with prejudice.

Also on August 11, 2010, the Deputy Receiver filed a Supplemental Answer and Supplemental Memorandum in Support of Motion to Dismiss in which he corrected his representations in his earlier pleading, stating that the maximum amount available as a policy loan to the Petitioner under the Hardship Procedure was less than the $2,000 requested. The Deputy Receiver stated that he would shortly issue a check to the Petitioner in the amount of 70% of the full surrender value of her policy as of February 12, 2009, the day that Shenandoah was placed into receivership, less loan interest. The Deputy Receiver represents that such amount is the maximum available to the Petitioner under the Hardship Exemption Procedure.

On August 13, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued her Amended Report in which she confirmed her recommendation that the Deputy Receiver's Motion to Dismiss be granted and the Petition be dismissed with prejudice.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record herein and the Report of the Hearing Examiner, is of the opinion that the findings and recommendations of the Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Deputy Receiver's Motion to Dismiss is hereby GRANTED.

(2) The Petition of Catherine V. Thompson for review of Deputy Receiver's Determination of Appeal is hereby DISMISSED.

(3) The papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on a market conduct examination performed by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.2-2118 of the Code of Virginia by failing to have available for use a notice summarizing how the replacement cost provisions would apply; violated §§ 38.2-305 B, 38.2-610 A, and 38.2-2125 by failing to include accurate information in notices; and violated §§ 38.2-1812, 38.2-1822, and 38.2-1833 by improperly sharing commissions with unlicensed persons, and by failing to properly appoint agents and agencies.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been advised of its right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendant, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, has made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendant has tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Six Thousand Dollars ($6,000), waived its right to a hearing, and agreed to comply with the Corrective Action Plan set forth in its letters to the Bureau of Insurance dated March 29, 2010, and April 29, 2010.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendant pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendant, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendant's offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated §§ 38.2-502, 38.2-1822, subsections 7 and 10 of § 38.2-1831, and 38.2-1833 of the Code of Virginia by misrepresenting the benefits, advantages, conditions or terms of insurance policies, by acting as an agent of an insurer without first obtaining a license in the manner and form prescribed by the Commission, by intentionally misrepresenting the terms of actual or proposed insurance contracts or applications for insurance, by using fraudulent, coercive, or dishonest practices in the conduct of business in the Commonwealth, and by failing to file with the Commission written notice of the appointments of certain insurance agents within thirty (30) days of the execution of the first insurance applications submitted by the agents.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been advised of its right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendant, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, has made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendant has tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Seventy-five Thousand Dollars ($75,000), waived its right to a hearing, and agreed to the entry by the Commission of a cease and desist order. The Defendant has also specifically agreed to cease and desist from using any advertisements in Virginia that are misleading or otherwise violate Virginia's advertising regulations as set forth in the Rules Governing Advertisement of Accident and Sickness Insurance, 14 VAC 5-90-10 et seq.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendant pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendant, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendant's offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

ORDER TO TAKE NOTICE

Pursuant to § 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") may suspend or revoke the license of any insurance company to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia whenever the Commission finds that the company has violated any law of this Commonwealth.

Professional Liability Insurance Company of America, a foreign corporation domiciled in the State of New York ("Defendant"), initially was licensed by the Commission to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia on May 7, 1958.

Pursuant to § 38.2-1301 of the Code and 14 VAC 5-270-50, all licensed foreign insurance companies are required to file an annual Audited Financial Report with the Commission on or before June 1 of each year. The Defendant was required to file its 2009 Audited Financial Report with the Commission on or before June 1, 2010; however, as of the date of this Order, the Defendant has failed to file such report.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that, based on the foregoing, the license of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia be suspended.

THEREFORE, IT IS ORDERED that the Defendant TAKE NOTICE that the Commission shall enter an order subsequent to August 31, 2010, suspending the license of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia unless on or before August 23, 2010, the Defendant files with the Clerk of the Commission, Document Control Center, P.O. Box 2118, Richmond, Virginia 23218, a request for a hearing before the Commission with respect to the proposed suspension of the Defendant's license.

v.
PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA,
Defendant

ORDER SUSPENDING LICENSE

In an order entered herein August 19, 2010, Professional Liability Insurance Company of America ("Defendant"), a New York corporation licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, was ordered to take notice that the Commission would enter an order subsequent to August 31, 2010, suspending the license of the Defendant to transact new business unless on or before August 23, 2010, the Defendant filed with the Clerk of the Commission a request for a hearing before the Commission to contest the proposed suspension of the Defendant's license.

The Order to take Notice was entered due to the Defendant's failure to file its 2009 Audited Financial Report with the Commission on or before June 1, 2010.

Due to financial regulatory concerns, on April 30, 2010, the Supreme Court of New York, New York County, placed the Defendant into rehabilitation and the Superintendant of Insurance of the State of New York was appointed Rehabilitator.

On October 25, 2010, the Defendant consented to the entry of an order suspending its license to transact the business of insurance in Virginia until such time as it has the financial strength to resume the transaction of the business of insurance.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED THAT:

(1) Pursuant to § 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia, the Defendant's license to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia is hereby SUSPENDED;

(2) The Defendant shall issue no new contracts or policies of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia until further order of the Commission;

(3) The appointments of the Defendant's agents to act on behalf of the Defendant in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby SUSPENDED;

(4) The Defendant's agents shall transact no new insurance business on behalf of the Defendant in the Commonwealth of Virginia until further order of the Commission;

(5) The Bureau of Insurance shall cause an attested copy of this Order to be sent to each of the Defendant's agents appointed to act on behalf of the Defendant in the Commonwealth of Virginia as notice of the suspension of such agent's appointment;

(6) The Bureau of Insurance shall cause notice of the suspension of the Defendant's license to be published in the manner set forth in § 38.2-1043 of the Code of Virginia; and

(7) The Defendant may apply at any time to the Commission to reinstate its license to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia.

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE

Based on an investigation by the Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau"), it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance as an insurance agent and a surplus lines broker in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.2-4807 A of the Code of Virginia ("Code") by failing to file the Annual Gross Premium Tax Report for 2009 on or before March 1, 2010.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, 38.2-1831, and 38.2-1857.7 of the Code to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's licenses upon finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid violation.

The Defendant has been notified of his right to a hearing in this matter by certified letter dated July 14, 2010, and mailed to the Defendant's address shown in the records of the Bureau.

The Defendant, having been advised in the above manner of his right to a hearing in this matter, failed to request a hearing.

The Bureau, upon the Defendant's failure to request a hearing, has recommended that the Commission enter an order revoking all of the Defendant's licenses to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent and a surplus lines broker.

THE COMMISSION, is of the opinion and finds that the Defendant has violated § 38.2-4807 A of the Code by failing to file the Annual Gross Premium Tax Report for 2009 on or before March 1, 2010.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT

(1) The licenses of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance as an insurance agent and a surplus lines broker in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby REVOKED;

(2) All appointments issued under said insurance licenses are hereby VOID;

(3) The Defendant shall transact no further business in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent or a surplus lines broker;

(4) The Bureau of Insurance shall cause a copy of this Order to be sent to every insurance company for which the Defendant holds an appointment to act as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia; and

(5) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendants, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.2-317 of the Code of Virginia by delivering or issuing for delivery insurance policies or endorsements without having filed such policy forms or endorsements with the Commission at least thirty (30) days prior to their effective date.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendants' licenses upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendants have committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendants have been advised of their right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendants, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, have made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendants have tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000) per company for an amount totaling Eight Thousand Dollars ($8,000), waived their right to a hearing, and agreed to comply with the Corrective Action Plan set forth in their letter to the Bureau of Insurance dated July 15, 2010.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendants pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendants, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendants' offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendants in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted; and

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
AGENCY INSURANCE COMPANY OF MARYLAND,
Defendant

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on a market conduct examination performed by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.2-305 A of the Code of Virginia by failing to provide accurate information required to be provided in insurance policies; violated § 38.2-502 by misrepresenting the benefits, advantages, conditions or terms of insurance policies; violated §§ 38.2-510 A 3 and 38.2-510 A 6, as well as 14 VAC 5-400-50 C and 14 VAC 5-400-80 D, by failing to properly handle claims; violated § 38.2-1812 by failing to properly appoint an agency; violated § 38.2-1906 D by making or issuing insurance contracts or policies not in accordance with the rate and supplementary rate information filings in effect for the Defendant; violated §§ 38.2-2208 A, 38.2-2212 D, and 38.2-2212 E by failing to properly terminate policies of insurance; and violated § 38.2-2234 A by failing to include all information required by the statute in its insurance credit disclosure notice.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been advised of its right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendant, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, has made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendant has tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Seventeen Thousand Dollars ($17,000), waived its right to a hearing, confirmed that restitution was made to twenty-one (21) consumers in the amount of Four Thousand Six Hundred Sixty-nine Dollars and Thirty Cents ($4,669.30), and agreed to comply with the Corrective Action Plan set forth in its letters to the Bureau of Insurance dated April 28, 2010 and June 30, 2010.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendant pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendant, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendant's offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendant in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted; and

(2) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE

Based on an investigation by the Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau"), it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance as an insurance agent and a surplus lines broker in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.2-4809 A of the Code of Virginia ("Code") by failing to pay the Bureau of Insurance Maintenance Assessment, Premium License Tax, and other related fines and penalties for calendar year 2009.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, 38.2-1831, and 38.2-1857.7 of the Code to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's licenses upon finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid violation.

The Defendant has been notified of his right to a hearing in this matter by certified letter dated July 21, 2010, and mailed to the Defendant's address shown in the records of the Bureau.

The Defendant, having been advised in the above manner of his right to a hearing in this matter, failed to request a hearing.

The Bureau, upon the Defendant's failure to request a hearing, has recommended that the Commission enter an order revoking all of the Defendant's licenses to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent and a surplus lines broker.

NOW THE COMMISSION is of the opinion and finds that the Defendant has violated § 38.2-4809 A of the Code by failing to pay the Bureau of Insurance Maintenance Assessment, Premium License Tax, and other related fines and penalties for calendar year 2009.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The licenses of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance as an insurance agent and a surplus lines broker in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby REVOKED;

(2) All appointments issued under said insurance licenses are hereby VOID;

(3) The Defendant shall transact no further business in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent or a surplus lines broker;

(4) The Bureau of Insurance shall cause a copy of this Order to be sent to every insurance company for which the Defendant holds an appointment to act as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia; and

(5) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendants, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated §§ 38.2-317 and 38.2-1906 D of the Code of Virginia by delivering or issuing for delivery insurance policies or endorsements without having filed such policy forms or endorsements with the Commission at least thirty (30) days prior to their effective date, and by making or issuing insurance contracts or policies not in accordance with the rate and supplementary rate information filings in effect for the Defendants.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendants' licenses upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendants have committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendants have been advised of their right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendants, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, have made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendants have tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000) per company for an amount totaling Fourteen Thousand Dollars ($14,000), waived their right to a hearing, and agreed to comply with the Corrective Action Plan set forth in their letter to the Bureau of Insurance dated June 4, 2010.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendants pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendants, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendants' offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendants in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted; and

(2) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

ORDER TO TAKE NOTICE

Pursuant to § 38.2-6002 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") may suspend or revoke the license of any viatical settlement provider to act as a viatical settlement provider in the Commonwealth of Virginia whenever the Commission finds that the viatical settlement provider no longer meets the requirements for licensure as a viatical settlement provider in the Commonwealth of Virginia. Section 38-2-6002 of the Code requires that prior to the issuance of a license to act as a viatical settlement provider, the Commission must find that the applicant, if it is a nonresident limited liability company, has furnished proof of its authority to transact business in the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Vespers, LLC, a nonresident limited liability corporation domiciled in Washington, D.C. ("Defendant"), is licensed by the Commission to act as a viatical settlement provider. On December 31, 2009, the Defendant's certificate of authority to transact business in Virginia was cancelled.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that, based on the foregoing, the license of the Defendant to act as a viatical settlement provider in the Commonwealth of Virginia be suspended.

THEREFORE, IT IS ORDERED that the Defendant TAKE NOTICE that the Commission shall enter an order subsequent to September 20, 2010, suspending the license of the Defendant to act as a viatical settlement provider in the Commonwealth of Virginia unless on or before September 20, 2010, the Defendant files with the Clerk of the Commission, Document Control Center, P.O. Box 2118, Richmond, Virginia 23218, a request for a hearing before the Commission with respect to the proposed suspension of the Defendant's license.

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated §§ 38.2-502, 38.2-503, and 38.2-512 of the Code of Virginia by misrepresenting the benefits, advantages, conditions or terms of an insurance policy, by making, publishing, disseminating, circulating, or placing before the public an advertisement, announcement or statement containing an assertion, representation or statement relating to the business of insurance which was untrue, deceptive or misleading, and by making or causing or allowing to be made false statements or representations on or relative to an application for an insurance policy for the purpose of obtaining a fee, commission, or other benefit.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been advised of his right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendant, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, has made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendant has tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Seven Thousand Dollars ($7,000), waived his right to a hearing, agreed to complete six (6) hours of Continuing Education ethics classes within one (1) year of the date of entry of this Order, and agreed to provide proof to the Bureau of Insurance that the ethics classes have been completed.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendant pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendant, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendant's offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendant in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted; and

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated §§ 38.2-502, 38.2-512, 38.2-1812, and 38.2-1822 of the Code of Virginia by misrepresenting the benefits, advantages, conditions or terms of an insurance policy, by making false or fraudulent statements or representations on or relative to an application or any document or communication relating to the business of insurance for the purpose of obtaining a fee, commission, money, or other benefit from any insurer, agent, broker, premium finance company, or individual, by directly or indirectly sharing commissions or other valuable consideration with a person who was not properly licensed and appointed, and by knowingly permitting a person to act as an insurance agent without such person first obtaining a license in the manner and form prescribed by the Commission.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been advised of his right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendant, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, has made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendant has tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000), waived his right to a hearing, and agreed to be placed on probation for a period of two (2) years from the date of entry of this Order. As a condition of probation, the Defendant has agreed to comply with all provisions of Title 38.2 of the Code of Virginia. If, during the period of probation the Bureau has good cause to believe that the Defendant has violated the terms and conditions of the probation, the Bureau will initiate formal administrative action to permanently revoke the Defendant's insurance agent licenses.

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendant pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendant, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendant's offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendant in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted;

(2) The Defendant will be placed on probation for a period of two (2) years from the date of entry of this Order; and

(3) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-2010-00205
DECEMBER 2, 2010

PETITION OF
ANTHEM HEALTH PLANS OF VIRGINIA, INC.,
and
HEALTHKEEPERS, INC.

For approval to have vendors located outside the United States contact providers in order to maintain, update, make changes to, or otherwise key information within provider databases

FINAL ORDER

On September 30, 2010, Anthem Health Plans of Virginia, Inc., and HealthKeepers, Inc. (collectively, "Anthem" or "Petitioners"), filed a Petition under Rule 5 VAC 5-20-80 of the State Corporation Commission's ("Commission") Rules of Practice and Procedure and the Final Order ("Final Order") entered in Case No. INS-2007-00141.[1] In the Final Order, the Commission continued the requirement that Anthem cause the following services to be provided from offices located within the Commonwealth of Virginia: claims processing and case management, customer service, quality management, provider services, medical management, and network development. The Commission permitted Anthem to provide the following services from offices located outside of the Commonwealth of Virginia: actuarial, underwriting, marketing, community relations, distribution management, and sales. In the Final Order, the Commission also provided that if Anthem seeks to provide any of the aforementioned services from offices located outside of the Commonwealth of Virginia, it should seek permission from the Commission by filing a petition " . . . setting forth a specific and detailed proposal for providing such services out of state, including specific and detailed information on how and where Anthem will provide such services, as well as safeguards for ensuring adequate levels of service."[2]

In the Petition, Anthem requests that the Commission issue an Order that "approves Anthem's request to contract with vendors outside of the United States in order to directly contact providers in order to maintain, update, make changes to, or otherwise key information into Anthem's provider databases."[3]

Anthem represented in the Petition that "the ultimate goal of this Petition is to effectively manage and enhance the timeliness by which Anthem's provider information is obtained, keyed and made readily available to associates in order to manage internal workflows and reduce the potential for claims adjustment due to out-dated provider information."[4]

On October 7, 2010, the Commission entered a Scheduling Order in which it found that interested persons should be given an opportunity to comment and participate in the case. The Commission provided a deadline of October 18, 2010, for persons to comment and directed the Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau") to file a response to the Petition on or before October 25, 2010.

On October 18, 2010, the Medical Society of Virginia ("MSV"), filed a Notice of Participation and Objection to the Petition. The MSV objects to approval of the Petition, stating that it would "likely delay the timely delivery of health care, unfairly increase the work load of physician office personnel in having to deal with Anthem vendors located outside of the United States and consume valuable health care dollars which can best be directed at the delivery of patient care as opposed to consumed by being placed on hold, punted from one operator to another or repeating the same information over and over again."[5]

Also on October 18, 2010, the Virginia Medical Group Managers Association ("VMGMA") filed Comments objecting to the Petition, stating that the proposal would add cost and create less efficiency for thousands of physicians in Virginia.[6] The Division of Consumer Counsel of the Office of the Attorney General ("Consumer Counsel") also filed a Notice of Participation and Comments on October 18, 2010, asserting that Anthem's Petition does not indicate how the granting of its request will be in the best interest of the providers.[7]

The Bureau filed its response on October 22, 2010 stating that it does not oppose the relief requested by Anthem.

On November 2, 2010, Anthem filed a Motion ("Anthem Motion") for Permission to Respond to Comments and a Response to Comments ("Anthem Response"). In Anthem's Response to the MSV's objection, Anthem claims that, in the 13 states where WellPoint (its parent) outsources to vendors outside the United States, the proposed system works with great success.[8] In addition, Anthem states that it already off-shores the types of calls described in its Petition today for certain Virginia-based self-funded groups whose claims are processed on non-local systems without complaint from Virginia providers.[9]

In its Response to Comments by Consumer Counsel, Anthem asserts that training and monitoring of oversees personnel assure that services will not be degraded by allowing offshore vendors to make calls of the types encompassed by the Petition.[10] Anthem further states that off-shoring is the best option in this case because it is already a successful established process that can easily absorb the additional work from Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the Petition, the responses thereto, and Anthem's Motion and Response, finds that the Motion should be granted and the Petition should be denied. After considering Anthem's Motion and Petition and the objections lodged by the MSV and VMGMA, we find that Anthem has not met its burden of proof of persuading the Commission that its request to contract with vendors outside of the United States will not degrade the quality of communications and service to Virginians.

PETITION OF
ANTHEM HEALTH PLANS OF VIRGINIA, INC.,
and
HEALTHKEEPERS, INC.

For approval to provide utilization management and case management for members receiving benefits under a Medicaid or CHIP managed care plan from locations outside of Virginia

FINAL ORDER

On September 30, 2010, Anthem Health Plans of Virginia, Inc., and HealthKeepers, Inc. (collectively, "Anthem" or "Petitioners"), filed a Petition under Rule 5 VAC 5-20-80 of the State Corporation Commission's ("Commission") Rules of Practice and Procedure and the Final Order ("Final Order") entered in Case No. INS-2007-00141.[1] In the Final Order, the Commission continued the requirement that Anthem cause the following services to be provided from offices located within the Commonwealth of Virginia: claims processing and case management, customer service, quality management, provider services, medical management, and network development. In the Petition, Anthem requests that the Commission issue an Order that "approves Anthem's provision of utilization management and case management for members receiving benefits under a Medicaid/CHIP Managed Care plan from locations outside of Virginia, but within the United States."[3]

On October 7, 2010, the Commission entered a Scheduling Order, in which it found that interested persons should be given an opportunity to comment and participate in the case. The Commission provided a deadline of October 18, 2010, for persons to comment and directed the Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau") to file a response to the Petition on or before October 25, 2010.

No comments were filed on the Petition. The Bureau filed a response on October 22, 2010, stating that it does not oppose the relief requested by Anthem.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the Petition and the Bureau's response thereto, finds that the Petition should be granted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Anthem's Petition is GRANTED.

(2) Anthem is permitted to provide utilization management and case management for members receiving benefits under a Medicaid/CHIP Managed Care plan from locations outside of Virginia, but within the United States.

SETTLEMENT ORDER

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendants, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.2-305 A of the Code of Virginia by failing to provide accurate information required by statute in their insurance policies; violated § 38.2-305 B by failing to include accurate information in their notices; violated § 38.2-317 A by failing to use forms on file with the Bureau; violated § 38.2-502 by misrepresenting the benefits, advantages, conditions or terms of an insurance policy; violated §§ 38.2-510 A 3 and 38.2-510 A 10 by failing to properly handle claims; violated § 38.2-511 by failing to maintain a complete complaint register; violated § 38.2-610 A by failing to provide insureds with written notice of an adverse underwriting decision; violated § 38.2-1318 by failing to provide convenient access to files, documents, and records relating to an examination; violated § 38.2-1812 E by paying commissions to a trade name that was not registered with the Bureau; violated § 38.2-1822 A by knowingly permitting unlicensed entities to act as agents on behalf of the companies; violated § 38.2-1833 by failing to properly appoint agents and agencies; violated § 38.2-1905 A by failing to notify insureds in writing when their policies were surcharged for at-fault accidents; violated § 38.2-1906 D by making or issuing insurance contracts or policies not in accordance with the rate and supplementary rate information filings in effect for the Defendants; violated §§ 38.2-604 B, 38.2-604 C, 38-2-604.1 B, 38.2-2124, 38.2-2202 A, and 38.2-2210 A for failing to include accurate information in their notices as required by these statutes; violated §§ 38.2-2113 C, 38.2-2114 A, 38.2-2208, and 38.2-2212 F by failing to properly terminate policies of insurance; violated §§ 38.2-2214 and 38.2-2220 for failing to use standard forms; violated § 38.2-2234 A by failing to include all information required by statute in their insurance credit disclosure notices; and violated 14 VAC 5-400-30, 14 VAC 5-400-40 A, 14 VAC 5-400-50 C, and 14 VAC 5-400-80 D by failing to properly handle claims.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendants' licenses upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendants have committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendants have been advised of their right to a hearing in this matter, whereupon the Defendants, without admitting any violation of Virginia law, have made an offer of settlement to the Commission wherein the Defendants have tendered to the Commonwealth of Virginia the sum of Two Hundred One Thousand Dollars ($201,000), waived their right to a hearing, agreed to comply with the Corrective Action Plan set forth in their letters to the Bureau of Insurance dated April 5, 2010, May 27, 2010, and August 6, 2010, and have confirmed that restitution was made to 26 consumers in the amount of Four Thousand Four Hundred Sixty-three Dollars and Seventy-six Cents ($4,463.76).

The Bureau of Insurance has recommended that the Commission accept the offer of settlement of the Defendants pursuant to the authority granted the Commission in § 12.1-15 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the offer of settlement of the Defendants, and the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance, is of the opinion that the Defendants' offer should be accepted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The offer of the Defendants in settlement of the matter set forth herein be, and it is hereby, accepted; and

(2) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

Ex Parte: In the matter of Approval of a Multi-State Regulatory Settlement Agreement Between Allstate Insurance Company, et al. and the Insurance Commissioners of the States of Illinois, Florida, Iowa, and New York, for the Virginia State Corporation Commission Bureau of Insurance

ORDER APPROVING SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

ON THIS DAY came the Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau"), by counsel, and requested Commission approval and acceptance of a multi-state Regulatory Settlement Agreement ("Agreement") dated August 27, 2010, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof, by and between the Commissioners of Insurance for the States of Illinois, Florida, Iowa, and New York, and Allstate Indemnity Company, Allstate Insurance Company, Allstate Fire and Casualty Insurance Company, Allstate Property and Casualty Insurance Company, Deerbrook Insurance Company, Encompass Indemnity Company, Encompass Insurance Company, Encompass Insurance Company of America, Encompass Property and Casualty Insurance Company, Encompass Independent Insurance Company, and Northbrook Indemnity Company (collectively, "Allstate Companies"), which are licensed to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia.

AND THE COMMISSION, having considered the terms of the Agreement together with the recommendation of the Bureau that the Commission approve and accept the Agreement, is of the opinion, and finds, and ORDERS that the Agreement be, and it is hereby, APPROVED AND ACCEPTED.

NOTE: A copy of Attachment A entitled "Multi-State Market Conduct Regulatory Agreement" is on file and may be examined at the State Corporation Commission, Clerk's Office, Document Control Center, Tyler Building, First Floor, 1300 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia.

CASE NO. INS-2010-00214
OCTOBER 20, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In the matter of Repealing and Adopting New Rules Governing Advertisement of Life Insurance and Annuities

ORDER TO TAKE NOTICE

Section 12.1-13 of the Code of Virginia provides that the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") shall have the power to promulgate rules and regulations in the enforcement and administration of all laws within its jurisdiction, and § 38.2-223 of the Code of Virginia provides that the Commission may issue any rules and regulations necessary or appropriate for the administration and enforcement of Title 38.2 of the Code of Virginia.

The rules and regulations issued by the Commission pursuant to § 38.2-223 of the Code of Virginia are set forth in Title 14 of the Virginia Administrative Code.

The Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau") has submitted to the Commission a proposal to repeal Chapter 40 of Title 14 of the Virginia Administrative Code entitled Rules Governing Life Insurance and Annuity Marketing Practices ("Rules"), which are set out at 14 VAC 5-40-10 through 14 VAC 5-40-80, and proposes a new chapter, Chapter 41 of Title 14 of the Virginia Administrative Code entitled Rules Governing Advertisement of Life Insurance and Annuities ("Proposed Rules") set forth at 14 VAC 5-41-10 through 14 VAC 5-41-160.

The repeal of Chapter 40 is necessary because the Rules are old and outdated, and many provisions are no longer applicable to current advertisement practices.

The Proposed Rules in Chapter 41 address and clarify many of the advertisement requirements found in the Code of Virginia, retain some of the provisions from Chapter 40, and more closely follow the National Association of Insurance Commissioners' (NAIC) Model Regulation on this subject. The Proposed Rules establish the form and content of advertisements and general disclosure requirements, set standards for advertisements that include information on premiums, nonguaranteed policy elements and benefits, address policy costs and cost comparison requirements, insurer identity, advertisements using testimonials or offering introductory or special offers, requirements for policies sold to students and licensing, as well as approval and records maintenance requirements.

The Commission is of the opinion that the Rules contained in Chapter 40 of Title 14 of the Virginia Administrative Code should be repealed, and the Proposed Rules at Chapter 41 of Title 14 of the Virginia Administrative Code should be considered for adoption.

THEREFORE, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The proposal that Chapter 40 of Title 14 of the Virginia Administrative Code set out at 14 VAC 5-40-10 through 14 VAC 5-40-80 be repealed and a new chapter proposed at Chapter 41 of Title 14 of the Virginia Administrative Code set forth at 14 VAC 5-41-10 through 14 VAC 5-41-160, be attached hereto and made a part hereof.

(2) All interested persons who desire to comment in support of or in opposition to, or request a hearing to oppose the repeal of Chapter 40 and the adoption of the proposed new Chapter 41 shall file such comments or hearing request on or before December 17, 2010, with the Clerk of the Commission, Document Control Center, P.O. Box 2118, Richmond, Virginia 23218 and shall refer to Case No. INS-2010-00214. Interested persons desiring to submit comments electronically may do so by following the instructions at the Commission's website: http://www.scc.virginia.gov/caseinfo.htm.

(3) If no written request for a hearing on the proposed repeal and adoption of new rules is filed on or before December 17, 2010, the Commission, upon consideration of any comments submitted in support of or in opposition to the proposal, may repeal Chapter 40 and adopt proposed Chapter 41 of Title 14 of the Virginia Administrative Code as proposed by the Bureau of Insurance.

(4) AN ATTESTED COPY hereof, together with a copy of the proposal to repeal and adopt new rules, shall be sent by the Clerk of the Commission to the Bureau of Insurance in care of Deputy Commissioner Jacqueline K. Cunningham, who forthwith shall give further notice of the proposal to repeal and adopt new rules by mailing a copy of this Order, together with the proposal, to all insurers licensed by the Commission to write life insurance and annuity contracts in the Commonwealth of Virginia, as well as all interested parties.

(5) The Commission's Division of Information Resources forthwith shall cause a copy of this Order, together with the proposal to repeal and adopt new rules, to be forwarded to the Virginia Registrar of Regulations for appropriate publication in the Virginia Register of Regulations.

(6) The Commission's Division of Information Resources shall make available this Order and the attached proposed revisions to the Rules on the Commission's website: http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case.

(7) The Bureau of Insurance shall file with the Clerk of the Commission an affidavit of compliance with the notice requirements of paragraph (4) above.

NOTE: A copy of Attachment A entitled "Rules Governing Advertisement of Life Insurance and Annuities" is on file and may be examined at the State Corporation Commission, Clerk's Office, Document Control Center, Tyler Building, First Floor, 1300 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia.

CASE NO. INS-2010-00215
OCTOBER 21, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
NYDIA WHYTE,
Defendant

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.2-1826 C of the Code of Virginia by failing to report to the Commission within thirty days an administrative action that was taken against her by the State of West Virginia.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violation.

The Defendant has been notified of her right to a hearing before the Commission in this matter by certified letter dated September 15, 2010, and mailed to the Defendant's address shown in the records of the Bureau of Insurance.

The Defendant, having been advised in the above manner of her right to a hearing in this matter, has failed to request a hearing and has not otherwise communicated with the Bureau of Insurance.

The Bureau of Insurance, upon the Defendant's failure to request a hearing, has recommended that the Commission enter an order revoking all of the Defendant's licenses to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent.

THE COMMISSION is of the opinion and finds that the Defendant has violated § 38.2-1826 C of the Code of Virginia by failing to report to the Commission within thirty days an administrative action that was taken against her by the State of West Virginia.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The licenses of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby REVOKED;

(2) All appointments issued under said licenses are hereby VOID;

(3) The Defendant transact no further business in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent;

(4) The Defendant shall not apply to the Commission to be licensed as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia prior to sixty (60) days from the date of this Order;

(5) The Bureau of Insurance shall notify every insurance company for which the Defendant holds an appointment to act as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia; and

(6) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

DECEMBER 2, 2010

PETITION OF
ANTHEM HEALTH PLANS OF VIRGINIA, INC.
and
HEALTHKEEPERS, INC.

For approval to provide quality management services from locations outside of Virginia for member grievances on provider quality of care

FINAL ORDER

On October 15, 2010, Anthem Health Plans of Virginia, Inc., and HealthKeepers, Inc. (collectively, "Anthem" or "Petitioners"), filed a Petition under Rule 5 VAC 5-20-80 of the State Corporation Commission's ("Commission") Rules of Practice and Procedure and the Final Order ("Final Order") entered in Case No. INS-2007-00141.[1] In the Final Order, the Commission continued the requirement that Anthem cause the following services to be provided from offices located within the Commonwealth of Virginia: claims processing and case management, customer service, quality management, provider services, medical management, and network development. The Commission permitted Anthem to provide the following services from offices located outside of the Commonwealth of Virginia: actuarial, underwriting, marketing, community relations, distribution management, and sales. In the Final Order, the Commission also provided that if Anthem seeks to provide any of the aforementioned services from offices located outside of the Commonwealth of Virginia, it should seek permission from the Commission by filing a petition " . . . setting forth a specific and detailed proposal for providing such services out of state, including specific and detailed information on how and where Anthem will provide such services, as well as safeguards for ensuring adequate levels of service."[2]

In the Petition, Anthem requests "relief, in part, from the requirements in the Final Order for quality management services for member grievances concerning provider quality of care to be provided only in Virginia."[3] Anthem further represents that such quality management services will, if the Petition is granted, be performed by registered nurses located in Kentucky, Ohio, and Missouri.

On November 1, 2010, the Medical Society of Virginia, filed a Notice of Participation in which it stated that the "Medical Society does not oppose the Anthem Petition and will continue to monitor closely the feedback from its physician members as to how Anthem performs should this petition be granted."[4] The Medical Society of Virginia also stated that it "reserves the right to seek relief and reversal of any relief granted to Anthem if the performance by Anthem or its agents as outlined in the Petition causes disruption, delay, work loan increases or creates difficulties in the delivery of health care by its physician members."[5]

On November 5, 2010, the Division of Consumer Counsel of the Office of the Attorney General ("Consumer Counsel") filed comments in which it neither supported nor opposed the requested relief.

On November 15, 2010, the Bureau filed a response stating that it does not oppose the relief requested by Anthem.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the Petition and the responses thereto, finds that the Petition should be granted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Anthem's Petition is GRANTED.

v.
GABRIELLE R. HALL,
Defendant

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated §§ 38.2-1826 A and C of the Code of Virginia by failing to report within thirty days to the Commission and to every insurer for which she is appointed a change in her residence address, and by failing to report to the Commission within thirty (30) days an administrative action that was taken against her by the State of California.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been notified of her right to a hearing before the Commission in this matter by certified letter dated September 24, 2010, and mailed to the Defendant's address shown in the records of the Bureau of Insurance.

The Defendant, having been advised in the above manner of her right to a hearing in this matter, has failed to request a hearing and has not otherwise communicated with the Bureau of Insurance.

The Bureau of Insurance, upon the Defendant's failure to request a hearing, has recommended that the Commission enter an order revoking all of the Defendant's licenses to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent.

NOW THE COMMISSION is of the opinion and finds that the Defendant has violated §§ 38.2-1826 A and C of the Code of Virginia by failing to report within thirty (30) days to the Commission and to every insurer for which she is appointed a change in her residence address, and by failing to report to the Commission within thirty (30) days an administrative action that was taken against her by the State of California.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The licenses of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby REVOKED;

(2) All appointments issued under said licenses are hereby VOID;

(3) The Defendant transact no further business in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent;

(4) The Defendant shall not apply to the Commission to be licensed as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia prior to sixty (60) days from the date of this Order;

(5) The Bureau of Insurance shall notify every insurance company for which the Defendant holds an appointment to act as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia; and

Defendant

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.2-1819 of the Code of Virginia by failing to make a written application to the Commission in the form and containing the information the Commission prescribes.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violation.

The Defendant has been notified of her right to a hearing before the Commission in this matter by certified letter dated September 29, 2010, and mailed to the Defendant's address shown in the records of the Bureau of Insurance.

The Defendant, having been advised in the above manner of her right to a hearing in this matter, has failed to request a hearing and has not otherwise communicated with the Bureau of Insurance.

The Bureau of Insurance, upon the Defendant's failure to request a hearing, has recommended that the Commission enter an order revoking all of the Defendant's licenses to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent.

THE COMMISSION is of the opinion and finds that the Defendant has violated § 38.2-1819 of the Code of Virginia by failing to make a written application to the Commission in the form and containing the information the Commission prescribes.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The licenses of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby REVOKED;

(2) All appointments issued under said licenses are hereby VOID;

(3) The Defendant transact no further business in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent;

(4) The Defendant shall not apply to the Commission to be licensed as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia prior to sixty (60) days from the date of this Order;

(5) The Bureau of Insurance shall notify every insurance company for which the Defendant holds an appointment to act as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia; and

(6) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. INS-2010-00224
NOVEMBER 12, 2010

APPLICATION OF
OXFORD LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

For approval of an assumption reinsurance agreement pursuant to § 38.2-136 C of the Code of Virginia

ORDER APPROVING APPLICATION

By petition filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") on October 27, 2010, Oxford Life Insurance Company ("Petitioner"), an Arizona-domiciled insurer licensed by the Commission to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, requested approval of an assumption reinsurance agreement pursuant to § 38.2-136 of the Code of Virginia ("Code").

Effective September 1, 2010, the Petitioner entered into an assumption reinsurance agreement that provided for assuming National States Insurance Company in Rehabilitation's ("National States") Medicare supplement policies.

On October 8, 2010, the Circuit Court of Cole County, Missouri, approved the reinsurance agreement upon the motion of the Director of the Missouri Department of Insurance in his capacity as Rehabilitator of National States.

Pursuant to § 38.2-136 C of the Code, the Petitioner has requested that the Commission waive the policyholder consent to this transaction required by § 38.2-136 B of the Code by finding that the transfer of the policies to the Petitioner is in the best interest of policyholders.

The Bureau of Insurance, having reviewed the application to ensure that Virginia policyholders will not lose any rights or claims afforded under their original contracts pursuant to Chapter 17 of Title 38.2 of the Code, has recommended that the application be approved.

NOW THE COMMISSION , having considered the application, the recommendation of the Bureau of Insurance that the application be approved, and the law applicable hereto, is of the opinion that the application should be approved;

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT the application of Oxford Life Insurance Company for the approval of the reinsurance agreement pursuant to § 38.2-136 C of the Code of Virginia be, and it is hereby, APPROVED.

v.
MONITOR LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF NEW YORK,
Defendant

CONSENT ORDER

Monitor Life Insurance Company of New York ("Defendant"), a New York domiciled insurer, was initially licensed by the State Corporation Commission to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia on October 21, 1986.

The Defendant timely filed its June 30, 2010, Quarterly Statement, which reflects that the Defendant's surplus is below the $3,000,000 minimum required by § 38.2-1028 of the Code of Virginia.

On November 1, 2010, the Defendant, through its President Paul H. Trevvett, filed with the Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau") an affidavit stating that it has ceased writing new business and consenting to the suspension of its license.

The Bureau has recommended that the license of the Defendant be suspended.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Pursuant to § 38.2-1040 of the Code of Virginia, the license of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia is hereby SUSPENDED;

(2) The Defendant shall issue no new contracts or policies of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia until further order of the Commission;

(3) The appointments of the Defendant's agents to act on behalf of the Defendant in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby SUSPENDED;

(4) The Defendant's agents shall transact no new insurance business on behalf of the Defendant in the Commonwealth of Virginia until further order of the Commission;

(5) The Bureau of Insurance shall cause an attested copy of this Order to be sent to each of the Defendant's agents appointed to act on behalf of the Defendant in the Commonwealth of Virginia as notice of the suspension of such agent's appointment; and

v.
GARY JOHN LORD,
Defendant

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 38.2-1826 C and subsection 1 of § 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia by failing to report to the Commission within thirty (30) days an administrative action that was taken against him by the States of Colorado and Oklahoma, and by providing materially incorrect, misleading, incomplete or untrue information in his license application filed with the Commission.

The Commission is authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been notified of his right to a hearing before the Commission in this matter by certified letters dated October 12, 2010 and November 8, 2010, and mailed to the Defendant's address shown in the records of the Bureau of Insurance.

The Defendant, having been advised in the above manner of his right to a hearing in this matter, has failed to request a hearing and has not otherwise communicated with the Bureau of Insurance.

The Bureau of Insurance, upon the Defendant's failure to request a hearing, has recommended that the Commission enter an order revoking all of the Defendant's licenses to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent.

NOW THE COMMISSION is of the opinion and finds that the Defendant has violated § 38.2-1826 C and subsection 1 of § 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia by failing to report to the Commission within thirty (30) days an administrative action that was taken against him by the States of Colorado and Oklahoma, and by providing materially incorrect, misleading, incomplete or untrue information in his license application filed with the Commission.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The licenses of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby REVOKED;

(2) All appointments issued under said licenses are hereby VOID;

(3) The Defendant transact no further business in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent;

(4) The Defendant shall not apply to the Commission to be licensed as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia prior to sixty (60) days from the date of this Order;

(5) The Bureau of Insurance shall notify every insurance company for which the Defendant holds an appointment to act as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia; and

(6) The papers herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

v.
KELLY JEAN CARRATURA,
Defendant

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE

Based on an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Insurance, it is alleged that the Defendant, duly licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, violated § 55-525.24 (formerly § 6.1-2.23) and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia by failing to disburse funds pursuant to a written instruction or agreement specifying how and to whom such funds may be disbursed, and by demonstrating financial irresponsibility in the handling of applicant, policyholder, agency, or insurance company funds.

The Commission is authorized by § 55-525.31 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties and to suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations of Chapters 27.2 and 27.3 of Title 55 of the Code of Virginia.

The Commission is also authorized by §§ 38.2-218, 38.2-219, and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia to impose certain monetary penalties, issue cease and desist orders, and suspend or revoke the Defendant's license upon a finding by the Commission, after notice and opportunity to be heard, that the Defendant has committed the aforesaid alleged violations.

The Defendant has been notified of her right to a hearing before the Commission in this matter by certified letters dated May 11, 2010, and October 7, 2010, and mailed to the Defendant's address shown in the records of the Bureau of Insurance.

The Defendant, having been advised in the above manner of her right to a hearing in this matter, has failed to request a hearing and has not otherwise communicated with the Bureau of Insurance.

The Bureau of Insurance, upon the Defendant's failure to request a hearing, has recommended that the Commission enter an order revoking all of the Defendant's licenses to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent.

NOW THE COMMISSION is of the opinion and finds that the Defendant has violated §§ 55-525.24 and 38.2-1831 of the Code of Virginia by failing to disburse funds pursuant to a written instruction or agreement specifying how and to whom such funds may be disbursed, and by demonstrating financial irresponsibility in the handling of applicant, policyholder, agency, or insurance company funds.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The licenses of the Defendant to transact the business of insurance as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia are hereby REVOKED;

(2) All appointments issued under said licenses are hereby VOID;

(3) The Defendant transact no further business in the Commonwealth of Virginia as an insurance agent;

(4) The Defendant shall not apply to the Commission to be licensed as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia prior to sixty (60) days from the date of this Order;

(5) The Bureau of Insurance shall notify every insurance company for which the Defendant holds an appointment to act as an insurance agent in the Commonwealth of Virginia; and

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
AMERICAS INSURANCE COMPANY,
Defendant

IMPAIRMENT ORDER

Americas Insurance Company, a foreign corporation domiciled in the State of Louisiana ("Defendant") and licensed by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to transact the business of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia, is required to maintain minimum capital of $1,000,000 and minimum surplus of $3,000,000.

Section 38.2-1036 of the Code of Virginia provides that if the Commission finds an impairment of the required minimum surplus of any foreign insurer, the Commission may order the insurer to eliminate the impairment and restore the minimum surplus to the amount required by law and may prohibit the insurer from issuing any new policies in the Commonwealth of Virginia while the impairment of its surplus exists.

The Quarterly Statement of the Defendant, dated September 30, 2010, and filed with the Commission's Bureau of Insurance, indicates capital of $3,000,000 and surplus of $2,416,380, and impairment in surplus of $583,620.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) On or before April 1, 2011, the Defendant eliminate the impairment in its surplus and restore the same to at least $3,000,000 and advise the Commission of the accomplishment thereof by affidavit of the Defendant's president or other authorized officer.

(2) The Defendant shall issue no new contracts or policies of insurance in the Commonwealth of Virginia while the impairment of the Defendant's surplus exists and until further order of the Commission.

APPLICATION OF
LEVEL 3 COMMUNICATIONS, LLC

For Review and Correction of Certification of Gross Receipts

APPLICATION OF
LEVEL 3 COMMUNICATIONS, LLC

For Review and Correction of Certification of Gross Receipts

FINAL ORDER

Before the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") are these applications for review and correction of our certifications of gross receipts, which might be subject to the minimum tax imposed by § 58.1-400.1 of the Code of Virginia (hereinafter "Code"). As required by that provision of the Code, the Commission must collect from telecommunications companies information on gross receipts and certify the amount of such gross receipts to the Virginia Department of Taxation ("Department"). As provided by § 58.1-2674.1 of the Code, Level 3 Communications, LLC ("Level 3" or "Company"), filed for review and correction of our certifications to the Department for the years ending December 31, 2002 (Case No. PST-2004-00030, the "2004 Application"); December 31, 2004 (Case No. PST-2006-00024, the "2006 Application"); December 31, 2005 (Case No. PST-2007-00019, the "2007 Application"); and December 31, 2006 (Case No. PST-2008-00026, the "2008 Application").

These applications are addressed in the Report of Michael D. Thomas, Hearing Examiner, dated April 12, 2010 ("Report"). Hearing Examiner Thomas recommended that the Commission adopt a settlement offered by Level 3, respondent Department, which was represented by the Office of the Attorney General, and the Commission Staff ("Staff"). The settlement proposes correction of the certifications for each year to reflect recalculation of the deductions from gross receipts provided by § 58.1-400.1 D 2 i, ii, and iii of the Code. The recalculated deductions would reduce the amounts of gross receipts certified to the Department for all four (4) years. The proposed settlement did not extend to gross receipts related to Internet services provided by Level 3.

As discussed in the Report, the Commission has considered and rejected Level 3's arguments that the Internet-related gross receipts should also be excluded from the amounts certified to the Department.[1] In his recommendations, Hearing Examiner Thomas noted that the Company and the Department object to the Commission's disposition of the Internet issues in the Order Dismissing, In Part, Application and Opinion entered in the 2004 Application.[2]

For the reasons addressed in this Order, the Commission will adopt the Hearing Examiner's recommendation to accept the proposed recalculations and consequent reductions of the amounts certified to the Department as set out in the proposed settlement.

In the 2004 Application, the Commission considered and rejected Level 3's contentions that federal law requires that Internet-related gross receipts must be excluded from the certified gross receipts. The parties and the Staff have not identified any change in federal or Virginia law in the intervening period that would require us to reconsider the issue of whether federal law requires the Commission to exclude additional gross receipts from the amount certified to the Department. We adopt the reasoning and conclusions we reached in our Order Dismissing, In Part, Application and Opinion in the 2004 Application with regard to the 2006, 2007, and 2008 Applications.

The Commission will not repeat in full our earlier discussion. In brief, Level 3 contends that federal statutes[3] require the exclusion of Internet-related gross receipts from the amount certified to the Department. In so arguing, the Company ignores the wording of the federal statute. The provision that Level 3 would have us consider does not reach our duty under Virginia law.

Freedom Act Amendments Act of 2007, Pub. L. No. 110-108, 121 Stat. 1024 (2007) (codified at 47 U.S.C. § 151 note).

SEC. 1101. MORATORIUM.
(a) Moratorium.—No State or political subdivision thereof may impose any of the following taxes during the period beginning November 1, 2003, and ending November 1, 2014:

(1) Taxes on Internet access.

(2) Multiple or discriminatory taxes on electronic commerce.[4]

The identified federal statute limits state and local taxation. The federal statute does not address the Commission's duty under Virginia law to collect information on gross receipts; to determine that the deductions provided by Virginia law have been properly taken; and to provide that information to the Department of Taxation. The Commission does not determine whether a company is liable for the minimum tax levied by § 58.1-400.1 of the Code, nor does it collect the tax. Any liability for the minimum tax cannot be determined without first calculating Virginia income tax liability. The calculation of income tax liability is clearly beyond the Commission's jurisdiction.

Further, the Commission is charged with applying Virginia tax law as enacted. The definition of gross receipts and the statutory deductions from the amount to be certified set out in § 58.1-400.1 D of the Code control our action here. There is no language in § 58.1-400.1 of the Code that empowers the Commission to modify the definition of gross receipts or to establish additional deductions from gross receipts.

For these reasons and for the reasons further stated in our Order Dismissing, In Part, Application and Opinion in the 2004 Application, we will deny the 2006, 2007, and 2008 Applications to the extent the Company seeks exclusion of Internet-related gross receipts from the certifications to the Department.

The Commission finds that the reductions in the certified amounts of gross receipts proposed in the settlement should be adopted. According to the Joint Stipulation of Facts of March 15, 2010, Level 3 provided the best information available, and the Staff recalculated the deductions from gross receipts for each year to arrive at a reasonable and economical settlement.[5] We accept the Hearing Examiner's recommendation that the settlement be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Company's Application in Case No. PST-2004-00030 not previously dismissed by the Commission's Order Dismissing, In Part, Application of November 13, 2008, be granted to the extent discussed above and otherwise be denied.

(2) The Company's Application in Case No. PST-2006-00024 be granted to the extent discussed above and otherwise be denied.

(3) The Company's Application in Case No. PST-2007-00019 be granted to the extent discussed above and otherwise be denied.

(4) The Company's Application in Case No. PST-2008-00026 be granted to the extent discussed above and otherwise be denied.

(5) The Commission's certification of May 14, 2003, to the Department, "Gross Receipts of Telecommunications Companies: A Statement showing the Gross Receipts subject to the minimum tax for the year ending December 31, 2002, of Telecommunications Companies in the Commonwealth of Virginia pursuant to Title .1, Chapter 3, Article 10, of the Code of Virginia," page 9, for Level 3 Communications, LLC, be corrected by striking the figure $52,244,791 and inserting the figure $31,275,731.

(6) The Commission's certification of May 12, 2005, to the Department, "Gross Receipts of Telecommunications Companies: A Statement showing the Gross Receipts subject to the minimum tax for the year ending December 31, 2004, of Telecommunications Companies in the Commonwealth of Virginia pursuant to Title 58.1, Chapter 3, Article 10, of the Code of Virginia," page 10, for Level 3 Communications, LLC, be corrected by striking the figure $58,684,003 and inserting the figure $53,536,270.

(7) The Commission's certification of May 12, 2006, to the Department, "Gross Receipts of Telecommunications Companies: A Statement showing the Gross Receipts subject to the minimum tax for the year ending December 31, 2005, of Telecommunications Companies in the Commonwealth of Virginia pursuant to Title 58.1, Chapter 3, Article 10, of the Code of Virginia," page 9, for Level 3 Communications, LLC, be corrected by striking the figure $55,040,251 and inserting the figure $43,217,717.

(8) The Commission's certification of May 11, 2007, to the Department, "Gross Receipts of Telecommunications Companies: A Statement showing the Gross Receipts subject to the minimum tax for the year ending December 31, 2006, of Telecommunications Companies in the Commonwealth of Virginia pursuant to Title 58.1, Chapter 3, Article 10, of the Code of Virginia," page 9, for Level 3 Communications, LLC, be corrected by striking the figure $54,044,231 and inserting the figure $49,940,519.

(9) The Commission's Public Service Taxation Division shall promptly provide to the Department a copy of this Order and such other information as the Department may require.

DIVISION OF COMMUNICATIONS

CASE NO. PUC-1997-00007
JUNE 29, 2010

IN THE MATTER OF VERIZON SOUTH INC.
and
MCI WORLDCOM COMMUNICATIONS OF VIRGINIA, INC.

For approval of an interconnection agreement under § 252(e) of the Telecommunications Act of 1996

ORDER CLOSING CASE

By Orders entered July 9, 1997, and May 7, 2004, in this matter, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") approved an interconnection agreement and amendment, respectively, between Verizon South Inc. f/k/a GTE ("Verizon South") and MCI WorldCom Communications of Virginia, Inc. ("MCI WorldCom"). Further, on June 20, 2006, the Commission approved additional amendments to the interconnection agreement between Verizon South and MCI WorldCom. By Order entered October 19, 2004, in Case No. PUC-2003-00183, the Commission canceled MCI WorldCom's previously issued certificate of public convenience and necessity as a local exchange carrier. As a result, MCI WorldCom is no longer authorized to provide local exchange service within the Commonwealth of Virginia.

On June 16, 2010, Verizon South filed with the Commission a "Notification of Termination of Interconnection Agreement," along with notice from MCI WorldCom's successors that the interconnection agreement could be terminated.

NOW THE COMMISSION, being sufficiently advised, finds that there is nothing further to be acted upon in the instant case, wherein the Commission approved an interconnection agreement and amendments between the parties named in the caption (or their legal predecessors), and the case should be closed.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT Case No. PUC-1997-00007 is hereby closed.

For approval of an interconnection agreement under § 252(e) of the Telecommunications Act of 1996

ORDER CLOSING CASE

By Orders entered July 30, 1997, July 7, 1998, and June 18, 2004, in this matter, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") approved an interconnection agreement and amendments, respectively, between Verizon Virginia, Inc. f/k/a Bell Atlantic – Virginia, Inc. ("Verizon Virginia") and Intermedia Communications, Inc. ("Intermedia"). Further, on February 7, 2006, the Commission approved additional amendments to the interconnection agreement between Verizon Virginia and Intermedia. By Order entered October 19, 2004, in Case No. PUC-2003-00183, the Commission canceled Intermedia's previously issued certificates of public convenience and necessity. As a result, Intermedia is no longer authorized to provide local exchange service within the Commonwealth of Virginia.

On June 16, 2010, Verizon Virginia filed with the Commission a "Notification of Termination of Interconnection Agreement," along with notice from Intermedia's successors that the interconnection agreement could be terminated.

NOW THE COMMISSION, being sufficiently advised, finds that there is nothing further to be acted upon in the instant case, wherein the Commission approved an interconnection agreement and amendments between the parties named in the caption (or their legal predecessors), and the case should be closed.

NOVEMBER 12, 2010

APPLICATION OF
VERIZON VIRGINIA INC.
and
ALLTEL COMMUNICATIONS OF VIRGINIA, INC.

For approval of interconnection agreement

ORDER CLOSING CASE

On March 22, 2006, pursuant to 20 VAC 5-419-20 of the Rules Governing the Filing of Interconnection Agreements, Verizon Virginia Inc. ("Verizon") and Alltel Communications of Virginia, Inc. ("Alltel"), filed a negotiated Wireless Interconnection Agreement and Amendment No. 1 ("WIA Agreement") with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"). The WIA Agreement was assigned Case No. PUC-2006-00045. Verizon and Alltel indicated that the WIA Agreement replaced the original agreement approved by the Commission in this docket on June 19, 1997.[1] The WIA Agreement became effective on September 16, 2006.

NOW THE COMMISSION finds that the WIA Agreement supersedes the agreement approved in this matter. The Commission is of the opinion, therefore, that Case No. PUC-1997-00035 may be closed.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT the captioned matter is hereby dismissed from the Commission's docket of active cases.

[1] The original agreement was under their former names of Bell Atlantic-Virginia, Inc., and 360º Communications Company, respectively.

For approval of interconnection agreement

ORDER CLOSING CASE

On December 22, 2005, pursuant to 20 VAC 5-419-20 of the Rules Governing the Filing of Interconnection Agreements, Central Telephone Company of Virginia ("Sprint") and Virginia PCS Alliance, L.C. ("NTELOS"), filed a negotiated Interconnection Agreement ("ICA Agreement") with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"). The ICA Agreement was assigned Case No. PUC-2005-00174. Sprint and NTELOS indicated that the ICA Agreement replaced the original agreement approved by the Commission in this docket on November 6, 1998. The ICA Agreement became effective on November 9, 2005.

NOW THE COMMISSION finds that the ICA Agreement supersedes the agreement approved in this matter. The Commission is of the opinion, therefore, that Case No. PUC-1998-00124 may be closed.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT the captioned matter is hereby dismissed from the Commission's docket of active cases.

For approval of an interconnection agreement under § 252(e) of the Telecommunications Act of 1996

ORDER CLOSING CASE

By Order entered December 3, 1998, in this matter, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") approved an interconnection agreement between the parties named in the caption.[1] Northpoint Communications of Virginia, Inc.'s ("Northpoint"), certificates of public convenience and necessity were cancelled by Order entered in Case No. PUC-2001-00097 and, therefore, Northpoint is no longer authorized to provide service in Virginia.

[1] Verizon Virginia Inc.'s predecessor, Bell Atlantic-Virginia, Inc., was the actual executing party to the interconnection agreement.

NOW THE COMMISSION, being sufficiently advised, finds that there is nothing further to be acted upon in the instant case and that the case should be closed.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT Case No. PUC-1998-00149 is hereby closed.

As a result, the Company is no longer authorized to provide telecommunications services in the Commonwealth of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, being sufficiently advised, finds that there is nothing further to be acted upon in the instant case, wherein the Commission approved a certificate of public convenience and necessity, and that the case should be closed.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT Case No. PUC-1998-00169 is hereby closed.

CASE NO. PUC-1998-00190
JANUARY 21, 2010

APPLICATION OF
EZ TALK COMMUNICATIONS, L.L.C.

For a certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange telecommunications services

ORDER CLOSING CASE

By Order entered July 28, 1999, in this matter, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") granted to EZ Talk Communications, L.L.C. ("EZ Talk"), a certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange telecommunications services throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia. The certificate of public convenience and necessity issued to EZ Talk was cancelled by Order entered in Case No. PUC-2006-00036 and, therefore, EZ Talk is no longer authorized to provide service in Virginia.[1]

NOW THE COMMISSION, being sufficiently advised, finds that there is nothing further to be acted upon in the instant case and that the case should be closed.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT Case No. PUC-1998-00190 is hereby closed.

[1] While EZ Talk's certificate of public convenience and necessity was cancelled in Case No. PUC-2006-00036, the Order cancelling that certificate inadvertently failed to close the instant case, PUC-1998-00190, in which the certificate was granted.

CASE NO. PUC-1999-00030
JANUARY 22, 2010

IN THE MATTER OF
VERIZON VIRGINIA INC.

CASE NO. PUC-2000-00141
NOVEMBER 19, 2010

APPLICATION OF
VERIZON SOUTH INC.
and
360º COMMUNICATIONS COMPANY OF CHARLOTTESVILLE D/B/A ALLTEL

For approval of interconnection agreement

ORDER CLOSING CASE

On March 22, 2006, pursuant to 20 VAC 5-419-20 of the Rules Governing the Filing of Interconnection Agreements, Verizon South Inc. ("Verizon") and 360º Communications Company of Charlottesville d/b/a Alltel ("Alltel"), filed a negotiated Interconnection Agreement ("Agreement") with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"). The Agreement was assigned Case No. PUC-2006-00121. Verizon and Alltel indicated that the Agreement replaced the original agreement approved by the Commission in this docket on July 26, 2000.[1] The Agreement became effective on May 6, 2005.

NOW THE COMMISSION finds that the Agreement supersedes the agreement approved in this matter. The Commission is of the opinion, therefore, that Case No. PUC-2000-00141 may be closed.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT the captioned matter is hereby dismissed from the Commission's docket of active cases.

[1] The original agreement was under their former names of GTE South Incorporated and 360º Communications Company of Charlottesville, respectively.

APPLICATION OF
VERIZON SOUTH INC.
and
ADELPHIA BUSINESS SOLUTIONS OF VIRGINIA, L.L.C.

For approval of an interconnection agreement under § 252(e) of the Telecommunications Act of 1996

ORDER CLOSING CASE

By Order entered August 6, 2009, in Case No. PUC-2009-00034, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") cancelled the certificates of public convenience and necessity previously issued to Adelphia Business Solutions of Virginia, L.L.C. ("Adelphia" or "Company"), as all assets and customers of Adelphia were transferred to Level 3 Communications, LLC.[1] The Company accordingly requested the cancellation of its certificates of public convenience and necessity.

On July 9, 2010, Verizon South Inc., by counsel, filed with the Commission a Notification of Termination of Interconnection Agreement.

NOW THE COMMISSION, being sufficiently advised, finds that there is nothing further to be acted upon in the instant case, wherein the Commission approved an interconnection agreement between the parties named in the caption (or their legal predecessors), and the case should be closed.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT Case No. PUC-2001-00093 is hereby closed.

CASE NO. PUC-2004-00039
AUGUST 17, 2010

IN THE MATTER OF VERIZON VIRGINIA, INC.
and
MCI WORLDCOM COMMUNICATIONS OF VIRGINIA, INC.

For approval of an interconnection agreement under § 252(e) of the Telecommunications Act of 1996

ORDER CLOSING CASE

By Order entered June 18, 2004, in this matter, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") approved an amendment to an interconnection agreement previously approved by the Wireline Competition Bureau of the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC"), between Verizon Virginia, Inc. ("Verizon Virginia") and MCI WorldCom Communications of Virginia, Inc. ("MCI WorldCom"). Further, on July 24, 2006, the Commission approved additional amendments to the interconnection agreement between Verizon Virginia and MCI WorldCom. By Order entered October 19, 2004, in Case No. PUC-2003-00183, the Commission canceled MCI WorldCom's previously issued certificate of public convenience and necessity as a local exchange carrier. As a result, MCI WorldCom is no longer authorized to provide local exchange service within the Commonwealth of Virginia.

On June 18, 2010, Verizon Virginia filed with the Commission a "Notification of Termination of Interconnection Agreement," along with notice from MCI WorldCom's successors that the interconnection agreement could be terminated.

NOW THE COMMISSION, being sufficiently advised, finds that there is nothing further to be acted upon in the instant case, wherein the Commission approved an interconnection agreement and amendments between the parties named in the caption (or their legal predecessors), and the case should be closed.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT Case No. PUC-2004-00039 is hereby closed.

On July 2, 2008, pursuant to 20 VAC 5-419-20 of the Rules Governing the Filing of Interconnection Agreements, Central Telephone Company of Virginia, United Telephone–Southeast, Inc. (collectively, "Embarq"), and Global Connection Inc. of Virginia ("Global"), filed a negotiated Interconnection Agreement ("Agreement") with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"). The Agreement was assigned Case No. PUC-2008-00056. The Commission approved the Agreement on September 30, 2008. Embarq and Global indicated that the Agreement replaced the original agreement approved by the Commission in Case No. PUC-2005-00076 on September 26, 2005.

NOW THE COMMISSION finds that the Agreement supersedes the agreement approved in this matter. The Commission is of the opinion, therefore, that Case No. PUC-2005-00076 may be closed.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT the captioned matter is hereby dismissed from the Commission's docket of active cases.

APPLICATION OF
VERIZON VIRGINIA INC.
AND CBB CARRIER SERVICES, INC.

For approval of an interconnection agreement under § 252(e) of the Telecommunications Act of 1996

ORDER CLOSING CASE

By Order entered April 8, 2009, in Case No. PUC-2009-00013, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") cancelled the certificate of public convenience and necessity previously issued to CBB Carrier Services, Inc. ("CBB" or "Company") because CBB's business plan no longer included offering services in Virginia. The Company accordingly requested the cancellation of its certificate of public convenience and necessity.

On August 26, 2010, Verizon Virginia Inc., by counsel, filed with the Commission a Notification of Termination of Interconnection Agreement.

NOW THE COMMISSION, being sufficiently advised, finds that there is nothing further to be acted upon in the instant case, wherein the Commission approved an interconnection agreement between the parties named in the caption (or their legal predecessors), and the case should be closed.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT Case No. PUC-2006-00114 is hereby closed.

CASE NO. PUC-2007-00108
AUGUST 4, 2010

PETITION OF SPRINT NEXTEL

For reductions in the intrastate carrier access rates of Central Telephone Company of Virginia and United Telephone-Southeast, Inc.

ORDER APPROVING SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

On April 26, 2010, Sprint Communications Company of Virginia, Inc., Sprint Spectrum, L.P., Sprintcom, Inc., Nextel Communications of the Mid-Atlantic, Inc., and NPCR, Inc. d/b/a Nextel Partners ("Sprint Nextel"); AT&T Communications of Virginia, LLC, (AT&T"); and Central Telephone Company of Virginia d/b/a CenturyLink ("Central") and United Telephone Southeast LLC d/b/a CenturyLink ("United") (Central and United collectively, "CenturyLink") (all collectively, "Joint Petitioners") filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") a Joint Petition for Approval of Settlement Agreement ("Joint Petition"). The Joint Petition requests the Commission's approval of the attached Settlement Agreement Governing Phased Elimination of CenturyLink Carrier Common Line Charges in the Commonwealth of Virginia ("Settlement Agreement").

On May 19, 2010, the Commission entered its Order Inviting Comments which allowed interested parties including the Commission's Staff ("Staff") to file comments regarding the Joint Petition and Settlement Agreement on or before June 11, 2010, and allowed the Joint Petitioners to respond to any such comments on or before June 25, 2010.

Comments were filed by the Staff and by the Office of the Attorney General, Division of Consumer Counsel ("Consumer Counsel"). Those comments were generally supportive of the Settlement Agreement and noted that it was consistent with the requirements of newly enacted Va. Code § 56-235.5:1.B. In addition, the Staff agreed that approval of the settlement will obviate the need for additional proceedings envisioned by the Commission's Clarifying Order of August 26, 2009.

No replies were filed on behalf of the Joint Petitioners.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the Joint Petition, the comments, and the applicable law, is of the opinion and finds that the Settlement Agreement should be approved. The Settlement Agreement will eliminate the carrier common line charge ("CCLC") for each of the two CenturyLink companies no later than July 1, 2013, as now required by statute.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Settlement Agreement filed by the Joint Petitioners is hereby approved.

(2) No later than July 1, 2012, Central and United shall each reduce its CCLC to 25% of its January 1, 2010 per minute CCLC.

(3) No later than July 1, 2013, Central and United shall each eliminate its respective CCLC entirely.

(4) There being nothing further to be determined, this matter is dismissed and the record developed herein shall be placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUC-2009-00036
OCTOBER 19, 2010

APPLICATION OF
QWEST COMMUNICATIONS COMPANY, LLC

For relief from charges

ORDER DISMISSING PETITION

On July 17, 2009, Quest Communications Company, LLC ("Qwest"), filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") its Petition against NTELOS Telephone Inc. for Relief from Unlawful Charges ("Petition") pursuant to Rule 5 VAC 5-20-100 (B) of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure.

On August 11, 2009, NTELOS Telephone Inc. ("NTELOS") responded to the Qwest Petition.[1] By Procedural Order Prescribing Response and Reply Times entered August 24, 2009, the Commission allowed for responsive pleadings and assigned this matter to a Hearing Examiner to conduct all further proceedings.

The Hearing Examiner prescribed a procedural schedule that allowed extensive discovery and the pre-filing of testimony by the parties and the Staff leading up to a hearing to receive such evidence. Prior to the commencement of the hearing on June 3, 2010, the primary parties, Qwest and NTELOS, filed a Joint Motion to Continue Hearing, which stated that the scheduled hearing would not be necessary if those two parties were allowed additional time to negotiate an oral agreement in principle and to reduce the anticipated settlement to writing.

On September 10, 2010, Qwest filed a Motion to Dismiss, which indicated that Qwest and NTELOS had reached a settlement of the matter in controversy. As a result, Qwest requested that its Petition be withdrawn and the case be dismissed with prejudice.

On September 13, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued his Report finding that the Motion to Dismiss should be granted and recommending that the Commission enter an order adopting the findings of his Report and dismissing the Petition with prejudice. On September 16, the remaining party, Verizon-Virginia Inc., filed a letter indicating that it had no objections to the recommendations of the Hearing Examiner's Report.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the Motion to Dismiss, the Hearing Examiner's Report, and the lack of objections, is of the opinion and finds that the Hearing Examiner's recommendations should be adopted and that the Petition should be dismissed with prejudice.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Commission adopts the recommendations of the September 13, 2010 Report of Michael D. Thomas, Hearing Examiner.

(2) The Qwest Petition is dismissed with prejudice, and the record developed herein shall be placed in the file for ended causes.

[1] Specifically, NTELOS filed a Response to Petition of Qwest Communications, LLC and Petition to Add Verizon-Virginia as a Party.

CASE NO. PUC-2009-00055
JANUARY 28, 2010

APPLICATION OF
TIME WARNER CABLE INFORMATION SERVICES (VIRGINIA), LLC

For certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services

FINAL ORDER

On October 22, 2009, Time Warner Cable Information Services (Virginia), LLC ("Time Warner" or "Applicant"), completed an application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") for certificates of public convenience and necessity ("certificates") to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia. The Applicant also requested authority to price its interexchange telecommunications services on a competitive basis pursuant to § 56-481.1 of the Code of Virginia.

By Order for Notice and Comment dated November 2, 2009, the Commission directed the Applicant to provide notice to the public of its application and directed the Commission Staff ("Staff") to conduct an investigation and file a Staff Report. On December 11, 2009, the Applicant filed proof of publication and proof of service as required by the November 2, 2009 Order for Notice and Comment.

On January 7, 2010, the Staff filed its Report finding that Time Warner's application was in compliance with the Rules Governing the Certification and Regulation of Competitive Local Exchange Carriers, 20 VAC 5-417-10 et seq., and the Rules Governing the Certification of Interexchange Carriers, 20 VAC 5-411-10 et seq. Based upon its review of Time Warner's application, the Staff determined it would be appropriate to grant the Applicant certificates to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services subject to the following condition: Time Warner should notify the Division of Economics and Finance no less than thirty (30) days prior to the cancellation or lapse of its bond and should provide a replacement bond at that time. This requirement should be maintained until such time as the Commission determines it is no longer necessary.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the application and the Staff Report, finds that the Applicant should be granted certificates to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services. Having considered § 56-481.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Commission further finds that the Applicant may price its interexchange telecommunications services competitively.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Time Warner Cable Information Services (Virginia), LLC, is hereby granted a certificate of public convenience and necessity, No. TT-251A , to provide interexchange telecommunications services subject to the restrictions set forth in the Rules Governing the Certification of Interexchange Carriers, § 56-265.4:4 of the Code of Virginia, and the provisions of this Order.

(2) Time Warner Cable Information Services (Virginia), LLC, is hereby granted a certificate of public convenience and necessity, No. T-695, to provide local exchange telecommunications services subject to the restrictions set forth in the Rules Governing the Certification and Regulation of Competitive Local Exchange Carriers, § 56-265.4:4 of the Code of Virginia, and the provisions of this Order.

(3) Pursuant to § 56-481.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Applicant may price its interexchange telecommunications services competitively.

(4) The Applicant shall provide tariffs to the Division of Communications that conform to all applicable Commission rules and regulations.

(5) Time Warner Cable Information Services (Virginia), LLC, shall notify the Division of Economics and Finance no less than thirty (30) days prior to the cancellation or lapse of its bond and shall provide a replacement bond at that time. This requirement shall be maintained until such time as the Commission determines it is no longer necessary.

(6) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this case shall be dismissed and the papers filed herein placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUC-2009-00058

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In the Matter of Investigating the Practices and Charges of Verizon Virginia Inc. and Verizon South Inc. for customer-requested relocation and rearrangement of network facilities

INTERIM ORDER IMPLEMENTING STAFF PROPOSALS

On July 19, 2010, the Staff of the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") filed its Report with four recommendations designed to improve the process of relocating or rearranging Verizon's outside plant when requested by one of its retail customers. On August 16, 2010, Verizon filed its Response to Staff's Report ("Response"), which generally concurred with the Staff's recommendations.

Verizon's Response indicated that it had begun the study to revise the methodology by which exempt material loadings are determined and applied and that it was prepared to implement the remaining Staff recommendations within thirty (30) days after adoption by the Commission.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the Staff Report and Verizon's Response, is of the opinion and finds that the Staff recommendations should be implemented, and that Verizon should report on its study regarding exempt material loadings when complete.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Verizon shall implement recommendations 1, 2, and 4 of the Staff's July 19, 2010 Report. Verizon shall also implement the temporary material loading factor of Staff recommendation 3.

(2) Verizon shall file a report on its study of Staff recommendation 3, exempt material loadings. If the Staff's review of that study finds the technique to be satisfactory, Verizon shall be prepared to implement it within 30 days.

(3) This matter is continued generally.

CASE NO. PUC-2009-00060
AUGUST 10, 2010

THEODORE R. REIFF
and
BRENDA REIFF,
Petitioners,
v.
COX VIRGINIA TELCOM, L.L.C.,
Respondent

ORDER DISMISSING CASE

On October 19, 2009, Theodore R. Reiff and Brenda Reiff ("Petitioners") filed a Petition with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"). Among other things, the Petitioners alleged that Cox Virginia Telcom, L.L.C. ("Cox"), had violated the terms of an "agreement" between Cox and the Petitioners by threatening to disconnect their telephone service on October 23, 2009.[1]

On October 19, 2009, the Commission filed an Order in which it, among other things, docketed the matter; directed Cox to file an answer to the Petition; restrained Cox from disconnecting Petitioners' service; and assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner to conduct all further proceedings.

On November 9, 2009, Cox, by counsel, filed an Answer and Motion for Leave to Disconnect Petitioners' Telephone Service ("Motion"). By Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated May 12, 2010, Cox's Motion was taken under advisement and an evidentiary hearing was scheduled for July 21, 2010, in a Commission courtroom.

On July 8, 2010, Cox filed a Motion to Dismiss, stating that Petitioners had transferred their telephone service from Cox to another telephone company and, therefore, this proceeding had been rendered moot. Cox requested that the hearing scheduled for July 21, 2010, be cancelled and that the Commission's Order requiring Cox to refrain from disconnecting the Petitioners' telephone service without first obtaining leave for disconnection from the Commission be dissolved.

Petitioners were directed to file a response to the Motion to Dismiss on or before July 19, 2010. On July 19, 2010, Petitioners filed a Motion to Non-Suit and Withdraw Petition. As a result of that motion, the Report of Howard P. Anderson, Jr., Hearing Examiner, was issued July 20, 2010, recommending that the Commission's Order of October 19, 2009 requiring Cox to refrain from disconnecting Petitioners' telephone service be dissolved and that this matter be dismissed.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the Motion to Dismiss, Petitioner's response thereto, and the Hearing Examiner's Report finds that the recommendations of the Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Commission's previous directive that Cox refrain from disconnecting Petitioner's telephone service is dissolved; and

(2) This matter is dismissed and the papers submitted herein shall be sent to the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUC-2009-00061
JANUARY 28, 2010

APPLICATION OF FIBER ROADS, LLC

For a certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange telecommunications services

FINAL ORDER

On October 16, 2009, Fiber Roads, LLC ("Fiber Roads" or the "Company"), filed an application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange telecommunications services throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia.

By Order for Notice and Comment dated October 30, 2009, the Commission directed the Company to provide notice to the public of its application and directed the Commission Staff to conduct an investigation and file a Staff Report. On December 10, 2009, Fiber Roads filed proof of publication and proof of service as required by the October 30, 2009 Order.

On January 12, 2010, the Staff filed its Report finding that Fiber Roads' application was in compliance with the Rules Governing the Certification and Regulation of Competitive Local Exchange Carriers, 20 VAC 5-417-10 et seq. Based upon its review of Fiber Roads' application, the Staff determined it would be appropriate to grant the Company a certificate to provide local exchange telecommunications services subject to the following condition: Fiber Roads should notify the Division of Economics and Finance no less than 30 days prior to the cancellation or lapse of its bond and should provide a replacement bond at that time. This requirement should be maintained until such time as the Commission determines it is no longer necessary.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the application and the Staff Report, finds that the Company should be granted a certificate to provide local exchange telecommunications services.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Fiber Roads, LLC, is hereby granted a certificate of public convenience and necessity, No. T-694, to provide local exchange telecommunications services subject to the restrictions set forth in the Rules Governing the Certification and Regulation of Competitive Local Exchange Carriers, § 56-265.4:4 of the Code of Virginia, and the provisions of this Order.

(2) The Company shall provide tariffs to the Division of Communications that conform with all applicable Commission rules and regulations.

(3) Fiber Roads, LLC, shall notify the Division of Economics and Finance no less than 30 days prior to the cancellation or lapse of its bond and shall provide a replacement bond at that time. This requirement shall be maintained until such time as the Commission determines it is no longer necessary.

(4) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this case shall be dismissed and the papers filed herein placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUC-2009-00065
MARCH 18, 2010

JOINT APPLICATION OF
DSLNET COMMUNICATIONS VA, INC.,
DSL.NET, INC.,
and MEGAPATH INC.

For approval of the transfer of direct control of DSLnet Communications VA, Inc., to MegaPath Inc., pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56, Va. Code §§ 56-88 et seq.

ORDER GRANTING APPROVAL AND DIRECTING RESPONSE

On December 7, 2009, MegaPath Inc. ("MegaPath") and its wholly owned subsidiaries DSL.net, Inc. ("DSLnet"), and DSLnet Communications VA, Inc. ("DSLnet-VA") (MegaPath, DSLnet, and DSLnet-VA collectively, the "Joint Applicants"), filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") a notice of a pro forma internal change of direct control of DSLnet-VA from DSLnet to MegaPath, DSLnet's current direct parent company. This change was to result from the merger of DSLnet, with and into MegaPath, with MegaPath surviving. The Joint Applicants stated that the change of direct control is pro forma in nature because MegaPath ultimately controls DSLnet-VA both before and after the merger. The Joint Applicants stated that they had to complete the internal merger before December 31, 2009, in order to realize significant financial benefits. The Joint Applicants also stated that it was their understanding that Commission approval would not be required to complete the transaction. Accordingly, the Joint Applicants submitted their letter purportedly for informational purposes only to ensure the continuing accuracy of the Commission's records.

The Staff of the Commission ("Staff") filed a Memorandum of Incompleteness on December 10, 2009, stating that since the direct ownership of DSLnet-VA, the entity certificated in Virginia, will transfer to MegaPath, prior Commission approval is required for the transfer pursuant to § 56-88.1 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"). Furthermore, treating the Joint Applicants' notice as an application, the Staff's memorandum stated that the filing was incomplete, listing the items necessary for the filing to be deemed a complete application pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 5 of Title 56 of the Code (the "Utility Transfers Act"). The matter was docketed as Case No. PUC-2009-00065.

On December 21, 2009, the Joint Applicants filed a Supplement to the Joint Application that contained Confidential Attachment 1 to the Transaction Summary ("Confidential Attachment"),[1] which was filed with the Commission under seal, pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure ("Rules") regarding confidential information. Rule 5 VAC 5-20-170 states, in part: "When an application (including supporting documents and prefiled testimony) contains information that the applicant claims to be confidential, the filing shall be made under seal and accompanied by a motion for protective order or other confidential treatment." Therefore, on December 21, 2009, the Joint Applicants filed with the Commission, concurrently with the Confidential Attachment, a Motion for Protective Order ("Motion"), pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules, to obtain confidential treatment of the financial information contained in the Confidential Attachment. The Joint Application and Supplement to the Joint Application are referred to herein collectively as the "Joint Application."

On December 28, 2009, Staff filed a Memorandum of Completeness, which deemed the Joint Application complete as of December 21, 2009.

On January 12, 2010, the Joint Applicants filed a Response to Commission Inquiry that contained a copy of the Joint Applicants' finalized Agreement and Plan of Merger ("Agreement"), filed as Confidential Attachment A ("Confidential Exhibit"),[2] which was filed with the Commission under seal, pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules. Therefore, on January 12, 2010, the Joint Applicants also filed with the Commission, concurrently with the Confidential Exhibit, a second Motion for Protective Order (collectively with the Motion filed December 21, 2009, "Motions"), pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules, to obtain confidential treatment of the Agreement.

[1] The Joint Applicants state that the Confidential Attachment contains confidential financial statements of MegaPath that have not been made available to the public and that general dissemination of the information contained therein would harm the Joint Applicants' position in the marketplace.

[2] The Joint Applicants state that the information contained in the Confidential Exhibit is extremely sensitive information that could be used by competitors to gain insight into the Joint Applicants' internal business operations and, therefore, disclosure of such information would be extremely detrimental and could be used by the Joint Applicants' competitors to materially affect their ability to compete effectively.

MegaPath is a Delaware corporation that provides a variety of managed Internet Protocol ("IP") services, including cable and satellite system broadband Internet access, mobility services such as digital certificates, global remote access, personal firewalls, and remote access virtual private networks ("VPNs"), and security services. MegaPath does not currently offer any regulated telecommunications services and, therefore, does not hold any telecommunications authorizations from the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC") or any state regulatory authority.

DSLnet, a wholly owned direct subsidiary of MegaPath, is a Delaware corporation that provides a variety of IP and data services. DSLnet does not offer any regulated telecommunications services and, therefore, does not hold any telecommunications authorizations from the FCC or any state regulatory authority.

DSLnet-VA is a Virginia corporation that is certificated as a Competitive Local Exchange Carrier in the Commonwealth of Virginia. DSLnet-VA is currently a wholly owned direct subsidiary of DSLnet and, therefore, a wholly owned indirect subsidiary of MegaPath. DSLnet-VA is an affiliate of DSLnet Communications, LLC ("DSLnet-LLC"), which is also a wholly owned subsidiary of DSLnet with the authority to provide intrastate telecommunications services in forty-seven (47) states and the District of Columbia. DSLnet-VA is authorized by the FCC to provide domestic interstate and international telecommunications services as a non-dominant carrier. In Virginia, DSLnet-VA is certificated to provide both local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to its certificates of public convenience and necessity ("CPCNs"), Nos. T-450 and TT-71A, respectively, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered July 28, 1999, in Case No. PUC-1999-00028. DSLnet-VA currently provides telecommunications services to 645 customers in Virginia.

The Joint Applicants request Commission approval to consummate a transaction that will result in the transfer of direct control of DSLnet-VA to MegaPath. Pursuant to the Agreement, dated as of December 30, 2009, between MegaPath and DSLnet, DSLnet will merge with and into MegaPath, with MegaPath as the surviving entity. Upon completion of the proposed transaction, DSLnet-VA will become a wholly owned direct subsidiary of MegaPath, and DSLnet's separate corporate existence will cease to exist. The proposed transaction will effectively eliminate DSLnet from direct ownership of DSLnet-VA, and MegaPath will remain the ultimate parent and become the sole parent of DSLnet-VA, with no other changes taking place.

The Joint Applicants state that since MegaPath already indirectly wholly owns DSLnet-VA, the proposed transaction is simply a pro forma internal merger, which is being undertaken for significant tax benefits that will improve the Joint Applicants' financial position and, therefore, DSLnet-VA's competitive position in the telecommunications market. Upon completion of the proposed transaction, DSLnet-VA will continue to hold its current CPCNs to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services in Virginia. The Joint Applicants represent that DSLnet-VA will continue to operate in Virginia under the same name offering the same services it currently offers with no change in the rates, terms or conditions of such services and, therefore, the internal merger will be seamless and transparent to Virginia customers.

The Joint Applicants advised Staff that the proposed transaction was completed on December 30, 2009, prior to receiving Commission approval. The Joint Applicants explained that the proposed transaction needed to be completed by December 31, 2009,

> [I]n order to realize significant financial savings that will allow them to provide services more efficiently and cost-effectively. Specifically, had [DSLnet] remained a separate entity past December 31, 2009, the [Joint Applicants] would have had to incur another year's worth of expenses related to corporate, regulatory and tax compliance for [DSLnet], including the preparation of sales, use and income tax returns and other governmental reports and filings for the year 2010.[3]

The Joint Applicants further state that,

> The purely internal restructuring was completely transparent outside of the [Joint Applicants] internal systems and did not result in any alteration in service to any end user customer in Virginia, but in total, the [Joint Applicants] estimate that they will save approximately $75,000 in 2010 alone by completing the merger before December 31, 2009.[4]

The Joint Applicants represent that the savings realized by the completion of the proposed transaction prior to December 31, 2009, are extremely significant to a small competitive entity and, therefore, made it imperative for the Joint Applicants to complete the proposed transaction prior to year-end 2009.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the Joint Application and representations of the Joint Applicants and having been advised by its Staff, is of the opinion and finds that the Joint Applicants' Motions for Protective Orders for the Confidential Attachment, filed on December 21, 2009, and for the Confidential Exhibit, filed on January 12, 2010, are no longer necessary and should, therefore, be denied.[5] The Commission is also of the opinion and finds that the above-described proposed transfer of direct control of DSLnet-VA to MegaPath will neither impair nor jeopardize the provision of adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates and should, therefore, be approved. However, the Commission is concerned with the Joint Applicants' failure to obtain the necessary prior approval required under the Utility Transfers Act as evidenced by its actions in connection with the instant Joint Application.

[3] Response to Staff Inquiry at 1.

[4] Response to Staff Inquiry at 2. The Joint Applicants state that because the merger of DSLnet-VA's parent, DSLnet, and MegaPath was part of an overall corporate consolidation that included several legal entities, the total company savings, including legal administration and risk management, will be approximately $250,000 per year.

[5] The Commission held the Joint Applicants' Motions for the Confidential Attachment and Confidential Exhibit in abeyance. We note that the Commission has received no request for leave to review the confidential information filed by the Joint Applicants on December 21, 2009, or on January 12, 2010, in this proceeding. Accordingly, we deny the Motions as moot but direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain the confidential information, to which the Motions pertain, under seal.

Section 56-88.1 of the Code provides, in part:

> No person, whether acting alone or in concert with others, shall, directly or indirectly, acquire or dispose of control of . . . (ii) a telephone company, or all of the assets thereof, without the prior approval of the Commission. Any person proposing an acquisition or disposition for which Commission approval is required by this section shall seek such approval pursuant to the procedure of § 56-90. . . .
> Any such acquisition or disposition of control without prior approval shall be voidable by the Commission. In addition, the Commission is authorized to revoke any certificate of public convenience and necessity it has issued, order compliance with this chapter, or take such other action as may be appropriate within the authority of the Commission.

Section 12.1-13 of the Code provides, in part:

> Whenever no fine or other penalty is specifically imposed by statute[6] for the failure of any such individual or business conducted by any entity other than an individual to comply with any provision of law or with any valid rule, regulation, or order of the Commission, the Commission may impose and collect from such individual or business conducted by an entity other than an individual a fine in an amount not to exceed $5,000 in the case of an individual, and in the case of a business conducted by an entity other than an individual not to exceed $10,000.

Therefore, the Joint Applicants are directed to file a response within ten (10) days of the date of the receipt of this Order stating why they should not be found in violation of § 56-88.1 of the Code and fined pursuant to § 12.1-13 of the Code (or any applicable law) for failing to obtain prior approval of the Commission before acquiring and disposing of control of DSLnet-VA.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Joint Applicants' Motions filed on December 21, 2009, and January 12, 2010, are hereby denied; however, we direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain the confidential information, to which the Motions pertain, under seal.

(2) Pursuant to §§ 56-88.1 and 56-90 of the Code, the Joint Applicants are hereby granted approval for the transfer of direct control of DSLnet Communications VA, Inc., from DSL.net, Inc., to MegaPath Inc. as described herein.

(3) The Joint Applicants shall, either individually or jointly, file a response within ten (10) days of the date of issuance of this order stating why they should not be found in violation of § 56-88.1 of the Code and fined pursuant to § 12.1-13 of the Code.

(4) This case is continued pending further order of the Commission.

CASE NO. PUC-2009-00065
APRIL 26, 2010

JOINT APPLICATION OF
DSLNET COMMUNICATIONS VA, INC.,
DSL.NET, INC.,
and MEGAPATH INC.

For approval of the transfer of direct control of DSLnet Communications VA, Inc., to MegaPath Inc., pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56, Va. Code §§ 56-88 et seq.

FINAL ORDER

On December 7, 2009, MegaPath Inc. ("MegaPath") and its wholly owned subsidiaries DSL.net, Inc. ("DSLnet"), and DSLnet Communications VA, Inc. ("DSLnet-VA") (collectively, the "Joint Applicants"), filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") notice of a pro forma internal change of direct control of DSLnet-VA from DSLnet to MegaPath, DSLnet's direct parent company. This change was to result from the merger of DSLnet and MegaPath, with MegaPath surviving. The Joint Applicants stated that the change of direct control is pro forma in nature because MegaPath ultimately controls DSLnet-VA both before and after the merger. The Joint Applicants stated that they had to complete the internal merger before December 31, 2009, in order to realize significant financial benefits. The Joint Applicants also stated that it was their understanding that Commission approval would not be required to complete the transaction. Accordingly, the Joint Applicants submitted their letter purportedly for informational purposes only to ensure the continuing accuracy of the Commission's records.

The Staff of the Commission ("Staff") filed a Memorandum of Incompleteness on December 10, 2009, stating that since the direct ownership of DSLnet-VA, the entity certificated in Virginia, would transfer to MegaPath, prior Commission approval would be required for the transfer pursuant to § 56-88.1 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"). Furthermore, treating the Joint Applicants' notice as an application, the Staff's memorandum stated that the filing was incomplete, listing the items necessary for the filing to be deemed complete pursuant to the provisions of the Utility Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56 of the Code. The matter was docketed as Case No. PUC-2009-00065.

On December 21, 2009, the Joint Applicants filed supplemental information in accordance with the Staff's memorandum dated December 10, 2009. On December 28, 2009, the Staff filed a Memorandum of Completeness documenting that the application was complete as of December 21, 2009.

On March 18, 2010, the Commission issued an Order Granting Approval and Directing Response ("March 18 Order"), which (1) granted approval for the transfer of direct control of DSLnet-VA from DSLnet to MegaPath, and (2) directed the Joint Applicants to file a response stating why they should not be fined for proceeding with the transfer prior to receipt of Commission approval. The March 18 Order documented that the Joint Applicants had informed the Staff that the proposed transaction was completed on December 30, 2009.

Section 56-88.1 of the Code provides, in part:

> No person, whether acting alone or in concert with others, shall, directly or indirectly, acquire or dispose of control of . . . (ii) a telephone company, or all of the assets thereof, without the prior approval of the Commission. Any person proposing an acquisition or disposition for which Commission approval is required by this section shall seek such approval pursuant to the procedure of § 56-90. . . .
> Any such acquisition or disposition of control without prior approval shall be voidable by the Commission. In addition, the Commission is authorized to revoke any certificate of public convenience and necessity it has issued, order compliance with this chapter, or take such other action as may be appropriate within the authority of the Commission.

Section 12.1-13 of the Code provides, in part:

> Whenever no fine or other penalty is specifically imposed by statute[1] for the failure of any such individual or business conducted by any entity other than an individual to comply with any provision of law or with any valid rule, regulation, or order of the Commission, the Commission may impose and collect from such individual or business conducted by an entity other than an individual a fine in an amount not to exceed $5,000 in the case of an individual, and in the case of a business conducted by an entity other than an individual not to exceed $10,000.

Accordingly, the Commission directed the Joint Applicants to file a response within ten (10) days of the date of the receipt of the March 18 Order stating why they should not be found in violation of § 56-88.1 of the Code and fined pursuant to § 12.1-13 of the Code (or any applicable law) for failing to obtain prior approval of the Commission before acquiring and disposing of control of DSLnet-VA.

On April 1, 2010, a Response to Commission Order ("Response") was filed on behalf of MegaPath and DSLnet-VA ("Companies").[2] The Response stated that since MegaPath was already an indirect owner of DSLnet-VA, it was unclear to the Companies that removing DSLnet from the chain of ownership would require Commission approval under § 56-88.1 of the Code. However, the Response acknowledges that it is for the Commission to interpret the correct scope of its rules, and therefore, given the Commission's March 18 Order, the Companies should have sought approval under § 56-88.1 of the Code. The Companies submit that such violation was minor insofar as there has been no change in the control of DSLnet-VA even though as a structural matter its corporate parent has changed.

The Companies further assert that the public interest in a competitive telecommunications market is best served by elimination of unnecessary inefficiencies and costs in the corporate structure of telephone companies as such duplication tends to increase the costs that telephone companies must pass on to their customers. According to the Companies, the internal corporate restructuring that merged DSLnet with and into MegaPath, with MegaPath surviving the merger, eliminated needless duplication within their respective operations. In addition, the Companies submit that the event was completely transparent outside of the Companies' internal systems and did not result in any alteration in service to any end user customer in Virginia.

Furthermore, the Companies assert that this merger did not harm end users in that DSLnet-VA continues to provide high-quality communications services, did not interrupt end user service, and did not change rates, terms, or conditions of service. The Companies state that to their knowledge, this is the first occurrence in which either MegaPath or DSLnet-VA apparently violated Virginia law or the Commission's rules, and that the Companies fully intend to comply with all applicable Virginia law and the Commission's rules in the future.

For the reasons set out in the Response, the Companies submit that if the Commission determines that the violation of § 56-88.1 of the Code should be punished with a fine, that the fine should be minimal. Additionally, the Companies request that the Commission suspend all or a portion of any penalty imposed on the condition that the Companies not violate § 56-88.1 of the Code in the future. The Companies submit that should the Commission determine by order that the Companies violated § 56-88.1 of the Code a second time in the future, the suspended portion of the fine would come due upon the issuance of that order.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the filings herein and the applicable law, is of the opinion and finds that the Companies should be and hereby are found in violation of § 56-88.1 of the Code and fined $5,000 pursuant to § 12.1-13 of the Code. The Commission further finds that the fine, assessed jointly and severally upon the Companies, should be and hereby is suspended on the condition that the Companies, either individually or collectively, do not violate § 56-88.1 of the Code in the future.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) MegaPath Inc. and DSLnet Communications VA, Inc., are hereby assessed a fine of $5,000 pursuant to § 12.1-13 of the Code for violation of § 56-88.1 of the Code.

[1] For example, § 56-91 of the Code provides for a fine of not more than $1,000 for any company violating any provision of § 56-89 of the Code.

[2] DSLnet was merged into MegaPath in a transaction that was executed by the Joint Applicants on December 30, 2009. Said transaction was approved in the Commission's March 18 Order. Accordingly, DSLnet no longer exists.

(2) This fine shall be suspended on the condition that the Companies, either individually or collectively, do not violate § 56-88.1 of the Code in the future.

(3) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this matter is dismissed from the Commission's active docket and the papers filed herein placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUC-2009-00066
FEBRUARY 16, 2010

JOINT PETITION OF
ZAYO BANDWIDTH NORTHEAST, LLC,
ZAYO BANDWIDTH NORTHEAST SUB, LLC,
ZAYO BANDWIDTH CENTRAL, LLC,
ZAYO BANDWIDTH CENTRAL (VIRGINIA), LLC,
and
ZAYO BANDWIDTH, LLC

For approval of pro forma intra-corporate mergers, pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56, Va. Code §§ 56-88 et seq.

ORDER GRANTING APPROVAL

On December 7, 2009, Zayo Bandwidth Northeast, LLC ("Zayo-NE"), Zayo Bandwidth Northeast Sub, LLC ("Zayo-NE Sub"), Zayo Bandwidth Central (Virginia), LLC ("Zayo-VA"), and Zayo Bandwidth, LLC ("ZB") (collectively, the "Joint Petitioners"), filed a Joint Petition with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), for approval of pro forma intra-corporate mergers.

The Joint Petitioners filed the Joint Petition with the Commission under seal, pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure ("Rules") regarding confidential information, in order to obtain confidential treatment of Confidential Exhibit E of the Joint Petition ("Confidential Exhibit"),[1] which contains consolidated financial statements of the Joint Petitioners. Rule 5 VAC 5-20-170 states, in part: "When an application (including supporting documents and prefiled testimony) contains information that the applicant claims to be confidential, the filing shall be made under seal and accompanied by a motion for protective order or other confidential treatment." Therefore, on December 18, 2009, the Joint Petitioners filed with the Commission a Motion for Protective Order ("Motion"), pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules, to obtain confidential treatment of the financial information contained in the Confidential Exhibit.

On December 23, 2009, Staff filed a Memorandum of Completeness, which deemed the Joint Petition complete as of December 18, 2009.

On January 21, 2010, the Joint Petitioners filed an Amendment to the Joint Petition in which it added Zayo Bandwidth Central, LLC ("Zayo-Central"), as a Petitioner in this proceeding.[2] Accordingly, Zayo-NE, Zayo-NE Sub, Zayo-Central, Zayo-VA and ZB are referred to herein collectively as the "Joint Petitioners." The Joint Petition and the Amendment to the Joint Petition are referred to herein collectively as the "Joint Petition."

The Joint Petitioners are all Delaware limited liability companies with principal business headquarters located in Louisville, Colorado. Zayo-NE, Zayo-Central, and ZB are direct subsidiaries of Zayo Group, LLC ("Zayo Group"), and Zayo-NE Sub and Zayo-VA are direct subsidiaries of Zayo-NE and Zayo-Central, respectively.

Zayo Group is a Delaware limited liability company that is wholly owned by Zayo Group Holdings, Inc. ("Zayo Holdings"), which in turn is wholly owned by Communications Infrastructure Investment, LLC ("CII"). Zayo Group, through its operating subsidiaries, provides bandwidth, voice, collocation and interconnection, and managed services to carrier, enterprise, small and medium enterprise, and government customers. Zayo Group has begun to market its telecommunications services through four specialized business units: Zayo Bandwidth, Zayo Enterprise Networks, Onvoy Voice Services, and zColo. These business units focus on defined service and customer segments, which allows each unit to target its sales, operations, customer service, and management teams on its specific segment. The Zayo Bandwidth business unit is currently the only unit that has companies that provide telecommunications services in Virginia.

Since May 2007, Zayo Group has acquired the following entities that currently comprise the Zayo Bandwidth business unit: (1) Memphis Networx, LLC (now known as Zayo Bandwidth Tennessee, LLC) ("Zayo-TN"); (2) PPL Telcom, LLC (now known as Zayo-NE) and PPL Prism, LLC (now known as Zayo-NE Sub);[3] (3) Indiana Fiber Works, LLC (now known as Zayo Bandwidth Indiana, LLC) ("Zayo-IN"); (4) Citynet Fiber Network, LLC (now known as Zayo-Central) and Citynet Virginia, LLC (now known as Zayo-VA);[4] (5) Northwest Telephone, Inc. (now known as Zayo Bandwidth Northwest,

[1] The Joint Petitioners state that the information contained in the Confidential Exhibit is extremely sensitive financial information that could be used by competitors to determine revenue and other information damaging to the Joint Petitioners and, therefore, disclosure of such information would be extremely detrimental and could be used by the Joint Petitioners' competitors to materially affect their ability to compete effectively.

[2] Zayo-Central was added as a Petitioner in this proceeding because of their disposal of direct control of Zayo-VA as a result of the proposed mergers.

[3] The acquisition of Zayo-NE and Zayo-NE Sub by Zayo Group was completed on August 24, 2007, pursuant to the Commission's Order Granting Approval entered July 30, 2007, in Case No. PUC-2007-00053.

[4] The acquisition of Zayo-Central and Zayo-VA by Zayo Group was completed on February 15, 2008, pursuant to the Commission's Order Granting Approval entered February 15, 2008, in Case No. PUC-2008-00007.

Inc.) ("Zayo-NW"); (6) Fiberlink, LLC d/b/a Columbia Fiber Solutions ("CFS"); and (7) NTI of California, LLC ("NTIC"). In addition, there are three other entities, Zayo Bandwidth Tri-State, LLC, Zayo Bandwidth Midwest, LLC, and ZB, which are included in the Zayo Bandwidth business unit, for a total of twelve current Zayo Bandwidth companies.[5]

The Zayo Bandwidth business unit provides Private Line, Ethernet, Wavelength, Dedicated Internet Access and Collocation services to wholesale and large enterprise customers. In Virginia, (1) Zayo-NE is certificated to provide interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to the Commission's Order entered October 15, 2007, in Case No. PUC-2007-00074;[6] (2) Zayo-NE Sub is certificated to provide interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to the Commission's Order entered October 15, 2007, in Case No. PUC-2007-00074;[7] (3) Zayo-VA is certificated to provide both local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to the Commission's Order entered June 19, 2008, in Case No. PUC-2008-00032;[8] and (4) ZB currently has an application pending at the Commission for certificates of public convenience and necessity ("CPCNs") to provide resold and facilities-based local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services in Virginia.[9] Zayo-Central provides interstate or non-regulated telecommunications services and, therefore, does not hold a CPCN in Virginia.

Collectively, Zayo-NE, Zayo-NE Sub, and Zayo-Central provide Private Line, Ethernet, Wavelength, Dedicated Internet Access and Collocation services to approximately thirty-one customers in Virginia. Zayo-VA currently provides wholesale access to collocation space, pole attachments, and conduit leases in Virginia but does not provide any retail telecommunications services. Zayo-VA's sole customer is its parent company, Zayo-Central.

The Joint Petitioners request Commission approval of pro forma intra-corporate mergers that will result in the transfer of direct control of Zayo-NE, Zayo-NE Sub, and Zayo-VA to ZB.[10] As part of its effort to streamline its corporate structure, Zayo Group will merge Zayo-NE, Zayo-NE Sub, Zayo-Central, and Zayo-VA with and into ZB, with ZB as the surviving entity. Upon completion of the proposed mergers and the issuance of the requested CPCNs in the Pending Application, ZB will remain a direct wholly owned subsidiary of Zayo Group, and the customers of Zayo-NE, Zayo-NE Sub, Zayo-Central, and Zayo-VA will become customers of ZB. The proposed mergers will effectively eliminate Zayo-NE, Zayo-NE Sub, Zayo-Central, and Zayo-VA from the corporate structure of Zayo Group, and ZB will be the only remaining Zayo Bandwidth business unit that provides telecommunications services in Virginia.

The Joint Petitioners represent that the proposed mergers will create efficiencies for Zayo Group and its specialized business units by reducing the accounting, reporting, managerial, and operating complexities involved with having such a complex corporate structure. Specifically, the Joint Petitioners state that Zayo Group has determined the Zayo Bandwidth business unit would be more efficient by consolidating the twelve current Zayo Bandwidth companies into ZB and two subsidiaries, Zayo-TN and Adesta Communications, Inc. ("ACI").[11] As a result, all of the various existing Zayo Bandwidth entities, except Zayo-TN and ACI, will be consolidated into ZB, which will streamline the operations of the Zayo Bandwidth business unit and possibly make it a stronger competitor to the ultimate benefit of its customers. The Joint Petitioners further state that, because all operating entities currently comprising the Zayo Bandwidth business unit currently include the Zayo Bandwidth name and logo on all marketing materials, correspondence, and bills, even the change in the legal name of their provider will be virtually transparent to the affected customers. Upon completion of the proposed mergers, the current customers of Zayo-NE, Zayo-NE Sub, Zayo-Central, and Zayo-VA will begin to receive telecommunications service from ZB with no change in the rates, terms, and conditions of such service. The Joint Petitioners state that the only perceptible change resulting from the proposed intra-corporate mergers will be the name of the company providing the affected customer's telecommunications service.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the Joint Petition and representations of the Joint Petitioners and having been advised by its Staff, is of the opinion and finds that the Joint Petitioners' Motion is no longer necessary and should, therefore, be denied.[12] The Commission is also of the [5] Zayo Bandwidth Tri-State, LLC, and Zayo Bandwidth Midwest, LLC, are direct subsidiaries of Zayo Group.

[6] Zayo-NE was formally known as PPL Telcom, LLC ("Telcom"), which was issued Certificate No. TT-197A to provide interexchange telecommunications services in Virginia pursuant the Commission's Final Order entered September 23, 2003, in Case No. PUC-2003-00095. On October 15, 2007, in Case No. PUC-2007-00074, the Commission approved Telcom's name change to Zayo-NE, cancelled Certificate No. TT-197A, and issued Certificate No. TT-197B in the name of Zayo Bandwidth Northeast, LLC.

[7] Zayo-NE Sub was formally known as PPL Prism, LLC ("Prism"), which was issued Certificate No. TT-193A to provide interexchange telecommunications services in Virginia pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered June 20, 2003, in Case No. PUC-2003-00035. On October 15, 2007, in Case No. PUC-2007-00074, the Commission approved Prism's name change to Zayo-NE Sub, cancelled Certificate No. TT-193A, and issued Certificate No. TT-193B in the name of Zayo Bandwidth Northeast Sub, LLC.

[8] Zayo-VA was formally known as Citynet Virginia, LLC ("Citynet VA"). Citynet VA was certificated to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services in Virginia pursuant to Certificate Nos. T-621 and TT-200A, respectively, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered March 5, 2004, in Case No. PUC-2003-00174. On June 19, 2008, in Case No. PUC-2008-00032, the Commission approved Citynet VA's name change to Zayo-VA, cancelled Certificate Nos. T-621 and TT-200A, and issued Certificate Nos. T-621a and TT-200B in the name of Zayo Bandwidth Central (Virginia), LLC.

[9] See Application of Zayo Bandwidth, LLC, for certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services, Case No. PUC-2009-00067 ("Pending Application").

[10] Since Zayo-Central does not currently provide, or hold a CPCN to provide, regulated telecommunications services in Virginia, the Joint Petitioners do not need Commission approval of the transfer of direct control of Zayo-Central to ZB. As previously stated, Zayo-Central was added as a Petitioner in this proceeding because of its disposal of direct control of Zayo-VA as a result of the proposed mergers.

[11] ACI does not provide, or hold any authorizations to provide, regulated telecommunications services in any state. The Joint Petitioners state that, for various business and legal reasons, Zayo-TN will not be consolidated into ZB at this time and will maintain its separate corporate existence for the near future. Ultimately, Zayo Group expects that Zayo-TN will also be consolidated into ZB.

[12] The Commission held the Joint Petitioners' Motion in abeyance. We note that the Commission has received no request for leave to review the confidential financial information filed by the Joint Petitioners in this proceeding. Accordingly, we deny the Motion as moot but direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain such information under seal.

opinion and finds that the above-described pro forma intra-corporate mergers, resulting in the transfer of direct control of Zayo-NE, Zayo-NE Sub, and Zayo-VA to ZB, will neither impair nor jeopardize the provision of adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates and should, therefore, be approved. However, such approval is subject to ZB obtaining the CPCNs in Case No. PUC-2009-00067.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Joint Petitioners' Motion for Protective Order is hereby denied; however, we direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain the confidential information, to which the Motion pertains, under seal.

(2) Pursuant to §§ 56-88.1 and 56-90 of the Code, the Joint Petitioners are hereby granted approval for the pro forma intra-corporate mergers, resulting in the transfer of direct control of Zayo-NE, Zayo-NE Sub, and Zayo-VA to ZB, as described herein, subject to ZB obtaining the certificates of public convenience and necessity in Case No. PUC-2009-00067.

(3) The Joint Petitioners shall file a report of the action taken pursuant to the approval granted herein within thirty (30) days of the transaction taking place, subject to administrative extension by the Commission's Director of Public Utility Accounting. Such report shall include the date the transaction took place.

(4) Upon completion of the mergers approved herein and the issuance by the Commission of the requested certificates of public convenience and necessity in Case No. PUC-2009-00067, the Joint Petitioners shall file a letter with the Clerk of the Commission, with a copy provided to the Division of Communications, requesting that the current certificates of public convenience and necessity issued to Zayo-NE, Zayo-NE Sub, and Zayo-VA be canceled.

(5) There appearing nothing further to be done in this matter, it hereby is dismissed.

APRIL 21, 2010

APPLICATION OF
ZAYO BANDWIDTH, LLC

For certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services

FINAL ORDER

On December 15, 2009, Zayo Bandwidth, LLC ("Zayo" or "Applicant"), completed an application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") for certificates of public convenience and necessity ("certificates") to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia. The Applicant also requested authority to price its interexchange telecommunications services on a competitive basis pursuant to § 56-481.1 of the Code of Virginia.

By Order for Notice and Comment dated December 29, 2009, the Commission directed the Applicant to provide notice to the public of its application and directed the Commission Staff ("Staff") to conduct an investigation and file a Staff Report. The Applicant filed proof of service on January 19, 2010, and proof of publication on February 16, 2010, as required by the December 29, 2009 Order for Notice and Comment.

On March 26, 2010, the Staff filed its Report finding that Zayo's application was in compliance with the Rules Governing the Certification and Regulation of Competitive Local Exchange Carriers, 20 VAC 5-417-10 et seq., and the Rules Governing the Certification of Interexchange Carriers, 20 VAC 5-411-10 et seq. Based upon its review of Zayo's application, the Staff determined it would be appropriate to grant the Applicant certificates to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services subject to the following condition: Zayo should notify the Division of Economics and Finance no less than thirty (30) days prior to the cancellation or lapse of its bond and should provide a replacement bond at that time. This requirement should be maintained until such time as the Commission determines it is no longer necessary.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the application and the Staff Report, finds that the Applicant should be granted certificates to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services. Having considered § 56-481.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Commission further finds that the Applicant may price its interexchange telecommunications services competitively.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Zayo Bandwidth, LLC, is hereby granted a certificate of public convenience and necessity, No. TT-252A , to provide interexchange telecommunications services subject to the restrictions set forth in the Rules Governing the Certification of Interexchange Carriers, § 56-265.4:4 of the Code of Virginia, and the provisions of this Order.

(2) Zayo Bandwidth, LLC, is hereby granted a certificate of public convenience and necessity, No. T-696, to provide local exchange telecommunications services subject to the restrictions set forth in the Rules Governing the Certification and Regulation of Competitive Local Exchange Carriers, § 56-265.4:4 of the Code of Virginia, and the provisions of this Order.

(3) Pursuant to § 56-481.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Applicant may price its interexchange telecommunications services competitively.

(4) The Applicant shall provide tariffs to the Division of Communications that conform to all applicable Commission rules and regulations.

(5) Zayo Bandwidth, LLC, shall notify the Division of Economics and Finance no less than thirty (30) days prior to the cancellation or lapse of its bond and shall provide a replacement bond at that time. This requirement shall be maintained until such time as the Commission determines it is no longer necessary.

(6) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this case shall be dismissed and the papers filed herein placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUC-2009-00069
JANUARY 8, 2010

PETITION OF
PNG TELECOMMUNICATIONS OF VIRGINIA, LLC d/b/a POWERNET GLOBAL COMMUNICATIONS

For replacement of existing letter of credit with surety bond and return of the letter of credit

ORDER GRANTING PETITION

By Order dated February 11, 2004, in Case No. PUC-2003-00139, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") granted PNG Telecommunications of Virginia, LLC d/b/a PowerNet Global Communications ("PNG" or "Company"), a certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange telecommunications services. In granting that local exchange certificate, the Commission waived the requirement for a $50,000 performance or surety bond, as set out in Rule 20 VAC 5-417-20 G 1 b, and accepted in its place a $50,000 irrevocable letter of credit.

By petition filed December 11, 2009, in the present case, PNG requests that the Commission replace the irrevocable letter of credit, which is currently being held by the Commission, with a $50,000 surety bond issued by the Hartford Insurance Company. PNG further requests that the existing letter of credit be returned to the Company's offices upon acceptance of the surety bond as an acceptable replacement for the letter of credit.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the matter, is of the opinion that PNG's petition should be granted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) This matter shall be docketed and assigned Case No. PUC-2009-00069.

(2) The letter of credit that is currently being held by the Commission shall be replaced by the $50,000 surety bond issued by the Hartford Insurance Company.

(3) The Commission's Division of Economics and Finance shall forward the letter of credit to the offices of PNG so that the Company may effectuate the cancellation of the letter of credit.

(4) PNG shall notify the Division of Economics and Finance no less than thirty (30) days prior to the cancellation or lapse of its bond and shall provide a replacement bond at that time. This requirement shall be maintained until such time as the Commission determines it is no longer necessary.

(5) The captioned matter is hereby dismissed.

JUNE 18, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
JACQUI ELECTRIC COMPANY,
Defendant

ORDER

On January 12, 2010, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") issued its Rule to Show Cause ("Rule") against Jacqui Electric Company ("Defendant"). The Rule appointed a Hearing Examiner to conduct all further proceedings and scheduled a hearing at which the Defendant was required to appear and show cause why penalties should not be imposed for alleged violations of the Pay Telephone Registration Act, § 56-508.15 et seq. of the Code of Virginia ("Act"), and the Rules for Payphone Services and Instruments, 20 VAC 5-407-10 et seq., promulgated pursuant to the Act.

On February 16, 2010, counsel for the Commission's Division of Communications ("Staff") filed a request to continue the hearing in the above-referenced matter for the parties to pursue a stipulation that would resolve the matter.

By Hearing Examiner's Ruling entered on February 17, 2010, the hearing on the Rule was cancelled and the matter continued generally. On April 13, 2010, the Staff filed a Motion to Schedule Hearing because efforts to commit a stipulation to writing had not been successful. By Hearing Examiner Ruling entered April 20, 2010, the hearing was scheduled for 10:00 a.m. on May 4, 2010.

The hearing was convened as scheduled. Counsel for the Staff presented a stipulation entered into between the Staff and the Defendant ("Stipulation").

On May 5, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued his Report finding that the Stipulation resolves the issues in controversy and should be adopted. The Report noted that the comment period should be waived.

Further, the Hearing Examiner recommended that the Commission adopt the findings of his Report, adopt the Stipulation, direct the Defendant to comply with the terms of the Stipulation, and pass the papers herein to the file for ended causes.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the Stipulation appended hereto as Attachment A, and the Hearing Examiner's Report, is of the opinion and finds that the recommendations of the Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED:

(1) The Stipulation dated April 21, 2010, is accepted.

(2) The findings of the Hearing Examiner's Report of May 5, 2010, are adopted.

(3) The Defendant shall comply with the terms of the Stipulation and shall, on or before June 21, 2010, file a report with the Division of Communications that shows the terms set out in Item (4) of the Stipulation have been fulfilled.

(4) This matter is dismissed and the papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

NOTE: A copy of Attachment A entitled "Stipulation" is on file and may be examined at the State Corporation Commission, Clerk's Office, Document Control Center, Tyler Building, First Floor, 1300 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia.

CASE NO. PUC-2009-00072
MAY 10, 2010

APPLICATION OF
MCC TELEPHONY OF THE MID-ATLANTIC, LLC

For certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services

FINAL ORDER

On February 1, 2010, MCC Telephony of the Mid-Atlantic, LLC ("MCC" or the "Company"), completed an application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") for certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia. The Company also requested authority to price its interexchange telecommunications services on a competitive basis pursuant to § 56-481.1 of the Code of Virginia.

By Order for Notice and Comment dated February 22, 2010, the Commission directed the Company to provide notice to the public of its application and directed the Commission Staff to conduct an investigation and file a Staff Report. On April 1, 2010, the Company filed proof of publication and proof of service as required by the February 22, 2010 Order.

On April 23, 2010, the Staff filed its Report finding that MCC's application was in compliance with the Rules Governing the Certification and Regulation of Competitive Local Exchange Carriers, 20 VAC 5-417-10 et seq., and the Rules Governing the Certification of Interexchange Carriers, 20 VAC 5-411-10 et seq. Based upon its review of MCC's application, the Staff determined it would be appropriate to grant the Company certificates to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services subject to the following condition: MCC should notify the Division of Economics and Finance no less than thirty (30) days prior to the cancellation or lapse of its bond and should provide a replacement bond at that time. This requirement should be maintained until such time as the Commission determines it is no longer necessary.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the application and the Staff Report, finds that the Company should be granted certificates to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services. Having considered § 56-481.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Commission further finds that the Company may price its interexchange telecommunications services competitively.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) MCC Telephony of the Mid-Atlantic, LLC, is hereby granted a certificate of public convenience and necessity, No. TT-253A, to provide interexchange telecommunications services subject to the restrictions set forth in the Commission's Rules Governing the Certification of Interexchange Carriers, § 56-265.4:4 of the Code of Virginia, and the provisions of this Order.

(2) MCC Telephony of the Mid-Atlantic, LLC, is hereby granted a certificate of public convenience and necessity, No. T-698, to provide local exchange telecommunications services subject to the restrictions set forth in the Rules Governing the Certification and Regulation of Competitive Local Exchange Carriers, § 56-265.4:4 of the Code of Virginia, and the provisions of this Order.

(3) The Company shall provide tariffs to the Division of Communications that conform with all applicable Commission rules and regulations.

(4) The Company shall notify the Division of Economics and Finance no less than thirty (30) days prior to the cancellation or lapse of its bond and shall provide a replacement bond at that time. This requirement shall be maintained until such time as the Commission determines it is no longer necessary.

(5) Pursuant to § 56-481.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Company may price its interexchange telecommunications services competitively.

(6) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this case shall be dismissed and the papers filed herein placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUC-2009-00073
MAY 17, 2010

APPLICATION OF
FRONTIER COMMUNICATIONS OF VIRGINIA, INC

For a certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange telecommunications services

FINAL ORDER

On December 29, 2009, Frontier Communications of Virginia, Inc. ("Frontier" or "Company"), filed an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to provide local exchange telecommunications services pursuant to the small investor-owned telephone company requirements, § 56-531, et seq. of the Code of Virginia, in the Crows-Hematite exchange currently served by Verizon Virginia Inc ("Verizon").

By Order for Notice and Comment dated February 16, 2010, the Commission directed the Company to provide notice of its application to the certificated local exchange and interexchange providers and the public in the Crows-Hematite exchange and directed the Commission Staff to conduct an investigation and file a Staff Report. On March 9, 2010, Frontier filed proof of publication and proof of service as required by the February 16, 2010 Order.

On April 12, 2010, the Staff filed its Report finding that Frontier's application was in compliance with the Rules Governing the Certification and Regulation of Competitive Local Exchange Carriers, 20 VAC 5-417-10 et seq. On April 14, 2010, Frontier filed a response to the Staff Report. Based upon its review of Frontier's application, the Staff determined it would be appropriate to grant the Company a certificate to provide local exchange telecommunications services, subject to three conditions set forth in the Report as follows:

1. Frontier Communications of Virginia, Inc. should notify the Division of Economics and Finance no less than thirty (30) days prior to the cancellation or lapse of its bond and should provide a replacement bond at that time. This requirement should be maintained until such time as the Commission determines it is no longer necessary.

2. Frontier should provide tariffs that mirror the service offerings currently provided by Verizon in the Crows-Hematite exchange. This includes calling scopes, rates, charges, and terms and conditions of service. Frontier should not offer service until such tariffs have been reviewed and accepted by the Division of Communications.

3. If Frontier becomes the successor company to Verizon in the Crows-Hematite exchange, it should abide by the carrier of last resort obligations and any other state or federal requirements applicable to the incumbent local exchange carrier for that exchange.

Furthermore, the Staff Report did not object to Frontier's intent to operate as a small investor-owned telephone company pursuant to § 56-531, et seq. of the Code of Virginia as it will fit that definition once it becomes the successor company to Verizon in the Crows-Hematite exchange.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the application and the Staff Report, finds that the Company should be granted a certificate to provide local exchange telecommunications services, subject to the conditions listed above.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Frontier Communications of Virginia, Inc. is hereby granted a certificate of public convenience and necessity, No. T-697, to provide local exchange telecommunications services in the Crows-Hematite exchange subject to the conditions that follow:

a. Frontier Communications of Virginia, Inc. shall notify the Division of Economics and Finance no less than thirty (30) days prior to the cancellation or lapse of its bond and shall provide a replacement bond at that time. This requirement shall be maintained until such time as the Commission determines it is no longer necessary.

b. Frontier shall provide tariffs that mirror the service offerings currently provided by Verizon in the Crows-Hematite exchange. This includes calling scopes, rates, charges, and terms and conditions of service. Frontier shall not offer service until such tariffs have been reviewed and accepted by the Division of Communications.

c. Frontier may operate as a small investor-owned telephone utility pursuant to Chapter 19 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia. If Frontier becomes the successor company to Verizon in the Crows-Hematite exchange, it shall abide by the carrier of last resort obligations and any other state and federal requirements applicable to the incumbent local exchange carrier for that exchange.

(2) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this case shall be dismissed and the papers filed herein placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00004
JULY 8, 2010

APPLICATION OF
BETTERWORLD TELECOM, LLC

For a certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange telecommunications services

ORDER DISMISSING WITHOUT PREJUDICE

On May 10, 2010, BetterWorld Telecom, LLC ("BetterWorld" or "Applicant"), completed an application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") for a certificate of public convenience and necessity ("certificate") to provide local exchange telecommunications services throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia.

On June 2, 2010, the Commission entered its Order for Notice and Comment which directed BetterWorld to provide public notice of its application; required BetterWorld to post a surety bond; and established a schedule for all filings needed to complete this proceeding.

On June 16, 2010, BetterWorld filed a letter advising the Commission that it wished to withdraw its application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange telecommunications services. The Applicant also advised the Commission that it plans to resubmit an application in the future.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the applicable law, is of the opinion and finds that BetterWorld's request should be granted and that this matter should be dismissed without prejudice to BetterWorld's refiling in the future.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) This case is dismissed without prejudice to the refiling of same.

(2) The record developed herein shall be placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00005
JUNE 1, 2010

APPLICATION OF
CINCINNATI BELL ANY DISTANCE OF VIRGINIA LLC

For a certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange telecommunications services

FINAL ORDER

On February 12, 2010, Cincinnati Bell Any Distance of Virginia LLC, ("CBAD" or the "Company"), filed an application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange telecommunications services throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia.

By Order of Notice and Comment dated March 9, 2010, the Commission directed the Company to provide notice to the public of its application and directed the Commission Staff to conduct an investigation and file a Staff Report. On April 23, 2010, CBAD filed proof of publication and proof of service as required by the March 9, 2010 Order.

On April 30, 2010, the Staff filed its Report finding that CBAD's application was in compliance with the Rules Governing the Certification and Regulation of Competitive Local Exchange Carriers, 20 VAC 5-417-10 et seq. Based upon its review of CBAD's application, the Staff determined it would be appropriate to grant the Company a certificate to provide local exchange telecommunications services, subject to the condition set forth in the Report as follows:

CBAD should notify the Division of Economics and Finance no less than thirty (30) days prior to the cancellation or lapse of its bond and should provide a replacement bond at that time. This requirement should be maintained until such time as the Commission determines it is no longer necessary.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the application and the Staff Report, finds that the Company should be granted a certificate to provide local exchange telecommunications services, subject to the condition listed above.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) CBAD is hereby granted a certificate of public convenience and necessity, No. T-699, to provide local exchange telecommunications services subject to the restrictions set forth in the Rules Governing the Certification and Regulation of Competitive Local Exchange Carriers, § 56-265.4:4 of the Code of Virginia, and the provisions of this Order.

(2) The Company shall provide tariffs to the Division of Communications that conform with all applicable Commission rules and regulations.

(3) CBAD shall notify the Division of Economics and Finance no less than 30 days prior to the cancellation or lapse of its bond and shall provide a replacement bond at that time. This requirement shall be maintained until such time as the Commission determines it is no longer necessary.

(4) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this case shall be dismissed and the papers filed herein placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00007
MARCH 25, 2010

JOINT PETITION OF
PEOPLES MUTUAL TELEPHONE COMPANY,
FAIRPOINT COMMUNICATIONS SOLUTIONS CORP. – VIRGINIA,
and
FAIRPOINT COMMUNICATIONS, INC.

For approval of the transfer of control of Peoples Mutual Telephone Company and FairPoint Communications Solutions Corp. — Virginia, in connection with the bankruptcy proceeding of FairPoint Communications, Inc., pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56, Va. Code §§ 56-88 et seq.

ORDER GRANTING APPROVAL

On February 12, 2010, Peoples Mutual Telephone Company ("Peoples Mutual"), FairPoint Communications Solutions Corp. – Virginia ("Solutions") (collectively, the "FairPoint Subsidiaries"), and FairPoint Communications, Inc. ("FairPoint"), filed a Joint Petition with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), for approval of the transfer of control of the FairPoint Subsidiaries, in connection with the bankruptcy proceeding of FairPoint. Peoples Mutual, Solutions, and FairPoint are collectively referred to herein as the "Joint Petitioners." On February 19, 2010, Staff filed a Memorandum of Completeness, which deemed the Joint Petition complete as of February 12, 2010.

FairPoint is a publicly traded Delaware corporation with its principal business headquarters located in Charlotte, North Carolina. FairPoint was formed to acquire and operate rural and small urban telecommunications companies and currently owns thirty-three (33) companies serving approximately 1.6 million access line equivalents in eighteen (18) states. FairPoint is the ultimate parent company of, among other entities, MJD Ventures, Inc. ("MJD Ventures"), and the FairPoint Subsidiaries.

Peoples Mutual, a Virginia public service company providing telecommunications services in and around Gretna, Virginia, is wholly owned by MJD Ventures. The Commission approved MJD Ventures' purchase of all of Peoples Mutual's common equity on February 15, 2000, in Case No. PUA-1999-00081, a transaction that was completed on April 3, 2000.[1] Peoples Mutual is, therefore, an indirect subsidiary of FairPoint. Currently, Peoples Mutual provides facilities-based local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services to approximately 8,600 customers in Virginia as an Incumbent Local Exchange Carrier.

Solutions is also an indirect subsidiary of FairPoint but is no longer an operating entity and does not provide any telecommunications services in Virginia. In Virginia, Solutions is certificated as a Competitive Local Exchange Carrier to provide competitive local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to its certificates of public convenience and necessity ("CPCNs"), Certificate Nos. T-502a and TT-107B, respectively, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered August 2, 2002, in Case No. PUC-2002-00125.[2] Solutions has no assets or customers in Virginia.

The Joint Petitioners request Commission approval of the indirect transfer of control of the FairPoint Subsidiaries in connection with the reorganization of FairPoint under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code (the "Proposed Transaction").[3] The Proposed Transaction will result in a change in the ownership of FairPoint, the ultimate corporate parent of the FairPoint Subsidiaries, which in turn will result in the change of indirect ownership of the FairPoint Subsidiaries. The Joint Petitioners state that the Proposed Transaction does not involve, nor do the Joint Petitioners seek Commission approval for the following: (1) a transfer of the FairPoint Subsidiaries' authorizations to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services in Virginia; (2) the transfer of any of the FairPoint Subsidiaries' assets or customers in Virginia; (3) the issuance of any stock, bonds, notes, or other evidence of indebtedness by the FairPoint Subsidiaries; or (4) any change affecting the FairPoint Subsidiaries' rates or day-to-day operations. Upon completion of the Proposed Transaction, and the emergence of FairPoint from bankruptcy, the corporate structure of FairPoint will remain unchanged, with FairPoint remaining the ultimate parent company of the FairPoint Subsidiaries.

On October 26, 2009, FairPoint filed a Petition under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in the Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York ("Bankruptcy Court") through which the Proposed Transaction will be accomplished.[4] The Joint Petitioners state that it is critical for FairPoint, as the Debtor-In-Possession ("DIP"), to have access to a sufficient credit facility to meet working capital needs throughout the bankruptcy process. To emerge from bankruptcy, FairPoint will replace its package of DIP financing pursuant to the terms of a Credit Agreement with a consortium of banks ("New Credit

[1] See Joint Petition of Peoples Mutual Telephone Company and MJD Ventures, Inc, For authority pursuant to § 56-88.1 of the Code of Virginia, Case No. PUA-1999-00081, 2000 S.C.C. Ann. Rept. 157-158, Order Granting Authority (Feb. 15, 2000).

[2] Solutions was formerly known as FairPoint Communications Corp. – Virginia ("FairPoint-VA"). FairPoint-VA was certificated to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services in Virginia pursuant to Certificate Nos. T-502 and TT-107A, respectively, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered August 29, 2000, in Case No. PUC-2000-00037. On August 2, 2002, in Case No. PUC-2002-00125, the Commission canceled Certificate Nos. T-502 and TT-107A, and reissued Certificate Nos. T-502a and TT-107B in the name of FairPoint Communications Solutions Corp. — Virginia.

[3] Although Solutions does not currently have any assets or customers in Virginia, it still holds certificates to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications in Virginia and, therefore, Commission approval of the proposed indirect transfer of control of Solutions is required.

[4] Petition, In re FairPoint Communications, Inc., et al., No. 09-16335 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y.) (filed October 26, 2009).

Agreement"), which will provide for a $1 billion term loan and a $75 million revolver. By Interim Order of October 28, 2009, the Bankruptcy Court authorized FairPoint to obtain up to $20,000,000 in principal amount of post-petition financing pending entry of the final order. The Joint Petitioners represent that the FairPoint Subsidiaries will not be signatories to the New Credit Agreement. As a result, the lenders that were parties to FairPoint's Credit Agreement prior to the filing for bankruptcy will own substantially all of the common equity of FairPoint upon emergence from bankruptcy and, collectively, will thereby gain "control" of the FairPoint Subsidiaries as defined by § 56-88.1 of the Code.

FairPoint submitted the Debtors' Disclosure Statement pursuant to Section 1125 of the Bankruptcy Code to the Bankruptcy Court on February 8, 2010. The Disclosure Statement included the Debtors' Joint Plan of Reorganization under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code as Exhibit A to the Disclosure Statement. On February 11, 2010, FairPoint submitted an Amended Disclosure Statement ("Disclosure Statement"), which included the Debtors' First Amended Joint Plan of Reorganization ("Joint Plan"). The Joint Petitioners state that the Joint Plan would, if confirmed by the Bankruptcy Court, allow FairPoint to reorganize successfully and accomplish the objectives of Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code.

As described in the Joint Plan, and the Disclosure Statement, the Joint Plan reflects a consensual resolution and settlement among FairPoint and its consenting secured lenders of the New Credit Agreement.[5] The Joint Petitioners state that FairPoint's reorganization is premised upon effecting a substantial deleveraging and strengthening of its balance sheet through the conversion of nearly $1.7 billion of its pre-petition indebtedness into new common stock. As a result, FairPoint will emerge from bankruptcy as a public company. The Joint Petitioners state that the Proposed Transaction will substantially reduce FairPoint's long-term debt and ensure that Peoples Mutual may continue to provide high-quality telecommunications services, and otherwise meet its contract and service obligations to Virginia customers, following FairPoint's emergence from bankruptcy.

The Joint Petitioners represent that the only change that will occur as a result of the Proposed Transaction will be the collective acquisition by the lenders of the New Credit Agreement of substantially all of the common equity of FairPoint, thereby gaining control of FairPoint and, therefore, indirect control of the FairPoint Subsidiaries.[6] FairPoint will remain the ultimate corporate parent of the FairPoint Subsidiaries upon its emergence from bankruptcy. The Joint Petitioners state that, since the Proposed Transaction does not involve a sale, acquisition, merger, or other business combination of the FairPoint Subsidiaries, nor will it result in any transfer or assignment of the authorizations or customers of the FairPoint Subsidiaries to a third party, the Proposed Transaction will not affect the rates, terms, and conditions under which Peoples Mutual currently provides telecommunications services to customers in Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the Joint Petition and representations of the Joint Petitioners and having been advised by its Staff, is of the opinion and finds that the above-described Proposed Transaction, resulting in the indirect transfer of control of the FairPoint Subsidiaries, will neither impair nor jeopardize the provision of adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates and should, therefore, be approved.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Pursuant to §§ 56-88.1 and 56-90 of the Code, the Joint Petitioners are hereby granted approval to consummate the Proposed Transaction to allow for the indirect transfer of control of the FairPoint Subsidiaries as described herein.

(2) The Joint Petitioners shall file a report of the action taken pursuant to the approval granted herein within thirty (30) days of the Proposed Transaction taking place, subject to administrative extension by the Commission's Director of Public Utility Accounting. Such report shall include the date the Proposed Transaction took place.

(3) There appearing nothing further to be done in this matter, it hereby is dismissed.

[5] The Joint Petitioners state that the Joint Plan has the support of the consenting secured lenders.

[6] The Joint Petitioners further represent that none of the lenders of the New Credit Agreement gaining control of FairPoint and, therefore, indirect control of the FairPoint Subsidiaries, will own more than twenty-five percent (25%) of the new common stock of FairPoint upon its emergence from bankruptcy.

For approval of a pro forma change in corporate structure resulting in the transfer of direct control of Lightyear Network Solutions, LLC, pursuant to §§ 56-88.1 and 56-90 of the Code of Virginia

ORDER GRANTING APPROVAL AND DIRECTING RESPONSE

On February 19, 2010, Lightyear Network Solutions, LLC ("Lightyear"), filed a letter with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") providing notice of a change in its corporate structure for purposes of Commission records. On March 1, 2010, Staff filed a Memorandum of Incompleteness, which stated that since the change in corporate structure would result in a change of direct control of Lightyear, the transaction would require prior Commission approval, pursuant to § 56-88.1 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"). Therefore, on June 14, 2010, Lightyear, LY Holdings, LLC ("LYH"), and Lightyear Network Solutions, Inc. f/k/a Libra Alliance Corporation ("LYNS") (collectively, the "Joint Applicants"), filed a Joint Application with the Commission, pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56 of the Code, for approval of the pro forma change in corporate structure resulting in the transfer of direct control of Lightyear from LYH to LYNS. On June 21, 2010, Staff filed a Memorandum of Completeness, which deemed the Joint Application complete as of June 14, 2010.

Lightyear and LYH are both limited liability companies organized and existing under the laws of the Commonwealth of Kentucky with their principal business headquarters located in Louisville, Kentucky. Lightyear is a wholly owned direct subsidiary of LYH. LYNS is a publicly held Nevada corporation that has had no operations since 1998. Lightyear holds domestic and international Section 214 authorizations from the Federal Communications Commission and is authorized to provide local exchange telecommunications services in forty-four (44) states and long-distance telecommunications services in forty-nine (49) states. In Virginia, Lightyear is certificated as a competitive local exchange carrier to provide local exchange telecommunications services pursuant to its certificate of public convenience and necessity ("CPCN"), Certificate No. T-624, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered May 13, 2004, in Case No. PUC-2004-00013. Lightyear currently provides only resold interexchange telecommunications services to approximately 718 customers in Virginia.

Pursuant to a Securities Exchange Agreement dated as of February 12, 2010, between LYH and LYNS, LYH will exchange 100% of its membership interest in Lightyear for shares in LYNS representing approximately a sixty-nine percent (69%) ownership interest. As a result, LYNS will become the sole direct owner of Lightyear, and LYH will become the only direct owner of more than ten percent (10%) of LYNS. Upon completion of the proposed transaction, the only change will be the insertion of LYNS in Lightyear's current corporate ownership between Lightyear and LYH; LYH will remain the ultimate parent company of Lightyear and will continue to have indirect control of Lightyear though its ownership of LYNS, with no other changes taking place.

The Joint Applicants state that, following the completion of the proposed change in corporate structure, Lightyear's customers will continue to receive telecommunications service under the same rates, terms and conditions of service as currently provided. Further, Lightyear will continue to provide telecommunications services to its customers in Virginia under the same name and will continue to be led by an experienced management team. The proposed transaction will not involve a change in Lightyear's operating authority in Virginia, and Lightyear's current rates will remain in effect. The Joint Applicants state that the proposed transaction will provide Lightyear access to the expanded capital markets available to a publicly traded entity to the ultimate benefit of its Virginia customers.

The Joint Applicants have advised, however, that the proposed change in corporate structure, and the subsequent transfer of direct control of Lightyear, was completed on February 19, 2010, prior to receiving Commission approval. In the Joint Application, the Joint Applicants explain that, by letter filed with the Commission on February 19, 2010, they notified the Commission of their intent to complete the change in corporate structure, and that it would not have any impact on the services provided by Lightyear and would, therefore, be completely transparent to its Virginia customers (the "Notice").[1] Because the change was purely pro forma in nature, the Joint Applicants thought that providing notice to the Commission was sufficient and, therefore, sent the Notice to the Commission to keep it apprised of Lightyear's corporate structure.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the Joint Application and representations of the Joint Applicants and having been advised by its Staff, is of the opinion and finds that the above-described change in corporate structure resulting in the transfer of direct control of Lightyear from LYH to LYNS will neither impair nor jeopardize the provision of adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates and should, therefore, be approved effective as of the date of this Order. However, the Commission is concerned with the Joint Applicants' failure to obtain the necessary prior approval required under the Utility Transfers Act as evidenced by its actions in connection with the instant Joint Application.

Section 56-88.1 of the Code provides, in part:

> No person, whether acting alone or in concert with others, shall, directly or indirectly, acquire or dispose of control of… (ii) a telephone company, or all of the assets thereof, without the prior approval of the Commission. Any person proposing an acquisition or disposition for which Commission approval is required by this section shall seek such approval pursuant to the procedure of § 56-90….
> Any such acquisition or disposition of control without prior approval shall be voidable by the Commission. In addition, the Commission is authorized to revoke any certificate of public convenience and necessity it has issued, order compliance with this chapter, or take such other action as may be appropriate within the authority of the Commission.

Section 12.1-13 of the Code provides, in part:

> Whenever no fine or other penalty is specifically imposed by statute[2] for the failure of any such individual or business conducted by any entity other than an individual to comply with any provision of law or with any valid rule, regulation, or order of the Commission, the Commission may impose and collect from such individual or business conducted by an entity other than an individual a fine in an amount not to exceed $5,000 in the case of an individual, and in the case of a business conducted by an entity other than an individual not to exceed $10,000.

Therefore, the Joint Applicants are directed to file a response within ten (10) days of the date of the issuance of this Order stating why they should not be found in violation of § 56-88.1 of the Code and fined pursuant to § 12.1-13 of the Code (or any applicable law) for failing to obtain prior approval of the Commission before acquiring and disposing of control of Lightyear.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Pursuant to §§ 56-88.1 and 56-90 of the Code, the Joint Applicants are hereby granted approval, effective as of the date of this Order, of the change in corporate structure resulting in the transfer of direct control of Lightyear Network Solutions, LLC, that occurred on February 19, 2010, as described herein.

[1] The Joint Applicants' Notice was dated February 10, 2010, but not filed with the Commission until February 19, 2010.

[2] For example, § 56-91 of the Code provides for a fine of not more than $1,000 for any company violating any provision of § 56-89 of the Code.

(2) The Joint Applicants shall, either individually or jointly, file a response within ten (10) days of the date of issuance of this Order stating why they should not be found in violation of § 56-88.1 of the Code and fined pursuant to § 12.1-13 of the Code.

(3) This case is continued pending further Order of the Commission.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00008
DECEMBER 29, 2010

JOINT APPLICATION OF LIGHTYEAR NETWORK SOLUTIONS, LLC, LY HOLDINGS, LLC,
and
LIGHTYEAR NETWORK SOLUTIONS, INC. f/k/a LIBRA ALLIANCE CORPORATION

For approval of a pro forma change in corporate structure resulting in the transfer of direct control of Lightyear Network Solutions, LLC, pursuant to §§ 56-88.1 and 56-90 of the Code of Virginia

FINAL ORDER

On February 19, 2010, Lightyear Network Solutions, LLC ("Lightyear"), filed a letter with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") providing notice of a change in its corporate structure for purposes of Commission records. On March 1, 2010, Staff filed a Memorandum of Incompleteness, which stated that since the change in corporate structure would result in a change of direct control of Lightyear, the transaction would require prior Commission approval, pursuant to § 56-88.1 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"). Therefore, on June 14, 2010, Lightyear, LY Holdings, LLC ("LYH"), and Lightyear Network Solutions, Inc. f/k/a Libra Alliance Corporation ("LYNS") (collectively, the "Joint Applicants") filed a Joint Application with the Commission, pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56 of the Code, for approval of the pro forma change in corporate structure resulting in the transfer of direct control of Lightyear from LYH to LYNS. On June 21, 2010, Staff filed a Memorandum of Completeness, which deemed the Joint Application complete as of June 14, 2010.

The Joint Applicants advised, however, that the proposed change in corporate structure, and the subsequent transfer of direct control of Lightyear, was completed on February 19, 2010, prior to receiving Commission approval. In the Joint Application, the Joint Applicants explain that, by letter filed with the Commission on February 19, 2010, they notified the Commission of their intent to complete the change in corporate structure and that it would not have any impact on the services provided by Lightyear and would, therefore, be completely transparent to its Virginia customers (the "Notice").[1] Because the change was purely pro forma in nature, the Joint Applicants thought that providing notice to the Commission was sufficient and, therefore, sent the Notice to the Commission to keep it apprised of Lightyear's corporate structure.

On August 9, 2010, the Commission issued an Order Granting Approval and Directing Response ("August 9 Order"), which: (1) granted approval of the change in corporate structure resulting in the transfer of direct control of Lightyear from LYH to LYNS, and (2) directed the Joint Applicants to file a response stating why they should not be fined for proceeding with the transfer prior to receipt of Commission approval. The August 9 Order documented that the Joint Applicants informed the Staff that the proposed change in corporate structure and the subsequent transfer of direct control of Lightyear was completed on February 19, 2010, prior to receiving Commission approval.

Section 56-88.1 of the Code provides, in part:

> No person, whether acting alone or in concert with others, shall, directly or indirectly, acquire or dispose of control of… (ii) a telephone company, or all of the assets thereof, without the prior approval of the Commission. Any person proposing an acquisition or disposition for which Commission approval is required by this section shall seek such approval pursuant to the procedure of § 56-90….
> Any such acquisition or disposition of control without prior approval shall be voidable by the Commission. In addition, the Commission is authorized to revoke any certificate of public convenience and necessity it has issued, order compliance with this chapter, or take such other action as may be appropriate within the authority of the Commission.

Section 12.1-13 of the Code provides, in part:

> Whenever no fine or other penalty is specifically imposed by statute[2] for the failure of any such individual or business conducted by any entity other than an individual to comply with any provision of law or with any valid rule, regulation, or order of the Commission, the Commission may impose and collect from such individual or business conducted by an entity other than an individual a fine in an amount not to exceed $5,000 in the case of an individual, and in the case of a business conducted by an entity other than an individual not to exceed $10,000.

[1] The Joint Applicants' Notice was dated February 10, 2010, but not filed with the Commission until February 19, 2010.

[2] For example, § 56-91 of the Code provides for a fine of not more than $1,000 for any company violating any provision of § 56-89 of the Code.

Accordingly, the Commission directed the Joint Applicants to file a response within ten (10) days of the date of the issuance of the August 9 Order stating why they should not be found in violation of § 56-88.1 of the Code and fined pursuant to § 12.1-13 of the Code (or any applicable law) for failing to obtain prior approval of the Commission before acquiring and disposing of control of Lightyear.

On August 23, 2010, a Response to Commission Order ("Response") was filed on behalf of the Joint Applicants. The Response indicated that Lightyear notified the Commission that it planned to complete a pro forma change to its corporate structure. Because the change was purely pro forma in nature, Lightyear thought that notice to the Commission was sufficient to apprise the Commission of its corporate structure. Joint Applicants were uncertain whether a purely pro forma change was an event requiring Commission consent since ultimate ownership and control of Lightyear did not change. Additionally, the Response acknowledges that it is for the Commission to interpret the correct scope of it rules, and therefore, given the Commission's August 9 Order, the Joint Applicants should have sought approval under § 56-88.1 of the Code, but submits that such violation was minor insofar as there has been no change in the ultimate control of Lightyear even though as a pure structural matter one of its corporate parents changed.

The Response further indicates that the public interest in a competitive telecommunications market is best served by providing the public with an array of financially sound telephone companies, an achievement that occurred after the restructuring inserted LYNS as the parent of Lightyear. In addition, the Response submits the event was completely transparent outside of the Joint Applicants' internal systems and did not result in any alteration in service to any end user customer in Virginia.

Moreover, the Response submits that the merger did not harm end users in that Lightyear continues to provide high-quality communication services, did not interrupt end users' service, and did not change rates, terms, or conditions of service. The Response indicates that to their knowledge, this is the first occurrence in which the Joint Applicants apparently violated Virginia law or the Commission's rules and that they fully intend to comply with all applicable Virginia law and Commission rules in the future.

For the reasons set out in the Response, the Joint Applicants submit that if the Commission determines that the violation of § 56-88.1 of the Code should be punishable with a fine, the fine should be minimal. Additionally, the Joint Applicants request that the Commission suspend all or a portion of any penalty imposed on the condition that the Joint Applicants not violate § 56-88.1 of the Code in the future. Moreover, the Response submits that, should the Commission determine by order that the Joint Applicants violated § 56-88.1 of the Code a second time in the future, the suspended portion of the fine would come due upon issuance of that order.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the filings herein and the applicable law, is of the opinion and finds that the Joint Applicants should be and hereby are found in violation of § 56-88.1 of the Code and fined $5,000 pursuant to § 12.1-13 of the Code. The Commission further finds that the fine, assessed jointly and severally upon the Joint Applicants, should be and hereby is suspended on the condition that the Joint Applicants, either individually or collectively, do not violate § 56-88.1 of the Code in the future.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Joint Applicants are hereby assessed a fine of $5,000 pursuant to § 12.1-13 of the Code for violation of § 56-88.1 of the Code.

(2) This fine shall be suspended on the condition that the Joint Applicants, either individually or collectively, do not violate § 56-88.1 of the Code in the future.

(3) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this matter is dismissed from the Commission's active docket and the papers filed herein placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00010
APRIL 7, 2010

PETITION OF
UNITED TELEPHONE SOUTHEAST LLC d/b/a CENTURYLINK
and
CENTRAL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF VIRGINIA d/b/a CENTURYLINK

For an exemption from the annual filing requirement imposed by the Commission pursuant to § 56-77 A of the Code of Virginia

ORDER GRANTING EXEMPTION

On March 11, 2010, United Telephone Southeast LLC d/b/a CenturyLink and Central Telephone Company of Virginia d/b/a CenturyLink (collectively, "Petitioners") filed a petition with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") requesting an exemption from the annual filing requirement ("Annual Report of Affiliate Transactions") imposed by the Commission pursuant to § 56-77 A of the Code of Virginia ("Code"). The Petitioners are required to submit to the Commission's Director of Public Utility Accounting by April 1 of each year an Annual Report of Affiliate Transactions.[1] The Petitioners hereby request an exemption from submitting such report.

In their Petition, the Petitioners state that the Commission's reasons for requiring such report no longer exist. The Commission has exempted the Petitioners from the filing and prior approval requirement of Chapter 4 of Title 56 of the Code thereby making it no longer necessary for the Petitioners to file for approval of certain arrangements or agreements with their affiliates. Petitioners represent that the competitive market and the alternative regulation pricing plan in effect for telephone companies along with the Commission's general oversight authority protect the public interest and, therefore, such annual reporting is unnecessary to protect the public interest. The Petitioners recognize that, should the Commission grant such exemption, there is still the fail-safe mechanism in that the Commission, by statute, specifically retains authority to revoke any exemption previously granted "if it finds that such action is in the public interest."[2]

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the petition and representations of the Petitioners and having been advised by its Staff, is of the opinion and finds that the currently required Annual Report of Affiliate Transactions to be submitted by the Petitioners is no longer necessary to protect the public interest and that such exemption from submitting such reports is in the public interest and should be granted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Pursuant to § 56-77 B of the Code, the Petitioners are hereby granted an exemption from submitting to the Commission's Director of Public Utility Accounting the Annual Report of Affiliate Transactions previously imposed by the Commission pursuant to § 56-77 A of the Code.

(2) There appearing nothing further to be done in this matter, it is hereby dismissed.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00012
JUNE 7, 2010

JOINT PETITION OF
STARPOWER COMMUNICATIONS, LLC,
RCN NEW YORK COMMUNICATIONS, LLC,
NEON VIRGINIA CONNECT, LLC,
RCN CORPORATION,
RCN TELECOM SERVICES, INC.,
RCN TELECOM SERVICES, LLC,
RCN TELECOM SERVICES OF WASHINGTON, D.C., INC.,
YANKEE CABLE ACQUISITION, LLC, YANKEE METRO PARENT, INC.,
and
ABRY PARTNERS VI, L.P.,
ABRY SENIOR EQUITY III, L.P.

For approval of a transfer of control pursuant to §§ 56-88.1 and 56-90 of the Code of Virginia

ORDER GRANTING APPROVAL

On March 19, 2010, Starpower Communications, LLC ("Starpower"), RCN New York Communications, LLC ("RCN NY"), NEON Virginia Connect, LLC ("NEON"), Yankee Cable Acquisition, LLC ("Yankee Cable"), and Yankee Metro Parent, Inc. (Yankee Metro") (collectively, the "Petitioners"), filed a petition with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), for approval of the transfer of control of Starpower, RCN NY, and NEON.

The Petitioners filed the petition with the Commission under seal, pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure ("Rules") regarding confidential information, in order to obtain confidential treatment of Confidential Exhibit B of the petition ("Confidential Exhibit"), which contains audited financial statements of ABRY Partners VI, L.P.

On March 23, 2010, the Petitioners filed Confidential Exhibit G of the petition (collectively with the Confidential Exhibit filed on March 19, 2010, the "Confidential Exhibits")[1] with the Commission under seal, pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules regarding confidential information, in order to obtain confidential treatment of the Petitioners' projected pro forma financial statements. Rule 5 VAC 5-20-170 states, in part: "When an application (including supporting documents and prefiled testimony) contains information that the applicant claims to be confidential, the filing shall be made under seal and accompanied by a motion for protective order or other confidential treatment." Therefore, on April 6, 2010, the Petitioners filed with the Commission a Motion for Confidential Treatment ("Motion"), pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules, to obtain confidential treatment of the financial information contained in the Confidential Exhibits.

On April 6, 2010, the Petitioners also filed an Amendment to the petition ("Amendment") in which they requested that the petition be amended to include RCN Corporation, RCN Telecom Services, Inc. ("RCN Telecom"), ABRY Partners VI, L.P. ("ABRY Partners"), and ABRY Senior Equity III, L.P. ("ABRY Equity"), as Petitioners in this proceeding.[2] On April 9, 2010, Staff filed a Memorandum of Completeness, which deemed the petition complete as of April 6, 2010.

[1] The Petitioners state that the financial information contained in the Confidential Exhibits is extremely sensitive information that could be used by competitors to gain insight into the Petitioners' internal business operations and, therefore, disclosure of such information would be extremely detrimental and could materially and adversely affect the Petitioners' ability to compete effectively.

[2] RCN Corporation was added as a Petitioner in this proceeding because of its disposal of ultimate control of Starpower, RCN NY, and NEON as a result of the proposed transfer of control; RCN Telecom was added as a Petitioner in this proceeding because of its disposal of direct control of RCN NY as a result of the proposed transfer of control; and, ABRY Partners and ABRY Equity were added as Petitioners in this proceeding because of their acquisition of ultimate control of Starpower, RCN NY, and NEON as a result of the proposed transfer of control.

On April 27, 2010, the Petitioners filed a Response to a Staff data request ("Response") in which it was requested that the petition be further amended to also include RCN Telecom Services, LLC ("RCN Telecom-LLC"), and RCN Telecom Services of Washington, D.C., Inc. ("RCN DC"), as Petitioners in this proceeding.[3] Accordingly, Starpower, RCN NY, NEON, RCN Corporation, RCN Telecom, RCN Telecom-LLC, RCN DC, Yankee Cable, Yankee Metro, ABRY Partners, and ABRY Equity are referred to herein collectively as the "Joint Petitioners." The petition, the Confidential Exhibits, the Amendment, and the Response are referred to herein collectively as the "Joint Petition."

RCN Corporation is a publicly traded Delaware corporation with its principal business headquarters located in Herndon, Virginia. RCN Corporation is one of the largest facilities-based competitive providers of bundled phone, cable and high-speed Internet services delivered over its own fiber-optic local network to consumers in the most densely populated markets in the United States. RCN Corporation has subsidiaries authorized to provide telecommunications services in thirteen (13) states and the District of Columbia. In Virginia, RCN Corporation's operating subsidiaries are Starpower, RCN NY, and NEON.[4] Starpower, RCN NY, and NEON are collectively referred to as the "Virginia Subsidiaries."

Starpower, a Delaware limited liability company, is a direct wholly owned subsidiary of RCN DC, a corporation formed under the laws of the District of Columbia. RCN DC is directly owned by RCN Internet Services, Inc. ("RCN Internet"), a Delaware limited liability company, with 96.4% ownership, and RCN Telecom, a Pennsylvania corporation, with 3.6% ownership. Both RCN Internet and RCN Telecom are direct wholly owned subsidiaries of RCN Corporation; therefore, RCN DC and, thereby, Starpower are indirect subsidiaries of RCN Corporation. In Virginia, Starpower is certificated as a competitive local exchange carrier ("CLEC") to provide both local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to its certificates of public convenience and necessity ("CPCNs"), Certificate Nos. T-407 and TT-47A, respectively, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered March 24, 1998, in Case No. PUC-1998-00004. Starpower currently provides telecommunications services to approximately 435 customers in Virginia.

RCN NY, a New York limited liability company, is a direct wholly owned subsidiary of RCN Telecom and, therefore, an indirect subsidiary of RCN Corporation. In Virginia, RCN NY is certificated as a CLEC to provide both local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to its CPCNs, Certificate Nos. T-672 and TT-237A, respectively, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered November 13, 2007, in Case No. PUC-2007-00062. RCN NY does not currently provide telecommunications services to any customers in Virginia.

NEON, a Delaware limited liability company, is a wholly owned subsidiary of NEON Communications, Inc., which, in turn, is a wholly owned subsidiary of NEON Communications Group, Inc. ("NEON Group"), a publicly-traded Delaware corporation. NEON Group is a direct wholly owned subsidiary of RCN Corporation and, therefore, NEON is an indirect subsidiary of RCN Corporation. In Virginia, NEON is certificated as a CLEC to provide both local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to its CPCNs, Certificate Nos. T-669 and TT-235A, respectively, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered August 3, 2007, in Case No. PUC-2007-00028. NEON does not currently provide telecommunications services to any customers in Virginia.

Yankee Cable, a Delaware limited liability company, is a direct wholly owned subsidiary of Yankee Cable Parent, LLC, which, in turn, is a direct wholly owned subsidiary of Yankee Cable Partners, LLC ("Yankee Cable Partners"), a Delaware limited liability company. Yankee Cable, therefore, is an indirect subsidiary of Yankee Cable Partners.

Yankee Metro, a Delaware corporation, is a direct wholly owned subsidiary of Yankee Metro Partners, LLC ("Yankee Metro Partners"), a Delaware limited liability company. The principal place of business for Yankee Cable, Yankee Metro, Yankee Cable Partners, and Yankee Metro Partners is in Boston, Massachusetts.

Yankee Cable Partners is majority-owned by ABRY Partners, a Delaware limited partnership. Yankee Metro Partners will be majority-owned by ABRY Partners and ABRY Equity, a Delaware limited partnership. ABRY Partners will hold all of the voting interests in Yankee Cable Partners and Yankee Metro Partners. Therefore, ABRY Partners will be the ultimate owner of Yankee Cable, and ABRY Partners and ABRY Equity will be the ultimate owners of Yankee Metro. ABRY Partners and ABRY Equity are private equity funds, which primarily make privately negotiated equity investments in the media, telecommunications, and information industries. ABRY Partners, ABRY Equity, and other commonly controlled funds, own cable, telecommunications, and interconnected VoIP providers in the United States and, therefore, are experienced investors in communications service providers. The principal place of business for ABRY Partners and ABRY Equity is in Boston, Massachusetts.

The Joint Petitioners request Commission approval to consummate a transaction whereby Yankee Cable will acquire control of Starpower, along with certain other operating subsidiaries of RCN Corporation, and Yankee Metro will acquire control of RCN NY and NEON (the "Proposed Transaction").[5] Pursuant to an Agreement and Plan of Merger ("Merger Agreement"), dated as of March 5, 2010, between Yankee Cable, Yankee Metro, Yankee Metro Merger Sub, Inc. ("Yankee Merger Sub"), and RCN Corporation, the Proposed Transaction will be accomplished through a series of steps, including various preliminary pro forma intra-corporate transactions that are being completed in order to allocate certain assets to appropriate RCN Corporation subsidiaries in a tax-efficient manner. One such preliminary intra-corporate transaction will result in Starpower becoming a direct subsidiary of RCN Telecom-LLC, a newly formed subsidiary of RCN Corporation, which will, as part of the Proposed Transaction, become a direct wholly owned subsidiary of Yankee Cable.

[3] RCN Telecom-LLC was added as a Petitioner in this proceeding because of its acquisition of direct control of Starpower as a result of the proposed transfer of control, and RCN DC was added as a Petitioner in this proceeding because of its disposal of direct control of Starpower as a result of the proposed transfer of control.

[4] The Joint Petitioners note that in the past RCN Corporation also provided certain resold intrastate long distance services in Virginia through its subsidiary, RCN Telecom; however, the Joint Petitioners state that RCN Telecom no longer provides such services and has no customers in Virginia.

[5] Since RCN Telecom, RCN Telecom-LLC, and RCN DC do not currently provide, nor hold any CPCNs to provide, regulated telecommunications services in Virginia, the Joint Petitioners do not need Commission approval of the transfer of control of RCN Telecom, RCN Telecom-LLC, and RCN DC from RCN Corporation to Yankee Cable. As previously stated, RCN Telecom, RCN Telecom-LLC, and RCN DC were added as Petitioners in this proceeding because of their respective acquisition or disposal of direct control of the Virginia Subsidiaries as a result of the Proposed Transaction.

Following the completion of the preliminary intra-corporate reorganization, Yankee Cable will acquire control of Starpower by purchasing all of the ownership interests in RCN Telecom-LLC from RCN Corporation. As a result, Starpower will become an indirect subsidiary of Yankee Cable. In addition, Yankee Metro will become the owner of all of the stock of RCN Corporation through the merger of Yankee Merger Sub, a subsidiary of Yankee Metro created specifically for the purposes of the Proposed Transaction, with and into RCN Corporation, with RCN Corporation as the surviving corporation. As a result, RCN Corporation will become a direct wholly owned subsidiary of Yankee Metro and, therefore, RCN NY and NEON will become indirect subsidiaries of Yankee Metro.

Yankee Cable will ultimately be majority-owned by ABRY Partners, and Yankee Metro will ultimately be majority-owned by ABRY Partners and ABRY Equity. ABRY Partners will indirectly hold all of the voting interests in Yankee Cable and Yankee Metro. As a result, ABRY Partners will become the ultimate owner of Starpower, and ABRY Partners and ABRY Equity will collectively become the ultimate owners of RCN NY and NEON.

Accordingly, the Joint Petitioners request Commission approval of the following transfers of control that will occur as a result of the Proposed Transaction: (1) the preliminary intra-corporate transaction whereby direct control of Starpower will be transferred from RCN DC to RCN Telecom-LLC; (2) the subsequent transfer of control of Starpower to Yankee Cable through Yankee Cable's acquisition of direct control of RCN Telecom-LLC from RCN Corporation; and (3) the transfer of control of RCN NY and NEON to Yankee Metro through Yankee Metro's acquisition of direct control of RCN Corporation.

The Joint Petitioners state that the Proposed Transaction will allow the Virginia Subsidiaries to strengthen their ability to compete more effectively and to offer enhanced telecommunications services within Virginia to the ultimate benefit of Virginia consumers and the Commonwealth's telecommunications marketplace. Following the Proposed Transaction, RCN NY and NEON will have the financial support of Yankee Metro and its majority owners, ABRY Partners and ABRY Equity, and Starpower will have the financial support of Yankee Cable and its majority-owner, ABRY Partners. The Joint Petitioners further state that Yankee Cable intends to maintain the current management personnel of Starpower, and Yankee Metro intends to maintain the current management personnel of RCN NY and NEON immediately following the Proposed Transaction.

Upon completion of the Proposed Transaction, the Joint Petitioners represent that the Virginia Subsidiaries will continue to hold their CPCNs to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services in Virginia and will continue to provide telecommunications services to customers in Virginia without interruption and without a change in the rates, terms and conditions under which they currently receive service. The Joint Petitioners emphasize that the Proposed Transaction will be seamless and virtually transparent to customers, and in no event will the Proposed Transaction result in the discontinuance, reduction, loss, or impairment of telecommunications services to customers in Virginia. There will be no change in the companies providing service, the management of the Virginia Subsidiaries, or the rates, terms, and conditions of service provided to customers in Virginia as a result of the Proposed Transaction.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the Joint Petition and representations of the Joint Petitioners and having been advised by its Staff, is of the opinion and finds that the Joint Petitioners' Motion, which requested confidential treatment of the Confidential Exhibits, should be granted. The Commission is also of the opinion and finds that the above-described Proposed Transaction, resulting in the transfer of control of Starpower, RCN NY, and NEON, will neither impair nor jeopardize the provision of adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates and should, therefore, be approved.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Joint Petitioners' Motion for Confidential Treatment is hereby granted, and we direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain the confidential information, to which the Motion pertains, under seal. Because no one has requested access to such confidential information, the Commission has not issued a protective order.

(2) Pursuant to §§ 56-88.1 and 56-90 of the Code, the Joint Petitioners are hereby granted approval to consummate the Proposed Transaction to allow for the transfer of control of Starpower Communications, LLC, RCN New York Communications, LLC, and NEON Virginia Connect, LLC, as described herein.

(3) The Joint Petitioners shall file a report of the action taken pursuant to the approval granted herein within thirty (30) days of the Proposed Transaction taking place, subject to administrative extension by the Commission's Director of Public Utility Accounting. Such report shall include the date the Proposed Transaction took place.

(4) There appearing nothing further to be done in this matter, it hereby is dismissed.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00019
SEPTEMBER 9, 2010

APPLICATION OF
VANCO DIRECT USA, LLC

To amend its certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange telecommunications services to reflect a new company name

ORDER

On March 10, 2006, Vanco Direct USA, LLC ("Vanco" or "Applicant") was issued a certificate of public convenience and necessity ("Certificate"), Certificate No. T-651, in Case No. PUC-2005-00165 to provide local exchange telecommunications services in Virginia. By letter application filed April 20, 2010, the Applicant requested that its Certificate be revised to reflect its new name, Global Capacity Direct, LLC.

The letter application included a copy of the Certificate of Amendment from the State of Delaware, a Virginia Amended Application for Registration as a Foreign Limited Liability Company, and Receipt by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") accepting the name change.

Vanco, pursuant to the March 10, 2006 certification order, is required to have a bond on file with the Division of Economics and Finance. A revised bond reflecting the new company name has been provided to the Division of Economics and Finance.

NOW UPON CONSIDERATION of the matter, the Commission finds that the Certificate should be updated to reflect the Applicant's new name.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) This case is docketed and assigned Case No. PUC-2010-00019.

(2) Certificate No T-651 authorizing Vanco Direct USA, LLC to provide local exchange telecommunications services throughout the Commonwealth is hereby cancelled and shall be reissued as Amended Certificate No. T-651a in the name of Global Capacity Direct, LLC.

(3) The Applicant shall provide revised tariffs to the Division of Communications reflecting the new name, Global Capacity Direct, LLC, within forty-five (45) days of the issuance of this Order.

(4) There being nothing further to be done, this matter shall be dismissed from the Commission's docket of active cases and the papers filed herein placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00020
JULY 1, 2010

JOINT PETITION OF COMTEL VIRGINIA LLC,
MATRIX TELECOM OF VIRGINIA, INC.,
COMTEL TELCOM ASSETS LP,
THE PRESIDENT AND FELLOWS OF HARVARD COLLEGE,
and
PLATINUM EQUITY, LLC

For approval of the transfer of assets and customers from Comtel Virginia LLC to Matrix Telecom of Virginia, Inc., pursuant to §§ 56-88.1 and 56-90 of the Code of Virginia

ORDER GRANTING APPROVAL

On May 5, 2010, Comtel Virginia LLC ("Comtel-VA") and Matrix Telecom of Virginia, Inc. ("Matrix-VA") (collectively, the "Petitioners"), filed a Joint Petition with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), for approval of the transfer of assets and customers from Comtel-VA to Matrix-VA.

The Petitioners filed the Joint Petition with the Commission under seal, pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure ("Rules") regarding confidential information, in order to obtain confidential treatment of: (1) Confidential Exhibit E of the Joint Petition, which contains a confidential, executed Asset Purchase Agreement between Matrix Telecom, Inc., and Comtel Telcom Assets LP; (2) Confidential Exhibit F of the Joint Petition, which contains confidential financial statements of Matrix Telecom, Inc.; and, (3) Confidential Exhibit G of the Joint Petition, which contains confidential financial statements of Comtel Telcom Assets LP. Confidential Exhibits E, F, and G are referred to herein collectively as the "Confidential Exhibits."[1] Rule 5 VAC 5-20-170 states, in part: "When an application (including supporting documents and prefiled testimony) contains information that the applicant claims to be confidential, the filing shall be made under seal and accompanied by a motion for protective order or other confidential treatment." Therefore, on May 6, 2010, the Petitioners filed with the Commission a Motion for Protective Order ("Motion"), pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules, to obtain confidential treatment of the information contained in the Confidential Exhibits.

On May 19, 2010, the Petitioners made a supplemental filing in which they added Comtel Telcom Assets LP ("Comtel"), the President and Fellows of Harvard College ("Harvard"), and Platinum Equity, LLC ("Platinum"), as Petitioners in this proceeding.[2] Accordingly, Comtel-VA, Matrix-VA, Comtel, Harvard, and Platinum are referred to herein collectively as the "Joint Petitioners." On June 7, 2010, Staff filed a Memorandum of Completeness, which deemed the Joint Petition complete as of May 19, 2010.

Comtel-VA is a limited liability company organized in the Commonwealth of Virginia, with its principal business headquarters located in Irving, Texas. Comtel-VA is a wholly owned subsidiary of Comtel, a limited partnership organized under the laws of the state of Texas. Comtel is majority owned by Comtel Assets Corp., which, in turn, is wholly owned by Denham Commodity Partners Fund III LP, a private equity fund. Comtel completed the acquisition of substantially all of the assets of VarTec Telecom, Inc., and certain of its subsidiaries in June 2006 and continues to operate those assets.[3] Comtel provides intrastate, interstate, and international long-distance services throughout the continental United States and provides local exchange services in the District of Columbia and all states except Alaska, Connecticut, Hawaii, Virginia, and Rhode Island.

[1] The Petitioners state that the information contained in the Confidential Exhibits is extremely sensitive information that could be used by competitors to gain insight into the Petitioners' internal business operations and other information damaging to the Petitioners and, therefore, disclosure of such information would be extremely detrimental and could be used by the Petitioners' competitors to materially affect the Petitioners' ability to compete effectively.

[2] Comtel was added as a Petitioner in this proceeding because of its disposal of the direct ownership of the assets of Comtel-VA as a result of the proposed transaction; Harvard was added as a Petitioner in this proceeding because of its disposal of ultimate ownership of the assets of Comtel-VA as a result of the proposed transaction; and, Platinum was added as a Petitioner in this proceeding because of its acquisition of ultimate ownership of the assets of Comtel-VA as a result of the proposed transaction.

Comtel is authorized to provide interexchange telecommunications services in every state, and local exchange and exchange access telecommunications services in the District of Columbia and every state except Alaska, Hawaii, and Virginia. Comtel is also authorized by the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC") to provide interstate and international telecommunications services. In Virginia, Comtel-VA is certificated as a competitive local exchange carrier ("CLEC") to provide local exchange and exchange access telecommunications services pursuant to its certificate of public convenience and necessity ("CPCN"), Certificate No. T-653, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered April 10, 2006, in Case No. PUC-2005-00141. Comtel-VA currently provides telecommunications services in Virginia to approximately 340 residential local exchange customers; approximately 5,027 presubscribed residential long-distance customers; approximately 8,717 dial-around customers; and approximately 113 commercial customers.[4]

Matrix-VA is a Virginia corporation that is wholly owned by Matrix Telecom, Inc. ("Matrix"), a Texas corporation with its principal business headquarters located in Dallas, Texas. Established in 1991, Matrix is a competitive provider of integrated communications services, including local, long-distance, and toll-free voice services, plus a wide range of data services, such as dedicated Internet access, frame relay and point-to-point transmission services, mainly to enterprise customers. Matrix is authorized to provide telecommunications services in all fifty (50) states (except in Virginia where intrastate telecommunications services are provided by Matrix-VA) and the District of Columbia. Matrix is also authorized by the FCC to provide interstate and international long-distance services. In Virginia, Matrix-VA is certificated as a CLEC to provide local exchange telecommunications services pursuant to its CPCN, Certificate No. T-646, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered December 22, 2005, in Case No. PUC-2005-00088. Matrix-VA currently provides telecommunications services in Virginia to approximately 1,530 residential long-distance and local customers and approximately 265 local and long-distance business customers.[5]

The Joint Petitioners request Commission approval to consummate a transaction whereby Comtel-VA will transfer substantially all of its assets and customers to Matrix-VA (the "Proposed Transaction"). Pursuant to an Asset Purchase Agreement ("Agreement") dated as of March 13, 2010, between Matrix and Comtel, Matrix and Matrix-VA will acquire certain assets of Comtel and Comtel-VA, including Comtel-VA's customer bases and substantially all of the assets used in Comtel's provision of telecommunications services.[6] As a result of the Proposed Transaction, Matrix-VA will replace Comtel-VA as the service provider in Virginia.

The Joint Petitioners state that the Proposed Transaction will serve the public interest by ensuring that the assigned customers enjoy continuity of high-quality telecommunications service. In particular, the assignment of Comtel-VA's customers to Matrix-VA, together with the transfer of other assets required to serve those customers, will ensure that the customers continue to receive uninterrupted interstate and international telecommunications services following the completion of the Proposed Transaction. Furthermore, because Matrix-VA is acquiring substantially all of the assets of Comtel-VA, through Matrix's acquisition of substantially all of the assets of Comtel, necessary to provide service to the transferred customers, Matrix-VA and Matrix will have all of the assets required to continue to provide telecommunications services to the customers it acquires. The Joint Petitioners state that Matrix-VA is well qualified to provide service to Comtel-VA's customers because Matrix-VA currently provides local and long-distance telecommunications services in Virginia, while its parent, Matrix, provides such services in all other states except Alaska, and in the District of Columbia. The Joint Petitioners represent that, upon completion of the Proposed Transaction, Matrix-VA's operations will continue to be overseen by a well-qualified management team with substantial telecommunications experience and technical expertise.

The Joint Petitioners emphasize that, although the Proposed Transaction will involve a transfer of assets and customers from Comtel-VA to Matrix-VA, immediately following the Proposed Transaction, all of the affected customers will continue to receive telecommunications service from Matrix-VA under the same rates, terms, and conditions as currently provided. As a result, the Proposed Transaction will be almost seamless and virtually transparent to customers served by Comtel-VA in terms of the telecommunications services that they currently receive.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the Joint Petition and representations of the Joint Petitioners and having been advised by its Staff, is of the opinion and finds that the Joint Petitioners' Motion is no longer necessary and should, therefore, be denied.[7] The Commission is further of the opinion and finds that the above-described Proposed Transaction, resulting in the transfer of assets and customers from Comtel-VA to Matrix-VA, will neither impair nor jeopardize the provision of adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates and should, therefore, be approved.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Joint Petitioners' Motion for Protective Order is hereby denied; however, we direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain the confidential information, to which the Motion pertains, under seal.

[3] See Joint Application of Comtel Telcom Assets LP and Comtel Virginia LLC, and VarTec Telecom, Inc., VarTec Telecom of Virginia, Inc., Excel Telecommunications, Inc., Excel Telecommunications of Virginia, Inc., and VarTec Solutions, Inc., For approval of transfer of assets and control, Case No. PUC-2005-00143, 2005 S.C.C. Ann. Rept. 297-298, Order Granting Approval (Dec. 14, 2005). In Virginia, Comtel-VA operates using the d/b/a's of Excel Telecommunications of Virginia, Inc., and VarTec Telecom of Virginia, Inc.

[4] The Joint Petitioners state that Comtel-VA also provides interexchange telecommunications services in Virginia, but only on a resale basis.

[5] The Joint Petitioners state that Matrix-VA also provides interexchange telecommunications services in Virginia, but only on a resale basis.

[6] The Joint Petitioners state that neither Comtel nor Comtel-VA has any assets in Virginia that are used to provide telecommunications services.

[7] The Commission held the Joint Petitioners' Motion in abeyance. We note that the Commission has received no request for leave to review the confidential information contained in the Confidential Exhibits filed by the Joint Petitioners in this proceeding. Accordingly, we deny the Motion as moot but direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain such information under seal.

(2) Pursuant to §§ 56-88.1 and 56-90 of the Code, the Joint Petitioners are hereby granted approval to consummate the Proposed Transaction to allow for the transfer of assets and customers from Comtel Virginia LLC to Matrix Telecom of Virginia, Inc., as described herein.

(3) The Joint Petitioners shall file a report of the action taken pursuant to the approval granted herein within thirty (30) days of the Proposed Transaction taking place, subject to administrative extension by the Commission's Director of Public Utility Accounting. Such report shall include the date the Proposed Transaction took place.

(4) Upon completion of the Proposed Transaction, the Joint Petitioners shall file a letter with the Clerk of the Commission, with a copy provided to the Division of Communications, requesting that the current certificate of public convenience and necessity issued to Comtel Virginia LLC be canceled.

(5) There appearing nothing further to be done in this matter, it hereby is dismissed.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00021
AUGUST 3, 2010

JOINT PETITION OF
DSLNET COMMUNICATIONS VA, INC.,
MEGAPATH INC.,
CCGI HOLDINGS, LLC,
CCGI HOLDING CORPORATION,
COVAD COMMUNICATIONS GROUP, INC.,
DIECA COMMUNICATIONS, INC.,
and
PLATINUM EQUITY, LLC

For approval of the indirect transfer of control of DSLnet Communications VA, Inc., and DIECA Communications, Inc., pursuant to §§ 56-88.1 and 56-90 of the Code of Virginia.

ORDER GRANTING APPROVAL

On May 7, 2010, DSLnet Communications VA, Inc. ("DSLnet-VA"), MegaPath Inc. ("MegaPath"), CCGI Holding Corporation ("CCGI"), Covad Communications Group, Inc. ("Covad"), and DIECA Communications, Inc. ("DIECA") (collectively, the "Petitioners"), filed a Joint Petition and Request for Streamlined Review ("Petition") with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), for approval of the indirect transfer of control of DSLnet-VA and DIECA. The Petitioners also filed a Joint Application with the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC") under the FCC's Streamlined Review process, and it was accepted as such on June 28, 2010.

The Petitioners filed the Petition with the Commission under seal, pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure ("Rules") regarding confidential information, in order to obtain confidential treatment of (1) Confidential Exhibit C of the Petition, which contains a confidential, finalized Agreement and Plan of Merger between CCGI and MegaPath, and (2) Confidential Exhibit D of the Petition, which contains confidential financial statements of CCGI. Confidential Exhibits C and D are referred to herein collectively as the "Confidential Exhibits."[1] Rule 5 VAC 5-20-170 states, in part: "When an application (including supporting documents and prefiled testimony) contains information that the applicant claims to be confidential, the filing shall be made under seal and accompanied by a motion for protective order or other confidential treatment." Therefore, on May 10, 2010, the Petitioners filed with the Commission a Motion for Protective Order ("Motion"), pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules, to obtain confidential treatment of the information contained in the Confidential Exhibits.

On May 18, 2010, the Petitioners made a supplemental filing in which they added Platinum Equity, LLC ("Platinum"), as a Petitioner in this proceeding.[2] On May 27, 2010, Staff filed a Memorandum of Completeness, which deemed the Petition complete as of May 18, 2010, and on July 1, 2010, the Petition was accepted under the Commission's Streamlined Review process.

On July 2, 2010, the Petitioners filed a Response to Commission Inquiry that contained information which the Petitioners claimed to be confidential trade secret, privileged, confidential commercial information concerning the number of DIECA customers in Virginia, filed as Confidential Attachment A ("Confidential Attachment"),[3] which was filed with the Commission under seal, pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules. Therefore, on July 2, 2010, the Petitioners also filed with the Commission, concurrently with the Confidential Attachment, a second Motion for Protective Order (collectively with the Motion filed May 10, 2010, "Motions"), pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules, to obtain confidential treatment of the information contained in the Confidential Attachment.

[1] The Confidential Exhibits were filed with the Commission under seal, pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules, under separate cover on May 10, 2010. The Petitioners state that the information contained in the Confidential Exhibits is extremely sensitive information that could be used by competitors to gain insight into the Petitioners' internal business operations and other information damaging to the Petitioners and, therefore, disclosure of such information would be extremely detrimental and could be used by the Petitioners' competitors to materially affect the Petitioners' ability to compete effectively.

[2] Platinum was added as a Petitioner in this proceeding because of its acquisition of ultimate ownership of DSLnet-VA as a result of the proposed transaction.

[3] The Joint Petitioners state that the information contained in the Confidential Attachment is extremely sensitive information that could be used by competitors to gain insight into the Joint Petitioners' internal business operations and other information damaging to the Joint Petitioners and, therefore, disclosure of such information would be extremely detrimental and could be used by the Joint Petitioners' competitors to materially affect the Joint Petitioners' ability to compete effectively.

On July 21, 2010, the Petitioners filed with the Commission a Motion to Amend Joint Application ("Amending Motion"), pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-110 and 130 of the Commission's Rules, in which they requested that the Petition be amended ("Amended Petition") to include CCGI Holdings, LLC ("New Holdco"), as a Petitioner in this proceeding. The Amended Petition will be considered, for statutory purposes, as being filed on July 21, 2010. Accordingly, DSLnet-VA, MegaPath, New Holdco, CCGI, Covad, DIECA, and Platinum are referred to herein collectively as the "Joint Petitioners," and the Petition and the Amended Petition are referred to herein collectively as the "Joint Petition."

MegaPath, a Delaware corporation with its principal business headquarters located in Costa Mesa, California, is the parent company of DSLnet-VA and DSLnet Communications, LLC. MegaPath does not currently offer any regulated telecommunications services and, therefore, does not hold any telecommunications authorizations from the FCC or any state regulatory authority.

DSLnet-VA is a Virginia corporation with its principal business headquarters located in Wallingford, Connecticut. DSLnet-VA is an affiliate of DSLnet Communications, LLC, which is authorized to provide intrastate telecommunications services in forty-seven (47) states and the District of Columbia. In Virginia, DSLnet-VA is certificated as a competitive local exchange carrier ("CLEC") to provide both local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to its certificates of public convenience and necessity ("CPCNs"), Certificate Nos. T-450 and TT-71A, respectively, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered July 28, 1999, in Case No. PUC-1999-00028. DSLnet-VA provides telecommunications services to approximately seventeen (17) customers in Virginia with approximately 690 lines in service.[4] Currently, DSLnet-VA only provides high-speed Internet access.

CCGI is a Delaware corporation with its principal business headquarters located in Beverly Hills, California. CCGI is the parent company of Covad, a Delaware corporation that owns Covad Communications Company, a California corporation, and DIECA d/b/a Covad Communications Company, a Virginia public service corporation. Covad provides a variety of integrated voice and data communications services and is authorized by the FCC to provide international and domestic interstate telecommunications services as a non-dominant carrier. In Virginia, DIECA is certificated as a CLEC to provide both local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to its CPCNs, Certificate Nos. T-410 and TT-50A, respectively, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered May 5, 1998, in Case No. PUC-1997-00177.[5] The lines DIECA serves in Virginia include DS1 loops, standalone xDSL loops, voice-optimized loops, and shared data loops. For the most part, DIECA's DS1, standalone xDSL, and voice-optimized loops, serve business customers and its shared loops provide data services to residential customers receiving voice services from another carrier.

CCGI is ultimately controlled by Platinum, a privately held Delaware limited liability company with its principal business headquarters located in Beverly Hills, California. Platinum is a global firm specializing in the merger, acquisition, and operation of companies that provide services and solutions to customers in a broad range of business markets, including information technology, telecommunications, logistics, manufacturing, and entertainment distribution. Neither CCGI nor Platinum offer any regulated telecommunications services.

New Holdco is a Delaware limited liability company with its principal business headquarters located in Beverly Hills, California. New Holdco is a newly created holding company that does not offer any regulated telecommunications services. New Holdco is ultimately controlled by Platinum.

The Joint Petitioners request Commission approval to consummate a transaction whereby CCGI and, ultimately, Platinum will acquire indirect control of DSLnet-VA; and, as a part of this transaction, MegaPath will acquire indirect control of DIECA (the "Proposed Transaction"). Pursuant to an Agreement and Plan of Merger ("Agreement") dated as of March 26, 2010, between CCGI and MegaPath, TMAC Merger Corporation, a subsidiary of CCGI created specifically for this transaction, will merge with and into MegaPath, with MegaPath as the surviving entity. As a result, MegaPath will become a wholly owned direct subsidiary of CCGI and, therefore, CCGI will acquire indirect control of DSLnet-VA.

Furthermore, as a part of this transaction, MegaPath's current shareholders will, collectively, acquire approximately thirty percent (30%) of the stock of CCGI, the parent company of Covad and the ultimate parent company of DIECA. The Joint Petitioners state that, individually, no MegaPath shareholder is expected to acquire more than ten percent (10%) of the stock of CCGI. Accordingly, the Joint Petitioners also request approval of the indirect minority transfer of ownership of Covad and, therefore, DIECA, to MegaPath as a result of the Proposed Transaction.

Finally, as part of the ultimate post-closing corporate structure of Platinum, the Joint Petitioners intend to insert New Holdco above CCGI in the corporate ownership chain after the completion of the Proposed Transaction and, as a result, New Holdco will acquire approximately seventy percent (70%) of CCGI. Therefore, New Holdco will become a direct subsidiary of Platinum, and CCGI will become a direct subsidiary of New Holdco. The Joint Petitioners emphasize that the insertion of New Holdco into the corporate ownership chain is being undertaken only for internal business reasons and will not affect the ultimate ownership of either DSLnet-VA or DIECA. Accordingly, the Joint Petitioners also request approval of a change in corporate structure whereby New Holdco will be inserted into the corporate ownership chain above CCGI, which will indirectly wholly own DSLnet-VA and DIECA upon completion of the Proposed Transaction.

Upon completion of the Proposed Transaction, the Joint Petitioners state that both DSLnet-VA's and DIECA's customers will continue to receive telecommunications services under the same rates, terms and conditions of service as currently provided. The Proposed Transaction will not involve a change in DSLnet-VA's operating authority in Virginia and DSLnet-VA's tariffs will remain in effect. Further, the Proposed Transaction will not affect the day-to-day operations or management of Covad and, thereby, DIECA, and will otherwise be transparent to Covad's and DIECA's customers.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the Joint Petition and representations of the Joint Petitioners and having been advised by its Staff, is of the opinion and finds that the Joint Petitioners' Motions for Protective Orders for the Confidential Exhibits filed on May 10, 2010, and for the [4] In DSLnet-VA's previous case before the Commission, Case No. PUC-2009-00065, it was stated that DSLnet-VA provided service to 645 customers in Virginia; however, Staff has since been advised that that statement also included DSLnet-VA's wholesale customers in Virginia. See Joint Application of DSLnet Communications VA, Inc., DSL.net, Inc., and MegaPath Inc., For approval of the transfer of direct control of DSLnet Communications VA, Inc., to MegaPath Inc., pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56, Va. Code §§56-88 et seq., Case No. PUC-2009-00065.

[5] Although DIECA Communications, Inc., is the entity certificated to provide telecommunications services in Virginia, it currently provides service to its customers in Virginia under the name of Covad Communications Company.

Confidential Attachment, filed on July 2, 2010, are no longer necessary and should, therefore, be denied.[6] The Commission is further of the opinion and finds that the Joint Petitioners' Amending Motion, which included New Holdco as a Petitioner in this proceeding, should be granted. Finally, the Commission is of the opinion and finds that the above-described Proposed Transaction, resulting in the indirect transfer of control of DSLnet-VA and DIECA, will neither impair nor jeopardize the provision of adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates and should, therefore, be approved.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Joint Petitioners' Motions for Protective Orders filed on May 10, 2010, and July 2, 2010, are hereby denied; however, we direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain the confidential information, to which the Motions pertain, under seal.

(2) The Joint Petitioners' Amending Motion, which included CCGI Holdings, LLC, as a Petitioner in this proceeding, is hereby granted.

(3) Pursuant to §§ 56-88.1 and 56-90 of the Code, the Joint Petitioners are hereby granted approval to consummate the Proposed Transaction to allow for the indirect transfer of control of DSLnet Communications VA, Inc., and DIECA Communications, Inc., as described herein.

(4) The Joint Petitioners shall file a report of the action taken pursuant to the approval granted herein within thirty (30) days of the Proposed Transaction taking place, subject to administrative extension by the Commission's Director of Public Utility Accounting. Such report shall include the date the Proposed Transaction took place.

(5) There appearing nothing further to be done in this matter, it hereby is dismissed.

[6] The Commission held the Joint Petitioners' Motions for the Confidential Exhibits and the Confidential Attachment in abeyance. We note that the Commission has received no request for leave to review the confidential information filed by the Joint Petitioners on May 10, 2010, or on July 2, 2010, in this proceeding. Accordingly, we deny the Motions as moot but direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain the confidential information, to which the Motions pertain, under seal.

SEPTEMBER 10, 2010

APPLICATION OF
PEERLESS NETWORK OF VIRGINIA, LLC

For certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services

FINAL ORDER

On May 24, 2010, Peerless Network of Virginia, LLC ("Peerless" or "Applicant"), filed an application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") for certificates of public convenience and necessity ("certificates") to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia. The Applicant also requested authority to price its interexchange telecommunications services on a competitive basis pursuant to § 56-481.1 of the Code of Virginia.

By Order for Notice and Comment dated June 14, 2010, the Commission directed the Applicant to provide notice to the public of its application and directed the Commission Staff ("Staff") to conduct an investigation and file a Staff Report. The Applicant filed proof of service on July 2, 2010, and proof of publication on July 12 and 29, 2010, as required by the June 14, 2010 Order for Notice and Comment.

On August 13, 2010, the Staff filed its Report finding that Peerless' application was in compliance with the Rules Governing the Certification and Regulation of Competitive Local Exchange Carriers, 20 VAC 5-417-10 et seq., and the Rules Governing the Certification of Interexchange Carriers, 20 VAC 5-411-10 et seq. Based upon its review of Peerless' application, the Staff determined it would be appropriate to grant the Applicant certificates to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services subject to the following condition: Peerless should notify the Division of Economics and Finance no less than thirty (30) days prior to the cancellation or lapse of its bond and should provide a replacement bond at that time. This requirement should be maintained until such time as the Commission determines it is no longer necessary.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the application and the Staff Report, finds that the Applicant should be granted certificates to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services. Having considered § 56-481.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Commission further finds that the Applicant may price its interexchange telecommunications services competitively.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Peerless Network of Virginia, LLC, is hereby granted a certificate of public convenience and necessity, No. TT-254A, to provide interexchange telecommunications services subject to the restrictions set forth in the Rules Governing the Certification of Interexchange Carriers, § 56-265.4:4 of the Code of Virginia, and the provisions of this Order.

(2) Peerless Network of Virginia, LLC, is hereby granted a certificate of public convenience and necessity, No. T-700, to provide local exchange telecommunications services subject to the restrictions set forth in the Rules Governing the Certification and Regulation of Competitive Local Exchange Carriers, § 56-265.4:4 of the Code of Virginia, and the provisions of this Order.

(3) Pursuant to § 56-481.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Applicant may price its interexchange telecommunications services competitively.

(4) The Applicant shall provide tariffs to the Division of Communications that conform to all applicable Commission rules and regulations.

(5) Peerless Network of Virginia, LLC, shall notify the Division of Economics and Finance no less than thirty (30) days prior to the cancellation or lapse of its bond and shall provide a replacement bond at that time. This requirement shall be maintained until such time as the Commission determines it is no longer necessary.

(6) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this case shall be dismissed and the papers filed herein placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00023
SEPTEMBER 24, 2010

JOINT PETITION OF
QWEST COMMUNICATIONS INTERNATIONAL, INC.;
QWEST COMMUNICATIONS CORPORATION OF VIRGINIA, INC.;
CENTRAL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF VIRGINIA D/B/A CENTURYLINK;
UNITED TELEPHONE SOUTHEAST LLC D/B/A CENTURYLINK; CENTURYTEL LONG DISTANCE, LLC D/B/A CENTURYLINK;
and
CENTURYLINK, INC.

For approval of the indirect transfer of control of Qwest Communications Corporation of Virginia, Inc.; Central Telephone Company of Virginia d/b/a CenturyLink; United Telephone Southeast LLC d/b/a CenturyLink; and CenturyTel Long Distance, LLC d/b/a CenturyLink

ORDER GRANTING APPROVAL

On May 25, 2010, pursuant to Chapter 5 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), [1] Qwest Communications International, Inc. ("Qwest"); Qwest Communications Corporation of Virginia, Inc. ("Qwest Virginia"); CenturyLink, Inc. ("CenturyLink"); Central Telephone Company of Virginia d/b/a Century Link ("Centel Virginia"); United Telephone Southeast LLC d/b/a Century Link ("United Southeast"); and CenturyTel Long Distance, LLC d/b/a Century Link ("CenturyTel Long Distance") (collectively, "Petitioners" or "Joint Petitioners"), filed a Joint Petition with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") seeking approval of the indirect transfer of control of Qwest Virginia, Centel Virginia, United Southeast, and CenturyTel Long Distance.

In the Joint Petition, the Petitioners state that Qwest, CenturyLink, and SB44 Acquisition Company[2] entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger ("Agreement") on April 21, 2010. Under the terms of the Agreement, after the merger has been effectuated, Qwest would become a wholly owned, first tier subsidiary of CenturyLink (hereinafter, "proposed transaction" or "proposed merger").[3] Approval of the proposed merger would result in the indirect transfer of control of Qwest Virginia, an operating subsidiary of Qwest, and United Southeast, Centel Virginia, and CenturyTel Long Distance,[4] wholly owned Virginia operating subsidiaries of CenturyLink.

The proposed transaction is a combination of Qwest and CenturyLink only and, therefore, it is not a transaction in which operating companies or assets would be sold, combined, or transferred to a new provider. Moreover, this proposed transaction would require no new debt or refinancing, but instead would be a tax-free, stock-for-stock transaction. Upon closing, the shareholders of pre-merger CenturyLink would own about 50.5% of post-merger CenturyLink and the shareholders of pre-merger Qwest would own approximately 49.5% of post-merger CenturyLink.[5] Qwest Virginia, United Southeast, Centel Virginia, and CenturyTel Long Distance would continue to operate as separate certificated carriers, and their customers would continue to receive service from the same carrier, at the same rates, terms and conditions, and under the same tariffs, price plans, interconnection agreements, and other regulatory obligations.

On June 21, 2010, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Comment ("Notice Order"), which established a procedural schedule for the Joint Petition and extended the time for the Commission to review the Joint Petition an additional ninety (90) days pursuant to § 56-88.1 of the Code. The Notice Order required the Joint Petitioners to publish notice of the Joint Petition; provided interested parties with an opportunity to submit comments, notices of participation, or hearing requests; directed the Commission Staff ("Staff") to file a Staff Report ("Report") on the Joint Petition; and gave the Joint Petitioners the opportunity to file a response to the Staff Report, as well as to any comments or requests for hearing. No comments, notices of participation, or requests for hearing were filed in this proceeding.

[4] CenturyTel Long Distance is not currently certificated in the Commonwealth to provide facilities-based and resold competitive local exchange and interexchange services in Virginia. However, CenturyTel Long Distance was included in the Joint Petition because it might have become certificated during the time the Joint Petition was pending before the Commission. CenturyTel Long Distance anticipates filing an application for certification to provide facilities-based and resold competitive local exchange and interexchange services in the Commonwealth of Virginia in the near future. Id. at 7. However, as of the date of this Order, an application has not been filed.

[5] Id. at 4-5.

On September 3, 2010, the Staff filed its Report on the Joint Petition. In its Report, the Staff reviewed the terms and the financial ramifications of the proposed transaction, the potential impact on competition from the proposed transaction, and the implications for the continued regulation of Centel Virginia, United Southeast, and Qwest Virginia, as well as the potential impact on service quality in Virginia. The Staff concluded that the proposed transaction will not impair or jeopardize the provision of adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates. Staff recommended that the Commission approve the proposed transaction subject to two conditions. First, Staff recommended that a report of action be filed within thirty (30) days of the closing of the proposed transaction. Such a report should include the date the proposed transaction took place. Staff also recommended that merger costs and savings be tracked for Centel Virginia and United Southeast for a minimum of three (3) years. This information need not be filed with the Commission, but should be available upon request in an appropriate proceeding.

On September 13, 2010, the Joint Petitioners filed a response to the Staff Report. The Joint Petitioners stated that they did not object to Staff's recommended requirement regarding tracking merger costs and savings for Centel Virginia and United Southeast. In addition, the Joint Petitioners requested expeditious approval of the Joint Petition in light of the Staff Report.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record, the pleadings, and the applicable law, is of the opinion and finds that the Joint Petition is approved subject to the requirements ordered herein.

Transfers Act

Petitioners requested approval of the proposed merger under the Transfers Act. The General Assembly has set forth the criteria that the Commission must apply in evaluating the Joint Petition under the Transfers Act. Specifically, § 56-90 of the Code states:

> [i]f and when the Commission, with or without hearing, shall be satisfied that adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates will not be impaired or jeopardized by granting the prayer of the petition, the Commission shall make such order in the premises as it may deem proper and the circumstances require, and thereupon it shall be lawful to do the things provided for in such order . . . .

We must evaluate the Joint Petition, the support therefor, any objections thereto, and the requirements proposed by others according to this statutory criteria. Based on the evidence presented in this case, the Commission finds that adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates will not be impaired or jeopardized by granting the Joint Petition subject to the requirements ordered herein, which we deem proper and that we find the circumstances require.

Staff proposes that the Commission condition approval of the proposed merger upon the Petitioners being required to: (1) within thirty (30) days of completing the proposed transaction, file a report of action with the Commission, including the date the proposed transaction took place; and (2) track the merger costs and savings for Centel Virginia and United Southeast for a minimum of three (3) years in the event they are involved in a proceeding before the Commission where such information would be needed. We agree with Staff that these conditions are reasonable and necessary to ensure that adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates will not be impaired or jeopardized, as required under the Transfers Act.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Pursuant to §§ 56-88.1 and 56-90 of the Code, the Joint Petition is granted subject to the requirements established in this Order Granting Approval.

(2) Within thirty (30) days of completing the proposed merger, subject to administrative extension by the Commission's Director of Public Utility Accounting, the Joint Petitioners shall file a report of action with the Commission. The report shall include the date the proposed transaction took place.

(3) Joint Petitioners shall be required to track the merger costs and savings for Centel Virginia and United Southeast for a minimum of three (3) years. This information need not be filed with the Commission, but shall be made available upon request by the Commission or its Staff.

(4) The remedies for violation of any of the Commission's findings herein include the penalties set forth in § 12.1-13 of the Code.

(5) This matter is dismissed.

NOVEMBER 15, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
NORTH COAST PAYPHONES, INC.,
Defendant

ORDER

On July 23, 2010, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") issued its Rule to Show Cause ("Rule") against North Coast Payphones, Inc. ("Defendant"). The Rule appointed a Hearing Examiner to conduct all further proceedings and scheduled a hearing for September 30, 2010, at which the Defendant was required to appear and show cause why penalties should not be imposed for alleged violations of the Pay Telephone Registration Act, § 56-508.15 et seq. of the Code of Virginia ("Act"), and the Rules for Payphone Service and Instruments, 20 VAC 5-407-10 et seq., promulgated pursuant to the Act.

By Hearing Examiner's Ruling entered on September 27, 2010, the September 30, 2010 hearing on the Rule was canceled and scheduled for October 6, 2010.

The hearing was convened as scheduled. Counsel for the Staff presented the testimony of Jimmy R. Mullenaux, Telecommunications Specialist with the Commission's Division of Communications, which described his efforts to have the Defendant renew the registration for its Virginia payphones for the year 2010 pursuant to 20 VAC 5-407-40 of the Rules for Payphone Service and Instruments ("Rules"). The Defendant, having been furnished proper notice, failed to appear.

The Report of Howard P. Anderson, Jr., Hearing Examiner, was issued at the conclusion of the hearing. In that Report, the Hearing Examiner found the Defendant to be in violation of the Rules and recommended a fine in the amount of $650. He further found and recommended that the Division of Communications direct the local service providers to disconnect service to the Defendant's payphones. The Report recommended that the Commission enter an order adopting the findings of the Report and dismissing this case from the Commission's docket of active cases.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the Hearing Examiner's Report, is of the opinion and finds that the recommendations of the Hearing Examiner should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The findings of the Hearing Examiner's Report of October 6, 2010, are adopted.

(2) The Defendant is hereby fined $650 for violating the registration requirements of 20 VAC 5-407-40 E of the Rules.

(3) The Defendant also owes registration and late fees for the year 2010 in the amount of $102, pursuant to 20 VAC 5-407-40 C of the Rules. Defendant's total indebtedness to the Commonwealth is $752.

(4) The Division of Communications shall direct the local service providers to disconnect service to the Defendant's payphones.

(5) This matter is dismissed and the papers herein are passed to the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00030
JULY 2, 2010

APPLICATION OF
ZAYO BANDWIDTH NORTHEAST, LLC,
ZAYO BANDWIDTH NORTHEAST SUB, LLC.,
and
ZAYO BANDWIDTH CENTRAL (VIRGINIA), LLC

For cancellation of existing certificates of public convenience and necessity and tariffs to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services

ORDER CANCELLING TARIFFS AND CERTIFICATES

On June 18, 2010, Zayo Bandwidth, LLC (""ZB""), as the successor in interest to Zayo Bandwidth Northeast, LLC (""Zayo-NE""), Zayo Bandwidth Northeast Sub, LLC (""Zayo-NE Sub""), and Zayo Bandwidth Central (Virginia), LLC (""Zayo-VA"" and together with Zayo-NE and Zayo-NE Sub, ""ZB Subs"") filed a Letter Application with the State Corporation Commission (""Commission"") requesting cancellation of ZB Subs' certificates of public convenience and necessity and tariffs to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services.

On October 15, 2007, in Case No. PUC-2007-00074, the Commission granted Certificate No. TT-193B to Zayo-NE Sub and Certificate No. TT-197B to Zayo-NE. On June 19, 2008, in Case No. PUC-2008-00032, the Commission granted Certificate No. T-621a for local exchange telecommunication services and Certificate No. TT-200B for interexchange telecommunications services to Zayo-VA.

In Case No. PUC-2009-00066, ZB Subs and ZB jointly petitioned the Commission for approval of pro forma intra-corporate mergers pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia. On February 16, 2010, the Commission entered an order granting approval for the pro-forma intra-corporate mergers of ZB Subs into ZB, with ZB surviving, conditioned upon ZB obtaining the certificates of public convenience and necessity applied for in case PUC-2009-00067.[1] On April 21, 2010, in Case No. PUC-2009-00067, the Commission granted ZB's application for certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services and issued Certificate Nos. T-696 and TT-252A, respectively.

In its Letter Application, ZB states that since ZB Subs no longer exist and ZB provides services to ZB Subs' former customers, ZB Subs certificates should be canceled. Because ZB Subs' have no customers, neither ZB Subs or ZB will file any customer notifications otherwise required by 20 VAC 5-423-20(B) and (C).

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the pleading and applicable law, is of the opinion and finds ZB Subs' Letter Application to cancel its certificates of public convenience and necessity and tariffs should be granted.

[1] Joint Petition of Zayo Bandwidth Northeast, LLC, Zayo Bandwidth Northeast Sub, LLC, Zayo Bandwidth Central, LLC, Zayo Bandwidth Central (Virginia), LLC, and Zayo Bandwidth, LLC, For approval of pro forma intra-corporate mergers, pursuant to the Utilities Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56, Va. Code §§ 56-88, et seq., Case No. PUC-2009-00066, Final Order (February 16, 2010).

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) This matter is hereby docketed and assigned Case No. PUC-2010-00030.

(2) ZB Subs' request to cancel all tariffs on file with the Division of Communications is hereby granted.

(3) Certificate of public convenience and necessity, Nos. TT-193B, TT-197B, and TT-200B issued to Zayo Bandwidth Northeast Sub, LLC, Zayo Bandwidth Northeast, LLC, and Zayo Bandwidth Central (Virginia), LLC, respectively, to provide interexchange telecommunications services throughout the Commonwealth shall be cancelled. Certificate of public convenience and necessity, No. T-621a, issued to Zayo Bandwidth Central (Virginia), LLC, to provide local exchange telecommunications services throughout the Commonwealth shall be cancelled.

(4) There being nothing further to be done in this matter, this case shall be removed from the Commission's docket of active proceedings and the papers filed herein placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00031
OCTOBER 12, 2010

APPLICATION OF
NEWPATH NETWORKS, LLC

For certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange and interexchange services in the Commonwealth of Virginia

FINAL ORDER

On June 18, 2010, NewPath Networks, LLC ("NewPath" or "Applicant") filed an application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") for certificates of public convenience and necessity ("certificates") to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia. The Applicant also requested authority to price its interexchange telecommunications services on a competitive basis pursuant to § 56-481.1 of the Code of Virginia.

By Order for Notice and Comment dated July 1, 2010, the Commission directed the Applicant to provide notice to the public of its application and directed the Commission Staff ("Staff") to conduct an investigation and file a Staff Report. The Applicant filed proof of service on July 15, 2010, and proof of publication on August 10, 2010, as required by the July 1, 2010 Order for Notice and Comment.

On September 10, 2010, the Staff filed its Report finding that NewPath's application was in compliance with the Rules Governing the Certification and Regulation of Competitive Local Exchange Carriers, 20 VAC 5-417-10 et seq., and the Rules Governing the Certification of Interexchange Carriers, 20 VAC 5-411-10 et seq. Based upon its review of NewPath's application, the Staff determined it would be appropriate to grant the Applicant certificates to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services subject to the following condition: NewPath should notify the Division of Economics and Finance no less than thirty (30) days prior to the cancellation or lapse of its bond and should provide a replacement bond at that time. This requirement should be maintained until such time as the Commission determines it is no longer necessary.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the application and the Staff Report, finds that the Applicant should be granted certificates to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services. Having considered § 56-481.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Commission further finds that the Applicant may price its interexchange telecommunications services competitively.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) NewPath Networks, LLC, is hereby granted a certificate of public convenience and necessity, No. TT-255A, to provide interexchange telecommunications services subject to the restrictions set forth in the Rules Governing the Certification of Interexchange Carriers, § 56-265.4:4 of the Code of Virginia, and the provisions of this Order.

(2) NewPath Networks, LLC, is hereby granted a certificate of public convenience and necessity, No. T-701, to provide local exchange telecommunications services subject to the restrictions set forth in the Rules Governing the Certification and Regulation of Competitive Local Exchange Carriers, § 56-265.4:4 of the Code of Virginia, and the provisions of this Order.

(3) Pursuant to § 56-481.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Applicant may price its interexchange telecommunications services competitively.

(4) The Applicant shall provide tariffs to the Division of Communications that conform to all applicable Commission rules and regulations.

(5) NewPath Networks, LLC, shall notify the Division of Economics and Finance no less than thirty (30) days prior to the cancellation or lapse of its bond and shall provide a replacement bond at that time. This requirement shall be maintained until such time as the Commission determines it is no longer necessary.

(6) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this case shall be dismissed and the papers filed herein placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00032
JULY 23, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In the Matter of Implementing the BVU Authority Act, Section 15.2-7200 et seq. of the Code of Virginia

ADMINISTRATIVE ORDER REFLECTING NAME CHANGE

Effective July 1, 2010, the BVU Authority Act, § 15.2-7200 et seq. of the Code of Virginia ("Va. Code"),[1] enacted by Chapters 117 (Senate Bill 12) and 210 (House Bill 27) of the 2010 Acts of Assembly, converted Bristol Virginia Utilities to BVU Authority. In order to reflect that conversion upon the certificates of public convenience and necessity and on the tariffs of the new entity, the Commission has docketed this matter as Case No. PUC-2010-00032.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the effects of Va. Code § 15.2-7200 et seq., is of the opinion and finds that existing certificates No. T-598a and No. TT-216A, respectively, in the name of City of Bristol d/b/a Bristol Virginia Utilities should be cancelled and reissued as No. T-598b and No. TT-216B, respectively, in the name of BVU Authority. Moreover, the tariffs on file in the name of Bristol Virginia Utilities have been deemed to be those of the new entity, BVU Authority.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Certificates of public convenience and necessity Nos. T-598a and TT-216A, respectively, are hereby cancelled and reissued as Nos. T-598b and TT-216B in the name of BVU Authority.

(2) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this matter is dismissed and the record compiled herein shall be sent to the file for ended causes.

[1] Va. Code §15.2-7209.A provides, in part, that "The Commission shall issue appropriate documentation to effectuate their transfer without further action on behalf of BVU Authority." Moreover, §15.2-7209.C states "Upon enactment of this chapter, the Authority shall file a name change with the Commission."

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00035
SEPTEMBER 20, 2010

VIC-RMTS-DC, L.L.C. D/B/A VERIZON AVENUE

For cancellation of a certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange telecommunications services

ORDER

On September 20, 1997, VIC-RMTS-DC, L.L.C. d/b/a OnePoint Communications was issued a certificate of public convenience and necessity ("certificate") to provide local exchange telecommunications services in the Commonwealth of Virginia. The certificate was later updated to reflect its new corporate name, VIC-RMTS-DC, L.L.C. d/b/a Verizon Avenue ("Verizon Avenue"), by Order issued June 22, 2001, in Case No. PUC-2001-00125.

By letter application ("application") filed June 28, 2010, Verizon Avenue requested that its certificate to provide local exchange telecommunications services in Virginia, Certificate No. T-386a, be cancelled. The application represents that Verizon Avenue has no customers in Virginia and that its tariffs were cancelled pursuant to Commission Order in Case No. PUC-2006-00038.[1]

NOW UPON CONSIDERATION of the matter, the Commission finds that the certificate of public convenience and necessity granted to VIC-RMTS-DC, L.L.C. d/b/a Verizon Avenue should be cancelled.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) This matter is docketed and assigned Case No. PUC-2010-00035.

(2) Certificate No. T-386a granting local exchange authority to VIC-RMTS-DC, L.L.C. d/b/a Verizon Avenue is hereby cancelled.

(3) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this case is hereby closed.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00036
SEPTEMBER 15, 2010

APPLICATION OF
VERIZON VIRGINIA INC.

For cancellation of a certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange telecommunications services as the incumbent local exchange carrier in the Crows-Hematite Exchange

ORDER

Verizon Virginia Inc. ("Verizon") holds a certificate of public convenience and necessity ("certificate") as the incumbent local exchange carrier in the Crows-Hematite exchange located in Alleghany County in the Commonwealth of Virginia.[1] That status was changed, however, by the Commission's Final Order in Case No. PUC-2009-00073, issued May 17, 2010, which recognized that Frontier Communications of Virginia, Inc., would become the successor company to Verizon in the Crows-Hematite exchange as a result of having purchased all of Verizon's facilities and operations in that exchange.

On June 28, 2010, Verizon filed a request that its certificate in the Crows-Hematite exchange, Certificate No. T-172c, be cancelled as of July 1, 2010. Verizon represents that after July 1, 2010, Verizon would have no customers in the exchange. In addition, Verizon has removed all appearances of the Crows-Hematite exchange from its Virginia tariffs.

NOW UPON CONSIDERATION of the matter, the Commission finds that the certificate of public convenience and necessity granted to Verizon Virginia Inc., Certificate No. T-172c, for the Crows-Hematite exchange located in Alleghany County, Virginia, should be cancelled.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) This matter is docketed and assigned Case No. PUC-2010-00036.

(2) Certificate No. T-172c granting authority to Verizon Virginia Inc. in the Crows-Hematite exchange located in Alleghany County, Virginia, is hereby cancelled.

(3) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this case is hereby closed.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00038
JULY 22, 2010

PETITION OF
NEXTGEN COMMUNICATIONS, INC.

For waiver of the bond requirement contained in its certificate of public convenience and necessity

ORDER

By Final Order entered November 3, 2009, in Case No. PUC-2009-00003, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") granted NextGen Communications, Inc. ("NextGen"), certificates of public convenience and necessity ("certificates") numbers T-693 and TT-250A to furnish, respectively, local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services in the Commonwealth.

On July 6, 2010, NextGen filed with the Commission a Petition for Waiver of the Bond Requirement Contained in its Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity ("Petition"), wherein it requested that the Commission allow its initial bond to expire and that it be permitted to delay securing a subsequent bond until such time as it files a tariff for traditional local exchange services.[1] NextGen also presented for the Commission's consideration, two alternatives to its request for waiver of the standard bond requirement: a significant reduction in the current bond and/or a Letter of Credit or Guarantee between NextGen and its parent Company, TeleCommunication Systems, Inc. The Petition also served as notice of the expiration of NextGen's bond, in accordance with the Commission's requirements.[2]

In support of its request for waiver of the bond requirement, NextGen further states that it does not currently have any business operations or customers in Virginia; it does not have an approved tariff on file with the Commission; because of the nature of its 911 services, NextGen will not offer traditional dial tone based local exchange services; and it does not reasonably expect to have operations in Virginia until 2011 or later.

[1] Similar temporary bond waivers have been granted by the Commission. See Application of Gateway Communications Services of Virginia, Inc., For waiver of surety bond, Case No. PUC-2008-00018, 2008 S.C.C. Ann. Rept. 287, Final Order (March 14, 2008) and Application of Bay Telecom, Inc., For a certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange telecommunications services, Case No. PUC-2005-00140, 2006 S.C.C. Ann. Rept. 216, Final Order (March 3, 2006).

[2] In its Petition, NextGen states that its effective surety bond is set to expire on August 4, 2010.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the Petition and the applicable law, finds that NextGen should be granted a temporary waiver of Rule 20 VAC 5-417-20 G 1 b and not be required to provide a continuous performance or surety bond in a minimum amount of $50,000 until it files a Virginia tariff for review and acceptance to offer telecommunications services in Virginia.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) NextGen is hereby granted a temporary waiver of Rule 20 VAC 5-417-20 G 1 b requiring the Company to provide a continuous performance or surety bond in the amount of $50,000.

(2) At such time as NextGen anticipates offering telecommunications services in Virginia, and prior to the provisioning of any such services, the Company shall provide tariffs to the Division of Communications that conform with all applicable Commission rules and regulations.

(3) At such time as NextGen files a Virginia tariff for review and acceptance, NextGen shall provide a $50,000 bond to the Division of Economics and Finance, as specified by the Staff.

(4) All other provisions of the November 3, 2009 Final Order remain in effect.

(5) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this case shall be dismissed and the papers filed herein placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00039
SEPTEMBER 24, 2010

PETITION OF
GLOBAL CROSSING TELEMANAGEMENT VA, LLC, GLOBAL CROSSING TELEMANAGEMENT, INC.,
and
GLOBAL CROSSING LOCAL SERVICES, INC.

For approval of merger of Global Crossing Telemanagement, Inc., into Global Crossing Local Services, Inc., thereby transferring direct ownership and control of Global Crossing Telemanagement VA, LLC, from Global Crossing Telemanagement, Inc., to Global Crossing Local Services, Inc.

ORDER GRANTING APPROVAL

On July 6, 2010, Global Crossing Telemanagement VA, LLC ("Global Crossing VA"), Global Crossing Telemanagement, Inc. ("GCTM"), and Global Crossing Local Services, Inc. ("GCLS") (collectively, the "Petitioners"), filed a petition with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to Chapter 5 of Title 56 ("Utility Transfers Act") of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), for approval of a merger between GCTM and GCLS and the resulting transfer of direct ownership and control of Global Crossing VA.

The Petitioners filed a portion of the petition with the Commission under seal, pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure ("Rules") regarding confidential information, in order to obtain confidential treatment of Exhibit I and Exhibit II of the petition ("Confidential Exhibits"),[1] which contain consolidated financial statements of the Petitioners. Rule 5 VAC 5-20-170 states, in part: "When an application (including supporting documents and prefiled testimony) contains information that the applicant claims to be confidential, the filing shall be made under seal and accompanied by a motion for protective order or other confidential treatment." Therefore, on July 6, 2010, the Petitioners filed with the Commission a Motion for Protective Order ("Motion"), pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules, to obtain confidential treatment of the financial information contained in the Confidential Exhibits. On August 2, 2010, Staff filed a Memorandum of Completeness, which deemed the petition complete as of July 27, 2010.

Global Crossing VA, organized under the laws of the Commonwealth of Virginia, is headquartered in New York. Global Crossing VA provides local exchange service to approximately 36 business accounts in Virginia pursuant to its certificate of public convenience and necessity No. T-399a issued by the Commission in Case No. PUC-1999-00231 on January 6, 2000. Global Crossing VA is a wholly owned, direct subsidiary of GCTM, which, in turn, is a wholly owned, indirect subsidiary of Global Crossing Limited. Global Crossing Limited is a publicly traded Bermuda corporation with affiliates in the United States and several other countries providing telecommunications services.

GCLS is incorporated under the laws of the State of Michigan and has its principal business office in New York. GCLS provides local exchange services to small and medium-sized businesses in 26 states. GCLS also is a wholly owned, indirect subsidiary of Global Crossing Limited.

The Petitioners propose to consummate a transaction that would result in the transfer of ownership and control of Global Crossing VA from GCTM to GCLS. Specifically, the Petitioners propose to merge GCTM into GCLS, with GCLS being the surviving entity. GCTM would cease to exist, and all of its assets would be transferred to GCLS. After the proposed merger, GCLS would become the direct parent company of Global Crossing VA. The Petitioners represent that the transfer will be completely transparent to Global Crossing VA customers and that customers will continue to be served by Global Crossing VA. The Petitioners further represent that there will be no changes to the rates, terms, or conditions of service as a result of the proposed transfer.

[1] The Petitioners state that the information contained in the Confidential Exhibits are highly confidential and proprietary and that public disclosure of this information would materially damage the Petitioners' competitive and financial positions by providing competitors with an advantage which the Petitioners would not enjoy.

The Petitioners state that the proposed merger and transfer of control is an internal corporate reorganization that will reduce costs and provide enhanced operational and economic efficiencies for the surviving Global Crossing entities. They further state that the savings associated with the internal reorganization will provide greater opportunities to improve the price performance of services available to its customers.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the petition and representations of the Petitioners and having been advised by its Staff, is of the opinion and finds that the Petitioners' Motion is no longer necessary and should, therefore, be denied.[2] The Commission is also of the opinion and finds that the proposed merger of GCTM and GCLS and the resulting transfer of direct ownership and control of Global Crossing VA will neither impair nor jeopardize the provision of adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates and should, therefore, be approved.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Petitioners' Motion for Protective Order is hereby denied; however, we direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain the confidential information, to which the Motion pertains, under seal.

(2) Pursuant to §§ 56-88.1 and 56-90 of the Code, the Petitioners are hereby granted approval for the merger of GCTM and GCLS and the resulting transfer of direct ownership and control of Global Crossing VA, as described herein.

(3) The Petitioners shall file a report of the action taken pursuant to the approval granted herein within thirty (30) days of the transfer taking place, subject to administrative extension by the Commission's Director of Public Utility Accounting. Such report shall include the date the transfer took place.

(4) There appearing nothing further to be done in this matter, it hereby is dismissed.

[2] The Commission held the Petitioners' Motion in abeyance. We note that the Commission has received no request for leave to review the confidential financial information filed by the Petitioners in this proceeding. Accordingly, we deny the Motion as moot but direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain such information under seal.

PETITION OF
NATIONSLINE VIRGINIA INC.

For Waiver of Certain Requirements for Certification

ORDER DENYING WAIVER

By order dated December 6, 2004, in Case No. PUC-2004-00058 ("Order"), the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") granted NationsLine Virginia Inc. ("NationsLine" or "Company") a certificate of public convenience and necessity, Certificate No. T-633, to provide local exchange telecommunications services.[1] The Order also granted NationsLine's request for a waiver of the bond requirement set forth in Rule 20 VAC 5-417-20 G 1 b of the Commission's Rules Governing the Certification and Regulation of Competitive Local Exchange Carriers. In lieu of the bond, the Commission accepted a letter of credit provided by the Company.

On July 6, 2010, NationsLine filed with the Commission a Petition for Waiver of the Requirements for Certification ("Petition") wherein it sought a Commission order waiving the requirement that NationsLine continuously maintain a $50,000 performance or surety bond as set forth in Rule 20 VAC 5-417-20 G 1 b.

In support of its Petition, NationsLine stated that it has continuously operated since the issuance of the first letter of credit; it has renewed the letter of credit for six years; and no claims have been made against the letter of credit, nor have any fines or penalties been levied by the Commission against NationsLine.

The Company further stated that it does not collect customer deposits and that there is no risk of loss to customers for non-performance; has demonstrated financial ability to provide local telecommunications services; should no longer be required to continuously maintain a surety bond or letter of credit; and would like to use the funds that currently secure its letter of credit to invest in new equipment and expand its service in the Commonwealth.

On July 28, 2010, the Commission entered its Order Inviting Comments which, among other things, docketed the case; provided an opportunity for interested parties to comment on the Petition; and required the Commission Staff to file comments on the Petition.

The Commission Staff filed its comments ("Staff Comments") on September 23, 2010. There were no other comments filed.

The Staff noted that under the Rules Governing the Certification and Regulation of Competitive Local Exchange Carriers in Virginia, the bond requirement for a Certified Local Exchange Carrier ("CLEC") is not "held to secure customer deposits,"[2] but is "held to protect local exchange service customers in the event that a carrier should suddenly cease operation."[3] The Staff also commented that a CLEC operating for several years does not assure continuing operation.[4] Further, the Staff pointed out that the Commission has not granted a full waiver of the bond requirement since 2003, when the requirement began.[5] In summary, the Staff believed that the bond requirement or, in the case of NationsLine, a letter of credit, "provides a level of financial assurance to protect the basic local exchange customers . . . ."[6]

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the Company's Petition and Staff Comments, is of the opinion and finds that the Company's request to waive the requirement for bond should be denied.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Petition of NationsLine requesting a waiver of the requirement for a bond is hereby denied.

(2) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this case shall be dismissed and the papers filed herein placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00041
AUGUST 31, 2010

JOINT APPLICATION OF
INSITE FIBER OF VIRGINIA, INC.,
NEWPATH NETWORKS, INC.,
WILLIAM J. MARRACCINI, CHARTERHOUSE GROUP, INC.,
and
CROWN CASTLE SOLUTIONS CORP.,
CROWN CASTLE INTERNATIONAL CORP.,

For approval of the indirect transfer of control of InSITE Fiber of Virginia, Inc., pursuant to Va. Code §§ 56-88 et seq.

ORDER GRANTING APPROVAL

On July 9, 2010, InSITE Fiber of Virginia, Inc. ("InSITE"), NewPath Networks, Inc. ("NewPath"), Crown Castle Solutions Corp. ("Solutions"), and Crown Castle International Corp. ("CCI") (collectively, the "Applicants"), filed a Joint Application and Request for Streamlined Review ("Joint Application") with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), for approval of the indirect transfer of control of InSITE and NewPath Networks, LLC ("NewPath-LLC"). The Applicants also filed a Joint Application with the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC") under the FCC's Streamlined Review process, and it was accepted as such on July 20, 2010.

The Applicants filed the Joint Application with the Commission under seal, pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure ("Rules") regarding confidential information, in order to obtain confidential treatment of Confidential Exhibit D of the Joint Application ("Confidential Exhibit"), which contains a confidential Agreement and Plan of Merger between NewPath and Solutions.[1] Rule 5 VAC 5-20-170 states, in part: "When an application (including supporting documents and prefiled testimony) contains information that the applicant claims to be confidential, the filing shall be made under seal and accompanied by a motion for protective order or other confidential treatment." Therefore, on July 12, 2010, the Applicants filed with the Commission a Motion for Protective Order ("Motion"), pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules, to obtain confidential treatment of the information contained in the Confidential Exhibit.

On July, 19, 2010, the Applicants made a supplemental filing in which they added William J. Marraccini ("Mr. Marraccini") and Charterhouse Group, Inc. ("Charterhouse"), as Applicants in this proceeding.[2] Accordingly, InSITE, NewPath, Solutions, CCI, Mr. Marraccini, and Charterhouse are referred to herein collectively as the "Joint Applicants." On July 21, 2010, Staff filed a Memorandum of Completeness, which deemed the Joint Application complete as of July 19, 2010, and on August 3, 2010, the Joint Application was accepted under the Commission's Streamlined Review process.[3]

[1] The Confidential Exhibit was filed with the Commission under seal, pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules, under separate cover on July 12, 2010. The Applicants state that the information contained in the Confidential Exhibit is extremely sensitive information that could be used by competitors to gain insight into the Applicants' internal business operations and other information damaging to the Applicants and, therefore, disclosure of such information would be extremely detrimental and could be used by the Applicants' competitors to materially affect the Applicants ability to compete effectively.

[2] Mr. Marraccini and Charterhouse were added as Applicants in this proceeding because of their collective disposition of ultimate ownership and control of InSITE as a result of the proposed transaction.

[3] A copy of the FCC's July 20, 2010 Public Notice establishing streamlined processing was not filed with the Commission until July 27, 2010.

NewPath is a Delaware corporation with its principal business headquarters located in Seattle, Washington. NewPath is ultimately owned collectively by Mr. Marraccini and Charterhouse. NewPath is a wireless infrastructure company that, through its operating subsidiaries, designs, develops and operates fiber-fed wireless carrier networks to improve signal strength and network capacity. NewPath's network typically is run over existing infrastructure, such as telephone poles and street lights, to expand carrier networks with solutions that are aesthetically acceptable to local communities and municipalities.

InSITE is a Virginia corporation with its principal business headquarters also located in Seattle, Washington. InSITE is wholly owned by InSITE Solutions, LLC, a Maryland limited liability company, which in turn is wholly owned by NewPath-LLC,[4] a New Jersey limited liability company, which in turn is wholly owned by NewPath. Therefore, InSITE is an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of NewPath. InSITE provides transport and backhaul services to other carriers, primarily wireless telecommunications providers and other wireless information service providers, using a Distributed Antenna System ("DAS"). In Virginia, InSITE is certificated to provide interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to its certificate of public convenience and necessity ("CPCN"), Certificate No. TT-203A, issued pursuant to the Commission's Order Granting Certificate entered April 23, 2004, in Case No. PUC-2003-00158. InSITE currently has three carrier customers in Virginia.

Solutions is a Delaware corporation and wholly owned indirect subsidiary of CCI, a publicly traded Delaware corporation. Solutions and CCI have their principal business headquarters located in Houston, Texas. CCI facilitates wireless coverage to the majority of the top 100 U.S. markets, owns and manages over 22,500 tower and rooftop sites throughout the United States and is one of the largest tower operators in the country. Solutions has deployed DAS networks and has three additional DAS networks in process with numerous others under consideration. Wholly owned subsidiaries of Solutions hold authorization to provide intrastate telecommunications services in thirteen states, including Virginia. Solutions' subsidiary, VA-CLEC LLC, is certificated in Virginia as a competitive local exchange carrier to provide local exchange telecommunications services pursuant to its CPCN, Certificate No. T-639, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered May 23, 2005, in Case No. PUC-2005-00004.

The Joint Applicants request Commission approval to consummate a transaction whereby Solutions and, ultimately, CCI will acquire indirect control of NewPath-LLC and InSITE (the "Proposed Transaction").[5] Pursuant to an Agreement and Plan of Merger ("Agreement") dated as of June 30, 2010, between NewPath, Solutions and CCNP Corp. ("CCNP"), a subsidiary of Solutions created specifically for this transaction, CCNP will merge with and into NewPath, with NewPath as the surviving entity. As a result, NewPath will become a wholly owned direct subsidiary of Solutions and, therefore, Solutions will acquire indirect control of NewPath-LLC and InSITE.

Upon completion of the Proposed Transaction, the Joint Applicants state that InSITE's customers will continue to receive telecommunications services with no change in the rates or terms and conditions of service as currently provided. Further, InSITE will continue to provide service to its customers under the same name and will continue to be led by an experienced management team. The Joint Applicants state that since the Proposed Transaction will be consummated at the parent company level, there will be no interruption or disruption of service to InSITE's customers and, therefore, the Proposed Transaction will be seamless and virtually transparent to customers in Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the Joint Application and representations of the Joint Applicants and having been advised by its Staff, is of the opinion and finds that the Joint Applicants' Motion is no longer necessary and should, therefore, be denied.[6] The Commission is further of the opinion and finds that the above-described Proposed Transaction, resulting in the indirect transfer of control of NewPath-LLC and InSITE, will neither impair nor jeopardize the provision of adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates and should, therefore, be approved.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Joint Applicants' Motion for Protective Order is hereby denied; however, we direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain the confidential information, to which the Motion pertains, under seal.

(2) Pursuant to §§ 56-88.1 and 56-90 of the Code, the Joint Applicants are hereby granted approval to consummate the Proposed Transaction to allow for the indirect transfer of control of NewPath Networks, LLC, and InSITE Fiber of Virginia, Inc., as described herein.

(3) The Joint Applicants shall file a report of the action taken pursuant to the approval granted herein within thirty (30) days of the Proposed Transaction taking place, subject to administrative extension by the Commission's Director of Public Utility Accounting. Such report shall include the date the Proposed Transaction took place.

(4) There appearing nothing further to be done in this matter, it hereby is dismissed.

---

[4] NewPath-LLC currently has an Application pending with the Commission for certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services in Virginia. See Application of NewPath Networks, LLC, For certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange and interexchange services in the Commonwealth of Virginia, Case No. PUC-2010-00031.

[5] Since NewPath-LLC's Application for CPCNs to provide regulated telecommunications services in Virginia is currently pending with the Commission in Case No. PUC-2010-00031, the Joint Applicants have also requested Commission approval of the indirect transfer of control of NewPath-LLC as a result of the Proposed Transaction.

[6] The Commission held the Joint Applicants' Motion in abeyance. We note that the Commission has received no request for leave to review the confidential information filed by the Joint Applicants in this proceeding. Accordingly, we deny the Motion as moot but direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain the confidential information, to which the Motion pertains, under seal.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00042
OCTOBER 29, 2010

APPLICATION OF
DUKENET OPCO, LLC

For certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services

FINAL ORDER

On July 29, 2010, DukeNet OpCo, LLC ("DukeNet" or "Applicant") completed an application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") for certificates of public convenience and necessity ("certificates") to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia. The Applicant also requested authority to price its interexchange telecommunications services on a competitive basis pursuant to § 56-481.1 of the Code of Virginia.

By Order for Notice and Comment dated August 26, 2010, the Commission directed the Applicant to provide notice to the public of its application and directed the Commission Staff ("Staff") to conduct an investigation and file a Staff Report. The Applicant filed poof of service and proof of publication on October 8, 2010, as required by the August 26, 2010 Order for Notice and Comment.

On October 19, 2010, the Staff filed its Report finding that DukeNet's application was in compliance with the Rules Governing the Certification and Regulation of Competitive Local Exchange Carriers, 20 VAC 5-417-10 et seq., and the Rules Governing the Certification of Interexchange Carriers, 20 VAC 5-411-10 et seq. Based upon its review of DukeNet's application, the Staff determined it would be appropriate to grant the Applicant certificates to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services subject to the following condition: DukeNet should notify the Division of Economics and Finance no less than thirty (30) days prior to the cancellation or lapse of its bond and should provide a replacement bond at that time. This requirement should be maintained until such time as the Commission determines it is no longer necessary.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the application and the Staff Report, finds that the Applicant should be granted certificates to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services. Having considered § 56-481.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Commission further finds that the Applicant may price its interexchange telecommunications services competitively.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) DukeNet OpCo, LLC, is hereby granted a certificate of public convenience and necessity, No. TT-256A , to provide interexchange telecommunications services subject to the restrictions set forth in the Rules Governing the Certification of Interexchange Carriers, § 56-265.4:4 of the Code of Virginia, and the provisions of this Order.

(2) DukeNet OpCo, LLC, is hereby granted a certificate of public convenience and necessity, No. T-702, to provide local exchange telecommunications services subject to the restrictions set forth in the Rules Governing the Certification and Regulation of Competitive Local Exchange Carriers, § 56-265.4:4 of the Code of Virginia, and the provisions of this Order.

(3) Pursuant to § 56-481.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Applicant may price its interexchange telecommunications services competitively.

(4) The Applicant shall provide tariffs to the Division of Communications that conform to all applicable Commission rules and regulations.

(5) DukeNet OpCo, LLC, shall notify the Division of Economics and Finance no less than thirty (30) days prior to the cancellation or lapse of its bond and shall provide a replacement bond at that time. This requirement shall be maintained until such time as the Commission determines it is no longer necessary.

(6) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this case shall be dismissed and the papers filed herein placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00043
OCTOBER 27, 2010

JOINT APPLICATION OF
DUKENET COMMUNICATIONS, LLC,
DUKE ENERGY CORPORATION,
DUKE ENERGY SERVICES, INC.,
DUKENET VENTURECO, INC.,
DUKENET COMMUNICATIONS HOLDINGS, LLC,
DUKENET OPCO, LLC,
and
ALINDA TELECOM INVESTOR I, L.P.,
ALINDA TELECOM INVESTOR II, L.P.,

For approval of the transfer of control of DukeNet Communications, LLC, pursuant to Va. Code §§ 56-88 et seq.

ORDER GRANTING APPROVAL

On July 9, 2010, DukeNet Communications, LLC ("DukeNet"), Duke Energy Corporation ("Duke Energy"), Duke Energy Services, Inc. ("DES"), DukeNet VentureCo, Inc. ("VentureCo"), DukeNet Communications Holdings, LLC ("HoldCo"), DukeNet OpCo, LLC ("OpCo"), Alinda Telecom Investor I, L.P. ("Alinda I"), and Alinda Telecom Investor II, L.P. ("Alinda II" and, together with Alinda I, "Investor"), (collectively, the "Joint Applicants"), filed a Joint Application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), for approval of the transfer of control of DukeNet from its current ultimate parent, Duke Energy, to Duke Energy and Investor jointly. On August 13, 2010, Staff filed a Memorandum of Completeness, which deemed the Joint Application complete as of August 9, 2010.

On September 27, 2010, the Joint Applicants filed with the Commission their Response to a Staff data request ("Response") under seal, pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure ("Commission's Rules") regarding confidential information, in order to obtain confidential treatment of Confidential Exhibit A to the Chapter 5 Transaction Summary ("Confidential Exhibit"), which contains a confidential detailed and verified summary (the "Summary") of the agreements to which the instant Joint Application pertains. Rule 5 VAC 5-20-170 states, in part: "When an application (including supporting documents and prefiled testimony) contains information that the applicant claims to be confidential, the filing shall be made under seat and accompanied by a motion for protective order or other confidential treatment." Therefore, on September 27, 2010, concurrently with the Response and pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-110 and 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules, the Joint Applicants filed with the Commission a Motion for Protective Order Withholding Confidential and Sensitive Information from Public Disclosure ("Motion") to obtain confidential treatment of the information contained in the Confidential Exhibit.

Duke Energy is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware and has its principal business headquarters in Charlotte, North Carolina. No one person or entity directly or indirectly owns ten percent (10%) or more of the equity of Duke Energy. Through its various affiliates, Duke Energy is one of the largest electric power companies in the United States, supplying and delivering energy to approximately 4 million U.S. customers. Duke Energy has approximately 35,000 megawatts of electric generation capacity in the Carolinas and Midwest, and natural gas distribution services in Ohio and Kentucky. In addition, Duke Energy owns and operates a portfolio of renewable energy assets and also does business in the telecommunications market through its wholly owned subsidiary, DukeNet.

DES is a Delaware corporation and a wholly owned indirect subsidiary of Duke Energy. VentureCo is a Delaware corporation and a wholly owned direct subsidiary of DES. HoldCo is a Delaware limited liability company and a wholly owned direct subsidiary of VentureCo. OpCo is a Delaware limited liability company and a wholly owned direct subsidiary of HoldCo. DES, VentureCo, HoldCo, and OpCo all have their principal business headquarters in Charlotte, North Carolina.

DukeNet is a Delaware limited liability company and a wholly owned direct subsidiary of DES with its principal business headquarters also in Charlotte, North Carolina. Since 1994, DukeNet has developed and managed fiber-optic and microwave systems for wireless, local and long-distance communications companies, Internet service providers, and other businesses and organizations. DukeNet's network currently includes approximately 4,300 route miles of fiber-optic cable, of which approximately twenty-six percent (26%) of those route miles are leased from affiliates.

DukeNet is authorized to provide competitive local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services in North Carolina pursuant to its certificates of public convenience and necessity ("CPCNs") issued in Docket Nos. P-426 Sub 2 and 3. In Virginia, DukeNet is certificated as a competitive local exchange carrier to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to its CPCNs, Certificate No. T-670, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered July 20, 2007, in Case No . PUC-2007-00020, and Certificate No. TT-230A, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered April 19, 2007, in Case No. PUC-2006-00157, respectively. DukeNet currently has approximately six customers in Virginia, all of whom can be categorized as wholesale customers.

Alinda I and Alinda II are limited partnerships organized under the laws of the State of Delaware for the purpose of making investments in communications service providers. Alinda I's ultimate parent is Alinda Infrastructure Fund II, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership. Alinda I's General Partner is Alinda Telecom I GP LLC, a Delaware limited liability company. Alinda II's ultimate parent is Alinda Infrastructure Parallel Fund II, L.P., a limited partnership organized under the laws of the Cayman Islands. Alinda II's General Partner is Alinda Telecom II GP LLC, a Delaware limited liability company. Alinda I and Alinda II are both managed by Alinda Capital Partners, LLC.

The Joint Applicants request Commission approval to consummate a transaction whereby control of DukeNet will be transferred from DukeNet's current ultimate parent, Duke Energy, to Duke Energy and Investor jointly (the "Proposed Transaction"). As part of its efforts to expand the telecommunications business conducted by DukeNet, DES, along with DukeNet and Investor, entered into a definitive Formation and Sale Agreement ("Agreement") on June 23, 2010, pursuant to which Investor agreed to invest in the DukeNet business through a joint venture transaction. To facilitate its ability to establish a joint venture for DukeNet's telecommunications business that can be treated as a partnership for federal tax purposes, Duke Energy intends to reorganize the DukeNet business prior to the consummation of the joint venture transaction. To effect the reorganization, the following steps have occurred or will occur: (1) DES formed VentureCo, as a wholly owned direct subsidiary of DES; (2) VentureCo formed HoldCo, as a wholly owned direct subsidiary of VentureCo; (3) HoldCo formed OpCo, as a wholly owned direct subsidiary of HoldCo; (4) DukeNet will merge with and into OpCo, with OpCo as the surviving entity; and, (5) OpCo will file an application with the Commission for CPCNs to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services in Virginia.[1] Upon completion of the merger of DukeNet with and into OpCo, OpCo will operate under the legal name of DukeNet Communications, LLC. The new entity, OpCo d/b/a DukeNet Communications, LLC, will be referred to hereafter as "New DukeNet."

Following the completion of the reorganization, VentureCo will sell fifty percent (50%) of the equity interests in HoldCo to Investor for a cash payment equal to the fair market value of such interests, approximately $137 million. After the consummation of the transaction, Duke Energy and Investor will each indirectly own fifty percent (50%) of the equity interests in New DukeNet, which will operate as a joint venture under the name DukeNet Communications, LLC.

The Joint Applicants state that the Proposed Transaction is contemplated as part of Duke Energy's efforts to expand the telecommunications business conducted by DukeNet. As a result, the Joint Applicants expect that New DukeNet will become a stronger competitor whose presence should create downward pressure on service rates, as well as provide Virginia customers with more choices for service providers. As previously stated, following the completion of the Proposed Transaction and the merger of DukeNet with and into OpCo, OpCo will adopt the DukeNet name and will provide service to DukeNet's Virginia customers pursuant to new local exchange and interexchange CPCNs applied for in Case No. PUC-2010-00042.

Upon completion of the Proposed Transaction, the only significant change that will occur will be that Duke Energy, through VentureCo, and Investor will jointly become the ultimate owners of New DukeNet. The Joint Applicants state that New DukeNet will continue to provide telecommunications services to customers in Virginia under the DukeNet name and under the same rates, terms and conditions of service as currently provided.

We note, however, that the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC") is reviewing the Proposed Transaction and has not completed its review. Concerns regarding national security, law enforcement, public safety, and other issues have been raised at the federal level relative to the participation in the Proposed Transaction of Alinda II's ultimate corporate parent, Alinda Infrastructure Parallel Fund II, L.P., a Cayman Islands limited partnership. Because of these concerns, we will condition our approval on FCC approval. Subject to FCC approval, we find that the Proposed Transaction will neither impair nor jeopardize the provision of adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the Joint Application and representations of the Joint Applicants and having been advised by its Staff, is of the opinion and finds that the Joint Applicants' Motion is no longer necessary and should, therefore, be denied.[2] The Commission is further of the opinion and finds that the Proposed Transaction should be approved upon the condition that the Joint Applicants obtain FCC approval for the Proposed Transaction.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Joint Applicants' Motion for Protective Order Withholding Confidential and Sensitive Information from Public Disclosure is hereby denied; however, we direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain the confidential information, to which the Motion pertains, under seal.

(2) Pursuant to §§ 56-88.1 and 56-90 of the Code, the Joint Applicants are hereby granted approval to consummate the Proposed Transaction to allow for the transfer of control of DukeNet Communications, LLC, to Duke Energy Corp, and, jointly, Alinda Telecom Investor I, L.P., and Alinda Telecom Investor II, L .P., as described herein, conditioned upon approval by the FCC.

(3) Upon completion of the Proposed Transaction, the Joint Applicants shall file a letter with the Clerk of the Commission, with a copy provided to the Division of Communications, requesting that the certificates of public convenience and necessity currently issued to DukeNet Communications, LLC, Certificate Nos. T-670 and TT-230A, be canceled.

(4) The Joint Applicants shall file a report of the action taken pursuant to the approval granted herein within thirty (30) days of the Proposed Transaction taking place, subject to administrative extension by the Commission's Director of Public Utility Accounting. Such report shall include the date the Proposed Transaction took place and date of approval by the FCC.

(5) There appearing nothing further to be done in this matter, it hereby is dismissed.

[1] OpCo's application for certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services in Virginia is currently pending with the Commission. See Application of DukeNet OpCo, LLC, For certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services, Case No. PUC-2010-00042.

[2] The Commission held the Joint Applicants' Motion in abeyance. We note that the Commission has received no request for leave to review the confidential information contained in the Confidential Exhibit filed by the Joint Applicants in this proceeding. Accordingly, we deny the Motion as moot but direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain such information, to which the Motion pertains, under seal.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00045
SEPTEMBER 27, 2010

JOINT PETITION OF
FIBERNET OF VIRGINIA, INC.,
NTELOS HOLDINGS CORP.,
NTELOS INC.,
NTELOS FIBERNET, INC.,
ONE COMMUNICATIONS CORP .,
CONVERSENT COMMUNICATIONS, INC.,
and
MOUNTAINEER TELECOMMUNICATIONS, LLC,

For approval of the indirect transfer of control of FiberNet of Virginia, Inc., to NTELOS Holdings Corp., pursuant to Va. Code §§ 5 6-8 8 et seq.

ORDER GRANTING APPROVAL

On July 29, 2010, FiberNet of Virginia, Inc. ("FiberNet"), NTELOS Holdings Corp. ("NTELOS Holdings"), NTELOS Inc. ("NTELOS"), NTELOS FiberNet, Inc. ("NFNI"), One Communications Corp. ("One Comm"), Conversent Communications, Inc. ("Conversent"), and Mountaineer Telecommunications, LLC ("Mountaineer"), (collectively, the "Joint Petitioners"), filed a Joint Petition with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), for approval of the indirect transfer of control of FiberNet to NTELOS Holdings.

The Joint Petitioners filed the Joint Petition with the Commission under seal, pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure ("Commission's Rules") regarding confidential information, in order to obtain confidential treatment of Confidential Exhibit C of the Joint Petition ("Confidential Exhibit"), which contains confidential financial statements of One Comm. Rule 5 VAC 5-20-170 states, in part: "When an application (including supporting documents and prefiled testimony) contains information that the applicant claims to be confidential, the filing shall be made under seal and accompanied by a motion for protective order or other confidential treatment." Therefore, on July 29, 2010, concurrently with the Joint Petition and pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-110 and 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules, the Joint Petitioners filed with the Commission a Motion for Protective Ruling ("Motion") seeking a ruling under Rule 5 VAC 5-20-170 providing for specific procedures to govern the production and use of confidential information in this proceeding.[1] On August 5, 2010, Staff filed a Memorandum of Completeness, which deemed the Joint Petition complete as of July 29, 2010.

NFNI is a wholly owned subsidiary of NTELOS, which, in turn, is a wholly owned subsidiary of NTELOS Holdings. NTELOS Holdings is a Delaware corporation. NFNI and NTELOS are both Virginia business corporations headquartered in Waynesboro, Virginia.

NTELOS is the direct or indirect parent company of several subsidiary companies, including Virginia incumbent local exchange carriers ("ILECs"), NTELOS Telephone Inc. ("NTELOS Telephone") and Roanoke & Botetourt Company ("R&B Telephone") (collectively, the "NTELOS ILECs"); and Virginia competitive local exchange carriers ("CLECs"), NTELOS Network Inc. ("NTELOS Network"), NA Communications Inc. ("NA Communications"), and R&B Network, Inc. ("R&B Network"), (collectively, the "NTELOS CLECs"). NTELOS Telephone is a certificated ILEC that provides local exchange telecommunications services within Allegheny and Augusta Counties, the City of Covington, the Town of Clifton Forge, and the City of Waynesboro. R&B Telephone is a certificated ILEC providing telecommunications services in Botetourt County, including the cities of Daleville, Troutville, and Fincastle. The NTELOS ILECs and NTELOS CLECs are each a "public utility" within the meaning of § 56-88 of the Code. As of December 31, 2009, the NTELOS ILECs served approximately 38,200 rural lines.

With the launch of CLEC services in 1998, NTELOS' wireline business has expanded from a traditional, rural ILEC into a regional provider of transport, Internet protocol ("IP"), video, voice and data services. NTELOS' subsidiaries are certificated as CLECs in Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Maryland. As of December 31, 2009, the NTELOS CLECs served approximately 49,700 CLEC lines, virtually all business lines, across 30 markets. The majority of NTELOS' wireline business is a 4,700 route-mile fiber optic network used to backhaul communications traffic for retail services; to serve as a carriers' carrier network; and to provide transport services to third parties for long-distance, Internet, wireless and private network services.

Mountaineer is a wholly owned subsidiary of Conversent, which, in turn, is a wholly owned subsidiary of One Comm. Mountaineer is the direct parent company of FiberNet; FiberNet, L.L.C.; FiberNet Telecommunications of Pennsylvania, LLC; and FiberNet of Ohio, LLC (collectively, the "FiberNet Companies"). Mountaineer has its principal business headquarters in Charleston, West Virginia, and functions as a holding company for the FiberNet Companies, which offer voice, data, and IP-based services in West Virginia and the surrounding areas in Ohio, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and Kentucky. At the end of 2009, the FiberNet Companies had approximately 100,000 lines including approximately 9,000 residential lines. While nearly all customers terminate to FiberNet Companies' facilities, 12% are served with direct fiber connections end-to-end.

In Virginia, FiberNet is certificated to provide both local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to its certificates of public convenience and necessity ("CPCNs"), Certificate Nos. T-525a and TT-121B, respectively, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered

[1] The Joint Petitioners included confidential information in the Confidential Exhibit of the Joint Petition, filed under separate cover, and anticipate that the disclosure of additional confidential information may be required over the course of this proceeding. The Joint Petitioners also included a proposed Protective Ruling with their Motion which, in part, recognizes that certain requested information or documents may require a higher level of protection from disclosure and provides that protection for such information and documents should be addressed on a case-by-case basis.

February 11, 2008, in Case No. PUC-2008-00011.[2] As of September 1, 2010, FiberNet provided local exchange, long-distance and data telecommunications services on both a facilities and resale basis to approximately 206 customers in Virginia, in and around Leesburg and Winchester. Approximately 0.4% of FiberNet's revenues are from Virginia customers.

The Joint Petitioners request Commission approval to consummate a transaction whereby NTELOS and, ultimately, NTELOS Holdings will acquire indirect control of FiberNet (the "Proposed Transaction"). Pursuant to a Purchase Agreement dated July 19, 2010, between Conversent, NTELOS, and One Comm, NTELOS will acquire indirect control of FiberNet from One Comm through NTELOS' purchase of all of the equity interests of FiberNet's immediate parent, Mountaineer, from Conversent and, ultimately, One Comm. Upon completion of the Proposed Transaction, NTELOS' interest in Mountaineer will be held by the newly formed, wholly owned direct subsidiary of NTELOS, NFNI. As a result, Mountaineer will ultimately become an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of NTELOS Holdings and, therefore, NTELOS Holdings will acquire indirect control of FiberNet. Following the completion of the Proposed Transaction, FiberNet will continue to provide telecommunications services under its current name[3] as a direct wholly owned subsidiary of Mountaineer and an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of NFNI, NTELOS and NTELOS Holdings.

The Joint Petitioners represent that the Proposed Transaction will create a combined company with double the scope and size of the existing companies, which will be able to compete more effectively in the highly competitive market for telecommunications services. The Joint Petitioners state that, under the new ownership of NTELOS, FiberNet will continue to provide quality telecommunications services to its customers in Virginia while gaining access to the additional resources and operational knowledge of NTELOS and, therefore, FiberNet will have the ability to become a stronger competitor to the ultimate benefit of consumers in Virginia. The Joint Petitioners further state that, upon completion of the Proposed Transaction, FiberNet's customers will continue to receive telecommunications services without interruption and without immediate change in the rates, terms and conditions of service as currently provided. Further, the proposed transfer of control of FiberNet will not result in a change of carrier for FiberNet's customers or any transfer of authorizations.[4]

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the Joint Petition and representations of the Joint Petitioners and having been advised by its Staff, is of the opinion and finds that the Joint Petitioners' Motion is no longer necessary and should, therefore, be denied. [5] The Commission is further of the opinion and finds that the above-described Proposed Transaction, resulting in the indirect transfer of control of FiberNet to NTELOS Holdings, will neither impair nor jeopardize the provision of adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates and should, therefore, be approved.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Joint Petitioners' Motion for Protective Ruling is hereby denied; however, we direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain the confidential information, to which the Motion pertains, under seal.

(2) Pursuant to §§ 56-88.1 and 56-90 of the Code, the Joint Petitioners are hereby granted approval to consummate the Proposed Transaction to allow for the indirect transfer of control of FiberNet of Virginia, Inc., to NTELOS Holdings Corp., as described herein.

(3) The Joint Petitioners shall file a report of the action taken pursuant to the approval granted herein within thirty (30) days of the Proposed Transaction taking place, subject to administrative extension by the Commission's Director of Public Utility Accounting. Such report shall include the date the Proposed Transaction took place.

(4) There appearing nothing further to be done in this matter, it hereby is dismissed.

[2] Certificate Nos. T-525 and TT-121A were issued by the Commission to Choice One Communications of Virginia, Inc. ("Choice One"), in Case No. PUC-2000-00184 on January 4, 2001, prior to Choice One's name change to FiberNet of Virginia, Inc., which occurred on January 4, 2008. On February 11, 2008, in Case No. PUC 2008-00011, the Commission canceled the CPCNs issued to Choice One and reissued them in the name of FiberNet of Virginia, Inc. See Application of Choice One Communications of Virginia, Inc., For cancellation of certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services and to reissue certificates reflecting new corporate name of FiberNet of Virginia, Inc., Case No. PUC-2008-00011, 2008 S.C.C. Ann. Rept. 284, Final Order (Feb. 11, 2008).

[3] The Joint Petitioners state that if NTELOS rebrands FiberNet subsequent to the closing of the Proposed Transaction, appropriate steps will be taken to effect that change; however, the Joint Petitioners state that currently there are no such plans to do so.

[4] The Joint Petitioners state that no affiliate arrangements requiring Commission authorization under Chapter 4 of Title 56 of the Code are currently contemplated. NTELOS and One Comm will enter into a transition services agreement so that FiberNet can continue to receive services from its current parent following closing of the Proposed Transaction. Furthermore, there is no plan currently for shared facilities, systems or services between FiberNet and NTELOS or any affiliate, although such arrangements may be identified in the future, and the Joint Petitioners state that Commission authorization will be sought as appropriate.

[5] The Commission held the Joint Petitioners' Motion in abeyance. We note that the Commission has received no request for leave to review the confidential information contained in the Joint Petition filed in this proceeding. Accordingly, we deny the Motion as moot but direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain such information, to which the Motion pertains, under seal.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00048
OCTOBER 1, 2010

APPLICATION OF
SKYTERRA INC. OF VIRGINIA

To amend its certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange telecommunications services to reflect a new corporate name

ORDER

On August 6, 2010, an application was filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") asking that the certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange telecommunications services in Virginia that had been issued to SkyTerra Inc. of Virginia ("SkyTerra") be amended and reissued to LightSquared Inc. of Virginia ("LightSquared") to reflect the company's corporate name change from SkyTerra to LightSquared ("Application").[1]

The current Certificate No. T-424d was issued by the Commission on January 13, 2009, in Case No. PUC-2008-00111 to reflect a corporate name change to SkyTerra.[2] Documents filed with this Application reflect that the Commission issued a certificate of amendment on July 26, 2010, recognizing the name change from SkyTerra to LightSquared. This Application requests, pursuant to 20 VAC 5-417-70 of the Commission's Rules for Certification and Regulation of Competitive Local Exchange Carriers, that Certificate No. T-424d be amended and reissued to LightSquared, to reflect the company's new corporate name.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the matter, is of the opinion and finds that the certificate of public convenience and necessity for local exchange telecommunications services should be updated to reflect the Company's new name.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) This case is docketed and assigned Case No. PUC-2010-00048.

(2) Certificate No. T-424d authorizing SkyTerra Inc. of Virginia to provide local exchange telecommunications services throughout the Commonwealth is hereby cancelled and shall be reissued as amended Certificate No. T-424e in the name of LightSquared Inc. of Virginia.

(3) There being nothing further to be done, this matter shall be dismissed from the Commission's docket of active cases and the papers filed herein placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

[1] The Application was filed by counsel on behalf of LightSquared Inc. of Virginia (formerly SkyTerra Inc. of Virginia).

[2] The previous name of the company was Mobile Satellite Ventures Inc. of Virginia.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00049
AUGUST 24, 2010

APPLICATION OF
COMTEL VIRGINIA LLC d/b/a EXCEL TELECOMMUNICATIONS, VARTEC TELECOM,
CLEAR CHOICE COMMUNICATIONS
and VARTEC SOLUTIONS

ORDER CANCELING CERTIFICATES

By Order dated April 10, 2006, in Case No. PUC-2005-00141, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") issued to Comtel Virginia LLC ("Comtel" or "Company"), Certificate No. T-653, a certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange telecommunications services in the Commonwealth of Virginia.

By letter filed with the Commission on August 9, 2010, Comtel advises that it is voluntarily withdrawing from providing telecommunications services to Virginia, and thereby requests that the certificate issued by the Commission be canceled. Comtel states that its agreement to sell substantially all of its assets to Matrix Telecom, Inc. ("Matrix"), was consummated on July 31, 2010, resulting in the transfer of existing customers to Matrix after customer notice had been provided in compliance with the rules of the Federal Communications Commission. This Commission approved the transfer of assets and customers on July 1, 2010, in Case No. PUC-2010-00020. The Final Order in Case No. PUC-2010-00020 directed the joint petitioners to file for the cancelation of Comtel's certificate of public convenience and necessity upon the completion of the proposed transaction with Matrix.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the matter, is of the opinion and finds that Certificate No. T-653 previously issued to Comtel should be canceled.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) This matter shall be docketed as Case No. PUC-2010-00049.

(2) Certificate No. T-653 authorizing Comtel to provide local exchange telecommunications services throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia, is hereby canceled.

(3) Any tariffs on file associated with this certificate are hereby canceled.

(4) There being nothing further to come before the Commission in this matter, this case shall be removed from the docket of active cases and the papers filed herein placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00053
OCTOBER 15, 2010

JOINT APPLICATION OF
KDL OF VIRGINIA, INC.,
KENTUCKY DATA LINK, INC.,
Q-COMM CORPORATION,
and
WINDSTREAM CORPORATION,

For approval of the indirect transfer of control of KDL of Virginia, Inc., pursuant to Va. Code §§ 56-88 et seq.

ORDER GRANTING APPROVAL

On August 18, 2010, KDL of Virginia, Inc. ("KDL-VA"), Kentucky Data Link, Inc. ("KDL"), Q-Comm Corporation ("Q-Comm"), and Windstream Corporation ("Windstream") (collectively, the "Joint Applicants"), filed a Joint Application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), for approval of the indirect transfer of control of KDL-VA from Q-Comm to Windstream.

The Joint Applicants filed the Joint Application with the Commission under seal, pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure ("Commission's Rules") regarding confidential information, in order to obtain confidential treatment of the confidential Agreement and Plan of Merger and the confidential financial statements of Q-Comm (collectively, the "Confidential Exhibits").[1] Rule 5 VAC 5-20-170 states, in part: "When an application (including supporting documents and prefiled testimony) contains information that the applicant claims to be confidential, the filing shall be made under seal and accompanied by a motion for protective order or other confidential treatment." Therefore, on August 19, 2010, concurrently with the Confidential Exhibits and pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-110 and 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules, the Joint Applicants filed with the Commission a Motion for Protective Order ("Motion") to obtain confidential treatment of the information contained in the Confidential Exhibits. Also on August 19, 2010, the Joint Applicants filed with the Commission Exhibit C to the Joint Application, which contains the non-confidential financial statements of Windstream.[2] On August 26, 2010, Staff filed a Memorandum of Completeness, which deemed the Joint Application complete as of August 18, 2010.

Windstream, a Delaware corporation with its principal business headquarters in Little Rock, Arkansas, is a publicly-traded (NASDAQ: WIN) S&P 500 diversified communications and entertainment company. Windstream's subsidiaries provide local and long-distance telephone services, broadband and high-speed data services and video services to customers primarily in rural areas in 23 states.[3] Windstream's subsidiaries also offer a wide range of IP-based voice and data services and advanced phone systems and equipment to businesses and government agencies. Windstream's operations currently have approximately 3.4 million access lines, 9,500 employees, and approximately $4 billion in annual revenues. As a publicly traded company, no one person or entity directly or indirectly owns ten percent (10%) or more of the equity of Windstream. Windstream functions as a holding company and does not provide telecommunications services or hold any telecommunications authorizations in any state.

KDL-VA is a Virginia corporation and wholly owned subsidiary of KDL, a Kentucky corporation, which, in turn, is a wholly owned direct subsidiary of Q-Comm, which is a privately held Nevada corporation. Q-Comm, KDL, and KDL-VA maintain an executive office in Overland Park, Kansas, and an operations office in Evansville, Indiana.

Q-Comm's operating subsidiaries, including KDL and KDL-VA, operate an extensive fiber-optic network that spans nearly 30,000 miles and reaches into 26 states. KDL and KDL-VA primarily provide long haul fiber and SONET transport and local access services to carrier customers. Q-Comm operating subsidiaries are authorized to provide local exchange and/or interexchange telecommunications services in 41 states, including Virginia, and in the District of Columbia. In Virginia, KDL-VA is certificated to provide both local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to its certificates of public convenience and necessity ("CPCNs"), Certificate Nos. T-615 and TT-194A, respectively, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered June 26, 2003, in Case No. PUC-2003-00028.

[1] The Confidential Exhibits were filed with the Commission under seal, pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules, under separate cover on August 19, 2010. The Joint Applicants state that the information contained in the Confidential Exhibits is extremely sensitive information that could be used by competitors to gain insight into the Joint Applicants' internal business operations, financial condition, and other information damaging to the Joint Applicants and, therefore, disclosure of such information would be extremely detrimental and could be used by the Joint Applicants' competitors to materially affect the Joint Applicants ability to compete effectively.

[2] The Joint Applicants filed Exhibit C to the Joint Application separately due to the size of the exhibit.

[3] These states are as follows: Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas. The existing subsidiary operations of Windstream in these states will not be affected by the instant Joint Application.

The Joint Applicants request Commission approval to consummate a transaction between Q-Comm and Windstream through which Windstream will acquire indirect control of KDL-VA from Q-Comm (the "Proposed Transaction"). Pursuant to an Agreement and Plan of Merger ("Agreement") dated August 17, 2010, among Windstream, Derby Merger Sub, Inc. ("MergerCo")[4] Q-Comm and the Stockholders' Representative, MergerCo will merge with and into Q-Comm, with Q-Comm continuing as the surviving corporation. Upon completion of the Proposed Transaction, Q-Comm will become a direct wholly owned subsidiary of Windstream and, therefore, Windstream will become the new ultimate parent company of KDL and KDL-VA. As a result, Windstream will acquire indirect control of KDL and, therefore, KDL-VA.

The Joint Applicants state that Windstream is technically and financially qualified to become the new ultimate owner of KDL-VA. As mentioned above, subsidiaries of Windstream currently provide local exchange telecommunications services in 23 states and are authorized to provide interexchange services in 48 states. Upon completion of the Proposed Transaction, the Joint Applicants state that KDL-VA will continue to have the managerial, technical and financial qualifications to provide telecommunications services to customers in Virginia because it will be supported by Windstream's managerial and financial resources. The Joint Applicants further state that Windstream will help ensure the continuation of KDL-VA's ability to deploy and maintain innovative and advanced telecommunications offerings, benefitting Virginia consumers and serving the public interest.

The only change that will occur as a result of the Proposed Transaction will be the transfer of ultimate control of KDL-VA from Q-Comm to Windstream, resulting in a change in ultimate ownership but not direct ownership. No other change will take place.[5] The Joint Applicants represent that immediately following the closing of the Proposed Transaction, KDL-VA will continue to offer the same telecommunications services under the same rates, terms and conditions of service as currently provided, pursuant to its existing CPCNs. The Joint Applicants further represent that the indirect transfer of control of KDL-VA as a result of the Proposed Transaction will not involve a transfer in operating authority, assets or customers of KDL-VA and, therefore, the Proposed Transaction is expected to be seamless to KDL-VA's customers in Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the Joint Application and representations of the Joint Applicants and having been advised by its Staff, is of the opinion and finds that the Joint Applicants' Motion is no longer necessary and should, therefore, be denied.[6] The Commission is further of the opinion and finds that the above-described Proposed Transaction, resulting in the indirect transfer of control of KDL-VA, will neither impair nor jeopardize the provision of adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates and should, therefore, be approved.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Joint Applicants' Motion for Protective Order is hereby denied ; however, we direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain the confidential information, to which the Motion pertains, under seal.

(2) Pursuant to §§ 56-88.1 and 56-90 of the Code, the Joint Applicants are hereby granted approval to consummate the Proposed Transaction to allow for the indirect transfer of control of KDL of Virginia, Inc., from Q-Comm Corporation to Windstream Corporation as described herein.

(3) The Joint Applicants shall file a report of the action taken pursuant to the approval granted herein within thirty (30) days of the Proposed Transaction taking place, subject to administrative extension by the Commission's Director of Public Utility Accounting. Such report shall include the date the Proposed Transaction took place.

(4) There appearing nothing further to be done in this matter, it hereby is dismissed.

[4] MergerCo is a wholly owned direct subsidiary of Windstream created solely for the purposes of the Proposed Transaction.

[5] The Joint Applicants note, however, that upon completion of the Proposed Transaction, KDL-VA may subsequently change its name to reflect "Windstream" in its name.

[6] The Commission held the Joint Applicants' Motion in abeyance. We note that the Commission has received no request for leave to review the confidential information contained in the Confidential Exhibits filed by the Joint Applicants in this proceeding. Accordingly, we deny the Motion as moot but direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain such information, to which the Motion pertains, under seal.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00059
OCTOBER 29, 2010

JOINT APPLICATION OF
CAVALIER TELEPHONE CORPORATION,
TALK AMERICA OF VIRGINIA, INC.,
CAVALIER TELEPHONE, LLC,
INTELLIFIBER NETWORKS, INC.,
and PAETEC HOLDING CORP.,

For approval of the indirect transfer of control of Talk America of Virginia, Inc., Cavalier Telephone, LLC, and Intellifiber Networks, Inc., to PAETEC Holding Corp., pursuant to Va. Code §§ 56-88 et seq.

ORDER GRANTING APPROVAL

On September 16, 2010, Cavalier Telephone Corporation ("Cavalier"), Talk America of Virginia, Inc. ("TA-VA"), Cavalier Telephone, LLC ("CavTel"), Intellifiber Networks, Inc. ("Intellifiber" and together with TA-VA and CavTel, the "Cavalier Entities"), and PAETEC Holding Corp. ("PAETEC"), (Cavalier, the Cavalier Entities and PAETEC, collectively, the "Joint Applicants"), filed a Joint Application and Request for Streamlined Review ("Joint Application") with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"),[1] for approval of the indirect transfer of control of the Cavalier Entities to PAETEC. The Joint Applicants also filed a Joint Application with the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC") under the FCC's Streamlined Review process, which was accepted as such on September 30, 2010.

On September 17, 2010, the Joint Applicants filed Exhibit C to the Joint Application with the Commission, which contains the non-confidential Agreement and Plan of Merger between PAETEC, Cairo Acquisition Corp., Cavalier, and M/C Venture Partners V, L.P., as the Stockholder Representative.[2]

Rule 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure ("Commission's Rules") regarding confidential information states, in part: "When an application (including supporting documents and prefiled testimony) contains information that the applicant claims to be confidential, the filing shall be made under seal and accompanied by a motion for protective order or other confidential treatment." Therefore, on September 28, 2010, the Joint Applicants filed with the Commission a Motion for Protective Order ("Motion"), pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-110 and 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules, to obtain confidential treatment of Confidential Exhibit 1 to the Motion ("Confidential Exhibit"), which contains the confidential and proprietary business and financial statements of Cavalier.[3] On September 24, 2010, Staff filed a Memorandum of Completeness, which deemed the Joint Application complete as of September 16, 2010, and on October 5, 2010, the Joint Application was accepted under the Commission's Streamlined Review process.[4]

TA-VA, a Virginia corporation; CavTel, a Virginia limited liability company; and Intellifiber, a Virginia corporation, are all wholly owned indirect subsidiaries of Cavalier, a Delaware corporation. Cavalier and the Cavalier Entities have their principal business headquarters in Richmond, Virginia. Through its various operating subsidiaries, including the Cavalier Entities, Cavalier uses its own network, including a high-capacity fiber network, to serve customers throughout the Midwest, Southeast, Mid-Atlantic, and Northeast. Cavalier's fiber network contains approximately 13,000 intercity route miles and approximately 4,000 metro route miles. Cavalier provides telecommunications services and solutions to business, consumer, and government customers.

In Virginia, TA-VA is certificated as a competitive local exchange carrier ("CLEC") to provide local exchange telecommunications services pursuant to its certificate of public convenience and necessity ("CPCN"), Certificate No. T-391a, issued pursuant to the Commission's Order entered June 26, 2001, in Case No. PUC-2001-00133.[5] TA-VA is also authorized to provide resold telecommunications services in Virginia. CavTel is certificated in Virginia as a CLEC to provide both local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to its CPCNs, Certificate Nos. T-431 and TT-61A, respectively, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered January 14, 1999, in Case No. PUC-1998-00159. Intellifiber is certificated in Virginia as a CLEC to provide both local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to its CPCNs, Certificate Nos. T-457d and TT-38D, issued pursuant to the Commission's Order entered September 25, 2009, in Case No. PUC-2009-00047.[6] Each of the Cavalier Entities is also authorized by the FCC to provide domestic and/or international telecommunications services.

PAETEC is a publicly-traded Delaware corporation with its principal business headquarters in Fairport, New York. PAETEC, through its regulated operating subsidiaries, including its subsidiaries that operate in Virginia, delivers communications solutions to business customers in 46 states and the District of Columbia.

PAETEC has three subsidiaries that operate in Virginia: PaeTec Communications of Virginia, Inc. ("PCI-VA"); US LEC of Virginia L.L.C. d/b/a PAETEC Business Services ("PAETEC-VA"); and McLeodUSA Telecommunications Services, LLC d/b/a PAETEC Business Services ("PAETEC Business"). In Virginia, PCI-VA is certificated as a CLEC to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to its CPCNs, Certificate No. T-441, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered April 19, 1999, in Case No. PUC-1998-00162, and Certificate No. TT-171A, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered April 17, 2002, in Case No. PUC-2001-00232, respectively. PAETEC-VA is certificated in Virginia as a CLEC to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to its CPCNs, Certificate No. T-385, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered September 8, 1997, in Case No. PUC-1997-00030, and Certificate No. TT-165A, issued pursuant to the

[1] Va. Code §§ 56-88 et seq.

[2] The Joint Applicants filed Exhibit C to the Joint Application separately due to the size of the exhibit.

[3] The Confidential Exhibit was filed with the Commission under seal, pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules, under separate cover on September 29, 2010. The Joint Applicants state that the information contained in the Confidential Exhibit is extremely sensitive information that could be used by competitors to gain insight into the Joint Applicants' internal business operations and other information damaging to the Joint Applicants and, therefore, disclosure of such information would be extremely detrimental and could be used by the Joint Applicants' competitors to materially affect the Joint Applicants ability to compete effectively.

[4] A copy of the FCC's September 30, 2010 Public Notice establishing streamlined processing was filed with the Commission on October 1, 2010.

[5] Certificate No. T-391 was issued by the Commission to Tel-Save Holdings of Virginia, Inc. ("Tel-Save"), in Case No. PUC-1997-00045 on October 9, 1997, prior to Tel-Save's name change to Talk America of Virginia, Inc. On June 26, 2001, in Case No. PUC-2001-00133, the Commission canceled the CPCN issued to Tel-Save and reissued it in the name of Talk America of Virginia, Inc. See Application of Talk America of Virginia, Inc. f/k/a Tel-Save Holdings of Virginia, Inc., For cancellation and reissuance of certificates of public convenience and necessity to reflect corporate name change, Case No. PUC-2001-00133, 2001 S.C.C. Ann. Rept. 335, Order (June 26, 2001).

[6] Certificate Nos. T457c and TT-38C were issued by the Commission to Elantic Telecom, Inc. ("Elantic"), in Case No. PUC-2004-00097 on August 18, 2004, prior to Elantic's name change to Intellifiber Networks, Inc., which occurred on August 28, 2009. On September 25, 2009, in Case No. PUC-2009-00047, the Commission canceled the CPCNs issued to Elantic and reissued then in the name of Intellifiber Networks, Inc. See Application of Elantic Telecom, Inc., For amended and reissued certificates of public convenience and necessity to reflect its new name, Case No. PUC-2009-00047, 2009 S.C.C. Ann. Rept. 255-256, Order (Sept. 25, 2009).

Commission's Final Order entered December 14, 2001, in Case No. PUC-2001-00181, respectively. PAETEC Business only operates in Virginia as a reseller of interexchange telecommunications services.[7]

The Joint Applicants request Commission approval to consummate a transaction between Cavalier and PAETEC through which PAETEC will acquire indirect control of the Cavalier Entities from Cavalier (the "Proposed Transaction"). Pursuant to an Agreement and Plan of Merger dated as of September 12, 2010, by and among PAETEC, Cairo Acquisition Corp. ("MergerCo"),[8] Cavalier, and M/C Venture Partners V, L.P., as the Stockholder Representative, MergerCo will merge with and into Cavalier, with Cavalier continuing as the surviving entity.[9] Upon completion of the Proposed Transaction, the Cavalier Entities will become wholly owned indirect subsidiaries of PAETEC and PAETEC Corp., and, therefore, PAETEC will become the new ultimate parent company of Cavalier and the Cavalier Entities.

Upon completion of the Proposed Transaction, the Joint Applicants state that the customers of the Cavalier Entities will continue to receive telecommunications services with no change in the rates or terms and conditions of service as currently provided. Further, the Cavalier Entities will continue to provide services to their customers under the same names[10] and will continue to be led by an experienced management team. The Joint Applicants state that, since the Proposed Transaction will be consummated at the parent company level, there will be no interruption or disruption of service to the Cavalier Entities' customers and, therefore, the Proposed Transaction will be seamless and virtually transparent to customers in Virginia.[11]

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the Joint Application, representations of the Joint Applicants, and having been advised by its Staff, is of the opinion and finds that the Joint Applicants' Motion is no longer necessary and should, therefore, be denied.[12] The Commission is further of the opinion and finds that the above-described Proposed Transaction, resulting in the indirect transfer of control of TA-VA, CavTel, and Intellifiber to PAETEC, will neither impair nor jeopardize the provision of adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates and should, therefore, be approved.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Joint Applicants' Motion for Protective Order is hereby denied ; however, we direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain the confidential information, to which the Motion pertains, under seal.

(2) Pursuant to §§ 56-88.1 and 56-90 of the Code, the Joint Applicants are hereby granted approval to consummate the Proposed Transaction to allow for the indirect transfer of control of Talk America of Virginia, Inc., Cavalier Telephone, LLC, and Intellifiber Networks, Inc., to PAETEC Holding Corp., as described herein.

(3) The Joint Applicants shall file a report of the action taken pursuant to the approval granted herein within thirty (30) days of the Proposed Transaction taking place, subject to administrative extension by the Commission's Director of Public Utility Accounting. Such report shall include the date the Proposed Transaction took place.

(4) There appearing nothing further to be done in this matter, it hereby is dismissed.

[7] PAETEC Business was certificated in Virginia as a CLEC under the name McLeodUSA Telecommunications Services of Virginia, Inc. ("McLeodUSA"), to provide both local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to its CPCNs, Certificate Nos. T-564 and TT-159A, respectively, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered July 25, 2001, in Case No. PUC-2001-00057. At the request of the company, McLeodUSA's CPCNs were canceled by the Commission on March 13, 2002, in Case No. PUC-2002-00029. See Application of McLeodUSA Telecommunications Services of Virginia, Inc., For cancellation of certificates of public convenience and necessity, Case No. PUC-2002-00029, 2002 S.C.C. Ann. Rept. 293, Order (March 13, 2002).

[8] MergerCo is a wholly owned indirect subsidiary of PAETEC created solely for the purposes of the Proposed Transaction.

[9] The Joint Applicants state that there will be no change in the current ownership of PAETEC and its subsidiaries as a result of the Proposed Transaction.

[10] The Joint Applicants note that, following consummation of the proposed indirect transfer of control of the Cavalier Entities, and after appropriate notices to customers and any required regulatory filings, the names of the Cavalier Entities may change to reflect the "PAETEC" brand.

[11] Comments to the Joint Application, expressing either displeasure with the employment practices or the business practices of one or more of the Joint Applicants, were filed by Mr. Cliff Hancuff and CoreTel Virginia, LLC, respectively. Responsive comments of the Joint Applicants assert, inter alia, that Commission approval of the Proposed Transaction does not preclude the commenters from asserting their respective rights in a proper forum, and that the Proposed Transaction will neither jeopardize nor impair the provision of adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates.

[12] The Commission held the Joint Applicants' Motion in abeyance. We note that the Commission has received no request for leave to review the confidential information contained in the Confidential Exhibit filed by the Joint Applicants in this proceeding. Accordingly, we deny the Motion as moot but direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain the confidential information, to which the Motion pertains, under seal.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00060
DECEMBER 21, 2010

APPLICATION OF
BIRCH COMMUNICATIONS OF VIRGINIA, INC.

For certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services

FINAL ORDER

On October 5, 2010, Birch Communications of Virginia, Inc. ("Birch" or "Applicant"), completed an application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") for certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia.

By Order for Notice and Comment dated October 29, 2010, the Commission directed Birch to provide notice to the public of its application and directed the Commission Staff ("Staff") to conduct an investigation and file a Staff Report. The Applicant filed proof of service and proof of publication on November 18, 2010, as required by the October 29, 2010 Order for Notice and Comment.

On December 8, 2010, the Staff filed its Report finding that Birch's application was in compliance with the Rules Governing the Certification and Regulation of Competitive Local Exchange Carriers, 20 VAC 5-417-10 et seq., and the Rules Governing the Certification of Interexchange Carriers, 20 VAC 5-411-10 et seq. Based upon its review of Birch's application, the Staff determined it would be appropriate to grant the Applicant certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services, subject to the following condition: Birch should notify the Division of Economics and Finance no less than thirty (30) days prior to the cancellation or lapse of its bond and should provide a replacement bond at that time. This requirement should be maintained until such time as the Commission determines it is no longer necessary.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the application and the Staff Report, finds that the Applicant should be granted certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services. Having considered § 56-481.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Commission further finds that the Applicant may price its interexchange telecommunications services competitively.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Birch Communications of Virginia, Inc., is hereby granted a certificate of public convenience and necessity, No. TT-257A, to provide interexchange telecommunications services, subject to the restrictions set forth in the Rules Governing the Certification of Interexchange Carriers, § 56-265.4:4 of the Code of Virginia, and the provisions of this Order.

(2) Birch Communications of Virginia, Inc., is hereby granted a certificate of public convenience and necessity, No. T-703, to provide local exchange telecommunications services subject to the restrictions set forth in the Rules Governing the Certification and Regulation of Competitive Local Exchange Carriers, § 56-265.4:4 of the Code of Virginia, and the provisions of this Order.

(3) Pursuant to § 56-481.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Applicant may price its interexchange telecommunications services competitively.

(4) The Applicant shall provide tariffs to the Division of Communications that conform to all applicable Commission rules and regulations.

(5) Birch Communications of Virginia, Inc., shall notify the Division of Economics and Finance no less than thirty (30) days prior to the cancellation or lapse of its bond and shall provide a replacement bond at that time. This requirement shall be maintained until such time as the Commission determines it is no longer necessary.

(6) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this case shall be dismissed and the papers filed herein placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00064
SEPTEMBER 30, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION
v.
VERIZON VIRGINIA INC. AND VERIZON SOUTH INC.
and
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In the Matter of Investigating the Service Quality of Verizon Virginia Inc. and Verizon South Inc.

RULE TO SHOW CAUSE AND ORDER ESTABLISHING INVESTIGATION

The State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), upon its own motion, hereby issues an initial rule to show cause and establishes an investigation of Verizon's[1] service quality and Verizon's compliance with the Commission's service quality rules.[2] The Commission continues to receive complaints from customers and government officials regarding the adequacy of Verizon's service.

[1] Verizon Virginia Inc. and Verizon South Inc. are referred to herein collectively as "Verizon."

[2] Rules Governing Local Exchange Telecommunications Carrier Retail Service Quality, 20 VAC 5-428-10 et seq. ("Rules" or "Chapter 428").

These complaints involve, among other things: (i) the length of time that Verizon informs customers, who are without service, that they must wait until telephone service can be restored; (ii) the process by which Verizon attempts to get a customer's alleged agreement to go without service for such extended periods; (iii) the length of time that customers remain without service while waiting for Verizon to make repairs; (iv) the frequency at which certain customers are without service; (v) the length of time customers must wait on the telephone when trying to contact Verizon; and (vi) the impact on customers with medical necessities. These complaints also raise the question of whether Verizon has, or is devoting, sufficient resources to maintain reasonably adequate service quality and to comply with standards in the Rules.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) This matter is docketed and assigned Case No. PUC-2010-00064.

(2) The show cause and investigation herein are initiated by the Commission under the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, Chapter 428, and Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Va. Code") (including, but not limited to, Va. Code §§ 56-35, 56-36, 56-234, 56-234.4, 56-235.5, 56-247, 56-249, and 56-479).

(3) As part of this proceeding, the Commission may take any action against Verizon as permitted by law, including but not limited to: (a) substituting and directing Verizon to comply with, "other regulations, measurements, practices, service or acts" (Va. Code § 56-247); (b) directing Verizon to comply with specific service standards that differ from the Rules; and (c) issuing applicable fines and/or penalties.

(4) For the initial show cause portion of this proceeding:

(a) Verizon shall show cause as follows:

(i) Why Verizon should not be temporarily enjoined from reducing its work force so as not to jeopardize the provision of reasonably adequate service to its customers; and

(ii) Why Verizon should not be required to meet the service restoration standards in 20 VAC 5-428-90 B 2 for all customers, regardless of whether the customer ostensibly agrees (by explicit acceptance or request pursuant to 20 VAC 5-428-90 B 2) to remain out of service for an extended period of time, until such time as the Commission approves, either in this initial show cause or subsequently in this proceeding, the criteria that Verizon will apply to determine such explicit acceptance or request by a customer, and the method that Verizon will employ to record such explicit acceptance or request.

(b) Within ten (10) calendar days from the date of this order, Verizon shall file a pleading in response to this initial show cause.

(c) Commencing on November 2, 2010, at 10:00 a.m., a hearing shall be convened in the Commission's Courtroom, Second Floor, Tyler Building, 1300 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia, at which time the Commission will receive testimony and hear oral argument, from Verizon and the Staff, on this initial show cause.

(5) Upon the Commission's own motion, the investigation herein shall also encompass, but is not limited to, the enforcement and sanction provisions of 20 VAC 5-428-110 A and B.

(6) Within ten (10) calendar days from the date of this order, Verizon shall file the written response, as provided for in 20 VAC 5-428-110 B, regarding whether the Commission should issue an order (pursuant to that Rule) to notify Verizon of its obligation and need to satisfy the provisions of Chapter 428.

(7) Verizon shall file reports, which the Staff shall audit, as follows:

(a) Within ten (10) calendar days from the date of this order, Verizon shall file a written report, pursuant to 20 VAC 5-428-30 and 20 VAC 5-428-90 A, identifying its compliance, or noncompliance, during 2010 with the standards in 20 VAC 5-428-90 B 1 through B 3. For purposes of 20 VAC 5-428-90 B 2, Verizon also shall separately state, on a monthly basis, the number and percentage of customers for which service was restored (i) within 48 hours, and (ii) within 96 hours, and the number and percentage of customers allegedly explicitly accepting service restoration dates (iii) beyond 48 hours, and (iv) beyond 96 hours.

(b) Within ten (10) calendar days from the end of each subsequent calendar month, Verizon shall file a written report, with the information required in (7)(a), for the prior calendar month.

(c) Verizon shall also provide written reports, as required in (7)(a) and (b), separately for copper- and "FiOS"-based customers. Verizon shall retain all raw data that forms the basis for all reports required herein. Verizon shall also retain all internal communications, including e-mails or other electronic communications, relating to the Rules and to service restoration and system maintenance issues. Verizon shall maintain all raw data and detailed records in a form that is readily available for Staff audit.

(d) Within ten (10) calendar days from the date of this order, Verizon shall file a report that shows (i) the number of equivalent full-time employees whose primary responsibility is restoration of service in Virginia, and (ii) the number of equivalent full-time employees whose primary responsibility is system maintenance in Virginia. Verizon shall provide this information on a calendar-year annual basis for 2005 through 2009, and on a monthly basis for 2010. Verizon shall also provide this information – on an estimated calendar-year annual basis – for 2010 and 2011. Verizon shall also provide written reports, as required in this paragraph, separately for its copper- and "FiOS"-based customers.

(8) The Staff shall investigate Verizon's compliance with the standards in the Rules, as well as any other matter the Staff determines may have an impact on Verizon's ability to provide reasonably adequate service. The Staff shall also investigate the effects of previous reductions of Verizon's work force on its service quality, as well as the potential effects of any reductions in work force that Verizon may implement in the future.

(9) The Staff shall file a report on its investigation, containing the Staff's findings and recommendations.

(10) Pursuant to Va. Code § 12.1-31 and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, 5 VAC 5-20-120, Procedure before hearing examiners, the Commission assigns a Hearing Examiner to rule on discovery matters that may arise in this proceeding.

(11) Verizon shall respond to written interrogatories and requests for production of documents from the Staff within seven (7) calendar days after receipt of same. Except as so modified, discovery shall be in accordance with Part IV of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure or as further modified by the Hearing Examiner for purposes of this proceeding.

(12) This matter is continued.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00065
NOVEMBER 30, 2010

JOINT APPLICATION OF BUSINESS TELECOM OF VIRGINIA, INC., ITC^DELTACOM, INC.,
and
EARTHLINK, INC.,

For approval of the indirect transfer of control of Business Telecom of Virginia, Inc., pursuant to Va. Code §§ 56-88 et seq.

ORDER GRANTING APPROVAL

On October 5, 2010, ITCA^DeltaCom, Inc . ("ITCD"), and EarthLink, Inc. ("EarthLink"), (collectively, the "Applicants"), filed an Application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"),[1] for approval of the indirect transfer of control of Business Telecom of Virginia, Inc. ("BTVI"), from ITCD to EarthLink.

On October 22, 2010, the Applicants filed a Supplement to the Application and Request for Streamlined Review ("Supplement") with the Commission, in which they added BTVI as an Applicant in this proceeding and requested streamlined processing of the Application. Accordingly, BTVI, ITCD, and EarthLink are referred to herein collectively as the "Joint Applicants," and the Application and Supplement are referred to herein collectively as the "Joint Application." The Joint Applicants also filed a Joint Application with the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC") under the FCC's Streamlined Review process, which was accepted as such on October 18, 2010. On October 29, 2010, Staff filed a Memorandum of Completeness, which deemed the Joint Application complete as of October 22, 2010, and accepted the Joint Application under the Commission's Streamlined Review process as of October 28, 2010.

On November 15, 2010, the Joint Applicants filed their response to a Staff Data Request ("Response") with the Commission under seal, pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure ("Commission's Rules") regarding confidential information. Concurrently with the Response and pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-110 and 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules, the Joint Applicants filed a Motion for Confidential Treatment ("Motion") in order to obtain confidential treatment of the information contained in the Joint Applicants' response to Data Request No. 1, attached to the Response as Confidential Exhibit A ("Confidential Exhibit").[2]

ITCD is a publicly-traded Delaware holding company with its principal business headquarters in Huntsville, Alabama. Through its operating subsidiaries, ITCD provides voice and data telecommunications services on a retail basis to primarily business customers in the southern United States and regional communications transmission services over its network on a wholesale basis to other communications companies.

BTVI is a Virginia corporation and a direct wholly owned subsidiary of BTI, which is an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of ITCD. BTI is a North Carolina corporation that provides integrated telecommunications services primarily in the southeastern United States. BTI is authorized to provide facilities-based and/or resold interexchange telecommunications services in forty-nine states and the District of Columbia and is authorized to provide competitive local exchange services in over twenty states. In Virginia, BTVI is certificated as a competitive local exchange carrier ("CLEC") to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to its certificates of public convenience and necessity ("CPCNs"), Certificate No. T-389, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered October 9, 1997, in Case No. PUC-1997-00111, and Certificate No. TT-168A, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered February 4, 2002, in Case No. PUC-2001-00204, respectively. BTVI currently serves fewer than 1,000 customers in Virginia.

EarthLink, a publicly-traded Delaware corporation, is primarily an Internet service provider, providing nationwide Internet access and related value-added services to individual and small business customers. Its service offerings include narrowband and broadband (high-speed) Internet access; web hosting; advertising and related services; and VoIP services. EarthLink provides its portfolio of services to approximately 1.9 million customers through a nationwide network of dial-up points of presence and a nationwide broadband footprint. EarthLink also provides competitive local exchange and interexchange services in 46 states through its wholly owned subsidiaries, New Edge Networks, Inc. ("New Edge"), and New Edge Networks of Virginia, Inc. ("New Edge-VA").[3] In Virginia, New Edge-VA is certificated as a CLEC to provide both local exchange and interexchange telecommunications

[1] Va. Code §§ 56-88 et seq.

[2] The Joint Applicants state that the information contained in the Confidential Exhibit is highly confidential and competitively sensitive information, and that release of such information would likely cause substantial harm to the Joint Applicants' operations if it were to be publicized because such release would allow competitors an unfair and artificial competitive advantage.

[3] New Edge-VA is an affiliate of New Edge, and both companies are direct wholly owned subsidiaries of New Edge Holding Company, which, in turn, is a direct wholly owned subsidiary of EarthLink.

services pursuant to its CPCNs, Certificate Nos. T-682 and TT-245A, respectively, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered January 26, 2009, in Case No. PUC-2008-00062.

The Joint Applicants have requested Commission approval to consummate a transaction between EarthLink and ITCD, through which EarthLink will acquire indirect control of BTVI through its acquisition of ultimate control of BTVI's ultimate parent company, ITCD (the "Proposed Transaction"). Pursuant to an Agreement and Plan of Merger ("Agreement") dated October 1, 2010, between EarthLink, Egypt Merger Corp. ("MergerCo"),[4] and ITCD, MergerCo will merge with and into ITCD, with ITCD continuing as the surviving corporation. Upon completion of the Proposed Transaction, ITCD will become a direct wholly owned subsidiary of EarthLink and, therefore, EarthLink will become the new ultimate parent company of ITCD's subsidiaries, BTI and BTVI. As a result, BTVI will become an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of EarthLink.

Upon completion of the Proposed Transaction, the Joint Applicants state that BTVI's customers will continue to receive telecommunications services with no change in the rates or terms and conditions of service as currently provided. Further, BTVI will continue to provide services to its Virginia customers under the same name and pursuant to its existing authorizations. The Joint Applicants state that, although EarthLink's acquisition of ITCD will result in a change in the ultimate ownership and control of BTVI, no transfer of certificates, assets or customers will occur as a result of the Proposed Transaction and, therefore, the Proposed Transaction will be virtually transparent to BTVI's Virginia customers in terms of the services they currently receive.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the Joint Application, representations of the Joint Applicants, and having been advised by its Staff, is of the opinion and finds that the Joint Applicants' Motion, which requested confidential treatment of the Confidential Exhibit, should be granted. The Commission is also of the opinion and finds that the above-described Proposed Transaction, resulting in the indirect transfer of control of BTVI, will neither impair nor jeopardize the provision of adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates and should, therefore, be approved.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Joint Applicants' Motion for Confidential Treatment is hereby granted, and we direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain the confidential information, to which the Motion pertains, under seal. Because no one has requested access to such confidential information, the Commission has not issued a protective order.

(2) Pursuant to §§ 56-88.1 and 56-90 of the Code, the Joint Applicants are hereby granted approval to consummate the Proposed Transaction to allow for the indirect transfer of control of Business Telecom of Virginia, Inc., from ITC^DeltaCom, Inc., to EarthLink, Inc., as described herein.

(3) The Joint Applicants shall file a report of the action taken pursuant to the approval granted herein within thirty (30) days of the Proposed Transaction taking place, subject to administrative extension by the Commission's Director of Public Utility Accounting. Such report shall include the date the Proposed Transaction took place.

(4) There appearing nothing further to be done in this matter, it hereby is dismissed.

[4] MergerCo is a wholly owned direct subsidiary of EarthLink created for the purposes of the Proposed Transaction.

NOVEMBER 30, 2010

JOINT PETITION OF BIRCH COMMUNICATIONS OF VIRGINIA, INC. d/b/a BIRCH COMMUNICATIONS,
and
CLOSECALL AMERICA, INC. OF VIRGINIA,
AMERICAN FIBER NETWORK OF VIRGINIA, INC.

For approval to transfer the customers and assets of CloseCall America, Inc. of Virginia, and American Fiber Network of Virginia, Inc., to Birch Communications of Virginia, Inc. d/b/a Birch Communications, pursuant to Va. Code §§ 56-88 et seq.

ORDER GRANTING APPROVAL

On October 22, 2010, Birch Communications of Virginia, Inc. d/b/a Birch Communications ("Birch"), CloseCall America, Inc. of Virginia ("CCA"), and American Fiber Network of Virginia, Inc. ("AFN"), (collectively, the "Joint Petitioners"), filed a Joint Petition and Request for Streamlined Review ("Joint Petition") with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"),[1] for approval to transfer the customers and assets of CCA and AFN to Birch. The Joint Petitioners also filed a Joint Application with the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC") under the FCC's Streamlined Review process, which was accepted as such on October 19, 2010.

The Joint Petitioners filed the Joint Petition with the Commission under seal, pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure ("Commission's Rules") regarding confidential information, in order to obtain confidential treatment of Exhibit B-I of the Joint Petition, which contains the confidential Sale Agreement, and Exhibit B-2 of the Joint Petition, which contains the confidential financial statements of Birch's current parent company, Birch Communications, Inc. ("BCI"), (Exhibit B-1 and Exhibit B-2 of the Joint Petition collectively, the "Confidential Exhibits").[2] Rule 5 VAC 5-20-170 states, in part: "When an application (including supporting documents and prefiled testimony) contains information that the applicant claims to be confidential, the filing shall be made under seal and accompanied by a motion for protective order or other confidential treatment." Therefore, on October 22, 2010, concurrently with the Joint Petition and pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-110 and 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules, the Joint Petitioners filed with the Commission a Motion for Protective Order ("Motion") to obtain confidential treatment of the information contained in the Confidential Exhibits. On October 27, 2010, the Commission Staff ("Staff") filed a Memorandum of Completeness, which deemed the Joint Petition complete as of October 22, 2010, and accepted it under the Commission's Streamlined Review process as of October 26, 2010.

CCA is a Virginia corporation with its principal business headquarters in Stevensville, Maryland. CCA is a direct wholly owned subsidiary of CloseCall America, Inc., which, in turn, is a direct wholly owned subsidiary of MobilePro Corporation ("MobilePro"). In Virginia, CCA is certificated as a competitive local exchange carrier ("CLEC") to provide both local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to its certificates of public convenience and necessity ("CPCNs"), Certificate Nos. T-665 and TT-231A, respectively, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered May 2, 2007, in Case No. PUC-2006-00087. CCA currently has eleven customers in Virginia receiving both local and long-distance telecommunications services and 244 customers receiving long-distance services only.

AFN is a Virginia corporation with its principal business headquarters in Overland Park, Kansas. AFN is a direct wholly owned subsidiary of American Fiber Network, Inc., which, in turn, is a direct wholly owned subsidiary of MobilePro. In Virginia, AFN is certificated as a CLEC to provide local exchange telecommunications services pursuant to its CPCN, Certificate No. T-493, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered June 23, 2000, in Case No. PUC-1999-00221. AFN currently has 135 residential customers and two business customers in Virginia receiving local exchange and resold interexchange telecommunications services.

Birch is a Virginia corporation with its headquarters in Atlanta, Georgia, and its principal place of business in Kansas City, Missouri. Birch is a direct wholly owned subsidiary of BCI, a Georgia corporation, which, in turn, is a wholly owned subsidiary of Birch Communications Holdings, Inc. BCI and its subsidiaries provide telecommunications services to both business and residential customers in thirty-four states. In Virginia, Birch currently has an application pending before the Commission for CPCNs to provide both competitive local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services in Virginia.[3]

Birch, CCA, and AFN (CCA and AFN collectively, "Sellers") request Commission approval to transfer substantially all of Sellers' telecommunications assets (excluding their respective CPCNs) and Virginia customers to Birch (the "Proposed Transaction"). Pursuant to a Sale Agreement ("Agreement") Pursuant to Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code dated as of September 3, 2010, Birch's parent company, BCI, agreed to purchase the assets and customer base of Sellers. The assets to be purchased include customer accounts, accounts receivable, customer agreements and contracts, vendor agreements and contracts, and intellectual property associated with the customers currently receiving telecommunications services from CCA and AFN. Upon completion of the Proposed Transaction, all of Sellers' Virginia customers will become customers of Birch, and Sellers will no longer offer telecommunications services in Virginia.[4]

The Joint Petition states that, following approval of the Proposed Transaction, Birch will adopt Sellers' tariffs or file any necessary revisions to its tariffs and published service offerings to incorporate the Sellers' current services and rates so that the affected customers in Virginia will continue to receive the same services that they currently receive without any immediate changes to the service offerings, rates, terms or conditions.

However, the Joint Petitioners later clarified that, due to billing system limitations, Birch will not be able to provide measured local service plans to existing AFN or CCA customers. Instead, Birch will provide unlimited local service on all Virginia lines. This change will impact approximately five (5) Virginia customers that currently have measured usage service from AFN or CCA.

Birch will also be changing the names of its bundled service products following the completion of the Proposed Transaction. The name on the invoice of the bundled local service products provided to Virginia customers will change to BirchNet Value Line, BirchNet Basic Plus, or Birch Breeze. The Joint Petitioners state that Birch's tariffs to be filed in conjunction with its application for CPCNs in Case No. PUC-2010-00060 will include a chart that will cross-reference the new Birch bundle name with the previously used AFN/CCA bundle name. The bundled product name change will impact approximately thirty-eight (38) customers currently receiving bundled local service from AFN or CCA. Birch will also be offering additional products, BirchNet Essentials and BirchNet Basic Line, to customers going forward.

The Joint Petitioners represent that, although the Proposed Transaction will affect all of Sellers' current Virginia customers, no customer will experience any material changes to the rates, terms, or conditions of the services they are currently provided by Sellers and, therefore, the Proposed Transaction will be virtually transparent to CCA and AFN customers.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the Joint Petition, representations of the Joint Petitioners, and having been advised by its Staff, is of the opinion and finds that the Joint Petitioners' Motion is no longer necessary and should, therefore, be denied.[5] The Commission is further of the [2] The Joint Petitioners state that the information contained in the Confidential Exhibits is extremely sensitive and private financial data and other proprietary information that could be used by competitors of CCA, AFN, Birch, and BCI (collectively, the "Companies"), to cause competitive harm. The Joint Petitioners further state that, because the Companies are operating in a highly competitive market, public disclosure of the information contained in the Confidential Exhibits would adversely disadvantage the Companies and, therefore, release of such information to the public could cause undue economic damage and substantially harm the Companies' ability to compete in the telecommunications marketplace.

[3] See Application of Birch Communications of Virginia, Inc., For a certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services, Case No. PUC-2010-00060.

[4] The Joint Petitioners state that, once Sellers determine that they no longer need their respective authorizations for operational or billing purposes, CCA and AFN will notify the Commission of their intent to surrender their respective CPCNs and cancel their tariffs in Virginia in a separate filing.

[5] The Commission held the Joint Petitioners' Motion in abeyance. We note that the Commission has received no request for leave to review the confidential information contained in the Confidential Exhibits filed by the Joint Petitioners in this proceeding. Accordingly, we deny the Motion as moot but direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain the confidential information, to which the Motion pertains, under seal.

opinion and finds that the above-described Proposed Transaction, resulting in the transfer of the customers and assets of CCA and AFN to Birch, will neither impair nor jeopardize the provision of adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates and should, therefore, be approved. However, such approval is subject to Birch obtaining the CPCNs in Case No. PUC-2010-00060.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Joint Petitioners' Motion for Protective Order is hereby denied ; however, we direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain the confidential information, to which the Motion pertains, under seal.

(2) Pursuant to §§ 56-88.1 and 56-90 of the Code, the Joint Petitioners are hereby granted approval to transfer the customers and assets of CloseCall America, Inc. of Virginia, and American Fiber Network of Virginia, Inc., to Birch Communications of Virginia, Inc. d/b/a Birch Communications, as described herein, subject to Birch Communications of Virginia, Inc., obtaining its certificates of public convenience and necessity in Case No. PUC-2010-00060.

(3) The Joint Petitioners shall file a report of the action taken pursuant to the approval granted herein within thirty (30) days of the Proposed Transaction taking place, subject to administrative extension by the Commission's Director of Public Utility Accounting. Such report shall include the date the Proposed Transaction took place.

(4) Upon completion of the Proposed Transaction and the issuance by the Commission of the certificates of public convenience and necessity requested by Birch Communications of Virginia, Inc., in Case No. PUC-2010-00060, the Joint Petitioners shall file a letter with the Clerk of the Commission, with a copy provided to the Division of Communications, requesting that the current certificates of public convenience and necessity issued to CloseCall America, Inc. of Virginia, Certificate Nos. T-665 and TT-231A, and American Fiber Network of Virginia, Inc., Certificate No. T-493, be canceled.

(5) There appearing nothing further to be done in this matter, it hereby is dismissed.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00070
DECEMBER 28, 2010

JOINT APPLICATION OF
CYPRESS COMMUNICATIONS HOLDING COMPANY OF VIRGINIA, LLC, TECHINVEST HOLDING COMPANY, INC.,
and
THE BROADVOX HOLDING COMPANY, LLC,
BROADVOX, INC.,
ANDRE TEMNOROD

For approval of the transfer of control of Cypress Communications Holding Company of Virginia, LLC, from TechInvest Holding Company, Inc., to The Broadvox Holding Company, LLC, pursuant to Va. Code §§ 56-88 et seq.

ORDER GRANTING APPROVAL

On October 29, 2010, Cypress Communications Holding Company of Virginia, LLC ("Cypress VA"), TechInvest Holding Company, Inc. ("THC"), and The Broadvox Holding Company, LLC ("Broadvox"), (collectively, the "Applicants"), filed an application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Chapter 5 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"),[1] for approval of the transfer of control of Cypress VA from THC to Broadvox.

The Applicants filed the application with the Commission under seal, pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure ("Commission's Rules") regarding confidential information, in order to obtain confidential treatment of Confidential Attachments 1, 2 and 3 to Exhibit E of the application (collectively, the "Confidential Attachments"), which contain the Agreement and Plan of Merger, the audited consolidated financial statements of Broadvox, Inc., and the audited consolidated financial statements of Cypress Communications Holding Co., Inc., respectively.[2] Rule 5 VAC 5-20-170 states, in part: "When an application (including supporting documents and prefiled testimony) contains information that the applicant claims to be confidential, the filing shall be made under seal and accompanied by a motion for protective order or other confidential treatment." Therefore, on November 1, 2010, concurrently with the Confidential Attachments and pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-110 and 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules, the Applicants filed with the Commission a Motion for Protective Order ("Motion") to obtain confidential treatment of the information contained in the Confidential Attachments.

[1] Va. Code §§ 56-88 et seq.

[2] The Confidential Attachments were filed with the Commission under seal, pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules, under separate cover on November 1, 2010. The Applicants state that the information contained in the Confidential Attachments is extremely sensitive and could be used by competitors to gain insight into the Applicants' internal business operations and other information damaging to the Applicants and, therefore, disclosure of such information would be extremely detrimental and could be used by the Applicants' competitors to materially affect the Applicants' ability to compete effectively.

On November 10, 2010, the Applicants filed a Supplement to Case No. PUC-2010-00070 ("Supplement") with the Commission, in which they added Broadvox, Inc. ("Broadvox Parent"), and Andre Temnorod ("Mr. Temnorod") as Applicants in this proceeding.[3] Accordingly, Cypress VA, THC, Broadvox, Broadvox Parent, and Mr. Temnorod are referred to herein collectively as the "Joint Applicants," and the application and Supplement are referred to herein collectively as the "Joint Application." On November 18, 2010, Staff filed a Memorandum of Completeness, which deemed the Joint Application complete as of November 10, 2010.

Cypress VA is a limited liability company organized under the laws of the Commonwealth of Virginia with its principal business headquarters in Atlanta, Georgia. Cypress VA and its sister company, Cypress Communications Operating Company, LLC ("Cypress"), (collectively, the "Cypress Companies"), provide voice and data telecommunications services and information services to approximately 5,000 small- and medium-sized business customers. The Cypress Companies offer their customers integrated service bundles that may include local, long-distance, and international telecommunications services; toll-free telecommunications services; high-speed Internet access; voicemail services; e-mail services; unified messaging; firewall services; web hosting; virtual private networks; and audio and web conferencing. Cypress holds domestic and international authority from the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC"), as well as certificates to provide local and intrastate toll services in thirty-one states. In Virginia, Cypress VA is certificated as a competitive local exchange carrier ("CLEC") to provide both local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to its certificates of public convenience and necessity ("CPCNs"), Certificate Nos. T-590a and TT-181B, respectively, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered July 6, 2005, in Case No. PUC-2005-00070.[4] Cypress VA currently has 327 voice grade access lines in Virginia.

Cypress VA is a direct wholly owned subsidiary of Cypress Communications, Inc., a Delaware corporation, which, in turn, is a wholly owned subsidiary of Cypress Communications Holding Company ("Cypress Holding"), a Delaware corporation and a holding company. Cypress Holding is a direct wholly owned subsidiary of THC, which is also a Delaware corporation. Thus, Cypress VA is an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of THC. THC is ultimately controlled by Arcapita Bank B.S.C.(c) ("Arcapita"), a joint stock company that is organized under the laws of the Kingdom of Bahrain and that holds, indirectly, a majority of Cypress VA's membership interests. Arcapita is a private equity firm whose U.S. operations are based in Atlanta, Georgia. Arcapita's role in relation to the Cypress Companies has been to provide financial support as well as management and strategic advice, while the day-to-day operations of Cypress VA are handled by Cypress.

Broadvox is a Delaware limited liability company with its principal business headquarters in Cleveland, Ohio. Broadvox is a holding company that operates through its subsidiaries, including BroadvoxGO! LLC ("BroadvoxGO"); Broadvox, LLC ("Broadvox Wholesale"); Brivia Acquisition, LLC ("Brivia"); and Origination Technologies, LLC ("Origination"). Another Broadvox subsidiary, Broadvox-CLEC, LLC ("Broadvox-CLEC"), holds licenses and certificates authorizing it to provide telecommunications services, but does not currently provide services to any customers. Broadvox-CLEC, BroadvoxGO, Broadvox Wholesale, and Origination are Delaware limited liability companies. Brivia is an Ohio limited liability company.

Through its subsidiaries, Broadvox provides unregulated IP-based information services to approximately 300 wholesale carriers and over 3,500 small- and medium-sized businesses and enterprise retail customers. However, no Broadvox entity (including any Broadvox affiliate) currently provides either domestic or international telecommunications services. Broadvox-CLEC holds international Section 214 authority from the FCC and holds or has applied for certificates to provide local and intrastate toll services in forty-three states. In Virginia, Broadvox-CLEC is certificated as a CLEC to provide both local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services pursuant to its CPCNs, Certificate Nos. T-689 and TT-248A, respectively, issued pursuant to the Commission's Final Order entered September 8, 2009, in Case No. PUC-2009-00025.

Broadvox is a direct wholly owned subsidiary of Broadvox Parent, an Ohio company and a holding company. Three (3) individuals, all U.S. citizens, hold a ten percent (10%) or greater interest in Broadvox Parent: Mr. Temnorod, the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Broadvox Parent, holds a 43.66% ownership interest in Broadvox Parent; Eugene Blumin, the Chief Operating Officer of Broadvox Parent, holds a 21.83% ownership interest in Broadvox Parent; and Alex Bederman, whose principal business is investment, also holds a 21.83% ownership interest in Broadvox Parent. No other entity or individual holds a 10% or greater ownership interest in Broadvox Parent.

The Joint Applicants request Commission approval to consummate a merger transaction resulting in the transfer of control of Cypress VA from its existing ultimate parent, THC, to Broadvox and, ultimately, Broadvox Parent and Mr. Temnorod (the "Proposed Transaction"). Pursuant to an Agreement and Plan of Merger ("Agreement") dated October 12, 2010, by and among Broadvox Parent, Broadvox, CCI Acquisition Corp. ("CCI Acquisition"),[5] and THC, CCI Acquisition will merge with and into THC, with THC continuing as the surviving corporation. Upon completion of the Proposed Transaction, THC will become a direct wholly owned subsidiary of Broadvox and, therefore, Cypress VA will become an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of Broadvox.

Immediately before closing the Proposed Transaction, Arcapita will reorganize the corporate structure of Cypress VA. The Joint Applicants state that this pro forma reorganization is for tax purposes and is intended to facilitate the Proposed Transaction. Following the completion of the Proposed Transaction, Arcapita will have no ongoing equity interests in either Cypress VA or Broadvox, and no form of control or management oversight.

The Joint Applicants state that, upon completion of the Proposed Transaction, the financial, technical, and managerial resources that Broadvox will bring to Cypress VA will enhance Cypress VA's ability to compete in the telecommunications and information services marketplace. The Joint Applicants further state that Broadvox and its current subsidiaries are established providers of IP-based services to wholesale and business customers, and [3] Broadvox Parent and Mr. Temnorod were added as Applicants in this proceeding because Mr. Temnorod owns 43.66% of Broadvox Parent, which owns 100% of Broadvox and, therefore, Mr. Temnorod and Broadvox Parent are considered to be acquiring ultimate control of Cypress VA as a result of the proposed transaction.

[4] Certificate Nos. T-590 and TT-181A were issued by the Commission to Cypress Communications Holding Company of Virginia, Inc. ("Cypress-Inc"), in Case No. PUC-2002-00104 on September 3, 2002, prior to Cypress-Inc's name change to Cypress Communications Holding Company of Virginia, LLC, which occurred on March 8, 2005, as the result of a corporate conversion. On July 6, 2005, in Case No. PUC-2005-00070, the Commission canceled the CPCNs issued to Cypress-Inc and reissued them in the name of Cypress Communications Holding Company of Virginia, LLC. See Application of Cypress Communications Holding Company of Virginia, Inc., To reissue certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services to reflect new corporate name, Case No. PUC-2005-00070, 2005 S.C.C. Ann. Rept. 274-75, Final Order (July 6, 2005).

[5] CCI Acquisition is a newly formed, wholly owned subsidiary of Broadvox created for the purposes of effectuating the Proposed Transaction.

that Broadvox's history of providing quality services to its customers demonstrates that it is technically and financially qualified to own and operate Cypress VA as proposed in the Agreement.

The only change that will occur as a result of the Proposed Transaction will be the transfer of ultimate control of Cypress VA from THC to Broadvox and, ultimately, Broadvox Parent and Mr. Temnorod, resulting in a change in ultimate ownership but not direct ownership. No other change will take place. The Joint Applicants represent that, immediately following the closing of the Proposed Transaction, Cypress VA will continue to offer the same telecommunications services under the same rates, terms and conditions of service as currently provided, pursuant to its existing CPCNs. The Joint Applicants further represent that the transfer of control of Cypress VA as a result of the Proposed Transaction will not involve a transfer in operating authority, assets or customers of Cypress VA and, therefore, the Proposed Transaction is expected to be seamless to Cypress VA's customers in Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the Joint Application, representations of the Joint Applicants, and having been advised by its Staff, is of the opinion and finds that the Joint Applicants' Motion is no longer necessary and should, therefore, be denied.[6] The Commission is also of the opinion and finds that the above-described Proposed Transaction, resulting in the transfer of control of Cypress VA from THC to Broadvox, will neither impair nor jeopardize the provision of adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates and should, therefore, be approved.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Joint Applicants' Motion for Protective Order is hereby denied; however, we direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain the confidential information, to which the Motion pertains, under seal.

(2) Pursuant to §§ 56-88.1 and 56-90 of the Code, the Joint Applicants are hereby granted approval to consummate the Proposed Transaction to allow for the transfer of control of Cypress Communications Holding Company of Virginia, LLC, from TechInvest Holding Company, Inc., to The Broadvox Holding Company, LLC, as described herein.

(3) The Joint Applicants shall file a report of the action taken pursuant to the approval granted herein within thirty (30) days of the Proposed Transaction taking place, subject to administrative extension by the Commission's Division of Public Utility Accounting. Such report shall include the date the Proposed Transaction took place.

(4) There appearing nothing further to be done in this matter, it hereby is dismissed.

[6] The Commission held the Joint Applicants' Motion in abeyance. We note that the Commission has received no request for leave to review the confidential information contained in the Confidential Attachments filed by the Joint Applicants in this proceeding. Accordingly, we deny the Motion as moot but direct the Clerk of the Commission to retain the confidential information, to which the Motion pertains, under seal.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00073
DECEMBER 16, 2010

APPLICATION OF
CHOICE ONE COMMUNICATIONS RESALE L.L.C.

For cancellation of a certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange telecommunications services

ORDER CANCELING CERTIFICATE

By Order dated September 28, 2009,[1] the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") issued certificate of public convenience and necessity No. T-691 permitting the provision of local exchange telecommunications services to Choice One Communications Resale L.L.C. ("Choice One" or "Company").

By letter dated November 17, 2010, the Company requested cancellation of its certificate, advising that Choice One has no customers in Virginia and has no plans for future operations in Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, being sufficiently advised, will cancel Certificate No. T-619, previously issued to Choice One.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED that:

(1) This matter shall be docketed as Case No. PUC-2010-00073.

(2) Certificate No. T-691, issued to Choice One Communications Resale L.L.C., is hereby cancelled.

(3) This matter is dismissed.

CASE NO. PUC-2010-00076
DECEMBER 16, 2010

APPLICATION OF VARIOUS TERMINATED CARRIERS

For cancellation of certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange and/or interexchange telecommunications services

ORDER CANCELING CERTIFICATES

By previous Orders issued at various times in numerous cases, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") granted the following certificates of public convenience and necessity (Certificates"), permitting the provision of local exchange and/or interexchange telecommunications services, to the telecommunications carriers listed below:

VF Communications, Inc.	(Certificate Nos. T-381a and TT-36B);
Statdirect, Inc.	(Certificate No. T-427); and
TalkingNets Holdings, LLC	(Certificate Nos. T-524 and TT-120A).[1]

The foregoing telecommunications carriers have been notified by the Commission of the termination of their corporate existences for failure to pay annual registration or other fees. As a result, these companies are no longer authorized to transact business in the Commonwealth of Virginia. Therefore, the Commission finds that the above-named Certificates should be cancelled.

NOW THE COMMISSION, being sufficiently advised, will cancel the telecommunications carriers' Certificates listed above.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) This matter shall be docketed as Case No. PUC-2010-00076.

(2) Certificate Nos. T-381a, -427, -524, and Nos. TT-36B and -120A issued to the telecommunications carriers named above are hereby cancelled.

(3) This matter is dismissed.

[1] Certificates bearing a "T" designation permit the provision of local exchange telecommunications services, while certificates bearing a "TT" designation permit the provision of interexchange telecommunications services.

DECEMBER 16, 2010

APPLICATION OF
CLM TELCOM LLC

For cancellation of certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services

ORDER CANCELING CERTIFICATES

By previous Orders issued at various times in other dockets, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") issued Certificates of Public Convenience and Necessity ("Certificate") No. T-604 permitting the provision of local exchange telecommunications services and No. TT-188A permitting the provision of interexchange telecommunications services to CLM Telcom LLC ("CLM" or "Company").

The foregoing telecommunications carrier has been notified by the Commission of the termination of its corporate existence for its failure to pay annual registration or other fees. As a result, the Company is no longer authorized to transact business in the Commonwealth of Virginia. Therefore, the Commission finds that the above-named Certificates should be canceled.

NOW THE COMMISSION, being sufficiently advised, will cancel Certificate Nos. T-604 and TT-188A, previously issued to CLM.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED that:

(1) This matter shall be docketed as Case No. PUC-2010-00077.

(2) Certificate Nos. T-604 and TT-188A, issued to CLM Telcom LLC, are hereby cancelled.

(3) This matter is hereby dismissed from the Commission's docket of active cases.

DIVISION OF ENERGY REGULATION

CASE NO. PUE-1991-00016
JUNE 29, 2010

APPLICATION OF
THE POTOMAC EDISON COMPANY d/b/a ALLEGHENY POWER

To revise its cogeneration tariff

DISMISSAL ORDER

On February 4, 1991, The Potomac Edison Company d/b/a Allegheny Power ("Potomac Edison" or "Company") submitted an application to the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to support the Company's proposal to increase the rates to be paid for power purchased from cogeneration and small power production facilities.

On March 29, 1991, the Commission issued an Order Establishing 1991/1992 Cogeneration Rate in which it found that the rate increase sought by Potomac Edison was just and reasonable and, therefore, the Commission approved the Company's request, continuing the case generally.

On September 15, 2009, Rappahannock Electric Cooperative, Shenandoah Valley Electric Cooperative (collectively, the "Cooperatives"), and Potomac Edison (with the Cooperatives, collectively, the "Joint Petitioners") filed a Joint Petition with the Commission requesting, among other things, approval of a transaction that would result in the sale to the Cooperatives of Potomac Edison's electric distribution facilities used in connection with the retail sale and distribution of electric power in its Virginia service territory (the "Transaction").[1]

On May 14, 2010, the Commission granted the Joint Petition, subject to certain requirements to which the Joint Petitioners agreed.

On June 1, 2010, the Joint Petitioners completed the Transaction, and the Cooperatives began to provide retail electric service to the customers of Potomac Edison. As a result of the Transaction, Potomac Edison no longer provides retail electric service to customers in Virginia and, therefore, will no longer purchase power from cogeneration or small power production facilities.

On June 15, 2010, the Company filed with the Commission a Motion to Dismiss this proceeding and stated that counsel for Staff does not oppose the Motion.

NOW THE COMMISSION, being sufficiently advised, is of the opinion and finds that Potomac Edison's Motion to Dismiss should be granted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Company's Motion to Dismiss is hereby granted.

(2) This case is hereby dismissed from the Commission's docket of active cases, and the papers filed herein shall be placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

Commissioner Jagdmann did not participate in this decision.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
At the relation of the
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In the matter concerning certain fuel factor cases of Appalachian Power Company

ORDER CLOSING FUEL FACTOR CASES

By this Order, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") will close certain fuel factor cases related to Appalachian Power Company ("APCo" or "Company") that remain open on the Commission's docket. We are advised by the Commission Staff ("Staff") that all necessary audits and reviews of these cases have been completed and that these cases can now be closed. Specifically, the Staff has reported to the Commission that the Staff has found no material discrepancies in fuel expense per books and fuel expense per the Company's Fuel Monitoring System ("FMS") reports.

In summary, having been advised by the Staff that all necessary audits and reviews concerning these cases have been completed, the Commission will order them closed on its own motion. The Commission is further advised by the Staff that the Company has no objection to the entry of a Commission order closing these cases.

Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT:

(1) Pending fuel factor cases PUE-1991-00036, PUE-1994-00064, PUE-1996-00365, PUE-1999-00716, PUE-2002-00378, PUE-2003-00286, PUE-2004-00128 and PUE-2005-00090 are hereby closed.

(2) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, these matters are dismissed from the Commission's docket of active cases, and the records developed therein shall be placed in the file for ended cases.

CASE NO. PUE-1993-00061
JUNE 30, 2010

APPLICATION OF
THE POTOMAC EDISON COMPANY d/b/a ALLEGHENY POWER

For approval of a pilot conservation load management project

DISMISSAL ORDER

On September 2, 1993, The Potomac Edison Company d/b/a Allegheny Power ("Potomac Edison" or "Company") submitted an application to the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") requesting approval for a pilot conservation load management program in which the Company would install energy efficient lighting at Shenandoah University and Lord Fairfax Community College ("Schools") and reimburse the Schools for the cost of retrofitting.

On January 26, 1994, the Commission issued an Order Granting Approval in which it found that Potomac Edison's application was in the public interest and should be approved with certain additional reporting requirements, continuing the case generally.

On September 15, 2009, Rappahannock Electric Cooperative, Shenandoah Valley Electric Cooperative (collectively, the "Cooperatives"), and Potomac Edison (with the Cooperatives, collectively, the "Joint Petitioners") filed a Joint Petition with the Commission requesting, among other things, approval of a transaction that would result in the sale to the Cooperatives of Potomac Edison's electric distribution facilities used in connection with the retail sale and distribution of electric power in its Virginia service territory (the "Transaction").[1]

On May 14, 2010, the Commission granted the Joint Petition, subject to certain requirements to which the Joint Petitioners agreed.

On June 1, 2010, the Joint Petitioners completed the Transaction, and the Cooperatives began to provide retail electric service to the customers of Potomac Edison. As a result of the Transaction, Potomac Edison no longer provides retail electric service to customers in Virginia and, therefore, will no longer provide conservation load management programs, including the program approved in this case.

On June 15, 2010, the Company filed with the Commission a Motion to Dismiss this proceeding and stated that counsel for Staff does not oppose the Motion.

NOW THE COMMISSION, being sufficiently advised, is of the opinion and finds that Potomac Edison's Motion to Dismiss should be granted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Company's Motion to Dismiss is hereby granted.

(2) This case is hereby dismissed from the Commission's docket of active cases, and the papers filed herein shall be placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

Ex Parte: The Potomac Edison Company d/b/a Allegheny Power – Regional Transmission Entities

DISMISSAL ORDER

On October 16, 2000, The Potomac Edison Company d/b/a Allegheny Power ("Potomac Edison" or "Company") filed an application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") requesting that the Commission accept the October 5, 2000 Memorandum of Agreement between itself and PJM Interconnection, L.L.C. ("PJM"), as a statement of the Company's commitment to join or establish a regional transmission entity.

On October 8, 2004, the Commission issued an Order approving the application to transfer functional and operational control of its transmission facilities to PJM, continuing the case generally.

On September 15, 2009, Rappahannock Electric Cooperative, Shenandoah Valley Electric Cooperative (collectively, the "Cooperatives"), and Potomac Edison (with the Cooperatives, collectively, the "Joint Petitioners") filed a Joint Petition with the Commission requesting, among other things, approval of a transaction that would result in the sale to the Cooperatives of Potomac Edison's electric distribution facilities used in connection with the retail sale and distribution of electric power in its Virginia service territory (the "Transaction").[1]

CASE NO. PUE-2005-00115
MARCH 16, 2010

APPLICATION OF
CAROLINE WATER COMPANY, INC. D/B/A LADYSMITH WATER COMPANY

For changes in rates, rules and regulations

ORDER

On February 26, 2010, the Staff of the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") filed a Motion for Rule to Show Cause ("Motion") asking that the Commission require Caroline Water Company, Inc. d/b/a Ladysmith Water Company ("Caroline Water" or the "Company") to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed to operate the Company due to the Company's alleged gross mismanagement of its business and in order to prevent imminent hazard to the health of its customers. According to the Motion, the Company has been receiving water from Caroline County (the "County") since the failure of the Company's water treatment facility. On February 22, 2010, the County provided notice to the Company that payment was required by the close of business on March 1, 2010, or service could be disconnected on March 2, 2010.[1]

By Order issued February 26, 2010, the Commission directed Caroline Water to appear at a hearing on March 1, 2010, to respond to the allegations contained in the Motion and to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed to operate the Company. At the hearing on March 1, 2010, the County asserted that Caroline Water owed the County the total amount of $123,110.53, including a past due balance of $107,994.99. The Company disputed this total, arguing that amounts included in the total from service provided in 2007 and a late payment penalty imposed in February 2010 are each inappropriate. However, the Company did not dispute that it owed the County over $90,000 for water used.[2]

Despite maintaining that Caroline Water owed the County the total amount of $123,110.53, the County indicated at the hearing that it would be willing to accept an immediate payment of $75,000, with the remainder to be paid within sixty days.[3] The County also agreed to continue providing water service to the Company for 48 hours, and the Company agreed to cease making all expenditures for 48 hours, pending a further ruling of the Commission.[4]

On March 2, 2010, the Commission issued an Order requiring Caroline Water to pay the County $75,000 and provide proof of such payment by March 3, 2010. Caroline Water made the required payment and provided timely proof of such payment to the Commission. However, for the reasons set forth in the Commission's March 2, 2010 Order, the Commission concludes that further action is necessary to prevent future hazard to the health of the Company's customers.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of this matter and the evidence produced at the March 1, 2010 hearing,[5] finds that the Company should be required to pay Caroline County $19,949.80 within thirty (30) days of the date of this Order, in addition to making timely payment for ongoing deliveries of water by the County. The Commission will also schedule another hearing to consider, and take evidence regarding, whether a receiver should be appointed to operate the Company pursuant to Va. Code § 56-265.13:6.1. Finally, we find it appropriate to require the Company to submit monthly financial reports to the Commission's Division of Public Utility Accounting pending further order of the Commission.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Caroline Water Company d/b/a Ladysmith Water shall cause to be paid, via payment methods suitable to the payee, $19,949.80 to the Caroline County Department of Public Utilities. Such payment shall be made within thirty (30) days of the date of this Order.

(2) Caroline Water shall provide proof of such payment or payments to the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation no later than 4:00 p.m. on April 15, 2010.

(3) Caroline Water shall make timely payment to the County of all future bills for water delivery in addition to the payment directed herein.

(4) On or before April 20, 2010, the Staff shall file a Petition detailing its reasons for seeking a receivership.

(5) On or before April 27, 2010, Caroline Water shall file a response to the Petition filed in accordance with Ordering Paragraph (4).

(6) A public hearing shall be convened on May 4, 2010, at 10:00 a.m., in the Commission's Courtroom, Second Floor, Tyler building, 1300 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia, to receive further evidence in this matter.

(7) Caroline Water shall submit verified monthly financial reports to the Commission's Division of Public Utility Accounting. Such reports shall show customer billings, customer payments received, expenses incurred, checks written or other payments made, and a listing of all company bank balances. The first monthly report, for the month ending March 31, 2010, is due within thirty (30) days from the date of this Order, and shall include, in addition to the information set forth above, a complete listing of the Company's Accounts Payable. All subsequent reports shall be due by the 15th of each month. The submission of such reports shall continue until further order of the Commission.

(8) This case is continued.

CASE NO. PUE-2006-00088
MARCH 18, 2010

PETITION OF
SYDNOR UTILITIES, INC.

For authority to transfer utility assets from Realty Ventures Group, Inc., and Balducci Developers, L.L.C., to Sydnor Utilities, Inc., and for certificate of public convenience and necessity

ORDER GRANTING APPROVAL OF TRANSFER

On August 7, 2006, Sydnor Utilities, Inc. ("Sydnor" or "Petitioner"), filed an incomplete petition with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") for approval of the transfer of the Scot's Landing water system from Hanovertown L.L.C. to Sydnor. On July 28, 2008, the Petitioners filed the necessary documents to complete the petition. The Commission granted approval of the transfer in its Order Granting Approval of Transfer dated March 12, 2009 ("March 12 Order"). In the course of reviewing the petition, Staff found that Sydnor had acquired additional water systems prior to filing for, and receiving, Commission approval. In the March 12 Order, the Commission ordered Sydnor to file, within thirty (30) days of the date of the March 12

Order, an application for approval of the transfer of the Tilman's Farm and Cedar Crest water systems. On April 3, 2009, Sydnor filed a letter requesting an extension of time to an uncertain date to file the required application. On April 30, 2009, Sydnor filed a second letter, which clarified its request for an extension of time through August 31, 2009. The Commission granted the extension of time in its Order Granting Extension dated May 29, 2009.

On September 8, 2009, Sydnor filed its application for approval of the transfer of the Tilman's Farm and Cedar Crest water systems. The application requests approval of the transfer of the Tilman's Farm and Cedar Crest water systems from Realty Ventures Group, Inc. ("RVG"), and Balducci Developers, L.L.C. ("Balducci"), respectively, to Sydnor pursuant to Chapter 5 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code").[1]

Sydnor, with its principal business office in Richmond, Virginia, provides water and wastewater services to customers in Virginia through the ownership of small water systems, which include Scot's Landing, Tilman's Farm, and Cedar Crest. Sydnor is owned by Charles S. Verdery ("Verdery"), who also owns Sydnor Hydro, Inc. ("Hydro"). Sydnor and Hydro are affiliates as defined by § 56-76 of the Code through their common ownership by Verdery. Hydro, also headquartered in Richmond, Virginia, engineered and constructed the Tilman's Farm water system for RVG and the Cedar Crest water system for Balducci. RVG is a development company that developed the Tilman's Farm water system and subdivision, and Balducci is a development company that developed the Cedar Crest water system and subdivision.

The Tilman's Farm water system is a central water distribution system containing 150 residential connections in Powhatan County, Virginia. It was constructed to provide water service to the single-family homes in the Tilman's Farm Subdivision, which includes fire protection. The Tilman's Farm water system includes two wells; a pump house; a 150,000 gallon storage tank; a 5,000 gallon hydro pneumatic tank; four 10-horsepower booster pumps; an emergency generator; a chlorine feed system; a pH adjustment system; an iron and manganese removal system; approximately 23,645 feet of waterlines; and related appurtenances. It is currently serving 38 customers. Beginning operations in 2005, the original cost of the Tilman's Farm water system, as represented by Sydnor, is $1,318,685.

The Cedar Crest water system is a central water distribution system containing 135 residential connections in King William County, Virginia. It was constructed to provide water service to the single-family homes in the Cedar Crest Subdivision, which includes fire protection. The Cedar Crest water system includes two wells; a pump house; an atmospheric storage tank; a 5,000 gallon hydro pneumatic tank; two 7.5-horsepower booster pumps; a chlorination system; approximately 12,200 feet of waterlines; and related appurtenances. It is currently serving 52 customers. Beginning operations in 2005, the original cost of the Cedar Crest water system, as represented by Sydnor, is $644,265.

The transfer of both water systems has already taken place, and Sydnor is currently operating them. The Tilman's Farm water system was conveyed to Sydnor in August of 2006, and the Cedar Crest water system was conveyed to Sydnor in December of 2005. Sydnor did not pay any consideration for either water system. In addition to seeking approval of the transfer of the water systems, Sydnor requests a certificate of public convenience and necessity ("CPCN") to provide water service in the Tilman's Farm and Cedar Crest Subdivisions.

The assets involved in the proposed transfer include all items used in the delivery of water to the Tilman's Farm and Cedar Crest Subdivision customers, including land and land rights; structures; wells; water mains and all other distribution lines; power generation equipment; pumping equipment; meters; hydrants; and all related appurtenances.

For both RVG and Balducci, the purpose of the proposed transfer is to dispose of the water systems to an entity with more experience in the field of water distribution. RVG and Balducci are development companies, and their businesses are not focused on the operations of a water distribution system. For Sydnor, the purpose of the transfer is to acquire additional water systems at no cost to add to its existing water systems. Sydnor has acquired, or is in the process of acquiring, other water systems in the area of the Tilman's Farm and Cedar Crest water systems.

The Petitioner represents that the proposed transfer will not have an impact on rates charged to existing customers. The Petitioner further represents that Sydnor's ownership of the Tilman's Farm and Cedar Crest water systems will result in higher service quality for customers as well as ensuring the provision of adequate service for many years to come.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the petition and representations of the Petitioner and having been advised by its Staff, is of the opinion and finds that the proposed transfer will neither impair nor jeopardize the provision of adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates and, therefore, should be approved. The granting of the requested CPCN, however, will be addressed in a subsequent order.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Pursuant to §§ 56-89 and 56-90 of the Code, the Petitioner is hereby granted approval of the transfer of the Tilman's Farm and Cedar Crest water systems assets, as described herein.

(2) Sydnor shall adopt the Uniform System of Accounts for recording all of its business transactions including the depreciation of assets and amortization of acquisition adjustments.

(3) The Utility Transfers Act authority granted in this case shall have no ratemaking implications. In particular, this authority will not guarantee recovery of any costs directly or indirectly related to Sydnor's acquisition of the above-described utility assets.

(4) Sydnor is hereby ordered to provide water and wastewater utility services such that:

a) The quality of service to its customers shall not deteriorate due to a lack of maintenance or capital investment;

b) The quality of service to its customers shall not deteriorate due to a reduction in the number of employees providing services; and

[1] Sydnor's August 7, 2006 petition also requested that the Commission issue a certificate of public convenience and necessity ("CPCN"); however, the CPCN portion of the petition is still incomplete.

c) Sydnor shall fully cooperate with the Commission Staff and shall take all actions necessary to ensure a timely response to Staff inquiries with regard to the continuing operation of its water systems.

(5) This matter shall be continued pending further order of the Commission.

CASE NO. PUE-2006-00091
DECEMBER 13, 2010

APPLICATION OF
VIRGINIA ELECTRIC AND POWER COMPANY D/B/A DOMINION VIRGINIA POWER

For a certificate of public convenience and necessity for facilities in Stafford County: Garrisonville 230 kV Transmission Line and 230 kV-34.5 kV Garrisonville Switching Substation

ORDER EXTENDING PROJECT COMPLETION DATE

On October 27, 2010, Virginia Electric and Power Company d/b/a Dominion Virginia Power ("Dominion Virginia Power" or "Company") filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") its Motion for Extension of Construction and In-Service Date ("Motion") for this transmission project in Stafford County. The Company seeks extension of the date for completing construction and placing the facilities in service from January 1, 2011, to July 1, 2012. No responses to the Motion were filed.

As the Company notes in its Motion, the Commission's approval of the project included the requirement that the underground Garrisonville 230 kV transmission line, the Garrisonville Switching Substation, and the Aquia Harbor Transition Station be in service by January 1, 2011.[1] Dominion Virginia Power states that it has made significant progress on the project. However, conditions have required horizontal directional drilling and blasting for some segments of the underground transmission line. Use of these construction techniques has delayed completion of the project.[2] While some construction has been completed and some facilities are in service, completion of the entire project requires additional time. The Company requests extension of the completion date to July 1, 2012.[3]

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the Motion, is of the opinion and finds that the Motion should be granted and that the completion and in-service date should be extended.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Case No. PUE-2006-00091 be placed in active status in the records maintained by the Clerk of the Commission and restored to the Commission's docket.

(2) The Company's Motion be granted.

(3) Ordering Paragraph (5) of the Final Order of April 8, 2008, be modified to provide that the transmission line and substation must be constructed and in-service by July 1, 2012.

(4) All other provisions of the Final Order of April 8, 2008, shall remain in full force and effect.

(5) Case No. PUE-2006-00091 be dismissed from the Commission's docket and placed in closed status in the records maintained by the Clerk of the Commission.

Commissioner Dimitri did not participate in this matter.

CASE NO. PUE-2007-00018
NOVEMBER 12, 2010

APPLICATION OF
CPV WARREN, LLC

For approval of a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to Va. Code § 56-580 D

ORDER DISMISSING CASE

By Order dated June 20, 2007, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") granted a certificate of public convenience and necessity ("Certificate") to CPV Warren, LLC ("CPV"), permitting CPV's construction of a natural gas-fired, combined-cycle electric generating facility in Warren County, Virginia. Ordering Paragraph (5) of the Order conditioned the grant of authority by requiring that if construction of the facility had not commenced within three (3) years of the date of the Order, the Certificate would expire.

Subsequent to the issuance of the Order, the Commission learned that Dominion Virginia Power ("Dominion") acquired from CPV the latter's rights in the site and the associated air permits previously issued to CPV by the Virginia Department of Environmental Quality. Pursuant to Virginia law, however, the Certificate cannot be transferred and to date Dominion has not applied for the issuance of a construction certificate in its name. Consequently, there has been no construction as required by Ordering Paragraph (5) of our Order.

NOW THE COMMISSION, being sufficiently advised, finds that CPV has not complied with the condition established by our Order of June 20, 2007.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Certificate previously issued herein is cancelled.

(2) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, the case is DISMISSED, and the papers filed herein shall be placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUE-2007-00095
APRIL 6, 2010

APPLICATION OF
VIRGINIA NATURAL GAS INC.

For authority to issue long-term debt securities

DISMISSAL ORDER

On October 16, 2007, Virginia Natural Gas, Inc. ("VNG," the "Applicant" or the "Company"), filed an application under Chapter 3 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia requesting authority from the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to issue and sell long-term debt securities ("Application"). VNG requested to issue and sell up to $80,000,000 of long-term debt securities ("Debt Securities") through the period ending December 31, 2009, to be used to finance construction of the Hampton Roads Crossing Pipeline ("HRX Pipeline").[1] The Application advised that the due and punctual payment of principal and interest on the Debt Securities would be guaranteed by AGL Resources Inc., the parent company of VNG. The Applicant also requested authority to enter into anticipatory hedging transactions such as treasury lock agreements and similar pre-issuance hedging activities related to the Debt Securities. VNG represented that any hedging transaction would be limited to counterparties that have an investment grade credit rating.

On December 7, 2007, the Commission entered its Order Granting Authority ("Order") herein. In the Order, the Commission granted VNG authority to issue up to $80,000,000 of Debt Securities through the period ending December 31, 2009, under the terms and conditions and for the purposes set forth in the Application, except with regard to capitalized interest, which was to be addressed in a separate rate related proceeding. The Order required the Applicant to file various reports after the issuance of any Debt Securities, concluding with a final report of action to be filed with the Commission on or before March 1, 2010. The Commission directed the Company to include in its final report the date of issuance, type of security, amount issued, interest rate, date of maturity, net proceeds received, and a description of the type, notional amount, substantive terms of relating hedging transactions, as well as a summary of the Debt Securities related hedging transactions entered into pursuant to Ordering Paragraph (1) of the Order during the fourth calendar quarter of 2009.

On March 9, 2010, VNG, by counsel, filed a letter in the captioned docket advising that the company "did not take any action under the authority provided; i.e., it did not issue any Debt Securities or enter into any hedging activities pursuant to the authority granted in the above-captioned proceeding." According to VNG, no final report of action was required. VNG requested that its correspondence be filed in the instant docket for the purposes of clarifying why reports related to the Order herein were not filed in connection with this proceeding.

[1] Construction of the HRX Pipeline is an integral provision of VNG's Performance Based Regulatory Plan authorized by the Commission's Order dated July 24, 2006, in Case No. PUE-2005-00057. See Application of Virginia Natural Gas, Inc., For approval of a performance based rate regulation methodology pursuant to Virginia Code § 56-235.6 and General Rate Case Filing of Virginia Natural Gas, Inc., For investigation of justness and reasonableness of current rates, charges, and terms and conditions of service in compliance with prior Commission Order, Case Nos. PUE-2005-00057 and PUE-2005-00062, 2006 S.C.C. Ann. Rept. 341, Order (July 24, 2010).

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the foregoing, is of the opinion and finds that there being nothing further to be done in this matter, that this case should be dismissed.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT this case is hereby dismissed from the Commission's docket of active proceedings and the papers filed herein shall be placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUE-2008-00018
SEPTEMBER 30, 2010

APPLICATION OF
PRESIDENTIAL SERVICE COMPANY TIER II, INC.

For certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide water and sewerage service

ORDER GRANTING CERTIFICATES

On March 5, 2008, Presidential Service Company Tier II, Inc. ("Presidential" or "Company"), filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide water and sewerage service ("Application") to Presidential Lakes Subdivision, Section 14, in King George County, Virginia. On July 16, 2010, Presidential filed with the Commission a Motion for Leave to Amend Application and for Expedited Treatment ("Motion") and a copy of the Application, as amended, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide water and sewerage service ("Amended Application").[1]

Presidential is incorporated as a public service corporation in the Commonwealth of Virginia. Presidential's Amended Application was filed pursuant to the Utility Facilities Act, § 56-265.1 et seq. of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), and the Small Water or Sewer Public Utility Act, § 56-265.13:1 et seq. of the Code. Presidential has asserted that King George County has decided not to take ownership of the water and sewer system constructed to provide water and sewer service in Section 14 of Presidential Lakes Subdivision in King George County, Virginia. Accordingly, Presidential seeks certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide service to customers in Presidential Lakes Subdivision, Section 14, which, as of July 13, 2010, consisted of 293 customers, with an expectation of serving a total of 333 customers when the section is fully built-out, along with three "off-site" water-only customers that Presidential presently serves.

In support of its request for expedited consideration, Presidential states that its sewage discharge permit from the Virginia Department of Environmental Quality ("DEQ") needs to be re-issued no later than September 30, 2010, and that Presidential is in the process of acquiring a modified permit. Presidential states that DEQ "has taken the position that it requires receipt 'immediately' of a [certificate of public convenience and necessity] for Presidential from the Commission and has asked Presidential for an update on its progress of obtaining a [certificate of public convenience and necessity]." Accordingly, Presidential has asked that the Commission expedite consideration and approval of the Amended Application.

On July 29, 2010, Presidential filed a correction to Exhibit 10 to the Amended Application. As corrected, the Amended Application provides for water and sewer service by Presidential at flat quarterly rates rather than providing service on a metered basis.

Neither Presidential's initial Application nor its Amended Application included any representation, in accordance with § 56-265.3 C of the Code, that the Board of Supervisors, as the governing body of King George County, the political subdivision in which Presidential's service territory is located, had approved the Company's Application. Neither did the Application or Amended Application, as permitted by § 56-265.3 C of the Code, represent that there was a water company and a sewer company in existence and furnishing service to the area in question prior to the creation of the King George County Public Service Authority.[2] However, attached to Presidential's Motion was a letter from the County Administrator for King George County that was submitted by Presidential in an attempt to show that the statutory standard had been met.

Given Presidential's request for expedited treatment, the Commission issued an Order on August 11, 2010 ("August 11 Order"), allowing Presidential until August 30, 2010, to supplement its Amended Application so as to provide documentation of the approval of the King George County

[1] As the Commission issues separate certificates of public convenience and necessity for water and sewer service, the caption of this proceeding has been modified to reflect that two certificates, one for water service and one for sewer service, are being sought by Presidential. Additionally, as discussed further herein, neither application was complete as filed. The Commission was able to continue processing the Amended Application with Presidential's filing on August 24, 2010, of the resolution adopted by the King George County Board of Supervisors authorizing the Amended Application.

[2] Section 56-265.3 C of the Code provides as follows:

> If the initial application [for a certificate of public convenience and necessity] provides for the furnishing of water or sewerage service within any political subdivision in which there has been created an authority for either or both of such purposes pursuant to Chapter 51 (§ 15.2-5100 et seq.) of Title 15.2, the Commission shall not hold any hearing on such application or issue any certificate for the allotment of territory unless the application shall first have been approved by the governing body of the political subdivision in which the territory is located. In any area where a water company was in existence and furnishing water prior to the formation of an authority to provide water, the Commission may hold a hearing on an application and issue a certificate to the water company for that territory which was served prior to the creation of the authority whether or not the governing body of the political subdivision has approved the application. In any area where a sewer company was in existence and furnishing sewer services prior to the formation of an authority to provide sewer services, the Commission may hold a hearing on an application and issue a certificate to the sewer company for that territory which was served prior to the creation of the authority whether or not the governing body of the political subdivision has approved the application.

Board of Supervisors of Presidential's Amended Application, or to further amend its Amended Application to demonstrate why such approval is not required by § 56-265.3 C of the Code. The August 11 Order also directed Presidential to provide notice to the public and established a procedural schedule to afford interested persons an opportunity to comment and request a hearing on Presidential's Amended Application and the water and sewer service rates set forth therein. The Commission also ordered the Staff to commence an investigation of the Amended Application and to issue a report thereon to the Commission as to whether certificates should be issued. The August 11 Order stated that should the Commission ultimately determine that a certificate to provide water service and a certificate to provide sewer service should be issued, Presidential should take note that its rates, terms, and conditions at that time could be deemed interim and subject to refund by the Commission and that a Staff audit of Presidential's records would likely be directed before this proceeding is ended.

On August 24, 2010, Presidential filed a copy of a resolution adopted by the King George County Board of Supervisors authorizing Presidential's Amended Application and documenting that the King George Service Authority does not plan to extend service to the area for which Presidential seeks certificates of public convenience and necessity.

In the Staff Report filed on September 16, 2010, the Staff recommended that the Commission find that it is in the public interest for certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide water and sewer service to be issued to Presidential for the service territory applied for herein. The Staff also recommended that, given the expedited treatment afforded Presidential's Amended Application, Presidential's rates be made interim and subject to refund pending the Commission's Division of Public Utility Accounting's financial audit and report to the Commission. The Staff further recommended that the Company's proposed rules and regulations be approved by the Commission, except for the Company's connection fee for water service and sewer service. The Staff recommended that the water and sewer connection fees be made interim and subject to refund until further review of their appropriateness can be made.

With regard to Presidential's accounting practices, the Staff recommended that the Company be ordered to: (1) maintain its books and records in accordance with the Uniform System of Accounts of Class C Wastewater Utilities; (2) depreciate jurisdictional plant and amortize associated contributions in aid of construction at a composite rate of 3%; (3) maintain its financial records in such detail as to facilitate a split between jurisdictional and non-jurisdictional businesses; and (4) file Annual Financial and Operating Reports with the Commission's Division of Public Utility Accounting by April 30th of each calendar year based on the previous calendar year's operation.

Lastly, the Staff recommended that Presidential be ordered to establish and provide a phone number to its customers, and to the Commission, for access to the Company in case of emergencies.

Though Presidential was given until September 23, 2010, to file a response to the Staff Report, no response was filed by the Company. No interested persons requested a hearing, but one customer submitted comments describing his difficulty in reaching the Company to report service outages.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the filings herein, and of the applicable law, is of the opinion and finds that certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide water and sewer service should be issued to Presidential at this time but that this proceeding should be left open for the Staff to complete its audit of the Company's financial records. Accordingly, the Commission finds that the recommendations set forth in the Staff Report should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) As provided by the Utility Facilities Act, § 56-265.1 et seq. of the Code and related provisions of Title 56 of the Code, the Company's Amended Application for certificates of public convenience and necessity is granted.

(2) Presidential shall be issued certificate of public convenience and necessity W-335, which authorizes the furnishing of water service in King George County as shown on maps attached to, and made a part of, the certificate.

(3) Presidential shall be issued certificate of public convenience and necessity S-95, which authorizes the furnishing of sewer service in King George County as shown on maps attached to, and made a part of, the certificate.

(4) The rates of Presidential for water service and sewer service shall be interim and subject to refund pending further order of this Commission.

(5) Presidential's $6,500 connection fee for water service and $7,500 connection fee for sewer service shall be interim and subject to refund pending further order of the Commission.

(6) The remainder of the Company's rules and regulations are hereby approved.

(7) The Staff shall complete its audit of Presidential to determine if its rates, charges, and fees are just and reasonable and appear to meet the standards established by § 56-265.13:4 of the Code. The Staff shall file a report on or before November 10, 2010, detailing the findings of its review.

(8) The Company shall maintain its books and records in accordance with the Uniform System of Accounts of Class C Wastewater Utilities; depreciate jurisdictional plant and amortize associated contributions in aid of construction at a composite rate of 3%; maintain its financial records in such detail as to facilitate a split between jurisdictional and non-jurisdictional businesses; and file Annual Financial and Operating Reports with the Commission's Division of Public Utility Accounting by April 30th of each calendar year based on the previous calendar year's operations.

(9) Presidential shall establish and provide to each of its customers, and the Commission, a telephone number that may be used for access to the Company in the event of emergencies.

(10) This case is continued pending further order of the Commission.

CASE NOS. PUE-2008-00033 and PUE-2009-00028
JULY 23, 2010

APPLICATION OF
THE POTOMAC EDISON COMPANY d/b/a ALLEGHENY POWER

For an increase in its electric rates pursuant to Va. Code §§ 56-249.6 and 56-582 and, alternatively, request to modify Memorandum of Understanding and Order in Case No. PUE-2000-00280

APPLICATION OF
THE POTOMAC EDISON COMPANY d/b/a ALLEGHENY POWER

For an increase in its Fuel Factor Pursuant to Virginia Code § 56-249.6

DISMISSAL ORDER

By this Order, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") will dismiss two pending cases in which the Commission had previously established electric rates pursuant to § 56-249.6 of the Code of Virginia for The Potomac Edison Company d/b/a/ Allegheny Power ("Potomac Edison" or "Company"). The dockets in both cases were continued at the direction of the Commission to accommodate accounting audits by the Staff of the Commission ("Staff") of the Company's purchased power costs, applicable credits and recovery position at the end of the respective audit periods.

The Company has, by motions filed June 30, 2010, in each of the above-captioned dockets ("Motions"), requested that these dockets be dismissed. The Company avers therein that the Commission's May 14, 2010 Order in Case No. PUE-2009-00101 approving the transfer of the Company's service territory ("Transfer Order") to Rappahannock Electric Cooperative and Shenandoah Valley Electric Cooperative (collectively, "Cooperatives"), warrants the relief requested. In particular, the Company states that as a result of the Commission's Transfer Order, Potomac Edison will no longer provide electric service to retail customers in Virginia and thus will no longer incur purchased power costs to serve those retail customers. The Company also emphasizes that by Order dated June 11, 2010, in Case No. PUE-2010-00047, the Commission permitted the Cooperatives to be substituted as applicants in the 2010 fuel proceeding (Case No. PUE-2010-00047) initially filed by Potomac Edison on May 14, 2010, and applicable to the period beginning July 1, 2010.

As outlined in the Motions, central to the 2008 and 2009 dockets for which dismissal is sought is a stipulation proposed by participating parties in the 2008 docket, i.e., Case No. PUE-2008-00033 ("2008 Stipulation"), and approved by the Commission in its November 26, 2008 Order ("2008 Order") therein. The 2008 Stipulation established certain terms, conditions, and limitations governing the Company's recovery of fuel expenses through June 30, 2011. As noted by the Company in its Motions, the Cooperatives, in assuming the obligation to provide retail electric service to the Company's former Virginia customers, agreed to be bound by the terms of the Commission's 2008 Order in Case No. PUE-2008-00033 and the 2008 Stipulation approved in that docket. The Company further represents in its Motions that Counsel for the Commission Staff and the Office of the Attorney General have authorized the Company to state that they do not oppose the granting of these Motions.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the Motions herein, is of the opinion and finds that they should be granted. Central to the Commission's considerations herein is ensuring that Potomac Edison's now-former Virginia retail electric customers receive the full benefits of the 2008 Stipulation approved by the Commission in Case No. PUE-2008-00033, including any true-ups required by the Commission's Order in the Company's 2009 fuel case, i.e., Case No. PUE-2009-00028.

The Commission permitted the Cooperatives to be substituted for the Company in the fuel proceeding initiated by the Company in Case No. PUE-2010-00047, which is now pending before the Commission. As noted in its June 11, 2010 Order of Notice and Procedure in that docket, the Transfer Order incorporated the Cooperatives' commitment to be bound by the 2008 Stipulation as part of the special rates approved for the former Potomac Edison customers now served by the Cooperatives. Put simply, the Cooperatives are now bound by the rates, terms and conditions of the 2008 Stipulation, and it is their burden to ensure the benefits thereunder for its duration. Consequently, inasmuch as the Commission has permitted the Cooperatives' substitution for Potomac Edison in the Company's 2010 fuel case, the Commission will correspondingly authorize the dismissal of the Company's 2008 and 2009 fuel dockets as requested by the Company.

Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Motions to Dismiss filed by the Company in Case Nos. PUE-2008-00033 and PUE-2009-00028 shall be, and hereby are, granted;

(2) There being nothing further to come before the Commission in these proceedings, these matters are dismissed from the Commission's active docket, and the papers filed herein shall be placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUE-2008-00034
OCTOBER 19, 2010

APPLICATION OF
KENTUCKY UTILITIES COMPANY d/b/a OLD DOMINION POWER COMPANY

For authority to issue securities under Chapter 3 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia

ORDER AMENDING AUTHORITY GRANTED

By Orders dated June 19, 2008, and November 30, 2009, Kentucky Utilities Company d/b/a Old Dominion Power Company ("KU/ODP" or "Company"), was authorized by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to issue securities, assume obligations and enter into all necessary agreements to issue new Refunding Bonds for the purpose of refinancing up to eight (8) separate series of outstanding auction rate pollution control revenue bonds issued to Mercer County, Kentucky, and Carroll County, Kentucky.[1] The Commission's authorization is due to expire on December 31, 2010.

In an application filed by KU/ODP on June 15, 2010, in Case No. PUE-2010-00061, KU/ODP made the following request:

> VIII. AUCTION MODE POLLUTION CONTROL DEBT MITIGATION
> 24. In Case No. PUE 2008-00034 by Order dated June 19, 2008, the Commission granted KU/ODP authority to take certain actions to mitigate the impact of market conditions on its auction mode pollution control bonds. KU/ODP requests that its authority be amended to expressly allow for the use of First Mortgage Bonds to secure any refunding debt obligations that may be incurred pursuant to the authority granted in Case No. PUE-2008-00034. In addition, by Order dated November 30, 2009, the Commission extended KU/ODP's authority in Case No. PUE-2008-00034 through December 31, 2010. Because of the transactions contemplated in [Case No. PUE-2010-00060], it is now possible that the mitigation actions will not be completed until 2011. KU/ODP therefore further requests that its authority in Case No. PUE-2008-00034 be extended through December 31, 2011.[2]

On this day, the Commission issued an order in Case No. PUE-2010-00061 granting KU/ODP's request to restructure and refinance unsecured debt, to assume obligations, and for amendment of existing authority.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the matter, is of the opinion and finds that an order should be entered amending the authority granted and extending the period of authority in this case.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) KU/ODP shall be allowed to use first mortgage bonds to secure any refunding obligations that may be incurred pursuant to the authority granted in our June 19, 2008 Order, consistent with our order in Case No. PUE-2010-00061.

(2) The authority granted, pursuant to our June 19, 2008 Order and amended by Ordering Paragraph (1) herein, is effective from the date of this Order through December 31, 2011.

(3) On or before March 31, 2012, KU/ODP shall file a final report of action containing the information required in Ordering Paragraph (4) of our June 19, 2008 Order.

(4) All other directives detailed in our June 19, 2008 Order shall remain in full force and effect.

(5) This matter shall be continued subject to the continuing review, audit, and appropriate directive of the Commission.

CASE NO. PUE-2008-00063
FEBRUARY 5, 2009

APPLICATION OF
VIRGINIA ELECTRIC AND POWER COMPANY

For approval and certification of Beaumeade-NIVO 230 kV Underground Transmission line and 230-34.5 kV NIVO Substation under Va. Code § 56-46.1 and the Utility Facilities Act, Va. Code § 56-265.1 et seq., and as a pilot project pursuant to HB 1319

ORDER

By Final Order issued May 29, 2009, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") granted authority to Virginia Electric and Power Company ("Dominion Virginia Power" or "Company") to construct and operate the Company's proposed Beaumeade-NIVO 230 kV transmission line and new NIVO Substation in Loudoun County ("Final Order"). Ordering Paragraph (6) of the Final Order required that the transmission line and associated substation must be constructed and in-service by April 1, 2010.

On December 8, 2009, the Company filed a Motion for Extension of Construction and In-Service Date ("Motion"). In its Motion, the Company stated that while it "has made significant progress in developing the project and is proceeding promptly to begin construction of the transmission line in January, it cannot complete the project in its entirety by April 1, 2010." Accordingly, the Company requested that the deadline in Ordering Paragraph (6) of the Final Order be extended until September 1, 2010. The Commission received no objection to the Company's request.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered this matter, is of the opinion and finds that the Company's request to extend the deadline for construction of the transmission line and associated substation should be granted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) This matter is re-opened for the limited purpose of considering and ruling upon the Company's Motion.

(2) Ordering Paragraph (6) of the Commission's May 29, 2009 Final Order shall be revised to read as follows:

> The transmission line and associated substation approved herein must be constructed and in-service by September 1, 2010; however, the Company is granted leave to apply for an extension for good cause shown.

(3) All other provisions of the Commission's May 29, 2009 Order shall remain unchanged.

(4) This matter is dismissed and the paper herein placed in the file for ended causes.

Commissioner Dimitri did not participate in this matter.

CASE NO. PUE-2008-00065
JANUARY 8, 2010

APPLICATION OF
SKYLINE WATER CO., INC.

For changes in rates, charges, rules and regulations

ORDER

On July 14, 2008, Skyline Water Co., Inc. ("Skyline" or "Company"), filed an application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") for changes in water rates, charges, rules and regulations. The Commission issued a Final Order in this case on July 20, 2009. The Commission found in its Final Order that the Company must make system improvements necessary to address the environmental violations present at the Pelham Manor subdivision. To achieve this, the Company was ordered to apply to the Virginia Department of Health Revolving Loan Fund for financing of an approved $205,575 interest-free loan and to transmit a copy of the filed application to the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation by October 1, 2009. The Company was also ordered to apply for any available grant money.

In a Monthly Report filed with the Commission on September 25, 2009, Skyline stated that since Aqua Virginia, Inc. ("Aqua Virginia"), has filed an application with the Commission, in Case No. PUE-2009-00098,[1] to acquire Pelham Manor and other assets from Skyline, "it does not make sense for the Company to secure the [Virginia Department of Health] loan when Aqua Virginia has the solution in hand. The Company requests this requirement be extended until the first week of the year 2010, as the transfer should take place by then."[2]

On October 1, 2009, the Commission entered an Order that, in pertinent part, granted Skyline an extension until January 8, 2010, to file an application with the Virginia Department of Health Revolving Loan Fund for the $205,575 interest-free loan.

As was noted in the September 25, 2009 Monthly Report, Skyline requested an extension through the first week of 2010 for filing for the Virginia Department of Health loan because, at the time the Monthly Report was filed, the Company anticipated the transfer of Skyline and Rebel Water Works, Inc., to Aqua Virginia would have occurred by the first week of 2010. However, as no final action has yet been taken on the Joint Petition in Case No. PUE-2009-00098, the Commission, upon its own motion, shall extend the date by which Skyline must apply to the Virginia Department of Health for financing of the $205,575 interest-free loan.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record in this case, finds that, for judicial efficiency, Skyline should be granted an extension through April 30, 2010, to apply to the Virginia Department of Health Revolving Loan Fund for the interest-free loan because no final action has yet been taken by the Commission in Case No. PUE-2009-00098.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Company shall file with the Virginia Department of Health Revolving Loan Fund an application to borrow the full amount of a $205,575 interest-free loan no later than April 30, 2010, and to transmit contemporaneously a copy of the filed application to the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation. The Company is also ordered to apply for any grant money that is available to it and to transmit a copy of the filed application to the Division of Energy Regulation by April 30, 2010, or to file a letter with the Division of Energy Regulation explaining that no grant money is available, if that is the case.

(2) All other provisions of the July 20, 2009 Final Order and October 1, 2009 Order shall remain in full force and effect.

CASE NO. PUE-2008-00065
APRIL 29, 2010

APPLICATION OF
SKYLINE WATER CO., INC.

For changes in rates, charges, rules and regulations

ORDER

On July 14, 2008, Skyline Water Co., Inc. ("Skyline" or "Company"), filed an application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") for changes in water rates, charges, rules and regulations. The Commission issued a Final Order in this case on July 20, 2009. The Commission found in its Final Order that the Company must make system improvements necessary to address the environmental violations present at the Pelham Manor subdivision. To achieve this, the Company was ordered to apply to the Virginia Department of Health ("VDH") Revolving Loan Fund for financing of an approved $205,575 interest-free loan and to transmit a copy of the filed application to the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation by October 1, 2009. The Company was also ordered to apply for any available grant money. To finance the improvements, the Commission also authorized the Plant Improvement Contribution Surcharge ("PICS") for Pelham Manor.

In a Monthly Report filed with the Commission on September 25, 2009, Skyline stated that Aqua Virginia, Inc. ("Aqua Virginia"), had filed an application with the Commission, in Case No. PUE-2009-00098,[1] to acquire Pelham Manor and other assets from Skyline. Skyline requested an extension through the first week in January 2010 to file for the VDH loan, stating "it does not make sense for the Company to secure the VDH loan when Aqua Virginia has the solution in hand."[2]

On October 1, 2009, the Commission entered an Order that, in pertinent part, granted Skyline an extension through January 8, 2010, to file an application with the VDH Revolving Loan Fund for the $205,575 interest-free loan.

When no final order had been entered in the transfer proceeding between Skyline and Aqua Virginia, Case No. PUE-2009-00098, by January 8, 2010, the Commission, upon its own motion, entered an Order in this case on January 8, 2010, which extended the date by which Skyline must apply for a loan with the VDH.[3] In that Order, the Commission stated,

> The Company shall file with the Virginia Department of Health Revolving Loan Fund an application to borrow the full amount of a $205,575 interest-free loan no later than April 30, 2010, and to transmit contemporaneously a copy of the filed application to the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation. The Company is also ordered to apply for any grant money that is available to it and to transmit a copy of the filed application to the Division of Energy Regulation by April 30, 2010, or to file a letter with the Division of Energy Regulation explaining that no grant money is available, if that is the case.

On April 23, 2010, counsel for Aqua Virginia filed a letter with the Commission. In this letter, Aqua Virginia advised the Commission that the transfer of the Pelham Manor system and Skyline's other systems to Aqua Virginia occurred on April 22, 2010. Aqua Virginia stated that it plans to make the required improvements to the Pelham Manor system with financing that does not involve a loan from the VDH Revolving Loan Fund and therefore asked the Commission to clarify that its Orders dated October 1, 2009, and January 8, 2010, do not impose any obligations on Aqua Virginia to apply for a loan from the VDH Revolving Loan Fund.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record in this case and the April 23, 2010 letter from Aqua Virginia, finds that, because the transfer of the Pelham Manor from Skyline to Aqua Virginia has been completed and because Aqua Virginia stated it will make the required improvements to the Pelham Manor system with financing that does not involve a loan from the VDH Revolving Loan Fund, neither Skyline nor Aqua Virginia will be required to apply for a loan from the VDH Revolving Loan Fund. However, as was noted in Ordering Paragraph (11) in the July 20, 2009 Final Order in this case, improvements must be made to the Pelham Manor system. Though Aqua Virginia is not ordered to apply for a loan from the VDH Revolving Loan Fund, the Commission does expect Aqua Virginia to make improvements necessary to address the environmental violations present at Pelham Manor.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Ordering Paragraph (12) of the Commission's July 20, 2009 Final Order; Ordering Paragraph (5) of the Commission's October 1, 2009 Order; and Ordering Paragraph (1) of the Commission's January 8, 2010 Order impose no obligations on Aqua Virginia to apply for a loan from the VDH Revolving Loan Fund.

(2) Ordering Paragraph (12) and Ordering Paragraph (15) of the Commission's July 20, 2009 Final Order shall be struck.

(3) Ordering Paragraph (14) of the Commission's July 20, 2009 Final Order shall be struck and replaced with the following sentence: The PICS shall be eliminated for all systems.

(4) Ordering Paragraph (5) of the Commission's October 1, 2009 Order shall be struck.

(5) Ordering Paragraph (1) of the Commission's January 8, 2010 Order shall be struck.

CASE NO. PUE-2008-00070
MAY 12, 2010

PETITION OF BOTETOURT COUNTY, VIRGINIA
v.
CENTRAL WATER COMPANY, INC.,

For revocation of certificate pursuant to § 56-265.6 of the Code

FINAL ORDER

On July 23, 2008, Botetourt County, Virginia ("Botetourt" or "County"), filed a petition ("Petition") with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to Rule 100 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (5 VAC 5-20-100) and § 56-265.6 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), seeking the Commission's revocation of an expanded certificate of public convenience and necessity ("certificate") previously granted by the Commission to Central Water Company, Inc. ("Central"), in Case No. PUE-2007-00090. Botetourt contends, among other things, that it lacked notice of Central's prior application to expand its certificate in Case No. PUE-2007-00090, that Central's application in that prior case contained material misstatements, and that Central's service territory should not be expanded because such expansion is inconsistent with Botetourt's Comprehensive Plan and plans for expansion of its water and sewer services.

On September 3, 2008, Central filed its response. On September 10, 2008, the Commission entered an Order Appointing Hearing Examiner that, among other things, appointed a Hearing Examiner to conduct further proceedings in this matter.

On October 16 and November 14, 2008, Senior Hearing Examiner Alexander F. Skirpan, Jr., held a prehearing conference and a settlement conference, respectively. On November 21, 2008, the Senior Hearing Examiner issued a ruling establishing the procedural schedule for this matter.

On January 20, 2009, Central filed a motion ("Central's Motion") in which it asked that this case be dismissed with prejudice and, if the Commission deemed it appropriate, Central be required to file clarifications to its certificate and to its service territory map.

On January 30, 2009, and at the request of the parties, the Senior Hearing Examiner held an additional prehearing conference. During that conference, the parties and the Commission's Staff ("Staff") agreed that the procedural schedule should be adjusted to first address Central's Motion and the threshold issues related to Central's application in Case No. PUE-2007-00090, and then to hold further hearings to address any other issues that may need to be resolved. On February 4, 2009, the Senior Hearing Examiner issued a ruling that adopted a new procedure schedule. On March 25, 2009, the Senior Hearing Examiner convened a hearing to receive evidence in this matter.

On April 22, 2009, the Senior Hearing Examiner held a conference among all participants to discuss further procedures for this case. On April 30, 2009, the Senior Hearing Examiner issued a ruling ("April 30th Ruling") that held in abeyance Central's Motion and the threshold issues pending further development of a complete record, and that modified the procedural schedule to receive additional evidence and to hold an additional hearing. The Senior Hearing Examiner explained as follows:

> Based on the record developed to date, Central has admitted that it did not adhere precisely, to all of the notice requirements included in the Commission's November 15, 2007, Order for Notice in Case No. PUE-2007-00090. In addition, Botetourt argued that Central's Motion could not be resolved without information that goes beyond the two threshold issues of notice and misstatement.[1]

On September 28, 2009, the Senior Hearing Examiner held a hearing to receive additional evidence in this matter ("September 28th hearing"). On October 21, 2009, Botetourt and Central filed post-hearing briefs.

On November 25, 2009, the Senior Hearing Examiner issued a report that more fully explained the procedural history of this case, summarized the record, analyzed the evidence and issues in this proceeding, and made certain findings and recommendations ("Senior Hearing Examiner's Report").

First, the Senior Hearing Examiner explained as follows:

> Botetourt argued that the statement in Central's [a]pplication filed in Case No. PUE-2007-00090 that the requested expanded service area 'is not being serviced by any public service at this time' constituted a willfully made misrepresentation of a material fact. Botetourt asserted that Central obtained its certificate by failing to represent to the Commission that … the requested expanded service area includes customers served by Botetourt, by the Town of Fincastle, and by at least three private water systems. Central responded that it did not intend to include and does not seek to serve customers served by Botetourt, the Town of Fincastle, or the private water systems.[2]

[1] April 30th Ruling at 3.

[2] Senior Hearing Examiner's Report at 17-18.

Next, as stated by the Senior Hearing Examiner, Botetourt asserted that "'Central has willfully violated a proper order of the Commission'" by "'failing to provide to [Botetourt] the notice required by the Commission's Order for Notice'" in Case No. PUE-2007-00090.[3] Specifically, the Order for Notice in Case No. PUE-2007-00090 directed Central to serve a copy of such order on the chairman of the Board of Supervisors of Botetourt County by first-class mail. Central, however, did not mail a copy of such order but, rather, sent a letter to the chairman of the Board of Supervisors of Botetourt County the text of which was as follows:

> The State Corporation Commission requires us to give the Chair notice when any cases are brought before the commission. The above case (Case No. PUE-2007-00090) is to amend our application that was approved on February 11, 2000. The above referenced case is to add additional residential customers to the water companies existing case. This notice does not require any action on your part other than you being aware of this case. Thank you for your attention to this matter.[4]

In addition, "Botetourt contended that if Botetourt had been given a fair opportunity to participate in Case No. PUE-2007-00090, it would have shown that Central's expanded service territory is inconsistent with the public interest."[5]

The Senior Hearing Examiner's Report included the following findings:

> (1) There were no willfully made misrepresentations of material facts in Central's [a]pplication in Case No. PUE-2007-00090;
> (2) In providing public notice in Case No. PUE-2007-00090, Central did not willfully violate the Commission's Order for Notice [in that case];
>
> (3) Based on the first two findings, the requirements of § 56-265.6 [of the Code] have not been met and no alteration or amendment to Central's certificate is required;
>
> (4) In the alternative, if the Commission finds that Central's [a]pplication in Case No. PUE-2007-00090 contained a willfully made misrepresentation of a material fact or that Central willfully violated the Commission's Order for Notice [in that case], then Central may be fined or given an opportunity to cure. If Central fails to comply with the Commission order to cure within a reasonable period of time, its certificate can be revoked, altered, or amended;
>
> (5) In the alternative, if the Commission finds that Central's [a]pplication in Case No. PUE-2007-00090 contained a willfully made misrepresentation of a material fact or that Central willfully violated the Commission's Order for Notice [in that case]; and if the Commission finds that § 56-265.6 [of the Code] permits the revocation, alteration, or amendment of Central's certificate without further opportunity to cure, then after considering all of the evidence, including evidence presented by Botetourt, I find that Central's certificate to serve its expanded service area is in the public interest; and
> (6) Central should be directed to file with the Commission a detailed map of its expanded service territory, sufficiently detailed to show the exclusion of Botetourt Center at Greenfield, [to which Botetourt provides and plans to provide water service] the exclusion of other certificated water systems within its expanded service territory, and its agreement with the Town of Fincastle, which clarifies that the two service territories do not overlap.[6]

On December 16, 2009, Botetourt and Central filed comments on the Senior Hearing Examiner's Report.

Central, among other things: (1) "requests that the Commission adopt the findings and conclusions of the [Senior Hearing] Examiner without change and deny the petition with prejudice;" (2) "has no objection to filing a more detailed map of its service territory as recommended by the [Senior Hearing] Examiner;" and (3) asserts that "[t]here is no ground to revoke, alter or amend Central's certificate, and it is in the public interest for Central to have been granted it in the first instance."[7]

Botetourt, among other things, asserts that: (1) "the evidence is clear that [Central] acted willfully in misrepresenting a material fact in obtaining the certificate expanding its service territory and in violating the Commission's Order regarding notice;" (2) "the [Senior] Hearing Examiner improperly applied the provisions of Va. Code § 56-265.6 in a way that insulated Central's expanded certificate from challenge;" (3) "there is no evidence in the record to support the conclusion that Central's expanded service territory is in the public interest;" and (4) "[t]he public interest will instead be served by directing Central to submit a revised map including only those areas where development can be reasonably anticipated, without interfering with [Botetourt's] carefully developed Comprehensive Plan."[8]

[8] Botetourt's December 16, 2009 Comments at 1, 32.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of this matter, is of the opinion and finds as follows.

Code of Virginia

Botetourt seeks revocation, pursuant to § 56-265.6 of the Code, of the expanded certificate awarded to Central in Case No. PUE-2007-00090. In this regard, § 56-265.6 of the Code provides as follows:

> The Commission may, by its order duly entered after hearing, held after due notice to the holder of any such certificate and an opportunity to such holder to be heard, at which hearing it shall be proved that such holder has willfully made a misrepresentation of a material fact in obtaining such certificate or has willfully violated or refused to observe the laws of this State touching such certificate or any of the terms of the certificate, or any of the Commission's proper orders, rules or regulations, impose a penalty not exceeding $1,000, which may be collected by the process of the Commission as provided by law; or the Commission may suspend, revoke, alter or amend any such certificate for any of the causes set forth above. But no such certificate shall be revoked, altered or amended (except upon application of the holder thereof) unless the holder thereof shall willfully fail to comply, within a reasonable time to be fixed by the Commission, with the lawful order of the Commission or with the lawful rule or regulation of the Commission, or with the term, condition or limitation of such certificate, found by the Commission to have been violated by such holder. No such certificate shall be suspended, revoked, altered or amended for any cause not stated in this section.
> Proceedings looking to the imposition of any penalty provided for in this section may be commenced upon the complaint of any person or upon the Commission's own initiative.

In addition, as part of the instant proceeding, the Senior Hearing Examiner held the September 28th hearing and received written pleadings to determine whether it is in the public interest – under the standard applied in Case No. PUE-2007-00090 – to amend Central's original certificate for purposes of expanding its service territory. In this regard, § 56-265.3 D of the Code provides as follows:

> If the Commission finds it to be in the public interest, upon the application of a holder of a water or sewer certificate, such certificate may be transferred, leased or amended after such reasonable notice to the public and opportunity to be heard as the Commission by order may prescribe. The Commission may authorize the transfer, lease, or amendment of the certificate subject to such restrictions as the Commission finds will promote the public interest.[9]

Certificate No. W-298a

We find that Central willfully violated the Commission's Order for Notice in Case No. PUE-2007-00090 when it failed to serve a copy of that Order on the chairman and board of supervisors of Botetourt County as explicitly directed in such Order (and while representing to the Commission in Case No. PUE-2007-00090 that this notice requirement had been met).[10] In this critical respect, the County was not notified – in the manner specifically directed by the Commission – of a proceeding that affected its interests. We find that Central has not provided a justifiable excuse for failing to comply with an explicit directive regarding the notice requirement in the Commission's procedural order.

In this instance, for Central effectively to comply with the notice required in the prior Order for Notice, Botetourt must receive proper notice (which it has), and Central must establish that it is in the public interest to expand its certificate in a proceeding participated in by Botetourt. Thus, as requested by Botetourt, "[a]ny real opportunity [for Central] to cure [under § 56-265.6 of the Code] would have to provide Botetourt now with the same opportunity it was denied then."[11]

The instant proceeding provided the County with that opportunity. As explained by the Senior Hearing Examiner: "In essence, the September 28th hearing was a 'do over' of Case No. PUE-2007-00090 as it provided Botetourt with an opportunity to present all of its grounds for objection to Central's expanded service territory."[12] Indeed, Botetourt acknowledges that "both [Central] and [Botetourt] were given the opportunity to put on their evidence for and against the award of the expanded service territory," and that "both sides were afforded a full opportunity to put on their evidence as to whether the public interest supports the expanded territory."[13] In doing so, Central has continued to have the burden of proof.

Amended Certificate No. W-298a

Central was organized in 1998 to serve the Ashley Plantation development in Botetourt and received its original certificate of public convenience and necessity from this Commission in 2000.[14] Central currently provides adequate water service to approximately 377 customers.[15] Central has a large, high quality supply of water.[16] Central has actively increased its storage capacity and pursued additional measures to support the expansion of its service territory.[17] In addition, Central "already has invested over $700,000 in infrastructure for new wells, storage and infrastructure to serve its expanded service territory."[18]

Based on the record in this proceeding – which includes the new evidence presented by Botetourt – we find that Central has not established that it is in the public interest to expand its service territory from its original 900 acres to over approximately 16,000 acres.[19] Rather, we conclude that Central has affirmatively established that it is in the public interest, at this time, to expand its original service territory as follows:

(1) as agreed to by Botetourt regarding specific territory in the vicinity of (a) Ashley Plantation, and (b) Town of Fincastle and Santillane;[20]

(2) with western and northern boundaries as approved in Case No. PUE-2007-00090, and with the corrections recommended by the Senior Hearing Examiner "to show the exclusion of Botetourt Center at Greenfield, the exclusion of other certificated water systems within its expanded service territory, and its agreement with the Town of Fincastle, which clarifies that the two service territories do not overlap;"[21] and

(3) with an eastern boundary along (a) the territory referenced above in (1), (b) Ashley Plantation, and (c) running 1,000 feet east of Route 220.[22]

Much of the evidence in this proceeding addressed development and service in the above areas and along the Route 220 corridor, which extends from Central's current service at Ashley Plantation to the Town of Fincastle through the Santillane community.[23] The Route 220 corridor, from the northern boundary of Ashley Plantation to Fincastle, is less than ten miles.[24] Central also asserts that its "ability to execute plans and construct facilities is illustrated by its efforts to plan connections between the Town of Fincastle through the Santillane community and Central's system."[25] We find that expanding Central's service territory in this manner represents an area of natural expansion of the service of Central from the Ashley Plantation area. The territory approved herein also is not currently being served by any public service company or the County. We further find, however, that Central has not established that it is in the public interest at this time to expand its territory beyond the limits established herein.

Accordingly, we amend Certificate No. W-298a to reflect the boundaries set forth above. We have considered the evidence from the County, along with Central's evidence proffered to meet its burden to establish the public interest, and conclude that the expanded territory approved herein is in the public interest. This gives Central the right and the obligation to serve this area now, and as additional development occurs therein. Moreover, Central can request further expansion of its service territory if it believes subsequent circumstances so warrant.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Botetourt's Petition is granted in part and denied in part as set forth herein.

(2) Central's Certificate No. W-298a is amended as set forth herein.

(3) Central shall forthwith file with the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation a detailed map of its service territory as set forth herein.

(4) This case is dismissed.

CASE NO. PUE-2008-00078
MAY 18, 2010

APPLICATION OF
VIRGINIA ELECTRIC AND POWER COMPANY

Notification to the Commission of election to abandon the Company's bidding program and application to revise its cogeneration tariff pursuant to PURPA Section 210

FINAL ORDER

On August 8, 2008, Virginia Electric and Power Company ("Virginia Power" or "Company") filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") a Notice of Election to Abandon Bidding Program and Application to Revise its Cogeneration Tariff Pursuant to Section 210 of the Public Utilities Regulatory Policies Act of 1978 ("PURPA") ("Application"). The Company: (1) "provide[d] formal notice to the Commission that [it] is no longer maintaining its Bidding Program [under 20 VAC 5-301-10 et seq.] effective as of the filing date of this notice;" and (2) filed the Application "to modify its Schedule 19 tariff for cogeneration and small power production."[1]

Virginia Power explained that, pursuant to an order by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission ("FERC Order"), "the Company is no longer required to enter into new obligations or contracts with Qualifying Facilities ('QFs') that have a net capacity in excess of 20 MW."[2] Therefore, the Company's Application requests the following relief: "Virginia Power respectfully requests that the Commission approve its Application including the attached revised Schedule 19 tariff, and establishing such tariff as the methodology that the Company will use in lieu of the Bidding Rules to determine avoided costs under PURPA for purchases from QFs with a net capacity of 20 MW or less."[3]

The Company further stated that it filed its Notice of Election to Abandon its Bidding Program and its Application to modify Schedule 19 pursuant to a prior Commission directive in Case No. PUE-1998-00462.[4] Virginia Power asserted that the 1999 Order "stated that if the Company, at any time, intends to formally abandon its Bidding Program, it is to file a notice with the Commission of election to do so and include a 'complete description of the Company's methodology for determining its avoided costs under PURPA.'"[5] In this regard, the Company stated that: (1) "[t]he notice that the Company is formally abandoning its Bidding Program as of the date of this filing is provided [in the Application];" and (2) "[t]he Revised Schedule 19, in turn, contains the complete description of the Company's proposed methodology for determining avoided costs under PURPA for its residual QF obligation as to purchases from small QFs (i.e., those 20 MW or less)."[6]

On September 26, 2008, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Comment or Request for Hearing that docketed this case, required the Company to provide notice of its filing, provided an opportunity for comments and requests for hearing, and assigned a hearing examiner to conduct further proceedings in this matter. The Commission received comments from the following: Virginia Committee for Fair Utility Rates ("Committee"); Competitive Bidding Group ("CBG"); AES Solar Energy; Cvillenergy, LLC; and the Office of the Attorney General, Division of Consumer Counsel ("Consumer Counsel"). CBG requested a hearing.[7]

Chief Hearing Examiner Deborah V. Ellenberg convened an evidentiary hearing on April 17, 2009, in which the following participated: Virginia Power; Committee; CBG; Consumer Counsel; and Commission Staff ("Staff"). On March 25, 2010, the Chief Hearing Examiner issued a report that included the following findings and recommendations ("Chief Hearing Examiner's Report"):

(1) The Company has satisfied the requirements necessary to abandon its current bidding program;

(2) The revised Schedule 19 adequately describes the Company's avoided cost methodology;

(3) The change in the applicability of Schedule 19 to include facilities with a design capacity of 20 MW or less is reasonable and consistent with FERC action;

(4) All other proposed revisions to Schedule 19 are appropriate;

[7] In addition, on November 14, 2008, CBG filed a Motion for an Order Enjoining the Effectiveness of Virginia Electric and Power Company's Election to Abandon its Competitive Bidding Program ("Motion for Injunction"). The Company filed a response on December 1, 2008, and CBG filed a reply on December 8, 2008.

(5) The Commission should direct its Staff to prepare draft rules for a new bidding program consistent with the current environment and for smaller increments of non-base load generation; and

(6) The Competitive Bidding Group Motion for Injunction should be denied.[8]

On April 15, 2010, the following filed comments on the Chief Hearing Examiner's Report: Virginia Power; Committee; CBG; and Consumer Counsel.

Virginia Power requested that the Commission: (1) find "that the Company lawfully abandoned its voluntary bidding program, and terminated its obligations under the Bidding Rules, effective August 8, 2008;" (2) deny "CBG's Motion for Injunction;" and (3) determine "that an investigation and consideration of draft rules for a new bidding program, through a separate proceeding or otherwise, is unnecessary as the Commission already possesses ample and extensive authority to assure that project costs do not exceed just and reasonable levels."[9]

The Committee stated that: (1) the "Commission should reject both [the Chief Hearing Examiner's] finding that [Virginia Power] has satisfied the requirements necessary to abandon its bidding program and the [the Chief Hearing Examiner's] recommendation that the Commission accept [Virginia Power's] Notice of Election to abandon the program;" (2) the "Commission's Bidding Rules do not provide for unilateral withdrawal by the utility of a competitive bidding program. . ., and the [the Chief Hearing Examiner's] reliance upon the Commission's 1999 Order for the conclusion that [Virginia Power] has satisfied the requirements for abandonment of its bidding program is misplaced;" (3) "[n]othing in Virginia law requires the Commission to conclude that [Virginia Power's] Notice of Election effectively terminated its program;" (4) "any . . . draft rules [for a new bidding program] should address all types of capacity;" and (5) "[i]f the Commission permits [Virginia Power] to abandon its bidding program, the Commission should initiate another bidding program to take the place of the existing one; however, the Commission should reject any 'gap' between the new program and the existing one."[10]

CBG requested that the Commission: (1) "reject the [Chief] Hearing Examiner's Findings (1), (2) and (4) and find that the Company has failed to meet the requirements necessary to abandon its competitive bidding program;" (2) "accept with modifications Finding (5) and direct Staff to prepare draft rules for a new bidding program for all types and sizes of generation;" (3) "reject Finding (6) and enjoin the Company's abandonment of its bidding program until a new program can be established;" and (4) "reject the [Chief] Hearing Examiner's analysis of § 56-233.1 [of the Code] based on its being both incorrect and inconsistent with her earlier finding that the narrow scope of the proceeding did not allow for a full consideration of § 56-233.1 [of the Code]."[11]

Consumer Counsel stated as follows: (1) "Consumer Counsel agrees with the [C]hief [H]earing [E]xaminer's finding that [Virginia Power] may abandon its formal bidding program adopted pursuant to the Bidding Rules;" (2) "[i]n the absence of a formal competitive bidding program, the Commission should articulate the extent to which some form of competitive bidding, or other process to collect price and performance information from third-party power supply options, should be implemented in appropriate situations to ensure that self-build proposals are reasonable, prudent, and cost effective for ratepayers;" and (3) "consideration of such competitive solicitations or processes should not be automatically limited to only smaller increments of non-base load generation."[12]

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of this matter, is of the opinion and finds as follows.

Bidding Rules

Virginia Power established its Bidding Program pursuant to the Commission's Bidding Rules, 20 VAC 5-301-10 et seq. The Commission adopted the Bidding Rules in 1990.[13] As noted by the Chief Hearing Examiner, a "primary factor . . . in establishing the Bidding Rules was to provide an orderly structure to the process of utilities acquiring capacity from QFs under PURPA."[14] The Chief Hearing Examiner further explained that the "Bidding Rules allowed a utility to refuse offers of capacity that it did not need, avoiding costs for itself and its ratepayers, and when needed provided a process to evaluate sources of supply and provide assurance that supply was acquired at a reasonable cost."[15]

The Bidding Rules do not require a utility to establish a bidding program. For example, the Bidding Rules state as follows:

- The purpose of these rules is to establish minimum requirements for any electric utility bidding program that is used to purchase electric capacity and energy from other power suppliers. (20 VAC 5-301-10.)

- Electric utilities maintain the right to establish a bidding program or secure electric capacity and energy through other means. (20 VAC 5-301-10.)

[15] Id. at 12. See also 20 VAC 5-301-90 ("A utility with an active competitive bid program may refuse offers of capacity that have been received outside of a bidding process.").

- If a utility chooses to establish a bidding program, that program must be an integral part of the utility's long-term resource plan. (20 VAC 5-301-30.)

The Commission has also previously explained that "the establishment of a bidding program under [the Bidding Rules] by an electric utility is voluntary."[16] Indeed, Virginia Power is the only investor-owned electric utility that chose to establish a formal bidding program under the Bidding Rules.[17]

In addition, the Bidding Rules do not require the utility to accept bids from all potential supply sources. As stated by the Chief Hearing Examiner:

> Rule 20 of the Bidding Rules[, 20 VAC 5-301-20,] also states that 'a utility may allow all sources of capacity to submit offers in a bidding program. This could include other electric utilities, independent power producers, cogenerators and small power producers.' The Bidding Rules Order explained that Rule 20 allowed a utility 'to solicit proposals from all sources of capacity or to limit its bidding program to PURPA qualifying facilities. Although we believe that in most circumstances all source bidding will optimize the resources available to the utility we will not impose a mandatory requirement to include all sources.'[18]

The Bidding Rules also do not address the method for how, once a utility has established a formal bidding program, the utility is to go about abandoning or terminating such program. The Commission's 1999 Order, however, provided direction to the Company in this regard. Specifically, the 1999 Order stated as follows:

> If at any time Virginia Power intends to formally abandon its bidding program, then the Company is directed to file with this Commission its notice of election to do so. Included in such notice shall be a complete description of the Company's methodology for determining its avoided costs under PURPA. This methodology will be in lieu of the use of competitive bids for determining avoided costs.[19]

Bidding Program

The Bidding Rules do not require the Company to obtain the Commission's approval prior to abandoning its voluntary Bidding Program. We also find that the voluntary nature of such Bidding Program – as set forth in the Bidding Rules – should not be modified as to Virginia Power as a result of this proceeding; we will not herein require the Company to maintain an involuntary bidding program. Accordingly, we accept the Company's "Notice of Election . . . that it is hereby formally abandoning its bidding program . . . as of the filing date of [such] notice."[20]

While we accept Virginia Power's Notice of Election to Abandon its Bidding Program, the Commission has previously explained that "evidence from a competitive bid process may be relevant in supporting a utility's claim that its application to construct and operate a new generating facility satisfies statutory requirements that the Commission must apply thereto."[21] Thus, absent a formal Bidding Program, we note that the Company still has the duty to meet its electricity supply obligations to its customers in a reasonable and prudent manner. For example, should the Company seek to provide power through a self-build option, the construction of a proposed generating facility (including costs and other attributes attendant thereto) must be found reasonable and prudent under Virginia statutes. In making such determination, evidence relating to the costs and other attributes of competitive alternatives – such as other technologies for self-build options, contracts for purchased power, or other alternatives – may be relevant in determining the reasonableness or prudence of any self-build proposal.

In addition, we will not at this time initiate a new rulemaking proceeding to impose competitive bidding on all electric utilities. An applicant requesting authority to construct a generating facility retains the burden to meet all statutory requirements related thereto. Indeed, the Commission previously noted that it "has never mandated competitive bidding as part of the filing requirements for new generating facilities."[22] This is because, even without any such mandatory requirement, the applicant must decide whether it will attempt to prove its case and obtain Commission approval of a proposed generating facility with – or without – evidence resulting from a competitive bid process.

Schedule 19

The Company proposed the following revisions to Schedule 19:

> (a) increase[] the present 100 kW design capacity applicability limit to 20 MW consistent with the Company's residual QF purchase obligation under the FERC Order; (b) revise[] Section I to delete the language addressing the potential for FERC findings under PURPA Section 210(m)(1) because such findings were made in the FERC Order; and (c) revise[] Section VII to include the possibility of contract terms for longer than one year.[23]

In addition, the Company "proposed no changes in the avoided cost methodology previously approved by the Commission for Schedule 19."[24]

We also note, as did the Chief Hearing Examiner, that Staff did not object to the Company's proposed revisions to Schedule 19. The Chief Hearing Examiner further explained that Staff "observed that 20 MW facilities are still substantially smaller than utility-scale generation facilities, and standard payments based on publicly accessible PJM [Interconnection, LLC] market data reasonably reflect the Company's avoided cost with respect to small QFs for which the schedule was designed and is balanced with consideration for transparency, simplicity, and cost-effective administration."[25]

We adopt the Chief Hearing Examiner's findings that: (1) "[t]he revised Schedule 19 adequately describes the Company's avoided cost methodology;" (2) "[t]he change in the applicability of Schedule 19 to include facilities with a design capacity of 20 MW or less is reasonable and consistent with FERC action;" and (3) "[a]ll other proposed revisions to Schedule 19 are appropriate."[26] Accordingly, we approve the Company's proposed revised Schedule 19 tariff and "establish[] such tariff as the methodology that the Company will use in lieu of the Bidding Rules to determine avoided costs under PURPA for purchases from QFs with a net capacity of 20 MW or less."[27]

Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT:

(1) Virginia Power's August 8, 2008 Notice of Election to abandon its Bidding Program is accepted.

(2) Virginia Power's Application is granted.

(3) CBG's Motion for Injunction is denied.

(4) This case is dismissed.

CASE NO. PUE-2008-00079
JULY 29, 2010

APPLICATION OF
APPALACHIAN POWER COMPANY

For a certificate of public convenience and necessity for facilities in Montgomery and Roanoke Counties: Matt Funk 138 kV Transmission Line Project

ORDER EXTENDING PROJECT COMPLETION DATE

On July 21, 2010, Appalachian Power Company ("Appalachian" or "Company") filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") its Motion for Extension of Date for Completion of Construction ("Motion") of a transmission project in Roanoke and Montgomery Counties. As the Company discussed in its Motion, the Commission's approval of the project included the requirement that construction of the bus tie and 138 kV transmission line be completed within 18 months of June 24, 2009, but allowed the Company to apply for an extension of this date for good cause.[1] Appalachian states that it has made significant progress and has completed surveying, environmental studies, design, and a majority of right-of-way acquisition. However, completion of the project will take additional time, and the Company requests extension of the completion date to June 24, 2012.[2]

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the Motion, is of the opinion and finds, good cause having been shown, the Motion should be granted and the completion date extended.

[1] Application of Appalachian Power Company, For a certificate of public convenience and necessity for facilities in Montgomery and Roanoke Counties: Matt Funk 138 kV Transmission Line Project, Case No. PUE-2008-00079, Final Order, Ordering Para (4) (June 24, 2009).

[2] Motion at 2.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Case No. PUE-2008-00079 be placed in active status in the records maintained by the Clerk of the Commission and restored to the Commission's docket.

(2) The Company's Motion be granted.

(3) Ordering Paragraph (4) of the Final Order of June 24, 2009, be modified to provide that construction of the bus tie and transmission line be completed on or before June 24, 2012, provided that the Company may apply for an extension of this date for good cause shown.

(4) All other provisions of the Final Order of June 24, 2009, shall remain in full force and effect.

(5) Case No. PUE-2008-00079 be dismissed from the Commission's docket and placed in closed status in the records maintained by the Clerk of the Commission.

ORDER APPROVING STIPULATION AND ADDENDUM

On March 31, 2009, in Case No. PUE-2009-00019, Virginia Electric and Power Company d/b/a Dominion Virginia Power ("Virginia Power" or "Company") filed an application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") for statutory review of its rates, terms and conditions for the provision of generation, distribution, and transmission services ("Application") pursuant to § 56-585.1 A of the Code of Virginia ("Code"). The Company requested an annual base rate increase of $298 million. On April 6, 2009, the Company submitted an errata filing to its Application, which changed its requested annual base rate increase to $289 million.

On April 21, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Hearing that established the procedural requirements for Case No. PUE-2009-00019, scheduled a public evidentiary hearing to commence on January 20, 2010 ("January 20th hearing"), directed Virginia Power to provide direct and published notice of the proceeding, and suspended the Company's proposed rates until September 1, 2009, the maximum period permitted by statute. On April 21, 2009, the Commission issued an order granting the Company a limited waiver of certain filing requirements under 20 VAC 5-201-90.

The following parties filed notices of participation: Office of the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Counsel ("Consumer Counsel"); Fairfax County Board of Supervisors ("Fairfax"); Department of the Navy, on behalf of the Federal Executive Agencies ("Federal Executive Agencies"); Robert A. Vanderhye; Virginia Committee for Fair Utility Rates ("Committee"); Virginia Cable Telecommunications Association ("VCTA"); Chaparral (Virginia) Inc. ("Chaparral"); MeadWestvaco Corp. ("MeadWestvaco"); Wal-Mart Stores East, LP and Sam's East, Inc. (collectively, "Wal-Mart"); The Kroger Co. ("Kroger"); the Apartment and Office Building Association of Metropolitan Washington ("AOBA"); International Paper Company ("IP"); and Utility Professional Services, Inc. ("UtilityPros").

On June 29, 2009, the Commission issued an Order on Consumer Counsel's Motion in Limine, which (1) found that the rate year in Case No. PUE-2009-00019 is September 1, 2009 through August 31, 2010, and (2) directed the Company to amend its Application as necessary to comply with such finding.

On July 14, 2009, the Commission issued an Order on Commission Staff's ("Staff") Motion in Limine, which (1) found that § 56-585.1 A 10 of the Code mandates that, in Case No. PUE-2009-00019, "the Commission shall . . . utiliz[e] the actual end-of-test period capital structure and cost of capital of such utility," and (2) directed the Company to amend its Application as necessary to comply with such finding.

On July 24, 2009, Virginia Power filed amendments to its Application pursuant to the aforementioned June 29 and July 14, 2009 orders of the Commission. The Company lowered its requested annual base rate increase to $250.2 million.[1]

On September 1, 2009, Virginia Power increased its base rates by its requested $250.2 million, on an interim basis and subject to refund, as permitted by statute.

On November 5, 2009, Virginia Power, Consumer Counsel, Chaparral, MeadWestvaco, Wal-Mart, Kroger, AOBA, and IP filed, for the six cases captioned above, a Joint Motion for Leave to Present Stipulation ("Stipulation") and Proposed Recommendation and Modification of the Commission's Procedural Order ("Joint Motion").[2] The Stipulation proposed, among other things, to credit customers $397 million, to reduce base rates to their pre-September 1, 2009 level,[3] and to refund to customers all charges above that level collected by Virginia Power since September 1, 2009. The Joint Motion asked the Commission to reschedule the January 20th hearing to the earliest practical date to consider the Stipulation, and to provide notice of the rescheduled hearing.

On December 2, 2009, the Commission issued an Order on Joint Motion that, among other things: (1) explained that Staff had yet to file its testimony and recommendations; (2) denied as impractical the request to accelerate the January 20th hearing (due to the current procedural status of the case and the time required to publish notice of a new hearing); (3) noted that all issues (which included the Stipulation) could be addressed at the January 20th hearing; and (4) scheduled a prehearing conference. On December 9, 2009, the Staff filed its testimony on the Application and recommended an annual base rate decrease of $365.3 million.[4]

On January 6, 2010, the Commission held a pre-hearing conference to address procedural matters related to the January 20th hearing and on January 7, 2010, issued a guidance document regarding the conduct of such hearing.

The Commission held the public evidentiary hearing on the following days: January 20, 21, 22, 26, 27, 28, and 29, 2010, and February 2, 3, and 4, 2010. The Commission received testimony from approximately 40 witnesses for the participants in this proceeding and admitted over 125 exhibits into the record. The Commission also heard testimony from 13 public witnesses, and over 30 written or electronic public comments were submitted in this case.

On February 11 and 22, 2010, respectively, the Commission issued a guidance document regarding, and an order establishing the due date for, post-hearing briefs.

On February 26, 2010, the Staff, Federal Executive Agencies, Fairfax, Committee, VCTA, and Mr. Vanderhye – along with the parties to the previously-filed Stipulation – jointly filed: (1) an Addendum and Modification of Stipulation and Recommendation ("Addendum"); and (2) a Joint Motion to Suspend Briefing Schedule. The Addendum, among other things, increases the benefit to customers from $397 million (as reflected in the Stipulation) to $726 million,[5] includes credits through 2012, and prohibits the Company from increasing base rates prior to December 1, 2013.[6] In addition, Virginia Power would refund to customers its September 1, 2009 interim base rate increase; the amount of this refund would be dependent upon the exact amount of charges collected since that date and, for example, could exceed $145 million.[7] The Addendum requests that the Commission issue an order approving "the Stipulation, as supplemented, or modified as indicated, by the provisions set forth herein."[8]

On February 26, 2010, the Commission issued an order suspending the briefing schedule and scheduling an evidentiary hearing to receive evidence on the Stipulation and Addendum.

---

[1] See Ex. 26 at 13 (Bolton suppl. direct).

[2] The Stipulation was admitted to the record as Ex. 5. UtilityPros subsequently joined in the Stipulation. See Tr. 778-780.

[3] In addition, pre-September 1, 2009 base rates would be further reduced by $149.4 million to reflect that certain costs previously included therein are currently being recovered through a separate rate adjustment clause under § 56-585.1 A 4 of the Code (see Case No. PUE-2009-00018).

[4] See Ex. 53, Statement XIV (Pate direct). Staff subsequently reduced this amount to an annual base rate decrease of $352 million. See Ex. 54.

[5] This includes the Company's agreement to waive recovery of certain previously-incurred and federally-approved costs related to providing transmission service, as well as base rate credits of $66 million per year in 2011 and 2012.

[6] This provision, however, does not preclude all rate increases prior to that date. For example, the Company may still seek rate increases under Virginia statutes related to fuel cost recovery, rate adjustment clauses, and emergency conditions.

[7] This illustration simply reflects a straight-line calculation for seven months of a $250.2 million annual increase.

[8] Addendum at 2.

On March 4, 2010, the Commission held an evidentiary hearing to receive evidence on the Stipulation and Addendum.[9]

On March 8, 2010, Mr. Vanderhye filed a post-hearing brief. Mr. Vanderhye asserts that the Company "has not established that its rate structure for Residential Schedule 1 is 'just' and 'reasonable' as it relates to its primarily declining nature, the months selected for declining and inclining, and the cutoff between declining and inclining."[10] Mr. Vanderhye originally proposed an inclining block rate structure.[11] On brief, however, Mr. Vanderhye states that "[s]ince the provision of an all-year-round inclining block rate schedule may be too ambitious for this proceeding . . . , it is recommended that at the present time [Virginia Power] simply be required to come up with a flat rate schedule that obtains the same revenue as the present unjust rate schedule."[12]

On March 9, 2010, Staff and all of the parties in Case Nos. PUE-2009-00011 and PUE-2000-00017 filed joint motions requesting the following modifications, as reflected in the Stipulation and Addendum, to Rider S (Case No. PUE-2009-00011) and Rider R (Case No. PUE-2009-00017): (1) extend the filing date of Riders S and R applications from March 31, 2010 to on or before June 30, 2010, and on or before June 30 of each year thereafter; and (2) extend the currently approved terms of Riders S and R at the existing rate of recovery through March 31, 2011.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered this matter, is of the opinion and finds that the Stipulation and Addendum shall be approved.[13] We find that the Stipulation and Addendum, taken as a whole, are just and reasonable and satisfy the relevant statutory requirements attendant to the above-captioned cases.[14] We emphasize, however, that such finding does not establish precedent for any specific matter addressed in the Stipulation and Addendum. Finally, we note that the combination of refunds and credits provided through 2012, the elimination from future recovery of certain federally-approved transmission charges, and the reduction of base rates to their pre-September 1, 2009 level are particularly important for both residential and business consumers during the current economic conditions and should help to promote economic development in the Commonwealth.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Stipulation and Addendum (attached hereto) are approved, and Virginia Power is directed to comply therewith.

(2) In Case No. PUE-2009-00019:

(a) Virginia Power shall forthwith file revised tariffs and terms and conditions of service with the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation, in accordance with the Stipulation and Addendum, effective for service rendered on and after September 1, 2009.

(b) Virginia Power shall recalculate, using the rates and charges approved herein, each bill it rendered that used, in whole or in part, the rates and charges that took effect under bond and subject to refund on and after September 1, 2009, and, where application of the new rates results in a reduced bill, refund the difference with interest as set out below within sixty (60) days of the issuance of this Final Order.

(c) Interest upon the ordered refunds shall be computed from the date payments of monthly bills were due to the date each refund is made at the average prime rate for each calendar quarter, compounded quarterly. The average prime rate for each calendar quarter shall be the arithmetic mean, to the nearest one-hundredth of one percent, of the prime rate values published in the Federal Reserve Bulletin or in the Federal Reserve's Selected Interest Rates (Statistical Release H.15) for the three (3) months of the preceding calendar quarter.

(d) The refunds ordered herein may be credited to current customers' accounts. Refunds to former customers shall be made by check mailed to the last known address of such customers when the refund amount is $1 or more. Virginia Power may offset the credit or refund to the extent of any undisputed outstanding balance for the current or former customer. No offset shall be permitted against any disputed portion of an outstanding balance. Virginia Power may retain refunds to former customers when such refund is less than $1. Virginia Power shall maintain a record of former customers for which the refund is less than $1, and such refunds shall be promptly made upon request. All unclaimed refunds shall be subject to § 55-210.6:2 of the Code.

(e) Virginia Power shall deliver to the Commission's Divisions of Public Utility Accounting and Energy Regulation a report showing that all refunds have been made pursuant to this Order, detailing the costs of the refunds and the accounts charged.

(f) Virginia Power shall bear all costs incurred in effecting the refunds ordered herein.

(g) This case is dismissed.

[11] See, e.g., Ex. 35 at 3 (Vanderhye direct).

[12] Vanderhye post-hearing brief at 9.

[13] We likewise grant the March 9, 2010 joint motions to extend the filing dates and currently approved terms for Riders S and R.

[14] In addition, we will not impose a new rate structure for residential customers as part of the instant proceeding. We agree with the Company that significant rate design modifications should not be implemented without a more thorough investigation that analyzes the impacts of such changes. See, e.g., Ex. 111 at 39-45 (Koogler rebuttal). Although we conclude that the Company's existing rate structure continues to be just and reasonable, we also find that an inclining block rate structure and a flat rate structure should be further evaluated. Specifically, we direct the Company to submit, as part of its March 31, 2011 biennial review filing, two analyses (which shall include an explanation of the assumptions, procedures, and findings of each) for residential customers: (i) an analysis of the impacts of implementing a specific all-year-round inclining block rate structure; and (ii) an analysis of the impacts of implementing a specific all-year-round flat rate structure.

(3) The filing date for Riders S and R applications is extended from March 31, 2010 to on or before June 30, 2010, and on or before June 30 of each year thereafter, and the currently approved terms of Riders S and R are extended at the existing rate of recovery through March 31, 2011.

(4) In Case Nos. PUE-2009-00011 and PUE-2009-00017:

(a) Virginia Power shall forthwith file revised tariffs and terms and conditions of service with the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation to reflect this Order Approving Stipulation and Addendum, including the base return on common equity contained in the Stipulation and Addendum.

(b) Virginia Power shall recalculate prior bills using the base return on common equity contained in the Stipulation and Addendum, and shall provide refunds, with interest, contemporaneous with the refunds ordered above.

(c) These cases are dismissed.

(5) Case No. PUE-2009-00016 is continued.

(6) Case No. PUE-2009-00018 is re-opened for this Order Approving Stipulation and Addendum and is otherwise dismissed.

(7) Case No. PUE-2009-00081 is continued.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00026
MAY 4, 2010

APPLICATION OF APPALACHIAN NATURAL GAS DISTRIBUTION COMPANY

For an increase in rates

FINAL ORDER

On August 19, 2009, Appalachian Natural Gas Distribution Company ("ANGD" or "Company") filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") an application for an increase in rates, pursuant to 20 VAC 5-201-10 et seq. of the Commission's Rules Governing Utility Rate Applications and Annual Informational Filings. The Company requested an annual revenue increase of $217,301 for bills rendered on and after December 1, 2009, to be apportioned among ANGD's two service areas: $14,905 for the Appalachian Service Area and $202,396 for the Bluefield Service Area.

The Commission entered an Order for Notice and Hearing on September 21, 2009, which, among other things, established a procedural schedule; assigned the case to a Hearing Examiner; and scheduled an evidentiary hearing for March 31, 2010.

On January 28, 2010, the Company filed a Motion to File Supplemental Schedules and Other Information. Pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-130, the Company requested permission to amend and supplement its Application to replace Schedule 40.[1] The Company's revised Schedule 40, as well as revised Schedules 9, 11, 12, 14, 19, 21, 22, 24, 29A, B, D-R, and 36, were all accepted for filing pursuant to a Hearing Examiner's Ruling on February 2, 2010.

On February 24, 2010, the Staff filed its testimony pursuant to Ordering Paragraph (13) of the Commission's Order. After the Staff filed its testimony, it determined that minor revisions to its analysis of depreciation expenses were necessary. Although minor in nature, the revisions impacted the Staff's calculation of the Company's revenue requirement for the two service areas. On March 1, 2010, the Staff filed a Motion for Leave to File Supplemental Testimony and Exhibits ("Staff Motion"), and on March 3, 2010, the Hearing Examiner entered a Ruling granting the Staff Motion and accepting the filing of the supplemental testimony of Staff witnesses Carol A. Barrow and Marc A. Tufaro.

On March 31, 2010, a public hearing was convened before Michael D. Thomas, Hearing Examiner. No public witnesses appeared at the hearing. The Company and the Staff presented a Joint Motion to Accept Stipulation and Stipulation for consideration. The Stipulation provided for the following revenue requirements:

Appalachian Service Area – no change in annual revenue; and Bluefield Service Area – increase in annual revenue of $217,301.

Attachment A of the Stipulation contains the tariff rates and rate design to be used in collecting the required revenue from the two service areas.

Additionally, the Company and the Staff agreed that an authorized Return on Equity ("ROE") range of 11.0% to 12.0% is reasonable. For purposes of the company's future earnings tests, the Company and the Staff agreed that an 11.5% ROE benchmark, the midpoint of the ROE range of 11.0% to 12.0%, will be used for determining overearnings and such benchmark shall continue to be used unless and until there is a change in the ROE range authorized by the Commission. The Company further agreed in the Stipulation to:

[1] The Amendment to the Application supplements the original Application to revise and replace Schedule 40, which in turn, necessitated revisions to Schedules 9, 11, 12, 14, 19, 21, 22, 24, 29A, B, D-R, and 36.

- Implement, effective January 1, 2010, deferred gas accounting in its Appalachian Service Area using the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission ("FERC") Uniform System of Accounts ("USOA") Account No. 191, Unrecovered Purchased Gas Costs.
- Book its payroll tax expenses to FERC USOA Account No. 408, Taxes Other than Income Taxes.
- Calculate unbilled revenue for each customer class, separately, using each customer class's individual base and fuel rates.
- File a depreciation study updated as of December 31, 2010, with the Division of Public Utility Accounting on or before June 30, 2011.
- File tariffs prepared in conformance with the Stipulation with the Commission for its review and approval. The tariff sheets reflecting the stipulated rates and changes to the existing tariffs are included as Attachment B of the Stipulation.
- Refund, with such interest as the Commission may direct, the difference between the rates that went into effect for its Appalachian Service Area for service rendered on and after December 1, 2009, and those set forth in the Stipulation within 90 days of the Commission's Final Order in this proceeding.

Pursuant to Rule 20 VAC 5-201-10 E of the Commission's Rules Governing Utility Rate Applications and Annual Informational Filings, the Staff and ANGD agreed to waive the requirement that the Company file an Annual Informational Filing for the twelve months ended December 31, 2009. The waiver does not apply to subsequent annual informational filings.

On April 15, 2010, Hearing Examiner Michael D. Thomas filed his Report in this proceeding. In his Report, the Hearing Examiner found that the Stipulation represents a reasonable compromise of the issues in this proceeding; that the stipulated rates are just, fair and reasonable; that the Joint Motion to Accept Stipulation should be granted; and that the comment period to his Report should be waived. The Hearing Examiner recommended that the Commission enter an order that: (i) adopts the findings contained in his Report; (ii) grants the Joint Motion to Accept Stipulation; (iii) adopts the Stipulation; and (iv) orders the Company to make refunds as provided for in the Stipulation at the statutory interest rate.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having reviewed the evidence and applicable law, hereby accepts the recommendations of the Hearing Examiner.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The findings and recommendations of the April 15, 2010 Hearing Examiner's Report are hereby adopted.

(2) The Motion to Accept the Stipulation is granted, and the Stipulation is hereby adopted.

(3) The rates and tariffs set out in Attachments A and B to the Stipulation accepted herein shall be implemented for service rendered on and after the date of this Final Order.

(4) The requirement that ANGD file an Annual Informational Filing for the twelve (12) months ended December 31, 2009, is hereby waived.

(5) The Company shall implement, effective January 1, 2010, deferred gas accounting in its Appalachian Service Area using the FERC USOA Account No. 191, Unrecovered Purchased Gas Costs.

(6) The Company shall book its payroll tax expenses to FERC USOA Account No. 408, Taxes Other than Income Taxes.

(7) The Company shall calculate unbilled revenue for each customer class separately, using each customer class's individual base and fuel rates.

(8) The Company shall file a depreciation study updated as of December 31, 2010, with the Division of Public Utility Accounting on or before June 30, 2011.

(9) The Company shall file tariffs prepared in conformance with the Stipulation with the Commission for its review and approval. The tariff sheets reflecting the stipulated rates and changes to the existing tariffs are included as Attachment B of the Stipulation.

(10) The Company shall refund, at the statutory interest rate, the difference between the rates that went into effect for its Appalachian Service Area for service rendered on and after December 1, 2009, and those set forth in the Stipulation within ninety (90) days of the entry of this Final Order.

(11) Interest upon the ordered refunds shall be computed from the date payments of monthly bills were due to the date each refund is made at the average prime rate for each calendar quarter, compounded quarterly. The average prime rate for each calendar quarter shall be the arithmetic mean, to the nearest one-hundredth of one percent (.01%) of the prime rate values published in the Federal Reserve Bulletin or in the Federal Reserve's Selected Interest Rates (Statistical Release H.15) for the three (3) months of the preceding calendar quarter.

(12) The refunds ordered herein may be credited to current customers' accounts. Refunds to former customers shall be made by check mailed to the last known address of such customers where the refunded amount is One Dollar ($1.00) or more. ANGD may offset the credit or refund to the extent of any undisputed outstanding balance for its current or former customers. No offset shall be permitted against any disputed portion of an outstanding balance. ANGD may retain refunds to former customers when the refund amount is less than One Dollar ($1.00), and such refunds shall be promptly made upon request. All unclaimed refunds shall be subject to § 55-210.6:2 of the Code of Virginia.

(13) Within one hundred twenty (120) days of entry of this Final Order, ANGD shall deliver to the Divisions of Public Utility Accounting and Energy Regulation a report showing that all refunds have been made pursuant to this Final Order, detailing the costs of the refund and the accounts charged.

(14) ANGD shall bear all costs incurred in effecting the refund ordered herein.

(15) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this case is hereby dismissed and the papers herein placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00029
MARCH 4, 2010

APPLICATION OF
KENTUCKY UTILITIES COMPANY d/b/a OLD DOMINION POWER COMPANY

For an adjustment of electric base rates

FINAL ORDER

On June 3, 2009, Kentucky Utilities Company d/b/a Old Dominion Power Company ("KU/ODP" or "Company") filed an application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") requesting authority to adjust its electric base rates ("Application") pursuant to Chapter 10 of Title 56 (§ 56-232 et seq.) of the Code of Virginia ("Code") and the Rules Governing Utility Rate Applications and Annual Informational Filings (20 VAC 5-201-10 et seq.).

In its Application, KU/ODP requested an increase in rates in the amount of $12.2 million over present total revenue, or a 21% increase in its total operating revenues, including fuel. This proposed revenue requirement increase reflects a rate of return on rate base of 8.586%, based on a return on equity ("ROE") of 12% and an actual capital structure for the Company as of December 31, 2008. According to the Application, the proposed rate increase would raise the monthly bill of a typical residential customer using 1000 kilowatt-hours of electricity from $70.05 per month to $91.64 per month, an increase of $21.59 or 30.81%.

The Company included in this Application various proposed changes to its present Terms and Conditions on file with the Commission, including provisions implementing a proposed Late Payment Charge and replacing the existing Rural Extension Plan with a new Line Extension Plan. KU/ODP also proposed implementing three new rate schedules, which the Company asserts will more accurately reflect the cost of service and provide enhanced price signals to customers. The proposed Retail Transmission Service (Schedule RTS) is a time-of-day rate with a demand charge billed on a kilovolt ampere basis and is proposed to be applicable to all transmission customers. The proposed Time-of-Day Service (Schedule TOD) is a time-of-day rate that would be optional for certain large power customers. The proposed Excess Facilities Charge would apply whenever a customer requests a service arrangement requiring equipment and facilities in excess of those the Company would normally install.

In its Application, the Company stated that it expected the Commission to suspend its proposed rate schedules for 150 days from the date of filing and allow the Company to put the proposed rates into effect on an interim basis on November 1, 2009. KU/ODP also stated that it would not place its proposed Terms and Conditions and other miscellaneous charges into effect until the Commission enters its final order in this proceeding. Further, KU/ODP stated that it would not place its proposed Late Payment Charge or Line Extension Plan into effect until sixty (60) days after the Commission's final order in this case to permit customers time to transition to these particular charges.

The Commission issued an Order Suspending Rate Increase on July 2, 2009, suspending the proposed increase in rates, charges, and terms and conditions of service to and through October 31, 2009. Accordingly, the Commission held that the Company may, but was not obligated to, implement the proposed rates, charges, and terms and conditions for service rendered on and after November 1, 2009, on an interim basis, subject to refund with interest.

On July 10, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Hearing directing KU/ODP to provide notice of its Application, inviting comments on the Application by interested persons, scheduling public hearings on the Application, and establishing a procedural schedule for the filing of testimony and exhibits by respondents and the Staff of the Commission ("Staff").

No notice of participation was filed by any party interested in participating in the proceeding as a respondent. However, the Commission has received over 900 comments from KU/ODP customers and local officials opposing the timing and size of the proposed rate increase. Public hearings were conducted in Norton, Virginia, on November 18, 2009, for the purpose of receiving testimony from public witnesses. Twenty witnesses appeared during the three separate sessions held in Norton, Virginia, on November 18, 2009. Public witness concerns focused largely on the timing of the large increase and the adverse effect it would have on the community during current economic conditions.

On December 2, 2009, the Staff filed testimony recommending that KU/ODP's requested revenue requirement be reduced to an increase of $9,217,622 based on the Staff's recommended ROE midpoint of 10.0% and other accounting adjustments made by the Staff. The Staff also recommended that the revenue allocation proposed by the Company be adjusted so that any rate increase approved by the Commission be allocated equally across all customer classes. Staff also recommended reducing certain customer charges that the Company had increased and implemented on an interim basis.

On December 21, 2009, KU/ODP and the Staff filed a Joint Motion to Accept Stipulation, which the Company and Staff recommended as a resolution of all the issues in this proceeding. According to the Stipulation, KU/ODP and the Staff recommend that the Commission adopt a revenue requirement increase of $10,627,756 for base rates with a total operating revenue increase of $11,002,937 for KU/ODP. The increase is based on a recommended authorized ROE range of 10.00% to 11.00%, using a midpoint ROE of 10.5% for purposes of setting the revenue requirement in this case, and the Staff's pro forma adjustments to update rate base by $8,874,641 to reflect a portion of non-revenue producing investments made by KU/ODP during the pro forma year. The Stipulation also included resolution of the issues involving cost allocation and rate design and, in part, reduces several of the proposed customer charges that KU/ODP had increased and implemented on an interim basis on November 1, 2009.

On February 22, 2010, the Chief Hearing Examiner issued her Report in which she summarized the record, including the public witness testimony presented in Norton, Virginia, and the testimony and exhibits presented by KU/ODP and the Staff. The Chief Hearing Examiner found that based on the evidence received in this case:

(1) The Stipulation presents a reasonable resolution to those issues which it addresses and should be adopted;

(2) The use of a test year ending December 31, 2008, is proper in this proceeding;

(3) The Company's current cost of equity is within a range of 10.00% - 11.00%, and the Company's rates should be established based on the 10.5% midpoint of the range;

(4) The Company's adjusted test year rate base is $163,602,106;

(5) The Company's application requesting additional gross annual base rate revenues of $12.2 million is unjust and unreasonable;

(6) An annual base rate revenue increase of $10,627,756 as recommended in the Stipulation, however, is justified and reasonable;

(7) After adding late payment fees and other operating revenues, the increase to total operating revenues would be $11,002,973;

(8) The revenue allocation methodology recommended in the Stipulation is just and reasonable;

(9) The rates, charges, and tariff provisions recommended in the Stipulation are just and reasonable;

(10) The Company should be directed to file cost of service studies as part of its application in its next base rate case using, at a minimum, the methodologies set forth in the Stipulation; and

(11) The Company should be directed to refund, with such interest as the Commission may direct, the difference between the rates that went into effect on an interim basis for service rendered on and after November 1, 2009, and those set forth in the Stipulation.

Accordingly, the Chief Hearing Examiner recommended that the Commission enter an Order that: (i) adopts the findings in her Report; (ii) adopts the Stipulation presented by KU/ODP and the Staff; (iii) grants the Company a base rate revenue requirement increase of $10,627,756; and (iv) dismisses this case from the Commission's docket of active cases.

On February 24, 2010, KU/ODP filed a response to the Chief Hearing Examiner's Report requesting that the Commission accept the recommendations of the Chief Hearing Examiner and stating that entry of an order by the Commission by March 30, 2010, approving the rates recommended therein would allow the change in the base rates to become effective April 1, 2010.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the Company's Application, the record herein, and the applicable statutes, is of the opinion and finds that the findings and recommendations of the Chief Hearing Examiner should be adopted. We find that the Stipulation satisfies the statutory requirements that we must follow in this case. Accordingly, we will approve and adopt the Stipulation as part of this Final Order. While the proposed increase that KU/ODP implemented on an interim basis effective November 1, 2009, had the effect of raising the monthly bill of the typical residential customer using 1000 kilowatt-hours of electricity to $91.64, with this Final Order, the rates approved herein would result in a monthly bill of $83.98 for the typical residential customer using 1000 kilowatt-hours of electricity. A refund will be ordered for customers whose monthly bills were higher under the interim rates than under those rates approved by the Commission herein.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The findings and recommendations of the February 22, 2010, Chief Hearing Examiner's Report are hereby adopted.

(2) The Stipulation presented by KU/ODP and Staff is hereby adopted and made a part of this Order.

(3) KU/ODP shall forthwith file revised tariffs and terms and conditions of service with the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation, in accordance with the findings made herein, for service rendered on and after April 1, 2010.

(4) KU/ODP shall recalculate, using the rates and charges approved herein, each bill it rendered that used, in whole or in part, the rates and charges that took effect on an interim basis and subject to refund on and after November 1, 2009, and, where application of the new rates results in a reduced bill, refund the difference with interest as set out below within ninety (90) days of the issuance of this Final Order.

(5) Interest upon the ordered refunds shall be computed from the date payments of monthly bills were due to the date each refund is made at the average prime rate for each calendar quarter, compounded quarterly. The average prime rate for each calendar quarter shall be the arithmetic mean, to the nearest one-hundredth of one percent, of the prime rate values published in the Federal Reserve Bulletin or in the Federal Reserve's Selected Interest Rates (Statistical Release H. 15) for the three months of the preceding calendar quarter.

(6) The refunds ordered herein may be credited to the current customers' accounts (each refund category shall be shown separately on each customer's bill). Refunds to former customers shall be made by check mailed to the last known address of such customers when the refund amount is $1 or more. KU/ODP may offset the credit or refund to the extent of any undisputed outstanding balance for the current or former customer. No offset shall be permitted against any disputed portion of an outstanding balance. KU/ODP may retain refunds to former customers when such refund is less than $1.

KU/ODP shall maintain a record of former customers for which the refund is less than $1, and such refunds shall be promptly made upon request. All unclaimed refunds shall be subject to § 55-210.6:2 of the Code.

(7) On or before October 1, 2010, KU/ODP shall deliver to the Commission's Divisions of Public Utility Accounting and Energy Regulation a report showing that all refunds have been made pursuant to this Final Order, detailing the costs of the refunds and the accounts charged.

(8) KU/ODP shall bear all costs incurred in effecting the refund ordered herein.

(9) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this matter is dismissed from the Commission's active docket and the papers filed herein placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

NOTE: A copy of Attachment A entitled "Stipulation" is on file and may be examined at the State Corporation Commission, Clerk's Office, Document Control Center, Tyler Building, First Floor, 1300 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00030
JULY 15, 2010

APPLICATION OF
APPALACHIAN POWER COMPANY

For a statutory review of the rates, terms and conditions for the provision of generation, distribution and transmission services pursuant to § 56-585.1 A of the Code of Virginia

FINAL ORDER

On July 15, 2009, pursuant to § 56-585.1 A of the Code of Virginia ("Code") and the State Corporation Commission's ("Commission") Rules Governing Utility Rate Applications and Annual Informational Filings (20 VAC 5-201-10 et seq.) ("Rate Case Rules"), Appalachian Power Company ("APCo" or "Company") filed an application with the Commission requesting a statutory review of the Company's rates, terms and conditions for the provision of generation, distribution and transmission services ("Application").[1] On July 23, 2009, the Company supplemented and completed its Application by filing a revised Schedule 36 and submitting all of the information required by Schedules 18 and 28 of the Rate Case Rules.[2]

On July 23, 2009, APCo filed a Motion for Leave to File Supplemental Direct Testimony and Schedules in order to calculate the Company's revenue requirement in this proceeding based on its actual end-of-test year capital structure and cost of capital as of December 31, 2008, instead of the November 30, 2010 projected capital structure proposed in the Company's Application.[3] On July 27, 2009, the Commission entered an Order Granting Motion, which directed the Company to file its supplemental testimony and schedules on or before August 14, 2009. In accordance with the Commission's July 27, 2009 Order, APCo filed its supplemental testimony and schedules on August 14, 2009.

The Application, as amended, requests an increase in base rates of approximately $154 million.[4] The Application, as further supplemented, asserts that a rate increase of approximately $167 million is warranted based on the Company's operations for the test year ended December 31, 2008, as adjusted.[5] The Company requests a return on rate base of 9.027% and a return on common equity of 13.35%.[6] APCo states that the proposed 13.35% return on common equity is based on a traditional cost of equity calculation of 12.50% plus a proposed 0.85% performance incentive for the Company's generating plant performance, customer service, and operating efficiency as authorized by § 56-585.1 A of the Code.[7] The Company represents that the proposed rate increase would raise the monthly bill of a typical residential customer using 1,000 kilowatt-hours of electricity from $91.49 per month to $107.14 per month, an increase of $15.65, or 17.1%.[8]

APCo asserts that an increase in base rates is necessary because its current earnings are inadequate to allow the Company to fully recover its costs and earn a fair rate of return on common equity.[9] The Company states that several factors have contributed to its need for rate relief, including: the loss of a large industrial customer in West Virginia in 2009, which causes additional costs to be allocated to the Company's Virginia jurisdictional operations; increases in APCo's capacity equalization charges from affiliated companies; and the rising costs incurred to comply with state and federal environmental requirements.[10]

The Company also proposes several changes to its existing tariffs in order to recover its proposed base rate increase. APCo states that the discrete charges embedded in its rate schedules have been revised to recover the Company's proposed rate increase and to move each customer class closer towards cost of service. In addition, the Company proposes to implement a new rate schedule and rider for its medium and large commercial and industrial customers. The new rate schedule, which the Company designates as Schedule GS (General Service), would combine the Company's current Schedules MGS (Medium General Service) and LGS (Large General Service) into a single rate schedule. The Company states that it developed Schedule GS in order to provide an additional option for the Commission to consider when deciding how best to address customer migration between the Company's medium and large general service rate schedules.[11] The Company proposes to place Schedule GS into effect on the date of the Commission's final order in this proceeding.

In addition, APCo proposes to implement a new Economic Development Rider designed to encourage economic development in the Company's service territory. The Company asserts that the Economic Development Rider would offer demand charge reductions to qualifying new and existing large commercial and industrial customers who increase their load by one megawatt or more by investing in new plant and other facilities that help sustain the economy and create jobs.[12]

The Company also proposes certain changes to its terms and conditions of service and its credit and collections program. The proposed changes include, among other things: (i) suspending the Company's current credit and collections program that allows it to require additional deposit amounts if a residential customer exhibits an extended pattern of delinquency or if the deposit on hand is inadequate given the size of a customer's monthly bill; (ii) changing deposits to an amount that is equal to two times the average monthly usage of a customer rather than an amount equal to the customer's estimated bill for the two highest consecutive months of usage; (iii) allowing payments for deposits to be extended up to six months in cases of hardship; and (iv) allowing customers who participate in the Company's budget billing program to spread their settlement payments over the next twelve months of the budget year rather than paying the settlement over three months.[13]

APCo sought to place its proposed rates, terms and conditions of service, with the exception of Schedule GS, into effect on an interim basis beginning December 12, 2009, at which time the Company's proposed transmission rider would also take effect. In this regard, APCo noted that it filed a companion application on July 15, 2009, proposing that certain transmission-related costs charged by PJM Interconnection LLC ("PJM"), be removed from the Company's base rates and recovered through a separate rate adjustment clause, as authorized by § 56-585.1 A 4 of the Code.[14] In order to avoid any duplication of transmission revenues or omission of transmission costs in the Company's rates, the Company proposed that both its requested base rate increase and its approved transmission rider be placed into effect simultaneously on December 12, 2009.

On August 26, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Hearing that, among other things: (1) established a procedural schedule for this case; (2) directed APCo to provide public notice of this matter; and (3) as directed by statute, permitted (but did not require) APCo to place its proposed rates into effect on an interim basis, subject to refund, for service rendered on and after December 12, 2009.

The following parties filed notices of intent to participate in this proceeding: VML/VACO APCo Steering Committee ("VML/VACO"); Wal-Mart Stores East, LP & Sam's East, Inc. ("Wal-Mart"); Steel Dynamics, Inc. ("Steel Dynamics"); The Kroger Company ("Kroger"); Old Dominion Committee for Fair Utility Rates ("Committee"); Office of the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Counsel ("Consumer Counsel"); and Utility Management Services, Inc.

The Company placed its proposed rates into effect on an interim basis, subject to refund, for service rendered on and after December 12, 2009. On February 24, 2010, APCo filed a letter and tariffs with the Commission explaining that for bills rendered on and after that date it was: (1) suspending further collection of its interim rates; and (2) collecting revenue at the level of base rates prior to December 12, 2009 (with the exception of transmission expenses approved as part of the Company's transmission rate adjustment clause in Case No. PUE-2009-00031). The Company explained that it was taking this action pursuant to emergency legislation enacted during the 2010 Session of the Virginia General Assembly.[15] This same legislation further directs the Commission to issue a final order in the instant case "not later than July 15, 2010, for rates to become effective for bills rendered on and after August 1, 2010."[16]

The Commission held public hearings and received testimony from public witnesses in Abingdon (November 18, 2009), Rocky Mount (November 19, 2009), and Richmond (March 16, 2010). The Commission convened the public evidentiary hearing on March 30 and 31, 2010 and April 1

On or before May 18, 2010, the following participants filed post-hearing briefs: APCo; VML/VACO; Wal-Mart; Steel Dynamics; Kroger; Committee; Consumer Counsel; and the Commission's Staff ("Staff").

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of this matter, is of the opinion and finds as follows.

Cost of Capital

Capital Structure

Section 56-585.1 A 10 of the Code requires the Commission to "utiliz[e] the actual end-of-test period capital structure" in this proceeding. We reject APCo's suggestion that using this statutorily-required capital structure may prevent the Company from having an opportunity to earn a reasonable return on its capital investment.[17] As explained by Staff: (1) APCo's "argument that some components of a weighted average cost of capital calculation have increased [after the test year] fails to take into account any decreases in other components of that calculation;" (2) "[f]or example, the current cost of short-term debt is lower – indeed, significantly lower – than the 3.906% end-of-test year cost rate, which is also required by law;" (3) "[m]oreover, the costs and relative ratios that determine a weighted average cost of capital are influenced by all issuances, including any future issuances that have not yet occurred;" and (4) "[g]iven these facts, the evidence simply does not show that compliance with the law will not allow [APCo] the opportunity to recover its cost of capital."[18] We find that Staff's proposed use of an actual per books capital structure complies with § 56-585.1 A 10 of the Code, is "consistent with Commission precedent," and is reasonable for purposes of this proceeding.[19]

Cost of Debt

Section 56-585.1 A 10 of the Code also requires the Commission to "utiliz[e] the actual end-of-test period . . . cost of capital" in this proceeding, which includes (i) long-term debt, and (ii) short-term debt. Accordingly, we approve the actual end-of-test period cost of (i) long-term debt (6.065%), and (ii) short-term debt (3.906%).[20]

Cost of Equity

Section 56-585.1 A of the Code states that "the Commission shall determine fair rates of return on common equity [and] may use any methodology to determine such return it finds consistent with the public interest." We find that a market cost of equity within a range of 9.5% to 10.5% results in a fair and reasonable return on common equity. This return is reasonably supported by the testimony and resulting recommendations of Staff witness Maddox and Committee witness Gorman.[21] Moreover, we find that the methodologies employed by these witnesses are consistent with the public interest and satisfy the standards as stated by Mr. Maddox: "maintenance of financial integrity, the ability to attract capital on reasonable terms, and earnings commensurate with returns on investments of comparable risk."[22]

In addition, we find that the Company's proposed cost of equity of 12.5% does not represent the actual cost of equity in the marketplace and a reasonable return on common equity. In addition to other valid criticisms, Company witness Avera's "cost of equity testimony was never updated with any data beyond March 2009, which was the bottom of a severe drop in the market[, and in] the thirteen months that passed between March 2009 and the conclusion of the evidentiary hearing, the market increased approximately 50%."[23] Indeed, this deficiency in Company witness Avera's recommendation is underscored by more recent testimony that he provided on behalf of other American Electric Power Company ("AEP") operating companies before the Kentucky and Michigan Public Service Commissions – where his use of updated information results in significantly lower cost of equity estimates.[24]

Finally, we find that "Staff witness Maddox's proxy group is reasonably constituted both in size and composition" and "has risk comparable to [APCo]."[25] Moreover, Staff notes that: (i) Company witness Avera previously presented a proxy group on behalf of AEP in a recent Federal Energy Regulatory Commission ("FERC") proceeding, wherein he included "three of the same companies that Dr. Avera now criticizes Mr. Maddox for including in his proxy group;" and (ii) although Dr. Avera criticizes Mr. Maddox for including utilities with a Value Line safety rating above AEP's, "Dr. Avera included in testimonies filed on behalf of other AEP operating subsidiaries only a few months before Mr. Maddox's testimony four of the same companies with Value Line safety ratings higher than those of AEP."[26]

Statutory Peer Group Floor

Section 56-585.1 A of the Code states as follows:

> [T]he Commission shall determine fair rates of return on common equity applicable to the generation and distribution services of the utility . . . but such return shall not be set lower than the average of the returns on common equity reported to the Securities and Exchange Commission for the three most recent annual periods for which such data are available by not less than a majority, selected by the Commission as specified in subdivision 2 b, of other investor-owned electric utilities in the peer group of the utility, nor shall the Commission set such return more than 300 basis points higher than such average. The peer group of the utility shall be determined in the manner prescribed in subdivision 2 b.

Next, in selecting the majority of the peer group utilities to calculate the statutory floor for rate of return on common equity, § 56-585.1 A 2 b of the Code directs as follows:

> In selecting such majority of peer group investor-owned electric utilities, the Commission shall first remove from such group the two utilities within such group that have the lowest reported returns of the group, as well as the two utilities within such group that have the highest reported returns of the group, and the Commission shall then select a majority of the utilities remaining in such peer group.

No party contested the composition of the peer group – which in this case is comprised of seven utilities after removing the companies with the two highest, and the two lowest, reported returns as required by the above statute.[27] The participants, however, differ on which utilities should comprise the "majority" to be selected by the Commission to determine the statutory floor.

In this regard, the statute clearly leaves this selection to the Commission's discretion. A statutory floor comprised of any four of the seven-member peer group satisfies the statute. Indeed, APCo acknowledged during the hearing that the statute gives the Commission this discretion.[28] We select a majority consisting of four peer group utilities that, on average, had a return on average equity of 10.53%.[29] Thus, we approve a fair rate of return on common equity for APCo of 10.53%, which results in an overall rate of return on rate base of approximately 7.85%. We find that the cost of equity and overall rate of return approved herein are fair and reasonable, permit the attraction of capital on reasonable terms, fairly compensate investors for the risks assumed, and enable the Company to maintain its financial integrity. This finding reduces the Company's requested rate increase by approximately $28.0 million.[30]

The facts and circumstances of the two cases are simply not comparable. For example, the settlement approved by the Commission in the Dominion rate case encompassed a number of items not present in the instant proceeding, including: (1) refunds or credits of fuel, base rate, and rate adjustment clause recoveries that totaled approximately $726 million; and (2) the Dominion stipulation also provided for no change in base rates until December 2013, at the earliest. See, e.g., Staff's May 18, 2010 Post-hearing Brief at 37-38 (citing Tr. 1191-92 (Waldo); Application of Virginia Electric and Power Company, For a 2009 statutory review of rates, terms and conditions for the provision of generation, distribution and transmission services pursuant to § 56-585.1 A of the Code of Virginia, Case No. PUE-2009-00019 et al., Order Approving Stipulation and Addendum (Mar. 11, 2010)).

Rate of Return Adder

Section 56-585.1 A of the Code states as follows:

> The Commission may increase or decrease such combined rate of return by up to 100 basis points based on the generating plant performance, customer service, and operating efficiency of a utility, as compared to nationally recognized standards determined by the Commission to be appropriate for such purposes.

We reject APCo's request to increase its fair rate of return on equity by 0.85%. This statute does not require the Commission to approve any increase to APCo's fair rate of return as determined above. Based on the record in this case, we find that the Company's generating plant performance, customer service, and operating efficiency do not warrant any adder above APCo's fair rate of return at this time.[31] This finding reduces the Company's requested rate increase by approximately $13.0 million.[32]

Capacity Equalization Expense

The Company "is a member of the AEP-East Power Pool which is governed by an interconnection agreement [('Interconnection Agreement')]."[33] Staff and Consumer Counsel present extensive evidence and argument regarding the capacity equalization charges that APCo is required by the Interconnection Agreement to pay to certain other AEP operating affiliates. Under the Interconnection Agreement, "[a] generating capacity obligation is calculated for each AEP-East company, and those companies that do not own enough capacity to satisfy their calculated obligation must make payments to those with surplus capacity."[34] Further, "[s]ince 2007, [APCo] has been the most deficient company in the AEP-East pool by a substantial margin."[35] Staff also contends that "AEP has maintained [APCo] as a capacity-deficient company notwithstanding the fact that AEP's capacity equalization charges to [APCo] have tripled – from $138 million to $394 million – since 2006,"[36] and that "AEP has also maintained [APCo] as a capacity-deficient company as it has taken aggressive steps to move another AEP-East operating company from a deficiency comparable to that of [APCo] to a surplus position."[37]

In fact, Consumer Counsel argues that "APCo's capacity deficit position is the most troubling driver of the requested rate increase" – although the Interconnection Agreement "calls for each AEP-East company to have sufficient capacity resources to serve its native load . . . APCo's deficit has increased as new generation capacity has been repeatedly assigned by AEP to other members of the pool."[38] Some of the limited capacity additions proposed for APCo have reflected some of AEP's highest cost generation, while lower cost generation has been assigned to an affiliated company, Columbus Southern Power Company ("Columbus Southern"). For example, Consumer Counsel asserts that AEP assigned new capacity to Columbus Southern when AEP could foresee that such action would increase Columbus Southern's earned return on investment and leave APCo to pay increasing capacity charges, which would put pressure on APCo's earned returns and upward pressure on rates.[39] While APCo now states that it has earned low returns over the past several years, this should be viewed in connection with the fact that Columbus Southern – another AEP-owned subsidiary – "is earning returns of up to 22%" according to evidence presented in this case.[40]

Indeed, it can be reasonably argued, as Consumer Counsel has done, that over the past several years AEP has repeatedly taken actions in assigning capacity that have harmed APCo and its customers while benefitting other AEP subsidiaries.[41] As noted above, the Company's capacity deficit position "has increased as new generation capacity has been repeatedly assigned by AEP to other members of the pool," and this "new capacity for other AEP-East companies consists of relatively low cost gas-fired generating units which were acquired by AEP . . . at costs below a new build."[42] Based on a variety of factors, including this capacity deficit, "APCo is paying nearly $258 million . . . more annually to its sister companies for capacity equalization than it did in 2006."[43]

[42] Id. at 4-5.

[43] Id. at 3. While this discussion focuses on APCo's capacity equalization payments, we recognize that the Company's generation costs are not limited to such payments; that is, if APCo possessed more of its own generation, it obviously would be incurring the costs associated therewith. We further note, however, that when AEP did propose new capacity for APCo, its major project – a new coal-fired facility known as an Integrated Gasification Combined Cycle plant – (i) was originally projected to cost far more than other coal-fired options, and (ii) was further burdened with such significant and unquantifiable cost and technological uncertainties that the Commission found it must be rejected. See, e.g., Application of Appalachian Power Company,

APCo acknowledges that it did not necessarily act in its own best interests regarding the assignment of capacity within the AEP-East Pool. That is, in this instance, APCo indicated that it supported what was deemed best for the AEP system – not what was necessarily best for APCo:

> [T]his is a zero sum construct, so I'm viewing that in terms of the total AEP system. I weigh in with the considerations of the specific impact on APCo, but my vote is a reflection of what I believe is best for the AEP System.[44]

Indeed, as summed up by Consumer Counsel, "[i]f the pooling arrangement is a zero sum construct as APCo insists, then it becomes even clearer that by assigning so much capacity to [Columbus Southern], AEP has intentionally benefitted other pool parties at APCo's expense."[45] The Commission, however, is limited in its jurisdiction regarding APCo's capacity equalization expense under the Interconnection Agreement, which is a wholesale power pooling agreement that has been approved by FERC, and cannot "reallocate" capacity responsibility among the AEP operating companies as dictated by the terms of the Interconnection Agreement.

A number of key factors affect APCo's overall capacity costs, and Staff and Consumer Counsel are correct that decisions by APCo and AEP regarding capacity additions, and which affiliated operating companies undertake those additions, can and do have significant impacts on APCo. We are concerned that the decision making over recent years regarding capacity changes has had a significant adverse effect on APCo and its ratepayers. Accordingly, we direct APCo and AEP to submit a written report to Staff (beyond what has been presented in this record), on or before January 4, 2011, on the reasons for their past actions regarding capacity, as well as the steps that can be taken to ameliorate the negative effects of high capacity charges on APCo and its customers.

In determining a reasonable level of capacity equalization expense to be included in APCo's going-forward rates for purposes of this proceeding, the participants have litigated two issues that must be considered for rate setting purposes in this case: (1) Member Load Ratio ("MLR"); and (2) Capacity Equalization Rate. We address both of these issues below. In sum, based on our findings below, we approve a Virginia jurisdictional capacity equalization expense of approximately $154.6 million.

Member Load Ratio

APCo's MLR is used to determine its generating capacity obligation to the AEP-East Power Pool.[46] The Company proposes to utilize a forecasted average MLR for the rate year of approximately 33.165%.[47] Staff asserts that the MLR "is not reasonably predictable," and that "rates should instead be based on the five-year average [MLR] of 31.98%."[48] Consumer Counsel similarly proposes a five-year average MLR.[49] Both Staff and Consumer Counsel note that the Commission has previously used a five-year average MLR to calculate a reasonable rate year level of capacity equalization expense for APCo.[50]

We continue to find that it is reasonable to establish APCo's MLR based on a five-year average. While we do not preclude consideration of other approaches in the future, as we previously found in a prior APCo rate case, "[u]se of a five-year average MLR at this time should moderate the volatility of the MLR in general and avoids setting rates solely on the basis of an extremely high or low MLR."[51] Such use of a five-year average reasonably addresses the unpredictable nature of the MLRs throughout the AEP-East system.[52] Over the past ten years, APCo has seen MLRs ranging from approximately 28% to over 35%.[53] Staff also notes that "[d]uring the last ten years, the Company's MLR has experienced several rapid increases and decreases alike."[54] Moreover, it is understandable that MLRs could be significantly volatile. For example, APCo's specific MLR is influenced not only by its load, but by load variations of the other AEP-East companies. That is, APCo's MLR is impacted by diverse factors stretching across the entire AEP-East footprint, including economic cycles, weather patterns, usage patterns, and customer migration.[55]

Staff's proposed five-year average MLR utilizes actual data through October 2009.[56] Subsequent to the filing of Staff's testimony, however, the record in this case was expanded by the Company to include actual MLR data through February 2010, which results in a higher five-year average MLR and a larger revenue requirement as compared to using October 2009 data. We find that it is reasonable, based on the record in this case, to use the most recent five-year average in the record – i.e., through February 2010 – to establish the Company's MLR. This finding results in an MLR for APCo of 32.44% and reduces the Company's requested rate increase by approximately $15.0 million.[57]

Capacity Equalization Rate

The Capacity Equalization Rate "is the price charged" for APCo's capacity deficiency, and it consists of: (1) "the Capacity Investment Rate ('Investment Rate'), which is based on the gross installed cost of the surplus members' generating units and a FERC-approved annual carrying charge of 16.49%;" and (2) "the Fixed Operating Rate ('Operating Rate'), which is based on the operating costs and one-half of the maintenance costs of the surplus members' units."[58]

First, we find that Staff's proposed Investment Rate is reasonable for this purpose: (1) "[p]ursuant to the terms of the Interconnection Agreement, the Investment Rate to be used for an entire calendar year is fixed at the affiliates' plant investments as of December 31 of the previous year;" (2) "[t]hus, the Investment Rate for 2010 will be based on those investments as of December 31, 2009;" and (3) "Staff calculated its Investment Rate based on investment data as of that date, which was provided by the Company."[59] Second, we do not find the Company's proposed Operating Rate, which is based on forecasts, to be reliable for setting rates herein. Rather, we find that Staff's proposed actual October 2009 Operating Rate, which is the most recent actual Staff-audited Operating Rate and uses actual October 2009 data, is reasonable and shall be used to calculate the Capacity Equalization Rate for purposes of this proceeding.[60] These findings result in a Capacity Equalization Rate of $12.73 per kW and reduce the Company's requested rate increase by approximately $12.8 million.[61]

Cook Accidental Outage Insurance Proceeds

As explained by the Company, "[b]oth units of the Cook Nuclear Plant ("Cook") are owned by I&M, another AEP-East Zone operating company," and "Cook Unit 1 experienced an accident on September 20, 2008 and remained out of service until December 18, 2009."[62] Although Cook Unit 1 has resumed production, it "is not expected to return to full power until the fall of 2011."[63] I&M "maintains accidental outage insurance on the Cook facility . . . in addition to property insurance [and has] received $184.4 million in accidental outage policy proceeds through December 2009 and an additional $72.1 million of property insurance proceeds through September 2009."[64] Conversely, AEP has "continued to charge [APCo] 'full price' for Cook's installed capacity cost and certain operating and maintenance expense through the AEP-East pool capacity equalization mechanism."[65]

Staff asserts that the Commission should reduce APCo's "proposed revenue requirement [in this proceeding] by $14.7 million, which is half of [APCo's] Virginia jurisdictional MLR share of the [Cook insurance] proceeds."[66] We conclude that it is not appropriate at this time to deem insurance proceeds received by I&M to be allocable for rate setting purposes in Virginia, which does not preclude consideration of such matters in future proceedings.

[56] Staff's proposed five-year average also adjusts for the loss of Century Aluminum, a former 300 megawatt customer in APCo's West Virginia jurisdiction. APCo did not oppose specific recognition of Century Aluminum in this case. Moreover, both APCo and Staff supported accounting adjustments to recognize the loss of Century Aluminum in the instant case. See, e.g., Staff's May 18, 2010 Post-hearing Brief at 81.

[57] This MLR is determined by (1) using actual MLRs as shown by Consumer Counsel witness Norwood, which were updated through February 2010 by Company witness Nelson (resulting in a five-year average of 33.04%), and (2) adjusting for the loss of Century Aluminum (reducing the five-year average MLR by 0.6%). See, e.g., Ex. 64 (Norwood direct) at Ex. Mountaineer Carbon Capture and Sequestration Demonstration Project

As described by Consumer Counsel, the Company is undertaking the Mountaineer Carbon Capture and Sequestration Demonstration Project at its "Mountaineer coal-fired plant in West Virginia in an effort to test and prove whether carbon capture and sequestration [('CCS')] is a viable commercial technology for coal-fired electric generation plants in the event carbon emissions are regulated," and this "is the first CCS project being undertaken at an in-service coal plant."[67] Specifically, this is a "validation project" intended to test CCS technology at a level that is not commercial in scale.[68] The Company asserts that "[c]ustomers of utilities in the U.S. and abroad will benefit from the work we are doing at our Mountaineer plant," but that the "first use of any technology comes at a higher cost than subsequent uses."[69] The Company concludes that "it is most prudent to gain knowledge now that will allow compliance with [greenhouse gas ('GHG')] controls, whether in the form of state or federal legislation or via regulatory action."[70] APCo seeks to include approximately $74 million in rate base, and requests both a return on rate base and recovery of expenses, for this project.[71]

It is reasonable for AEP to evaluate and explore options regarding potential federal legislation or regulation regarding GHG emissions. We do not find, however, that it was reasonable for APCo to incur the Mountaineer CCS project costs and then seek recovery from Virginia ratepayers. For example: (i) although AEP asserts that this demonstration project will benefit customers of all of AEP's operating companies and of all utilities in the United States, APCo's ratepayers (and not shareholders) are being asked to pay for all of the costs incurred by AEP for this project; and (ii) as stated by Consumer Counsel, "AEP is undertaking no other [CCS] initiatives at any of its other subsidiaries' plants," and "APCo and its customers are being asked to shoulder the entire financial burden and risk associated with AEP's [CCS] research and development."[72] Accordingly, we deny the Company's request for cost recovery of the Mountaineer CCS demonstration project under the facts presented herein.[73] This finding reduces the Company's requested rate increase by approximately $9.8 million.

December 2009 Storm Costs

The Company stated that it "incurred substantial costs from storms in December 2009 that totaled approximately $26.8 million in incremental distribution operations and maintenance costs."[74] We will allow the Company to "defer on its books this incremental distribution storm restoration expense, until such time as a request for recovery is made and subsequently ruled upon by the Commission."[75] This finding does not constitute approval or rejection of all or part of these costs.

PJM Ancillary Fees

We reject APCo's projection of PJM ancillary fees. These fees are based on variables (such as the amount of hours that AEP's generating plants run and market prices) that have proven to be volatile in the past.[76] We do not find that the Company's projection of future PJM ancillary fees "reasonably can be predicted to occur during the rate year."[77] Rather, we find that it is reasonable for the revenue requirement established herein to reflect actual PJM ancillary fees as occurred during the twelve months ended October 31, 2009, and that such level of fees provides the Company with a reasonable opportunity to recover its costs. This finding reduces the rate increase requested in the Company's Application by approximately $7.4 million.

Employee Incentive Plans

AEP has an Annual Incentive Plan ("AIP") and a Long-Term Incentive Plan (collectively, "Incentive Plans"). As explained by Staff: (1) "[a]ward calculations for the Incentive Plans are based in large part on AEP earnings and shareholder return;" (2) "[i]ndeed, AEP earnings performance ultimately determines the AIP payouts in any given year;" (3) "[t]he primary goals of the Incentive Plans are to increase shareholder value;" (4) "[t]he VML/VACO also asserts that the Commission should deny the costs associated herewith. VML/VACO's May 18, 2010 Post-hearing Brief at 9. Furthermore: (1) this project significantly increases operation and maintenance expenses at the Mountaineer plant; (2) this project decreases the efficiency of the Mountaineer facility, which results in increased fuel costs; (3) the CCS technology decreases the Mountaineer plant's operating capacity, which further increases APCo's capacity deficit position within the AEP-East pool and, thus, increases APCo's capacity equalization charges; and (4) the potential benefits to Virginia ratepayers currently are speculative at best. See, e.g., Consumer Counsel's May 18, 2010 Post-hearing Brief at 24-29; Staff's May 18, 2010 Post-hearing Brief at 13-15.

[73] In addition, although there was evidence that this CCS project could also increase APCo's fuel and capacity equalization charges, we do not address in this case whether an approved level of such charges should be reduced to remove the impact of the Mountaineer CCS project. See, e.g., Consumer Counsel's May 18, 2010 Post-hearing Brief at 25; Ex. 100 (Carr direct) at 63-64.

benefits of incentivizing [earnings per share] and stock price growth accrue primarily to AEP's shareholder[s];" and (5) "because these incentives are driven by AEP earnings and stock prices, they may actually provide incentives to take certain actions that are not necessarily in the best interests of [APCo] or its ratepayers."[78] The Company seeks to collect 100% of the costs of the Incentive Plans from ratepayers.

The Company has not shown that 100% of the Incentive Plan expenses serve to benefit ratepayers. We will not, however, reject all of these costs; rather, as recommended by Staff, we find that 50% of such expenses are just and reasonable for ratemaking purposes in this case.[79] This finding reduces APCo's requested rate increase by approximately $4.2 million.

Environmental Expenses

We reject APCo's projection of environmental expenses. As explained by Staff:

> [The Company] incurs expense to operate its environmental control equipment. These expenses include the handling and disposal of gypsum and the consumption of urea, limestone, trona, polymer, and lime hydrate. The Company incurs additional expense to consume emission allowances, which are used to offset emissions of regulated pollutants.[80]

We find that the Company's forecasts of these environmental expenses have proven to be unreliable and inaccurate.[81] We do not find that the Company's projections of future environmental expenses "reasonably can be predicted to occur during the rate year."[82] Rather, we adopt Staff's proposed expense level for this purpose, which uses actual data and limited forecasts that we find reasonably can be predicted to occur during the rate year.[83] Staff evaluated and audited individual components of this expense and made reasonable recommendations on each.[84] The difference between the Company's and Staff's proposals "results primarily from the Company's forecasts for urea, limestone, and polymer."[85] We further find that Staff's recommended level of environmental expenses provides the Company with a reasonable opportunity to recover its costs. This finding reduces the rate increase requested in the Company's Application by approximately $5.3 million.

Rate Base

We reject the Company's proposed rate year average adjustments to rate base, which include projected future costs for items such as plant in service, construction work in progress ("CWIP"), accumulated depreciation, and accumulated deferred income taxes. We agree with Staff that APCo's predictions of these significant rate base components are "based on unreliable and inaccurate assumptions."[86] We do not find that the Company's projected "future costs . . . reasonably can be predicted to occur during the rate year."[87] Rather, we find that it is reasonable for the rate base established herein to reflect Staff's proposed rate base, which contains "[r]ecent, actual information, normalized or annualized when necessary and adjusted for reasonably predictable future changes."[88]

We also find, contrary to APCo's assertions, that the rate base approved herein provides the Company with a reasonable opportunity to recover its costs. The approved rate base includes known costs, plus future costs (such as CWIP related to distribution projects) that we conclude reasonably can be predicted to occur during the rate year. In addition, APCo's contention that the approved rate base will not permit recovery of costs associated with capital investment in scrubbers for its Amos coal plant is misplaced.[89] First, the rate base that APCo proposed does not include these scrubbers.[90] Second, the

In addition, in a footnote on Attachment 2 of its post-hearing brief, the Company "requests recognition of the Amos 2 scrubber and its expenses." Id. at Attach. 2 n.3. We recognize that the Company may seek to include Amos 2 scrubbers in subsequent rate cases if appropriate, but such recognition does not modify our rate base findings for purposes of the instant proceeding.

Amos scrubbers provide further example of how the Company's projected future costs of such rate base components are not reasonably predictable. Specifically, "[i]n the space of just ten months, a $530 million construction project had its in-service dates moved from: (a) March 2010 and December 2010 to (b) 2012, and (c) back to the first quarters of 2010 and 2011."[91] Finally, the rate base and associated revenue growth adjustment that we approve herein does not decrease – but, rather, increases – the Company's proposed revenue requirement.[92]

The rate base and associated revenue adjustment approved herein increases the Company's rate request by approximately $3.5 million.[93]

Deferred Fuel Balance

Consumer Counsel "recommended an adjustment to the deferred fuel balance to reflect an updated estimated fuel balance," and the Company agreed with the recommended adjustment.[94] We find that Consumer Counsel's proposed adjustment, which uses APCo's "revised forecast of rate year fuel cost deferrals . . . for determining the 13-month average deferral fuel balance to be included in working capital in this case," is reasonable and shall be approved.[95] This finding reduces the Company's requested rate increase by approximately $2.4 million.

Next, the Committee asserts that the "Commission should exclude from revenue requirement the costs of APCo's wind purchased power costs associated with the Camp Grove and Fowler Ridge Projects," which are part of the Company's renewable energy portfolio standard ("RPS") program under § 56-585.2 B of the Code.[96] The Committee states, among other things, that "APCo has not shown that its proposed inclusion of [these] costs in the deferred fuel component of rate base complies with Va. Code § 56-585.2 E."[97] The Company opposes such adjustment,[98] which would reduce its requested rate increase by approximately $1.2 million.[99] We find that APCo has not satisfied – nor even attempted to satisfy – the statutory standards under § 56-585.2 E of the Code for recovery of these costs. Specifically, and as we similarly found in APCo's prior fuel factor proceeding:

> [T]he Company has not met its burden under [the plain language of § 56-585.2 E of the Code] (a) to establish what portion – if any – of the Camp Grove and Fowler Ridge costs represent 'incremental costs of the RPS program,' and (b) to allocate and recover such costs based on demand and excluding large industrial rate classes. Accordingly, we reject the Company's request to include … the RPS program costs attendant to Camp Grove and Fowler Ridge.[100]

In sum, the two findings above, which decrease the deferred fuel component of rate base, collectively reduce the Company's requested rate increase by approximately $3.6 million.

Accumulated Deferred Income Taxes and Accumulated Deferred Investment Tax Credits

Accumulated Deferred Income Taxes ("ADIT") and Accumulated Deferred Investment Tax Credits ("ADITC") are components of rate base and are related to separate operating expenses that the Commission has permitted APCo to recover herein.[101] The Company proposes to functionalize the rate base impact of ADIT/ADITC based on APCo's functional ledgers.[102] Staff, however, proposes to functionalize the rate base impact of these items in a manner that is similar to the method by which the related operating expenses are functionalized.[103] We adopt Staff's recommendation and find that it is reasonable to functionalize the rate base impact of ADIT/ADITC based on the same functionalization of related expenses. This treatment also avoids a ratemaking mismatch and permits recovery of appropriate expenses and return on rate base. This finding reduces the Company's requested rate increase by approximately $3.6 million.

Overtime Pay

We find that the Company's proposed overtime pay expense is reasonable.

Capitalization of Executive Compensation

We find that the Company's proposed expensing of executive compensation is reasonable.

Umbrella Trust Plan

The Umbrella Trust Plan funds payments for certain executive employee benefits administered by AEPSC and was established to dedicate funds for these benefits in the event of a bankruptcy or change in control of AEP.[104] In addition: (1) "[t]ypically, the gains on the plan assets offset all or a portion of the cost of those benefits;" (2) "from 2004 through the 2008 test year, [APCo] experienced a loss only in the test year;" and (3) "[t]his aberration in 2008 was due primarily to losses in the stock market."[105] Accordingly, we find that the Company's request to include one-half of the abnormal test year loss as a rate year expense is unreasonable. Rather, we conclude that it is reasonable to reflect a normalized level of Umbrella Trust Plan results. Specifically, we find that it is reasonable to use a five-year average of such results – which reflects both (i) gains from 2004 through 2007, and (ii) losses from 2008.[106] This finding reduces the Company's requested rate increase by approximately $1.3 million.

Other Operating Expense Adjustments

Staff proposed a series of additional operating expense adjustments – some of which increased, and some of which decreased, the Company's revenue requirement.[107] We find that these adjustments are reasonable and shall be approved. This finding reduces the Company's requested rate increase by approximately $5.1 million.

Jurisdictional and Class Cost of Service Studies

We find that APCo's proposed jurisdictional cost of service study, as subsequently updated by the Company, is reasonable.[108] The Company's jurisdictional cost of service study "was uncontested by the other parties in this proceeding and was consistent with the study filed and approved by the Commission in the Company's 2008 base rate case" (Case No. PUE-2008-00046).[109]

Next, we find that the Company's proposed class cost of service study reasonably allocates Virginia jurisdictional costs among APCo's retail customers. The Company appropriately "determined the Virginia retail class cost of service through the standard three-step approach of functionalization, classification and allocation."[110] Moreover, "the Company's jurisdictional, functional, and recommended functionalized class cost of service studies are generally consistent with comparable studies conducted by [APCo] and Staff in the Company's last base rate case, Case No. PUE-2008-00046" – which were adopted by the Commission.[111]

Revenue Allocation

We herein approve an annual revenue requirement increase for APCo of approximately $61.5 million. For purposes of allocating this increase among customer classes, the Company notes that "each party [in this case] argues for different changes" to revenue allocation among customer classes, and that "[a]ll recommend a smaller share of the [rate increase in this case] be allocated to the rate schedule(s) under which they take most or all of their service."[112] We conclude that Staff's proposed "Alternative 2" revenue apportionment, modified such that all customer classes move toward rate of return parity, is reasonable for establishing rates in this proceeding.[113] We find that this result, among other things, avoids unnecessary rate shock and reasonably promotes (i) gradualism in rates, (ii) rate stability and predictability, and (iii) historic continuity.[114]

Schedule GS (General Service)

The Company proposes to implement a new rate schedule, Schedule GS, which would replace Schedules MGS (Medium General Service) and LGS (Large General Service). Schedules MGS and LGS "are both generally applicable to customers with demands greater than 25 kilowatts but less than 1,000 kilowatts, with low load customers benefiting from service under MGS and high load customers benefiting from service under LGS."[115] As explained by Staff, "if a MGS customer's usage characteristics change over time, it may benefit from migrating to LGS, and vice versa," and, according to APCo, "if all identified customers that could benefit by switching schedules were to do so, the Company 'would lose about $770,000 based on present rates.'"[116]

Staff asserts that "[a]s proposed, Schedule GS will adversely affect low load factor customers currently receiving service under Schedules MGS and LGS."[117] Wal-Mart opposes this new schedule, asserting that it (i) is unjustified, (ii) inappropriately collects only 21% of demand-related costs through demand charges, and (iii) creates new revenue instability.[118] VML/VACO also opposes this schedule, stating that "elimination of Schedules MGS and LGS will adversely affect the Public Authorities and governmental customers."[119] Wal-Mart and Kroger further contend that the class rates of return for Schedules MGS and LGS must be equalized prior to replacing such schedules with GS; since LGS has a higher relative rate of return than MGS, these parties assert that the new blended GS rate will permanently disadvantage LGS customers if rates of return are not equalized.[120]

Finally, Staff recommends that Schedule GS "be offered on a voluntary basis, in conjunction with" Schedules MGS and LGS, which "will give the Company an appropriate amount of time to examine the effects of Schedule GS on customers."[121] We adopt Staff's recommendation and approve Schedule GS on a voluntary basis. APCo has not established that it is reasonable at this time to eliminate Schedules MGS and LGS as proposed in this case.[122]

Schedule LGS (Large General Service)

The Company's proposed rate design for Schedule LGS (i) "would recover approximately 65% of demand-related costs through $/kW demand charges,"[123] and (ii) includes a new energy charge designed to recover certain demand-related costs.[124] Kroger asserts that demand charges should recover at least 80% – not 65% – of demand-related costs.[125] Wal-Mart and Kroger further oppose APCo's new energy charge as an improper means through which to collect demand-related costs.[126] Staff recommends that this schedule be modified to collect 70% of demand-related costs through demand charges, which [113] See, e.g., Staff's May 18, 2010 Post-hearing Brief at 74-77. This results in a specific revenue increase for each customer class as follows:

Customer Class	Revenue Increase
Residential	$ 39,000,043
Small General Service (SGS)	$ 2,020,218
Medium General Service (MGS)	$ 3,025,244
Large General Service (LGS)	$ 5,166,130
Large Power Service (LPS)	$ 11,182,233
Sanctuary Worship Service (SWS)	$ 656,477
Outdoor Lighting (OL)	$ 422,377
Total	$ 61,472,722

[114] The rate design within each class shall be implemented consistent with APCo's proposals in this case – except where modified herein by the Commission – and reduced to reflect the decreased revenue requirements as also approved herein. In addition, for the residential class, the reduced revenue requirement shall be applied to the proposed rates for energy consumption.

was required by the Commission as part of the approved settlement in APCo's prior rate case (Case No. PUE-2008-00046).[127] We adopt Staff's recommendation and find that it is reasonable to "retain[] the level of demand costs that the Company recovers through $/kW demand charges at 70%."[128] This finding also eliminates the need for APCo's new LGS energy charge, which we therefore reject.

Schedule LPS (Large Power Service)

The Committee asserts that: (1) "APCo is proposing a 'cost shift' from demand to energy charges in its LPS rate design;" (2) "[t]here is no basis . . . for the Company's proposed rate design for LPS;" (3) "Staff neither concurs with or opposes APCo's proposed rate design;" and (4) "APCo . . . offered no rebuttal to [the Committee's testimony on this issue]."[129] We find that APCo has not established that its proposed cost shift from the LPS demand charges is just and reasonable. These demand and energy charges shall be designed consistent with the cost allocations reflected in the Company's previously approved Schedule LPS.

Schedule GS-TOD (General Service Time-of-Day)

We adopt Staff's proposals (i) to increase the maximum normal demand for General Service Time-of-Day rates from 500 kW to 1,000 kW, and (ii) to remove this schedule's current limitation of 500 customers.[130]

Experimental – ATOD (Advanced Time-of-Day) Schedule

The Commission approved APCo's Advanced Time-of-Day Schedule on an experimental basis in 1997. We adopt Staff's proposal that, given the passage of time, this schedule should no longer be deemed experimental and that all references to such as "experimental" should be removed from the tariff.[131]

Schedule NMS (Net Metering Service Rider)

We approve APCo's proposed revisions to its Net Metering Service Rider, which are designed to reflect recent statutory amendments.[132]

Schedule EDR (Economic Development Rider)

We approve APCo's proposed addition of an Economic Development Rider, which is designed to encourage economic development in the Company's service area.[133]

Credit and Collections

We approve the Company's proposed changes to its credit and collections program, which include, among other things: (i) suspending APCo's current credit and collections program that allows it to require additional deposit amounts if a residential customer exhibits an extended pattern of delinquency or if the deposit on hand is inadequate given the size of a customer's monthly bill; (ii) changing deposits to an amount that is equal to two times the average monthly usage of a customer rather than an amount equal to the customer's estimated bill for the two highest consecutive months of usage; (iii) allowing payments for deposits to be extended up to six months in cases of hardship; and (iv) allowing customers who participate in the Company's budget billing program to spread their settlement payments over the next twelve months of the budget year rather than paying the settlement over three months.[134]

Other Rate Schedules

The Commission approves the Company's proposed rate designs for residential service (Schedules RS, RS-E, RS-TOD), sanctuary worship (Schedule SWS), small general service (Schedules SGS and SGS-TOD), medium general service (Schedule MGS), large power service time-of-day (Schedule LPS-TOD), standby service (Schedule SBS), and outdoor lighting (Schedule OL).[135]

Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Company's Application is granted in part and denied in part as set forth in this Final Order.

(2) The Company shall forthwith file revised tariffs and terms and conditions of service with the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation, in accordance with this Final Order, effective for bills rendered on and after August 1, 2010.

(3) The Company shall determine, using the methodology prescribed by the General Assembly (2010 Va. Acts of Assembly Chaps. 1 and 2), whether customer refunds are due. For each customer where application of this methodology results in a refund, the Company shall provide such refund within sixty (60) days of the issuance of this Final Order.

(4) Interest upon the ordered refunds shall be computed from the date payments of monthly bills were due to the date each refund is made at the average prime rate for each calendar quarter, compounded quarterly. The average prime rate for each calendar quarter shall be the arithmetic mean, to the nearest one-hundredth of one percent, of the prime rate values published in the Federal Reserve Bulletin or in the Federal Reserve's Selected Interest Rates (Statistical Release H.15) for the three (3) months of the preceding calendar quarter.

(5) The refunds ordered herein may be credited to current customers' accounts. Refunds to former customers shall be made by check mailed to the last known address of such customers when the refund amount is $1 or more. The Company may offset the credit or refund to the extent of any undisputed outstanding balance for the current or former customer. No offset shall be permitted against any disputed portion of an outstanding balance. The Company may retain refunds to former customers when such refund is less than $1. The Company shall maintain a record of former customers for which the refund is less than $1, and such refunds shall be promptly made upon request. All unclaimed refunds shall be subject to § 55-210.6:2 of the Code.

(6) The Company shall deliver to the Commission's Divisions of Public Utility Accounting and Energy Regulation a report showing either that refunds are not required or that all refunds have been made pursuant to this Final Order, detailing the costs of the refunds and the accounts charged.

(7) The Company shall bear all costs incurred in effecting the refunds ordered herein.

(8) This case is dismissed.

AUGUST 5, 2010

APPLICATION OF
APPALACHIAN POWER COMPANY

For a statutory review of the rates, terms and conditions for the provision of generation, distribution and transmission services pursuant to § 56-585.1 A of the Code of Virginia

ORDER DENYING RECONSIDERATION

On July 15, 2010, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") issued a Final Order in this proceeding.

On July 26, 2010, Appalachian Power Company ("APCo" or "Company") filed a Petition for Reconsideration pursuant to Rule 5 VAC 5-20-220 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure. The Company "requests that the Commission reconsider the findings in its Final Order of July 15, 2010 as they relate to the Mountaineer Carbon Capture and Sequestration Project ('Mountaineer CCS' or 'Project')."[1] Specifically, APCo "requests that the Commission clarify its Final Order and allow APCo to defer the costs of Mountaineer CCS and to request their recovery in a future proceeding," and further requests that the Commission adopt the following language for this purpose:

> The Company may defer on its books the costs associated with Mountaineer CCS, until such time as a request for recovery is made and subsequently ruled upon by the Commission.[2]

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of this matter, is of the opinion and finds that the Petition for Reconsideration is denied.

As the Commission explained in the Final Order, the Company is undertaking the Project at its "Mountaineer coal-fired plant in West Virginia in an effort to test and prove whether [CCS] is a viable commercial technology for coal-fired electric generation plants in the event carbon emissions are regulated," and this "is the first CCS project being undertaken at an in-service coal plant."[3] The Commission further explained that this is a "validation project" intended to test CCS technology at a level that is not commercial in scale.[4] In addition, we noted that the Company asserts as follows: "Customers of utilities in the U.S. and abroad will benefit from the work we are doing at our Mountaineer plant," but that the "first use of any technology comes at a higher cost than subsequent uses."[5]

In the Final Order, the Commission denied the Company's request for full cost recovery of the Project from Virginia ratepayers. Specifically, we explained that: (1) "although [American Electric Power Company ('AEP')] asserts that this demonstration project will benefit customers of all of AEP's operating companies and of all utilities in the United States, APCo's ratepayers (and not shareholders) are being asked to pay for all of the costs incurred by AEP for this project;" and (2) "as stated by [the Office of the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Counsel], AEP is undertaking no other [CCS] initiatives at any of its other subsidiaries' plants, and APCo and its customers are being asked to shoulder the entire financial burden and risk associated with AEP's [CCS] research and development."[6] Accordingly, the Commission concluded as follows: "We do not find . . . that it was reasonable for APCo to incur the Mountaineer CCS project costs and then seek recovery from Virginia ratepayers."[7]

Prior to its Petition for Reconsideration, APCo did not seek authority to defer any of the Project costs. Rather, the Company sought full recovery from Virginia ratepayers as part of this proceeding. The Company now seeks Commission approval – for the first time in this proceeding – to defer all Project costs so that it can seek recovery from APCo's ratepayers in the future. In its Petition for Reconsideration, however, APCo fails to address the Commission's fundamental findings on this issue as set forth in the Final Order. Specifically, the Company does not establish why it would be reasonable, now or in the future, for APCo's customers to pay for all of the costs incurred for a validation project that the Company expects will benefit all of AEP's operating companies, all of AEP's shareholders, and other utilities throughout the United States. Having found, as explained above, that it was not reasonable to incur and then seek recovery of all Mountaineer CCS project costs from APCo's ratepayers, we likewise find that it is not reasonable to grant the requested deferral.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Company's Petition for Reconsideration is denied.

(2) This case is dismissed.

[6] Id. at 20 (internal quotes and citation omitted). The Final Order also cited parties' positions that: (i) this project significantly increases operation and maintenance expenses at the Mountaineer plant; (ii) this project decreases the efficiency of the Mountaineer facility, which results in increased fuel costs; (iii) the CCS technology decreases the Mountaineer plant's operating capacity, which further increases APCo's capacity deficit position within the AEP-East pool and, thus, increases APCo's capacity equalization charges; and (iv) the potential benefits to Virginia ratepayers currently are speculative at best. Id. at 20 n.72 (citations omitted).

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00033
FEBRUARY 24, 2010

PETITION OF
THE POTOMAC EDISON COMPANY D/B/A ALLEGHENY POWER

For permission to transfer utility facilities pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Va. Code § 56-88 et seq.

ORDER GRANTING APPROVAL

On May 8, 2009, The Potomac Edison Company d/b/a Allegheny Power ("Allegheny Power" or "Company") filed a Petition ("Petition") with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") requesting approval, pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, § 56-88 et seq. of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), of a proposed transaction under which the Town of Front Royal, Virginia, ("Front Royal" or "Town") will acquire certain electric distribution facilities on Kendrick Lane ("Facilities") in Front Royal from Allegheny Power ("Proposed Transaction"). The Company currently uses the Facilities to provide electric service to customers located within the Town limits. After the Proposed Transaction, these customers would be served by Front Royal.

The Proposed Transaction is part of an ongoing series of agreements between the Town and the Company. As restated in the Petition, the Company and Front Royal reached a Settlement Agreement in 1986 wherein the Company would transfer its electric facilities in areas annexed by Front Royal in 1976 and 1978 and relinquish its jurisdiction over those areas. In a 1987 Interim Order, the Commission noted that, while the Commission does not have jurisdiction over the Settlement Agreement itself, the Commission does have jurisdiction over the proposed sale of utility electric facilities within the annexed area of the Town.[1] Ultimately, the Commission issued an Order Granting Authority on April 11, 1991, finding in part that the sale and transfer of the electric facilities in the manner described therein would not jeopardize adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates.[2] According to the Petition in this proceeding, these Facilities and the customers served by them were not part of the phased sale and transfer approved by the Commission in 1992[3] due to operational aspects of the provision of service by Front Royal.

On July 8, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Comment. The Commission found that notice should be given to the affected customers because the Proposed Transaction will result in the transfer of each customer from service provided by Allegheny Power at rates regulated by the Commission to service provided by Front Royal at the rates established by the Town. The Order for Notice and Comment also directed the customers to take note that the rates, terms, and conditions of service under which they are currently provided electric service by Allegheny Power may change if the transfer is approved and, therefore, the proposed transfer could affect their monthly bills. While the Order for Notice and Comment provided interested persons an opportunity to comment on the Petition and request a hearing, ultimately no comments or requests for hearing were received by the Commission from any of the affected customers.

The Staff filed a report ("Staff Report") on September 15, 2009, in which the Staff reviewed the details of the Proposed Transaction. Subject to Commission authorization, the Company and Front Royal have agreed that Allegheny Power will transfer ownership and control of the Facilities to Front Royal. The Facilities, located on Kendrick Lane in Front Royal, Virginia, consist of approximately 480 feet of three-phase and 300 feet of single-phase, 12.47 kV primary line construction of various sizes: 336AA, 6Cu, and 2AAAC. The line construction includes seven poles (with vintages between 1950-1997); sixteen cross arms; ten overhead transformers (with vintages between 1987-2003); ten cut-outs; service conductors; and all ancillary primary and secondary equipment. The Company has agreed to transfer, and Front Royal has agreed to acquire, the Facilities at no cost in exchange for a new Franchise Agreement between the Company and Front Royal. The Franchise Agreement will be valued at the net book cost of the Facilities at the time the Proposed Transaction is approved by the Commission, or approximately $6,656.

The Staff Report further noted that the primary operational issue formerly presented by transferring these Allegheny Power customers to Front Royal was the remote location of these customers in relation to the Town's electric distribution system. Also at issue was the cost to the Town to serve the customers. However, according to Allegheny Power, the Town's system has expanded since 1992, and the Town has now initiated the request to provide service to these Allegheny Power customers.

The Staff Report documented that pursuant to the Franchise Agreement, Front Royal will grant to the Company a five-year franchise with the option of renewal for three more five-year terms, upon the Commission's approval of the Proposed Transaction. The Franchise Agreement also requires Allegheny Power to install certain new electric facilities within the Town and to maintain certain existing facilities as well. Although the Franchise Agreement also provides that Allegheny Power retains the right to provide electric service to customers located within the Town after the Proposed Transfer if the Town so requests, Allegheny Power will no longer be providing electric service to any existing customers within the Town's corporate limits.[4]

The Staff concluded that the Proposed Transaction would appear to make sense from a service standpoint. As a result of the Proposed Transaction that the Company initiated at the request of Front Royal, Front Royal will serve all customers located within the main area of the Town, which will help clarify the boundaries of the service territories of both entities. The Staff Report stated there does not appear to be any problems with the service currently provided by the Town's Department of Energy Resource Management and that the Town's Department of Energy Resource Management appears capable of serving the additional customers that will be acquired from Allegheny Power.

The Staff Report also documented a significant increase in the rates the affected customers will pay under the Town's rates upon completion of the Proposed Transaction compared to the rates these customers are currently charged by Allegheny Power. However, as noted above, there were no complaints filed with the Commission by the affected customers regarding the potential increase in rates as a result of the Proposed Transaction. On November 25, 2009, the Commission issued an Order directing that additional notice and an opportunity to comment be provided so that the affected customers and Front Royal may have an opportunity to address the Staff Report and the potential rate increase reflected therein that would occur if the Proposed Transaction is approved by the Commission.

As directed by the November 25, 2009 Order, Allegheny Power sent a copy of the Order and the Staff Report to each of the affected customers and to the Town. No comment on the Staff Report or the potential rate increase reflected therein was received by the Commission from any of the affected customers. On February 1, 2010, Front Royal's mayor, Eugene R. Tewalt, filed a letter on behalf of the Town Council and the citizens they represent supporting the Proposed Transaction. Mayor Tewalt stated that it is in the public interest for the Town to serve these customers located on Kendrick Lane, Front Royal, Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record, is of the opinion and finds as follows. The Proposed Transaction was not opposed by the Town, or by any of the affected customers. Based on the record in this case, we find that the above-described transfer of utility assets will neither impair nor jeopardize the provision of adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Pursuant to §§ 56-89 and 56-90 of the Code, The Potomac Edison Company d/b/a Allegheny Power is hereby granted authority to transfer to the Town of Front Royal, Virginia, the utility assets described herein.

(2) Within thirty (30) days of completing the transfer, Allegheny Power shall file a report with the Commission to include the date of the transfer, the value of the Franchise Agreement (net book cost of the Facilities at the time of closing), and the actual accounting entries recorded on the Company's books reflecting the transfer.

(3) There being nothing further to come before the Commission in this proceeding, this case is hereby dismissed from the active docket and the papers filed herein placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

[4] Allegheny Power will retain two substations and associated circuits within the corporate limits of the Town that are used to provide electric service to Allegheny Power customers outside the Town's boundaries, in Warren, Page, and Rappahannock Counties.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00039
JANUARY 14, 2010

APPLICATION OF
APPALACHIAN POWER COMPANY

For recovery of environmental and reliability costs

ORDER APPROVING SURCHARGE

On May 15, 2009, Appalachian Power Company ("Appalachian" or "Company") filed an application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") seeking adjustment of its electric rates pursuant to §§ 56-582 B (vi) and 56-585.1 A 5 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"). Appalachian seeks to revise its surcharge for the recovery of incremental environmental compliance and transmission and distribution system reliability costs ("E&R costs") incurred during calendar year 2008. Appalachian asserted that it incurred qualified incremental E&R costs during the period January 1, 2008 through December 31, 2008, resulting in a total net revenue requirement of $102.2 million.

The Company represented that the revenue requirement is consistent with the methodologies approved by the Commission in previous E&R cases.[1] The Company also requested a 12.5% rate of return on common equity ("ROE") in this case. Appalachian further stated that its proposed surcharges reflect an allocation of E&R costs among customer rate classes by functional revenues in a manner consistent with its previous E&R cases.

The Commission issued an Order for Notice and Hearing on June 3, 2009, which docketed and required published notice of the application, established a procedural schedule for this case, scheduled a public hearing to commence on October 1, 2009, and assigned a Hearing Examiner to this matter.

On December 18, 2009, Chief Hearing Examiner Deborah V. Ellenberg entered a Report that explained the procedural history of this case, summarized the record, analyzed the evidence and issues in this proceeding, and made certain findings and recommendations ("Chief Hearing Examiner's Report").[2] The Chief Hearing Examiner noted that Notices of Intent to Participate in this proceeding were timely filed by the Old Dominion Committee for Fair Utility Rates ("Old Dominion Committee"), VML/VACo APCo Steering Committee ("VML/VACo Committee"), Steel Dynamics, Inc. ("Steel Dynamics"), and the Office of the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Counsel ("Consumer Counsel"). The Chief Hearing Examiner also discussed the testimony provided by the participants and by the two public witnesses, Senator William Roscoe Reynolds and Delegate Ward Armstrong.

The Chief Hearing Examiner explained that a Stipulation was offered by the Company, Staff, and VML/VACo Committee ("Stipulating Participants"), which recommended a revenue requirement of $89.5 million for this case. Specifically, the Chief Hearing Examiner stated as follows:

> The Stipulating Participants agree that the Company is entitled to a revenue requirement to recover $89.5 million of incremental costs for E&R costs incurred during the period January 1, 2008 through December 31, 2008. . . .
> The recommended revenue requirement was based upon the Staff's December 31, 2008, capital structure, its cost rates as revised on September 15, 2009, and an ROE of 10.6%.[3]

No party objected to the revenue requirement proposed in the Stipulation.[4]

Next, the Chief Hearing Examiner noted that the principal "issue in controversy was the allocation of the revenue requirement among [customer] classes."[5] Specifically, the Chief Hearing Examiner stated as follows:

> Staff and the Company used the functional revenue approach to allocate the E&R costs among rate classes. That approach was used by the Commission in all prior E&R cases. However, the Commission used that approach because it did not have the benefit of a current [cost-of-service ('COS')] study. The Old Dominion Committee and Steel Dynamics assert that the Commission should approve a cost-based allocation method in this case.[6]

The Chief Hearing Examiner further noted that, while "Consumer Counsel did not participate in the Stipulation," Consumer Counsel stated at the hearing that it "'does not object to the proposed [S]tipulation'" and that it "'appears to us that the recovery permitted under the Stipulation is reasonable within the range of likely outcomes.'" Id. at 8 (quoting Tr. 135-136).

[5] Id. at 10.

[6] Id. at 10-11.

On this issue, the Chief Hearing Examiner found that the revenue requirement should be allocated as proposed by the Company and Staff, explaining as follows:

> Staff witness Abbott expressed concern about the risk of a mismatch between cost-causation and recovery due to the assignment of costs using a revenue allocator versus a cost-of-service allocator, but the revenue-based allocator proposed in this case is generally reflective of the results of the COS study.
> . . . The Commission continues to move toward cost-causation allocations, and should continue to do so in this case. I am concerned, however, with a rapid and sudden move to that goal as suggested by the Old Dominion Committee and Steel Dynamics. I therefore support and recommend that the Commission continue to allocate costs in this case as proposed by the Company and supported by Staff. I am persuaded by Staff witness Abbott's testimony that use of the functional revenue approach using data from the Company's last case does move most allocations toward cost-based allocation goals. . . .[7]

In conclusion, the Chief Hearing Examiner made the following findings:

> (1) The Stipulation presents a reasonable resolution to those revenue requirement issues which it addresses, and should be adopted;
>
> (2) A revenue requirement of $89.5 million to recover qualified E&R costs incurred during the period January 1, 2008, and December 31, 2008, is justified;
>
> (3) The revenue requirement should be allocated as proposed by the Company, and supported by Staff, which moves the allocation percentages closer to the cost-based allocation that would be indicated by the current COS study than have been applied in previous E&R cases, but would avoid further rate shock on residential customers that would be experienced with a drastic move to a cost-based methodology; and
> (4) The revised E&R factor should be applied for usage upon issuance of a Final Order herein.[8]

On or before December 29, 2009, the following participants filed comments on the Chief Hearing Examiner's Report: Appalachian; Steel Dynamics; Old Dominion Committee; and Staff.

The Company and Staff support the Chief Hearing Examiner's Report.

Steel Dynamics asserts that: (1) "a COS exists and indisputably shows unwarranted inter- and intra-class subsidies among the customer classes;" (2) "the ultimate recommendation set forth in the [Chief Hearing Examiner's] Report is to continue to use the flawed functional revenue approach to the allocation of E&R costs and to ignore the definitive cost-causation approach;" and (3) "the estimated rate impact on a typical residential customer's monthly bill of moving to cost of service would be de minimis."[9] In addition, Steel Dynamics states that "the Commission should require that [Appalachian] file a COS-based customer class allocation study with all future rate filings."[10]

The Old Dominion Committee asserts as follows: (1) "[t]he [Old Dominion] Committee respectfully objects to the [Chief Hearing Examiner's] Report's recommendation regarding revenue apportionment;" (2) [the functional revenue method] "'improperly classifies too large a percentage of E&R costs as energy-related costs and too small a percentage as demand-related cost;'" (3) "continued use of the [functional] revenue method in this case means continuation of the bizarre difference between the approach used to apportion E&R costs among customer classes in base rate cases and the approach used to apportion E&R costs in E&R surcharge cases;" and (4) "the Commission should apply the COS method for apportioning E&R costs in this case."[11]

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered this matter, adopts the recommendations in the Chief Hearing Examiner's Report as set forth herein.

Code of Virginia

Appalachian seeks an E&R rate adjustment clause pursuant to §§ 56-582 B (vi) and 56-585.1 A 5 of the Code. Section 56-582 B (vi) provides as follows:

> The Commission may adjust such capped rates in connection with the following: . . . (vi) with respect to incumbent electric utilities that were not, as of the effective date of this chapter, bound by a rate case settlement adopted by the Commission that extended in its application beyond January 1, 2002, the Commission shall adjust such utilities' capped rates, not more than once in any 12-month period, for the timely recovery of their incremental costs for transmission or distribution system reliability and compliance with state or federal environmental laws or regulations to the extent such costs are prudently incurred on and after July 1, 2004.

[11] Old Dominion Committee's December 29, 2009 Comments at 2, 5-7 (citation omitted).

Section 56-585.1 A 5 further states as follows:

> A utility may at any time, after the expiration or termination of capped rates, but not more than once in any 12-month period, petition the Commission for approval of one or more rate adjustment clauses for the timely and current recovery from customers of the following costs:
> a. Incremental costs described in clause (vi) of subsection B of § 56-582 incurred between July 1, 2004, and the expiration or termination of capped rates, if such utility is, as of July 1, 2007, deferring such costs consistent with an order of the Commission entered under clause (vi) of subsection B of § 56-582. The Commission shall approve such a petition allowing the recovery of such costs that comply with the requirements of clause (vi) of subsection B of § 56-582; . . . .

As required by the plain language of the statutes above, the Commission herein approves a rate adjustment clause for incremental E&R costs prudently incurred between January 1, 2008 and December 31, 2008, which is the historical period chosen by Appalachian for this case.

Revenue Requirement

We adopt the Chief Hearing Examiner's finding "that the revenue requirement recommended by the Stipulating Participants is reasonable."[12] Accordingly, we approve a revenue requirement of $89.5 million for purposes of the E&R surcharge approved herein.

Class Allocation

As noted above, the Chief Hearing Examiner found that the revenue requirement should be allocated as proposed by the Company and Staff, and Steel Dynamics and the Old Dominion Committee opposed this allocation.

We adopt the Chief Hearing Examiner's recommendation. While a COS study is relevant in allocating costs among customer classes, such allocation need not exactly reflect a COS study in order to be reasonable. Indeed, as explained by this Commission over 15 years ago:

> The primary goal of a [COS] study is to allocate and assign costs and revenues to each customer class as reasonably consistent as possible with the incurrence of those costs. However, it must be recognized that there is no scientifically correct method for allocating costs. A certain amount of judgment must be used in any [COS] study. [COS] studies are not precision instruments, but rather tools to facilitate the establishment of a zone of reasonableness.[13]

In this case we find, as posited by the Chief Hearing Examiner and Staff witness Abbott, that using the functional revenue approach proposed herein reasonably moves rates toward the class COS study presented in this matter. Moreover, the rate design approved herein assigns a lower allocation to industrial customers than the allocations utilized in both the Company's prior base rate case and prior E&R case.[14] In sum, we conclude that, in this instance and based on the specific circumstances of this case, using a functional revenue approach results in a reasonable allocation of the revenue requirement approved herein.[15]

Finally, we note that the rate increase approved in this Order is lower than that requested in the Company's application. Appalachian sought $102.2 million, but this amount has been reduced to $89.5 million. Other Appalachian rate cases remain pending before this Commission. The Commission recognizes that many people and businesses in Appalachian's service territory are suffering from economic hardship and any rate increase is burdensome. Under Virginia law, however, the Company is authorized to recover costs reasonably incurred to comply with environmental requirements, which are a significant portion of this rate increase.[16]

Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Company's application seeking a rate adjustment clause pursuant to §§ 56-582 B (vi) and 56-585.1 A 5 of the Code of Virginia is granted in part, and denied in part, as set forth herein.

(2) The Findings and Recommendations in the Chief Hearing Examiner's December 18, 2009 Report are adopted as set forth herein.

[14] See, e.g., Exh. 4 at 5 (Staff witness Abbott). Although not dispositive in our analysis herein, we also note that the cost to residential customers of moving rates completely to the COS in this proceeding – as requested by Steel Dynamics and the Old Dominion Committee – appears greater than that estimated by the Company at the hearing. See, e.g., Exh. 2, Schs. 6 and 8 (Company witness Weis) (indicating that the rate impact on residential customers would be approximately 4.7%, which is greater than that suggested by Company witness Weiss during cross-examination (see, e.g., Tr. 103)).

[15] Finally, we do not herein mandate that the Company file a separate COS-based class allocation study in all future rate applications. This proceeding is limited to Appalachian's E&R surcharge under the terms of §§ 56-582 B (vi) and 56-585.1 A 5 of the Code and does not address other statutorily-permitted rate cases that the Company may file in the future. Accordingly, the need and/or relevancy of COS-based allocations in a future rate case may be subsequently addressed in proceedings related to that case.

[16] See, e.g., Exh. 20, Sched. 1 (Staff witness Carr); Exh. 11 at 3 (Company witness McManus).

(3) The Company shall implement a line-item surcharge, designated on customer bills as "Environmental & Reliability Cost Recovery Surcharge," to recover the revenue requirement approved herein for incremental E&R costs prudently incurred from January 1, 2008, through December 31, 2008.

(a) Such surcharge shall be effective for service rendered on and after January 15, 2010, and shall be calculated as recommended in the Chief Hearing Examiner's December 18, 2009 Report.

(b) Such surcharge shall be designed to recover the revenue requirement approved herein for service rendered through December 31, 2010.

(c) Such surcharge shall cease for service rendered after December 31, 2010.

(4) Consistent with the findings made herein, the Company shall forthwith file with the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation revised tariffs, effective for service rendered on and after January 15, 2010.

(5) The Company shall keep track of all base rate and surcharge recoveries of incremental E&R costs on a continuing basis and, beginning September 1, 2010, shall (a) file in this docket monthly reports of the same with the Clerk of the Commission, and (b) serve a copy on all parties to this proceeding.

(6) On or before February 1, 2011, the Company shall file an application with the Commission proposing a methodology by which to address any over- or under-recovery of the revenue requirement approved herein.

(7) This matter is continued.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00040
JANUARY 19, 2010

APPLICATION OF
DALE SERVICE CORPORATION

For an expedited increase in rates

FINAL ORDER

On May 15, 2009, Dale Service Corporation ("Dale Service" or "Company") filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") an application for an expedited increase in rates ("Application"), together with supporting testimony and exhibits. The Company sought to increase its annual operating revenues by $740,896.00, an increase of approximately 7.6% in annual sewer revenues based upon a test year of the calendar year 2008. The Company requested that it be permitted to place its proposed rates into effect, for service rendered on and after July 1, 2009, subject to refund if the Commission ultimately determined such rates to be too high.

The Company stated the proposed increase is due in large measure to increased operating expenses and diminished revenues attributable to connection fees.[1] The Company also seeks rates sufficient to maintain a debt service ratio of 1.20, the level approved in the Company's last rate case, Case No. PUE-2007-00076.

The Company included in its Application the volumetric rate structure approved by the Commission in Case No. PUE-2007-00105.[2] The Company's residential customers will be sorted by their quarterly usage and divided into three classes of usage: the low-usage class of customers will be that 25% of total customers at the low end of water usage and then will be charged at a flat rate 15% less than that of the average-usage rate, and the high-usage class of customers will be that 25% at the high end of water usage and will be charged a flat rate of 15% more than the average-usage rate. The average-usage rate will be applied to the middle 50% of water usage customers. Based on usage by customer class and the Company's proposed average-usage rate of $108.70 per quarter for residential customers, the proposed rate for the low-usage class is $92.40 per quarter and for the high-usage class is $119.57 per quarter. The Company has been working with Virginia-American Water Company ("Virginia-American") to secure water usage data to implement the volumetric rate design in this proceeding.

The Company requested a waiver of Rule 20 VAC 5-201-10 H of the Rules Governing Utility Rate Increase Applications and Annual Informational Filings ("Rate Case Rules"), which would otherwise require the Company to file electronic spreadsheets to perform calculations. Instead, the Company manually entered the numerical data depicted in its schedules. The Company represented that a requirement to re-create calculations with embedded formulas in electronic spreadsheets in accordance with the Rate Case Rules would be unduly burdensome.

Finally, the Company requested a waiver of Rule 20 VAC 5-201-30 of the Rate Case Rules, which requires Dale Service to file a jurisdictional cost of service study in Schedule 40 and to report separately its non-jurisdictional revenues, expenses, and investments in Schedules 9, 10, 11, 21, 24, 25, and 26. According to the Company, it serves only 31 governmental, non-jurisdictional customers, representing approximately 0.13% of its total customer base of 23,494 customers. Since these non-jurisdictional customers have virtually no impact on the Company's jurisdictional cost of service, Dale Service requested that its Application be allowed to proceed on a total Company basis including both jurisdictional and non-jurisdictional operations in its cost of service.

[1] The Company reports that since its last expedited rate increase was approved on March 5, 2008, in Application of Dale Service Corporation For an expedited increase in rates, Case No. PUE-2007-00076, 2008 S.C.C. Ann. Rep. 416, the annual number of connections ("Capacity Charges") has continued to fall. The revenue increase requested is intended to address increases in expenses, a more appropriate level of assumed Capacity Charges ("Guaranteed Payments"), and ongoing costs related to the issuance, interest, and principal payments for bonds issued to fund construction of new plant and equipment to meet new federal and state environmental operating standards. The Company anticipated placing the new plant and equipment into operation in October 2009.

On May 21, 2009, the Company filed a Motion to Amend Application ("Motion to Amend"), which revised and replaced the sample billing included in Schedule 43 of the Application. The next day, the Company filed a corrected copy of the sample billing and Schedule 43.

On June 9, 2009, the Company filed a Motion for Suspension of Interim Rates ("Motion for Suspension") requesting that the proposed interim rate increase be suspended until October 1, 2009. In support of its Motion for Suspension, the Company explained that the projected in-service date for its new facilities slipped from July 1, 2009, to October 1, 2009, and that it had not obtained and processed all of the relevant billing data from Virginia-American necessary to implement its proposed rates on July 1, 2009.

On June 11, 2009, the Commission's Staff ("Staff") filed an interim report in which it concluded that there was a reasonable probability the proposed increase would be justified following a full investigation and hearing. The Staff also did not oppose the Company's request for waivers of those Rate Case Rules that require the Company to file a jurisdictional cost of service study and to separate its jurisdictional and non-jurisdictional revenues, expenses, and investments when seeking rate relief, and to file electronic spreadsheets.

On June 23, 2009, the Commission entered an Order for Notice and Hearing ("Order"), in which the Commission, among other things: granted the Company's Motion to Amend; authorized the Company to implement its proposed rates, as amended, on an interim basis, subject to refund, for service rendered on and after October 1, 2009; granted a waiver of Rule 20 VAC 5-201-30 of the Rate Case Rules requiring the filing of a jurisdictional cost of service study in Schedule 40 and reporting separately the non-jurisdictional revenues, expenses, and investments in Schedules 9, 10, 11, 21, 24, 25, and 26; granted a waiver of Rule 20 VAC 5-201-10 H of the Rate Case Rules requiring the filing of electronic spreadsheets with underlying formulas; scheduled a public hearing for November 5, 2009, in the Commission's Courtroom in Richmond, Virginia, to receive public comment and evidence on the Application; directed the Company to provide public notice of its Application; and assigned the case to a hearing examiner to conduct all further proceedings on behalf of the Commission and to issue a final report.

On June 26, 2009, the Company filed a Motion to Amend and Supplement Application and for Additional Time to Complete Notification and Publication ("Motion to Amend and Supplement"). In its Motion to Amend and Supplement, the Company requested permission under Rule 5 VAC 5-20-130 to amend and supplement its Application to (i) correct the proposed rate for residential customers in the high-usage classification; and (ii) include the Company's real estate taxes associated with the new plant scheduled to be in service by October 2009, which increased the Company's revenue requirement to $874,689.00. The Company requested that a ruling be issued correcting the notice to be given and allowing the Company additional time in which to complete notice and publication. The Company stated the amendment supplements the original Application and revises and replaces Schedules 21, 25, 26, 29, 41, and 43; and adds two pages to the attachment to Schedule 29. The Company explained that it had inadvertently overlooked the impact of real estate taxes on its revenue requirement associated with the new plant expected to be placed in service in October.

The Company supplied the corrected quarterly rates for each customer class, as follows:

Customer Class	Present Rates	Proposed Rates	Corrected Proposed Rates
Residential:
Low-Usage	$101.26	$ 92.40	$ 93.82
Average-Usage	$101.26	$108.70	$110.37
High-Usage	$101.26	$119.57	$126.93
Multi-Unit	$101.26	$108.70	$110.37
Commercial:	$127.14	$136.80	$138.59

The Company noted that correction of the errors necessitated a delay in publication of notice to its customers. The Company requested that it be allowed to further amend and supplement its Application, correct its notice to the public, and be granted additional time in which to complete its notice and publication. Finally, the Company argued that granting its Motion would not harm or prejudice its customers or any party to this proceeding because the Company delayed completion of notice and publication, and the interim rates requested in the Application were not scheduled to go into effect until October 1, 2009.

By Hearing Examiner's Ruling entered on June 29, 2009, the Company's Motion to Amend and Supplement was granted; the Company's revised Schedules 21, 25, 26, 29, 41, and 43 were accepted for filing; the Company's two-page addition to Schedule 29 was accepted for filing; and the Company was directed to publish a corrected notice on two occasions in newspapers of general circulation throughout the Company's service territory.

On August 3, 2009, the Company provided a summary of the analysis it used to convert the Virginia-American billing data for its Prince William County, Virginia, water customers into volumetric classifications for Dale Service sewage customers, in accordance with the Commission's Final Order in Case No. PUE-2007-00105 and as directed by Ordering Paragraph (2) of the Commission's June 23, 2009 Order.

On August 18, 2009, the Company filed a Motion for Protective Order. The motion was granted and a Protective Ruling was issued on August 20, 2009.

The public hearing to receive comments and evidence on the Company's Application was convened as scheduled. Four public witnesses appeared at the hearing either in person or by telephone. The Company and the Staff introduced a stipulation ("Stipulation") that would settle all issues except for the Company's treatment of customers with zero water usage and the Company's use of its standard Homeowner (Customer) – Tenant Agreement for sewer service. The Stipulation agrees upon an increased revenue requirement of $653,005 and quarterly rates that are lower than those proposed by the Company; i.e., $91.78 for low usage residential customers, $107.99 for average usage and multi-tenant customers, $124.17 for high usage customers, and $135.65 for commercial customers. The Company bills its customers on a quarterly basis and had chosen to forego implementing its proposed rates on October 1, 2009. Instead, the Company stated at the hearing that it intends to place the lower, stipulated rates into effect January 1, 2010, on an interim basis, subject to refund based upon the Commission's Final Order in this case.[3]

On December 8, 2009, Hearing Examiner Michael D. Thomas issued a report, which provided a detailed history of the case, summarized the record, discussed the primary issues, and made certain findings and recommendations ("Hearing Examiner's Report"). The case participants waived comments to the Hearing Examiner's Report.

The Hearing Examiner made the following findings:

(1) The stipulated rates are reasonable;

(2) The Stipulation represents a reasonable compromise of the interests of the Company and its customers;

(3) The Stipulation reasonably addresses other substantive issues affecting the Company's rates; and

(4) The Company's proposals to resolve the two issues not covered by the Stipulation are reasonable and should be adopted.

The Hearing Examiner recommended that the Commission enter an order that adopts the findings and recommendations of his report; adopts the Stipulation, which is appended hereto as "Attachment A;" approves the Company's rates as provided by the Stipulation; and dismisses this case from the Commission's docket of active cases and passes the papers herein to the file for ended causes.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record herein, the Hearing Examiner's Report, and the applicable law, is of the opinion and finds that the Stipulation represents a reasonable result under the statute and should be adopted. Accordingly, the Company should file amended tariffs in conformance with the Stipulation.

The amended tariffs referenced above shall incorporate the Company's proposal to suspend billing for customers who provide evidence of zero water usage for twelve continuous months of service on and after January 1, 2010, and such tariffs may continue the financial obligation placed upon property owners by the Homeowner (Customer) - Tenant Agreement. Both of these items, however, are subject to change if the Company acquires better water usage information that will allow more frequent approximation of sewage usage by the persons actually occupying the property.

Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT:

(1) The terms and conditions of the Stipulation are approved and incorporated herein.

(2) Dale Service shall be granted an increase in gross annual revenues of $653,005. Based on test year operations, the revisions will produce a debt service coverage ratio of 1.20.

(3) Consistent with the findings herein, the Company shall forthwith file revised tariffs with the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation that will produce the amount of annual operating revenues stipulated and authorized herein.

(4) This case is hereby dismissed.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00041
OCTOBER 18, 2010

APPLICATION OF
MASSANUTTEN PUBLIC SERVICE CORPORATION

For an increase in water and sewer rates

FINAL ORDER

On May 18, 2009, Massanutten Public Service Corporation ("MPSC" or the "Company") filed a Notice of Intent to File an Application for an Increase in Rates Pursuant to Chapter 10 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia. On August 6, 2009, the Company filed an Application for a General Increase in Water and Sewer Rates ("Application") with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), together with certain schedules filed under seal pursuant to 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, and testimony and exhibits. Additionally, the Company filed a Motion for Entry of a Protective Order. On August 14, 2009, the Company filed revised rate schedules to the Application. On August 27, 2009, the Company filed a Motion for Leave to Amend Filing with supplemental direct testimony of Burnice Dooley and certain revised rate schedules, including one adjustment filed under seal.

The Company seeks a rate increase that would produce additional annual revenues of $905,250, consisting of $526,250 in additional water revenues and $379,000 in additional sewer revenues, representing an increase of approximately 62% for water rates and 35% for sewer rates, or 47% overall.[1] The Company requested that its proposed rate increase be allowed to go into effect on January 1, 2010.

[1] The Company's proposed increase in rates is set forth in Schedule 41 of the Application.

On September 4, 2009, the Commission entered an Order for Notice and Hearing that: docketed the Company's Application; established a procedural schedule for the case; scheduled a public hearing for February 18, 2010; directed the Company to provide public notice of its Application; permitted interested persons to file written comments on the Application or notices of participation as a respondent; assigned the case to a Hearing Examiner; and allowed the Company to place its proposed rates into effect on January 1, 2010, subject to the Commission's power to fix and order substituted just and reasonable rates, charges, terms, and conditions, and to order refunds or credits with interest.

On September 25, 2009, the Massanutten Property Owners Association ("MPOA" or "Association") filed a Notice of Participation ("Notice"), and a Motion for Extension of Time to File Testimony and Exhibits ("September 25 Motion"). In its Notice, the Association represented that its members are customers of the Company and are vitally interested in the outcome of this proceeding. The Association stated it would address issues related to the Company's proposed revenue requirement and any other issues raised by the Company, the Commission Staff ("Staff"), and other parties. In its September 25 Motion, the Association requested additional time to complete discovery and prepare its testimony and exhibits. The Association requested an extension from October 19, 2009, to December 1, 2009. The Company and Staff had no objection to the requested extension of time.

By Hearing Examiner's Ruling entered on September 28, 2009, the Association's September 25 Motion was granted, and the Association was directed to file its direct testimony and exhibits on or before December 1, 2009. The remainder of the procedural schedule remained in effect.

As directed by the Order for Notice and Hearing, the Staff filed its testimony on January 20, 2010.

By letter filed on January 29, 2010, the Company advised the Commission that it had delayed implementation of its proposed new rates and that it would place its rates into effect for service rendered on or after February 1, 2010, subject to the Commission's final order in the case.

On January 29, 2010, the MPOA filed a Motion ("January 29 Motion") requesting the Hearing Examiner to enter a ruling: (1) continuing generally the evidentiary portion of the hearing; (2) directing MPSC to file a fully allocated cost of service ("COS") study, as agreed to by the Company as part of a settlement in its prior rate case; (3) providing a reasonable time by which the fully allocated COS study should be filed; (4) permitting a reasonable time for MPOA and Staff to analyze the fully allocated COS study and either provide comment on or supplement to their respective prefiled testimonies; and (5) providing an expedited time frame for response and reply or, in the alternative, schedule oral argument on the January 29 Motion.

By Hearing Examiner's Ruling, the parties were provided an opportunity to file their responses to the January 29 Motion on or before February 10, 2010. Responses were timely filed by the Company and the Staff, and the Association filed a timely reply to the responses. By Hearing Examiner's Ruling entered on February 12, 2010, the Association's January 29 Motion was denied. The Hearing Examiner found the plain language of the Commission's Final Order in Case No. PUE-2006-00126 and the Stipulation incorporated by reference did not require the Company to submit a "fully allocated class cost of service study" in this case. The two documents merely required a "class cost of service study," and Schedule 40 of the Application met that requirement.

On February 16, 2010, the Company and Staff signed a Stipulation and filed a Joint Motion to Accept Stipulation.

An evidentiary hearing was held before the Hearing Examiner on February 18, 2010. Three public witnesses appeared and testified at the hearing. Donald G. Owens, Esquire, and Thomas C. Walker, Esquire, appeared on behalf of the Company. Brian R. Greene, Esquire, and Katharine A. Hart, Esquire, appeared on behalf of the Association. Robert M. Gillespie, Esquire, and Mary Beth Adams, Esquire, appeared on behalf of the Staff.

On April 28, 2010, Hearing Examiner Michael D. Thomas issued the Hearing Examiner's Report ("Report"), which included the following findings:

1. The alternative water base facilities charges proposed in [the Hearing Examiner's] Report are fair and reasonable;

2. The Staff's customer count adjustments are reasonable;

3. The Staff's electricity expense adjustment is reasonable;

4. The Staff's chemical expense adjustments are reasonable;

5. The Company's decision to develop Well #40 was reasonable given the circumstances at the time the decision was made to develop the well;

6. UI's decision to replace its obsolete information technology system with the JDE and CC&B systems was reasonable;[2]

7. The allocation of the JDE and CC&B system costs to the Company is reasonable;

8. The Company's proposed eight-year amortization period of its Project Phoenix[3] costs is reasonable;

9. Schedule 40 of the Application met the requirement of the Commission's Final Order in Case No. PUE-2006-00126 to submit a "class cost of service study" in this case;

[2] "UI" is a reference to Utilities, Inc., MPSC's parent corporation. The systems referenced are the JD Edwards Enterprise One ("JDE") financial and asset management system, and Oracle's Customer Care and Billing System ("CC&B").

[3] "Project Phoenix" is the name Utilities, Inc. gave to its project to replace its outdated information and technology systems.

10. The Company responded adequately to the Association's quality of service complaints;

11. The stipulated 10.4% ROE is reasonable;

12. The proposed water and sewer connection fees recommended in [the Hearing Examiner's] Report are reasonable and should be considered by the Commission;

13. The rates in the Stipulation, as modified [by the Hearing Examiner's Report], are just and reasonable, and should be adopted by the Commission;

14. The Stipulation, as modified [by the Hearing Examiner's Report], should be adopted by the Commission;

15. The Commission should . . . direct the Company to perform [and give specific requirements for] a fully allocated base-extra capacity COS study in its next rate case;

16. The Company should perform its fully allocated base-extra capacity COS study using the five customer classes recommended in [the Hearing Examiner's] Report; and

17. The Company provided fair notice to interested parties that the Company's water and sewer revenues might be different from those initially proposed in the Company's Application.[4]

On May 19, 2010, MPSC and the MPOA filed comments to the Hearing Examiner's Report. The MPOA's comments asserted that the stipulated rates, even with the Hearing Examiner's modifications to the monthly facilities charges, are unreasonable for not being based upon a proper cost of service study, for not satisfying the ratemaking criteria cited by the Staff, and for not continuing the practice of billing the monthly facilities charge of multi-occupant buildings upon the number of units in the building rather than the size of the building's meter. The Association supported the Hearing Examiner's recommendation that the Company perform a fully allocated base-extra COS study that includes five customer classes, but the MPOA also requested that the study include the number of units behind various meters in allocating costs. The MPOA considered the recommended 10.4% return on equity to be too high and suggested a level not greater than the current 10%. Finally, the MPOA asserted that the Hearing Examiner was incorrect in recommending that the increase to annual water revenues could exceed the $526,250 level that was contained in the public notice of this case.

The Company's comments generally did not oppose the Hearing Examiner's Report and the modifications he made to the Stipulation. Recognizing that rates can be structured in a number of ways to recover annual cost of service, the Company did not take exception to the Hearing Examiner's modification of the stipulated rate structure to create a commercial class of water customers who would pay a higher monthly base charge than would residential customers who used the same sized meters.

Similarly, the Company did not disagree with the Hearing Examiner's proposal to substantially increase connection charges. MPSC did point out, however, that these increased fees would not substantially impact future rates because there were only a few hundred lots to which they could be applied and because the developer, Great Eastern Development Corporation, had made a substantial contribution towards installation of the Company's new sewer treatment plant and had already received credit for connection fees on 2,250 lots.

MPSC agreed to a clarification of the Stipulation to specify that the Company's next rate case will include a fully allocated COS study that uses the base-extra method to allocate capacity costs. Concerning the Hearing Examiner's finding that the COS study should be performed using five classes of customers, the Company asserted that it would be inappropriate to decide in advance the number of customer classes to be created or which customers belong in each class. The Company urged that the outside consultant performing the COS study should be allowed latitude to use his or her professional judgment concerning these matters.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered this matter, is of the opinion and finds that the findings in the Hearing Examiner's Report should be adopted, with the exceptions noted below; that the Stipulation, as modified in the Hearing Examiner's Report and herein, should be adopted; and that the Company's water and sewer rates as modified in the Hearing Examiner's Report and herein should be approved.

In his Report, the Hearing Examiner recommended several modifications to the Stipulation. First, the Hearing Examiner, noting that the Company does not currently separate costs by class, proposed alternative water base facilities charges, which he found to be fair and reasonable. He stated that these charges are an attempted move toward parity because it appears from the record that the Company's residential customers pay a disproportionate share of the water base facilities charges. However, the Hearing Examiner also noted that, to allocate fixed costs, the ultimate questions to be answered are: (i) how much additional plant, if any, MPSC had to construct to meet the commercial customers' increased demand, and (ii) how such additional cost, if any, should be allocated, and that these questions cannot be answered until the Company performs a fully allocated base-extra capacity method COS study.

Since, as discussed below, we are directing MPSC to perform a fully allocated base-extra capacity COS study, and to perform this study using an outside consultant considering multiple customer classes, we will not adopt this recommendation of the Hearing Examiner. Any issues relating to cost sharing between classes of customers can be best addressed in the Company's next rate case where more complete information concerning issues such as cost, customer class designations, and demand will be available.

The Hearing Examiner also developed an alternative water and sewer connection fees schedule, with all rate classes having a water connection fee of $1,107 and a sewer connection fee of $1,057. Base connection fees varied by class. While we commend the Hearing Examiner for developing these alternative fees, we note that such one-time fees have minimal effects on the Company's recurring rates, since Great Eastern Development Corporation has prepaid 2,250 water and sewer connection fees, and only a few hundred lots remain. Accordingly, we do not adopt this modification to the Stipulation.

[4] Hearing Examiner's Report at 45-46.

In his Report, the Hearing Examiner found that the Commission should clarify the ambiguity in the Stipulation related to the COS study and direct the Company to perform a fully allocated base-extra capacity COS study in its next rate case.[5] We agree with the Hearing Examiner's suggested clarification.

The Hearing Examiner also recommended that the COS study be performed using five specific classes of customers and that the Company retain an outside consultant to perform the study. The Company suggested that it would retain a consultant who should be given a certain degree of discretion when identifying the customer classes and sub-classes to be studied. While the need for discretion when performing the COS study is a legitimate request, MPSC's consultant should, at minimum, consider the five classes identified by the Hearing Examiner in his Report.

The Hearing Examiner also found reasonable the charges related to MPSC's new customer service system. According to the evidence, the CC&B system includes modules related to customer management and customer service, meter reading, device management, billing, and accounts receivable and collections.[6] Given this new process for internally handling customer issues, and mindful of the requirement of § 56-247.1 C of the Code of Virginia ("Code") that every public utility must establish, and the Commission must approve, customer complaint procedures that ensure prompt and effective processing of customer inquiries, service requests and complaints, we find that MPSC should review its customer complaint procedure. MPSC should update and refile this procedure in light of the new CC&B system, and the Staff should review this procedure and should report to the Commission on the adequacy thereof. Further, we find that the service issues customers raised through public comments in this proceeding should be investigated by MPSC and that MPSC should report to the Commission Staff on the resolution of these issues.

In the MPOA's Comments and Exceptions to the Report of Michael D. Thomas, Hearing Examiner ("MPOA Comments"), the Association argued that the amount of increase allocated to the Company's water service could not exceed the amount stated in the public notice. The Hearing Examiner's Report is correct in stating that the amount of the revenue increase is limited by the total amount sought and that the water and sewer portions do not each impose a separate limit. The case cited by the MPOA, Application of Virginia-American Water Company,[7] does not alter this conclusion. That case involved a water company with three separate districts, with different customers in each district. The public notices in that case specifically indicated the maximum revenue increase sought in each system.[8]

The public notice in the instant case specifically identified the total revenue request and, further, explained as follows: "While the total revenue that may be approved by the Commission is limited to the amount produced by the Company's proposed rates, PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that the individual rates and charges approved may be either higher or lower than those proposed by the Company." In this case, the Hearing Examiner was correct in adopting a total revenue increase that did not exceed the total stated in the public notice.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The findings and recommendations of the April 28, 2010 Report of the Hearing Examiner, with the exceptions noted above, are hereby adopted and the terms and conditions of the Stipulation between the Company and the Staff, as modified in the Hearing Examiner's Report and herein, are adopted and incorporated herein.

(2) MPSC is hereby directed to retain an outside consultant to perform a fully allocated base-extra capacity COS study in its next rate case, and such study shall, at minimum, consider the five specific classes of customers identified by the Hearing Examiner in his Report.

(3) MPSC shall be granted an annual water revenue increase of $550,887 and an annual wastewater revenue increase of $330,279, for a total annual revenue increase of $881,166.

(4) MPSC shall, within ninety (90) days of the date of this Final Order, file with the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation a detailed report of the resolution and actions taken with regard to customer service complaints filed as part of this proceeding.

(5) MPSC shall, within thirty (30) days from the date of this Final Order, file revised tariffs and terms and conditions of service, and its revised customer complaint procedure, with the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation, in accordance with this Final Order.

(6) The Commission's Division of Energy Regulation shall review and report to the Commission on the adequacy of MPSC's customer complaint procedure within sixty (60) days from the date of this Final Order.

(7) The Company shall use the rates and charges prescribed in Ordering Paragraph (3) to recalculate all bills rendered, which were calculated using, in whole or in part, the rates and charges which took effect on February 1, 2010. Where application of the rates prescribed by this Final Order results in a reduced bill, the difference in all bills shall be refunded with interest on or before December 1, 2010, as directed in the ordering paragraphs below.

(8) The refunds with interest directed in Ordering Paragraph (7) for current customers may be made by a credit to the customers' accounts and shown on bills. The bills shall show the refund as a separate item or items. For former customers, refunds with interest that exceed $1.00 shall be made by check mailed to the last known address of such customers. No setoff shall be permitted against any disputed portion of an outstanding balance.

(9) The Company shall maintain a record of former customers due a refund of $1.00 or less and shall promptly make the refund by check upon request. For any funds not paid or claimed, the Company shall comply with § 55-210.6:2 of the Code of Virginia.

(10) The refund amounts calculated as directed in Ordering Paragraph (7) shall bear interest at a rate for each calendar quarter, which shall be the arithmetic mean, to the nearest one-hundredth of one percent of the "Bank prime loan" values published in Federal Reserve Statistical Release H.15 (519), Selected Interest Rates, for the three months of the preceding calendar quarter. The interest shall be computed from the date payments were due as shown on bills to the date of the bill showing the credit to current customers or the date of the refund check mailed to former customers.

(11) On or before January 1, 2011, the Company shall submit to the Divisions of Public Utility Accounting and Energy Regulation a report showing that all refunds have been made pursuant to this Final Order and listing the expenses of refunding and the accounts charged. The Company shall not recover the interest paid or the expenses incurred in making such refunds from water and sewer rates and charges subject to the Commission's jurisdiction.

(12) This matter is continued for further order of the Commission.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00043
JANUARY 27, 2010

APPLICATION OF
PATH ALLEGHENY VIRGINIA TRANSMISSION CORPORATION

For certificates of public convenience and necessity to construct facilities: 765 kV Transmission Line through Loudoun, Frederick, and Clarke Counties

ORDER GRANTING WITHDRAWAL

On May 19, 2009, PATH Allegheny Virginia Transmission Corporation ("PATH," "PATH-VA," or "Applicant") filed an application ("Application") with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") for approval and certification of electric transmission facilities pursuant to § 56-46.1 of the Code of Virginia ("Code") and the Utility Facilities Act (§ 56-265.1 et seq. of the Code). In its Application, PATH requests authority to build the Virginia portion of a proposed 765 kV transmission line from the existing Amos Substation in Putnam County, West Virginia, to the proposed Kemptown Substation in Frederick County, Maryland ("PATH Project"). The Virginia segments of the PATH Project consist of two non-contiguous segments totaling approximately 31 miles and crossing portions of Frederick, Clarke, and Loudoun Counties.

On June 12, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Hearing that directed public notice of the Application, established a procedural schedule, and appointed a Hearing Examiner to conduct further proceedings.

On December 4, 2009, Senior Hearing Examiner Alexander F. Skirpan, Jr., issued a ruling that directed PATH to produce additional updated load flow analyses ("December 4th Ruling").

On December 21, 2009, PATH filed a Motion to Withdraw Application and Terminate Proceeding. On December 29, 2009, PATH filed an Amendment to Motion to Withdraw Application and Terminate Proceeding ("Amended Motion to Withdraw"), in which PATH stated as follows:

> On December 4, 2009, the Hearing Examiner requested that PATH-VA supplement the record in this proceeding with the results of additional load flow analyses. [PJM Interconnection, LLC ('PJM')] has diligently pursued these sensitivity analyses, as requested by the Hearing Examiner. These sensitivity analyses, particularly Scenarios 3 and 4, include updated changes in generation projects with signed Interconnection Service Agreements, anticipated demand response and new energy efficiency resources that cleared the May 2009 [Reliability Pricing Model ('RPM')] auction, and the 2009 load forecast (Scenario 3) and the recently released preliminary updated 2010 load forecast (Scenario 4). Although not fully completed, PJM's work has progressed to a point where, under Scenarios 3 and 4, the analysis indicates that the PATH Project would not be needed to resolve [North American Electric Reliability Corporation] reliability violations in 2014, as identified in the pending [A]pplication.[1]

PATH further stated that "[t]hese new developments raise questions about the ability of PATH-VA to support the Application now on file with the Commission that is based on a need for the PATH Project in 2014," and that "[i]n light of PJM's current analyses, approval of the PATH Project will not be pursued through the currently filed Application."[2]

On December 30, 2009, the Senior Hearing Examiner received oral argument on PATH's Amended Motion to Withdraw.

On January 6, 2010, the Senior Hearing Examiner entered a Report that explained the procedural history of this case and made certain findings and recommendations ("Senior Hearing Examiner's Report"). Specifically, the Senior Hearing Examiner made the following findings:

(1) PATH's Amended Motion to Withdraw should be granted;

(2) Any future application for the PATH Project must be based on PJM's 2010 or later [Regional Transmission Expansion Plan];

[1] Amended Motion to Withdraw at 2.

[2] Id. at 3.

(3) Any future application for the PATH Project should contain the updated load flow analysis filed on January 4, 2010, as directed by the December 4th Ruling and an analysis of changes in circumstances, including changes in generation, demand response and energy efficiency resources;

(4) Any future application for the PATH Project should provide information on the PATH Project's original routes, consistent with other proposed and alternative routes;

(5) The Protective Ruling in this proceeding should be amended as provided [in the Senior Hearing Examiner's Report]; and

(6) The Commission lacks the authority to award any of the requested sanctions, attorneys fees or costs associated with participating in this proceeding.[3]

On January 13, 2010, the following parties filed comments on the Senior Hearing Examiner's Report: PATH; Board of Supervisors of Frederick County, Virginia ("Frederick County Board"); Sierra Club; Piedmont Environmental Council; River's Edge Community Association, Inc. ("River's Edge"); Alfred T. Ghiorzi, Irene A. Ghiorzi, and Theresa Ghiorzi (collectively, "Ghiorzi"); Robert N. Meiser and Hala A. Meiser (collectively, "Meiser"); Charles R. Rodriguez; and James K. Crowley, Beatriz Ribeiro da Luz, and Pamela L. Baldwin (collectively, "Crowley").

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the Senior Hearing Examiner's Report, the pleadings, and the record developed in this matter, is of the opinion and finds that this case shall be dismissed as set forth in this Order Granting Withdrawal.

As a result of the updated load flow analyses produced by PJM in accordance with the Senior Hearing Examiner's December 4th Ruling,[4] PATH has withdrawn its support for its own Application. As represented by PATH's counsel:

> [PATH] no longer supports the Application on file with the Commission that is based on a need for . . . the PATH Project in 2014.
> [T]he studies appear not to support a 2014 need date for the PATH Project.
>
> [T]he Applicant and PJM will not testify in support of that [2014] date.
>
> [T]he Applicant cannot testify in favor of the Application that's now on file with the Commission.
> [T]here's no need for PATH in 2014.[5]

In addition, PATH asserted that if its Application is withdrawn, as permitted in this Order Granting Withdrawal, the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission ("FERC") will not have jurisdiction to permit the PATH Project under § 216(b)(1)(c) of the Federal Power Act.[6] Accordingly, PATH committed that it will not request such action by FERC.[7] We herein rely upon PATH's representations on this matter.

We also direct that, in addition to the other requirements attendant to a transmission line application, any future application related to the PATH Project include information regarding:

- PJM's 2010 or later RTEP, and PJM's 2010 or later RPM auction;
- the updated load flow analyses filed on January 4, 2010 pursuant to the December 4th Ruling;
- an analysis of changes in circumstances, including changes in generation, demand response, and energy efficiency resources; and
- the PATH Project's original routes (including routes that do not impact Virginia), consistent with the information provided regarding other proposed and alternative routes.

For purposes of assisting participants in the event that a subsequent application is filed related to the PATH Project, we adopt the Senior Hearing Examiner's recommendation to modify Paragraphs (5) and (18) of the Protective Ruling as follows:

> (5) All Confidential Information filed or produced by a party shall be used solely for the purpose of this proceeding (including any appeals) and, by leave of the Commission, in any future, related application for the > (18) One year from the conclusion of this proceeding ([i.e., Case No. PUE-2009-00043,]including any appeals), any originals or reproductions of any Confidential Information produced pursuant to this Protective Ruling shall be returned to the producing party, if requested by the producing party, or destroyed. In addition, at such time, any notes, analysis or other documents prepared containing Confidential Information shall be destroyed. At such time, any originals or reproductions of any Confidential Information, or any notes, analysis or other documents prepared containing Confidential Information in Staff's possession, will be returned to the producing party, destroyed or kept with Staff's permanent work papers in a manner that will preserve the confidentiality of the Confidential Information. Insofar as the provisions of this Protective Ruling restrict the communications and use of the Confidential Information produced thereunder, such restrictions shall continue to be binding after the conclusion of this proceeding (including any appeals) as to the Confidential Information.[8]

Next, we find that neither a factual nor legal basis has been established requiring the Commission to grant any outstanding requests or motions for sanctions, attorneys fees, or other costs associated with participating in this proceeding.[9] We also reject any outstanding requests for further discovery responses in this proceeding, which is hereby dismissed as of the date of this Order Granting Withdrawal.[10]

Finally, we find that neither a factual nor legal basis has been established requiring the Commission to grant any outstanding requests or motions to institute new rules or procedures for screening transmission line applications.[11]

Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT this case is dismissed as set forth in this Order Granting Withdrawal.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00043
FEBRUARY 17, 2010

APPLICATION OF
PATH ALLEGHENY VIRGINIA TRANSMISSION CORPORATION

> For certificates of public convenience and necessity to construct facilities: 765 kV Transmission Line through Loudoun, Frederick, and Clarke Counties

ORDER DENYING RECONSIDERATION

On May 19, 2009, PATH Allegheny Virginia Transmission Corporation ("PATH") filed an application ("Application") with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") for approval and certification of electric transmission facilities pursuant to § 56-46.1 of the Code of Virginia ("Code") and the Utility Facilities Act (§ 56-265.1 et seq. of the Code). In its Application, PATH requested authority to build the Virginia portion of a proposed 765 kV transmission line from the existing Amos Substation in Putnam County, West Virginia, to the proposed Kemptown Substation in Frederick County, Maryland ("PATH Project"). The Virginia segments of the PATH Project consisted of two non-contiguous segments totaling approximately 31 miles and crossing portions of Frederick, Clarke, and Loudoun Counties.

On December 21, 2009, PATH filed a Motion to Withdraw Application and Terminate Proceeding. On December 29, 2009, PATH filed an Amendment to Motion to Withdraw Application and Terminate Proceeding.

On January 27, 2010, the Commission issued an Order Granting Withdrawal.

On February 16, 2010, Robert N. Meiser and Hala A. Meiser, respondents in this proceeding, filed a Petition for Reconsideration or Clarification of the Commission's Order Granting Withdrawal Filed January 27, 2010 ("Petition for Reconsideration or Clarification"), which states in part as follows:

> The Commission's Order [Granting Withdrawal] (a) fails to take advantage of opportunities for an orderly and fair determination of whether or not a hearing is necessary for a refiled application, or, if so, what kind of hearing, and (b) creates inefficiencies in judicial administration, especially if a hearing is found necessary in the refiled case.

Petition for Reconsideration or Clarification at 1.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of this matter, is of the opinion and finds that the Petition for Reconsideration or Clarification shall be denied.

Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT the Petition for Reconsideration or Clarification is denied.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00046
JUNE 14, 2010

APPLICATION OF
THE POTOMAC EDISON COMPANY d/b/a ALLEGHENY POWER

For a 2009 Statutory Review of the Rates, Terms and Conditions for the Provision of Generation, Distribution and Transmission Services Pursuant to Section 56-585.1 A of the Code of Virginia

ORDER GRANTING MOTION TO DISMISS

Pursuant to § 56-585.1 A of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") was directed to initiate proceedings within the first six months of 2009 to review the rates, terms, and conditions for the provision of generation, distribution, and transmission services of each investor-owned incumbent electric utility. On February 24, 2009, the Commission issued an Order Scheduling Rate Proceedings, which, inter alia, ordered The Potomac Edison Company d/b/a Allegheny Power ("Allegheny Power" or "Company") to file its rate case application ("2009 Rate Case") on October 1, 2009.[1]

On June 2, 2009, Allegheny Power filed a Motion to Delay the Filing Date of the Rate Case Application ("Motion"). The Motion, in part, asked that the Commission delay the filing date of the Company's 2009 Rate Case application, scheduled for October 1, 2009, pending the outcome of a proceeding under the Utility Transfers Act, § 56-88 et seq. of the Code, and the Utility Facilities Act, § 56-265.1 et seq. of the Code, that Allegheny Power anticipated filing ("Asset Transfer Proceeding").

In support of its Motion, Allegheny Power stated that it entered into Asset Purchase Agreements on May 4, 2009, with two Virginia electric cooperatives, Rappahannock Electric Cooperative and Shenandoah Valley Electric Cooperative (collectively, "Cooperatives"), to transfer all of its distribution facilities located in its Virginia service territory to the Cooperatives. Allegheny Power asserted that if the transfer were to be approved by the Commission, Allegheny Power would no longer sell electric energy directly to retail customers in Virginia and would no longer be required to proceed with its 2009 Rate Case.

The Commission issued an Order on Motion on July 29, 2009, finding that Allegheny Power should be allowed to delay the filing of its 2009 Rate Case on the condition that the joint petition to initiate the Asset Transfer Proceeding was filed with the Commission on or before September 15, 2009. The Commission further stated that unless directed otherwise, Allegheny Power shall file its 2009 Rate Case application within thirty (30) days of the Commission's final order in the Asset Transfer Proceeding.

The joint petition commencing the Asset Transfer Proceeding was filed September 15, 2009, by Allegheny Power and the Cooperatives.[2] On May 14, 2010, the Commission issued its Order in the Asset Transfer Proceeding granting the joint petition subject to certain requirements, including the filing of a notice of acceptance by Allegheny Power and the Cooperatives of the Commission's conditions for approval.

On June 10, 2010, Allegheny Power filed its Motion to Dismiss in this proceeding noting that Allegheny Power and the Cooperatives filed their notice of acceptance of the Commission's conditions in the Asset Transfer Proceeding on May 17, 2010. The Motion to Dismiss also states that on June 1, 2010, Allegheny Power and the Cooperatives completed the transaction with the Cooperatives beginning to provide electric service to the former customers of Allegheny Power. In support of its Motion to Dismiss, Allegheny Power asserts that because it no longer generates, transmits, or distributes electric energy for use by retail customers within the Commonwealth, the Commission is not required to review its rates pursuant to § 56-585.1 of the Code. Accordingly, Allegheny Power requests that the Commission dismiss this proceeding. Allegheny Power represents that it is authorized to state that the Staff of the Commission does not oppose the granting of this Motion to Dismiss.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the matter, finds that Allegheny Power's Motion to Dismiss should be granted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Motion to Dismiss filed by Allegheny Power shall be, and hereby is, granted.

(2) There being nothing further to come before the Commission in this proceeding, this matter is dismissed from the Commission's active docket, and the papers filed herein shall be placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00049
JUNE 18, 2010

APPLICATION OF
VIRGINIA ELECTRIC AND POWER COMPANY

For approval and certification of electric transmission facilities under Va. Code § 56-46.1 and the Utility Facilities Act, Va. Code § 56-265.1 et seq., Hayes-Yorktown 230 kV transmission line

FINAL ORDER

On July 1, 2009, Virginia Electric and Power Company ("Dominion Virginia Power" or "Company") filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to construct a 230 kV transmission line in York and Gloucester Counties ("Application"). Prepared testimony, exhibits, copies of correspondence, and other material were attached to the Application.

The Company proposes to build a new 230 kV transmission line approximately 8.0 miles long between the Yorktown Power Station and Hayes Substation. The proposed new 230 kV line will consist of approximately 4.2 miles of overhead line from the Company's existing Hayes Substation in Gloucester County to a new overhead-to-underground transition station ("Gaines Point Terminal Station"), located on the Gloucester County side of the York River at Gaines Point; the Gaines Point Terminal Station; and approximately 3.8 miles of underground line from Gaines Point Terminal Station under the York River to an existing 230 kV switchyard at the Yorktown Power Station in York County.

The Company indicates that the transmission line is needed to address reliability concerns beginning in the summer of 2012. In addition, the Company states that the proposed line is needed to provide continued reliable service in the Middle Peninsula area of Virginia, including Gloucester, Mathews, New Kent, King William, King and Queen, and Middlesex Counties.

On September 14, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Hearing that docketed the Application as Case No. PUE-2009-00049; established a procedural schedule; scheduled a public hearing for February 9, 2010; and assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner. Dominion Virginia Power was required to provide public notice by September 25, 2009, and proof of notice by October 23, 2009. Respondents were instructed to file direct testimony and exhibits by November 12, 2009. The Commission Staff ("Staff") was instructed to review the Application and file a Staff Report summarizing its investigation by December 1, 2009. The Company was allowed to respond to Staff's Report and any testimony from Respondents by December 22, 2009. The public was invited to provide written comments by February 2, 2010. By Order of the Chief Hearing Examiner, the deadlines for submission of the Staff Report and the Company's rebuttal testimony were extended to January 20, 2010, and February 3, 2010, respectively.

Section 56-46.1 of the Code of Virginia ("Code") requires the Commission to receive and to consider reports from state environmental agencies on the proposed facilities. On September 30, 2009, the Virginia Department of Environmental Quality ("DEQ") filed its coordinated environmental review of the Company's proposed transmission facilities ("DEQ Report"). In addition to any federal, state, or local laws or regulations, the DEQ made the following recommendations to mitigate the environmental impact of the proposed facilities:

- Follow the DEQ recommendations to avoid wetlands and streams, and minimize indirect and temporary impacts to wetlands.
- Reduce solid waste at the source, reuse it, and recycle it to the maximum extent practicable.
- Coordinate with the Department of Conservation and Recreation for updates to its Biotics database if a significant amount of time passes before the project is implemented.
- Coordinate with the Center for Conservation Biology to determine if any new bald eagle nests were detected during the 2009 surveys and to ensure protection of this listed species. If a new nest was documented within 0.25 mile (1,320 feet) of the project area, contact the Department of Game and Inland Fisheries ("DGIF") to facilitate further consultation regarding the new nest(s).
- Coordinate with DGIF, with respect to its recommendations to protect aquatic resources and wildlife species.
- Coordinate with the Department of Forestry ("DOF") with respect to recommendations to mitigate for potential adverse impacts to the Commonwealth's forest resources.
- Perform the necessary archaeological and architectural surveys, evaluate the direct and indirect effects of this project on identified significant historic resources, make reasonable efforts to avoid, minimize or mitigate any negative impacts to historic resources and verify with the Department of Historic Resources the scope and scale of these studies.
- Follow the principles and practices of pollution prevention to the maximum extent practicable.
- Limit the use of pesticides and herbicides to the extent practicable.

On January 20, 2010, the Commission Staff filed its Report wherein the Staff concluded that Dominion Virginia Power had reasonably demonstrated the need for the proposed project. Staff further concluded that the proposed routing is optimal but that the Commission should consider an alternate location for the Gaines Point Terminal Station, an alternate location that had not been publicly noticed. Finally, Staff noted that the Company's previous DOF-mandated forest loss mitigation, the open-ended mitigation associated with the Carson-Suffolk 500 kV transmission line in Southeastern Virginia for which no cost estimates were available at the time of Commission approval, ultimately cost the Company and its ratepayers $987,595. In this case, Staff reported that the Company estimated mitigation costs to be approximately $61,000. Staff recommended the Commission approve the project and issue the certificate of public convenience and necessity.

The evidentiary hearing was held on February 9, 2010, before Chief Hearing Examiner Deborah V. Ellenberg. By agreement of counsel to Dominion Virginia Power and the Staff, prepared testimony and exhibits of the Staff, the DEQ, and the Company witnesses were offered for admission without cross-examination. The Chief Hearing Examiner admitted the documents into the record. Kenneth C. Strong appeared telephonically as a public witness. No respondents participated in the hearing, although Gloria Ward Peaks had filed a letter with the Commission seeking to participate as a respondent to ensure that the proposed route did not affect her father's land, which was held in trust.

On May 4, 2010, the Chief Hearing Examiner issued her report ("Chief Hearing Examiner's Report") setting forth the procedural history of the case, summarizing the record, analyzing the evidence and issues in this proceeding, and making the following findings and recommendations:

(1) The public convenience and necessity require construction of the project;

(2) The Company has demonstrated a need for the proposed facilities;

(3) The project will enhance the reliability of the Company's service;

(4) The project utilizes existing rights-of-way;

(5) The DEQ recommendations are necessary to minimize any adverse environmental impact of the proposed project with the requirement to mitigate for potential adverse impacts to forest resources capped at $61,000 unless the Company and DOF mutually agree additional expenditures are necessary for this project;

(6) The Company's proposal will then reasonably minimize any adverse impact of the scenic assets, historic districts, and environment of the area in which the project will be located; and

(7) The proposed project will have a positive impact on economic development in the area it will serve.

Dominion Virginia Power filed comments in response to the Chief Hearing Examiner's Report supporting the recommendations. The Commission received no other comments.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered this matter, is of the opinion and finds that the public convenience and necessity require construction of the transmission line proposed in this proceeding, subject to the following findings and conditions:

Approval

The statutory scheme governing the Company's Application is found in several chapters of Title 56 of the Code. Section 56-265.2 A of the Code provides that "[i]t shall be unlawful for any public utility to construct . . . facilities for use in public utility service . . . without first having obtained a certificate from the Commission that the public convenience and necessity require the exercise of such right or privilege."

Section 56-46.1 of the Code further directs the Commission to consider several factors when reviewing the Company's Application. Subsection A of the statute provides that:

> Whenever the Commission is required to approve the construction of any electrical utility facility, it shall give consideration to the effect of that facility on the environment and establish such conditions as may be desirable or necessary to minimize adverse environmental impact. . . . In every proceeding under this subsection, the Commission shall receive and give consideration to all reports that relate to the proposed facility by state agencies concerned with environmental protection; and if requested by any county or municipality in which the facility is proposed to be built, to local comprehensive plans that have been adopted. . . .
> Additionally, the Commission (i) shall consider the effect of the proposed facility on economic development within the Commonwealth and (ii) shall consider any improvements in service reliability that may result from the construction of such facility.

Section 56-46.1 B of the Code further provides that: "[a]s a condition to approval the Commission shall determine that the line is needed and that the corridor or route the line is to follow will reasonably minimize adverse impact on the scenic assets, historic districts and environment of the area concerned."

The Code also requires the Commission to consider existing rights-of-way easements when siting transmission lines. Section 56-46.1 C of the Code provides that "[i]n any hearing the public service company shall provide adequate evidence that existing rights-of-way cannot adequately serve the needs of the company." In addition, § 56-259 C of the Code provides that "[p]rior to acquiring any easement of right-of-way, public service corporations will consider the feasibility of locating such facilities on, over, or under existing easements of rights-of-way."

Finally, House Bill 1319 ("HB 1319"), approved by the General Assembly in 2008, established a pilot program to place electrical transmission lines of 230 kV or less in whole or in part underground. Under HB 1319, the Commission is required to review applications submitted by public utilities for certificates of public convenience and necessity for the construction of electrical transmission lines of 230 kilovolts or less filed between the effective date of the act and July 1, 2012. To be qualified to be placed underground, a proposed project must meet the following three criteria:

1. An engineering analysis demonstrates that it is technically feasible to place the proposed line, in whole or in part, underground;

2. The estimated additional cost of placing the proposed line, in whole or in part, underground does not exceed 2.5 times the cost of placing the same line overhead, assuming accepted industry standards for undergrounding to ensure safety and reliability. If the public utility, the affected localities, and the [Commission] agree, a proposed underground line whose cost exceeds 2.5 times the cost of placing the line overhead may also be accepted into the pilot program; and

3. The governing body of each locality in which a portion of the proposed line will be placed underground indicates, by resolution, general community support for the line to be placed underground.[1]

Need

The Commission agrees with the Chief Hearing Examiner, and we find that the record establishes that the proposed transmission line is necessary to assure that the Company can continue to provide reliable service in the Middle Peninsula area of Virginia, including Gloucester, Mathews, New Kent, King William, King and Queen, and Middlesex Counties, consistent with mandatory North American Electric Reliability Corporation Reliability Standards for transmission facilities and the Company's planning criteria.[2] The Company introduced testimony and exhibits that established that the proposed transmission line is needed to address reliability concerns in the Middle Peninsula load area. The Staff recommended approval of the project.

Scenic Assets, Historic Districts, and Existing Rights-of-Way

The Commission adopts the Chief Hearing Examiner's finding that the proposed project will have minimal adverse impact on scenic assets, historic districts, and the environment.

The Commission also adopts the Chief Hearing Examiner's finding that the proposed transmission line will use existing rights-of-way to the maximum extent possible.

Economic Development and Service Reliability

The Chief Hearing Examiner noted that the proposed transmission line would have no adverse impact on economic development and will be subject to local taxation by Gloucester and York Counties. The Chief Hearing Examiner also concluded that the proposed project benefits economic development by assuring continued reliable bulk electric power delivery on the Middle Peninsula.[3] We accept the Chief Hearing Examiner's finding that the proposed transmission line will benefit economic development in the Middle Peninsula.

Environmental Impact

Under § 56-46.1 A and B of the Code, the Commission is required to consider the proposed transmission line's impact on the environment and to establish such conditions as may be desirable or necessary to minimize adverse environmental impact. The statute further provides that the Commission shall receive and give consideration to all reports that relate to the proposed facility by state agencies concerned with environmental protection.

In order to assist the Commission with its review of the environmental impact of the proposed transmission line, the DEQ filed its DEQ Report on September 30, 2009, which included the specific findings and recommendations noted above.

The record developed at the hearing supports findings that the Company's proposed route reasonably minimizes adverse impact. The proposed transmission route is generally supported by Staff and the DEQ, although Staff also identified an alternate location for the Gaines Point Terminal Station. The record supports the setting of certain conditions on our approval of the transmission line, which will protect the environment. The Commission agrees that the listed DEQ recommendations should be conditions of the certificate, and we will impose as a condition of the certificate that the Company cooperate with all state and local agencies in implementing the recommendations identified by DEQ. We agree with the Chief Hearing Examiner that the Company's obligation to mitigate impacts on forest resources should be neither unlimited nor open-ended, but it should be capped at the Company's estimate of $61,000 unless the Company and DOF mutually agree that additional expenditures are appropriate.

HB 1319 Pilot Project

Although a portion of the proposed route is underground, including an underwater crossing of the York River, the Company did not apply for consideration of the proposed project as a HB 1319 underground pilot project, and the Chief Hearing Examiner found that the proposed project should not be considered as a HB 1319 underground pilot project.[4] We agree with the Chief Hearing Examiner.

Finally, in addition to the conditions set forth above, we will also condition approval of the project and the certificate of public convenience and necessity upon completion of the project within a specified period. We find that, as a condition of the certificate, the project must be in service within twenty-four (24) months of the date of this Final Order. Dominion Virginia Power may petition the Commission for an extension of this condition for good cause.

In conclusion, the Commission finds that the public convenience and necessity require Dominion Virginia Power to construct the proposed transmission line in Gloucester and York Counties. We further find that the proposed line route, with the conditions imposed on the certificate, reasonably minimizes the impact on the environment. We likewise adopt the finding of the Chief Hearing Examiner that the proposed transmission line will promote economic development and improve reliability of service.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Company is authorized to construct and operate the proposed 8.0 mile 230 kV Hayes-Yorktown transmission line on the route proposed in the Company's Application.

(2) Pursuant to §§ 56-46.1, 56-265.2, and related provisions of Title 56 of the Code, the Company's Application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to construct the proposed transmission line is granted, as provided for herein, and subject to the requirements set forth in this Final Order.

(3) Pursuant to the Utility Facilities Act, Chapter 10.1 (§ 56-265.1 et seq.) of Title 56 of the Code, the Company is issued the following certificates of public convenience and necessity:

> Certificate No. ET-82e, which authorizes Virginia Electric and Power Company under the Utility Facilities Act to operate presently constructed transmission lines and facilities in Gloucester County, all as shown on the detailed map attached to the certificate, and to construct and operate facilities as authorized in Case No. PUE-2009-00049; Certificate No. ET-82e cancels Certificate No. ET-82d issued to Virginia Electric and Power Company on December 8, 1977.
> Certificate No. ET-77k, which authorizes Virginia Electric and Power Company under the Utility Facilities Act to operate presently constructed transmission lines and facilities in James City and York Counties, all as shown on the detailed map attached to the certificate, and to construct and operate facilities as authorized in Case No. PUE-2009-00049; Certificate No. ET-77k cancels Certificate No. ET-77j issued to Virginia Electric and Power Company on May 12, 1976.

(4) The Commission's Division of Energy Regulation shall forthwith provide the Company a copy of the certificates issued in Ordering Paragraph (3) above with the detailed map attached.

(5) The transmission line approved herein must be constructed and operational within twenty-four (24) months from the date of entry of this Final Order; provided however, the Company is granted leave to apply for an extension for good cause shown.

(6) As there is nothing further to come before the Commission, this matter is dismissed and the papers herein placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00050
MARCH 10, 2010

APPLICATION OF
VIRGINIA ELECTRIC AND POWER COMPANY

> For approval and certification of electric transmission facilities under Va. Code § 56-46.1 and the Utility Facilities Act, Va. Code § 56-265.1 et seq., Remington CT-Gainesville 230 kV transmission line

FINAL ORDER

On June 15, 2009, Virginia Electric and Power Company ("Dominion Virginia Power" or "Company") filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to construct a 230 kV transmission line in Fauquier and Prince William Counties ("Application"). Prepared testimony, exhibits, copies of correspondence, and other material were attached to the Application.

The Company proposes to: (1) convert from operation at 115 kV to operation at 230 kV approximately 9.81 miles of the Company's existing 115 kV Remington CT-Independent Hill DP Line #183 in Fauquier County between Remington CT Substation and Bristerburg Junction, relocating this portion of Line #183 to new structures as part of the construction of the 500 kV Meadow Brook-Loudoun Line approved in Case No. PUE-2007-00031; (2) install and operate in Fauquier County and Prince William County a new 14.5 mile 230 kV transmission line between Bristerburg Junction and the Company's existing Gainesville Substation in Prince William County, to be located on structures constructed as part of the Meadow Brook-Loudoun Line and located within existing right-of-way or right-of-way to be acquired for the Meadow Brook-Loudoun Line; and (3) interconnect the Remington CT-Bristerburg Junction and Bristerburg Junction-Gainesville facilities to create a new 24.31 mile 230 kV Remington CT-Gainesville circuit.

The Company indicates that the transmission line is needed to address reliability concerns beginning in the summer of 2012. In addition, the Company states that the proposed line is needed to provide continued reliable service in the northern Virginia, Chancellor, Gordonsville, and Remington load areas.

On July 28, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Hearing that docketed the Application as Case No. PUE-2009-00050; established a procedural schedule; scheduled a public hearing for December 15, 2009; and assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner. Dominion Virginia Power was required to provide public notice by August 10, 2009, and proof of notice by August 31, 2009. Respondents were instructed to file direct testimony and exhibits by October 6, 2009. The Commission Staff was instructed to review the Application and file a Staff Report summarizing its investigation by November 4, 2009. The Company was allowed to respond to Staff's Report and any testimony from Respondents by November 24, 2009. The public was invited to provide written comments by December 8, 2009.

On September 4, 2009, Sue and Stanley Heflin, Ruther Allen Family LLC, Sullivan-Fauquier LLC, Saeid Asgharinia, and Mark Bredesen (collectively, "Property Owners"), by counsel, filed a Notice of Participation as Respondents.

On November 4, 2009, the Commission Staff filed its Report wherein the Staff concluded that Dominion Virginia Power had "reasonably demonstrated the public need for the proposed project" and that "the project best meets that need" and recommended the Commission approve the project and issue the certificate of public convenience and necessity.[1]

The evidentiary hearing was held on December 15, 2009, before Hearing Examiner Michael D. Thomas, wherein the Commission heard testimony from one Staff witness. By agreement of counsel to Dominion Virginia Power, the Property Owners, and the Staff, prepared testimony and exhibits of the Staff, the Virginia Department of Environmental Quality ("DEQ"), and additional Company witnesses were offered for admission without cross-examination. The Hearing Examiner admitted the documents into the record.

On January 21, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued his Report ("Hearing Examiner's Report"), setting forth the procedural history of the case; summarizing the record; and analyzing the evidence and issues in this proceeding and made the following findings and recommendations:

> (1) The Company's proposed facilities are needed to meet the growing demand for electricity in northern Virginia, as well as in the Chancellor, Gordonsville, and Remington service areas;
> (2) The proposed facilities are needed to address [North American Reliability Corporation's] transmission reliability standards and enhance the operational capability and flexibility of the Remington and Marsh Run Generating Stations;
>
> (3) The proposed facilities are needed to support economic development in northern Virginia and the load areas of Chancellor, Gordonsville, and Remington;
>
> (4) The proposed facilities will have no adverse impact on scenic assets, historic districts, and the environment;
>
> (5) The ten DEQ recommendations are desirable or necessary to minimize adverse environmental impact associated with the proposed facilities;
>
> (6) The proposed facilities use existing rights-of-way to the maximum extent practicable;
>
> (7) There is no evidence that [the electric and magnetic fields] represents a hazard to human health, which finding is consistent with the Virginia Department of Health's report entitled "Monitoring of Ongoing Research on the Health Effects of High Voltage Transmission Lines (Final Report)" dated October 31, 2000;
>
> (8) The proposed facilities should not be considered as an underground pilot project under HB 1319; and
> (9) A certificate of public convenience and necessity should be issued for the Company to construct and operate the proposed facilities.

Dominion Virginia Power filed comments in response to the Hearing Examiner's Report supporting the recommendations. The Commission received no other comments.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered this matter, is of the opinion and finds that the public convenience and necessity require construction of the transmission line proposed in this proceeding, subject to the following findings and conditions:

Approval

The statutory scheme governing the Company's Application is found in several chapters of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"). Section 56-265.2 A of the Code provides that "[i]t shall be unlawful for any public utility to construct . . . facilities for use in public utility service . . . without first having obtained a certificate from the Commission that the public convenience and necessity require the exercise of such right or privilege."

Section 56-46.1 of the Code further directs the Commission to consider several factors when reviewing the Company's Application. Subsection A of the statute provides that:

> Whenever the Commission is required to approve the construction of any electrical utility facility, it shall give consideration to the effect of that facility on the environment and establish such conditions as may be desirable or necessary to minimize adverse environmental impact . . . . In every proceeding under this subsection, the Commission shall receive and give consideration to all reports that relate to the proposed facility by state agencies concerned with environmental protection; and if requested by any county or municipality in which the facility is proposed to be built, to local comprehensive plans that have been adopted. . . .
> Additionally, the Commission (i) shall consider the effect of the proposed facility on economic development within the Commonwealth and (ii) shall consider any improvements in service reliability that may result from the construction of such facility.

[1] Staff Report at 16.

Section 56-46.1 B of the Code further provides that: "[a]s a condition to approval the Commission shall determine that the line is needed and that the corridor or route the line is to follow will reasonably minimize adverse impact on the scenic assets, historic districts and environment of the area concerned."

The Code also requires the Commission to consider existing rights-of-way easements when siting transmission lines. Section 56-46.1 C of the Code provides that "[i]n any hearing the public service company shall provide adequate evidence that existing rights-of-way cannot adequately serve the needs of the company." In addition, § 56-259 C of the Code provides that "[p]rior to acquiring any easement of right-of-way, public service corporations will consider the feasibility of locating such facilities on, over, or under existing easements of rights-of way."

Finally, House Bill 1319 ("HB 1319"), approved by the General Assembly in 2008, established a pilot program to place electrical transmission lines of 230 kV or less, in whole or in part, underground. Under HB 1319, the Commission is required to review applications submitted by public utilities for certificates of public convenience and necessity for the construction of electrical transmission lines of 230 kV or less filed between the effective date of the act and July 1, 2012. To be qualified to be placed underground, a proposed project must meet the following three criteria:

1. An engineering analysis demonstrates that it is technically feasible to place the proposed line, in whole or in part, underground;

2. The estimated additional cost of placing the proposed line, in whole or in part, underground does not exceed 2.5 times the cost of placing the same line overhead, assuming accepted industry standards for undergrounding to ensure safety and reliability. If the public utility, the affected localities, and the State Corporation Commission agree, a proposed underground line whose cost exceeds 2.5 times the cost of placing the line overhead may also be accepted into the pilot program; and

3. The governing body of each locality in which a portion of the proposed line will be placed underground indicates, by resolution, general community support for the line to be placed underground.[2]

Need

The Commission agrees with the Hearing Examiner, and we find that the record establishes that the proposed transmission line is needed to meet the growing demand for electricity in northern Virginia; improve the reliability of the Company's Remington and Marsh Run Generating Stations; and support continued economic development in northern Virginia and the load areas of Chancellor, Gordonsville, and Remington.[3] The Company introduced testimony and exhibits that established that the proposed transmission line is needed to address reliability concerns in the northern Virginia, Chancellor, Gordonsville, and Remington load areas. The Staff recommended approval of the project.

Economic Development and Service Reliability

The Hearing Examiner noted that the proposed transmission line is designed to support commercial and industrial load growth occurring in northern Virginia. In particular, the proposed transmission line would improve the operating efficiency of the Remington and Marsh Run Generating Stations. We accept the Hearing Examiner's finding that the proposed transmission line is needed to meet the growing demand for electricity in northern Virginia and that the proposed transmission line is needed to support continued economic development in northern Virginia and the load areas of Chancellor, Gordonsville, and Remington.

Scenic Assets, Historic Districts, and Existing Rights-of-Way

The Commission agrees with the Hearing Examiner and finds that the proposed project will have no adverse impact on scenic assets, historic districts, and the environment.[4]

The Commission also agrees with the Hearing Examiner's finding that the proposed transmission line will use existing rights-of-way to the maximum extent possible.

Environmental Impact

Under § 56-46.1 A and B of the Code, the Commission is required to consider the proposed transmission line's impact on the environment and to establish such conditions as may be desirable or necessary to minimize adverse environmental impact. The statute further provides that the Commission shall receive and give consideration to all reports that relate to the proposed facility by state agencies concerned with environmental protection.

In order to assist the Commission with its review of the environmental impact of the proposed transmission line, the DEQ filed its coordinated environmental review on September 3, 2009 ("DEQ Report"). The specific recommendations are summarized in the DEQ Report as follows:

- Reduce solid waste at the source, reuse it, and recycle it to the maximum extent.
- Coordinate this project with the Department of Conservation and Recreation concerning recommendations of that Department with respect to the protection of natural heritage resources and rare plant species.
- Coordinate with the Department of Conservation and Recreation for updates to their Biotics database if a significant amount of time passes before the project is implemented.

[2] 2008 Va. Acts ch. 799.

[3] Hearing Examiner's Report at 11.

[4] Id.

- Continue to coordinate with the Department of Game and Inland Fisheries with respect to impacts to wildlife and protected species under its jurisdiction previously identified during the review of Line # 535.
- Conduct any additional archaeological surveys for areas of land disturbance not considered as part of the Meadow Brook-Loudoun project.
- Coordinate permits and road and transportation impacts with the affected counties and the appropriate Virginia Department of Transportation District ("VDOT") offices.
- Coordinate with the Federal Aviation Administration to ensure compliance with Federal Aviation Regulations.
- Coordinate with the Virginia Department of Health if tower footers are located near wells.
- Employ best management practices at the project sites including erosion and sediment control measures as well as spill prevention, controls, and countermeasures.
- Follow the principles and practices of pollution prevention to the maximum extent.

The record developed at the hearing supports findings that the Company's proposed route reasonably minimizes adverse impact. The proposed transmission route is recommended by Staff and the DEQ. The record supports the setting of certain conditions on our approval of the transmission line, which will protect the environment. The Commission agrees that the listed recommendations should be conditions of the certificate, and we will impose as a condition of the certificate that the Company cooperate with all state and local agencies in implementing the recommendations identified by the DEQ.

HB 1319 Pilot Project

The Company did not apply for consideration of the proposed project as a HB 1319 underground pilot project, and the Hearing Examiner found that the proposed project should not be considered as a HB 1319 underground pilot project, and we agree with the Hearing Examiner.

Finally, in addition to the conditions set forth above, we will also condition approval of the project and the certificate of public convenience and necessity upon completion of the project within a specified period. Although the Company estimates that the project will take six to eight months of actual construction time to complete, it requested that it be given twenty-four (24) months from the date of entry of the final order in this matter. Accordingly, we find that, as a condition of the certificate, the project must be in service within twenty-four (24) months of the date of this Order. Dominion Virginia Power may petition the Commission for an extension of this condition for good cause.

In conclusion, the Commission finds that the public convenience and necessity require Dominion Virginia Power to construct the proposed transmission line in Fauquier and Prince William Counties. We further find that the proposed line route, with the conditions imposed on the certificate, reasonably minimizes impact on the environment. We likewise adopt the finding of the Hearing Examiner that the proposed transmission line will promote economic development and improve reliability of service.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Company is authorized to construct and operate the proposed 24.31 mile 230 kV Remington CT-Gainesville circuit on the route proposed in the Company's Application.

(2) Pursuant to §§ 56-46.1, 56-265.2, and related provisions of Title 56 of the Code, the Company's Application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to construct the proposed transmission line is granted, as provided for herein, and subject to the requirements set forth in this Final Order.

(3) Pursuant to the Utility Facilities Act, Chapter 10. 1 (§ 56-265.1 et seq.) of Title 56 of the Code, the Company is issued the following certificates of public convenience and necessity:

> Certificate No. 80o, which authorizes Virginia Electric and Power Company under the Utility Facilities Act to operate presently constructed transmission lines and facilities in Fauquier County, all as shown on the detailed map attached to the Certificate, and to construct and operate facilities as authorized in Case No. PUE-2009-00050; Certificate No. 80o cancels Certificate No. 80n issued to Virginia Electric and Power Company on October 7, 2008, in Case No. PUE-2007-00031.
> Certificate No. 105y, which authorizes Virginia Electric and Power Company under the Utility Facilities Act to operate presently constructed transmission lines and facilities in Prince William County, all as shown on the detailed map attached to the Certificate, and to construct and operate facilities as authorized in Case No. PUE-2009-00050; Certificate No. 105y cancels Certificate No. 105x issued to Virginia Electric and Power Company on October 7, 2008, in Case No. PUE-2007-00031.

(4) The Commission's Division of Energy Regulation shall forthwith provide the Company copies of the certificates issued in Ordering Paragraph (3) above with the detailed map attached.

(5) The transmission line approved herein must be constructed and operational within twenty-four months from the date of entry of the date of this Final Order; provided however, the Company is granted leave to apply for an extension for good cause shown.

(6) As there is nothing further to come before the Commission, this matter is dismissed and the papers herein placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00055
DECEMBER 2, 2010

WAYNE L. DAVIS
v.
VIRGINIA ELECTRIC AND POWER COMPANY d/b/a DOMINION VIRGINIA POWER

For review of a dispute regarding meter location

FINAL ORDER

On June 17, 2009, Wayne L. Davis ("Petitioner") filed a complaint with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), requesting Dominion Virginia Power ("Dominion" or "Company") to restore electric service to his residence immediately and move his electric meter to the exterior of his residence. On June 22, 2009, the Petitioner filed an amended complaint and stated that his electrical service had been restored on June 19, 2009.

On July 13, 2009, Dominion, by counsel, filed a Motion to Dismiss Petition with Prejudice as Moot wherein it requested that the Commission dismiss the case with prejudice because the Petitioner's electric service had been restored.

On July 17, 2009, the Petitioner filed with the Commission a Motion to Amend Petition and a Motion to Quash. In the Motion to Amend Petition, the Petitioner stated that Dominion had not yet moved the meter; therefore, the case before the Commission was not moot and should not be dismissed. On August 4, 2009, the Petitioner filed a Motion to Amend Previous Briefs on Merits.

For several months, the parties engaged in settlement discussions, which were ultimately unsuccessful.

On January 21, 2010, the Commission issued its Order Docketing Case in which, among other things, the Commission directed the parties to file amended pleadings and appointed a Hearing Examiner to conduct all further proceedings in the matter.

On February 8, 2010, the Petitioner filed his Amended Petition ("Amended Petition") and Motion for Extension of Time to File Amended Complaint. In the Amended Petition, the Petitioner continued to press for Dominion to move its electric meter; maintained that the meter is readable by remote signal; contended that there have been no negotiations; and asserted "a case of abuse and mistreatment. . . ."[1]

On February 26, 2010, Dominion filed its response wherein it objected to the Petitioner's Amended Petition for failing to meet the requirements of Rule 5 VAC 5-20-100 B, which requires, among other things, a clear statement of the facts and the action sought.[2] Additionally, the Company asked the Commission to find that the Petitioner is responsible for the costs associated with any necessary relocation of the meter and any other necessary, related electrical work.[3]

By Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated March 3, 2010, oral argument of this matter was scheduled for March 29, 2010. The Petitioner made nine additional filings on March 15, 2010 ("Motions").

On March 29, 2010, oral arguments were held before Senior Hearing Examiner Alexander F. Skirpan, Jr., as scheduled. Scott G. Crowley, Esquire, appeared on behalf of the Petitioner. Thomas C. Walker, Jr., Esquire, appeared on behalf of Dominion. Mary Beth Adams, Esquire, appeared on behalf of Commission Staff.

Counsel for both the Petitioner and Dominion were able to stipulate to all of the facts of this proceeding with the exception of when the meter was enclosed in the porch.[4] The Hearing Examiner determined that most of the Petitioner's Motions appeared to be designed to develop a record of the Petitioner's usage of electricity at his residence.[5] Since the complaint turned on Dominion's Terms and Conditions and all facts other than the date of the porch enclosure were stipulated, the Hearing Examiner found that the information sought in the Motions lacked relevance. Therefore, he denied the Motions.[6]

The Petitioner, through counsel, asserted that the meter did not need to be moved, but if it was moved it should not be done at his expense.[7] Dominion maintained that the meter must be moved "for safety reasons and to enable the Company to have access to its equipment."[8] Additionally, Dominion contended that the Petitioner should be responsible for the costs associated with moving the meter.[9]

In support of the Company's argument that the meter must be moved, counsel for Dominion referred to the language in § V B of Dominion's Terms and Conditions, which states in pertinent part:

> [t]he Customer shall provide suitable space for the installation of the necessary metering apparatus; such space shall be. . .[a]n outside location for all residential services unless otherwise approved by the Company. . .[u]nobstructed, readily accessible and, safe and convenient for reading, testing and servicing by the Company. . . .[10]

The Petitioner contended that, by providing reasonable access at reasonable times, he has complied with § XV of Dominion's Terms and Conditions, which states that "[t]he Company shall have the right of access to the Customer's premises at all reasonable times for the purpose of reading meters of the Company and of removing its property, and for any other proper purpose. . . ."[11]

With regard to determining which party should be responsible for paying the costs associated with moving the meter, Dominion could not cite to specific language in the Company's Terms and Conditions that explicitly placed the financial responsibility on either the Company or the property owner.[12] The Petitioner argued that the language in Dominion's Terms and Conditions implies that the meter belongs to the Company and supports Dominion paying for the cost associated with relocating the meter.[13] The Petitioner stated that he would be willing to pay the costs associated with moving the wiring inside the residence if the meter is moved.[14]

On May 11, 2010, the Report of Alexander F. Skirpan, Jr., Senior Hearing Examiner ("Hearing Examiner's Report" or "Report") was issued. In his Report, the Hearing Examiner summarized the record, made findings, and recommended that the Commission enter an order adopting his findings and dismissing this case from the docket of active matters. With regard to the location of the meter, the Hearing Examiner found that the Company's Terms and Conditions grant Dominion the right to determine the location of the meter.[15] The Hearing Examiner also found that "the plain language of Dominion's Terms and Conditions assigns the responsibility for the installation of Company-owned meters and equipment to the Company and assigns the responsibility for wiring and equipment owned by the customer to the customer."[16] Next, the Hearing Examiner found that "based on Dominion's Terms and Conditions, if Dominion determines that the Petitioner's meter should be moved, the responsibility and cost of moving the meter should be borne by the Company."[17] Finally, the Hearing Examiner found that "if Dominion determines that the Petitioner's meter should be moved, the Petitioner must bear the cost of any additional wiring or re-wiring on the customer's side of the relocated meter."[18]

Dominion filed comments ("Comments") on the Hearing Examiner's Report that, among other things: (a) "request[ed] that the Commission not adopt the Examiner's finding and recommendation concerning the Company's responsibility and assignment of cost for the meter relocation;" and (b) "if the Commission adopts the Examiner's finding and recommendation, . . . request[ed] that the Commission's final order be expressly limited to the facts and circumstances of the Company's dispute with Petitioner."[19] The Petitioner did not file comments on the Hearing Examiner's Report.

Based on the facts of this case, we find that: (1) the Petitioner shall pay for the relocation costs on the Petitioner's side of the meter; (2) Dominion shall pay for the relocation costs on Dominion's side of the meter; and (3) the findings herein are expressly limited to the facts and circumstances of the Company's dispute with the Petitioner.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Petitioner shall pay for the relocation costs on the Petitioner's side of the meter.

(2) Dominion shall pay for the relocation costs on Dominion's side of the meter.

(3) The findings herein are expressly limited to the facts and circumstances of the Company's dispute with the Petitioner.

(4) This case is dismissed, and the papers herein shall be placed in the file for ended causes.

For an increase in water and sewer rates

ORDER

On July 15, 2009, Alpha Water Corporation; Aqua Virginia, Inc. (Lake Monticello); Aqua S/L, Inc. (Shawnee Land); Aqua Utility-Virginia, Inc. (Lake Shawnee); Blue Ridge Utility Company; Caroline Utilities, Inc.; Earlysville Forest Water Company; Heritage Homes of Virginia, Inc.; Indian River Water Company; James River Service Corporation; Aqua Lake Holiday Utilities, Inc.; Land'Or Utility Company, Inc.; Mountainview Water Company, Inc.; Powhatan Water Works, Inc.; Rainbow Forest Water Corporation; Sydnor Water Corporation; and Water Distributors, Inc. (hereafter collectively "Aqua Virginia" or "Company") filed a completed application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") for an increase in water and sewer rates. The application was filed pursuant to Chapter 10 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code")[1] and the Commission's Rules Governing Utility Rate Applications and Annual Informational Filings.[2] Exhibits and the pre-filed testimony of Gregory K. Odell; Stanley F. Szczygiel; Harold Walker, III; Paul R. Herbert; John J. Spanos; Thomas Geddis; and Daniel T. Franceski were included with the application.

In its application, Aqua Virginia requested authority to increase rates for most of its seventeen water systems and four sewer systems subject to the Commission's jurisdiction.[3] Increases in annual water revenues of $1,551,290 and in annual wastewater revenues of $1,730,244 were requested.[4] These amounts were based in part on an 11.5% common equity cost rate and an overall rate of return of 8.32%.[5] The Company stated that it is seeking a rate increase because of: (i) ongoing capital needs that must be met in order to maintain and enhance service to customers; (ii) continuing increases in costs and operating expenses; (iii) costs associated with compliance requirements for state and federal regulations; and (iv) deficient earned returns on rate base in 2008 of 3.31% for its water systems and 5.22% for its sewer systems.[6]

Aqua Virginia requested rate consolidation and uniform rates for its regulated utilities.[7] One fixed monthly base facility charge and one variable usage charge were proposed for the four sewer systems. One fixed monthly base facility charge and one variable usage charge were proposed for most of the seventeen water systems. The proposed fixed monthly base charge for each of the four sewer systems was $40.77, and the proposed variable usage charge was $12.19 per thousand gallons. For fifteen of the seventeen water systems, the proposed fixed monthly base facility charge was $20.77, and the proposed variable usage charge was $4.78 per thousand gallons.[8] For the Alpha Water Corporation system, Aqua Virginia proposed to maintain currently approved rates; the proposed fixed monthly base facility charge was therefore $25.00, and the proposed variable usage charge was $4.90 per thousand gallons. For the Earlysville Forest Water Company system, Aqua Virginia again proposed to maintain currently approved rates; the proposed fixed monthly base facility charge was thus $35.00, and the proposed variable usage charge was $5.00 per thousand gallons.[9]

Aqua Virginia also proposed eliminating the service availability fees that are currently collected from Aqua Virginia, Inc. (Lake Monticello); Aqua S/L, Inc. (Shawnee Land); Land'Or Utility Company, Inc.; and Aqua Lake Holiday Utilities, Inc. The Company proposed eliminating these fees because the "fees are extremely difficult to collect and as a result lead to a high percentage of aged accounts receivable, bad debt allowances and ultimately bad debt and excessive administrative expenses."[10]

Rate consolidation is the use of a unified rate structure for multiple water and wastewater service areas that are owned or operated by a single utility. Rate consolidation contains two separate but related concepts: a uniform tariff price for water and wastewater and a single cost of service, or revenue requirement, for water and wastewater. Under consolidated rates, customers pay a utility the same rate for similar service regardless of the physical location of the service area. Id. at 7-8.

On August 6, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Hearing in this proceeding. The Order for Notice and Hearing, among other things, appointed a Hearing Examiner to conduct further proceedings in the case; set the case for hearing; permitted the Company to implement its proposed rates on an interim basis, subject to refund with interest, on or after December 13, 2009; invited interested persons to comment on the application; invited any interested person to file a notice of participation to participate in the proceeding as a respondent; and set dates for respondents, the Commission Staff ("Staff") and the Company to file testimony or rebuttal testimony.

The Commission received an outpouring of public comments on Aqua Virginia's application. Approximately 3,400 comments have been filed in this proceeding. A large number of those comments were sent from customers currently served by Aqua Virginia, Inc. (Lake Monticello); Aqua Lake Holiday Utilities, Inc.; Land'Or Utility Company, Inc.; Mountainview Water Company, Inc.; Rainbow Forest Water Corporation; Water Distributors, Inc.; and the Blue Ridge Utility Company. Most customer comments opposed the size of the Company's proposed rate increase. Some customers stated that their current bills have already caused economic strain, especially for those who are retired, living on fixed incomes, or have recently lost their jobs, and that the strain has caused them to take drastic measures to reduce their water consumption. Other customers stated that continued rate increases of this magnitude would affect their ability to continue to live in the area and could affect their ability to sell or rent their homes. Still other customers noted that they had experienced problems with water quality or Aqua Virginia's customer service.[11]

Notices of participation were timely submitted by the Board of Supervisors of Frederick County, Virginia ("Frederick County"); the Lake Land'Or Property Owners Association, Inc. ("Lake Land'Or"); Caroline County, Virginia ("Caroline County"); the Office of the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Counsel ("Consumer Counsel"); and Lake Holiday Country Club, Inc. ("Lake Holiday").

On December 17, 2009, Lake Holiday pre-filed the testimony of Joseph Marcus, Charles James, and Christopher Allison. Frederick County pre-filed the direct testimony of Harvey E. Strawsnyder on December 18, 2009. Frederick County also noted in its pre-filed testimony that it reserved the right to adopt any and all portions of the testimony of Joseph Marcus, Charles James, and Christopher Allison during the hearing in this proceeding. Also on December 18, 2009, Consumer Counsel filed the testimony of Glenn A. Watkins, and Lake Land'Or pre-filed the testimony of D. Wayne Trimble and Bonnie Kilgore-Leiss. On January 27, 2010, Staff pre-filed the testimony of Scott C. Armstrong; Marc A. Tufaro; John R. Ballsrud; and Michael W. Gleason, and on February 22, 2010, Staff witnesses Scott Armstrong and John Ballsrud filed supplemental testimony. Finally, the Company filed the rebuttal testimony of Gregory Odell; Stanley Szczygiel; Harold Walker, III; David P. Smeltzer; Thomas Geddis; and Daniel Franceski on February 12, 2010.

Beginning February 24, 2010, a public hearing was held before the Hearing Examiner assigned to this case. Twenty public witnesses submitted testimony in the proceeding, and counsel for Aqua Virginia, Consumer Counsel, Frederick County, Lake Land'Or, Caroline County, and the Staff appeared.[12] Gregory Odell, Stanley Szczygiel, Harold Walker, III, David Smeltzer, Thomas Geddis, and Daniel Franceski testified on behalf of the Company. D. Wayne Trimble and Bonnie Kilgore-Leiss testified on behalf of Lake Land'Or, and Glenn Watkins testified on behalf of Consumer Counsel. On behalf of the Staff, testimony from Scott Armstrong; Marc Tufaro; John Ballsrud; and Michael Gleason was received.

On September 7, 2010, Howard P. Anderson, Jr., Hearing Examiner, issued his report ("Report" or "Hearing Examiner's Report"). The Hearing Examiner made the following findings:

1. The use of a test year ending December 31, 2008, is proper in this proceeding;

2. The Company's test year operating revenues, after all adjustments, were $9,577,636;

3. The Company's test year net operating income, after all adjustments, was $490,351;

4. The Company's test year operating expenses, after all adjustments, were $7,951,947;

5. The Company's overall end of test period rate base, after all adjustments, is $39,136,037;

6. The adjustments agreed upon by Staff, the Company, and the parties are reasonable and should be adopted;

7. Aqua America's actual capital structure should be utilized to determine the overall cost of capital in this proceeding;

8. The stipulated rate of return on common equity of 10.70% and an overall cost of capital of 7.733% are reasonable and should be adopted;

9. Staff's acquisition adjustment and related recommendations are appropriate and should be adopted;

10. The availability fee should be retained;

11. The Company's connection fees should not be increased;

[11] Comments opposing the proposed rate increase were also received from many public officials representing the interests of Aqua Virginia's customers. For example, Botetourt Supervisor Billy Martin; Gerald Burgess, county administrator for Botetourt County; Senator Frank Ruff, representing the 15th Senatorial District; Delegate Lacey E. Putney of Bedford; and Delegate Bill Cleaveland of Roanoke all filed comments or petitions with the Commission opposing the proposed rate increase. Moreover, on October 7, 2010, the Botetourt County Board of Supervisors filed a resolution with the Clerk of the Commission expressing the Botetourt County Board of Supervisors' disagreement with the rate increases for Aqua Virginia's customers in Botetourt County recommended in the Hearing Examiner's Report.

[12] Among the public witnesses submitting testimony at the hearing were Delegate Lacey Putney; Billy Martin, member of the Botetourt County Board of Supervisors; Wayne Acors, member of the Caroline County Board of Supervisors, testifying on his own behalf; and customers of Aqua Virginia testifying on their own behalf.

12. The Company's proposed capacity fees should not be adopted. Any capacity fees currently built into the Company's tariff should remain as is;

13. The Company requires $2,218,547 in additional gross annual revenues;

14. The Company's rate design should be based on Exhibit No. 20;

15. The Company's proposed consolidation of its books and records on a system-wide basis should be approved;

16. The Company should be directed to file with the Division of Energy Regulation a detailed report of actions taken with regard to customer complaints, within six months of a Final Order in this case; and

17. The Company should be required to promptly refund, with interest, all revenues collected under its interim rates in excess of the amount found just and reasonable herein.

The Hearing Examiner recommended that the Commission enter an order adopting the findings contained in the Report, granting the Company an increase in gross annual revenues of $2,218,547, and directing the prompt refund of all amounts collected under the interim rates in excess of the rate increase found just and reasonable in the Report.[13]

The Hearing Examiner gave the parties and Staff fourteen days to file any comments to the Report. Comments were received from Lake Land'Or, Consumer Counsel, Staff, and the Company. Lake Land'Or objected to the 10.70% rate of return on common equity recommended by the Hearing Examiner and asked the Commission to adopt a rate of return on equity that was more consistent with previous rates of return set by the Commission for Aqua Virginia and other water companies. Consumer Counsel asked the Commission to adopt the rate design and fixed customer charges proposed by witness Glenn Watkins. Staff urged the Commission, with an exception to the Hearing Examiner's finding concerning insurance costs, to adopt the recommendations set forth in the Hearing Examiner's Report, and to also adopt a cost of equity range of 9.90% to 10.90%. Finally, the Company objected to several findings in the Report, including certain accounting adjustments and the Hearing Examiner's treatment of availability fees, and therefore urged the Commission to adopt the Hearing Examiner's findings in part, and to reject them in part.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of this matter, is of the opinion and finds as follows. The Commission adopts in part, and rejects in part, the findings and recommendations set forth in the Hearing Examiner's Report, as described below.

Rate of Return on Equity

First, the Commission rejects the recommendations set forth in the Hearing Examiner's Report concerning the rate of return on common equity. In its application, the Company requested a rate of return on equity of 11.5%, based on an overall weighted cost of capital of 8.32%.[14] Staff, in pre-filed testimony, based on an actual capital structure for Aqua Virginia's parent company as of September 30, 2009, and a cost of equity range of 9.90% to 10.90%, recommended a rate of return on common equity of 10.40%.[15] Use of the 10.40% midpoint resulted in an overall cost of capital of 7.598%.[16] During the hearing, Aqua Virginia and Staff agreed, for the purpose of settling certain issues in this proceeding only, to accept 10.70% as an appropriate rate of return on equity in this case.[17] Staff and the Company further agreed to accept, for future earnings tests, the cost of equity range of 9.90% to 10.90% set forth in Staff's pre-filed testimony.[18] No other participants in the proceeding, other than the Company and Staff, agreed to accept 10.70% as an appropriate rate of return on equity.[19]

The Hearing Examiner, in his Report, found that "the stipulated rate of return on common equity of 10.70% and an overall cost of capital of 7.733% is reasonable and should be adopted."[20] However, the Commission finds that establishing rates based on a cost of equity of 10.40% results in a fair and reasonable return on common equity. This return is supported by the pre-filed testimony and resulting recommendation of Staff witness Michael Gleason.[21] Mr. Gleason's proxy group for Aqua Virginia resulted in an equity range estimate of 9.90% to 10.90% for an average water distribution company.[22] We find that Mr. Gleason appropriately considered the results of his Discounted Cash Flow analysis, weighted against his risk premium

[18] Id. at 449-450.

[19] In fact, in its Comments on and Exceptions to the Hearing Examiner's Report by the Lake Land'Or Property Owners Association, Inc. ("Lake Land'Or Comments"), Lake Land'Or asked that the Commission reject the 10.70% rate of return on equity and adopt a rate of return on equity that is more consistent with the Company's current rate of return on equity and other rates of return on equity for regulated water companies in Virginia. Lake Land'Or Comments at 2-3. Lake Land'Or argued that the 10.70% rate of return on equity was a "full 70 basis points higher than the 10.0% approved for the Company only two years ago. . . ." Id. at 2.

[20] Hearing Examiner's Report at 17. The Hearing Examiner further noted that Staff had recommended a cost of equity range of 9.90% to 10.90% in pre-filed testimony, but the Hearing Examiner did not specifically set forth or recommend a cost of equity range in his Report.

analysis, in reaching this result and in recommending the midpoint of 10.40%.[23] We conclude that the midpoint of this range, with a corresponding overall cost of capital of 7.598%, results in a reasonable return on common equity. Based on the facts presented in this case, we do not find that it is necessary to establish rates based on a cost of equity above the midpoint of the range found reasonable herein.

Moreover, the Commission finds that, for future earnings tests, the cost of equity range of 9.90% to 10.90% set forth in Staff's pre-filed testimony is reasonable and should be adopted.

Revenue Requirement

Aqua Virginia, in its application, sought an increase in annual water revenues of $1,551,290 and an increase in annual wastewater revenues of $1,730,244.[24] These amounts were based, in part, on an 11.5% common equity cost rate and an overall rate of return of 8.32%[25] and resulted in a proposed combined revenue requirement of $3,281,534. In pre-filed testimony filed on January 27, 2010, Staff recommended an incremental revenue requirement for water of $728,652 and an incremental revenue requirement for wastewater of $1,168,367, for a total combined incremental revenue requirement of $1,897,019.[26] Staff, on February 22, 2010, filed a revised and updated revenue requirement, which made some changes and corrections to the revenue requirement filed on January 27, 2010.[27] After making these updates and corrections, Staff recommended a revenue requirement of $2,028,621 on a consolidated basis.[28]

As set out in his Report, the Hearing Examiner accepted many of the accounting adjustments recommended by Staff, concurred with Staff's allocation of administrative assets, utilized the actual capital structure of Aqua Virginia's parent company, and recommended a 10.70% rate of return on common equity. The Hearing Examiner found the Company's adjustment for insurance costs to be reasonable and therefore recommended that it be adopted.[29] Based on these findings, the Hearing Examiner found that Aqua Virginia required $2,218,547 in additional gross annual revenues.[30]

The Commission, like the Hearing Examiner, finds that Aqua Virginia requires some additional annual revenues as the Company has made significant capital improvements over the past several years in an attempt to improve customers' quality of service and ensure that the Company is providing reliable and safe drinking water and wastewater services that meet all local, state, and federal regulations.[31] For example, environmental compliance concerns with its three wastewater treatment plants, which predated Aqua Virginia's purchase of those plants, caused the Company to complete upgrades to those facilities in order to bring them into compliance with current regulations.[32] The Company has also improved its water systems by drilling necessary additional wells, adding storage and filters, and installing technology to monitor pump stations remotely and alert operators of power outages or operational issues.[33] Moreover, the Company stated, and no party contested, that Aqua Virginia has ongoing capital needs that must be met in order to maintain and enhance service to customers.[34]

However, notwithstanding the above, the Commission finds that the combined revenue requirement of $3,281,534 proposed in the Company's application is excessive. Instead, the Commission finds that the findings made by the Hearing Examiner concerning Staff's accounting adjustments, including the allocation of administrative assets, the findings concerning insurance costs allocable to Virginia systems, and the appropriate capital structure are reasonable and should be adopted. Further, the Commission finds that establishing rates based on a cost of equity of 10.40%, rather than 10.70%, results in a fair and reasonable return on common equity. Accordingly, the Commission finds that the Company requires $2,134,242 in additional annual combined revenues.

Rate Design

In its application, Aqua Virginia proposed to move toward a consolidated rate structure in an attempt to promote the benefits of economies of scale.[35] Staff and other participants in the case concurred that a consolidated rate design would provide a benefit to customers by reducing the cost of capital projects by spreading those costs over a much larger customer base, though the participants also voiced concerns that moving to a consolidated rate structure too quickly could result in rate shock.[36] In an attempt to balance the benefits of movement toward a consolidated rate structure with the benefits of gradualism and rate continuity, Staff proposed four alternative rate designs,[37] Consumer Counsel proffered a rate design proposal,[38] and the Company offered one alternative rate design in rebuttal testimony[39] and then offered a revised version of that rate design during the course of the hearing ("Alternative 5").[40]

The Hearing Examiner found that "the Company's Alternative 5, which was submitted by Mr. Franceski at the hearing, should be adopted. Of all the proposed rate structures, Alternative 5 is the best at reducing rate shock to customers while still moving the Company toward the ultimate goal of rate consolidation."[41]

While the Commission concurs with the Hearing Examiner that the rate design adopted in this case should move the Company toward the goal of a consolidated rate structure, but also balance that movement with the goals of gradualism and rate continuity, the Commission does not believe that Alternative 5 is the most effective rate design for achieving those goals.

Instead, the Commission approves the monthly and volumetric rates for water and for wastewater, for each company as shown below, which results in a decrease for all customers from the interim rates currently in effect based upon a 4,000 gallon per month usage rate.

We find that the rate structure approved herein results in just and reasonable rates. In addition, we find that the rates approved herein reasonably balance the need to promote gradualism with the goal of moving toward a consolidated rate structure.

[42] To promote gradualism, the Commission has divided the water systems into four groups instead of only the two groups proposed in Alternative 5.

[43] Like in Alternative 5, the sewer systems have been divided into three groups to ensure gradualism.

Adoption of Certain Accounting Recommendations

In pre-filed testimony, Staff witness Scott Armstrong made the following recommendations:

A. Staff recommends that Alpha [Water Corporation] record the difference between the purchase price of the Riverview system and the utility's assets net book value as an acquisition adjustment, in conformance with the Commission's findings in Case No. PUE-2006-00077.[44]

B. Staff recommends that Alpha [Water Corporation] reinstate the acquisition adjustment balance related to its purchase of the Reedville system.

C. Staff recommends approval of Aqua Virginia's proposed depreciation rates, and Aqua Virginia should implement the new depreciation rates effective with the January 1, 2009, study date.

D. For amortizable accounts, Aqua Virginia should apply the depreciation study rates to pre-2009 vintages, and should apply rates based on the amortizable lives to post-2008 vintages.

E. Aqua Virginia should begin capitalizing the portion of depreciation on transportation equipment and power-operated equipment which is related to capital projects.

F. Aqua Virginia should track cost of removal and salvage proceeds for consideration in future depreciation studies.

G. Staff recommends that Aqua Virginia comply with the Commission's requirement to annually file the stand-alone tax liability information required in the Order Granting Authority of Case No. PUE-2008-00013.[45]

H. Staff recommends that the rate case deferral be treated as a regulatory asset and subject to the earnings tests in future Annual Informational Filings and rate cases.[46]

("Staff Recommendations A-H"). With the exception of Staff's recommendation that Aqua Virginia should implement the new depreciation rates effective with the January 1, 2009 study date,[47] the Company did not object to Staff's recommendations listed above. The Commission finds that Staff Recommendations A-H, including the recommendation that Aqua Virginia should implement new depreciation rates effective with the January 1, 2009 study date, are reasonable and should be adopted.

Other Findings and Recommendations in the Hearing Examiner's Report

In his Report, the Hearing Examiner recommended that the Company "file with the Division of Energy Regulation a detailed report of actions taken with regard to customer complaints, within six months of a Final Order in this case. . . ."[48] To ensure that any potential problems with the Company's procedure for handling customer complaints are promptly examined and rectified, the Commission finds that the Company shall file its report of action with regard to customer complaints with the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation within sixty (60) days of the date of this Order.

Further, mindful of the requirement of § 56-247.1 C of the Code that every public utility must establish, and the Commission must approve, customer complaint procedures that ensure prompt and effective processing of customer inquiries, service requests and complaints, the Commission finds that Aqua Virginia should review its customer complaint procedure. The Company should update and refile this procedure, and the Staff should review this procedure and should report to the Commission on the adequacy thereof.

In all other respects, the findings and recommendations set forth in the Hearing Examiner's Report shall be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The findings and recommendations in the September 7, 2010 Hearing Examiner's Report are adopted in part, and rejected in part, as set forth herein.

(2) Aqua Virginia shall be granted $2,134,242 in additional annual gross revenues.

(3) The Company shall refund, with interest, the difference between the interim rates that became effective on December 13, 2009, and those final rates approved herein. On or before January 13, 2011, the Company shall complete refunds by check or through credits to customer bills, to the extent that such revenues produced by interim rates exceed revenues produced by the rates approved herein.

(4) Refunds, with interest, for current customers may be made by a credit to the customers' accounts and shown on bills. If refunds, with interest, for current customers are made by a credit to the customers' accounts and shown on bills, the bills shall show the refund as a separate item or items.

(5) For former customers, refunds with interest that exceed One Dollar ($1.00) shall be made by check mailed to the last known address of such customers.

(6) Aqua Virginia may retain refunds owed to former customers when such refund amount is less than One Dollar ($1.00); however, if refunds owed to former customers in an amount less than One Dollar ($1.00) are retained by the Company, the Company will prepare and maintain a list detailing each of the former accounts for which refunds are less than One Dollar ($1.00), and in the event such former customers contact the Company and request refunds, such refunds shall be made promptly. All unclaimed refunds shall be handled in accordance with § 55-210.6:2 of the Code.

(7) Aqua Virginia may offset the credit or refund to the extent no dispute exists regarding the outstanding balances of its current customers or customers who are no longer on its system. To the extent that outstanding balances of such customers are disputed, no offset shall be permitted for the disputed portion.

(8) Interest upon the ordered refunds shall be computed from the date payments of monthly bills were due as shown on the bills to the date each refund is made at the average prime rate for each calendar quarter, compounded quarterly. The average prime rate for each calendar quarter shall be the arithmetic mean, to the nearest one-hundredth of one percent, of the "Bank prime loan" values published in the Federal Reserve Bulletin or in the Federal Reserve's Selected Interest Rates (Statistical Release H. 15) for the three months of the preceding calendar quarter.

(9) On or before March 1, 2011, Aqua Virginia shall submit to the Divisions of Public Utility Accounting and Energy Regulation a report showing that all refunds have been made pursuant to this Order and itemizing the cost of the refund and accounts charged. The Company shall not recover the interest paid or the expenses incurred in making such refunds from water and sewer rates and charges subject to the Commission's jurisdiction.

(10) Aqua Virginia, within sixty (60) days of the date of this Order, shall file a detailed report of actions taken with regard to customer complaints with the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation.

(11) Staff Recommendations A-H are hereby adopted.

(12) A rate of return on common equity of 10.40%, and a cost of equity range of 9.90% to 10.90%, are hereby adopted.

(13) Within thirty (30) days from the date of this Order, the Company shall file its customer complaint procedure and its revised tariffs and terms and conditions of service that reflect the rates and charges approved herein.

(14) The Commission's Division of Energy Regulation shall review and report to the Commission on the adequacy of Aqua Virginia's customer complaint procedure within sixty (60) days from the date of this Order.

(15) This case shall remain open for the purpose of receiving the information and reports described in Ordering Paragraphs (10), (13) and (14).

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00060
JULY 9, 2010

APPLICATION OF
THE POTOMAC EDISON COMPANY d/b/a ALLEGHENY POWER

For authority to enter into a Credit Facility of up to an Aggregate Amount of $150 million

DISMISSAL ORDER

On June 26, 2009, The Potomac Edison Company d/b/a Allegheny Power ("Potomac Edison" or "Company") filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") an application pursuant to Chapter 3 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia requesting authority to enter into a revolving credit arrangement ("Credit Facility"). At that time, Potomac Edison was subject to regulation under Chapter 3 as a public service company, as defined in § 56-55 of Chapter 3, "engaged in business in this Commonwealth as a public utility and subject to regulation as to rates and service by the State Corporation Commission under the provisions of Chapter 10" of Title 56.

On September 24, 2009, the Commission issued an Order ("September Order") that authorized the Company to enter into the Credit Facility and imposed a number of ongoing obligations on the Company, including:

1. requiring the Company to file a request demonstrating the need for amended authority to secure the Credit Facility by the issuance of bonds pursuant to the Company's First Mortgage Indenture;

2. requiring the Company to submit to the Clerk of the Commission a preliminary Report of Action within thirty (30) days after execution of a Credit Facility;

3. requiring the Company to seek additional Commission authority to alter or amend any Credit Facility terms and conditions;

4. requiring the Company to file detailed quarterly reports of action within sixty (60) days after the end of each calendar quarter in which Credit Facility borrowings are made; and

5. requiring the Company to file a final report of action within sixty (60) days after the end of the calendar quarter in which the period of authority expires.

The September Order continued the matter generally, subject to the "continuing review, audit, and appropriate directive of the Commission."

On September 15, 2009, Rappahannock Electric Cooperative, Shenandoah Valley Electric Cooperative (collectively, the "Cooperatives"), and Potomac Edison (with the Cooperatives, collectively, the "Joint Petitioners") filed a Joint Petition with the Commission requesting, among other things, approval of a transaction that would result in the sale to the Cooperatives of Potomac Edison's electric distribution facilities used in connection with the retail sale and distribution of electric power in its Virginia service territory (the "Transaction").[1]

On May 14, 2010, the Commission granted the Joint Petition, subject to certain requirements to which the Joint Petitioners agreed.

On June 1, 2010, the Joint Petitioners completed the Transaction, and the Cooperatives began to provide retail electric service to the customers of Potomac Edison. As a result of the Transaction, Potomac Edison no longer provides retail electric service to customers in Virginia and is not subject to regulation as to rates and service by the Commission under the provisions of Chapter 10. Accordingly, the Company is no longer an entity that is subject to the requirements contained in the September Order.

On June 15, 2010, the Company filed with the Commission a Motion to Dismiss this proceeding and stated that counsel for Staff does not oppose the Motion.

NOW THE COMMISSION, being sufficiently advised, is of the opinion and finds that Potomac Edison's Motion to Dismiss should be granted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Company's Motion to Dismiss is hereby granted.

(2) This case is hereby dismissed from the Commission's docket of active cases, and the papers filed herein shall be placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00062
AUGUST 6, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

In re: Kentucky Utilities Company d/b/a Old Dominion Power Company Integrated Resource Plan filing pursuant to Va. Code § 56-597 et seq.

FINAL ORDER

Section 56-599 B of the Code of Virginia ("Code") mandates that each electric utility in the Commonwealth of Virginia file an integrated resource plan ("IRP") with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") by September 1, 2009. An IRP, as defined by § 56-597 of the Code, is "a document developed by an electric utility that provides a forecast of its load obligations and a plan to meet those obligations by supply side and demand side resources over the ensuing 15 years to promote reasonable prices, reliable service, energy independence, and environmental responsibility." Pursuant to § 56-599 E of the Code, the Commission must determine whether an IRP is reasonable and in the public interest.

On July 1, 2009, Kentucky Utilities Company d/b/a Old Dominion Power Company ("KU/ODP" or "Company") filed with the Commission pursuant to § 56-597 et seq. of the Code, a redacted copy of its IRP, which had all information the Company deemed confidential redacted from public view. On July 23, 2009, KU/ODP filed a complete copy of its IRP filing, including confidential information filed under seal in accordance with 5 VAC 5-20-170 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure.

In its filing, KU/ODP stated that following the merger of KU Energy Corporation into LG&E Energy Corp. in May 1998, KU/ODP and Louisville Gas and Electric Company began to jointly plan generation, transmission, and dispatch operations and established a common reserve margin consistent with the regulatory approvals issued by this and other state and federal regulatory commissions. KU/ODP's IRP filing in Virginia therefore consists of a copy of the 2008 IRP that the Company filed with the Kentucky Public Service Commission ("KPSC"), along with certain supplemental information and amendments to provide information consistent with the Commission's December 23, 2008 Order Establishing Guidelines for Developing Integrated Resource Plans in Case No. PUE-2008-00099.[1]

[1] Commonwealth of Va., ex rel. State Corp. Comm'n., Concerning Electric Utility Integrated Resource Planning Pursuant to Va. Code § 56-597 et seq., Case No. PUE-2008-00099, 2008 S.C.C. Ann. Rept. 606 (Dec. 23, 2008).

On July 29, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Comment which, among other things, directed KU/ODP to provide public notice of its IRP and afforded interested persons an opportunity to file comments or request a hearing on the IRP. No comments or requests for hearing were received by the Commission regarding KU/ODP's IRP.

On January 12, 2010, the Commission issued a Procedural Order that directed the Staff of the Commission ("Staff") to analyze KU/ODP's IRP and present its findings in a Staff Report.

On March 9, 2010, a Staff Report prepared by the Commission's Division of Economics and Finance was filed. The Staff recommended that the Commission accept KU/ODP's IRP as reasonable and in the public interest. In support of this recommendation, the Staff stated that it believes KU/ODP's IRP complies with the legislative requirements imposed by § 56-597 et seq. of the Code and the guidelines established by the Commission in Case No. PUE-2008-00099. The Staff noted that the KPSC requires the Company to file a comprehensive IRP every three years for its Kentucky operations and that the KPSC Staff performs a thorough investigation of all such IRPs. The Staff further believes that the Company's effort to develop its IRP in Kentucky complies with requirements imposed in Virginia by § 56-597 et seq. of the Code and the guidelines established by the Commission in Case No. PUE-2008-00099. Accordingly, the Staff does not object to KU/ODP continuing to provide the same information for Virginia as it develops for its IRP for Kentucky and supplementing its IRP with Virginia-specific data requirements.

Furthermore, the Staff acknowledged that KU/ODP's IRP is an ongoing planning process and noted that the results or conclusions in the Company's IRP are subject to further scrutiny prior to implementation. Accordingly, the Staff stated that any determination in this proceeding should not preclude the Commission from approving or rejecting a particular supply-side or demand-side resource in the future, nor should the Commission's determination in this case create any presumption in favor, or not in favor, of a particular resource.

On April 2, 2010, KU/ODP filed its response to the Staff Report. The Company stated that while the Staff's recommendations were acceptable, there were three clarifications to the Staff Report that needed to be made regarding references to: (i) the status of a Renewable Portfolio Standard in Kentucky; (ii) the completion of a flue gas desulfurization unit; and (iii) the number of hydro units and gas-fired combustion turbine units on the entire E.ON U.S. system. KU/ODP stated that notwithstanding these minor clarifications, the Company requests that the Commission accept the recommendations of the Staff Report and enter an order approving its IRP by May 1, 2010.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of this matter, is of the opinion and finds that the IRP of KU/ODP is reasonable and is in the public interest under § 56-599 E of the Code. The Commission supports the Staff's position that an IRP is based on a snapshot in time and, by its own terms, is not a commitment to a specific course of action in the future. As such, the Commission's determination in this proceeding does not preclude the Commission from approving or rejecting a particular supply-side or demand-side resource in the future, nor does the Commission's determination in this case create any presumption in favor, or not in favor, of a particular resource.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT this matter is dismissed from the Commission's active docket and the papers filed herein placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00064
MARCH 26, 2010

APPLICATION OF
WASHINGTON GAS LIGHT COMPANY

For approval of natural gas conservation and ratemaking efficiency plan including a decoupling mechanism

ORDER APPROVING NATURAL GAS CONSERVATION AND RATEMAKING EFFICIENCY PLAN

On September 29, 2009, Washington Gas Light Company ("WGL" or "Company") filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") an application ("Application") pursuant to Chapter 25 of Title 56 (§§ 56-600 et seq.) ("Act") of the Code of Virginia ("Code") seeking approval to implement a natural gas conservation and ratemaking efficiency plan ("CARE Plan").

The Company's proposed CARE Plan includes: (1) various programs to encourage energy efficiency and conservation by residential customers, certain small commercial and industrial ("C&I") customers, and certain small group metered apartment ("GMA") customers; and (2) a decoupling mechanism that adjusts the Company's actual non-gas distribution revenues to the level of non-gas distribution revenues approved by the Commission in the Company's most recent rate case proceeding, Case No. PUE-2006-00059,[1] for those customer classes eligible to participate in the programs.[2]

The Company proposes that its CARE Plan be approved for a three-year period. Over the first three years of the proposed CARE Plan, the Company estimates spending $7.8 million in conservation-related activities on behalf of customers. Based on the Company's calculations, customers can expect to save more than $12.8 million over the lifetime of the efficiency measures offered through the proposed programs.[3]

Code § 56-235.6*, Case No. PUE-2006-00059, 2007 S.C.C. Ann. Rept. 315, Final Order (Sept. 19, 2007).

[2] See Report of Howard P. Anderson, Jr., Hearing Examiner, at 1 (Feb. 19, 2010) ("Hearing Examiner's Report").

[3] Id. (citation omitted).

The proposed CARE Plan has four major components: (i) a portfolio of conservation and energy efficiency programs (in addition to a customer outreach and education program) and programs targeted at residential low income customers; (ii) the CARE Cost Adjustment ("CCA"), which is designed to track and to recover the expenses associated with implementation of the above programs; (iii) a decoupling mechanism, the CARE Ratemaking Adjustment ("CRA"), which is in the form of a sales adjustment clause; and (iv) an annual performance-based incentive mechanism for delivering conservation and energy efficiency benefits.[4]

The proposed CARE Plan includes eight distinct conservation and energy efficiency programs and low income programs: (1) an Energy Efficiency Education Program; (2) a Heating System Check-up Program with a Programmable Thermostat Option; (3) a Boiler/Furnace Replacement Program; (4) a Water Heater Replacement Program; (5) a Natural Gas New Homes Program with ENERGY STAR®; (6) a Commercial Efficiency Program; (7) a Low Income Energy Assistance Program; and (8) a Residential Essential Service Program.[5]

The Heating System Check-up Program with Programmable Thermostat Option would provide residential customers with a $30 incentive towards either the cost of a seasonal check-up of their heating system or a credit towards the purchase and installation of a programmable thermostat.[6] The Company's projected annual costs for this program are $278,800.[7]

The Boiler/Furnace Replacement Program would provide residential customers with a $250 incentive to cover a portion of the incremental cost for the installation of a high efficiency natural gas boiler with an efficiency of 85% or greater ("85% efficiency"). A customer that installs a natural gas boiler or furnace with an efficiency of 90% or greater ("90% efficiency") would receive a $500 incentive.[8] The Company's projected annual costs for this program are $480,468.[9]

The Water Heater Replacement Program would provide a $50 incentive for the installation of a standard natural gas water heater with an energy factor of 0.62 or greater, or a $250 incentive for the installation of a high efficiency natural gas water heater with an energy factor of 0.82 or greater.[10] The Company's projected annual costs for this program are $433,952.[11]

The Natural Gas New Homes Program is intended to encourage residential customers to install highly energy efficient Energy Star-rated natural gas equipment in residential new construction. The customer would be required to have natural gas for both space heating and water heating to participate in the program and to receive the full $250 incentive. This program would be limited to the first 1,000 participants.[12] The Company's projected annual costs for this program are $250,000.[13]

The Commercial Efficiency Program is an incentive program for commercial customers to offset the costs of weatherization and high efficiency equipment installation. The Company would evaluate commercial customers' energy efficiency proposals and provide an incentive if the proposal is cost-effective, i.e., meets the standard of 80% of the Total Resource Cost Test ("TRC"). Incentives would be capped at the greater of 80% of TRC benefits or a maximum of $10,000.[14] The Company's projected annual costs for this program are $500,000.[15]

The Energy Efficiency Education Program is intended to provide customers with information on the importance of energy conservation and the various programs in which they may participate.[16] The Company's projected annual costs for this program are $291,780.[17]

The Low Income Energy Assistance Program would provide funding to agencies that administer the federal weatherization assistance programs. The Company assumed, for budgeting purposes, that it would spend $165,000 annually on this program to be applied to activities agreed upon with the Community Housing Partners Corporation.[18]

The Residential Essential Service Program would provide a per therm credit to be applied to the usage of eligible low income customers during the months of November through April. To be eligible for the Residential Essential Service Program, customers must use gas as their principal source of space heating, be certified by the Department of Social Services to be eligible for the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program, and be current on their bill payments. The Company's projected annual costs for this program are $100,000.[19]

In sum, the Company anticipates an annual expenditure of $2.6 million divided among all energy efficiency and low income programs. The Company plans to outsource the administrative function of each program, with a Company staff position responsible for the daily activities of each program and any vendor relationships. At the completion of each year of implementation, the Company would hire an independent third party to analyze the programs' performance.[20]

On October 21, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Hearing that, among other things, directed the Company to provide notice of its Application, established a procedural schedule, and assigned this matter to a Hearing Examiner.

An evidentiary hearing was held before the Hearing Examiner on February 1 and 9, 2010.

On February 19, 2010, Hearing Examiner Howard P. Anderson, Jr., issued the Hearing Examiner's Report, which included the following findings:

1. The Company's CARE Plan set forth in the Application, as modified [by the Hearing Examiner's Report], should be approved;

2. Due to insufficient notice, the Company's entire Shenandoah C&I and GMA classes must be excluded from the Company's CARE Plan at this time;

3. The Company should be directed to ensure that net present value benefits of the proposed programs are not shared or transferred between rate classes;

4. The Company should perform a second earnings test that will ensure [that the excess earnings under the Company's existing performance-based regulation plan that would otherwise accrue to] non-participants in the CARE Plan are not affected by the CRA;

5. The Company's annual reconciliation of its [Weather Normalization Adjustment ('WNA')] and CRA should be performed simultaneously and reflected in customers' August bills;

6. The Company should explain the CRA and CCA to customers by bill notice and post relevant information on the Company website;

7. The Company should provide an explanation of the mechanics of the performance incentive mechanism in its tariffs;

8. The Company's proposed decoupling mechanism (CRA) and CCA are appropriate and should be approved; and

9. The Company's proposed [Residential Essential Service] plan should not be approved for the reasons stated [in the Hearing Examiner's Report], and the funds designated for this program should be applied to the Company's weatherization plan for low-income customers.[21]

On or before March 2, 2010, the following participants filed comments on the Hearing Examiner's Report: WGL; the Commission's Staff ("Staff"); and the Office of the Attorney General, Division of Consumer Counsel ("Consumer Counsel").

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered this matter, is of the opinion and finds that the Company's CARE Plan, as modified in accordance with the findings made herein and subject to the requirements in this Order, satisfies the statutory provisions of the Act and is therefore approved.

Code of Virginia

Section 56-602 A of the Code provides in part as follows:

> Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, each natural gas utility shall have the option to file a conservation and ratemaking efficiency plan as provided in this chapter. Such a plan may include one or more [18] Hearing Examiner's Report at 5. residential, small commercial, or small general service classes, but shall not apply to large commercial or large industrial classes of customers. Such plan shall include: (i) a normalization component that removes the effect of weather from the determination of conservation and energy efficiency results; (ii) a decoupling mechanism; (iii) one or more cost-effective conservation and energy efficiency programs; (iv) provisions to address the needs of low-income or low-usage residential customers; and (v) provisions to ensure that the rates and service to non-participating classes of customers are not adversely impacted. Such plan may also include provisions for phased or targeted implementation of rate or tariff design changes, if any, or conservation and energy efficiency programs.

Section 56-602 B of the Code directs in part as follows:

The Commission shall approve or deny, within 180 days, a natural gas utility's initial application for any revenue-neutral conservation and ratemaking efficiency plan that allocates annual per-customer fixed costs on an intra-class basis in reliance upon a revenue study or class cost of service study supporting the rates in effect at the time the plan is filed. A plan filed pursuant to this subsection shall not require the filing of rate case schedules . . . . The Commission shall approve such a plan . . . if it finds that the plan's . . . proposed decoupling mechanism is revenue-neutral and is otherwise consistent with this chapter.

Section 56-600 of the Code includes definitions of some of the terms used above, including the following:

'Allowed distribution revenue' means the average annual, weather-normalized, nongas commodity revenue per customer associated with the rates in effect as adopted in the applicable utility's last Commission-approved rate case or performance-based regulation plan, multiplied by the average number of customers served.

'Conservation and ratemaking efficiency plan' means a plan filed by a natural gas utility pursuant to this chapter that includes a decoupling mechanism.

'Cost-effective conservation and energy efficiency program' means a program approved by the Commission that is designed to decrease the average customer's annual, weather-normalized consumption or total gas bill, for gas and nongas elements combined, or avoid energy costs or consumption the customer may otherwise have incurred, and is determined by the Commission to be cost-effective after analyzing such program using the Total Resource Cost Test, the Societal Test, the Program Administrator Test, the Participant Test, the Rate Impact Measure Test, and any other test the Commission reasonably deems appropriate. The Commission may determine the weight to be given to a test. Without limitation, rate designs or rate mechanisms, customer education, customer incentives, and weatherization programs are examples of conservation and energy efficiency programs that the Commission may consider.

'Decoupling mechanism' means a rate, tariff design or mechanism that decouples the recovery of a utility's allowed distribution revenue from the level of consumption of natural gas by its customers, including (i) a mechanism that adjusts actual nongas distribution revenues per customer to allowed distribution revenues per customer, such as a sales adjustment clause, (ii) rate design changes that substantially align the percentage of fixed charge revenue recovery with the percentage of the utility's fixed costs, such as straight fixed variable rates, provided such mechanism includes a substantial demand component based on a customer's peak usage, or (iii) a combination of clauses (i) and (ii) that substantially decreases the relative amount of nongas distribution revenue affected by changes in per customer consumption of gas . . . .

'Revenue-neutral' means a change in a rate, tariff design or mechanism as a component of a conservation and ratemaking efficiency plan that does not shift annualized allowed distribution revenue between customer classes, and does not increase or decrease the utility's average, weather-normalized nongas utility revenue per customer for any given rate class by more than 0.25 percent when compared to (i) the rate, tariff design or mechanism in effect at the time a conservation and ratemaking efficiency plan is filed pursuant to this chapter or (ii) the allocation of costs approved by the Commission in a rate case using the cost of service methodology set forth in § 56-235.2 or a performance-based regulation plan authorized by § 56-235.6, where a plan is filed in conjunction with such case.

Section 56-602 E of the Code mandates as follows:

The Commission shall require every natural gas utility operating under a conservation and ratemaking efficiency plan approved pursuant to this chapter to file annual reports showing the year over year weather-normalized use of natural gas on an average customer basis, by customer class, as well as the incremental, independently verified net economic benefits created by the utility's cost-effective conservation and energy-efficiency programs during the previous year.

Section 56-602 F of the Code requires a performance-based incentive as follows:

The Commission shall grant recovery, on an annual basis, of a performance-based incentive for delivering conservation and energy efficiency benefits, which shall be included in the utility's respective purchased gas adjustment mechanism. The incentive shall be calculated as a reasonable share of the verified net economic benefits created by the utility's cost-effective conservation and energy efficiency programs, and may be recovered over a period of years equal to the payback period or discounted to net present value and recovered in the first year. In structuring this incentive, the Commission shall create a reasonable opportunity for a utility to earn up to a 15 percent share of such independently verified net economic benefits upon meeting target levels of > such benefits set forth in a plan approved by the Commission. The level of net economic benefits to be used as the basis for such calculation shall be the sum of customer savings less utility costs recovered through subsection D, measured over the number of years of the payback period, rounded up to the next highest year. The incentives authorized by this subsection shall be in addition to any other revenue requirements or rates established pursuant to § 56-235.2 or 56-235.6 and independent of any computation of shared revenues under an approved performance-based regulation plan.

CARE Plan

We approve, subject to the requirements set forth herein, the following six residential programs: (1) Energy Efficiency Education Program; (2) Heating System Check-up Program with a Programmable Thermostat Option; (3) the 85% efficiency portion of the Boiler/Furnace Replacement Program; (4) Water Heater Replacement Program; (5) Natural Gas New Homes Program with ENERGY STAR®; and (6) Low Income Energy Assistance Program.[22]

We conclude that the CARE Plan shall be modified in order to be found cost effective under the Act. Staff testified that when all residential program costs are considered, the estimated costs could significantly exceed the estimated benefits.[23] We find that Staff's analysis is sufficient to establish that the residential programs are not cost effective as originally proposed by WGL. The cost impact on customers – particularly those not eligible or otherwise not participating in these programs – is of concern. We also conclude, however, that the following changes – which are further discussed below – enable the CARE Plan as limited herein to meet the relevant statutory requirements at this time: (i) rejection of the Residential Essential Service Program; (ii) rejection of the 90% efficiency portion of the Boiler/Furnace Replacement Program; and (iii) implementation of a performance-based incentive plan incorporating all utility program costs that would be recovered from ratepayers, which reduces the maximum potential performance-based incentive.

In addition, the CARE Plan is limited to a three-year period beginning on May 1, 2010. On or before August 1, 2011, and each August 1 thereafter, the Company shall file an annual report that measures and verifies the actual results of the CARE Plan. As required by § 56-602 E of the Code, such reports shall also show "the year over year weather-normalized use of natural gas on an average customer basis, by customer class, as well as the incremental, independently verified net economic benefits created by the utility's cost-effective conservation and energy-efficiency programs during the previous year." We will specifically evaluate whether there is a showing of demonstrated savings from the programs. We also note that while there is no assurance that customers as a whole will benefit from implementation of these programs, the limited scope of the CARE Plan approved herein will assist in subsequent evaluations of whether to continue these or related programs in the future.

Further, in this regard, the Company shall maintain strict and detailed identification and accounting of its program-specific and common costs and shall identify program-specific benefits as well.[24] For example, the Company shall specifically identify how – and what portion of – the costs of the Low Income Energy Assistance Program are achieving actual, verifiable energy use reductions in the homes of low income consumers. Moreover, all costs should be scrutinized to ensure that such expenditures are closely and definitely related to the programs approved herein and are not used, for example, to serve general marketing or public relations purposes. The annual reports required herein will provide significant information in evaluating whether certain programs are cost effective and warrant continuation or modification thereof. Indeed, any subsequent request from WGL to amend or to extend its CARE Plan shall incorporate the results from these annual reports.

Next, as recommended by the Hearing Examiner, WGL shall: (a) ensure that net present value benefits of the proposed programs are not shared or transferred between rate classes; (b) perform a second earnings test to ensure that the CRA neither positively nor negatively impacts non-participants' sharing of excess earnings under the Company's existing performance-based regulation plan; (c) perform annual reconciliation of its WNA and CRA simultaneously, which shall be reflected in customers' August bills; (d) explain the CRA and CCA to customers by bill notice and by posting relevant information on the Company's website; and (e) provide an explanation of the mechanics of the performance-based incentive mechanism in its tariffs.[25]

We reject WGL's proposed performance-based incentive proposal and, rather, approve the same performance-based incentive plan methodology as approved by the Commission as part of Columbia Gas' CARE Plan.[26] As required for Columbia Gas, WGL's usage reduction targets shall be based upon the cumulative gas usage savings, calculated for all participants in the programs measured from the year of installation as determined from the Company's cost/benefit analysis. As we explained in approving Columbia Gas' incentive plan, this incentive mechanism incorporates the use of actual natural gas prices in calculating net economic benefits by multiplying the cumulative gas usage reductions by the jurisdictional weighted average commodity costs of gas for each year – and this approach, in our view, avoids the vagaries inherent in any long-term projection of natural gas prices. Furthermore, we find that all [22] We further note that this is WGL's first request to implement a CARE Plan, and none of the participants in this case have objected to these specific programs on an individual basis.

[23] See, e.g., Ex. 13 at MKC-2 and MKC-3 (Carsley direct). Moreover, contrary to WGL's assertions, we find that it is reasonable to consider performance-based incentive costs when evaluating the cost effectiveness of the CARE Plan. As noted by Staff, performance-based incentive costs are actual costs that will be recovered from customers for implementing the CARE Plan. See, e.g., Staff's March 2, 2010 Comments at 7-10. This is also consistent with the more recent CARE plans approved by the Commission. While the CARE Plan approved for Virginia Natural Gas (Case No. PUE-2008-00060) did not include any performance-based incentive for the utility, the CARE Plan approved for Columbia Gas of Virginia ("Columbia Gas") (Case No. PUE-2009-00051), which includes a performance-based incentive, was found by Staff to be cost effective – even considering performance incentive costs – due to Columbia Gas' receipt of federal stimulus funds. See, e.g., Hearing Examiner's Report at 25; Tr. 309.

[24] In addition, the annual report shall identify the number of participants in each of the programs approved herein.

[25] See, e.g., Hearing Examiner's Report at 26. We also find that the CRA shall be listed as a separate line on customers' bills, and that the bill shall contain a notation that non-gas billing rates contain additional CARE Plan charges (with a reference to a Company website where customers can get more information on the CARE Plan and on the calculation of non-gas billing charges). See, e.g., Ex. 15 at 41 (Abbott direct).

[26] Hearing Examiner's Report at 23. The Company did not object to this recommendation. WGL's February 26, 2010 Comments at 7-8.

utility program costs (which are ultimately borne by ratepayers) should be netted against customer savings to determine the net economic benefits upon which to apply the performance-based incentive.[27]

We reject WGL's proposed Residential Essential Service Program and the projected costs associated therewith.[28] This program is not designed to promote conservation; rather, this program "would provide a per therm credit applied to the usage of eligible low-income customers during the months of November through April."[29] In addition, Consumer Counsel states that "[n]ot only would a flat per therm credit not promote conservation, . . . it is directly at odds with conservation because [WGL's] program would reduce the cost of gas for certain customers, thereby sending the opposite price signal, contrary to efficient conservation."[30] Rejection of this program, however, does not mean that there are no low-income assistance programs as part of the CARE Plan. As noted above, we have approved the Low Income Energy Assistance Program, which is specifically designed to assist low-income customers. Moreover, as previously noted, the Low Income Energy Assistance Program approved above will continue to be evaluated – in accordance with the annual reports required herein – to determine whether specific reductions in energy consumption are actually accruing to low income consumers as a direct result of this program and, thus, whether the program proves to be cost effective in practice.

We further conclude that the 90% efficiency portion of the Boiler/Furnace Replacement Program, and the projected costs attendant thereto, shall be rejected at this time. Staff notes that based on the $500 credit proposed by WGL, "after the performance incentive for the program is taken into account, implementation of the Boiler/Furnace Replacement $\geq$ 90% Program actually will raise the average cost of energy services for WGL customers."[31] As a result, the Boiler/Furnace Replacement Program approved herein is limited to a $250 incentive for equipment replacement with an efficiency of 85% or greater.

We also do not approve WGL's proposed Commercial Efficiency Program and the projected costs associated therewith. We agree with the Hearing Examiner and Staff that WGL has not established that this program satisfies the statutory requirements for the CARE Plan.[32] The Company, however, asserts that the Commission previously approved a similar program as part of the CARE Plan for Columbia Gas, which "provides the precedent for Commission-approval of a custom commercial program (filed pursuant to the [Act]) in which energy efficiency proposals are evaluated by the utility (and not the Commission) on a case-by-case basis, using a methodology approved by the Commission."[33] Thus, WGL concludes that the Commission must approve its proposal because it is "the same type of custom commercial program that the Commission has already approved for Columbia Gas."[34] We do not find, as suggested by the Company, that WGL's proposal is substantially the same as that approved for Columbia Gas.[35] In addition, we do not find that WGL's proposed Commercial Efficiency Program is cost effective under the Act; for example, Staff explains that the "proposed incentive awards under [this] program produce some rather bizarre results[, where the] incentive payments could potentially exceed the costs that a customer actually incurs to undertake a conservation and energy efficiency project."[36]

Finally, while we find that the Company's proposed CARE Plan, as approved herein, satisfies the relevant statutory requirements, we note that the CRA decoupling mechanism mandated by § 56-602 A of the Code may produce a negative effect on non-participating customers who engage voluntarily in conservation or energy efficiency measures outside of the CARE Plan. Without the CRA, for example, customers who lower their thermostats to reduce their gas usage realize two separate and distinct benefits under the Company's current volumetric rates: (i) a reduction in their gas costs; and (ii) a reduction in their contributions to the Company's distribution costs. The proposed CRA, however, will reduce the savings or benefits that can be realized by such customers because the CRA will prevent customers from lowering their contributions to the Company's distribution costs by curtailing gas usage. Nevertheless, § 56-602 A of the Code mandates that a CARE Plan "shall include . . . a [CRA] decoupling mechanism," and the Commission is required to approve such decoupling mechanism if it meets the statutory standards.

[27] This would include, for example, total customer incentive costs, total utility costs, education program costs, program administration costs, and evaluation and measurement costs. See, e.g., Ex. 13 at MKC-2 and MKC-3 (Carsley direct). Accordingly, WGL shall prepare a revised performance-based incentive plan that complies with the method approved for Columbia Gas and that reflects the specific details attendant to the programs approved herein for WGL.

[28] Contrary to the Hearing Examiner's recommendation, these costs shall not be reallocated elsewhere in the CARE Plan.

[29] Hearing Examiner's Report at 23.

[30] Consumer Counsel's March 2, 2010 Comments at 3. Furthermore, we reject WGL's contention that the Act was intended "to allow for programs, other than conservation programs, to address the needs of [WGL's] low-income customers." WGL's February 26, 2010 Comments at 11.

[31] Ex. 13 at 17 (Carsley direct).

[32] See, e.g., Hearing Examiner's Report at 24; Staff's March 2, 2010 Comments at 12-15.

[33] WGL's February 26, 2010 Comments at 4 (emphasis in original).

[34] Id. at 5. WGL further contends that "based on its approval of the Business Custom Program for Columbia Gas, the Commission has no basis for not approving [WGL's] commercial custom program because [WGL's] proposed program is also cost effective and consistent with § 56-600 [of the Code], as the Commission has interpreted that provision in the Columbia Gas proceeding." Id. at 7.

[35] For example, the Hearing Examiner concludes that "there is insufficient information in the record of this proceeding or in the Columbia Gas final order and Stipulation to make that determination." Hearing Examiner's Report at 24. WGL also identifies certain distinctions between the two programs. See, e.g., WGL's February 26, 2010 Comments at 6. Moreover, the Company did not establish that its proposal would reasonably produce substantially the same results as the program previously approved for Columbia Gas.

[36] Staff's March 2, 2010 Comments at 11. Having rejected the only business program proposed by WGL, we need not reach the questions herein regarding: (1) potential rate discrimination among, and how to define, the Company's large commercial and industrial customers for purposes of the Act; and (2) WGL's defective notice to its Shenandoah C&I customers. See, e.g., Hearing Examiner's Report at 22-23; Staff's March 2, 2010 Comments at 12-15.

Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT:

(1) A three-year conservation ratemaking and efficiency plan, as permitted by § 56-600 et seq. of the Code of Virginia, is approved as set forth in this Order Approving Natural Gas Conservation and Ratemaking Efficiency Plan and shall become effective on May 1, 2010.

(2) WGL shall forthwith file revised tariffs and terms and conditions of service, including a revised performance-based incentive mechanism, with the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation in accordance with this Order Approving Natural Gas Conservation and Ratemaking Efficiency Plan.

(3) This matter is dismissed.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00065
JUNE 16, 2010

APPLICATION OF
CRAIG-BOTETOURT ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE

For a general increase in electric rates

FINAL ORDER

On November 2, 2009, Craig-Botetourt Electric Cooperative ("Craig-Botetourt" or the "Applicant") completed an application for a general increase in its electric rates. The Applicant filed the application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") pursuant to §§ 56-231.33, 56-231.34, 56-236, and 56-585.3 of the Code of Virginia ("Code").

Craig-Botetourt stated in its application that since its last rate increase, purchased power and operating expenses have increased without a comparable increase in revenues and that its Times Interest Earned Ratio ("TIER") has decreased from 2.07 in 2006 to 1.42 in 2008. Additionally, Craig-Botetourt stated that it must meet its expenses and preserve sufficient margins to meet the financial requirements of its mortgage indenture but that its margins have declined to a level that rendered it unable to refund capital credits to its members in 2008.

Craig-Botetourt sought approval for a 14.9% increase in base rates, which according to the Applicant would generate an additional $1,468,716 in annual Virginia jurisdictional revenues. Craig-Botetourt also stated that the requested increase would produce a TIER of 2.63.

In addition to an increase in its rates, Craig-Botetourt proposed changes to its terms and conditions, including changes in its fee schedule and significant changes to its Line Extension Policy.

Pursuant to Rule 20 VAC 5-200-21 B 7, Craig-Botetourt also requested a waiver of Rule 20 VAC 5-200-21 E, which requires that any electric cooperative filing a rate application pursuant to § 56-582 of the Code submit Schedules 15-19.

On December 4, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Hearing, and on December 15, 2009, issued its Order Nunc Pro Tunc correcting and replacing the December 4, 2009 Order with the Order for Notice and Hearing attached to the December 15, 2009 Order ("Procedural Order"). In the Procedural Order, the Commission granted the Applicant's request for a waiver from the requirement to file Schedules 15-19, and directed that the proposed rates be suspended for 150 days after which Craig-Botetourt "may, but is not obligated to, place its proposed rates, charges, and terms and conditions of service into effect on an interim basis, subject to refund, for service rendered on and after April 1, 2010." Additionally, the Commission directed its Staff ("Staff") to conduct an investigation of the application; assigned this matter to a hearing examiner to conduct all further proceedings; and scheduled a public hearing for May 18, 2010.

No notices of participation were filed in this case. On April 26, 2010, Staff filed its testimony in this case. Craig-Botetourt did not file rebuttal testimony. On May 18, 2010, Staff filed supplemental testimony of Staff witness Richard W. Michaux, Jr. ("Michaux").

A public hearing on the application was convened on May 18, 2010. The following participants were represented by counsel at the hearing: Craig-Botetourt and Staff. No public witnesses testified at the hearing. Craig-Botetourt and Staff submitted a jointly executed stipulation ("Stipulation") recommending a resolution of the issues in the proceeding. All testimony, revisions and supplements to the application, and schedules were admitted into the record without cross-examination of the witnesses.

In the Stipulation, Craig-Botetourt and Staff ("Stipulating Participants") agreed that a revenue increase of $1,397,132 was justified and would produce a calculated TIER of 2.63. The Stipulation reflects the compromise that was reached regarding the rate year level of right-of-way clearing expense.

With regard to Craig-Botetourt's amended rate schedules, the Stipulating Participants agreed to several structural changes, including: (1) the declining rate blocks for the Energy Delivery Charges for Schedule RS-10-U and Schedule CS-10-U, and the Demand Delivery Charges for Schedule LP-10-U would be eliminated; (2) the Electricity Supply Service Charge would be renamed "Energy Charges" for all three of the above-named schedules; (3) for Schedules RS-10-U and CS-10-U, the renamed Energy Charges would include three components: Purchase Power Demand, Purchase Power Energy, and Distribution Demand; (4) for Schedule LP-10-U, the renamed Energy Charges will include one new charge, Purchase Power Energy, and the two declining block rates eliminated from the Demand Delivery Charges would be replaced with two new components: Purchased Power Demand and Distribution Demand; and (5) two new optional Time of Use rate schedules and a new optional Green Power Rider would be created. The Stipulating Participants also agreed to a Consumer Delivery Charge of $23.00 for the Residential Service Class; $26.00 for the Commercial and Small Power Service Class; and $81.00 for the Commercial and Large Power Service Class, as recommended by Staff based on Staff's Adjusted Class Cost of Service Study, discussed in the testimony of Staff witness Gregory Abbott ("Abbott").

The Stipulating Participants further agreed that the modified rate schedules are to be representative of the Applicant's unit costs, as adjusted, and designed to recover the revenue requirement recommended in the Stipulation.

Additionally, the Stipulating Participants agreed to the changes proposed by Craig-Botetourt in its Terms and Conditions subject to the following modifications: (1) the Stipulating Participants agreed to the changes proposed by the Applicant in its Line Extension Policy except that the amount to be credited to customers in the Residential Class for a new line extension should be $3,262, as recommended by Staff witness Abbott; and (2) the Stipulating Participants agreed that the proposed Reconnection Charge (Automatic without Field Visit) should not be added to Schedule F-Fees, and the proposed Non-Permanent Connection Fee of $50.00 should be approved subject to adding a footnote to Schedule F-Fees stating that this fee does not apply to mobile homes on a permanent foundation.

The Stipulating Participants also agreed to the journal entry change related to deferred fuel and purchased power recommended by Staff witness Michaux. Lastly, the Stipulating Participants agreed that Craig-Botetourt's test year Fuel – Wholesale Power Cost Adjustment Clause revenue should be rolled into base rates and that, based on supplemental testimony of Staff witness Michaux, Craig-Botetourt's revised base rates will include $0.01129 of fuel revenue per kWh sold based on adjusted jurisdictional fuel expense of $861,087 and sales of 76,288,221 kWhs.

Finally, Mr. Pirko, counsel for Craig-Botetourt, advised that the Applicant had filed its notice to place interim rates into effect for service rendered on and after May 1, 2010. However, to facilitate administration of the rate change and mitigate confusion that might result for consumers if the increase proposed in the application were placed into effect and then subsequently lowered to the stipulated increase, Mr. Pirko moved that the Commission allow the stipulated increase of $1,397,132 to be placed into effect for service rendered on and after April 27, 2010, for which bills will be mailed the end of May.

On May 20, 2010, the Chief Hearing Examiner issued her Report in which she granted Mr. Pirko's motion to place the rates, terms and conditions, and charges set forth in the Stipulation into effect for service rendered on and after April 27, 2010, on an interim basis, in lieu of the higher rates, terms and conditions, and charges proposed in the application, until the Commission issues a final order.

Additionally, the Chief Hearing Examiner found that the Stipulation was acceptable and that the comment period to her Report should be waived. The Chief Hearing Examiner recommended that the Commission enter an order accepting the Stipulation.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record in this case, the Chief Hearing Examiner's Report, and the applicable statutes, is of the opinion and finds that the jointly executed Stipulation should be accepted, and the revenue requirement stipulated to should be granted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Craig-Botetourt's application for a general increase in its electric rates is granted in part and denied in part, as set forth herein.

(2) The Stipulation presented by Craig-Botetourt and Staff is hereby accepted.

(3) Craig-Botetourt shall forthwith file revised tariffs and terms and conditions of service with the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation, in accordance with the Stipulation, within thirty (30) days from the date of this Final Order. The rates, terms and conditions, and charges so established shall be effective for service rendered on and after April 27, 2010.

(4) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this matter is dismissed from the Commission's active docket and the papers filed herein placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00068
MARCH 24, 2010

APPLICATION OF
APPALACHIAN POWER COMPANY

Pursuant to Chapters 752 and 855 of the 2009 Acts of the Virginia General Assembly for approval of demand response programs to be offered to its retail customers

ORDER GRANTING WITHDRAWAL OF APPLICATION

On July 15, 2009, Appalachian Power Company ("Appalachian" or "Company") filed an application ("Application") and supporting testimony with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") requesting approval of two demand response programs and associated riders. Appalachian's proposal was filed pursuant to Chapters 752 and 855 of the 2009 Acts of the Virginia General Assembly, which require the Commission to approve "any demand response program proposed to be offered to retail customers" if an applicant can establish that such a program satisfies certain statutory requirements.

On August 3, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Comment ("August Order") that required public notice and allowed the opportunity for interested persons to submit to the Commission written comments on the Application. The August Order also permitted interested persons to request a public hearing on the Application. Any persons filing requests for a hearing and expecting to participate as a respondent in such a hearing were also required to file notices of participation. The August Order further allowed the Company to respond to any filings in this matter.

Several interested persons, in addition to the applicant Appalachian, requested a public hearing in this matter. The following parties filed notices of participation as respondents: the Coalition of Demand Response Supporters; the Old Dominion Committee for Fair Utility Rates ("Committee"); Steel Dynamics, Inc.; and Wal-Mart Stores East, LP and Sam's East, Inc. ("Wal-Mart").[1] The Committee also filed a Motion for Partial Dismissal of the Application.

[1] On March 1, 2010, the Hearing Examiner granted Wal-Mart's late-filed Notice of Participation.

On November 16, 2009, the Commission issued an Order Modifying Procedural Schedule ("November Order"). The November Order granted the requests for a public hearing, with such hearing initially scheduled to begin February 23, 2010; denied, without prejudice, the Committee's Motion for Partial Dismissal; required the Company, respondents, and Staff to file testimony and exhibits; and assigned a Hearing Examiner to conduct all further proceedings in this matter. The evidentiary hearing was subsequently rescheduled to April 8, 2010, by ruling of Hearing Examiner Michael D. Thomas, dated February 19, 2010.[2]

On March 15, 2010, Appalachian filed a Motion to Withdraw Application and Terminate Proceeding ("Motion"). The Motion states, in part, that:

> Although there was a productive conversation and an exchange of information and ideas [during settlement discussions], the Company realized that it could not meet the expectations of certain of the parties for a quick resolution of the issues. Thus, the Company cannot bring a firm offer to the table in the timeframe as initially requested in its Motion for Delay. Therefore, with the goal of preserving the resources of all parties, and those of the Commission, Appalachian moves the Commission to allow it to withdraw its Application.[3]

On March 17, 2010, the Hearing Examiner entered a Report that explained the procedural history of this case, and found that:

> Good cause having been shown, . . . [Appalachian's] Motion should be granted and the April 8, 2010, hearing should be cancelled. I further find that the comment period to this Report should be waived.[4]

The Hearing Examiner's Report concludes by recommending that the Commission adopt the findings included therein and dismiss the Company's Application.[5]

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the Hearing Examiner's Report and the filings in this matter, is of the opinion and finds that the Report should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT:

(1) Appalachian's request to withdraw its Application is granted.

(2) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this case is dismissed, and the papers shall be placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

[2] The original hearing date was retained for the sole purpose of allowing any public witnesses the opportunity to testify. No public witness appeared to testify concerning this matter on February 23, 2010.

[3] Motion to Withdraw at 1-2.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00081
MARCH 24, 2010

APPLICATION OF
VIRGINIA ELECTRIC AND POWER COMPANY

For approval to implement new demand-side management programs and for approval of two rate adjustment clauses pursuant to § 56-585.1 A 5 of the Code of Virginia

ORDER APPROVING DEMAND-SIDE MANAGEMENT PROGRAMS

On July 28, 2009, Virginia Electric and Power Company ("Virginia Power" or "Company") filed an application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") for approval to implement 12 new demand-side management ("DSM") programs ("Programs" or "Portfolio") and two rate adjustment clauses to recover costs associated with the DSM Programs ("Application"). The Commission must issue a final order in this matter no more than eight months from the filing date.[1]

Virginia Power identified the 12 new DSM Programs as follows:

Peak-Shaving Program:
- Air Conditioner Cycling Program

Energy Efficiency Programs:
- Commercial Distributed Generation Program (also demand response)
- Curtailment Service Program (also demand response)
- Residential Lighting Program

[1] Va. Code § 56-585.1 A 7.

- Low Income Program
- ENERGY STAR® New Homes Program
- Residential Heat Pump Tune-Up Program
- Residential Refrigerator Turn-In Program
- Heat Pump Upgrade Program
- Commercial HVAC Upgrade Program
- Voltage Conservation Program (AMI-Enabled)
- Commercial Lighting Program[2]

In addition, the Company's "implementation strategy includes the development of a reasonable Measurement & Verification ('M&V') plan to quantify the level of energy conservation that has been achieved once the Programs have been implemented."[3]

The two proposed rate adjustment clauses are Rider C1 (which would recover the cost of the peak-shaving program) and Rider C2 (which would recover the cost of the energy efficiency programs). The Company states that the "total of the[] cost components generate an annual revenue requirement of $51.4 million," and that it "is not seeking approval to recover revenue reductions related to the DSM Portfolio" in this proceeding.[4] In addition, Virginia Power estimates that the total cost of the 12 DSM Programs in its Application would be approximately $1.04 billion over the next 10 years.[5]

On August 12, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Hearing that established the procedural requirements for this matter, scheduled a public evidentiary hearing to commence on February 16, 2010, directed Virginia Power to provide direct and published notice of this proceeding, and granted the Company a partial waiver of certain filing requirements.

The following parties filed notices of participation in this case: Office of the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Counsel ("Consumer Counsel"); Robert A. Vanderhye; the Chesapeake Climate Action Network, Appalachian Voices, and Virginia Chapter of the Sierra Club; Virginia Committee for Fair Utility Rates ("Committee"); MeadWestvaco Corporation; New ERA Energy; and the Apartment and Office Building Association of Metropolitan Washington ("AOBA").[6]

On February 12, 2010, Virginia Power filed a Motion for Leave to File Supplemental Testimonies. The Company requested leave to file supplemental testimony in order to withdraw its proposed Company-wide Voltage Conservation Program from its requested DSM Portfolio in this proceeding, and to request cost recovery for an AMI demonstration project in its northern Virginia service territory (in addition to its requested cost recovery for existing AMI demonstration projects in Midlothian and Charlottesville).[7]

The Commission held a public evidentiary hearing in this matter on February 16, 17, and 18, 2010.[8] The Commission received testimony from witnesses for the participants in this proceeding and admitted over 50 exhibits into the record. The Commission also received testimony from six public witnesses. The Commission heard closing arguments on February 25, 2010.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered this matter, is of the opinion and finds as follows.

Code of Virginia

Section 56-585.1 A 5 of the Code of Virginia ("Code") provides in part as follows:

> A utility may at any time, after the expiration or termination of capped rates, but not more than once in any 12-month period, petition the Commission for approval of one or more rate adjustment clauses for the timely and current recovery from customers of the following costs:
> . . .
> b. Projected and actual costs for the utility to design and operate fair and effective peak-shaving programs. The Commission shall approve such a petition if it finds that the program is in the public interest; provided that the Commission shall allow the recovery of such costs as it finds are reasonable;
> c. Projected and actual costs for the utility to design, implement, and operate energy efficiency programs, including a margin to be recovered on operating expenses, which margin for the purposes of this section shall be equal to the general rate of return on common equity determined as described in subdivision A 2 of this

[2] Application at 4-5 (typeface modified). "AMI" stands for Advanced Metering Infrastructure, and "HVAC" stands for Heating, Ventilation, and Air Conditioning.

[3] Id. at 6.

[4] Id. at 9.

[5] See, e.g., Ex. 10, Sched. 8 (Jesensky direct).

[6] During the evidentiary hearing, the Commission granted, without objection, AOBA's late-filed Notice of Participation. Tr. 11.

[7] The Company also reduced its proposed annual revenue requirement to $48.4 million.

[8] During the evidentiary hearing, the Committee moved to dismiss the Application because of the changes resulting from Virginia Power's Motion for Leave to File Supplemental Testimonies. See, e.g., Tr. 31-32, 42-43. The Commission granted the Company's Motion for Leave to File Supplemental Testimonies and denied the Committee's motion to dismiss. Tr. 43-44. Virginia Power was permitted to file its supplemental testimony in the furtherance of justice (see, e.g., 5 VAC 5-20-130), and no party was unduly prejudiced thereby.

> section. The Commission shall only approve such a petition if it finds that the program is in the public interest.
> . . .

Section 56-576 of the Code includes definitions for, among other things, "Demand response," "Energy efficiency program," and "Peak-shaving."

Section 56-585.1 A 7 of the Code permits the Company to defer certain costs as follows: "Any costs prudently incurred after the expiration or termination of capped rates related to other matters described in subdivisions 4, 5 or 6 shall be deferred beginning only upon the expiration or termination of capped rates. . . ."

Commission Rules

The Company also filed its Application pursuant to the Commission's Promotional Allowance Rules[9] and Cost/Benefit Rules.[10] The Cost/Benefit Rules, for example, provide as follows:

> 20 VAC 5-304-10. Purpose. The purpose of these rules is to establish the cost/benefit measures which utilities operating in Virginia must conduct to determine whether a proposed [DSM] program is cost effective and in the public interest.
> 20 VAC 5-304-20. Cost/benefit measures. Utility applicants shall analyze a proposed program from a multi-perspective approach using, at a minimum, the Participants Test, the Utility Cost Test, the Ratepayer Impact Measure [("RIM")] Test, and the Total Resource Cost [("TRC")] Test. Utilities may file for approval of programs individually or as a package. However, any application which includes a package of DSM programs shall also provide an analysis of the cost/benefit of each program individually.

Chapters 752 and 855 of the 2009 Acts of Assembly

In accordance with Chapters 752 and 855 of the 2009 Acts of the Virginia General Assembly ("Chapters 752 and 855"), the Commission conducted a proceeding in 2009 to consider certain matters related to cost-effective energy conservation and demand response.[11] On November 15, 2009, in compliance with Chapters 752 and 855, the Commission transmitted its report in such proceeding to the Governor and General Assembly.[12] The DSM Report stated, among other things, as follows:

> It is the opinion of the Commission that the RIM test, which focuses on the impact on customer rates, generally fits with the Commission's existing statutory mandate to ensure just and reasonable rates. However, the Commission also believes that the evidence demonstrates that the TRC test, which considers matters other than the direct impact on rates, is appropriate to consider, provided that the underlying assumptions are based on objective and verifiable data. Therefore, in evaluating programs under existing statutes, the Commission will normally apply the RIM test, the TRC test, or some combination of the two as appropriate. Consistent with the Commission's existing [Cost/Benefit] Rules, the data from the Participant and Utility Cost tests should also be explored to fully evaluate any DSM proposal.
> Most importantly, while the Commission has evaluated energy efficiency targets and benefits in the abstract herein as directed by its statutory mandate, any evaluation of specific utility DSM proposals, such as the programs proposed by [Virginia Power] in case number PUE-2009-00081, will be done on a case-by-case basis, applying all relevant statutory authority.
> In sum, consistent with our general statutory duty, the Commission will give greatest weight to the RIM test, closely followed by the TRC test and rounded out by consideration of the Participant and Utility Cost tests. Ultimately, flexibility is needed to ensure that impacts on ratepayers are fully considered along with the overall public interest.[13]

DSM Programs

We approve the following DSM Programs: Residential Lighting Program;[14] Low Income Program; Commercial HVAC Upgrade Program; Commercial Lighting Program; and Air Conditioner Cycling Program. We find that these programs, subject to the cost, temporal, and other requirements

[14] As requested by Virginia Power, "in order to allow continuity between the [Company's current compact fluorescent light ('CFL')] price reduction program and its [DSM] Program counterpart, the Residential Lighting Program," we also grant "a brief extension of the current CFL price reduction program to coincide with the April 1, 2010 deployment of the Residential Lighting Program." Application at 4 n.5.

established below, are in the public interest under § 56-585.1 A 5 of the Code. Conversely, we find that the remaining programs, as proposed and based on the record developed in this proceeding, have not been proven to be in the public interest at this time.

Consistent with the DSM Report, the Commission continues to find that we should "give greatest weight to the RIM test, closely followed by the TRC test and rounded out by consideration of the Participant and Utility Cost tests."[15] We also continue to conclude that "flexibility is needed to ensure that impacts on ratepayers are fully considered along with the overall public interest."[16] Indeed, neither the relevant statutes, nor the Commission's rules, require a formulaic analysis in evaluating the test results or the public interest in this matter.[17] Furthermore, we have considered the proposals as a portfolio and find that, while informative, a portfolio test in this case is not required by statute and shall not determine the outcome. We find, in this instance and based on the programs presented, that the analysis herein should focus on each individual proposal.

In this regard, we find that the programs not approved, under the current circumstances, have not been proven to be in the public interest as required by § 56-585.1 A 5 of the Code.[18] For example, Consumer Counsel and Staff note the low RIM scores of these programs, which also do not have significant offsetting and reliable TRC scores.[19] In addition, the costs of the Curtailment Service and Commercial Distributed Generation programs – as currently proposed – unreasonably exceed the value thereof and, as a result, are not in the public interest.[20] Moreover, the Company's proffered test results tend to be inflated in certain instances. As explained by Consumer Counsel, certain deficiencies in the Company's cost/benefit analyses "tend to overstate projected benefits of DSM programs, deemphasize potential downside risk associated with such programs, or introduce uncertainty regarding the costs and benefits for proposed programs."[21]

In addition, Consumer Counsel and Staff discuss policy and public interest factors supporting the Low Income Program in light of its low RIM score, including the public policy in Chapters 476 and 603 of the 2008 Acts of Assembly ("Chapters 476 and 603") that favors this specific type of program.[22] In this regard, Chapters 476 and 603 state as follows:

> 2. That as part of its 2009 integrated resource plan developed pursuant to this act, each electric utility shall assess governmental, nonprofit, and utility programs in its service territory to assist low income residential customers with energy costs and shall examine, in cooperation with relevant governmental, nonprofit, and private sector stakeholders, options for making any needed changes to such programs.

While approving the Low Income Program, we recognize the low RIM score for this program and are concerned that the costs allocated to this program be used efficiently to produce actual benefits for low income customers. As part of the information to be provided in the M&V reports required below, the Company shall specifically identify how – and what portion of – the costs of this program are achieving actual, verifiable improvements in the homes of low income consumers. Accordingly, the M&V reports shall specifically identify the actual value provided to low income customers under this program compared against the costs thereof.

We further note that denial of curtailment and distributed generation programs in this proceeding does not foreclose the Company's continued evaluation of these types of programs. Specifically, in Case No. PUE-2007-00089, the Commission previously approved the Company's experimental Commercial Distributed Generation/Load Curtailment Pilot for Large Non-Residential Customers ("CS/DG Pilot"), the operations of which extend through 2014. Indeed, Virginia Power has recently filed a motion in that case, which requests that it be permitted to continue reporting on the experimental CS/DG Pilot if the Commission does not approve the curtailment and distributed generation programs requested in the instant proceeding. Thus, although these programs are not approved for purposes of this case, the Company will be able to continue its CS/DG Pilot and continue gathering, analyzing, and preparing reports on the operation thereof.

We also find that, as requested by Virginia Power, the Air Conditioner Cycling Program is a peak-shaving program under §§ 56-585.1 A 5 and 56-576 of the Code.[23] Section 56-576 of the Code defines peak-shaving as "measures aimed solely at shifting time of use of electricity from peak-use periods to times of lower demand by inducing retail customers to curtail electricity usage during periods of congestion and higher prices in the electrical grid." This definition does not require the Commission to find that the Air Conditioner Cycling Program will, in all instances, shift time of use as intended

[16] Id.

[17] Accordingly, we reject requests in this proceeding to implement any particular numeric formula for weighting the various tests.

[18] See, e.g., Ex. 36 (Norwood direct); Ex. 42 (Sedgley direct); Ex. 43 (Carsley direct).

[19] See id. In contrast, Consumer Counsel and Staff explain that the Residential Lighting and Commercial Lighting Programs have relatively high TRC scores to counter their RIM values. See, e.g., Ex. 36 at 20 (Norwood direct); Ex. 42 at 14 (Sedgley direct).

[20] See, e.g., Ex. 43 at 8 (Carsley direct); Tr. 737-38. Staff further asserts that the RIM score of load management programs such as these typically should be higher than traditional conservation and efficiency programs. Id.

[21] Ex. 36 at 18 (Norwood direct). This analysis is consistent with the Commission's explanation in the DSM Report that "the TRC Test, which considers matters other than the direct impact on rates, is appropriate to consider, provided that the underlying assumptions are based on objective and verifiable data." DSM Report at 32 (emphasis added). See also Tr. 419-421.

[22] See, e.g., Ex. 42 at 11-12 (Sedgley direct); Ex. 36 at 21 (Norwood direct).

[23] We do not, however, reach a conclusion on whether the Commercial Distributed Generation or Curtailment Service Programs – which certain participants assert have attributes of a peak-shaving program – should be treated as peak-shaving or as demand response programs, since we have not approved such programs in this proceeding.

but, rather, that such program is "aimed solely" at such purpose. In this regard, we find that Virginia Power has established that this program is aimed solely at shifting time of use as defined in the statute.[24]

Next, as reflected in the supplemental testimony filed by the Company, Virginia Power is no longer asking the Commission to approve a Company-wide Voltage Conservation Program but, rather, to approve cost recovery for three AMI-enabled voltage conservation demonstration projects. The Company asserts that the Commission may approve, under § 56-585.1 A 5 c of the Code, cost recovery for the three demonstration projects as "design" costs for a Voltage Conservation Program that has not been approved.[25] That statute, however, explicitly states that the Commission shall grant approval if the Commission "finds that the program is in the public interest."[26] Accordingly, we will not approve design costs for a program that has yet to be found in the public interest.

The Company also states that the three AMI-enabled demonstration projects do not require Commission approval prior to implementation – only that approval is needed for cost recovery thereof.[27] In addition, Virginia Power states that it (1) has deferred demonstration project costs (which the Company designates as program design costs herein) under § 56-585.1 A 7 of the Code, and (2) will continue to do so even if the Commission does not approve the demonstrations as part of this case.[28] As a result, if the Company continues with its demonstration projects, it may obtain recovery of its deferred costs in one or more future rate proceedings if it can satisfy the statutory requirements attendant thereto.[29]

Furthermore, we conclude that the DSM Programs approved herein are in the public interest subject to the following requirements. First, these programs are approved for a period to expire on March 31, 2013. Second, these programs are approved subject to the following cost limits for expenditures through March 31, 2013: (1) $27.4 million for the Low Income Program; (2) $15.4 million in total for the two commercial programs (Commercial Lighting and Commercial HVAC Upgrade Programs); and (3) $59.5 million in total for the two residential programs (Residential Lighting and Air Conditioner Cycling Programs).[30] Third, the Company shall file detailed M&V reports in this proceeding, with service on Staff and all parties to this case, every six months beginning October 1, 2010.

In addition, we note that the Company's proposed common costs (through March 31, 2013) have been allocated among the three cost limitations set forth above. The Company shall maintain strict and detailed identification and accounting of its common costs for the approved DSM Programs for purposes of this and future DSM proceedings.[31] Moreover, such costs shall be scrutinized to ensure that such expenditures are closely and definitely related to the programs approved herein and are not used, for example, to serve general marketing or public relations purposes.

Finally, Virginia Power shall implement its commitment, as discussed during the hearing, to coordinate with the participants in this case and other interested parties in evaluating the M&V results and in developing further DSM Program proposals.[32] For example, if the M&V data establishes that a program is not performing as expected, the Company and the participants to this case should address modifications to, or removal of, such program. These M&V reports, among other things, will provide significant information for purposes of subsequent evaluations as to whether certain programs warrant continuation thereof. Accordingly, we find that the M&V reports should be filed in this DSM proceeding.

Riders C1 and C2

Based on our findings herein, the Company's revised annual revenue requirement of $48.4 million is further reduced to approximately $28.1 million.[33] The Company shall file Riders C1 and C2 to comply with the findings herein. These Riders shall become effective for service rendered on and after May 1, 2010.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Virginia Power's proposed DSM Programs are approved or denied as set forth herein.

(2) The Company shall forthwith file with the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation revised Riders C1 and C2, with supporting workpapers, which reflect the findings and requirements set forth herein.

[29] Moreover, as noted above the Company currently has existing AMI demonstration projects in Midlothian and Charlottesville, in addition to its contemplated demonstration project in its Northern Virginia service territory. Thus, Virginia Power currently has AMI technology in place in Midlothian and Charlottesville, which could be used by the Company to conduct pilot programs demonstrating the use of dynamic pricing (i.e., time-of-use) rate schedules. See, e.g., Tr. 697-98.

[31] This information shall also be included in the M&V reports required above.

[32] See, e.g., Tr. 523.

[33] The new estimated revenue requirement also reflects, as required by prior order in this matter, a reduction in return on common equity from 14.0% (as contained in the Company's Application) to 11.3%, and utilization of the Company's overall cost of capital to gross-up operation and maintenance expenses.

(3) Riders C1 and C2 as approved herein shall become effective for service rendered on and after May 1, 2010.

(4) On or before August 1, 2010, the Company shall file its application to continue Riders C1 and C2.

(5) This matter is continued.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00082
MAY 18, 2010

APPLICATION OF
VIRGINIA ELECTRIC AND POWER COMPANY

For Approval to Participate in a Renewable Energy Portfolio Standard Program Pursuant to Va. Code § 56-585.2

FINAL ORDER

On July 28, 2009, Virginia Electric and Power Company ("Dominion Virginia Power" or "Company") filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") an Application seeking approval to participate in a renewable energy portfolio standard ("RPS") program ("Application"), pursuant to § 56-585.2 B of the Code of Virginia ("Code").

Section 56-585.2 B of the Code provides that any investor-owned incumbent electric utility may apply to the Commission for approval to participate in an RPS program. The statute requires that the Commission approve such an application if a utility applicant demonstrates that it has a reasonable expectation of achieving 12 percent of its base year electric energy sales from renewable energy sources during calendar year 2022, and 15 percent of its base year electric energy sales from renewable energy sources during calendar year 2025.

In its Application, Dominion Virginia Power states that the Application represents the Company's initial filing for approval of its RPS Plan. Dominion Virginia Power advises that it is not asking the Commission to decide whether the Company is entitled to cost recovery as permitted by § 56-585.2 of the Code at this time, although it anticipates that it will make cost recovery RPS filings in the future.[1] Dominion Virginia Power also states that it seeks a means to retain flexibility in implementing its plan. The Company proposes "that it be permitted to make changes to how it will meet the RPS Goals under the Plan and to provide administrative updates regarding material changes to the Commission Staff."[2]

Section 56-585.2 D of the Code authorizes electric utilities to participate in RPS programs with voluntary RPS Goals commencing in 2010.[3] The Company states that it will use existing renewable sources, develop new renewable energy generation facilities where feasible, and purchase renewable energy certificates ("RECs") as part of its RPS Plan in order to achieve the RPS goals.[4]

The Company also applies the renewable energy produced by contracts with non-utility generators ("NUGs") to meet the RPS Goals.[5] Section 56-585.2 F of the Code states that "[a] utility participating in such program shall apply towards meeting its RPS Goals any renewable energy from existing renewable energy resources owned by the participating utility or purchased as allowed by contract at no additional cost to customers to the extent feasible."[6] Dominion Virginia Power advises that it interprets § 56-585.2 F of the Code as "requiring the Company to apply renewable energy purchased from NUGs at ratepayer expense to be applied to RPS Goals, with the apparent benefit of no additional cost to ratepayers."[7] However, the Company advises that most of its NUG contracts are silent as to the renewable attributes of generation. The Company takes the position that such contracts include all aspects of that energy, including the renewable attributes.[8] Dominion Virginia Power advises that if the Commission determines that the Company may not apply

[3] The RPS Goals are set out in § 56-585.2 D of the Code:

> RPS Goal I: In calendar year 2010, 4 percent of total electric energy sold in the base year.
>
> RPS Goal II: For calendar years 2011 through 2015, inclusive, an average of 4 percent of total electric energy sold in the base year, and in the year 2016, 7 percent of total electric energy sold in the base year.
>
> RPS Goal III: For calendar years 2017 through 2021, inclusive, an average of 7 percent of total electric energy sold in the base year, and in calendar year 2022, 12 percent of total electric energy sold in the base year.
> RPS Goal IV: For calendar years 2023 and 2024, inclusive, an average of 12 percent of total electric energy sold in the base year, and in calendar year 2025, 15 percent of total electric energy sold in the base year.

towards meeting its RPS Goals the renewable energy generated by NUGs, then the Company will need to purchase approximately 5.5 million cumulative additional RECs between 2010 and 2025, with a total ratepayer net present value of $2.5 million to make up the difference.[9]

On August 26, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Comment providing for notice to the public and an opportunity for filing comments and requests for a hearing on Dominion Virginia Power's Application. Pursuant to the August 26, 2009 Order for Notice and Comment, Notices of Intent to Participate were filed by the Office of the Attorney General, Division of Consumer Counsel ("Consumer Counsel"); the Virginia Committee for Fair Utility Rates ("VCFUR"); and MeadWestvaco, International Paper, Smurfit-Stone Container, and Georgia Pacific, collectively identified as the VA Pulp & Paper Manufacturers Commenters ("VPPM").

Comments were filed by the Consumer Counsel and VPPM on October 16, 2009. Consumer Counsel supports Commission approval of the Company's participation in an RPS program, but makes recommendations regarding Dominion Virginia Power's procurement of RECs. Among other things, VPPM recommends that for all electricity produced using biomass claimed under the RPS program, the Commission should require: (1) an inventory of the type of biomass fuel and amount of each type of biomass fuel used; and (2) that the inventory information should be documented to identify such biomass as "merchantable or non-merchantable material as required by Section 56-585.2 F and to follow the custody of ownership of the resource."[10] VPPM asserts that the only way for the Commission and rate payers to know whether incentive payments are being awarded for activities sanctioned by the statute, with regard to the use of biomass, is to have sufficiently detailed information on the biomass types and amounts used by the utilities.

On November 20, 2009, the Staff of the State Corporation Commission ("Staff") filed a Report detailing its investigation of the Application and stating its conclusions about the Company's proposal. The Staff notes that § 56-585.1 D of the Code states that "[n]othing in this section shall preclude the Commission from determining, during any proceeding authorized or required by this section, the reasonableness or prudence of any cost incurred or projected to be incurred, by a utility in connection with the subject of the proceeding . . . ."[11] The Staff recommends that the Commission approve the Company's Application to participate in the voluntary RPS program, because, in Staff's opinion, Dominion Virginia Power has demonstrated that it has a reasonable expectation of reasonably and prudently achieving the RPS Goals.[12] The Staff also notes that Dominion Virginia Power is not seeking cost recovery of its RPS programs at this time. Therefore, the Staff advises that it is not necessary to determine that the ultimate costs of the Company's RPS programs are reasonable and prudent until actual costs are known and an application for cost recovery is filed.

Regarding Dominion Virginia Power's assertion that the Company would consider calling upon Dominion Resources, Inc.'s ("DRI") renewable energy resources as a backstop to attain the RPS goals in its voluntary RPS program, the Staff notes that the Company did not provide a cost estimate for this potential affiliate transaction. The Staff recommends that the purchase price be set at the lower of market value or cost.[13]

The Staff also raises a concern about the recovery of incremental costs related to new renewable energy facilities pursuant to § 56-585.2 C of the Code. Indeed, the Staff notes that the Integrated Resource Plan ("IRP") filed by Dominion Virginia Power on September 9, 2009, in Case No. PUE-2009-00096 calls for approximately 200 MW of wind energy capacity and 100 MW of biomass energy capacity to be constructed and in-service by 2017; but that these new facilities are not included in Dominion Virginia Power's cost estimates for the RPS plan.[14] The Staff asserts that:

> The purpose of the IRP proceeding is to determine the lowest reasonable cost and resource mix to meet the Company's energy needs over time. It could be argued that if the renewable facilities are approved in the IRP proceeding, then the incremental costs of these facilities with regard to meeting the RPS goals would be zero. In Staff's opinion, it would be inappropriate to recover all the construction costs of these potential future renewable facilities through the RPS plan. These renewable facilities will also produce energy and capacity. Only the incremental costs associated with meeting the RPS Goals should be allowed to be recovered through future RPS cost recovery filings. The remainder of the costs of these facilities should be recovered through base rates.[15]

On October 28, 2009, Dominion Virginia Power filed its Response to the Comments of the Consumer Counsel and VPPM.

On December 4, 2009, Dominion Virginia Power filed its Response to the Staff Report. With respect to the concerns raised by the Staff regarding the recovery of costs under the RPS plan, Dominion Virginia Power asserts in its Comments that the Company has not sought cost recovery for its RPS plan, and argues that therefore, the facts and issues necessary to make such determinations are not before the Commission.[16] The Company requests that the Commission refrain from making a ruling on this issue.[17]

[17] Id. Dominion Virginia Power does, however, take issue with the Staff's assertion that the purpose of the RPS proceeding and future RPS cost recovery proceedings is to determine the least cost alternative for meeting the RPS goals. Citing § 56-585.2 F of the Code, the Company advises that the standard involves reasonable cost, which "is not necessarily the same as lowest cost alternative." Id. at 13. We note that the actual standard in Subsection F of Va. Code § 56-585.2 for cost recovery of new renewable energy supplies necessary to meet RPS goals is at "reasonable cost" and in a "prudent manner." We do not need to rule at this time on Staff's equation of this standard to a "least cost" renewable standard. However, in future proceedings seeking cost recovery

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of this matter, is of the opinion and finds that the Application should be granted.

Section 56-585.2 B of the Code directs that the "Commission shall approve such application if the applicant demonstrates that it has a reasonable expectation of achieving 12 percent of its base year electric energy sales from renewable energy sources during calendar year 2022, and 15 percent of its base year electric energy sales from renewable energy sources during calendar year 2025, as provided in subsection D." Based on the information submitted by the Company in this case, we find that the Company has demonstrated that it has a reasonable expectation of achieving 12 percent of its base year electric energy sales from renewable energy sources during calendar year 2022, and 15 percent of its base year electric energy sales from renewable energy sources during calendar year 2025.

Section 56-585.2 F of the Code states that a "participating utility shall be required to fulfill any remaining deficit needed to fulfill its RPS Goals from new renewable energy supplies at reasonable cost and in a prudent manner to be determined by the Commission at the time of approval of any application made pursuant to subsection B."[18] Any finding of reasonableness and prudence under this subsection is limited to costs and sources specifically before the Commission in this case. Dominion Virginia Power in fact requests that the Commission refrain from making any such ruling because the Company is not seeking cost recovery for its RPS plan. Approval herein does not encompass costs for presently unknown renewable projects or sources, as it is literally impossible to make findings of fact about information that has yet to be submitted to this Commission. Approval herein also does not represent approval of any particular treatment of RECs. Rather, as discussed by the Company, the Commission will subsequently determine - in one or more future cases - the reasonableness of Dominion Virginia Power's future treatment of RECs, along with the ratemaking implications resulting therefrom. In sum, the Commission will review all projects and expenditures and related costs at the appropriate time and only after such review will customers be subject to any appropriate rate adjustments.

With respect to NUGs, the Company has advised that most of its NUG contracts are silent as to the renewable attributes of generation. Dominion Virginia Power correctly points out that § 56-585.2 F of the Code specifically requires a participating utility to apply towards meeting its RPS Goals "any renewable energy from existing renewable energy sources owned by the participating utility or purchased as allowed by contract at no additional cost to customers to the extent feasible."[19] We interpret this to mean that if the Company opts to participate in a voluntary RPS program pursuant to § 56-585.2 of the Code, then the Company is required by this statute to: (1) determine the amount of energy derived from renewable sources that it is purchasing through NUG contracts; and (2) apply this amount toward meeting its RPS goals. If the Company asserts that making this determination is not feasible in a particular circumstance, we will examine that circumstance when the Company raises such a concern.

With respect to the 1.5 million ton restriction for tree-based materials contained in § 56-585.2 F of the Code, there are currently two companies participating in RPS programs: Appalachian Power Company ("APCo") and Dominion Virginia Power, following approval of its Application herein. In APCo's 2008 application pursuant to § 56-585.2 of the Code, APCo's approved 2007 jurisdictional base year energy sales, net of nuclear generation, was determined to be 15,276,000 MWh.[20] In its Application in this proceeding, Dominion Virginia Power reports its 2007 jurisdictional base year energy sales as 43,318,649 MWh. Therefore, as long as there are only two utilities participating in RPS programs under § 56-585.2 of the Code, Dominion Virginia Power's pro-rata share of the 1.5 million tons per year is 73.929%, or 1,108,940 tons. Upon approval of applications of other utilities for participation in RPS programs, this annual allocation may change.

Finally, although we have found that an evidentiary hearing is not required herein, we note that our approval of the Application does not necessarily serve as precedent for future applications under this statute.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Dominion Virginia Power's Application seeking approval to participate in a renewable energy portfolio standard program, pursuant to § 56-585.2 B of the Code, is hereby granted as set forth above.

(2) There being nothing further to come before the Commission in this proceeding, this matter is dismissed and the papers herein placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

---

for renewable resources necessary to meet RPS goals, a comparison of the costs of the resources for which cost recovery is requested versus other available resources, both renewable and non-renewable, as well as the impact on ratepayers, which may include whether specific power and capacity are needed, may be relevant in determining reasonableness and prudence. As we stated in our final order in Case No. PUE-2009-00038, "[T]he General Assembly could – but has not – set forth a policy of encouraging renewable energy at any price, no matter how burdensome the impact on consumers." Application of Appalachian Power Co., To revise its fuel factor pursuant to Va. Code § 56-249.6., Case No. PUE-2009-00038, Order Establishing Fuel Factor (August 3, 2009) (emphasis in original). Nor has the General Assembly directed that renewable energy be added under any set of circumstances.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00083
SEPTEMBER 24, 2010

PETITION OF
JAMES C. PEARCE
v.
WASHINGTON GAS LIGHT COMPANY

For review of a billing dispute for gas service

FINAL ORDER

On July 26, 2009, James C. Pearce ("Mr. Pearce" or "Petitioner") filed a formal complaint ("Complaint") with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") against Washington Gas Light Company ("WGL" or "Company") for review of a billing dispute between the Petitioner and WGL. In his Complaint, Mr. Pearce challenged the amount of his February 2009 bill, which included charges for his gas usage in January 2009 together with "catch up" charges for the months of November 2008 and December 2008.[1] Mr. Pearce also questioned the accuracy of his meter and the methods used by WGL to test the meters.[2] The Company filed its response ("Response") to the Petitioner's Complaint on May 18, 2010.[3] In this Response, the Company maintained that the Petitioner's February 2009 bill correctly included usage for January 2009 and for gas previously used, but not yet billed, in November 2008 and December 2008.[4] The Company also asserted that the Petitioner's meter accurately recorded usage during the disputed periods and that the Company's meter testing procedures were consistent with the Gas Measurement and Meter Test Standards and Practices for Gas Distribution Utilities in Virginia ("Virginia Meter Testing Standards").[5]

On April 22, 2010, the Commission issued an Order Appointing Hearing Examiner, and in a Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated June 2, 2010, the Hearing Examiner scheduled a public hearing for July 14, 2010.

The hearing was convened as scheduled. At the conclusion of the hearing, Mr. Pearce indicated that he continued to believe the meter on his residence at the end of 2008 and the beginning of 2009 was inaccurate and that he had been overbilled. He asked that the Company be required to refund him the excessive amount he was both billed and forced to pay to avoid having his gas service disconnected.[6] He also indicated that he would like the Company's procedures for responding to complaints of overbilling and defective meters to be reviewed and overseen by a third party. In particular, he believed that the Company's poor system of communication for dealing with customer usage and billing complaints should be reviewed and improved.[7] At the conclusion of the hearing, the Company again maintained that it tested the Petitioner's meter using meter testing equipment that was consistent with Virginia Meter Testing Standards, that the Petitioner's meter was found to be functioning properly, and that, therefore, the Company should not be held responsible for the increase in gas usage the Petitioner saw during the disputed period.[8]

On August 18, 2010, the Report of A. Ann Berkebile, Hearing Examiner ("Report" or "Hearing Examiner's Report") was issued. In her Report, the Hearing Examiner summarized the record and noted that the evidence presented in the case does not support the initiation of a wholesale investigation or review of the Company's billing or complaint procedures at this time. The Hearing Examiner further cautioned that a pervasive problem with respect to the Company's procedures for responding to complaints could lead to formal review.

The Hearing Examiner found that:

(1) The Petitioner's request for a Commission order requiring the Company to issue a refund should be denied;

(2) The Petitioner's request for a Commission order requiring an investigation or review of the Company's billing and complaint procedures should be denied; and

(3) The Petitioner's request for a Commission order requiring a review and modification of the Company's meter testing procedures should be denied.

The Hearing Examiner recommended that the Commission enter an order adopting the findings in her Report and dismissing the complaint from the Commission's docket of active proceedings.

On September 7, 2010, WGL filed the Comments of Washington Gas Light Company on the Report of the Hearing Examiner, in which it agreed with and accepted the findings of the Hearing Examiner's Report.[9] Mr. Pearce did not file any comments on the Report.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the complaint, the record herein, the Hearing Examiner's Report, and the comments thereon, is of the opinion and finds that the recommendations of the Hearing Examiner are supported by the record and should be adopted.

The record in this matter demonstrates that the Company tested the Petitioner's meter on June 29, 2009, and that the meter tested within acceptable limits and did not require repair. The record also demonstrates that the meter testing equipment was appropriate and that the meter testing procedure was performed in accordance with the Virginia Meter Testing Standards. As such, we are unable to conclude that the level of gas usage at issue in this matter is the result of faulty equipment or of WGL's employees' or agents' activities.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The findings and recommendations of the August 18, 2010 Hearing Examiner's Report are adopted.

(2) This case is hereby dismissed, and the papers herein are placed in the file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00084
JULY 30, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

In re: Establishing pilot programs to develop certain rate structures for renewable generation facilities

ORDER ESTABLISHING PILOT PROGRAMS

During its 2009 Session, the General Assembly passed Chapter 816 of the 2009 Virginia Acts of Assembly ("Chapter 816"), an uncodified enactment, directing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to conduct a proceeding to establish two types of pilot programs for certain customers of electric utilities that generate electricity from renewable generation facilities. The first type of pilot program is intended to address dynamic rates for power purchases by eligible customers ("Pilot 1"); the second type is intended to address dynamic rates at which participating customers can sell electricity to a participating utility ("Pilot 2") (collectively, the "Pilot Programs" or "Programs"). As defined by § 1 of Chapter 816, the purpose of the Programs is:

> to determine the feasibility, and the implications on the public interest, of making specific rate structures available to the participating utilities' customers that generate electricity on-site with renewable generation facilities, or that generate electricity at off-site renewable generation facilities that have a rated capacity to generate not more than five megawatts from falling water and are located within six miles of the nonresidential customer, connected on the customer's side of the meter.

In establishing the Pilot Programs, Chapter 816 further directs the Commission to determine the scope of the Programs, establish thresholds for participation, and establish requirements relating to the implementation of the Pilot Programs.

On August 19, 2009, the Commission issued its Order for Notice and Comment ("Order") that, among other things, docketed the matter, established a procedural schedule, directed Virginia Electric and Power Company d/b/a Dominion Virginia Power ("Dominion Virginia Power") and Appalachian Power Company ("APCo") to file written comments concerning the issues in the proceeding and directed the Staff of the Commission ("Staff") to review the comments and file a report thereon ("Staff Report"). In accordance with the Order, Dominion Virginia Power and APCo filed comments in this proceeding on October 23, 2009.

In its comments, Dominion Virginia Power first asserted that it should be exempt from the provisions of Chapter 816 because it had applied for Commission approval of dynamic pricing tariffs that satisfy the requirements of Chapter 816 in Case No. PUE-2009-00019.[1] The Company further stated that its existing and proposed Virginia Rate Schedule 19, "Power Purchases from Cogeneration and Small Power Production Qualifying Facilities," per Case Nos. PUE-2007-00034[2] and PUE-2008-00078,[3] allows it to be exempt from participation in this proceeding and from implementing the Pilot Programs pursuant to § 2 of Chapter 816.

[1] Application of Virginia Electric and Power Company, For a 2009 statutory review of the rates, terms and conditions for the provision of generation, distribution and transmission services pursuant to § 56-585.1 A of the Code of Virginia, Case No. PUE-2009-00019 (Amended Filing of Virginia Electric and Power Company, Direct Testimony, Exhibits and Schedules, filed July 24, 2009).

[2] Application of Virginia Electric and Power Company, To revise its cogeneration tariff pursuant to PURPA Section 210, Case No. PUE-2007-00034, Order of Approval (May 25, 2007).

[3] Application of Virginia Electric and Power Company, Notification to the Commission of election to abandon the Company's bidding program and application to revise its cogeneration tariff pursuant to PURPA Section 210, Case No. PUE-2008-00078, Final Order (May 18, 2010).

Dominion Virginia Power also asserted that if it were not found to be exempt, the Pilot 1 requirements outlined in Chapter 816 are satisfied by the dynamic pricing tariffs proposed for Commission approval in Case No. PUE-2009-00019, including proposed tariffs CPP and DP-R (applicable to residential customers), as well as DP-1, DP-2, DP-3, and DP-4 (applicable to non-residential customers). Similarly, if no exemption was granted, Dominion Virginia Power claimed that the Pilot 2 requirements are satisfied by its existing and proposed Virginia Rate Schedule for small generators.

In its comments, APCo asserted that the scope of the Pilot Programs should be based on a consideration of four factors: (i) the characteristics of the customers who will participate; (ii) clear yet flexible parameters established by the Commission; (iii) dynamic pricing elements already used by APCo and its affiliates; and (iv) the use of PJM Interconnection's ("PJM") Locational Marginal Pricing ("LMP") for the AEP Zone within the dynamic pricing design. APCo stated that it has a number of pricing structures and programs in place with varying degrees of dynamic pricing elements and anticipates that any new dynamic pricing pilot programs proposed for its Virginia customers could build upon already-established pricing principles. APCo recommended that, initially, participation in the Programs be limited to five to seven customers with properly certified renewable generation facilities. APCo stated that it will require at least six months to implement the Programs.

On November 19, 2009, the Staff filed a Motion to Modify Procedural Schedule which the Commission granted in its Order Modifying Procedural Schedule issued on December 2, 2009 ("Modifying Order"). In accordance with the revised procedural schedule in the Modifying Order, the Staff filed its Staff Report on February 16, 2010.

The Staff Report noted that Dominion Virginia Power's dynamic pricing tariffs are not currently approved by the Commission, but that if the Commission did approve these tariffs, there would be no need for the company to have a dynamic pricing pilot program.[4] The Staff also expressed that if the proposed dynamic pricing schedules are not approved by the Commission, then the dynamic pricing methodology could form the basis for a dynamic pricing pilot program.[5] In that situation, the Staff stated it would recommend that Dominion Virginia Power develop updated rates for the dynamic pricing tariffs CPP, DP-R, DP-1, DP-2, DP-3, and DP-4, reflecting the revenue requirement and revenue apportionment that the Commission approves in Case No. PUE-2009-00019.[6] The Staff proposed a limit of ten to fifteen percent customer participation for each rate class in such a pilot program.[7] The Staff also suggested, as an alternative, that Dominion Virginia Power offer the dynamic pricing schedules to all customers on a voluntary basis as it had proposed to do in Case No. PUE-2009-00019, with the appropriate revenue adjustments.[8]

Regarding APCo, the Staff Report noted that any dynamic pricing pilot program should be defined broadly and made the following recommendations: (i) that APCo develop voluntary Pilot Programs that offer dynamic pricing on an hourly and monthly basis; (ii) that APCo structure its dynamic pricing Pilot Programs around the AEP Zone LMP as published by PJM; (iii) that APCo's Pilot Programs be limited to its non-residential rate classes; and (iv) that participation in APCo's Pilot Programs be limited to ten to fifteen percent of the customers that have properly certificated renewable generation facilities.[9]

In Case No. PUE-2009-00019, Dominion Virginia Power proposed dynamic pricing tariffs CPP and DP-R (applicable to residential customers), as well as DP-1, DP-2, DP-3, and DP-4 (applicable to non-residential customers). However, on November 5, 2009, Dominion Virginia Power and other parties filed a Stipulation and Recommendation ("Stipulation") in that proceeding, which states in pertinent part: "There is to be no increase in currently approved and effective base rates and no change in any rates . . . terms or conditions of standard tariff offerings until the first biennial review pursuant to Va. Code § 56-585.1."[10] Further, on February 26, 2010, Dominion Virginia Power and other parties filed an Addendum and Modification of Stipulation and Recommendation ("Addendum"), which states in pertinent part: "There will be no base rate adjustment prior to December 1, 2013, except upon a determination that emergency rate relief is warranted, as authorized under Va. Code § 56-245. This Paragraph modifies the provisions of Paragraph 1 of the Stipulation only in that it extends the base rate freeze until December 1, 2013."[11] On March 11, 2010, the Commission issued its Order Approving Stipulation and Addendum in that case, adopting both the Stipulation and Addendum in total.[12] Accordingly, Dominion Virginia Power's proposed dynamic pricing tariffs CPP, DP-R, DP-1, DP-2, DP-3, and DP-4 have not been adopted by the Commission.

In accordance with the Modifying Order, Dominion Virginia Power filed its response ("Response") to the Staff Report on March 23, 2010, as well as a motion to supplement response to Staff Report ("Motion"). In its Motion, Dominion Virginia Power requested sixty (60) days to consider how it will offer the Pilot Programs to customers who would have been eligible to participate in the proposed CPP, DP-R, DP-1, and DP-2 tariffs had they been approved in Case No. PUE-2009-00019, as well as to allow sufficient time to receive a decision in Case No. PUE-2009-00081 and make any necessary adjustments to the Pilot Programs in light of that Commission decision.[13] Dominion Virginia Power also asserted in its Motion and Response that its current

[13] Application of Virginia Electric and Power Company, For approval to implement new demand-side management programs and for approval of two rate adjustment clauses pursuant to § 56-585.1 A 5 of the Code of Virginia, Case No. PUE-2009-00081, Order Approving Demand-Side Management Programs

Rate Schedule 10 meets the requirements of Pilot 1 and, further, continued to assert that the Pilot 2 requirements outlined in Chapter 816 are satisfied by its existing and proposed Virginia Rate Schedule 19 for small generators.[14] APCo did not file a response to the Staff Report.

On April 22, 2010, the Commission issued its Order Granting Motion to Supplement Staff Report, which directed Dominion Virginia Power to file its supplemental response to the Staff Report on or before May 21, 2010. Pursuant to this order, Dominion Virginia Power filed its Supplemental Response to Staff Report ("Supplemental Response") on May 21, 2010.

In its Supplemental Response, Dominion Virginia Power proposes to offer three experimental dynamic pricing tariffs to meet the requirements of Pilot 1: DP-R (applicable to residential customers) and DP-1 and DP-2 (applicable to non-residential customers). Dominion Virginia Power asserts that its large general service Rate Schedule 10 currently meets the requirements for dynamic pricing rates for both of its large general service customer classes.[15] Dominion Virginia Power proposes to limit participation in Pilot 1 to customers that have either an internal data recorder meter ("IDR") or Advanced Metering Infrastructure ("AMI") meter already installed at their service location, making three percent, six percent, and eighteen percent of the residential, small general service, and intermediate general service populations, respectively, eligible for participation.[16] Dominion Virginia Power proposes to file its experimental dynamic pricing tariffs with the Commission no later than September 30, 2010.

Dominion Virginia Power further asserts in its Supplemental Response that the requirements of Pilot 2 are satisfied by its current Virginia Rate Schedule 19 for small generators. Under Rate Schedule 19, energy payments for each hour are calculated using the hourly $/MWh PJM Dominion Zone Day Ahead LMP. According to Dominion Virginia Power, payments for capacity to small generators are based upon the generator's net hourly on-peak generation, and the small generator is paid for such generation at prices based on the clearing results from PJM's Base Residual Auction for the Dominion Zone.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the foregoing, is of the opinion and finds that Dominion Virginia Power and APCo, as the two investor-owned utilities with the largest number of customers in the Commonwealth, should establish Pilot Programs under which eligible customers/renewable generators that volunteer to participate are provided the ability to purchase and sell electricity to the participating utility at dynamic rates. The Pilot Programs shall be subject to the conditions outlined below.

First, we find that Dominion Virginia Power's proposed experimental dynamic pricing tariffs DP-R, DP-1, and DP-2 satisfy the requirements for Pilot 1 established in Paragraph 1 of § 1 of Chapter 816.

Second, we find that tariffs DP-R, DP-1, and DP-2 should be filed with the Commission by Dominion Virginia Power no later than September 30, 2010.

Third, we find that Dominion Virginia Power's Pilot 1 should be limited to customers who have either an IDR meter or AMI meter or who have AMI installed during the period of the Pilots.

Fourth, we find that Dominion Virginia Power's current Rate Schedule 10 satisfies the requirements for Pilot 1 established in Paragraph 1 of § 1 of Chapter 816 for large general service customers.

Fifth, we find that the requirements for Pilot 2 established in Paragraph 2 of § 1 of Chapter 816 are satisfied by Dominion Virginia Power's Virginia Rate Schedule 19 for small generators and, therefore, Dominion Virginia Power should be exempt from implementing Pilot 2 in accordance with § 2 of Chapter 816.

Sixth, we find that APCo should develop voluntary Pilot Programs that offer dynamic pricing on an hourly and monthly basis.

Seventh, we note that § 3 of Chapter 816 provides that if a participating utility is a member of a regional transmission entity that supports an active market for energy and capacity, then "the energy and capacity prices related to that market may be used as surrogates for the marginal or avoided energy and capacity costs" for purposes of § 1 of this act. Accordingly, we find that APCo should structure its Pilot Programs around the AEP Zone LMP as published by PJM.

Eighth, we find that APCo's Pilot Programs should be limited to its non-residential rate customers.

Ninth, we find that participation in APCo's Pilot Programs should be limited to ten to fifteen percent of the customers that have properly certificated renewable generation facilities.

Tenth, we find that within sixty (60) days of the entry of this order, APCo should file with the Commission the details of its Pilot Programs. Such filing should include tariff sheets describing the terms and conditions for participation in each of the Pilot Programs and APCo's proposed effective date for implementation. The Commission will rule on APCo's proposal by a subsequent order.

(Mar. 24, 2010) (approving certain demand-side management programs proposed by Dominion Virginia Power and two rate adjustment clauses designed to recover the costs of the approved programs).

[14] The proposed Virginia Rate Schedule 19 has since been approved. See Application of Virginia Electric and Power Company, Notification to the Commission of election to abandon the Company's bidding program and application to revise its cogeneration tariff pursuant to PURPA Section 210, Case No. PUE-2008-00078, Final Order (May 18, 2010).

[15] Large general service customers are those whose demand exceeds 500 kilowatts.

[16] In the event that additional AMI meters are installed in Dominion Virginia Power's territory during the period of the Pilot Programs, the company states that customers at those service locations would also be eligible to participate.

Finally, we find that Dominion Virginia Power and APCo should each submit an annual report to the Commission each year that the Pilot Programs are in effect that includes, but is not limited to, the number of participants in the Programs, an assessment of the feasibility and implications on the public interest of continuing the Programs, and any information relevant to the Programs requested by Staff. Such report should initially be filed with the Commission within thirty (30) days of the Programs' first year of operation and, thereafter, should be filed with the Commission on an annual basis.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) On or before September 30, 2010, Dominion Virginia Power shall file with the Commission its proposed experimental dynamic pricing tariffs DP-R, DP-1, and DP-2.

(2) APCo shall develop voluntary Pilot Programs that offer dynamic pricing on an hourly and monthly basis. Such programs shall: (i) be structured around the AEP Zone LMP as published by PJM; (ii) be limited to non-residential rate customers; and (iii) be limited to ten to fifteen percent of customers that have properly certificated renewable generation facilities.

(3) Within sixty (60) days of the entry of this order, APCo shall file with the Commission the details of its Pilot Programs. Such filing should include tariff sheets describing the terms and conditions for participation in each of the Pilot Programs and APCo's proposed effective date for implementation. The Commission will rule on APCo's proposal by a subsequent order.

(4) Dominion Virginia Power and APCo shall submit an annual report to the Commission each year that the Pilot Programs are in effect that includes, but is not limited to, the number of participants in the Programs, an assessment of the feasibility and implications on the public interest of continuing the Programs, and any information relevant to the Programs requested by Staff. Such report shall initially be submitted to the Commission within thirty (30) days of the Programs' first year of operation and, thereafter, shall be submitted to the Commission on an annual basis.

(5) This matter is continued pending further order of the Commission.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00084
DECEMBER 3, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

In re: Establishing pilot programs to develop certain rate structures for renewable generation facilities

ORDER ESTABLISHING SEPARATE PROCEEDINGS

During its 2009 Session, the Virginia General Assembly passed Chapter 816 of the 2009 Virginia Acts of Assembly ("Chapter 816"), an uncodified enactment, directing the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to conduct a proceeding to establish two types of pilot programs for certain customers of electric utilities that generate electricity from renewable generation facilities. The first type of pilot program is intended to address dynamic rates for power purchases by eligible customers ("Pilot 1"); the second type is intended to address dynamic rates at which participating customers can sell electricity to a participating utility ("Pilot 2") (collectively, the "Pilot Programs" or "Programs"). As defined by § 1 of Chapter 816, the purpose of the Programs is:

> to determine the feasibility, and the implications on the public interest, of making specific rate structures available to the participating utilities' customers that generate electricity on-site with renewable generation facilities, or that generate electricity at off-site renewable generation facilities that have a rated capacity to generate not more than five megawatts from falling water and are located within six miles of the nonresidential customer, connected on the customer's side of the meter.

In establishing the Pilot Programs, Chapter 816 further directs the Commission to determine the scope of the Programs, establish thresholds for participation, and establish requirements relating to the implementation of the Pilot Programs.

On August 19, 2009, the Commission issued its Order for Notice and Comment ("Order") in this case that, among other things, docketed the matter, established a procedural schedule, directed Virginia Electric and Power Company d/b/a Dominion Virginia Power ("Dominion Virginia Power") and Appalachian Power Company ("APCo") to file written comments concerning the issues in the proceeding and directed the Staff of the Commission ("Staff") to review the comments and file a report thereon ("Staff Report"). In accordance with the Order, Dominion Virginia Power and APCo filed comments in this proceeding on October 23, 2009.

In its comments, Dominion Virginia Power first asserted that it should be exempt from the provisions of Chapter 816 because it had applied for Commission approval of dynamic pricing tariffs that would satisfy the requirements of Chapter 816 in Case No. PUE-2009-00019.[1] Dominion Virginia Power further stated that its existing and proposed Virginia Rate Schedule 19, "Power Purchases from Cogeneration and Small Power Production Qualifying Facilities," per Case Nos. PUE-2007-00034[2] and PUE-2008-00078,[3] allows it to be exempt from participation in this proceeding and from implementing the Pilot Programs pursuant to § 2 of Chapter 816.

[1] A*pplication of Virginia Electric and Power Company, For a 2009 statutory review of the rates, terms and conditions for the provision of generation, distribution and transmission services pursuant to § 56-585.1 A of the Code of Virginia,* Case No. PUE-2009-00019 (Amended Filing of Virginia Electric and Power Company, Direct Testimony, Exhibits and Schedules, filed July 24, 2009).

[2] Application of Virginia Electric and Power Company, To revise its cogeneration tariff pursuant to PURPA Section 210, Case No. PUE-2007-00034, Order of Approval (May 25, 2007).

Dominion Virginia Power also asserted that if it were not found to be exempt, the Pilot 1 requirements outlined in Chapter 816 are satisfied by the dynamic pricing tariffs proposed for Commission approval in Case No. PUE-2009-00019, including proposed tariffs CPP and DP-R (applicable to residential customers), as well as DP-1, DP-2, DP-3, and DP-4 (applicable to non-residential customers). Similarly, if no exemption were to be granted, Dominion Virginia Power claimed that the Pilot 2 requirements are satisfied by its existing and proposed Virginia Rate Schedule for small generators.

In its comments, APCo asserted that the scope of the Pilot Programs should be based on the consideration of four factors: (i) the characteristics of the customers who will participate; (ii) clear yet flexible parameters established by the Commission; (iii) dynamic pricing elements already used by APCo and its affiliates; and (iv) the use of PJM Interconnection, L.L.C.'s ("PJM") Locational Marginal Pricing ("LMP") for the American Electric Power, Inc. Zone ("AEP Zone") within the dynamic pricing design. APCo stated that it has a number of pricing structures and programs in place with varying degrees of dynamic pricing elements and anticipates that any new dynamic pricing pilot programs proposed for its Virginia customers could build upon already-established pricing principles. APCo recommended that, initially, participation in the Programs be limited to five to seven customers with properly certificated renewable generation facilities. APCo stated that it would require at least six months to implement the Programs.

On November 19, 2009, the Staff filed a Motion to Modify Procedural Schedule, which the Commission granted in its Order Modifying Procedural Schedule issued on December 2, 2009 ("Modifying Order"). In accordance with the revised procedural schedule in the Modifying Order, the Staff filed its Staff Report on February 16, 2010.

The Staff Report noted that Dominion Virginia Power's dynamic pricing tariffs are not currently approved by the Commission, but if the Commission did approve these tariffs, there would be no need for the Company to have a dynamic pricing pilot program. The Staff also stated that the dynamic pricing methodology could form the basis for a dynamic pricing pilot program if the proposed dynamic pricing schedules are not approved by the Commission. In that situation, the Staff stated it would recommend that Dominion Virginia Power develop updated rates for the dynamic pricing tariffs CPP, DP-R, DP-1, DP-2, DP-3, and DP-4, reflecting the revenue requirement and revenue apportionment that the Commission approves in Case No. PUE-2009-00019. The Staff proposed a limit of ten to fifteen percent customer participation for each rate class in such a pilot program. The Staff also suggested, as an alternative, that Dominion Virginia Power offer the dynamic pricing schedules to all customers on a voluntary basis as it had proposed to do in Case No. PUE-2009-00019, with the appropriate revenue adjustments.

Regarding APCo, the Staff Report noted that any dynamic pricing pilot program should be defined broadly to encourage participation. The Staff recommended that: (i) APCo develop voluntary Pilot Programs that offer dynamic pricing on an hourly and monthly basis; (ii) APCo structure its dynamic pricing Pilot Programs around the AEP Zone LMP as published by PJM; (iii) APCo's Pilot Programs be limited to its non-residential rate classes; and (iv) participation in APCo's Pilot Programs be limited to ten to fifteen percent of the customers that have properly certificated renewable generation facilities.

In Case No. PUE-2009-00019, Dominion Virginia Power proposed dynamic pricing tariffs CPP and DP-R (applicable to residential customers), as well as DP-1, DP-2, DP-3, and DP-4 (applicable to non-residential customers). However, on November 5, 2009, Dominion Virginia Power and other parties in that proceeding filed a Stipulation and Recommendation ("Stipulation"), which stated in pertinent part: "There is to be no increase in currently approved and effective base rates and no change in any rates . . . terms or conditions of standard tariff offerings until the first biennial review pursuant to Va. Code § 56-585.1."[4] Further, on February 26, 2010, Dominion Virginia Power and other parties filed an Addendum and Modification of Stipulation and Recommendation ("Addendum"), which stated in pertinent part: "There will be no base rate adjustment prior to December 1, 2013, except upon a determination that emergency rate relief is warranted, as authorized under Va. Code § 56-245. This Paragraph modifies the provisions of Paragraph 1 of the Stipulation only in that it extends the base rate freeze until December 1, 2013."[5] On March 11, 2010, the Commission issued its Order Approving Stipulation and Addendum in that case, adopting both the Stipulation and Addendum in total.[6] Accordingly, Dominion Virginia Power's proposed dynamic pricing tariffs CPP, DP-R, DP-1, DP-2, DP-3, and DP-4 were not adopted by the Commission.

In accordance with the Modifying Order, Dominion Virginia Power filed its response ("Response") to the Staff Report on March 23, 2010, as well as a motion to supplement its response to the Staff Report ("Motion"). In its Motion, Dominion Virginia Power requested sixty (60) days to consider how it will offer the Pilot Programs to customers who would have been eligible to participate in the proposed CPP, DP-R, DP-1, and DP-2 tariffs had they been approved in Case No. PUE-2009-00019, as well as to allow sufficient time to receive a decision in Case No. PUE-2009-00081 and make any necessary adjustments to the Pilot Programs in light of that Commission decision.[7] Dominion Virginia Power also asserted in its Motion and Response that its current Rate Schedule 10 meets the requirements of Pilot 1 and, further, continued to assert that the Pilot 2 requirements outlined in Chapter 816 are satisfied by its existing and proposed Virginia Rate Schedule 19 for small generators.[8] APCo did not file a response to the Staff Report.

[8] The proposed Virginia Rate Schedule 19 has since been approved. See Application of Virginia Electric and Power Company, Notification to the Commission of election to abandon the Company's bidding program and application to revise its cogeneration tariff pursuant to PURPA Section 210, Case No. PUE-2008-00078, Final Order (May 18, 2010).

On April 22, 2010, the Commission issued its Order Granting Motion to Supplement Staff Report, which directed Dominion Virginia Power to file its supplemental response to the Staff Report on or before May 21, 2010. Pursuant to this Order, Dominion Virginia Power filed its Supplemental Response to Staff Report ("Supplemental Response") on May 21, 2010.

In its Supplemental Response, Dominion Virginia Power proposed offering three experimental dynamic pricing tariffs to meet the requirements of Pilot 1: DP-R (applicable to residential customers), and DP-1 and DP-2 (applicable to non-residential customers). Dominion Virginia Power asserted that its large general service Rate Schedule 10 currently meets the requirements for dynamic pricing rates for both of its large general service customer classes.[9] Dominion Virginia Power proposed limiting participation in Pilot 1 to customers that have either an interval data recorder meter or an Advanced Metering Infrastructure ("AMI") meter already installed at their service location, making three percent, six percent, and eighteen percent of the residential, small general service, and intermediate general service populations, respectively, eligible for participation.[10] Dominion Virginia Power proposed filing its experimental dynamic pricing tariffs with the Commission no later than September 30, 2010.

Dominion Virginia Power further asserted in its Supplemental Response that the requirements of Pilot 2 are satisfied by its current Virginia Rate Schedule 19 for small generators. Under Rate Schedule 19, energy payments for each hour are calculated using the hourly $/MWh PJM Dominion Zone Day Ahead LMP. According to Dominion Virginia Power, payments for capacity to small generators are based upon the generator's net hourly on-peak generation, and the small generator is paid for such generation at prices based on the clearing results from PJM's Base Residual Auction for the Dominion Zone.

On July 30, 2010, the Commission issued an Order ("July 30, 2010 Order") finding that Dominion Virginia Power and APCo, as the two investor-owned utilities with the largest number of customers in the Commonwealth, should establish Pilot Programs under which eligible customers/renewable generators that volunteer to participate are provided the ability to purchase and sell electricity to the participating utility at dynamic rates. The July 30, 2010 Order directed Dominion Virginia Power to file tariffs DP-R, DP-1, and DP-2 with the Commission by no later than September 30, 2010, for the purpose of forming the basis of a Pilot 1 program.[11]

The July 30, 2010 Order also directed APCo to develop voluntary Pilot Programs that offer dynamic pricing on an hourly and monthly basis, around the AEP Zone LMP as published by PJM, limited to ten to fifteen percent of its properly certificated renewable generation facilities, within its non-residential rate customers.

Within sixty (60) days of the entry of the July 30, 2010 Order, APCo was directed to file tariff sheets describing the terms and conditions for participation in each of the Pilot Programs, along with APCo's proposed effective date for implementation, for review by the Commission.

On September 28, 2010, APCo filed details on its Pilot Programs in accordance with the July 30, 2010 Order. APCo's filing included proposed tariff sheets for both Pilot 1 and Pilot 2 detailing the terms and conditions for voluntary participation by properly certificated renewable generation facilities. APCo also included in its filing a request that the Commission allow it to flow certain energy costs associated with the Pilot Programs through its fuel factor and for permission to defer other costs for future recovery.

On September 30, 2010, Dominion Virginia Power filed the three tariff sheets directed by the July 30, 2010 Order. Included with Dominion Virginia Power's filing was prefiled testimony and exhibits of various witnesses describing the details of its proposed Pilot 1 program, which is proposed as part of a structured comprehensive pilot program. The filing details the additional efforts Dominion Virginia Power intends to undertake with regard to employee training, customer interfacing, data collection, and use of technology. Dominion Virginia Power described its plans for conducting this dynamic pricing pilot so as to use it to prepare for a system-wide offering by 2013. Dominion Virginia Power also included with this filing a request for permission to begin deferring costs associated with its Pilot 1 program for future recovery under a cost recovery rate adjustment clause pursuant to § 56-585.1 A 5 of the Code of Virginia.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the filing by APCo on September 28, 2010, and Dominion Virginia Power on September 30, 2010, is of the opinion and finds that further review and public notice is warranted. Given new information about the Pilot Programs of APCo and Dominion Virginia Power, as reflected in their latest filings, the details of the proposed Programs should be subject to further review in separate proceedings in order to afford the public an opportunity to receive notice of and comment upon the details of the respective programs of each company. To accomplish this, we find that this proceeding should be closed and that the September 2010 filings made herein by APCo and Dominion Virginia Power should be moved to separately docketed proceedings wherein consideration of the proposals will continue.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Separate proceedings be docketed through which the Commission's consideration of each of the Pilot Programs will continue.

(2) A copy of the respective filings of APCo and Dominion Virginia Power on September 28, 2010, and September 30, 2010, will be moved, respectively, to Case No. PUE-2010-00134 and Case No. PUE-2010-00135.

(3) There being nothing further to come before the Commission in this matter, the case is hereby dismissed from the Commission's docket of active proceedings and the papers filed herein be placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

[9] Large general service customers are those whose demand exceeds 500 kilowatts.

[10] In the event that additional AMI meters are installed in Dominion Virginia Power's territory during the period of the Pilot Programs, the Company stated that customers at those service locations would also be eligible to participate.

[11] The Commission found that Dominion Virginia Power was exempt from Pilot 2.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00089
APRIL 6, 2010

APPLICATION OF
PRINCE GEORGE ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE

For a general increase in electric rates

FINAL ORDER

On August 18, 2009, Prince George Electric Cooperative ("Prince George" or "the Applicant") completed an application for a general increase in its electric rates. The Applicant filed the application pursuant to § 56-585.3 of the Code of Virginia ("Code").

Prince George stated in its application that over the past several years, capital and operating costs, including demand-related energy costs and distribution costs, have increased substantially resulting in a decrease in its Times Interest Earned Ratio ("TIER"). Prince George noted that recent increases in the rates from its wholesale power supplier and other unanticipated cost increases have had the effect of driving its margins down to unprecedented levels and that the cumulative effect of rising costs and the deterioration of its financial ratios have put the Cooperative in a position where its rates must be increased to provide it sufficient revenues to maintain appropriate financial ratios and ensure its future financial viability.

Prince George sought approval for a 7.56% increase in base rates, which according to the Applicant, would generate an additional $2,292,018 in annual revenues paid by jurisdictional customers. Prince George also stated that the requested increase would produce a TIER of 2.16.

Prince George proposed a number of changes to its existing tariffs and introduced two new tariffs. Additionally, the Cooperative proposed: (1) an increase to its existing Customer Delivery Charges to move the charge toward actual costs; (2) an excess facilities rate designed to recover costs associated with providing excess facilities for customers requiring additional plant investment to receive electrical service; and (3) clarification of its guidelines on members' use of credit cards to pay utility bills.

On September 3, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Hearing that, among other things: (1) established a procedural schedule for this matter; (2) assigned the matter to a Hearing Examiner; (3) scheduled a hearing on the Company's application for March 3, 2010; (4) required the Company to provide public notice of its application; and (5) permitted the Applicant's proposed rates to become effective for service rendered on and after October 1, 2009.

On February 3, 2010, Commission Staff ("Staff") filed a Motion to Extend Filing Dates ("Motion") requesting an extension that would allow Staff to file its testimony on or before February 12, 2010. In support, Staff explained it had encountered difficulties conducting its investigation of the Application and submitting its testimony and exhibits on time. Staff further stated it would not object to a similar extension afforded to Prince George for the filing of its rebuttal testimony and exhibits.

On February 3, 2010, Prince George, by counsel, filed a Response to Commission Staff's Motion to Extend Filing Dates ("Response") stating that it was not opposed to an extension of time for Staff to prepare and file its testimony and exhibits but, if an extension was granted, requesting an extension of time for the filing of its rebuttal testimony and exhibits.

On February 4, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued his Hearing Examiner's Ruling ("Ruling") in which the Staff's Motion was granted and directed that: (1) Staff shall file its testimony and exhibits on or before February 12, 2010; (2) Prince George shall file its rebuttal testimony and exhibits on or before February 26, 2010; and (3) the hearing set for March 3, 2010, shall remain as scheduled.

No notices of participation were filed in this case. On February 12, 2010, the Staff filed its testimony in this case. Staff supported the Applicant's proposed total jurisdictional additional revenue requirement of $2,292,018[1] and recommended a TIER within the range of 2.0 to 2.50.[2] Staff determined that the Applicant's revenue requirement produces an actual TIER of 2.16.[3]

Prince George did not file rebuttal testimony. A public hearing on the application was convened on March 3, 2010. The following participants were represented by counsel at the hearing: Prince George and Staff. No public witnesses testified at the hearing. Prince George and Staff submitted a jointly executed stipulation ("Stipulation") recommending a resolution of the issues in the proceeding.

In the Stipulation, Prince George and Staff ("Stipulating Participants") agreed that the requested revenue increase of $2,292,018 was justified and would produce a calculated TIER of 2.16. With regard to Prince George's amended rate schedules, the Stipulating Participants agreed that the rates are representative of the Cooperative's unit costs as established in the Cost of Service study and were designed to recover the revenue requirement. The Stipulating Participants supported approval of the modified rate schedules as filed by the Applicant and agreed that with the modified rates currently in effect no refunds should be required.

On March 18, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued his Report in which he found that the Stipulation was acceptable and that the comment period to his Report should be waived. The Hearing Examiner recommended that the Commission enter an order that accepts the Stipulation.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record in this case, the Hearing Examiner's Report, and the applicable statutes, is of the opinion and finds that the jointly executed Stipulation should be accepted, and the revenue requirement sought by Prince George should be granted.

[1] Staff Testimony of Sarah A. Kutch at 21.

[2] Staff Testimony of Lawrence T. Oliver at 11.

[3] Staff Testimony of Sarah A. Kutch at 22.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Prince George's application for a general increase in its electric rates is granted.

(2) The Stipulation presented by Prince George and Staff is hereby accepted.

(3) Prince George shall forthwith file revised tariffs and terms and conditions of service with the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation, in accordance with the Stipulation, within thirty (30) days from the date of this Final Order. The rates, terms and conditions so established shall be effective for bills rendered on and after October 1, 2009.

(4) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this matter is dismissed from the Commission's active docket and the papers filed herein placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00092
FEBRUARY 26, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
DEPARTMENT OF HISTORIC RESOURCES, Complainant
v.
HIGHLAND NEW WIND DEVELOPMENT, LLC,
Defendant

ORDER DENYING COMPLAINT

On December 20, 2007, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") issued a Final Order in Case No. PUE-2005-00101, which approved – subject to specific requirements – an application by Highland New Wind Development, LLC ("HNWD" or "Highland Wind") for approval to construct, own, and operate an electric generation facility in Highland County, Virginia.[1] Highland Wind proposed to construct and operate a wind energy generating facility near the West Virginia border, just northeast of State Route 250 on parts of Allegheny Mountain known as Red Oak Knob and Tamarack Ridge, which would consist of up to twenty wind turbines of up to 2.00 MW nominal capacity each, and which would be mounted on free-standing tubular towers with the rotors reaching up to a height of 400 feet.[2]

The Final Order, among other things, considered a report filed by the Department of Environmental Quality ("DEQ"), in which DEQ coordinated a review of the proposed wind project by a number of state, federal, and local agencies.[3] The state and local agencies participating in DEQ's coordinated report included the following: DEQ; Department of Historic Resources ("DHR"); Department of Game and Inland Fisheries; Department of Conservation and Recreation; Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services; Department of Health; Department of Aviation; Department of Forestry; Department of Transportation; Marine Resources Commission; Department of Mines, Minerals and Energy; Central Shenandoah Planning District Commission; and Highland County.[4]

The DEQ Report listed permits or approvals that may be required by the wind project and recommended specific conditions for any certificate of public convenience and necessity issued by the Commission. As relevant to the instant case, the DEQ Report recommended that the Commission adopt the following condition:

> 2. Conduct Archaeological and Architectural Surveys if Necessary – Coordinate with DHR for guidance regarding the potential need for archaeological and architectural surveys, recommended studies and field surveys to evaluate the project's impacts to historic resources.[5]

The Final Order required HNWD to comply with this condition as recommended by DEQ.[6]

On August 19, 2009, the director of DHR transmitted a letter to the Commission's General Counsel, wherein DHR contended that Highland Wind had failed to comply with the above DEQ Condition. On August 26, 2009, the Commission issued an Order that deemed such letter to constitute a formal complaint, docketed and established procedures for this proceeding, and assigned this matter to a hearing examiner to conduct further proceedings.

On January 25, 2010, Senior Hearing Examiner Alexander F. Skirpan, Jr., issued a report that explained the procedural history of this case, summarized the record, attached a Stipulated Chronology of Events agreed to by DHR and HNWD ("Stipulated Events"),[7] analyzed the evidence and issues in this proceeding, and made certain findings ("Senior Hearing Examiner's Report"). The Senior Hearing Examiner's Report included the following findings and recommendations:

> (1) The Final Order excluded 'viewshed' from further consideration because 'viewshed' was considered by Highland County in issuing its conditional use permit;
>
> (2) The Final Order and Highland Wind's certificate of public convenience and necessity contain no condition by which Highland Wind is required to coordinate with DHR for guidance regarding the project's visual impacts on Camp Allegheny [(a Civil War battlefield site located in West Virginia approximately two miles from the project site)];
>
> (3) If the Final Order is read to include a condition by which Highland Wind is required to coordinate with DHR for guidance regarding the project's visual impacts on Camp Allegheny, any related mitigation measures would be limited to actions that occur within the borders of the Commonwealth;
>
> (4) If the Final Order is read to include a condition by which Highland Wind is required to coordinate with DHR for guidance regarding the project's visual impacts on Camp Allegheny, DHR has failed to show that its requested funds for various Camp Allegheny projects would provide any mitigation of the visual impacts of the project on Camp Allegheny;
>
> (5) Regardless of whether the Final Order is read to include a condition by which Highland Wind is required to coordinate with DHR for guidance regarding the project's visual impacts on Camp Allegheny, as of the end of this proceeding, Highland Wind has complied with the condition in the Final Order to '[c]oordinate with DHR for guidance regarding the potential need for archaeological and architectural surveys, recommended studies and field surveys to evaluate the project's impacts to historic resources;' and
> (6) The sunset provision of the Final Order has no bearing on DHR's complaint and may be investigated and addressed in a separate proceeding.[8]

On or before February 16, 2010, DHR and Highland Wind filed comments on the Senior Hearing Examiner's Report.

DHR "respectfully requests that the Commission find (1) that its complaint against HNWD was well founded and (2) that coordination with DHR has not been completed because minimization and mitigation measures regarding Camp Allegheny have not been fully discussed and implemented."[9]

Highland Wind "respectfully requests the Commission decline to consider DHR's argument concerning the sunset provision," because "DHR lacks authority to raise the argument, the argument was not timely, the argument is unrelated to any interest of DHR, and the argument is without merit."[10]

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of this matter, is of the opinion and finds as follows.

DEQ Condition

As noted above, the Final Order required Highland Wind to comply with the following condition, which was explicitly requested by DEQ:

> 2. Conduct Archaeological and Architectural Surveys if Necessary – Coordinate with DHR for guidance regarding the potential need for archaeological and architectural surveys, recommended studies and field surveys to evaluate the project's impacts to historic resources.

In the Stipulated Events, DHR and Highland Wind reached agreement on all issues but one. Specifically, the Stipulated Events state that "DHR and HNWD agreed that the sole remaining unresolved issue is whether HNWD has an obligation to mitigate the visual impact of its project upon Camp Allegheny, which is located in Pocahontas County, West Virginia."[11] We find, as did the Senior Hearing Examiner, that the DEQ Condition does not encompass any viewshed requirements, which includes visual impacts.

DHR asserts, however, that "if the [Senior] Hearing Examiner is correct that the Commission had not intended visual impacts to be addressed, the [Final Order] should have been explicit."[12] In this regard, the Final Order was, indeed, explicit and expressly imposed no conditions regarding viewshed. Specifically, the Final Order explained as follows:

> The Hearing Examiner properly found that the following matters were considered by Highland County in issuing Highland Wind a conditional use permit pursuant to Highland County's zoning ordinance and comprehensive plan: property values; tourism; viewshed; height restrictions; setbacks; lighting; color of > structures; fencing; security measures; erosion and sediment control; signage; access roads; and decommissioning. As a result, the conditional use permit 'shall be deemed to satisfy the requirements of [§§ 56-46.1 A and 56-580 D] with respect to all [those] matters . . ., and the Commission shall impose no additional conditions with respect to such matters.' Accordingly, we shall not consider those matters herein.[13]

Thus, the Final Order explicitly found that Highland County considered viewshed in issuing Highland Wind a conditional use permit and that, as a result, the Commission was statutorily prevented from imposing conditions with respect to matters related to viewshed. Accordingly, we reject DHR's request herein to impose requirements addressing visual impacts.[14]

Based on the Stipulated Events agreed to by DHR and HNWD, the Senior Hearing Examiner found that "as of the end of this proceeding, Highland Wind has complied with the [DEQ Condition]."[15] We adopt this finding. The Stipulated Events, taken as a whole, demonstrate that Highland Wind has complied with the requirement in the DEQ Condition to "[c]oordinate with DHR for guidance regarding the potential need for archaeological and architectural surveys, recommended studies and field surveys to evaluate the project's impacts to historic resources." Accordingly, we find that Highland Wind has complied with the plain language of the DEQ Condition.[16]

Sunset Provision

In its brief filed with the Senior Hearing Examiner on January 4, 2010, DHR argued for the first time that Highland Wind has failed to meet the following requirement in the Final Order:

> The certificate of public convenience and necessity granted herein shall expire two (2) years from the date of this Final Order if construction of the wind energy generating facility approved herein has not commenced. Highland Wind may petition the Commission for an extension of this sunset provision for good cause shown.[17]

Such assertion was not included in DHR's complaint, and DHR did not seek to amend its complaint to include this new claim.[18] In its response to the Senior Hearing Examiner's Report, however, DHR now contends that this "issue was raised as a jurisdictional argument regarding this proceeding [and] can be raised at any time during the course of the proceeding," and that "[i]f the Commission does not believe that the issue is related to its jurisdiction to hear the complaint, then DHR does not specifically ask for any further consideration of this issue."[19]

DHR submitted the complaint in this matter, and Highland Wind does not contest the Commission's jurisdiction. The Commission has jurisdiction over DHR's complaint, and we do not reach DHR's assertion regarding the above sunset provision.

Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT DHR's complaint is denied and this matter is dismissed.

[14] Having explained that the DEQ Condition does not include any viewshed analysis, we need not reach questions related to the Commission's authority, or lack thereof, to address viewshed impacts on Camp Allegheny, which lies outside of the territorial boundaries of the Commonwealth. See, e.g., Senior Hearing Examiner's Report at 7-9.

In this regard, we note that the exact language of the DEQ Condition was explicitly requested – and drafted – by DEQ in coordination with DHR. See, e.g., Final Order, 2007 S.C.C. Ann. CASE NO. PUE-2009-00093
MARCH 17, 2010

APPLICATION OF
UNITED WATER VIRGINIA INC.

For an increase in rates

ORDER ON MOTION FOR AUTHORITY TO INSTITUTE INTERIM RATES

On December 8, 2009, United Water Virginia Inc. ("United Water Virginia" or "Company") filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") an application, with accompanying testimony and certain schedules, for a general increase in water rates pursuant to Chapter 10 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code")[1] and the Commission's Rules Governing Utility Rate Applications and Annual Informational Filings.[2] On December 16, 2009, the Company completed its application by filing supplemental information related to one schedule.

United Water Virginia did not include in its application a request for authorization to put its proposed rates into effect on an interim basis, subject to refund.

On February 12, 2010, the Company filed a Motion for Authority to Institute Interim Rates ("Motion"). In this Motion, United Water Virginia asked that the Commission, pursuant to § 56-238 of the Code, allow the Company's proposed rates to go into effect on an interim basis, subject to refund, for service rendered on and after May 15, 2010, which is 150 days following the date the application was deemed complete by Staff. United Water Virginia stated that it will file revised tariff sheets to reflect May 15, 2010, as the effective date of its proposed tariff and that it will provide additional notice of the interim rates to its customers and to local government officials by mail at least thirty (30) days prior to the effective date of the interim rates, in accordance with § 56-237 of the Code. The Staff has no objection to the Motion.

On February 24, 2010, the Hearing Examiner issued his Hearing Examiner's Ruling and Certification to the Commission ("Ruling"), recommending that the Commission enter an order and direct:

> (1) That United Water Virginia be permitted to place its proposed rates into effect, subject to refund, for service rendered on and after May 15, 2010;
>
> (2) That United Water Virginia shall file corrected tariff sheets with the Commission that revise the effective date of its proposed tariffs to May 15, 2010, with a notation that the rates will go into effect on that date on an interim basis, subject to refund;
>
> (3) That United Water Virginia shall provide notice of its interim rates by first-class mail to its customers and to local government officials on or before April 7, 2010;
>
> (4) That United Water Virginia shall file proof of additional notice with the Commission on or before April 15, 2010;
>
> (5) That United Water Virginia shall forthwith file a bond with the Clerk of the Commission, to be approved by the Commission, payable to the Commonwealth, and conditioned to ensure refund of all amounts ordered by the Commission, upon completion of the hearing and decision in this case, with interest at a rate hereinafter to be set, representing that portion of such increased rates by its decision found not justified;
>
> (6) That United Water Virginia keep accurate accounts in detail of all amounts received under the increased rates which will become effective on and after May 15, 2010;
>
> (7) That interest upon any refund hereinafter ordered by the Commission shall be computed from the date payment is due until the date refunds are made, at an average prime rate for each calendar quarter. The applicable average prime rate for each calendar quarter shall be the arithmetic mean, to the nearest one-hundredth of one percent, of the prime rate values published in the Federal Reserve Bulletin, or in the Federal Reserve's Selected Interest Rates (Statistical Releases H.15), for the three months of the preceding calendar quarter. The interest required to be paid shall be compounded quarterly; and
> (8) That United Water Virginia shall bear all costs of such refunding.

The Hearing Examiner gave the parties and Staff five business days from the date of his Ruling to file any comments. No comments were filed.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The findings and recommendations of the February 24, 2010 Ruling are hereby adopted and are incorporated herein.

(2) This case is continued until further order of the Commission.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00093
SEPTEMBER 30, 2010

APPLICATION OF
UNITED WATER VIRGINIA INC.

For a general increase in rates

FINAL ORDER

On December 8, 2009, United Water Virginia Inc. ("United Water Virginia" or "Company") filed with the Corporation Commission ("Commission") an application, with accompanying testimony and certain schedules, for a general increase in water rates pursuant to Chapter 10 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code")[1] and the Commission's Rules Governing Utility Rate Applications and Annual Informational Filings.[2] On December 16, 2009, the Company completed its application by filing supplemental information related to one schedule.

In its application, United Water Virginia stated that increases in operating expenses and capital investments since 1997, when the Company last filed an application with the Commission for an increase in water rates, forced it to file for a rate increase. The Company claimed that in the past twelve years it has experienced significant increases in wages, pensions, tank painting costs, fire protection costs, insurance, and power costs.[3] Moreover, United Water Virginia asserted that the rate of return on rate base for the twelve months ended June 30, 2009, had declined to a negative 4.56%, and at the end of that same period the Company had a negative 10.85% return on common equity.[4]

United Water Virginia has requested an annual increase in water revenues of $606,349, based on a 10.50% return on common equity. This represents an overall revenue increase of approximately 55%.[5] The requested increase in rates is designed to increase the Company's return on equity from a negative 10.85% to a positive return on equity of 10.50%. The proposed rate increase would increase water rates from $81.41 per bi-monthly bill to $126.48 for the average residential customer.[6]

On January 7, 2010, an Order for Notice and Hearing was issued, which scheduled a public hearing for May 18, 2010, provided an opportunity for interested persons to submit a notice of participation or comments on the application, and established a procedural schedule for the filing of testimony and exhibits by any respondents and the Staff of the Commission ("Staff"). On February 12, 2010, United Water Virginia filed a Motion for Authority to Institute Interim Rates ("Motion"). In this Motion, the Company asked the Commission, pursuant to § 56-238 of the Code, to allow the rates the Company proposed in its application to go into effect on an interim basis for service rendered on and after May 15, 2010. The Commission issued its Order on Motion for Authority to Institute Interim Rates on March 17, 2010, which allowed United Water Virginia to place its proposed rates into effect, subject to refund, for service rendered on and after May 15, 2010. Then, on May 4, 2010, the Company filed a Motion for Authority to Institute Stipulated Rates on an Interim Basis ("Motion II"). In Motion II, the Company noted that while Staff had recommended the same additional annual revenue increase as the Company requested in its application, Staff's rate design and proposed tariff incorporated lower base rates than the Company originally requested.[7] United Water Virginia requested in Motion II that its interim rates authorized for service on and after May 15, 2010, be those recommended by Staff, rather than those proposed in its application. Motion II was granted by Alexander F. Skirpan, Jr., Senior Hearing Examiner ("Hearing Examiner") on May 5, 2010.

No notices of participation were filed in this case, but a large number of customers filed comments on the proposed rate increase. Staff pre-filed testimony on April 20, 2010, and on May 4, 2010, the Company submitted notice that it would not be filing rebuttal testimony. Staff, in its pre-filed testimony, recommended adoption of the Company's proposed $606,349 increase in annual revenues;[8] recommended use of a 9.70-10.70% range for the cost of equity and use of an updated, actual per books capital structure of United Water Virginia's parent company as of December 31, 2009, without adjustments;[9] and provided an alternative rate design for the Commission's consideration, which reflected a reduction in base rate revenues due to corrections to calculations for miscellaneous fees and charges.[10] On May 17, 2010, United Water Virginia filed a Joint Motion to Accept Stipulation, in which the Company asked that a Stipulation between it and the Staff be adopted in this proceeding.

On May 18, 2010, the hearing on this matter was convened in Richmond as scheduled. The Company and Staff were represented by counsel at the hearing, and two public witnesses presented testimony. The public witnesses objected to the magnitude of the requested rate increase and contended that the Company's rates and proposed increase exceeded the rates and rate increases of other Virginia municipalities.[11] Proof of public notice of the application and proof of public notice of interim rates were marked as exhibits and received into the record.[12] Pursuant to an agreement of counsel, the Company's application, testimony and exhibits, as well as the Staff's testimony and exhibits, were entered into the record without cross-examination.[13]

At the hearing, the Company and Staff presented to the Hearing Examiner the Stipulation that was filed on May 17, 2010. The Stipulation resolved all contested issues in the proceeding. Pursuant to the Stipulation, the Company and Staff (collectively, "Stipulating Participants") agreed to an annual revenue increase of $606,349, a 9.70%-10.70% range of equity return that would also be used for the purpose of reviewing the Company's Annual Informational Filings, and the use of an updated actual per books capital structure of United Water Virginia's parent company as of December 31, 2009, without adjustments.[14]

The Stipulating Participants also agreed that the Company would write off the unamortized balance of deferred tank painting assets for all tanks painted prior to the filing of this case and that the Company would implement an accounting mechanism for future tank painting expense in the same manner as utilized by United Water Virginia's parent company. Further, the Stipulation noted that the Company would book an adjustment to accumulated depreciation for $246,519 related to the $881,500 of intangible plant shown on the Company's books due to the 1987 acquisition of American Central Systems by General Waterworks Corporation and that the Company would continue to amortize the Contribution in Aid of Construction ("CIAC") related to the $881,500 of intangible plant and also would depreciate the $881,500 of intangible plant at a rate equal to the CIAC amortization. The Stipulating Participants concurred that, with respect to the acquisition adjustment in Account 114.1 and the associated accumulated amortization in Account 115.1, the Company will continue to account for this acquisition in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles until the Company's next Annual Informational Filing.[15]

Moreover, the Stipulating Participants agreed to change the wording to several of the rules set forth in United Water Virginia's Tariff Sheets and to change the description of the Company's Seasonal Base Charge. Finally, the Stipulation set forth the stipulated tariff sheets and the rates, rate design, and resulting increase that would be used to collect the increased revenue requirement.[16]

On June 30, 2010, the Report of the Hearing Examiner ("Report") was filed. The Hearing Examiner found that the Stipulation was acceptable and recommended that the Commission enter an order that accepts the Stipulation; adopts the findings of his Report; grants the Company an increase in gross annual revenues of $606,349; and dismisses the case from the Commission's docket of active proceedings. The Hearing Examiner's specific findings are as follows:

(1) The use of a test year ending June 30, 2009, is proper in this proceeding;

(2) United Water Virginia's jurisdictional test year operating revenues, after all adjustments, were $1,098,668;

(3) United Water Virginia's jurisdictional test year operating revenue deductions, after all adjustments, were $1,266,311;

(4) United Water Virginia's jurisdictional test year net operating income/(loss) and adjusted net operating income/(loss), after all adjustments were both ($167,643);

(5) United Water Virginia's current rates produce a return on adjusted rate base of -5.61% and a return on equity of -19.78%;

(6) United Water Virginia's current cost of equity is within a range of 9.70% - 10.70%;

(7) United Water Virginia's overall cost of capital, using the midpoint of the return on equity range and Staff's recommended capital structure is 7.70%;

(8) United Water Virginia's adjusted test year rate base is $2,986,985;

(9) Based on the Stipulation, United Water Virginia requires $606,349 in additional gross annual revenues to earn a reasonable return on rate base;

(10) The rates provided in Attachments A and B to the Stipulation are designed to produce the required additional gross annual revenues and are just and reasonable;

(11) In accordance with the Stipulation, United Water Virginia's cost of equity range of 9.70% - 10.70%, and the methodology used by Staff witness Gleason to develop the consolidated Virginia-American Water Company capital structure shall be used for purposes of future earnings tests until the Commission establishes otherwise;

(12) In accordance with the Stipulation, United Water Virginia shall write off the unamortized balance of deferred tank painting assets for all tanks painted prior to the filing of this case;

(13) In accordance with the Stipulation, United Water Virginia shall implement an accounting mechanism for future tank painting expense in the same manner as utilized by United Water Virginia's parent, Virginia-American Water Company;

(14) In accordance with the Stipulation, United Water Virginia shall book an adjustment to accumulated depreciation for $246,519 related to the $881,500 of intangible plant shown on the Company's books due to the 1987 acquisition of American Central Systems by General Waterworks Corporation, and continue to amortize the Contribution in Aid of Construction and depreciate, at the same rate, the $881,500 of intangible plant;

(15) In accordance with the Stipulation, United Water Virginia shall continue to account for the acquisition adjustment in Account 114.1 of $485,224 and associated accumulated amortization in Account 115.1 of ($296,857) in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and provide a history of the net acquisition premium and detailed support for the current balance in its next AIF [Annual Informational Filing];

(16) In accordance with the Stipulation, United Water Virginia shall change Rule No. 12(h) - Bills for Water Service to read as follows: "Bills for metered water service shall be rendered monthly or bi-monthly in arrears depending upon the class and quantity of service rendered;"

(17) In accordance with the Stipulation, United Water Virginia shall phase in Rule No. 13 - Term of Payment over a period of three bi-monthly billings (6 months) and provide additional written notice to customers regarding the imposition of late payment penalties; and

(18) In accordance with the Stipulation, United Water Virginia shall change the description of the Seasonal Base Charge to read as follows: "Seasonal customers that are disconnected from the system will be billed $15.50 every month or $31.00 every two months for service availability.

The Hearing Examiner recommended that the Commission enter an order adopting the findings in the Report, granting the Company an increase in gross annual revenues of $606,349, and dismissing the case. He further invited parties to file comments in response to his Report within seven (7) days of the date of the Report. On July 6, 2010, the Company filed comments urging the Commission to adopt the Hearing Examiner's Report. No comments challenging any aspect of the Hearing Examiner's Report were filed.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the case, and having reviewed the application, the prefiled testimony, the transcript, the Hearing Examiner's Report, the Stipulation, and the public comments filed in this case, is of the opinion and finds that the findings and recommendations of the Hearing Examiner's Report should be adopted. The Commission finds that the record in this case demonstrates that United Water Virginia requires $606,349 in additional gross annual revenues to earn a reasonable return on rate base; that using a 9.70%-10.70% range of equity return in this case and for review of the Company's Annual Informational Filing is reasonable; that the use of an updated actual per books capital structure of United Water Virginia's parent company as of December 31, 2009, without adjustments, is appropriate; and that all other provisions of the Stipulation are reasonable and should be adopted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The findings and recommendations of the June 30, 2010 Hearing Examiner's Report are hereby adopted.

(2) The Stipulation entered into by Staff and the Company and identified as Attachment A hereto is hereby adopted.

(3) The Company shall file with the Commission final rates and tariffs in accordance with this Order within thirty (30) days of the entry of this Order.

(4) This case is hereby dismissed, and the papers herein are placed in the file for ended causes.

NOTE: A copy of the "Stipulation" is on file and may be examined at the State Corporation Commission, Clerk's Office, Document Control Center, Tyler Building, First Floor, 1300 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00095
AUGUST 5, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

In re: The Potomac Edison Company d/b/a Allegheny Power's Integrated Resource Plan filing pursuant to § 56-597 et seq. of the Code

ORDER GRANTING MOTION TO DISMISS

Section 56-599 B of the Code of Virginia ("Code") requires each electric utility in the Commonwealth of Virginia to file an initial integrated resource plan ("IRP") with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") by September 1, 2009. Section 56-597 of the Code defines an IRP as "a document developed by an electric utility that provides a forecast of its load obligations and a plan to meet those obligations by supply side and demand side resources over the ensuing 15 years to promote reasonable prices, reliable service, energy independence, and environmental responsibility." Pursuant to § 56-599 E of the Code, the Commission must analyze each utility's IRP and determine whether the IRP is reasonable and in the public interest.

The Potomac Edison Company d/b/a Allegheny Power ("Potomac Edison" or "Company") filed its IRP with the Commission on September 1, 2009. In this filing, the Company noted that on May 5, 2009, it was announced that Potomac Edison had contracted to sell its electric distribution operations in the Commonwealth to Rappahannock Electric Cooperative and Shenandoah Valley Electric Cooperative (collectively, "Cooperatives"). Given this, the Company's September 1, 2009 filing indicated that its IRP was simply to continue covering its existing load under its existing contracts until the sale to Rappahannock Electric Cooperative and Shenandoah Valley Electric Cooperative was completed.

On September 18, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Comment in this proceeding, which, in part, provided an opportunity for interested persons to comment on Potomac Edison's IRP or participate as a respondent. On October 28, 2009, the Office of Attorney General's Division of Consumer Counsel ("Consumer Counsel") filed a notice of intent to participate as a respondent, and on November 13, 2009, Consumer Counsel filed comments on the Company's IRP.

On September 15, 2009, Potomac Edison, Rappahannock Electric Cooperative and Shenandoah Valley Electric Cooperative (collectively, "Joint Petitioners") filed a Joint Petition with the Commission for approval of the sale of Potomac Edison's electric distribution facilities located in the Company's Virginia service territory to the Cooperatives ("Asset Transfer Proceeding").[1]

On January 12, 2010, the Commission issued an Order in the present proceeding finding that Potomac Edison's IRP proceeding should be continued generally pending the Commission's decision in the Asset Transfer Proceeding. On May 14, 2010, the Commission granted the Joint Petition in the Asset Transfer Proceeding, subject to certain requirements set forth in its May 14, 2010 Order. The Joint Petitioners fulfilled the requirements set forth in the May 14, 2010 Order and Potomac Edison transferred its retail electric service assets to the Cooperatives as of June 1, 2010.

On June 15, 2010, Potomac Edison filed a Motion to Dismiss in the present proceeding. The Company stated that, "[b]ecause Potomac Edison no longer 'provides electric energy for use by retail customers,' the Commission is no longer required to analyze its IRP to determine if it is reasonable and in the public interest."[2] Potomac Edison also stated that counsel for Staff authorized the Company to represent that it does not oppose the Motion to Dismiss. The Commission has also been advised that Consumer Counsel does not oppose the Motion to Dismiss.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the matter, finds that Potomac Edison's Motion to Dismiss should be granted.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Motion to Dismiss filed by Potomac Edison shall be, and hereby is, granted.

(2) There being nothing further to come before the Commission in this proceeding, this matter is dismissed from the Commission's active docket, and the papers filed herein shall be placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

In re: Virginia Electric and Power Company's Integrated Resource Plan filing pursuant to Va. Code § 56-597 et seq.

FINAL ORDER

Section 56-599 B of the Code of Virginia ("Code") mandates that each electric utility in the Commonwealth of Virginia file an integrated resource plan ("IRP") with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") by September 1, 2009. An IRP, as defined by § 56-597 of the Code, is "a document developed by an electric utility that provides a forecast of its load obligations and a plan to meet those obligations by supply side and demand side resources over the ensuing 15 years to promote reasonable prices, reliable service, energy independence, and environmental responsibility." Pursuant to § 56-599 E of the Code, the Commission must determine whether an IRP is reasonable and in the public interest.

On September 1, 2009, Virginia Electric and Power Company ("DVP" or "Company") filed its Integrated Resource Plan ("IRP") with the Commission pursuant to § 56-597 et seq. of the Code. In its filing, DVP stated that the 2009 IRP is a long-term planning document that includes fifteen-year forecasts of information addressing the 2010 to 2024 timeframe. The Company further stated that the 2009 IRP is based on DVP's current assumptions regarding load growth, commodity price projections, and demand-side management ("DSM") program penetrations, as well as other regulatory and market developments throughout the planning period.

On September 18, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Comment in this proceeding which, among other things, directed DVP to provide public notice of its IRP and afforded interested persons an opportunity to file comments or request a hearing on the Company's IRP.

Respondents the Office of Attorney General, Division of Consumer Counsel ("Consumer Counsel"), and the Virginia Committee for Fair Utility Rates ("VCFUR") filed comments. Respondents MeadWestvaco Virginia Corporation ("MeadWestvaco") and Shell Energy North America (US), L.P. ("Shell Energy"), did not file comments. The Southern Environmental Law Center, on behalf of the Chesapeake Climate Action Network, Appalachian Voices, and the Virginia Chapter of the Sierra Club (collectively, "Environmental Respondents"), filed comments and requested a hearing. AARP Virginia ("AARP") and the Electric Power Supply Association ("EPSA"), interested parties, filed comments.

Upon consideration of the comments and request for hearing filed herein, the Commission entered an Order Scheduling Hearing on February 4, 2010 which, among other things, established a procedural schedule for the filing of direct and rebuttal testimony by DVP, any respondents, and the Staff in advance of a public hearing scheduled for May 4, 2010. On February 12, 2010, by Order Modifying Procedural Schedule,[1] the Commission, among other things, modified the procedural schedule to provide for a public hearing on June 8, 2010.

On February 23, 2010, DVP pre-filed the direct testimony of Shannon L. Venable, M. Masood Ahmad, and Michael Jesensky.[2] In their testimony, the Company witnesses addressed portions of the IRP that were prepared under their supervision and provided overviews of the IRP process, the Company's load forecasting process, and the Company's DSM program selection process.

On March 18, 2010, Shell Energy pre-filed the direct testimony of Seth G. Parker of Levitan & Associates, Inc.[3] Mr. Parker's testimony focused on issues relating to DVP's plan to build new generating capacity during the 2009 IRP planning period as opposed to purchasing capacity through bilateral contracts, from the PJM capacity market, or by acquiring existing plants. Mr. Parker stated that the Company's IRP does not meet the statutory requirements and suggested that DVP should adopt IRP procedures that encourage active and robust participation by independent developers of energy efficiency, demand response, and both traditional and renewable generation resources to ensure that ratepayers receive reliable, safe, and cost-effective power supplies.

On March 18, 2010, Environmental Respondents pre-filed the direct testimony of Dr. William Steinhurst of Synapse Energy Economics, and on April 1, 2010, filed a motion seeking leave to file corrected testimony of Dr. Steinhurst that was subsequently granted by the Commission.[4] Dr. Steinhurst's testimony, as corrected, raised issues regarding the IRP's documentation of modeling, load forecast, power supply planning, investment in renewables, investment in DSM, and treatment of risk and uncertainty. Dr. Steinhurst's testimony also: (i) identified, in his view, the most important shortcomings of the filed IRP; (ii) prescribed the required remedies for those shortcomings; (iii) recommended that the Commission conditionally approve the IRP subject to DVP's submission of a revised version of the IRP in a compliance filing addressing some of the most important shortcomings in the IRP as filed, including the lack of specific Company plans for meeting its DSM goals and Renewable Portfolio Standards as well as the risks associated with the current and future regulation of mercury and coal combustion waste; and (iv) recommended that the remaining shortcomings be remedied in the Company's next Virginia IRP due in September 2011.

On April 13, 2010, the Staff pre-filed the direct testimony of David Eichenlaub of the Commission's Division of Economics and Finance.[5] The Staff recommended that the Commission accept DVP's IRP as reasonable and in the public interest. In support of this recommendation, the Staff stated that it believes DVP has complied with the requirements of § 56-597 et seq. of the Code and the guidelines established by the Commission in Case No. PUE-2008-00099.[6]

Furthermore, the Staff stated that it acknowledges DVP's IRP is an ongoing planning process, and further noted that the results or conclusions in the Company's IRP are subject to additional scrutiny prior to implementation. The Staff further stated that an IRP is based on a snapshot at a point in time considering current conditions and reasoned expectations of future conditions. Accordingly, the Staff stated that any determination in this proceeding should not preclude the Commission from approving or rejecting a particular supply-side or demand-side resource in the future, nor should the Commission's determination in this case create any presumption in favor, or not in favor, of a particular resource.

On April 30, 2010, VCFUR submitted additional comments regarding the IRP filed by DVP. In addition to reiterating its comments that the Commission's determination in this proceeding should not preclude the Commission from approving or rejecting a particular supply-side or demand-side resource in the future, VCFUR filed additional comments recommending that the Commission, in this case or elsewhere, require competitive bidding for new resources.

On May 4, 2010, DVP pre-filed the rebuttal testimony of Shannon L. Venable, M. Masood Ahmad, Maria F. Scheller, Glenn A. Kelly, Peter Nedwick, Michael J. Jesensky, and Emil Avram.[7] These witnesses largely addressed issues raised in the pre-filed testimony of Environmental Respondents' witness Steinhurst and Shell Energy witness Parker.

The Commission convened the public evidentiary hearing on June 8 and 9, 2010. The following participated in the hearing: DVP, VCFUR, Environmental Respondents, Shell Energy, Consumer Counsel, and Staff. No public witnesses appeared to testify. At the conclusion of the evidence in the hearing, the parties presented closing arguments to the Commission.

[7] Exh. 15, 16, 17, 19, 22, 24, 25.

During the hearing, the parties raised issues primarily focusing on the IRP's treatment of DSM resources; the Company's Renewable Portfolio Standard; the effect of potential environmental regulations on the modeling process during the planning period; and meeting supply-side needs during the planning period through building new generating capacity, market purchases, and non-utility generation.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of this matter, is of the opinion and finds that the IRP of DVP is reasonable and is in the public interest under § 56-599 E of the Code. The Commission supports Staff's position that an IRP is based on a snapshot in time and by its own terms is not a commitment to a specific course of action. The IRP is a planning document, not a document that will control future decisions on specific resources. As such, the Commission's determination in this proceeding does not preclude the Commission from approving or rejecting a particular supply-side or demand-side resource in the future, nor does the Commission's determination in this case create any presumption in favor, or not in favor, of a particular resource, including generation construction projects, generation from non-utility generators, conservation or other options.

We further find that DVP should not be required to make a compliance filing in this proceeding as recommended by the Environmental Respondents. While the issues raised by the Environmental Respondents relating to DSM, Renewable Portfolio Standards, and proposed environmental control standards such as, for example, mercury, may have merit and should be considered by the Company in its future IRPs, we do not believe such a compliance filing is necessary for purposes of finding the current IRP is reasonable and in the public interest.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT this matter is dismissed from the Commission's active docket and the papers filed herein placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00097
AUGUST 6, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

In re: Appalachian Power Company's Integrated Resource Plan filing pursuant to Va. Code § 56-597 et seq.

FINAL ORDER

Section 56-599 B of the Code of Virginia ("Code") mandates that each electric utility in the Commonwealth of Virginia file an integrated resource plan ("IRP") with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") by September 1, 2009. An IRP, as defined by § 56-597 of the Code, is "a document developed by an electric utility that provides a forecast of its load obligations and a plan to meet those obligations by supply side and demand side resources over the ensuing 15 years to promote reasonable prices, reliable service, energy independence, and environmental responsibility." Pursuant to § 56-599 E of the Code, the Commission must determine whether an IRP is reasonable and in the public interest.

On September 1, 2009, Appalachian Power Company ("APCo" or "Company") filed its IRP with the Commission as required by § 56-599 B of the Code. In its IRP, APCo stated that it serves a population of about 2.2 million (958,000 retail customers) in a 19,260 square-mile area in the southwestern portions of Virginia and West Virginia. Further, APCo noted that it is one of the operating companies in the AEP System - East Zone ("AEP-East") of its parent company, American Electric Power Corporation ("AEP"). APCo asserted that because of this relationship, the Company's resource planning must be considered in the context of AEP-East, which collectively serves a population of 7.2 million (3.3 million retail customers) in a 41,000 square-mile area in parts of Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia. Accordingly, APCo filed in Virginia a copy of the current AEP-East IRP, together with supplemental material and information the Company asserted would be consistent with the Commission's December 23, 2008 Order Establishing Guidelines for Developing Integrated Resource Plans in Case No. PUE-2008-00099.[1]

On September 18, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Comment in this proceeding which, among other things, directed APCo to provide public notice of its IRP and afforded interested persons an opportunity to file comments or request a hearing on the IRP. Comments concerning APCo's IRP were received from the Office of the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Counsel ("Consumer Counsel"), AARP Virginia, and the Old Dominion Committee for Fair Utility Rates ("Old Dominion Committee"). Comments and a request for hearing were filed electronically by the Southern Environmental Law Center ("SELC") on behalf of itself and Chesapeake Climate Action Network, Appalachian Voices, and the Virginia Chapter of the Sierra Club (collectively "Environmental Respondents"), on Friday, November 13, 2009.[2]

Upon consideration of the comments and request for hearing filed herein, the Commission entered an Order Scheduling Hearing on January 19, 2010 which, among other things, established a procedural schedule to provide for the filing of direct and rebuttal testimony by APCo, any respondents, and the Staff in advance of a public hearing scheduled for May 18, 2010. As permitted by the Order Scheduling Hearing, APCo, in lieu of pre-filing direct testimony, chose to designate five witnesses who would adopt and sponsor various portions of the IRP.[3] APCo designated Lonni Dieck, John Torpey, John McManus, William Castle, and Mark Gilbert to sponsor the Company's IRP.

Rept. 606, Order Establishing Guidelines for Developing Integrated Resource Plans (Dec. 23, 2008).

[2] The Environmental Respondents' comments and request for hearing were filed electronically after the close of business on November 13, 2009. Accordingly, these filings were stamped in on the next business day, Monday, November 16, 2009, and were deemed filed on that date pursuant to the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure. On November 18, 2009, SELC filed on behalf of the Environmental Respondents a Motion for Leave to File Out of Time and to File Corrected Documents ("Motion"). No objections to the Environmental Respondents' Motion were filed, and the Motion was granted by the Commission as part of the Order Scheduling Hearing issued on January 19, 2010.

[3] Exh. 4.

The Environmental Respondents pre-filed the direct testimony Dr. William Steinhurst of Synapse Energy Economics. On April 1, 2010, the Environmental Respondents filed a motion seeking leave to file corrected testimony of Dr. Steinhurst, which was subsequently granted by the Commission.[4] Dr. Steinhurst's testimony, as corrected, raised issues regarding the IRP's documentation of modeling, power supply planning, plans for investment in demand-side management ("DSM"), and treatment of risk and uncertainty. Dr. Steinhurst's testimony also: (i) identified the most important shortcomings of the filed IRP; (ii) prescribed the required remedies for those shortcomings; (iii) recommended that the Commission conditionally approve the IRP subject to APCo's submission of a revised IRP in a compliance filing addressing some of the most important shortcomings of the IRP as filed, including the risks associated with the current and future regulation of mercury and coal combustion waste; and (iv) recommended that the remaining shortcomings be remedied in the Company's next Virginia IRP due in September 2011.[5]

The Staff of the Commission ("Staff") pre-filed the direct testimony of Diane Jenkins of the Commission's Division of Economics and Finance on April 13, 2010.[6] The Staff recommended that the Commission accept APCo's IRP as reasonable and in the public interest. In support of this recommendation, the Staff stated that it believes APCo's IRP complies with the requirements of § 56-597 et seq. of the Code and the guidelines established by the Commission in Case No. PUE-2008-00099.

Furthermore, the Staff stated that it acknowledges APCo's IRP is an ongoing planning process, and further noted that the results or conclusions in the Company's IRP are subject to additional scrutiny prior to implementation. The Staff further stated that an IRP is based on a snapshot at a point in time considering current conditions and reasoned expectations of future conditions. Accordingly, the Staff stated that any determination in this proceeding should not preclude the Commission from approving or rejecting a particular supply-side or demand-side resource in the future, nor should the Commission's determination in this case create any presumption in favor, or not in favor, of a particular resource.

Staff further acknowledged that future IRPs may be improved upon with increased stakeholder input and with greater emphasis on the costs and benefits of APCo's participation in the AEP-East pool that includes a review of alternatives for addressing APCo's capacity deficit position. Specifically, Staff recommended that any future IRP include an analysis of costs and benefits of any steps that can be taken to alleviate APCo's long-standing capacity deficit position.

APCo pre-filed the rebuttal testimony of Lonni Dieck, John Torpey, John McManus, and William Castle on May 4, 2010.[7] These witnesses largely addressed the issues raised in the pre-filed testimony of Staff witness Jenkins and Environmental Respondents' witness Steinhurst. For example, APCo witness Dieck stated that APCo was committed to working with the Staff in a collaborative effort, either separately or as part of a larger stakeholder process, to provide information regarding the benefits and costs associated with APCo's participation in the AEP-East Pool. To this end, APCo committed to meet with Staff, following the order in this case, to discuss matters related to the AEP-East Pool, which could then be addressed in a separate appendix to the schedules that will be submitted under the IRP Guidelines in APCo's next IRP filing.

On May 11, 2010, the Old Dominion Committee submitted additional comments regarding the IRP filed by APCo. In addition to reiterating its comments that the Commission's determination in this proceeding should not preclude the Commission from approving or rejecting a particular supply-side or demand-side resource in the future, the Old Dominion Committee filed additional comments related to the evidence received in APCo's going-in rate case in PUE-2009-00030, and the Staff's pre-filed testimony related to the effect of AEP decisions regarding assignment of generation capacity on the rates of APCo customers. The Old Dominion Committee recommended that, if the Commission approves the IRP, the Company be required, as a condition of such approval, to analyze and, if appropriate, present a plan to mitigate the ongoing adverse rate impact on APCo of AEP's recent capacity allocation decisions for AEP-East.

Counsel for APCo, the Environmental Respondents, the Old Dominion Committee, Consumer Counsel and the Commission Staff appeared at the hearing on May 18, 2010.[8] No public witnesses appeared to testify. During the hearing, the issues and testimony largely focused on whether the IRP as filed by APCo was sufficient for the Commission to determine the IRP was reasonable and in the public interest as required by § 56-599 E of the Code, or whether additional compliance filings should be required. At the conclusion of the evidence in the hearing, the parties presented closing arguments to the Commission.

APCo, citing the pre-filed direct testimony of the Staff, argued that the Commission should determine that the IRP is reasonable and in the public interest as required by § 56-599 E of the Code. APCo also opposed the Environmental Respondents' recommendation that it be required to revise its IRP in a compliance filing to address those issues raised by the Environmental Respondents; however, the Company did indicate its willingness to work with the Staff and other stakeholders in an effort to improve any future IRP filings.[9]

[8] AARP Virginia did not participate in the hearing but, as noted above, did file comments on November 13, 2009, in accordance with the Commission's Order for Notice and Comment. AARP Virginia's comments noted that its primary concern was that APCo's IRP is a multi-state document that fails to provide Virginia-specific information on the costs and benefits of its proposed plan. AARP Virginia asserts that the entire analysis of costs and benefits is presented on the AEP-East basis and does not allow for Virginia customers or the Virginia SCC to determine its impacts on Virginia customers given current rates paid for essential electricity service. AARP Virginia also addressed concerns over APCo's approach to DSM programs, to system efficiency and line loss reduction, and to consumer reaction to APCo's plans.

[9] Tr. at 11-12, 164-166, 168-69.

The Environmental Respondents argued that the IRP contained fundamental deficiencies arising from a lack of emphasis on DSM and the costs related to impending regulation of mercury and coal combustion waste.[10]

As noted above, the Old Dominion Committee argued that the Commission should require further analysis and, if appropriate, an action plan for APCo to minimize its generation capacity costs as a condition of approval of this IRP.[11] The Old Dominion Committee's primary concern was the effect on APCo's ratepayers of the increasing capacity equalization payments under the Interconnection Agreement and APCo's pattern of assigning relatively less expensive capacity to other AEP-East companies while assigning high-cost new wind-generation capacity to APCo.[12]

Consumer Counsel reiterated the comments it filed previously with the Commission, and it further recommended that future APCo IRPs contain a resource analysis to demonstrate the extent to which new wind resources are being added to meet or exceed Renewable Portfolio Standard requirements. Consumer Counsel further recommended that APCo's future IRPs explain the rationale and economic impact of allocation to APCo, both in terms of wind ownership and the offset to capacity equalization charges.[13]

The Staff argued that the IRP complies with the legislative requirements of the Code and, therefore, can be determined to be reasonable and in the public interest as the first planning tool submitted under the current regulatory protocol. Accordingly, while recommending that the Commission find the IRP as filed in September of 2009 to be reasonable and in the public interest, the Staff suggested that future IRPs should be improved to address issues affecting APCo's ratepayers. According to the Staff, questions surrounding the impact on APCo's customers from the growing capacity equalization charges arising from APCo's long-standing capacity deficient position among the utilities in the AEP-East pool should be addressed in any future IRP by making the IRP more APCo focused and including an analysis of the costs and benefits of any steps that can be taken to alleviate the long-standing capacity deficient position of APCo, including, but not limited to, (i) building new generation and (ii) transferring generation from other AEP-East companies who are either seeking to transfer or sell assets or are expected to remain in positions of capacity surplus.[14]

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of this matter, is of the opinion and finds that the IRP of APCo is reasonable and is in the public interest under § 56-599 E of the Code. However, in future IRP filings, APCo's IRP should not, as in this docket, concentrate as heavily on planning for AEP-East as a whole but should also be more focused on cost reduction measures and planning for APCo individually. Additionally, APCo needs to address more fully (i) its continued capacity deficit position; (ii) the pattern of being assigned higher cost capacity than is assigned to other AEP-East companies; and (iii) ways to reduce APCo's capacity equalization charges. Furthermore, the Commission supports Staff's position that an IRP is based on a snapshot in time and by its own terms is not a commitment to a specific course of action. The IRP is a planning document, not a document that will control future decisions on specific resources. As such, the Commission's determination in this proceeding does not preclude the Commission from approving or rejecting a particular supply-side or demand-side resource in the future, nor does the Commission's determination in this case create any presumption in favor, or not in favor, of a particular resource.

Finally, we find that APCo should not be required to make a compliance filing in this proceeding as recommended by the Environmental Respondents. While the issues raised by the Environmental Respondents relating to DSM and proposed environmental control standards, such as, for example, mercury, may have merit and should be considered by the Company in its future IRPs, we do not believe such a compliance filing is necessary for purposes of finding the current IRP is reasonable and in the public interest.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT this matter is dismissed from the Commission's active docket and the papers filed herein placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00098
FEBRUARY 9, 2010

JOINT PETITION OF
SKYLINE WATER CO., INC.,
REBEL WATER WORKS, INC.,
and
AQUA VIRGINIA , INC.

For approval of a transfer of utility assets and for the transfer of a certificate of public convenience and necessity

FINAL ORDER

On September 18, 2009, Aqua Virginia, Inc. ("Aqua Virginia"), Skyline Water Co., Inc. ("Skyline"), and Rebel Water Works, Inc. ("Rebel") (collectively, "Parties" or "Joint Petitioners"), filed a completed Joint Petition with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission").[1] The Parties have

[1] The Parties first filed their Joint Petition on September 3, 2009, but the Joint Petition was deemed incomplete until additional material was filed on September 18, 2009. Moreover, in both the September 3, 2009 and September 18, 2009 filings, the Parties incorrectly referred to Skyline Water Co., Inc., as petitioned the Commission for approval of: (i) the acquisition and disposition of utility assets of Skyline and Rebel pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act;[2] (ii) the transfer of Skyline's certificate of public convenience and necessity for the provision of public utility service to Aqua Virginia pursuant to the Utility Facilities Act;[3] (iii) the discontinuation of the Plant Improvement Contribution Surcharge ("PICS") for the Pelham Manor system; and (iv) any further relief the Commission deems necessary.

On October 28, 2009, the Commission entered its Order for Notice and Comment wherein the Joint Petitioners were instructed to provide notice of their Joint Petition to all customers on or before November 24, 2009; interested persons were invited to file written comments or request a hearing on or before December 18, 2009[4]; the Commission Staff was directed to analyze the reasonableness of the Joint Petition and file a Staff Report on or before January 14, 2010; and the Joint Petitioners were given an opportunity to respond to the Staff Report by January 29, 2010.

On January 14, 2010, the Commission Staff filed its Report, in which the Staff recommended: (i) approval of the proposed transfer of the water system assets of Skyline and Rebel to Aqua Virginia under the Utility Transfers Act subject to several requirements; (ii) approval of the transfer of Skyline's certificate of public convenience and necessity to Aqua Virginia pursuant to § 56-265.3 D of the Code of Virginia ("Code") and the amendment of Aqua Virginia's certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to § 56-265.3 D of the Code; and (iii) approval of the discontinuation of the PICS for the Pelham Manor system. Staff recommended that the proposed transfer be approved subject to the following requirements:

1) Within ninety (90) days of completing the proposed transfer, the Joint Petitioners should file a Report of Action ("Report") with the Commission. Included in the Report should be the date of the transfer, the actual sales price, and the actual accounting entries on Aqua Virginia's books to reflect the transfer. Such accounting entries should be in accordance with the Uniform System of Accounts ("USOA"), which includes separately booking the difference between the purchase price and the utility assets' net book value as an acquisition adjustment to Account 114.

2) Skyline and Rebel should be directed to provide all records related to the transferred assets to Aqua Virginia at closing, which should be directed to maintain them henceforth in accordance with the USOA.

3) The Commission's Utility Transfers Act approval of the proposed transfer should have no ratemaking implications. In particular, the Commission's Utility Transfers Act approval should not guarantee recovery of any costs directly or indirectly related to the transfer.

4) The Commission should direct Aqua Virginia that:

   a) The quality of service in the Skyline and Rebel service territories should not deteriorate due to a lack of maintenance or capital investment;

   b) The quality of service in the Skyline and Rebel service territories should not deteriorate due to a reduction in the number of employees providing services; and

   c) Aqua Virginia should continue to maintain a high degree of cooperation with the Commission Staff and should take all actions necessary to ensure Aqua Virginia's timely response to Staff inquiries with regard to its provision of service in Virginia.

5) Aqua Virginia should maintain a separate set of accounting records for Skyline and Rebel and continue to do so until the Commission finds such records should be merged into Aqua Virginia's books and records.

6) Aqua Virginia should file a separate Annual Financial and Operating Report for the Skyline and Rebel water systems with the Division of Public Utility Accounting.

On January 26, 2010, the Joint Petitioners, by counsel, advised the Commission that they did not intend to file any response to the January 14, 2010 Staff Report.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the Joint Petition, Staff Report, public comments, and applicable law, is of the opinion and finds that the proposed transfer will not impair or jeopardize adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates and, therefore, should be approved. The Commission further finds that all of Staff's recommendations should be accepted and made a part of this Order.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act, Skyline and Rebel are hereby authorized to transfer the utility assets comprising their water systems to Aqua Virginia consistent with the findings above and subject to all recommendations of the Commission Staff in its January 14, 2010 Staff Report.

(2) The PICS fee for the Pelham Manor system shall be discontinued.

Skyline Water Works, Inc. On October 14, 2009, the Parties filed an amended Verification, which properly referred to Skyline Water Co., Inc., instead of Skyline Water Works, Inc.

[2] Va. Code § 56-88 et seq.

[3] Va. Code § 56-265.1 et seq.

[4] Two public comments were submitted to the Commission.

(3) The Joint Petitioners are hereby authorized to transfer Skyline's certificate of public convenience and necessity to Aqua Virginia pursuant to § 56-265.3 D of the Code.

(4) Aqua Virginia's current certificate of public convenience and necessity is hereby amended pursuant to § 56-265.3 D of the Code to include the Dutch Hollow, Forest View, and Rebel assets, which were the subject of the Joint Petition.

(5) There appearing nothing further to be done in this matter, it is hereby dismissed.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00101
MAY 14, 2010

JOINT PETITION OF
RAPPAHANNOCK ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE, SHENANDOAH VALLEY ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE,
and
THE POTOMAC EDISON COMPANY D/B/A ALLEGHENY POWER

For approval of the purchase and sale of service territory and facilities, for the issuance of, and cancellation of, certificates of public convenience and necessity, and for approval of special, transitional, rate schedules

ORDER

On September 15, 2009, Rappahannock Electric Cooperative ("REC") and Shenandoah Valley Electric Cooperative ("SVEC") (collectively, "Cooperatives"), and The Potomac Edison Company d/b/a Allegheny Power ("Potomac Edison") (collectively, "Joint Petitioners") filed a joint petition and application ("Joint Petition") with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") pursuant to §§ 56-89, 56-90, 56-265.2, and 56-265.3 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"). The Joint Petitioners request as follows:

> (a) approve a transaction that will result in the sale of Potomac Edison's electric distribution facilities located in its Virginia service territory to the Cooperatives; (b) issue to the Cooperatives certificates of public convenience and necessity for the acquisition of facilities and to furnish electric service in Potomac Edison's current Virginia retail distribution service territory; (c) cancel Potomac Edison's certificates of public convenience and necessity to provide electricity at retail in Virginia; (d) issue to Potomac Edison a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing it to operate transmission lines and facilities in the counties in which it currently provides such services; and (e) grant such further approvals and relief as are requested in this Joint Petition and Joint Application; and (f) grant such further relief as may be appropriate.[1]

Potomac Edison is a Virginia public service company that provides retail electric service to approximately 102,000 customers in northwestern Virginia. REC and SVEC are both not-for-profit electric cooperatives owned by, and operated for the benefit of, their member consumers. REC has approximately 104,000 customers in sixteen counties. SVEC has approximately 39,000 customers in Augusta, Rockingham, and Shenandoah Counties.

The Joint Petitioners have entered into two separate asset purchase agreements that would, if approved by the Commission, confer on the Cooperatives the rights and obligations to provide retail electric utility service in all of Potomac Edison's current Virginia service territory, transfer Potomac Edison's Virginia distribution facilities to the Cooperatives, and release Potomac Edison from its rights and obligations to provide retail utility service in the Commonwealth.

Specifically, REC would purchase Potomac Edison's distribution facilities in Fauquier, Rappahannock, Culpeper, Orange, Madison, Greene, Albemarle, and parts of Clarke, Frederick, Page, Shenandoah, and Warren Counties ("new REC territory") and would serve Potomac Edison's current customers in the new REC territory. SVEC would purchase Potomac Edison's distribution facilities in Shenandoah, Page, Highland, and parts of Frederick, Clarke, and Warren Counties, as well as all of the City of Winchester ("new SVEC territory") and would serve Potomac Edison's current customers in the new SVEC territory. Neither Cooperative proposes to acquire any of Potomac Edison's transmission facilities.

The estimated purchase price in the Joint Petition for the distribution facilities and other associated attributes of retail service in Virginia ("Virginia Assets") is approximately $350 million in total. REC is proposing to purchase Potomac Edison's Virginia Assets in the new REC territory for approximately $183 million, and SVEC is proposing to purchase Potomac Edison's Virginia Assets in the new SVEC territory for approximately $167 million, subject in each transaction to post-closing adjustments to true-up the net book value of the acquired assets, customer deposits, and accounts receivable.

The Cooperatives have agreed to be bound by the rates and charges set out in the Commission's Order dated November 26, 2008, in Case No. PUE-2008-00033 and the Stipulation attached to that Order, with respect to the Virginia Assets, for the time periods set forth therein.[2] Thus, the Joint Petitioners maintain that the transaction will have no immediate impact on the rates of Potomac Edison's Virginia customers who will be transferred to the Cooperatives. To assist in the fulfillment of this obligation, Old Dominion Electric Cooperative ("ODEC") would assume certain contractual obligations to serve Potomac Edison's former retail customers in Virginia through June 30, 2011. After June 30, 2011, it is proposed that the process of setting rates for the former Potomac Edison customers would be the same process applicable to the Cooperatives' current customers.

[1] Joint Petition at 60-61.

[2] Application of The Potomac Edison Company d/b/a Allegheny Power, For an increase in its electric rates pursuant to Va. Code §§ 56-249.6 and 56-582 and, alternatively, request to modify Memorandum of Understanding and Order in Case No. PUE-2000-00280, Case No. PUE-2008-00033 (Nov. 26, 2008).

The Cooperatives would also assume most post-closing liabilities, as well as some pre-closing liabilities, including certain regulatory liabilities; limited liabilities relating to the remediation of hazardous substances; liabilities related to customer deposits and unearned pole attachment rental revenue; and cost of removal obligations associated with the Virginia Assets. Potomac Edison would remain liable for all liabilities related to the Virginia Assets not specifically assumed by the Cooperatives. The asset purchase agreements provide for customary representations and warranties, covenants, and indemnifications.

The Joint Petitioners assert that, in compliance with § 56-90 of the Code, the transfer of the Virginia Assets to the Cooperatives will neither impair nor jeopardize adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates. The Joint Petitioners further assert that, in compliance with § 56-265.2 of the Code, the allotment of the current Potomac Edison Virginia service territory to REC and SVEC is in the public interest, as it will provide a number of benefits that will improve the economics, reliability, and operation and maintenance of the distribution facilities in Potomac Edison's current Virginia service territory, and will result in the continued provision of adequate, safe, and reliable service at just and reasonable rates.

On September 30, 2009, REC and SVEC filed for approval of special rate schedules pursuant to § 56-235.2 of the Code. The Cooperatives requested that the Commission grant them approval to implement transitional rate schedules for Potomac Edison's current customers in the new REC territory and in the new SVEC territory should the Joint Petition be granted. As is mentioned above, these specialized, transitional rate schedules are consistent with the rates and charges set forth in the November 26, 2008 Order in Case No. PUE-2008-00033, and the Stipulation attached to that Order. Thus, these requests for approval of special, transitional rate schedules would not result in any immediate changes to the rates and charges assessed to the former customers of Potomac Edison. Nor would these filings result in any immediate changes in the rate schedules applicable to the Cooperative's current member customers.

The Cooperatives also requested that the September 30, 2009 filings be coordinated with all other petitions or applications related to the transaction that, if approved, would result in the sale of Potomac Edison's distribution facilities located in its Virginia service territory to REC and SVEC.

On October 9, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Hearing that established the procedural requirements for this matter, required the Joint Petitioners to publish notice, permitted the filing of written and electronic public comments, and scheduled a public evidentiary hearing. The Commission also deemed the Cooperatives' September 30, 2009 filings as supplemental filings to, and as part of, the Joint Petition.[3]

The following filed notices of participation in this case: Office of the Attorney General, Division of Consumer Counsel ("Consumer Counsel"); Board of Supervisors of Frederick County ("Frederick County"); City of Winchester;[4] and Bear Island Paper Company. On February 18, 2010, a Notice of Participation and Motion for Leave to File Out of Time was filed by Comcast of Colorado/Pennsylvania/West Virginia, LLC, Comcast of California/Maryland/ Pennsylvania/Virginia/West Virginia, LLC, and Comcast of Connecticut/Georgia/Massachusetts/ New Hampshire/New York/North Carolina/Virginia/Vermont, LLC (collectively, "Comcast").[5]

The Commission convened the public evidentiary hearing on March 2, 3, 4, 5, and 8, 2010. The following participated in the hearing: Joint Petitioners; Frederick County; Consumer Counsel; and Commission Staff ("Staff"). By Orders dated April 2 and 20, 2010, the Commission delayed the filing of post-hearing briefs at the request of the participants in this case.

On April 27, 2010, the Joint Petitioners filed a Motion to Accept Stipulation and for Delay of Filing of Post-Hearing Briefs ("Motion"). The Joint Petitioners state that: (1) Potomac Edison, REC, SVEC, Frederick County, and Consumer Counsel "have jointly executed a Stipulation [('Stipulation')] (Attachment A to this Motion) that will mitigate the projected rate increases to the former Potomac Edison customers as well as the other customers of the Cooperatives;" (2) "Consumer Counsel and Frederick County have authorized the Joint Petitioners to state that they support the Commission's granting of this Motion and approval of the Stipulation;" (3) "Staff takes no position on the Stipulation or Motion insofar as it relates to the Stipulation, but supports an indefinite delay in the filing date of the briefs to allow the Commission to consider the Stipulation;" and (4) the Joint Petitioners "respectfully request that the Commission accept the Stipulation and enter an Order adopting its terms, delaying indefinitely the submission of the post hearing briefs, and approving the Joint Petition."[6]

The Stipulation includes, among other things, the following provisions: (1) "Potomac Edison agrees to contribute $27,500,000 to reduce the rate impacts on the . . . power supply costs [for the former customers of Potomac Edison ('Transitioning Customers')];" (2) the "Cooperatives agree . . . to defer collectively the collection of $5,000,000 in purchased power costs from the Transitioning Customers for the period of July 1, 2012 through June 30, 2013 with such deferral to be collected from the Transitioning Customers in the period of July 1, 2013 through June 30, 2014;" (3) "Potomac Edison agrees to contribute an additional $35,000,000 to reduce the acquisition premium by this amount, which will have the effect of reducing base rates for all customers of the Cooperatives compared to base rates without such reduced acquisition premium;" (4) the "Cooperatives agree that there is to be no increase in base rates for Transitioning Customers before July 1, 2014, and any such increase at that time will be only pursuant to a final order of the Commission upon conclusion of a base rate proceeding;" and (5) "the Cooperatives agree to limit any such proposed base rate increase to the Transitioning Customers' distribution rates in 2014[, 2015, and 2016] to an amount no greater than that which would result in a 5% increase in a typical 1,000 kWh per month Transitioning Customers' total bill."[7]

On April 28, 2010, the Commission issued an Order that suspended the filing of post-hearing briefs and scheduled a hearing to receive evidence on the Stipulation.

---

[3] In addition, on April 7, 2010, REC and SVEC filed Revised Special Rate Tariffs applicable to the Cooperatives' respective Levelized Purchased Power Factor schedules.

[4] The City of Winchester subsequently withdrew its notice of participation.

[5] The Commission subsequently denied Comcast's motion for leave to file a notice of participation out of time. Tr. 15-31. Comcast, however, also submitted written comments and presented a public witness at the evidentiary hearing.

[6] Motion at 2-3.

[7] Stipulation at 3-4.

On May 3, 2010, the Commission held a hearing to receive evidence on the Stipulation.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered this matter, is of the opinion and finds that: (1) the Joint Petition is approved subject to the requirements set forth herein; and (2) if the Joint Petitioners do not accept the requirements set forth herein, the Joint Petition is denied.

Code of Virginia

Section 56-90 of the Code states in part as follows:

> If and when the Commission, with or without hearing, shall be satisfied that adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates will not be impaired or jeopardized by granting the prayer of the petition, the Commission shall make such order in the premises as it may deem proper and the circumstances require, and thereupon it shall be lawful to do the things provided for in such order, ...

Section 56-265.2 A of the Code states in part as follows:

> It shall be unlawful for any public utility to construct, enlarge or acquire, by lease or otherwise, any facilities for use in public utility service, except ordinary extensions or improvements in the usual course of business, without first having obtained a certificate from the Commission that the public convenience and necessity require the exercise of such right or privilege.

Section 56-265.3 B of the Code states as follows:

> On initial application by any company, the Commission, after formal or informal hearing upon such notice to the public as the Commission may prescribe, may, by issuance of a certificate of convenience and necessity, allot territory for development of public utility service by the applicant if the Commission finds such action in the public interest.

Joint Petition

We conclude that the Joint Petition, as originally filed, does not satisfy the statutory standards above. The original proposal required the Cooperatives to pay an acquisition premium of more than $120 million. Unlike investor-owned utilities, the Cooperatives do not have shareholders that could absorb all or part of an acquisition premium. In addition, the original proposal would have resulted in a significant and unreasonable rate impact on Transitioning Customers.

Certain aspects contained in the Stipulation address these issues to some degree. The Stipulation reduces the acquisition premium by $35,000,000 and mitigates the rate impact on Transitioning Customers by: (i) reducing power supply costs by $27,500,000; (ii) deferring collection of $5,000,000 in purchased power costs; (iii) precluding a base rate increase prior to July 1, 2014; and (iv) providing other limits on rate increases. The Stipulation also provides for modifications to the governance structures of the Cooperatives' respective Boards of Directors to reflect the new REC and SVEC territories.

Based upon the record in this case, even with the reduced premium and limited mitigation of power supply costs, Transitioning Customers are likely to see rate increases in the future. If these customers remained with Potomac Edison, there is also a likelihood that rates would rise. The record shows that there is rate exposure to these customers under either scenario. However, by approving the Joint Petition subject to the requirements set forth below, the Transitioning Customers will be significantly benefited in that they will no longer be served – as they would by Potomac Edison – at power supply prices that are subject solely to the vagaries of the wholesale market; rather, the Transitioning Customers will be served from a more diverse portfolio of assets via the Cooperatives' contractual relationship with ODEC.

Accordingly, we find that the Joint Petition, subject to the key requirements set forth below, satisfies the relevant statutory standards attendant to this case.[8] The requirements set forth below (a) are based, in part, upon certain provisions in the Stipulation, and (b) include modifications and additional ratemaking requirements that are necessary to ensure that this transaction does not result in unintended and unreasonable rate impacts. Specifically, we conclude that the following requirements are necessary to find that approval herein is in the public interest and to be satisfied that adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates will not be impaired or jeopardized:

1) Potomac Edison shall contribute $27,500,000 to reduce the rate impacts on the Transitioning Customers' power supply costs. This contribution will directly decrease the costs that the Cooperatives attribute to purchased power used to serve the Transitioning Customers by $20,000,000 from July 1, 2011, through June 30, 2013, as set forth in the hearing in Exhibit 40, and by $7,500,000 from July 1, 2014 through June 30, 2015. These savings will flow directly to the Transitioning Customers through a wholesale purchase power adjustment clause that the Cooperatives will maintain for the Transitioning Customers, which will be separate from such adjustments used for the other customers of the Cooperatives. To fund

[8] In addition, we find that the requirements requested by Comcast regarding pole attachment rates are not necessary in order for the Joint Petition, as modified by the Stipulation and subject to the additional requirements herein, to comply with the applicable statutory standards. See, e.g., Tr. 16. For example: (1) we find that any potential impact on Comcast's Virginia consumers from possible changes in pole attachment rates is speculative; and (2) the Code provides that upon request by a telecommunications service provider or cable television system to a public utility, "both the public utility and the telecommunications service provider or cable television system shall negotiate in good faith to arrive at a mutually agreeable contract for attachments to the public utility's poles by the telecommunications service provider or cable television system." Tr. 16-30; Va. Code § 56-466.1 B.

these reductions in rates to Transitioning Customers, Potomac Edison will pay to the Cooperatives $17,500,000 on July 1, 2011, $2,500,000 on July 1, 2012, and $7,500,000 on July 1, 2014.[9]

2) The Cooperatives shall, as set forth in Exhibit 40, defer collectively the collection of $5,000,000 in purchased power costs from the Transitioning Customers for the period of July 1, 2012, through June 30, 2013, with such deferral to be collected from Transitioning Customers in the period of July 1, 2013, through June 30, 2014.[10]

3) Potomac Edison shall contribute an additional $35,000,000 to reduce the acquisition premium by this amount, which will have the effect of reducing base rates for all customers of the Cooperatives compared to base rates without such reduced acquisition premium.[11]

4) There shall be no increase in base rates for Transitioning Customers before July 1, 2014, and any such increase at that time will be only pursuant to a final order of the Commission upon conclusion of a base rate proceeding.[12]

5) The Cooperatives shall limit any requested increase to Transitioning Customers' distribution rates to an amount no greater than that which would result in a 5% annual increase over the level of total rates in effect at the time of such request in a 1,000 kWh per month Transitioning Customer's total bill. This requirement shall apply through December 31, 2016. Nothing in this paragraph 5) shall be deemed a modification or waiver of the Cooperatives' and customers' responsibilities for wholesale power costs. Nothing in this paragraph 5) shall be deemed a waiver of the Cooperatives' ability to seek a determination from the Commission that emergency rate relief is warranted, as defined by § 56-245 of the Code.[13]

6) Upon the effective date of the transaction approved herein, the Cooperatives shall adopt governance structures as to their respective Boards of Directors as set forth in Exhibit 54 (as to REC) and Exhibit 52 (as to SVEC).[14]

7) Potomac Edison and the Cooperatives shall amend their respective Asset Purchase Agreements consistent with this Order.[15]

8) Nothing in this Order shall limit the Commission's discretion or authority in establishing rates for Transitioning Customers and customers in the Cooperatives' existing territories. This includes, but is not limited to, rate design, cost allocation, and harmonization of rates – and does not require the Commission subsequently to approve any harmonization of rates.

9) The Cooperatives shall agree not to modify base rates without Commission approval. This requirement shall apply through December 31, 2019, and is applicable to both Transitioning Customers and customers in the Cooperatives' existing territories.

Finally, we note that public comments submitted in this case addressed, among other issues, (1) providing representation from the new REC and SVEC territories on the Cooperatives' respective Boards of Directors, and (2) mitigating rate increases to the Transitioning Customers. The requirements above address both of these concerns. Indeed, no locality has opposed the transaction we approve today, and affirmative support for this transaction was submitted by Frederick County,[16] the City of Winchester,[17] and the Highland County Board of Supervisors.[18] Furthermore, Consumer Counsel similarly recommended approval of the Joint Petition as modified by the provisions of the Stipulation.[19]

Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Joint Petition is approved subject to the requirements set forth herein.

(2) Within ten (10) days from the date of this Order, Potomac Edison, REC, and SVEC shall file a notice of acceptance with the Commission if the Joint Petitioners accept approval of the Joint Petition subject to the requirements set forth herein. Such notice of acceptance shall be (i) signed by counsel for each Joint Petitioner, and (ii) signed and verified by the president or any vice-president and the secretary or any assistant secretary for each Joint Petitioner. Upon the timely filing of such notice of acceptance, the Commission further orders as follows:

(a) Potomac Edison, REC, and SVEC are directed to comply with this Order.

(b) The certificates of public convenience and necessity previously issued to Potomac Edison, as listed in attached Appendix A, are cancelled.

(c) The new and revised certificates of public convenience and necessity, listed in the attached Appendix B, relating to REC's acquisition of Potomac Edison's utility facilities in Virginia and the provision of service in Potomac Edison's former territory, are issued to REC. Appropriate certificates and maps shall be issued by the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation and sent to REC.

(d) The new and revised certificates of public convenience and necessity, listed in the attached Appendix C, relating to SVEC's acquisition of Potomac Edison's utility facilities in Virginia and the provision of service in Potomac Edison's former territory, are issued to SVEC. Appropriate certificates and maps shall be issued by the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation and sent to SVEC.

(e) Within seven (7) days of consummation of the transactions approved herein, REC and SVEC shall file with the Clerk of the Commission a report of action providing the date the transactions took place.

(f) Within thirty (30) days of completing the transactions approved herein, subject to administrative extension by the Commission's Director of Public Utility Accounting, REC and SVEC shall file reports with the Commission showing the accounting entries reflecting the respective transactions on the party's books.

(g) Within thirty (30) days of the date of this Order, REC and SVEC shall file with the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation tariffs to become effective upon consummation of the transaction approved herein.

(3) If the Joint Petitioners do not timely file the notice of acceptance referenced in (2), above, the Joint Petition is denied.

(4) This case is continued.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00102
JUNE 2, 2010

APPLICATION OF
APPALACHIAN POWER COMPANY

For approval pursuant to Va. Code § 56-585.2 of purchase power agreements as part of its participation in the Virginia renewable energy portfolio standard program

ORDER DENYING APPLICATION

On September 18, 2009, Appalachian Power Company ("APCo" or "Company") filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") an application pursuant to § 56-585.2 of the Code of Virginia ("Code") for approval of purchase power agreements ("PPAs") as part of its participation in the Virginia renewable energy portfolio standard ("RPS") program ("Application"). Specifically, the Application involves three PPAs under which the Company "will purchase energy: two for the Grand Ridge wind project (collectively, 'Grand Ridge') and one for the Beech Ridge wind project ('Beech Ridge')."[1] The Company has contracted for 100.5 MW from Beech Ridge and 100.5 MW from Grand Ridge in the PPAs, or a combined 201 MW of nameplate capacity.[2]

The Company requested that the Commission: (1) "find the Grand Ridge and Beech Ridge PPAs to be reasonable and prudent as part of [APCo's] participation in the [RPS program], as established by § 56-585.2 of the Code … and as approved by the Commission in Case No. PUE-2008-00003;" and (2) "find that the Company has a reasonable expectation of achieving 12 percent of its base year electric energy sales from renewable energy sources during calendar year 2022, and 15 percent of its base year electric energy sales from renewable energy sources during calendar year 2025."[3]

On October 7, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Comment that established a procedural schedule for this matter.

On October 23 and November 20, 2009, respectively, the Office of the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Counsel ("Consumer Counsel") filed a notice of participation and filed comments. Consumer Counsel stated as follows: (1) "Consumer Counsel cannot support inclusion of the three Beech Ridge and Grand Ridge contracts as part of [APCo's] RPS plan without additional information on [APCo's renewable energy certificate ('REC')] valuation and [American Electric Power Company Pool ('AEP Pool')] capacity credits for ownership of new wind purchased power agreements;" (2) "[b]ecause the three proposed contracts would allow [APCo] to meet all RPS goals, any additional renewable energy proposed by [APCo] in the future would not be needed to achieve those goals and thus should not be evaluated under the RPS statute;" (3) "Consumer Counsel proposes that, if these three contracts are approved, all future renewable energy should be evaluated to determine whether it is the least cost option;" and (4) "Consumer Counsel remains concerned with a plan that fails to minimize customer costs by selling excess RECs, an issue that the Commission will be able to address in future cost recovery proceedings."[4]

On November 20, 2009, the Old Dominion Committee for Fair Utility Rates ("Committee") filed a notice of participation and comments. The Committee stated as follows: (1) "[t]he Commission should not approve the two PPAs unless APCo demonstrates that its revenue requirements will be lower with the PPAs than with alternative supplies over the planning horizon;" (2) APCo "states that the Cumulative Present Worth (CPW) of variable and incremental fixed (generation) costs of the AEP-East resource plan that includes the Beech Ridge PPA would be $153 million higher over the full 27-year (2009-2035) study period, versus a resource plan that would not have included that PPA;" (3) "'[s]imilar' results apparently were calculated with respect to Grand Ridge PPAs;" and (4) "APCo's participation in the RPS program is voluntary[, and its] customers should not bear a greater rate burden than necessary in order for APCo to participate in the program."[5]

On December 4, 2009, APCo filed a response to the comments of Consumer Counsel and the Committee. The Company stated as follows: (1) "[t]he Commission has before it sufficient information to make the required finding that the [Beech Ridge and Grand Ridge PPAs ('Wind PPAs')] are reasonable and prudent;" (2) "[t]he Wind PPAs have a minimal impact on the rates the customers pay, and that impact will decrease over the planning horizon;" (3) APCo "is not required to demonstrate that its revenue requirements with the Wind PPAs are less than its revenue requirements without the Wind PPAs;" (4) "[t]he RECs relied on by the Company for its comparative resource planning analysis are legal and appropriate;" (5) "[t]he Application demonstrates that the allocation of wind resources is equitable, reasonable and aligned with the achievement of the RPS Goals;" and (6) "[t]he Company's planned treatment of RECs is not relevant for this proceeding."[6]

On December 18, 2009, the Commission's Staff ("Staff") filed a report in this matter ("Staff Report"). Staff stated as follows: (1) "Staff cannot recommend approval of the Company's [A]pplication at this time;" (2) "[i]n Staff's opinion, APCo has not met its burden of proof that it has a reasonable expectation of reasonably and prudently achieving the RPS Goals;" (3) "[t]he Company did not explore the purchase of low cost Tier II RECs as an option for meeting the RPS Goals [and it] appears to Staff that meeting the RPS Goals by purchasing Tier II RECs would likely be a lower cost alternative;" (4) "[t]he Company did not perform any analyses of constructing, owning, and operating 201 MW of wind and/or biomass generation facilities;" and (5) "Staff cannot evaluate whether the dual objectives of meeting the RPS Goals and obtaining 201 MW of generation capacity are best met through the proposed PPAs, other renewable resources, or through the Company developing its own renewable facilities."[7]

On December 29, 2009, APCo filed a Motion to Strike certain portions of the Staff Report "on the grounds that such portions do not comply with the terms of the Order [for Notice and Comment] as they are comprised of commentary and analysis that are far beyond the scope of, and thus irrelevant to, the Application."[8] On January 20, 2010, Staff filed a response and requested that the Commission deny the Motion to Strike. On February 3, 2010, the Company filed a reply and requested that the Commission grant the Motion to Strike.

On January 8, 2010, APCo filed a Response to Staff Report. The Company stated as follows: (1) "[t]he components of the RPS Plan remain reasonable and prudent;" (2) "[t]he Company is not required to compare the costs of participation [in the RPS program] with those of non-participation;" (3) "[t]he Company is not required to compare the costs of construction with the costs of the Wind PPAs;" (4) "Staff presented no evidence in its Report to rebut the evidence presented by the Company in its Application of the reasonable cost and prudent procurement of the Wind PPAs [nor] did Staff present any evidence that justifies the denial of the relief requested in the Application;" and (5) "[t]he Company's evidence clearly supports the Commission's determination that the Wind PPAs are reasonable and prudent components of [APCo's] previously-approved participation in the RPS Program and finding that [APCo] has a reasonable expectation of achieving the RPS Goals."[9]

On February 3, 2010, APCo filed a Motion to Supplement Response to Staff Report, which requested "that the Commission permit it to supplement its response to Staff's Report with new information regarding the Beech Ridge Wind Farm."[10] On February 16, 2010, the Commission issued an Order Granting Motion to Supplement Response to Staff Report.

On February 26, 2010, the Commission issued an Order Denying Motion, which denied APCo's December 29, 2009 Motion to Strike certain portions of the Staff Report. In addition, that Order: (1) noted that no participant in this case has requested a hearing, and, thus, the Commission will rely upon the filed documents as the basis of our final decision in this matter; and (2) granted APCo leave to amend its response to the Staff Report to address the portions thereof that it sought to strike.

On March 15, 2010, APCo filed a Supplemental Response to Staff Report. The Company asserted that: (1) "Staff has presented no evidence to rebut that presented by the Company in its Application of the reasonable cost and prudent procurement of the Wind PPAs;" (2) "[n]or does the entire [Staff] Report contain any evidence that justifies the denial of the relief requested in this Application;" (3) "[i]nstead, the evidence in the Record clearly supports the Commission's determination that the Wind PPAs are reasonable and prudent components of [APCo's] previously-approved participation in the RPS Program and its finding that Appalachian has a reasonable expectation of achieving the RPS Goals."[11]

On March 15, 2010, APCo filed a Motion to Supplement the Record, which requested "that the Commission permit it to supplement the record in this proceeding with the Amendments to the Beech Ridge Power Purchase Agreement."[12] No participant objected to, and we herein grant, such motion.[13]

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of this matter, is of the opinion and finds as follows.

Code of Virginia

Section 56-585.2 of the Code states in part as follows:

> B. Any investor-owned incumbent electric utility may apply to the Commission for approval to participate in a renewable energy portfolio standard program, as defined in this section. The Commission shall approve such application if the applicant demonstrates that it has a reasonable expectation of achieving 12 percent of its base year electric energy sales from renewable energy sources during calendar year 2022, and 15 percent of its base year electric energy sales from renewable energy sources during calendar year 2025, as provided in subsection D.
> F. A utility participating in such program shall apply towards meeting its RPS Goals any renewable energy from existing renewable energy sources owned by the participating utility or purchased as allowed by contract at no additional cost to customers to the extent feasible. A utility participating in such program shall not apply towards meeting its RPS Goals renewable energy certificates attributable to any renewable energy generated at a renewable energy generation source in operation as of July 1, 2007, that is operated by a person that is served within a utility's large industrial rate class and that is served at primary or transmission voltage. A participating utility shall be required to fulfill any remaining deficit needed to fulfill its RPS Goals from new renewable energy supplies at reasonable cost and in a prudent manner to be determined by the Commission at the time of approval of any application made pursuant to subsection B. ….

This statute requires the Commission to determine whether the Beech Ridge and Grand Ridge PPAs fulfill the RPS Goals "at reasonable cost and in a prudent manner."[14]

Specifically, § 56-585.2 F of the Code first requires APCo to "apply towards meeting its RPS Goals any renewable energy from existing renewable energy sources owned by the participating utility or purchased as allowed by contract at no additional cost to customers to the extent feasible." Second, if additional energy supplies are needed to meet the voluntary RPS Goals, § 56-585.2 F of the Code requires APCo "to fulfill any remaining deficit needed to fulfill its RPS Goals from new renewable energy supplies at reasonable cost and in a prudent manner to be determined by the Commission at the time of approval of any application made pursuant to subsection B." In this regard, we find that the Beech Ridge and Grand Ridge PPAs do not fulfill the remaining deficit at a reasonable cost and in a prudent manner.

Beech Ridge and Grand Ridge PPAs

In this proceeding, the Company has asked the Commission to "find the Grand Ridge and Beech Ridge PPAs to be reasonable and prudent as part of [APCo's] participation in the [RPS program]…."[15] Thus, APCo has the burden to prove that the Beech Ridge and Grand Ridge PPAs, under § 56-585.2 F of the Code, "fulfill any remaining deficit needed to fulfill its RPS Goals … at reasonable cost and in a prudent manner." We find that the Company has not met this burden.

The General Assembly has set forth a policy in § 56-585.2 of the Code of encouraging the development of renewable energy through voluntary RPS programs, and the Commission has previously approved APCo's voluntary RPS program (Case No. PUE-2008-00003). As we noted in APCo's most recent fuel case, however, the General Assembly has made it clear that while renewable forms of energy are to be encouraged, the ratepayers of Virginia must be protected from costs for renewable energy that are unreasonably high.[16] The General Assembly has also required that ratepayers be protected from renewable energy that is obtained in an imprudent manner. In other words, the General Assembly could – but has not – set forth a policy of encouraging renewable energy at any price or under any set of circumstances, no matter how burdensome the impact on consumers. This legislative policy is embodied in the "reasonable" and "prudent" mandates in § 56-585.2 F of the Code. As a result, although some renewable resources may satisfy the statutory standards, other or additional such resources may not when considering relevant cost, economic, and other factors.

[13] These amendments, including the slight downward adjustment on prices prior to Beech Ridge obtaining an Incidental Take Permit from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, do not change our analysis below.

[14] Va. Code § 56-585.2 F.

[15] Application at 4.

[16] Application of Appalachian Power Company to Revise its Fuel Factor Pursuant to Va. Code § 56-249.6, Case No. PUE-2009-00038, Order Establishing Fuel Factor at 9-10 (Aug. 3, 2009). The Commission further found that "the high cost for these two projects [does not meet] the standards in Va. Code § 56-249.6" and, accordingly, disallowed costs associated with the Beech Ridge and Grand Ridge PPAs – which reduced the requested fuel rate increase by approximately $14.4 million. Id. at 10-11.

In this regard, the Company does not assert that the Beech Ridge and Grand Ridge PPAs are needed in order to provide reliable service to its customers. The Company's testimony illustrates that its generation resource base plan, which does not include the Beech Ridge and Grand Ridge PPAs, produces a lower cost than a plan that includes these PPAs – i.e., these PPAs would not be part of an optimal cost resource plan.[17] Rather, the Company (i) explains that it serves its customers "in concert with that of the other AEP-East Operating Companies under the auspices of the AEP Pool," and (ii) suggests that such service could take place with, or without, the Beech Ridge and Grand Ridge PPAs.[18] Accordingly, APCo acknowledges that these PPAs result in increased costs to ratepayers.[19]

Specifically, APCo estimates that the Beech Ridge and Grand Ridge PPAs will increase the generation-related revenue requirement – above what it otherwise would be – by more than $200 million over the life of the agreements.[20] That is, the Company's own projections conclude that these PPAs will increase revenue requirements by more than $200 million on a net present value basis, and we question whether some of the assumptions that produced this estimate may be unwarranted, leading to a more realistic higher estimate of revenue impact. We find that these PPAs are not needed in order for the Company to provide reliable service to its customers at just and reasonable rates. We further conclude that the increase in Virginia jurisdictional revenue requirement is not reasonable at this time and for purposes of this proceeding.

Moreover, the Company's $200 million estimate does not reflect the actual incremental nominal amounts paid by consumers since this estimate represents a discounted value. In effect, based on APCo's projection, the Company is asking ratepayers to borrow money for the PPAs today and to pay it back, with interest, over the life of the PPAs. APCo also reduces its projected cost impact on ratepayers by including a specific monetary estimate of avoided CO_2 costs beginning in 2015.[21] We do not give this assumption significant weight based on the record here. Furthermore, we reject APCo's assertion that the increased cost represented by the Beech Ridge and Grand Ridge PPAs is necessarily mitigated by the cost of RECs that the Company would otherwise purchase absent these PPAs.[22] In sum, we also find that APCo's estimate of the customer impact resulting from the Beech Ridge and Grand Ridge PPAs is understated.

More importantly, we are not evaluating the Beech Ridge and Grand Ridge PPAs under the same factual circumstances as presented in Case No. PUE-2008-00003.[23] APCo's rates have increased by more than $500 million – or more than 50% for residential customers – since the beginning of 2007,[24] and this amount does not include the Company's currently pending base rate proceeding.[25] We also note that several of APCo's rate increases since 2006 have included recovery of environmental-related costs that, as with the cost of renewables, are expended with the goal of achieving positive environmental benefits.[26] Rate impact on customers is a key statutory factor in the Commission's consideration of energy supply proposals, whether they be new generation projects, fuel costs, or RPS measures.[27] Section 56-585.2 of the Code does not create a limitless authority for a utility to increase customer costs, and we find under the instant circumstances that it is neither reasonable nor prudent for the Company to incur the increased cost associated with entering into the Beech Ridge and Grand Ridge PPAs.

Furthermore, as a result of the Commission's approval of the Company's prior two wind contracts, APCo is at a different stage in its progress towards meeting its voluntary RPS Goals – which extend to 2025 – than it was in Case No. PUE-2008-00003. The Company's evidence shows that these PPAs are not needed at this time to achieve those goals under the timeframe reflected in the statute.[28] Specifically, the voluntary goals in § 56-585.2 D of the Code extend to 2025 and include as follows: "RPS Goal IV: For calendar years 2023 and 2024, inclusive, an average of 12 percent of total electric energy sold in the base year, and in calendar year 2025, 15 percent of total electric energy sold in the base year." As explained by Staff, however, "[t]he addition of [Beech Ridge and Grand Ridge] to APCo's other wind power PPAs will allow the Company to meet all of its RPS Goals."[29] Similarly, Consumer Counsel [20] See, e.g., id. at 8 and Sched. 1; Staff Report at 9-10. This estimate is for the AEP System East Zone. The Company also estimates the Virginia jurisdictional net cost increase for the first several years of the PPA. See, e.g., Application, Direct Testimony of Scott C. Weaver at Sched. 2.

[21] See, e.g., Application, Direct Testimony of Scott C. Weaver at Sched. 2.

[22] See, e.g., id. APCo also has not established that its estimated REC cost is reasonable, nor whether it reflects the purchase of lower cost Tier II RECs. See, e.g., Staff Report at 9-10.

[23] We also reject APCo's suggestion that these PPAs are "very comparable" to the prior two wind contracts approved by the Commission in Case No. PUE-2008-00003. See Application, Direct Testimony of Scott C. Weaver at 8. Simply put, the Company has not shown that the costs of the Beech Ridge and Grand Ridge PPAs are of the same magnitude as the costs of the wind PPAs in the prior case.

[24] See, e.g., Case Nos. PUE-2009-00039, PUE-2009-00031, PUE-2009-00038, PUE-2008-00045, PUE-2008-00046, PUE-2008-00067, PUE-2007-00069, PUE-2007-00067, and PUE-2006-00100.

[27] Our analysis of "reasonable" and "prudent" under § 56-585.2 F of the Code may also be informed by other ratemaking statutes designed to protect the public, including §§ 56-235 and 56-249.6 of the Code. Among other things, § 56-235 of the Code requires rates to be just and reasonable, and § 56-249.6 of the Code prohibits utilities from incurring unreasonable fuel costs. Moreover, the potential rate impact and the context thereof may also be part of the analysis.

[28] See, e.g., Application, Direct Testimony of Scott C. Weaver at Sched. 3.

[29] Staff Report at 9.

states that "[i]f the Commission approves the proposed Beech Ridge and Grand Ridge contracts, the Company will have enough renewable generation to meet all Virginia RPS goals, which extend through 2025."[30] Indeed, the Company further acknowledges that, based on its projections, the addition of these PPAs will not only exceed the voluntary RPS Goals, but that, even by 2025, APCo will have more renewable energy credits than needed to meet such goals.[31] We find that entering into the Beech Ridge and Grand Ridge PPAs – under these circumstances and at this time – does not satisfy the statutory requirement to fulfill the remaining deficit in a prudent manner.[32]

Moreover, APCo's evaluation herein incorrectly assumes that it must fulfill the voluntary RPS Goals under the statute. Rather, as noted above, § 56-585.2 of the Code neither requires – nor permits – the Company to fulfill its remaining RPS deficit at any cost and in any manner. The determination of what is reasonable and prudent under the statute must be made on a case-by-case basis with the filing of each such request and will be dependent upon the specific circumstances attendant thereto. For example, even if a utility shows that the cost of its proposed renewable resource is low when compared to other high cost renewable resources, the statute does not require the Commission to find that such cost is reasonable or that it is prudent for a utility to take actions incurring such cost.[33] In this case, we find that it was not prudent for APCo to enter into the Beech Ridge and Grand Ridge PPAs and to incur the cost associated therewith for providing service to its customers.

Finally, we do not, by this Order, indicate that wind power cannot be part of a portfolio of energy sources to serve customers. Indeed, as already noted, the Commission has approved other wind contracts for APCo. Here, however, the new proposals would exacerbate an already difficult rate environment for customers without significant offsetting benefits and, furthermore, are not needed at this time to meet voluntary RPS goals under the statute. The General Assembly has enacted laws that make it clear that rate impacts are, and must remain, a key determinant in evaluating proposed projects, whether of renewable or non-renewable resources.

Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Company's March 15, 2010 Motion to Supplement the Record is granted.

(2) The Company's Application is denied.

[30] Consumer Counsel's November 20, 2009 Comments at 4 (footnote omitted).

[31] See, e.g., Application, Direct Testimony of Scott C. Weaver at Sched. 3.

[32] In addition, any estimated cost advantage of these PPAs, when compared against projected costs of renewable resources well into the future, are unreasonably speculative and, nonetheless, do not warrant the increased expenditures requested herein at this time.

[33] The Company also has not established that lower cost alternatives do not reasonably exist for its asserted purposes herein. For example, as explained by Staff: (1) "[t]he Company did not explore the purchase of low cost Tier II RECs as an option for meeting the RPS Goals;" and (2) "the Company did not perform any analyses of constructing, owning, and operating 201 MW of wind and/or biomass generation facilities." Staff Report at 14. Staff states that there are two tiers of RECs (Tier I and Tier II), and that Tier II RECs typically cost less than Tier I RECs. Id. at 10-12.

DECEMBER 6, 2010

APPLICATION OF
KENTUCKY UTILITIES COMPANY d/b/a OLD DOMINION POWER COMPANY

For authority to engage in an affiliate transaction under Chapter 4 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia

ORDER AMENDING AUTHORITY GRANTED

By Order dated December 21, 2009, the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") granted Kentucky Utilities Company d/b/a/ Old Dominion Power Company ("KU/ODP" or "Applicant") authority to engage in an affiliate transaction under Chapter 4 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code") and to continue its participation in a system money pool ("Money Pool") with affiliates initially established in Case No. PUE-2007-00082 for short-term borrowing and investment of excess funds. The authority was granted through December 31, 2011.

On November 12, 2010, KU/ODP filed a request to amend the authority granted in the December 21, 2009 Order. In its request, KU/ODP states that on June 15, 2010, PPL Corporation ("PPL"), E.ON AG, E.ON US Investments Corp., E.ON U.S., LLC ("E.ON U.S."), and KU/ODP filed a joint petition for approval of transfer of ownership and control of KU/ODP by E.ON US Investments to PPL in Case No. PUE-2010-00060. On October 19, 2010, the Commission entered its Final Order approving the requested change of ownership and control. Ordering Paragraph (16) of the Final Order in Case No. PUE-2010-00060 requires KU/ODP to "file an application for Commission approval of a new affiliate agreement within sixty (60) days of such name change taking effect."[1]

According to the Applicant, the legal name of two of the Money Pool participants has been changed. E.ON U.S. was changed to LG&E and KU Energy LLC on November 1, 2010, and E.ON U.S. Services Inc. was changed to LG&E and KU Services Company on September 30, 2010. The Applicant further states that the changes were in name only and that none of the Money Pool participants desire to change the current approved agreement except for the substitution of corporate names of E.ON U.S. LLC with LG&E and KU Energy LLC and the substitution of E.ON U.S. Services Inc., with LG&E and KU Services Company. According to KU/ODP, all other terms and conditions, operation, and reporting requirements of the Money Pool would be unchanged.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the application is of the opinion and finds that approval of the application will not be detrimental to the public interest and it therefore should be approved.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) KU/ODP is hereby authorized to amend its Money Pool by substitution of corporate name of LG&E and KU Energy LLC for E.ON U.S. LLC and the substitution of LG&E and KU Services Company for E.ON U.S. Services Inc., under the terms and conditions and for the purposes set forth in the application.

(2) All other terms and conditions of our December 21, 2009 Order shall remain in full force and effect.

(3) Approval of the application shall have no implications for ratemaking purposes.

(4) The authority granted herein shall not preclude the Commission from applying the provisions of § 56-78 and § 56-80 of the Code of Virginia hereafter.

(5) The Commission reserves the right to examine the books and records of any affiliate, whether or not such affiliate is regulated by this Commission, in connection with the authority granted herein, pursuant to § 56-79 of the Code of Virginia.

(6) This matter shall be continued subject to the continuing review, audit, and appropriate directive of the Commission.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00105
APRIL 13, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In the matter of amending regulations governing net energy metering

ORDER ADOPTING REGULATIONS

The Regulations Governing Net Energy Metering, 20 VAC 5-315-10 et seq. ("Net Energy Metering Rules"), adopted by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") pursuant to § 56-594 of the Virginia Electric Utility Regulation Act ("Regulation Act"), and Chapter 23 (§ 56-576 et seq.) of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), establish the requirements for participation by an eligible customer-generator in net energy metering in the Commonwealth. The Net Energy Metering Rules include conditions for interconnection and metering, billing, and contract requirements between net metering customers, electric distribution companies, and energy service providers.

On November 16, 2009, the Commission entered an Order Establishing Proceeding to amend the Net Energy Metering Rules ("Order") to reflect statutory changes enacted by Chapter 804 of the 2009 Acts of Assembly ("Chapter 804"), which amended § 56-594 of the Code to: (1) authorize utilities to elect a capacity limit for participation by nonresidential customers in the net energy metering program that exceeds the existing limit of 500 kW; (2) permit customers who are served on time-of-use tariffs that have electricity supply demand charges contained within the electricity supply portion of the time-of-use tariff to participate as customer-generators; and (3) provide that a participating customer-generator owns any renewable energy certificate ("REC" or "certificate") associated with its generation of electricity, and provides for a one-time option to sell the certificates to its supplier at a rate established by the Commission, with the utility's costs of acquiring the certificates recoverable under the Renewable Energy Portfolio Standard rate adjustment clause or through the supplier's fuel adjustment clause.

The Commission appended to its Order proposed amendments revising the Net Energy Metering Rules ("Proposed Rules"), which were prepared by the Commission Staff to reflect the permitted increase in the nonresidential capacity, to permit certain time-of-use customers to participate as customer-generators, and to establish a mechanism for eligible customer-generators to sell RECs to their electric distribution company at rates established by the Commission.

Notice of the proceeding was published in the Virginia Register of Regulations on December 7, 2009 and in newspapers of general circulation throughout the Commonwealth.[1] Interested persons were directed to file any comments and requests for hearing on the Proposed Rules on or before December 21, 2009.

The Virginia, Maryland & Delaware Association of Electric Cooperatives[2], Virginia Electric and Power Company ("Virginia Power"), and the Interstate Renewable Energy Council ("IREC") filed timely comments. The Commission also received public comments from several individuals including some who participate in net metering. No requests for hearing on the Proposed Rules were filed.

[1] See Memoranda from Laura S. Martin and Affidavits of Publication, filed in this docket on December 10, 2009.

[2] The Association submitted its comments along with and on behalf of its Virginia members: A&N Electric Cooperative, BARC Electric Cooperative, Central Virginia Electric Cooperative, Community Electric Cooperative, Craig-Botetourt Electric Cooperative, Mecklenburg Electric Cooperative, Northern Neck Electric Cooperative, Northern Virginia Electric Cooperative, Prince George Electric Cooperative, Rappahannock Electric Cooperative, Shenandoah Valley Electric Cooperative, and Southside Electric Cooperative (collectively, the "Cooperatives").

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the record and applicable statutes, is of the opinion and finds that the regulations attached hereto as Appendix A should be adopted as final rules. To the extent parties have requested changes to the Proposed Rules that go beyond the scope of such rules, we will not expand the scope of this proceeding to consider issues beyond those required to implement the amendments to § 56-594 of the Regulation Act.

The Proposed Rules define "Demand charge-based time-of-use tariff" as "a retail tariff for electric supply service that has two or more time-of-use tiers for energy-based charges and an electricity supply demand (kilowatt) charge" and define "Energy service provider" as the entity providing electricity supply to a net metering customer. Virginia Power proposes that each definition be changed to refer to electricity supply service, rather than electricity supply. We agree, and the Proposed Rules will be amended accordingly. Virginia Power also requests that the term "generation demand charge" be added to the definition of Demand charge-based time-of-use tariff. We disagree that such a change is necessary.

As required by Chapter 804, the Proposed Rules revised the definition of Renewable fuel generator to provide that an electric distribution company may change the otherwise-applicable alternating current capacity limit for certain customers by tariff. Virginia Power requests that the Proposed Rules be changed to clarify that the electric distribution company may only elect a higher capacity limit for nonresidential customers. Although we believe that the language in the Proposed Rules is consistent with the statutory language, the clarification requested by Virginia Power is reasonable, and we will amend the Proposed Rules accordingly.

The Cooperatives argue that the Commission has not provided adequate guidance regarding the mechanism to be used in setting higher capacity limits for nonresidential customers, and express concern that setting a fixed higher capacity limit (rather than, for example, a variable limit based on the size of the nonresidential customer's load) could lead to abuse of the net metering program through installation of generation in excess of that required to offset the customer's load. The Commission does not believe that such a change in the Proposed Rules, which the Cooperatives concede are consistent with the statute, is necessary at this time. The Commission will review such matters as they arise on a case-by-case basis.

The Proposed Rules define "Renewable Energy Certificate (REC)" as "the renewable energy attributes associated with the production of one megawatt-hour (MWh) of electrical energy generated by a renewable fuel generator." The Cooperatives suggest that this definition does not provide a sufficient description for purposes of recognizing and establishing its value, and argue that a REC only has value if it is a tradable, marketable commodity. We find, however, that the scope of the proposed definition is reasonable for purposes of these rules. IREC proposes that RECs be defined in terms of kWh produced, rather than MWh, given that most customers will produce only a fraction of a MWh each year. The extent of the Commission's regulations, however, are set by the statute, which does not provide for fractional RECs. Furthermore, the change proposed by IREC would not eliminate the need to account for fractional RECs, as there would still remain fractions of such kWh-based RECs.

IREC requests that the Commission eliminate the Conditions of Interconnection set forth in 20 VAC 5-315-40, and instead incorporate the distributed generation interconnection standards established in Case No. PUE-2008-00004. We note that the distributed generation and net metering interconnection rules are based on different statutory standards and have evolved largely independently. Thus, the Commission believes the existing regulatory regime remains appropriate. We will not adopt IREC's recommendations.

The Proposed Rules provide that a net metering customer owns any RECs associated with its renewable fuel generator and may sell those RECs to any willing buyer at any time. The Proposed Rules further provide that the net metering customer has a one-time option at the time of signing a power purchase agreement with its supplier to require the purchase, by the supplier, of all generated RECs over the duration of the power purchase agreement. The Cooperatives have requested clarification regarding whether a REC represents the total energy produced or the net power produced. We will revise the Proposed Rules to clarify that a REC represents the total output of the customer's renewable fuel generator.

Virginia Power proposes that the Rules be clarified to provide that the supplier is obligated to purchase only "generated RECs associated with excess generation purchased by the company in accordance with a power purchase agreement." Chapter 804, however, is quite explicit on this point, providing that "the customer-generator shall have a one-time option to sell the renewable energy certificates associated with such electrical generating facility to its supplier and be compensated at an amount that is established by the Commission to reflect the value of such renewable energy certificates." The statute and the Proposed Rules provide that the supplier may be required to purchase all RECs associated with the customer's generating facility, so we decline to make the change requested by Virginia Power.

The Proposed Rules require that the rate of the payment by the supplier for the customer's RECs shall be the daily unweighted average of the "CR" component of Virginia Power's Rider G tariff in effect over the period for which the rate of payment for the excess generation is determined. Virginia Power states that it is concerned that future changes to its tariff may require changes to the rules, and suggests that the Proposed Rules be revised to provide more generally that the applicable rate "shall be the daily unweighted average of the applicable REC commodity price component of that supplier's retail renewable energy tariff as approved by the Commission, if the utility has such a tariff." The Proposed Rules, which apply the CR component of the Virginia Power rate in effect at the time of delivery, recognize that the CR rate will change from time to time. The Commission believes that this approach is reasonable, and will not adopt the change to the rules proposed by Virginia Power.

The Cooperatives believe the Proposed Rules go beyond the statutory mandate by providing that a customer may sell its RECs to a willing buyer at any time. The Commission disagrees. The statute provides that the customer owns the RECs associated with its generating facility. As such, the customer is free to sell such RECs to any third party upon mutually agreeable terms. While only the supplier is required to buy such RECs, any third party remains free to do so voluntarily. The Cooperatives also complain that while the statute speaks of the customer's one-time option to sell the RECs to its supplier, the Proposed Rules require the supplier to purchase the RECs. The Proposed Rules are fully consistent with the statute, which provides the customer a right to sell the RECs to the supplier at a Commission-defined price. If the customer has a right to sell, it is clear that the supplier has a corresponding obligation to purchase. The Commission will not revise the Proposed Rules as requested by the Cooperatives.

The Cooperatives complain that the Proposed Rules' requirement that suppliers develop and implement billing and accounting systems to deal with multiple time-of-use tiers may prove costly and discouraging. The Cooperatives further state that the Proposed Rules are ambiguous regarding how credits and charges over time-of-use tiers are to be accounted for. The Commission agrees that time-of-use rates for net metering customers is likely to be complicated, and may require special billing procedures by the supplier for such customers. However, Chapter 804 mandates that the Commission's regulations permit customers that are served on time-of-use tariffs that have electricity supply demand charges contained within the electricity supply portion of the time-of-use tariffs to participate as eligible customer-generators. The Proposed Rules are consistent with this statutory mandate.

Finally, the individual customer-generators who provided comments suggest that the Proposed Rules are complicated and suggest several changes to make the rules easier to understand. The Commission is sympathetic with these concerns, and agrees that the rules, as well as the statute upon which the rules are based, are complex. However, given that the Proposed Rules are consistent with Chapter 804, the Commission will not make further revisions at this time.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Regulations Governing Net Energy Metering are hereby adopted as shown in Appendix A to this Order, effective as of April 28, 2010.

(2) A copy of this Order with Appendix A including the Regulations Governing Net Energy Metering shall be forwarded to the Registrar of Regulations for publication in the Virginia Register of Regulations.

(3) On or before June 2, 2010, all electric utilities in the Commonwealth subject to Chapter 10 (§ 56-232 et seq.) of Title 56 of Code of Virginia shall file with the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation any revised tariff provisions necessary to implement the regulations as adopted herein.

(4) There being nothing further to come before the Commission, this case shall be removed from the docket and the papers filed herein be placed in the file for ended causes.

NOTE: A copy of Attachment A entitled "Regulations Governing Net Metering" is on file and may be examined at the State Corporation Commission, Clerk's Office, Document Control Center, Tyler Building, First Floor, 1300 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00106
DECEMBER 3, 2010

APPLICATION OF
DELMARVA POWER AND LIGHT COMPANY

For approval of electrical facilities pursuant to Va. Code § 56-46.1 and for certification of such facilities under the Utility Facilities Act

FINAL ORDER

On September 24, 2009, Delmarva Power and Light Company ("Delmarva" or "Company"), a wholly owned subsidiary of Pepco Holdings, Inc., filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to construct and operate a 138 kilovolt ("kV") transmission line in Accomack County, Virginia ("Application"). Prepared testimony, exhibits, copies of correspondence, and other materials were attached to the Application.

The Company proposes to install a 138 kV transmission line, in addition to the existing line, and to operate the two lines as a double-circuit 69/138 kV line ("Proposed Line") in order to prevent several projected contingency overloads. Additionally, the Company proposes to replace the existing poles with larger, weathering steel poles that can support both circuits and to place them in the approximate locations of the existing poles. The average height of the new poles above ground level would be approximately 75 feet, varying with the topography of the right-of-way ("ROW"). The Application states a desired in-service date of June 1, 2010. The Company estimates the cost of the project to be $3,500,000.

On November 24, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Hearing that docketed the Application as Case No. PUE-2009-00106; established a procedural schedule; scheduled a public hearing for March 23, 2010; and assigned a Hearing Examiner to conduct all further proceedings in this matter on behalf of the Commission and to file a final report.

Delmarva was required to provide public notice by December 15, 2009, and proof of notice by January 8, 2010. Respondents were instructed to file direct testimony and exhibits by February 2, 2010.[1] The Commission Staff ("Staff") was instructed to review the Application and file a Staff Report summarizing its investigation by February 23, 2010. The Company was allowed to respond to Staff's Report and testimony from any respondents by March 9, 2010. The public was invited to provide written comments by March 16, 2010.

Section 56-46.1 of the Code of Virginia ("Code") requires the Commission to receive and to consider reports from state environmental agencies on the proposed facilities. Accordingly, on January 6, 2010, the Department of Environmental Quality ("DEQ") filed its Coordinated Environmental Review. The DEQ, acting on behalf of the State Water Control Board, filed a letter dated July 29, 2008, advising that the DEQ had reviewed the transmission line project.[2] The DEQ indicated that because the proposed project's impact on State Waters, including wetlands, appeared to be minimal and/or temporary in nature, a Virginia Water Protection permit would not be necessary for the Proposed Line provided that the project, as presented, qualified for a general or regional permit from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers on which DEQ had provided unconditional Clean Water Act § 401 Certification.[3]

On January 19, 2010, Randolph B. Bloxom, John M. Bloxom, IV, and John T. Layton, Jr., Successor Co-Trustees of John M. Bloxom, III, Revocable Trust Dated February 2, 1983, and Christopher M. Carbaugh (collectively, "Respondents") filed a Notice of Participation.

[1] By Ruling of the Chief Hearing Examiner, the deadline for submission of any respondents' testimony and exhibits was extended to February 9, 2010.

[2] Letter from Mark G. Kalnins, Department of Environmental Quality, of July 29, 2008, to Robert J. Jubic, Jr., Delmarva Power and Light Company, included as Attachment 3 in the Application.

[3] Id.

On February 9, 2010, Respondents filed their testimony, which proposed an alternative route for the Proposed Line. On February 23, 2010, the Staff filed its Report indicating that the Company had reasonably demonstrated the need for the Proposed Line and that the Company had minimized any adverse environmental impacts of the Proposed Line. The Company filed its rebuttal testimony on March 9, 2010.

An evidentiary hearing was held on March 23, 2010, before Chief Hearing Examiner Deborah V. Ellenberg ("Chief Hearing Examiner"). Appearing as counsel for the Company were Richard D. Gary, Esquire, and Noelle J. Coates, Esquire. Frederick D. Ochsenhirt, Esquire, and Mary Beth Adams, Esquire, appeared as Staff counsel. Andrew P. Sherrod, Esquire, appeared as counsel for Respondents. The prefiled testimony of the Staff, the DEQ, the Respondents, and the Company was offered for admission, and the Chief Hearing Examiner admitted the documents into the record.

On April 7, 2010, Delmarva filed a Motion to Supplement the Record ("Motion to Supplement the Record") wherein it provided the estimated cost to ratepayers in the Delmarva Transmission Zone if the Commission ordered the Company to relocate the Proposed Line without any charge to the Respondents, and it advised that there were at least two property owners that might be visually impacted if the Respondents' route was approved.

On April 15, 2010, the Respondents filed their Opposition to the Motion to Supplement the Record wherein they asserted that the "evidence" with which Delmarva proposed to supplement the record had not been subject to discovery, cross-examination, and rebuttal. The Respondents also contended that the matters addressed in the Motion to Supplement the Record could have been, and to a large extent were, raised at the hearing. On April 28, 2010, Delmarva filed a letter with the Commission indicating that the Company did not believe any reply to Respondents' response was necessary.

On June 18, 2010, the Chief Hearing Examiner issued her report ("Chief Hearing Examiner's Report") setting forth the procedural history of the case, summarizing the record, analyzing the evidence and issues in this proceeding, and making the following findings:

1. Delmarva's Motion to Supplement the Record should be, and hereby is, denied.[4]

2. The public convenience and necessity require construction of the project;

3. The Company has demonstrated a need for the proposed facilities;

4. The project will enhance the reliability of the Company's service;

5. The project utilizes existing rights-of-way with a slight relocation of the line on Justice Farm subject to [Atlantic Town Center Development Corporation] payment of the difference between the route proposed by the Company and the relocation on Justice Farm urged by Respondents as detailed in Exhibit 18 subject to the modifications discussed above;[5]

6. The DEQ recommendations are necessary to minimize any adverse environmental impact of the proposed project;

7. The Company's proposal will reasonably minimize any adverse impact of the scenic assets, historic districts, and environment of the area in which the project will be located; and

8. The proposed project will have a positive impact on economic development in the area it will serve.[6]

The Chief Hearing Examiner recommended the Commission enter an order adopting her findings, granting Delmarva's application and a certificate to construct and operate the Proposed Line, and dismissing the case from the Commission's docket.

On July 9, 2010, the participants filed comments on the Chief Hearing Examiner's Report.

[4] The Chief Hearing Examiner explained that:

> [t]he evidence with which Delmarva seeks to supplement the record post-hearing was, to some extent, already addressed, and is not necessary for the Commission to decide this application. Cost information is detailed in Exhibit 18, attached hereto, and maps and testimony on adjacent properties is also included in this record. Moreover, Delmarva has not shown good cause why its late-offered evidence could not have been offered at the hearing where Respondents would have had an opportunity to cross-examine and rebut it.

Chief Hearing Examiner's Report at 2.

[5] With respect to the rerouting of the Proposed Line, the Chief Hearing Examiner concluded that:

> [r]espondents' requested relocation of the Proposed Line is in the best interests of the public based on economic development opportunities and public safety concerns. Although the Company proposed to use existing ROW, Respondents have agreed to provide an easement for the re-alignment at no cost to the Company and acknowledge they should pay for the incremental cost of the re-alignment over the proposed route. The Company should relocate the line on Justice Farm, contingent on Respondents or [Atlantic Town Center Development Corporation] paying the incremental increased actual cost of the relocation.

[6] Id. at 29.

On July 21, 2010, the Company filed a Motion to Strike ("Motion to Strike"), requesting that the Commission strike the portion of the Respondents' comments relating to the contribution in aid of construction tax. On August 3, 2010, the Respondents filed their Response to Motion to Strike ("Response to Motion to Strike"), and on August 6, 2010, the Company filed its Reply to Response to Motion to Strike. On October 6, 2010, the Commission issued an Order Remanding for Further Action ("Order Remanding for Further Action") for the purpose of convening a settlement conference to reach an agreement, subject to Commission approval, on certain issues related to the proposed relocation of the transmission line. The Order Remanding for Further Action addressed and made findings on the need for the transmission line; the impact on scenic assets, historic districts, and the environment that the Proposed Line will have; the effect that the Proposed Line will have on economic development and service reliability; and the reasonableness of including the Proposed Line in the House Bill 1319 Pilot Project.

The Chief Hearing Examiner convened a settlement conference on October 25, 2010. Although the alternate route and related costs were discussed, the parties instead agreed to recommend that the Commission approve the Proposed Line and that it be located on the existing ROW subject to several express provisions.

The Company and the Respondents signed a stipulation ("Stipulation") representing their agreement, attached hereto as Attachment A. In the Stipulation, the parties agreed that the Proposed Line should be approved on the route originally proposed in the Application but that reasonable and appropriate uses of the ROW relating to the construction or operation of the development should be allowed, subject to restrictions set forth in the Stipulation.

On November 8, 2010, the Chief Hearing Examiner submitted her Report on Remand, which summarized the agreement of the parties and attached the Stipulation signed by the Company and the Respondents. Additionally, in the Report on Remand, the Chief Hearing Examiner recommended that the Commission enter an order: (1) adopting the Stipulation of the Company and the Respondents; (2) granting the application to construct and operate a double-circuit 69 kV/138 kV transmission line to originate at the Oak Hall Substation and terminate at the Wattsville Substation, both in Accomack County; (3) granting pursuant to §§ 56-46.1, 56-265.2 and related provisions of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia, a certificate of public convenience and necessity to Delmarva authorizing construction and operation of the Proposed Line along the existing ROW with the express provision that, subject to Safety Standards,[7] reasonable and appropriate ROW uses shall be allowed as described in the parties' Stipulation; and (4) dismissing this case from the Commission's docket of active cases.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the Chief Hearing Examiner's Report and Report on Remand, the record, pleadings, and applicable law, is of the opinion and finds that the public convenience and necessity require construction of the Proposed Line as provided for and subject to the requirements set forth in this Final Order.[8]

Code of Virginia

The statutory scheme governing the Company's Application is found in several chapters of Title 56 of the Code. Section 56-265.2 A of the Code provides that "[i]t shall be unlawful for any public utility to construct . . . facilities for use in public utility service . . . without first having obtained a certificate from the Commission that the public convenience and necessity require the exercise of such right or privilege."

The Code requires the Commission to consider existing ROW easements when siting transmission lines. Specifically, § 56-46.1 C of the Code provides that "[i]n any hearing the public service company shall provide adequate evidence that existing rights-of-way cannot adequately serve the needs of the company." In addition, § 56-259 C of the Code provides that "[p]rior to acquiring any easement of right-of-way, public service corporations will consider the feasibility of locating such facilities on, over, or under existing easements of rights-of-way."

Existing Rights-of-Way

The Stipulation provides that the Proposed Line will cross the Justice Farm in the same location as does the existing line. Because the path of the Proposed Line will be in the same location as the existing line, we conclude that the project uses the existing ROW to the maximum extent practicable.

Route

The Stipulation recommends that the Commission approve the Proposed Line in the same location as the existing line. We accept this recommendation. Additionally, we adopt the Stipulation dated November 5, 2010, between Delmarva and the Respondents and incorporate its terms herein.

Finally, in addition to the conditions set forth above, we will also condition approval of the project and the certificate of public convenience and necessity upon the completion of the project within a specified period. Although the Company estimates that the project will take four months of actual construction time to complete, it states that construction must coincide with periods of low demand to prevent interruption in service. Accordingly, we find that, as a condition of the certificate, the line must be in service within twenty-four (24) months of the date of this Final Order. The Company may petition the Commission for an extension of this condition for good cause shown.

In conclusion, the Commission finds that the public convenience and necessity require Delmarva Power and Light Company to construct the Proposed Line in Accomack County.

---

[7] These Safety Standards refer to "the then-current safety standards established by the National Electrical Safety Code, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, PJM Interconnection and the North American Electric Reliability Corporation." Chief Hearing Examiner's Report on Remand at 2.

[8] As noted previously, our Order Remanding for Further Action addressed and made findings on numerous issues. The only outstanding issues to be discussed and decided in this Final Order are the use of existing ROW and the routing of the Proposed Line.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Company is authorized to construct and operate the proposed approximately four-mile, double-circuit 69/138 kV Oak Hall-Wattsville transmission line on the route proposed in the Company's Application.

(2) Pursuant to §§ 56-46.1, 56-265.2, and related provisions of Title 56 of the Code, the Company's Application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to construct the Proposed Line is granted, as provided for herein, and subject to the requirements set forth in this Final Order.

(3) Pursuant to the Utility Facilities Act, Chapter 10.1 (§§ 56-265.1 et seq.) of Title 56 of the Code, the Company is issued the following certificate of public convenience and necessity:

> Certificate No. ET-9 g, which authorizes Delmarva Power and Light Company under the Utility Facilities Act to operate presently certificated transmission lines and facilities in Accomack County, all as shown on the detailed map attached to the certificate, and to construct and operate facilities as authorized in Case No. PUE-2009-00106; [and which] cancels Certificate No. ET-9 f, issued to Delmarva Power and Light Company on October 19, 2007, in Case No. PUE-2007-00063.

(4) Within thirty (30) days from the date of this Final Order, the Company shall file with the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation three copies of an appropriate map that shows the routing of the transmission line approved herein.

(5) The transmission line approved herein must be constructed and operational within twenty-four (24) months from the date of entry of this Final Order provided, however, the Company is granted leave to apply for an extension for good cause shown.

(6) The Stipulation, attached hereto as Attachment A, is adopted and its terms are incorporated herein.

(7) As there is nothing further to come before the Commission, this matter is dismissed and the papers herein placed in the file for ended causes.

NOTE: A copy of Attachment A entitled "Stipulation" is on file and may be examined at the State Corporation Commission, Clerk's Office, Document Control Center, Tyler Building, First Floor, 1300 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00113
APRIL 1, 2010

APPLICATION OF
ANDERSON PROPANE SERVICE, INC.

For authority to provide non-utility gas service pursuant to the Utility Facilities Act, Va. Code §§ 56-265.1 to 56-265.9

ORDER GRANTING AUTHORITY

On October 14, 2009, Anderson Propane Service, Inc. ("Anderson Propane" or "Company"), filed an application ("Application") with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") for authority to operate as a non-utility gas service provider in accordance with the Utility Facilities Act, Chapter 10.1 (§ 56-265.1 et seq.) of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code") and, specifically, § 56-265.4:6 of the Code. Anderson Propane also seeks authority to construct, develop, operate, deliver, and maintain facilities for providing non-utility jurisdictional gas service ("Propane System") to a multi-phased, mixed-use residential and commercial shopping facility known as "The Village at Spotsylvania Courthouse" located in Spotsylvania County, Virginia ("Spotsylvania Project" or "Project").

The Company requests that the Commission approve its Application to provide propane gas service to the initial phase of the Spotsylvania Project and permit the Company to begin operation of the Propane System in accordance with the construction schedule of the developer for the Spotsylvania Project, Spotsylvania Courthouse Village, L.L.C. ("Developer").[1] In its Application, Anderson Propane asserts that Columbia Gas of Virginia, Inc. ("Columbia"), is the natural gas utility that holds the certificate to provide natural gas service in the defined geographic area proposed to be served and that Columbia is not currently offering service to that geographic area. The Company further asserts that it is apparently not economically feasible to extend natural gas utility service to the Spotsylvania Project to meet the Developer's construction schedule; that the provision of non-utility gas service to the Spotsylvania Project is in the public interest; and that the Developer's manager initially approached the Company and requested that it provide propane service to the Spotsylvania Project.[2]

In its Application, the Company advises that the Spotsylvania Project is a mixed-use commercial and residential development of historic significance, presently under construction on approximately 90.4654 acres located in the Courtland Magisterial District of Spotsylvania County, Virginia. The Company asserts that the location is approximately three miles from the closest facilities operated by Columbia.[3] According to the Application, the Company's proposed Propane System for the Spotsylvania Project consists of a single 30,000 gallon underground gas storage tank, 2,013 feet of 6-inch gas

[1] The Developer's manager is W.J. Vakos & Co. Application at 5.

[2] Id.

[3] Columbia is the certificated natural gas provider for the area in which Anderson Propane seeks to provide service and build facilities. Columbia operates under Certificate No. G-47c, which was issued pursuant to the Final Order in Case No. PUE-2004-00045.

line, 720 feet of 3-inch gas line, and 310 feet of 8-inch conduit.[4] The Application states that there are projected to be approximately one hundred gas meters in the fully completed Spotsylvania Project, serving commercial, local government, and residential customers. The Company states that it is uncertain when the Spotsylvania Project will be complete since build-out is directly related to the economy.[5]

The Company advises that the facilities to deliver jurisdictional non-utility gas service to the currently developed portion of the Spotsylvania Project are already complete and were constructed and fully paid for by Anderson Propane prior to September 30, 2009. In its Application, the Company requests authority for the current build-out phase of the Spotsylvania Project as well as authority to continue to expand, develop, construct, and operate its Propane System as the Spotsylvania Project grows.[6]

On November 3, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Comment ("Notice Order") that docketed the matter as Case No. PUE-2009-00113 and established a procedural schedule to review the Company's Application. Among other things, the Notice Order provided interested persons with the opportunity to file comments and request a hearing on the Company's Application; directed the Staff of the Commission ("Staff") to analyze the Application and file a Report summarizing its investigation by January 14, 2010; and allowed Anderson Propane to respond to Staff's Report and any public comments by January 28, 2010.

Columbia, Roanoke Gas Company, and Washington Gas Light Company filed Notices of Participation in this proceeding but did not request a hearing. The Virginia Propane Gas Association ("VPGA") and the Virginia Oil & Gas Association, Inc. ("VOGA"), each filed comments.[7] In addition, Columbia filed comments on December 14, 2009, in lieu of testimony.

Among other things, Columbia asserts in its comments that: (1) Anderson Propane failed to show that Columbia is unable to extend natural gas utility service to the requested area within a reasonable period of time as required by § 56-265.4:6 B of the Code; (2) Anderson Propane's request for authority to provide non-utility gas service to an undefined number of customers is contrary to § 56-265.4:6 B of the Code; (3) Anderson Propane's provision of non-utility gas service in the requested geographic area and to the specified number of customers is contrary to the public interest and is thus contrary to the requirements of § 56-265.4:6 B of the Code; (4) the Developer's ownership of existing and proposed gas pipeline facilities for the purpose of providing non-utility gas service requires approval pursuant to the Utility Facilities Act; (5) the proposed commercial model under which the Developer owns gas pipeline facilities subject to the Utility Facilities Act and leases such facilities to a non-utility gas provider is not permitted under the statutory framework of the Utility Facilities Act; and (6) the Developer's lease of the propane facilities that have been constructed, and those to be constructed, requires Commission approval pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act.

Columbia also asserts that, because it has never been provided the information necessary to analyze the economic feasibility of extending natural gas service to the Project, Anderson Propane cannot establish Columbia's inability to provide service to the Project within a reasonable period of time and its Application should be denied. As an alternative to denying Anderson Propane's Application in its entirety, Columbia suggests that, "[a]t a minimum, the Commission should not authorize Anderson Propane to provide non-utility gas service to any buildings in the [Project] that have not yet commenced construction."[8]

On January 14, 2010, the Staff filed its Report in this matter wherein Staff represents that it has reviewed the agreements between Anderson Propane and the Developer with respect to the Spotsylvania Project and analyzed Anderson Propane's Application pursuant to the statutory considerations of § 56-265.4:6 of the Code. Staff explains that Anderson Propane has agreed to install, repair and maintain the tanks and vaporizers associated with providing service to customers within the Spotsylvania Project and that Anderson Propane will retain ownership of this equipment. The Developer will retain ownership of all other installed equipment, which includes the lines and delivery equipment located in both the leased spaces and common areas of the Project. Staff also notes that, apart from Building Numbers 120, 230 and 240, which have already been substantially constructed, the Developer has no current building construction schedule. In its analysis of public interest considerations, the Staff notes that it was not aware of any issues in the Company's operating history that might warrant some form of performance bond or guarantee related to the Spotsylvania Project.

The Staff ultimately concludes that > since (1) Columbia claims that it has not been provided the information necessary to analyze the economic feasibility of extending natural gas service to the Project; and (2) Anderson Propane cannot provide factual information relative to the remaining construction and Phases of the Project, Staff cannot conclude that Columbia is unable to provide service to the Project within a reasonable amount of time.[9]

However, Staff suggests in the conclusion of its Report that the Commission "may wish to consider" restricting its approval to the buildings of the Project that are already constructed, consistent with Columbia's alternative recommendation referred to above.[10]

[9] Staff Report at 19.

[10] Id. at 26.

On January 28, 2010, Anderson Propane filed its response to the Staff Report and to the comments that were filed in this proceeding. Among other things, Anderson Propane asserts that: (1) it was not required to provide Columbia with estimates of the anticipated gas load in the Project prior to filing its Application; (2) it has established that Columbia is unable to extend natural gas service to the Project within a "reasonable period of time" as required by § 56-265.4:6 B of the Code given the length of time that Columbia has had its certificate (that is, for over forty (40) years) and yet continues not to serve the relevant area; (3) Columbia has already been given sufficient time to ascertain the feasibility of serving the Project; (4) the cost associated with Columbia providing gas service to the Project is overly high as compared to the cost of Anderson Propane providing the service; and (5) the Developer's ownership interest in the facilities used to provide gas services does not make it a "public utility" or require it to obtain authority to provide gas service as a non-utility gas service provider. In sum, Anderson Propane asserts that it has met all of the statutory requirements to provide non-utility gas service to the Project, as set forth in § 56-265.4:6 of the Code.

In addition, Columbia filed a Motion to Supplement the Record ("Motion to Supplement") on February 8, 2010, seeking leave to file Section 8 of its General Terms and Conditions relating to "Installation Subject to Justification." On February 16, 2010, Anderson Propane responded to the Motion to Supplement, asserting that it should be denied because the Commission has the ability to take judicial notice of Columbia's tariffs on file with the Commission, including the portion Columbia seeks to introduce in this proceeding.[11] On February 19, 2010, Columbia filed its reply in support of the Motion to Supplement.

Finally, no party to this case requested an evidentiary hearing.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered this matter, is of the opinion and finds as follows.

Anderson Propane filed its Application pursuant to § 56-265.4:6 B of Code, which provides in pertinent part:

> A person, individually or together with its affiliated interests, other than the natural gas utility that holds the certificate to provide natural gas service in a particular territory or one of its affiliated interests, shall apply to the Commission for and obtain approval prior to providing non-utility gas service to: . . . .
> 3. More than 20 residential or five commercial customers located more than one mile but within three miles or less from any existing underground natural gas line operated by a utility under the jurisdiction of the Commission; ….
>
> Approval of any application to provide non-utility gas service pursuant to this section shall be granted by the Commission only after opportunity for a hearing and after due notice to the natural gas utility that holds the certificate to provide service in the defined geographic area proposed to be served. The Commission shall approve an application to provide non-utility gas service upon finding that: (i) the natural gas utility that holds the certificate to provide natural gas service in the defined geographic area proposed to be served is not currently offering service to the area desired for non-utility gas service and is unable to extend natural gas utility service to the requested area within a reasonable period of time; and (ii) the provision of non-utility gas service in the defined geographic area proposed to be served, and to the estimated number of customers defined in the application, is in the public interest.
> Any order approving an application to provide non-utility gas service pursuant to this section shall define the geographic area to be covered and the maximum number of customers to whom the non-utility gas service provider can provide service before having to apply to the Commission for a revised order. The order approving an application to provide non-utility gas service shall also provide for compliance with all pipeline safety standards; however, nothing in the order shall authorize the Commission to exercise jurisdiction over the rates, charges, or services being offered in conjunction with non-utility gas service by a non-utility gas service provider. Further, except as provided in this section, approval of an application to provide non-utility gas service shall not infringe upon or diminish the rights of the natural gas utility that holds the certificate to provide natural gas service in the specified area.

Furthermore, § 56-265.4:6 A of the Code defines "[n]on-utility gas service" as the "sale and distribution of propane, propane air mixtures, or other natural or manufactured gas to two or more persons by way of underground or aboveground distribution lines by a person other than a natural gas utility or an affiliated interest of a natural gas utility, a master meter operator, or any person operating in compliance with § 56-1.2."[12]

Based on the specific pleadings presented in this case, we grant the Company approval to provide non-utility gas service to more than 20 residential customers or more than 5 commercial customers located in Building Nos. 120, 230, and 240.[13] Beyond these two buildings, Anderson

[11] Staff does not oppose Columbia's Motion. See Response of the Staff of the State Corporation Commission to the Motion of Columbia Gas of Virginia, Inc. to Supplement the Record filed February 17, 2010.

[12] Master meter system, defined in 49 CFR § 191.3, which has been adopted in § 56-257.2 of the Code for purposes of enforcing pipeline safety regulations, means a pipeline system for distributing gas within, but not limited to, a definable area, such as a mobile home park, housing project or apartment complex, where the operator purchases metered gas from an outside source for resale through a gas distribution pipeline system.

[13] We do not herein address whether the Developer must obtain approval under the Utility Facilities Act. The Developer is neither an applicant nor a defendant in this case. Rather, the Application was filed by the Company, and we have ruled thereon. The rights and obligations of the Developer, if questioned, must be determined in one or more separate, appropriate proceedings.

Propane is unable to identify the approximate number of customers who will eventually need to be served in the Project or to estimate when they will need to be served. Nor can Anderson Propane define the approximate geographic area of the Project that will eventually be completed and served.[14]

In addition, as referenced in § 56-265.4:6 of the Code, the Company is required to seek a revised order when it desires approval for an additional geographic area and customers. At that time, the Company will need to establish, among other things, that it has provided appropriate notice to Columbia in those circumstances and that Columbia is unable to extend service to such geographic area within a reasonable period of time.

Finally, we address Columbia's Motion to Supplement. We agree with Anderson Propane's assertion that the Commission can take judicial notice of Columbia's tariffs on file with Commission, including the portion Columbia seeks to introduce in this proceeding. Therefore, we find no need to supplement the record in this proceeding, and we will deny Columbia's Motion to Supplement as unnecessary.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Company's Application to provide non-utility gas service is approved for the provision of non-utility gas service to more than 20 residential customers or more than 5 commercial customers located in Building Nos. 120, 230, and 240.

(2) To the extent that the Company requests authority to provide non-utility gas service to customers other than those in Building Nos. 120, 230, and 240, the Company's request is denied.

(3) The Company shall comply with all pipeline safety standards pursuant to § 56-257.2 B of the Code and the Commission's Order Adopting Standard Regulations and Procedures Pertaining to Gas Pipeline Safety in Virginia, Case No. PUE-1989-00052, 1990 S.C.C. Ann. Rept. 312, Final Order (July 6, 1989).

(4) Columbia's Motion to Supplement is denied.

(5) This case is dismissed.

[14] Staff indicates that Building Nos. 120, 230 and 240 are either complete or near completion. Staff Report at 8-9. Building No. 230 currently will not have gas service; Building No. 240 is anticipated to have five to seven meters for gas service; and Building No. 120 is expected to have two gas meters serving two divisions of the Spotsylvania County government. Staff Report, Attachments MGG-1 and MGG-3. Furthermore, it is undisputed that the Spotsylvania Project is located more than one mile but within three miles or less from any underground gas line operated by Columbia.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00116
APRIL 21, 2010

APPLICATION ON
SOUTHWESTERN VIRGINIA GAS COMPANY

For an Annual Informational Filing for the Test Period Ending June 30, 2009

ORDER ACCEPTING STAFF RECOMMENDATIONS AND DISMISSING PROCEEDING

On October 21, 2009, Southwestern Virginia Gas Company ("Southwestern" or the "Company") filed its Annual Informational Filing ("AIF") for the twelve months ending June 30, 2009, with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), together with a Request for Waiver ("Request") of certain information required by the Commission's Rules Governing Utility Rate Applications and Annual Informational Filings ("Rate Case Rules"). In its Request, Southwestern, by counsel, sought a waiver pursuant to Rate Case Rule 20 VAC 5-201-10 E for reporting information for Southwestern Virginia Energy Industries Ltd. (the "Parent") and consolidated information of the Parent and the Company as required in Rate Case Rule Schedules 1, 2, 6, and 7, as well as a waiver of the Rate Case Rules applicable to AIFs that require the Company to prepare and submit a jurisdictional cost of service study as part of Schedule 40 of these Rules.

On November 20, 2009, the Commission granted Southwestern's Request, but advised that the waivers granted therein were limited to the unique circumstances identified for this AIF, and that the November 20, 2009 Order Granting Waiver should not be cited in support of other waiver requests by the Company or other public utilities subject to the Commission's jurisdiction.

On March 23, 2010, the Commission's Staff filed its Report in the captioned matter. That Report consisted of financial and accounting analyses. In Exhibit 3 of the financial analysis portion of its Report, the Staff noted that the Company's capital structure consisted of 29.073% of Long-Term Debt, 0.828% of Preferred Stock, 69.816% of Common Equity, and 0.283% of Investment Tax Credits. Staff noted that Southwestern's authorized range of return on equity of 9.30% - 10.30% was established in Case No. PUE-2006-00103, and that the Company's weighted average cost of capital range was between 7.491% and 8.191%. Staff reported that Southwestern's ratemaking capital structure remained relatively unchanged during the AIF test period.

In its accounting analysis, Staff explained that because the Company's AIF reported that Southwestern had no regulatory assets, Staff did not conduct an earnings test analysis. Staff excluded one adjustment to accumulated depreciation proposed by Southwestern, made two corrections to Southwestern's per books rate base, and updated the interest rate Southwestern used to calculate interest on customer deposits. With regard to the Company's accumulated depreciation, Southwestern made an adjustment of $11,339, which had the effect of adjusting accumulated depreciation for the effect of a pro forma adjustment to depreciation expense. Staff cautioned that it was inappropriate to adjust accumulated depreciation for the pro forma effect of depreciation expense while all other rate base items were based on end of period balances and did not make that adjustment.

With regard to Southwestern's rate base, Staff determined that the Company's utility plant in service was understated by $1,349 because of a construction work in progress misclassification. Staff corrected the Company's adjustment for Materials and Supplies to reflect a thirteen month average balance rather than a twelve month balance used by the Company.

With regard to interest on customer deposits, the Company calculated the interest on customer deposits using the 2009 Commission approved interest rate of 1.5%. Staff calculated its adjustment for interest on customer deposits using the 2010 Commission approved interest rate of 0.4%.

Staff concluded that, after all adjustments, Southwestern's return on common equity was 9.90%, which was within the Company's authorized range of return on common equity of 9.30% to 10.3%. Staff recommended that no action be taken on the Company's rates at this time.

On March 31, 2010, Southwestern filed a letter with the Clerk of the Commission advising that it did not wish to comment on the Staff Report and had no objection thereto.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the Company's AIF, the Staff's March 23, 2010 Report, the Company's March 31, 2010 letter, and the applicable statutes, is of the opinion and finds that the accounting adjustments, capital structure, and recommendations set out in the Staff Report should be adopted as supported by the record; that no further action should be taken on the Company's rates at this time; and that this case should be dismissed from the Commission's docket of active proceedings.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) In accordance with the findings made herein, the accounting adjustments, capital structure, and recommendations set forth in the Staff's March 23, 2010 Report are hereby accepted.

(2) No action shall be taken on the Company's rates at this time.

(3) There being nothing further to be done herein, this case shall be dismissed from the Commission's docket of active proceedings, and the papers filed herein shall be placed in the Commission's file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00118
APRIL 26, 2010

APPLICATION OF ROANOKE GAS COMPANY

For an Annual Informational Filing for the Year Ended June 30, 2009

ORDER ADOPTING STAFF'S RECOMMENDATIONS AND DISMISSING PROCEEDING

On October 27, 2009, Roanoke Gas Company ("Roanoke" or the "Company") filed its Annual Informational Filing ("AIF") with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission"). The AIF contained the Company's financial and operating information for the twelve months ended June 30, 2009.

On March 18, 2010, the Staff filed its Report on Roanoke's AIF. That Report included both financial and accounting analyses. In its discussion of the Company's capital structure, Staff noted that Roanoke's capital structure as of June 30, 2009, remained relatively unchanged in comparison with the ratemaking capital structure as of June 30, 2008. Staff reported that within that time period, Roanoke's short-term debt balances fluctuated as the Company utilized short-term indebtedness to discharge not only its general obligations, but also to fund construction activities more appropriately funded with long-term debt. Staff related that on October 31, 2008, Roanoke issued a new seven-year, variable-interest $5,000,000 note to replace a $5,000,000 note that matured in July 2008. The new note was issued through the Branch Banking and Trust Company ("BB&T") with an interest rate based on the 30-day London InterBank Offered Rate plus 125 basis points. On November 3, 2008, Roanoke executed an interest rate swap transaction with BB&T, fixing the rate on the new note at 5.79% for the full seven-year term of the note.

The Company's capital structure as of June 30, 2009, shown in Exhibit 3 to the Staff Report, included 6.876% of Short-Term Debt, 34.762% of Long-Term Debt, 58.270% of Common Equity, and 0.092% in Investment Tax Credits. The Staff advised that the authorized range for ratemaking purposes for Roanoke's return on equity of 9.60%-10.60%, with a midpoint of 10.10%, was established in the Company's last general rate case, Case No. PUE-2002-00373.[1]

In its accounting analysis, Staff reported that it made a number of revisions to the Company's accounting adjustments. Staff updated all rate base items to reflect balances as of November 30, 2009, except for Deferred Gas, Materials and Supplies, and Supplier Refunds, which reflect the average monthly balance for the thirteen months ended November 30, 2009. The Company did not update all rate base items in its original filing. Staff also updated revenue to account for any changes that occurred through November 30, 2009.

Staff and the Company differed on their calculation of their adjustments for customer growth based on normal weather, payroll and payroll taxes, medical insurance, pension and other post-employment benefits ("OPEBs"), liability insurance, intercompany allocations, audit fees, property taxes, customer deposits, and rate base updates. Staff's accounting adjustments for customer growth employed the net customer additions as of the five months ending November 30, 2009, and a three-year weather normalized average customer usage, while the Company's adjustment calculated actual net customer additions from July 1, 2008, through December 31, 2008. In addition, Staff used actual customer growth data in its adjustment whereas Roanoke used estimated volumes.

Staff's adjustment for payroll differs from the Company's adjustment because the Company experienced a retirement in November 2009 of an employee who was not replaced and because another employee transferred from Roanoke to RGC Resources in September 2009. Staff's payroll adjustment includes all pay and merit increases for full and part-time employees as of December 31, 2009. Staff's operating and maintenance ("O&M") expense percentage of 74.27 is slightly lower than the Company's O&M expense percentage because of the use of the updated payroll distribution for the twelve months ended November 30, 2009. Due to the differences between the Company's and Staff's adjustments to payroll expense, Staff's adjustment to payroll taxes is $3,457 less than that proposed by Roanoke.

Staff based its adjustment for medical insurance on actual group rates and staffing levels as of January 1, 2010, while the Company based its adjustment on projections. The Company used projected figures when calculating its pension and OPEB expense. Staff's adjustments for Roanoke's pension and OPEBs used the most recent actuary report and annualized actual pro forma 401-K contributions.

The Company estimated a flat 4.2% increase across the board to calculate its pro forma insurance expense, while Staff incorporated the effect of new premiums, effective October 1, 2009, in its adjustments.

Staff calculated its general and administrative expenses and fringe benefit expense adjustments based on actual charges from RGC Resources to Roanoke using the most recent six months to annualize operating data ending December 31, 2009. The Company's adjustment for these expenses relied upon projections intended to represent future expenses as affected by internal budgets or inflationary increases.

Staff's adjustment for audit fees differed from Roanoke's because the Company inadvertently used an incorrect test year expense amount that had the effect of understating the Company's going-level expense. In addition, Roanoke's adjustment for audit fees was based on estimates, whereas the Staff adjustment used actual fees reflecting completed audit services that had been accepted by Roanoke.

Staff's property taxes adjustment was based on updated plant as of November 30, 2009, whereas Roanoke calculated its adjustment by applying an effective tax rate on property as of December 31, 2007.

The Company's adjustment to interest on customer deposits was based on the Commission-approved interest rate of 1.5% for calendar year 2009. Staff used the Commission's approved calendar year 2010 interest rate of 0.4% for interest on customer deposits.

Staff's accounting analysis indicated that Roanoke earned a fully adjusted test year return on common equity of 10.71%, which is above the Company's Commission-authorized return on equity range of 9.60% to 10.60%. While Staff did not propose that any action be taken with regard to Roanoke's base rates at this time, it did recommend that Roanoke's fully adjusted annual operating income be carefully monitored prospectively so that a determination could be made whether further action concerning the Company's base rates should be taken.

The Staff Report noted that the Company had two regulatory assets on its books, both of which relate to the change in measurement dates associated with Roanoke's pension and OPEBs as a result of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards 158. After making limited regulatory adjustments, Staff's earnings test indicates a return on equity of 9.082%, a return below the mid-point (10%) of the authorized return on equity range established by the Commission's Final Order in Case No. PUE-2007-00086 for future earnings test.[2] Staff therefore concluded that no acceleration of the amortization of Roanoke's regulatory assets was necessary.

On March 31, 2010, Roanoke filed a letter with the Clerk of the Commission advising that the Company did not plan to file any response to the Staff Report or take any further action on the Report.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of Roanoke's AIF, the Staff's March 18, 2010 Report, Roanoke's March 31, 2010 letter, and the applicable statutes, is of the opinion and finds that Staff's accounting adjustments, capital structure, and other recommendations are supported by the record and should be adopted; that no acceleration of the amortization of Roanoke's regulatory assets is necessary in this AIF; and that this case should be dismissed.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) In accordance with the findings made herein, Staff's accounting adjustments, capital structure, and recommendations set out in its March 18, 2010 Staff Report are hereby adopted.

(2) While no action will be taken with regard to Roanoke's base rates at this time, the Company's fully adjusted cost of service results shall be carefully monitored prospectively to determine whether further action should be taken with respect to the Company's rates.

(3) In accordance with the findings and discussion set out above, no acceleration of the amortization of Roanoke's regulatory assets is necessary for purposes of this AIF for the test period ending June 30, 2009.

(4) There being nothing further to be done herein, the case shall be dismissed from the Commission's docket of active proceedings, and the papers filed herein shall be passed to the Commission's file for ended causes.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00119
JANUARY 28, 2010

APPLICATION OF
TFS ENERGY SOLUTIONS, LLC

For a license to conduct business as an electric and natural gas aggregator

ORDER GRANTING LICENSE

On October 27, 2009, TFS Energy Solutions, LLC ("TFS Energy" or "Company") filed an application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") for a license to provide electric and natural gas aggregation service pursuant to the Commission's Rules Governing Retail Access to Competitive Energy Services, 20 VAC 5-312-10 et seq. ("Retail Access Rules").[1] The Company seeks authority to serve commercial and industrial customers throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia. The Company attested that it would abide by all applicable regulations of the Commission as required by 20 VAC 5-312-40 B.

On December 2, 2009, the Commission issued an Order for Notice and Comment ("Order") in this proceeding in which it, among other things: (1) required that notice of the application be served upon appropriate persons; (2) permitted interested persons to file comments on the Company's application; and (3) required the Commission Staff to analyze the reasonableness of TFS Energy's application and present its findings in a Staff Report. On December 16, 2009, the Company filed the proof of notice required by the Commission's Order. No comments were received on TFS Energy's application.

The Staff filed its Report on December 30, 2009, concerning TFS Energy's fitness to conduct business as an electric and natural gas aggregator. In its Report, the Staff summarized TFS Energy's proposal and evaluated its financial condition and technical fitness. Based on its review of the application, Staff recommended that TFS Energy be granted a license to conduct business as an electric and natural gas aggregator for commercial and industrial customers throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia.

NOW UPON CONSIDERATION of the application and the Staff Report, the Commission finds that TFS Energy's application for a license to provide electric and natural gas aggregation service should be granted, subject to the conditions set forth below.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) TFS Energy is hereby granted license No. A-30 to provide competitive electric and natural gas aggregation service to commercial and industrial customers throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia. This license to act as an aggregator is granted subject to the provisions of the Retail Access Rules, this Order, and other applicable statutes.

(2) This license is not valid authority for the provision of any product or service not identified within the license itself.

(3) This case shall remain open for consideration of any subsequent amendments or modifications to this license.

[1] With the filing of additional information on November 9, 2009, and on November 25, 2009, TFS Energy completed its application.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00129
OCTOBER 29, 2010

APPLICATION OF
RESTON LAKE ANNE AIR CONDITIONING CORPORATION

For an increase in rates

ORDER

On December 2, 2009, Reston Lake Anne Air Conditioning Corporation ("RELAC" or "Company") filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") its application, testimony, and exhibits for a general increase in rates for its air conditioning service.

RELAC requested an increase in annual revenues of $185,650, asserting that the revenue increase would permit the Company to earn an 8.32% return on rate base. In its application, the Company stated that its "total revenue requirement of $516,185, which includes the $185,650 proposed increase, is designed to recover, in the aggregate, (i) revenues not in excess of the aggregate actual costs incurred by the Company in serving Virginia customers and annualized adjustments for future costs plus (ii) a fair return on rate base."[1] Additionally, RELAC requested that it be permitted to put its rates into effect on an interim basis, subject to refund, for service rendered on or after January 1, 2010, or alternatively for service rendered on or after May 1, 2010, if the Commission determined that the proposed rates should be suspended for 150 days pursuant to § 56-238 of the Code of Virginia ("Code").

On December 17, 2009, the Commission issued its Order for Notice and Hearing in which it, among other things, suspended RELAC's proposed rates and charges for 150 days; scheduled a public hearing in this matter for April 20, 2010; and assigned this matter to a hearing examiner.

On February 23, 2010, the Fairfax County Board of Supervisors ("Fairfax County") filed its Notice of Participation in this proceeding. On March 5, 2010, Fairfax County filed a Motion for Modification of the Commission's Procedural Order in which it requested that the April 20, 2010 public hearing in this proceeding be relocated from Richmond to Fairfax, Virginia. By Hearing Examiner's Ruling dated March 19, 2010, the public hearing scheduled for April 20, 2010, was retained in Richmond, Virginia, and an additional public hearing to receive the public witness testimony was scheduled for May 3, 2010, in Fairfax County. During the pendency of the proceeding, eight written public comments on the Company's application were filed with the Clerk of the Commission.

As directed by the Order for Notice and Hearing, Commission Staff ("Staff") filed its Staff Report with the Commission on March 18, 2010. On April 15, 2010, RELAC and the Staff filed a Joint Motion to Accept Stipulation and included with their Joint Motion a Stipulation reached between the Company and the Staff on April 13, 2010. Among other things, the Company and the Staff agreed to specific terms regarding the Company's additional annual revenue requirement, rate design, authorized return on equity,[2] and other terms related to the Company's rates and accounting adjustments recommended by the Staff in its Report filed on March 18, 2010. Fairfax County did not join in the Stipulation. Paragraph 14 of the Stipulation provides in pertinent part that the Stipulation "is not intended to address any service quality issue(s) or to suggest or limit any possible remedy(ies) to those issues that have been or may be raised by the Company's customers or the County of Fairfax, Virginia in this proceeding."[3]

On April 20, 2010, the evidentiary hearing was convened in Richmond, Virginia, as scheduled. Anthony Gambardella, Esquire, and John K. Byrum, Jr., Esquire, appeared on behalf of RELAC. Marilyn S. McHugh, Esquire, appeared on behalf of Fairfax County. Kerry R. Wortzel, Esquire, and Mary Beth Adams, Esquire, appeared on behalf of Staff. Proofs of notice and service were received into the record pursuant to Ordering Paragraphs (6), (7) and (8) of the Commission's Order for Notice and Hearing. Two public witnesses offered testimony during the hearing in Richmond.

On April 29, 2010, RELAC filed a Motion for Interim Rates in which the Company requested authorization to put into effect, subject to refund, the rates provided for in the Stipulation for services rendered on and after May 1, 2010. Neither Fairfax County nor Staff opposed the Motion, and the Hearing Examiner granted the request on April 30, 2010.

On May 3, 2010, a public hearing to receive additional public witness testimony was convened in Fairfax County. John K. Byrum, Jr., Esquire, appeared on behalf of RELAC. Marilyn S. McHugh, Esquire, appeared on behalf of Fairfax County. Kerry R. Wortzel, Esquire, appeared on behalf of Staff. Eleven public witnesses offered testimony, which was primarily related to quality of service issues.

On August 4, 2010, Senior Hearing Examiner Alexander F. Skirpan, Jr., issued the Senior Hearing Examiner's Report ("Report"), which included the following findings based upon the Stipulation and the other evidence contained in the record:

1. The use of a test year ending December 31, 2008, is proper in this proceeding;

2. RELAC's test year operating revenues, after all adjustments, were $326,048;

3. RELAC's test year operating revenue deductions, after all adjustments, were $406,616;

4. RELAC's test year net operating income (loss) and adjusted net operating income (loss), after all adjustments were $(80,568) and $(80,628), respectively;

5. RELAC's current rates produce a return on adjusted rate base of -31.88% and a return on equity of -76.99%;

6. RELAC's current cost of equity is within a range of 9.90% - 10.90%, and RELAC's rates should be established based on a return on equity of 10.70%;

7. RELAC's overall cost of capital, using the 10.70% return on equity and the capital structure reflected in the Stipulation, is 7.733%;

8. RELAC's adjusted test year rate base is $252,921;

9. Based on the Stipulation, RELAC requires $162,485 in additional gross annual revenues to earn a reasonable return on rate base;

10. The rates provided in Attachments C and D to the Stipulation are designed to produce the required additional gross annual revenues and are just and reasonable;

11. In accordance with the Stipulation, RELAC's cost of equity of 10.70% shall be used for determining overearnings until the Commission establishes otherwise;

12. In accordance with the Stipulation, RELAC will book a deferred asset for rate case expense not to exceed $30,000 and amortize the deferred asset over three years beginning May 1, 2010;

13. In accordance with the Stipulation, RELAC will remove state accumulated deferred income taxes from its books and capitalize property taxes related to CWIP, as a component of the cost of construction projects;

[2] The Company and Staff agreed to an authorized return on equity range of 9.9%-10.9% and a 10.7% return on equity for purposes of designing rates. The Company also agreed to limit its rate case expense to $30,000 amortized over three years, and the Company is at risk for any rate case expense incurred above this amount.

[3] Stipulation at 3.

14. RELAC should be required to refund, with interest, all revenues collected under its interim rates in excess of the amount found just and reasonable herein;

15. In accordance with the Stipulation, RELAC will report to Staff: (i) when the Company's temporary pump has been placed in service to withdraw water from the lake at a lower depth and when the temporary pump is taken out of service from withdrawing water from the lake at a lower depth, and (ii) both main breaks and service leaks within twenty-four hours;

16. In accordance with the Stipulation, RELAC should continue to provide written information to assist customers in properly maintaining their own equipment;

17. RELAC should be directed to train its personnel to record accurately and consistently, information already required by its plant record forms, especially as to supply and return temperatures and pressures, and outside temperatures;

18. RELAC should be directed to record supply temperatures and pressures, and outside temperatures when the Company makes inspections or answers service complaint calls at customer premises;

19. RELAC should be directed to document quality of service complaint calls, including whether the cooling issues customers reported resulted from problems in the system or inadequate maintenance/operation of internal units or other factors in the home;

20. RELAC should be directed to establish a web page on the Aqua America website to provide customers with preventive maintenance information and with contact information; and

21. RELAC should be directed to continue its discussions with neighborhood cluster presidents, with Staff and Fairfax County given an opportunity to participate in such discussions.[4]

The Senior Hearing Examiner recommended that the Commission enter an order adopting the findings in the Report, granting RELAC an increase in gross annual revenues of $162,485, directing prompt refund of amounts collected under interim rates in excess of the rate increase found just and reasonable in the Report, and dismissing the case. He further invited comments to his Report to be filed within twenty-one (21) days of the date of the Report.

On August 25, 2010, Fairfax County and RELAC filed comments to the Senior Hearing Examiner's Report. In its comments, Fairfax County requested that the Commission modify the Senior Hearing Examiner's findings in Paragraphs 17, 18, 19, and 21.

In its Comments to the Senior Hearing Examiner's Report, RELAC urged the Commission to adopt and finalize the stipulated rates, as recommended by the Senior Hearing Examiner.[5] The Company did not object to the customer service measures recommended by the Senior Hearing Examiner but pointed out that the feasibility of complying with certain recommendations depends largely on the equipment the customer possesses.[6] The Company also stated that it had not yet determined the technical feasibility or annual cost of creating or maintaining the recommended web page, but it anticipates that such page could be developed within the Aqua America website "in a manner that will not substantially affect stipulated costs or the adequacy of the stipulated rates."[7]

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record in this matter, is of the opinion and finds that the findings and recommendations in the Senior Hearing Examiner's Report should be adopted, with the modifications noted herein; that the Stipulation should be adopted; and that the rates provided for in the Stipulation should be approved.

In Paragraphs 17 – 21 of his Report, the Senior Hearing Examiner addressed some of the service quality issues that Fairfax County and public witnesses articulated at the hearings in Richmond and Fairfax County. In its Comments to the Senior Hearing Examiner's Report, the Company did not oppose the Senior Hearing Examiner's recommendations but pointed out some concerns about potential costs related to initiating such procedures. Fairfax County, in its Comments to the Senior Hearing Examiner's Report, recommended strengthening the requirements recommended by the Senior Hearing Examiner to include additional and more thorough reporting requirements to the Commission.

With regard to the recommended modifications proposed by Fairfax County to Paragraphs 17, 18, and 19 of the Senior Hearing Examiner's Report, we believe that such additional training and reporting requirements should be performed by the Company. Therefore, we adopt the modifications to Paragraphs 17, 18, and 19 of the Senior Hearing Examiner's Report, but rather than requiring the Company to report to the Commission on a quarterly basis, we will require that the Company make the records available in one report to the Staff by December 1 of each year.

Additionally, mindful of the requirement of § 56-247.1 C of the Code that every public utility must establish, and the Commission must approve, customer complaint procedures that ensure prompt and effective processing of customer inquiries, service requests and complaints, we find that RELAC should review its customer complaint procedure. RELAC should update and refile this procedure in light of the concerns raised in this proceeding, and the Staff should review this procedure and should report to the Commission on the adequacy thereof.

[6] RELAC Comments at 15.

[7] Id. at 15-16.

With regard to Fairfax County's recommended modification to Paragraph 21, we will not adopt the recommendation concerning specific discussion topics because Fairfax County, or anyone else participating in the discussions, is free to bring up any topics of concern to that participant, and there is no need to limit or specify what topics should be discussed.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The findings and recommendations of the August 4, 2010 Report of the Senior Hearing Examiner, with the modifications noted above, are hereby adopted.

(2) In accordance with the findings made herein, the Stipulation attached hereto as Attachment A is adopted, and its terms are incorporated herein.

(3) RELAC shall record on a daily basis, accurately and consistently, information already required by its plant record forms, especially as to supply and return temperatures and pressures, and outside temperatures, and train its personnel to do so. This information should be made available to Commission Staff on an annual basis by December 1 of each year.

(4) RELAC shall record supply temperatures and pressures, and outside temperatures on each occasion when the Company makes inspections/repairs to its lines or answers service complaint calls at customer premises, and train its personnel to do so. This information should be made available to the Commission Staff on an annual basis by December 1 of each year.

(5) RELAC shall document all customer complaint calls, including the nature of each complaint, a brief description of its resolution and the length of time to resolve, and whether, if applicable, the cooling issues customers reported resulted from problems in the system or inadequate maintenance/operation of internal units or other factors in the home. These requirements should be included as part of the customer complaint procedures that the Company must refile, and the documentation should be made available to the Commission Staff by December 1 of each year.

(6) RELAC shall, within thirty (30) days from the date of this Order, file revised tariffs and terms and conditions of service and its revised customer complaint procedure with the Commission's Division of Energy Regulation, in accordance with this Order.

(7) The Commission's Division of Energy Regulation shall review and report to the Commission on the adequacy of RELAC's customer complaint procedure within sixty (60) days from the date of this Order.

(8) The Company shall use the rates as adopted herein to recalculate all bills rendered, which were calculated using, in whole or in part, the rates and charges which took effect on May 1, 2010. Where application of the rates prescribed by this Order results in a reduced bill, the difference in all bills shall be refunded with interest within ninety (90) days of the date of this Order, as directed in the ordering paragraphs below.

(9) The refunds with interest directed in Ordering Paragraph (8) for current customers may be made by a credit to the customers' accounts and shown on bills. The bills shall show the refund as a separate item or items. For former customers, refunds with interest that exceed $1.00 shall be made by check mailed to the last known address of such customers. No setoff shall be permitted against any disputed portion of an outstanding balance.

(10) The Company shall maintain a record of former customers due a refund of $1.00 or less and shall promptly make the refund by check upon request. For any funds not paid or claimed, the Company shall comply with § 55-210.6:2 of the Code of Virginia.

(11) The refund amounts calculated as directed in Ordering Paragraph (8) shall bear interest at a rate for each calendar quarter, which shall be the arithmetic mean, to the nearest one-hundredth of one percent of the "Bank prime loan" values published in Federal Reserve Statistical Release H.15 (519), Selected Interest Rates, for the three months of the preceding calendar quarter. The interest shall be computed from the date payments were due as shown on bills to the date of the bill showing the credit to current customers or the date of the refund check mailed to former customers.

(12) Within 120 days of the date of this Order, the Company shall submit to the Divisions of Public Utility Accounting and Energy Regulation a report showing that all refunds have been made pursuant to this Order and listing the expenses of refunding and the accounts charged. The Company shall not recover the interest paid or the expenses incurred in making such refunds from water and sewer rates and charges subject to the Commission's jurisdiction.

(13) This matter is continued for further order of the Commission.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00130
OCTOBER 19, 2010

APPLICATION OF
KENTUCKY UTILITIES COMPANY d/b/a OLD DOMINION POWER COMPANY

For authority to issue securities under Chapter 3 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia and to engage in an affiliate transaction under Chapter 4 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia

ORDER AMENDING AUTHORITY GRANTED

By Order dated December 28, 2009, Kentucky Utilities Company d/b/a Old Dominion Power Company ("KU/ODP" or "Company"), was authorized by the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") to issue up to $225 million in unsecured long-term debt securities to an affiliate, Fidelia Corporation.[1] The order also permitted KU/ODP to enter into hedging transactions related to the debt securities. The Commission's authorization period is set to expire on December 31, 2010.

In an application filed by KU/ODP on June 15, 2010, in Case No. PUE-2010-00061, KU/ODP made the following request:

> V. RECENTLY AUTHORIZED $225,000,000 NEW DEBT
> 16. The Commission recently authorized KU/ODP to obtain long-term debt from Fidelia in an amount not to exceed $225,000,000.[7] Because it has a continuing need to use the debt authority the Commission has already approved, KU/ODP may issue some or all of this debt under its existing authority. KU/ODP therefore further requests authority (a) to issue up to $225,000,000 in new unsecured debt to Fidelia, later replacing it with up to $225,000,000 of secured debt, or (b) to issue up to $225,000,000 of new secured debt in lieu of the $225,000,000 of already authorized, but unissued, Fidelia debt, provided that the total of debt outstanding under (a) and (b) together shall not exceed $225,000,000.[2]

By letter filed on October 12, 2010, in Case No. PUE-2010-00061, KU/ODP requests that the time period to issue the $225 million of debt securities authorized in Case No. PUE-2009-00130 be extended to December 31, 2011.

On this day, the Commission issued an order in Case No. PUE-2010-00061 granting KU/ODP's request to restructure and refinance unsecured debt, to assume obligations, and for amendment of existing authority.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the matter, is of the opinion and finds that an order should be entered amending the authority granted and extending the period of authority in this case.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) KU/ODP is authorized to issue up to $225 million in long-term debt, either (a) with Fidelia, later refinancing any Fidelia debt with new secured debt from the capital markets, or (b) issuing secured debt directly in the capital markets, provided that the total debt outstanding under (a) and (b) together shall not exceed $225 million, consistent with our order in Case No. PUE-2010-00061.

(2) The authority granted, pursuant to our December 28, 2009 Order and amended by Ordering Paragraph (1) herein, is effective from the date of this order through December 31, 2011.

(3) On or before March 31, 2012, KU/ODP shall submit to the Division of Economics and Finance a final report of action containing the information required in Ordering Paragraph (4) of our December 28, 2009 Order.

(4) All other directives detailed in our December 28, 2009 Order shall remain in full force and effect.

(5) This matter shall be continued subject to the continuing review, audit and appropriate directive of the Commission.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00131
AUGUST 13, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In the Matter of Investigating the Outsourcing of Washington Gas Light Company's Call Center Functions to Accenture LLP

FINAL ORDER

The State Corporation Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to Article IX of the Constitution of Virginia and Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), is charged with the duty of supervising and regulating public service companies doing business in the Commonwealth of Virginia relating to the performance of their public duties. In Case No. PUE-1989-00052, the Commission adopted Parts 191, 192, 193, and 199 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations to serve as minimum gas pipeline safety standards ("Safety Standards") in Virginia. The Commission is authorized to enforce the Safety Standards for natural gas facilities pursuant to § 56-257.2 B of the Code, which allows the Commission to impose the fines and penalties authorized therein.

On December 10, 2009, the Commission entered an Order Establishing General Investigation in this proceeding. Prior to initiation of this investigation, the Division of Utility and Railroad Safety ("Division" or "Staff") advised the Commission that on October 29, 2009, Washington Gas Light Company ("WGL" or "Company") provided the Division with a written summary of information describing a proposed relocation of its outsourced emergency call handling center operations from San Antonio, Texas, to Niagara, Canada. The Division noted that in 2007, WGL contracted with Accenture LLP ("Accenture") to outsource aspects of the Company's call center functions; and that Accenture had maintained WGL's emergency call operations in San Antonio, Texas, until that time. The Division requested that the Commission establish this investigation for the purpose of determining whether the movement of the Company's outsourced emergency call center operations outside of the United States would result in a degradation of public services or the Division's ability to investigate possible violations of the Safety Standards.

In our Final Order in Case No. PUE-2006-00059,[1] we approved a performance-based regulatory ("PBR") plan for WGL under § 56-235.6 of the Code. In that Final Order, we cautioned that:

> Consistent with the statutory requirements for a performance-based regulatory plan, we expect WGL's service and reliability to remain at or to exceed present levels during the term of the revised PBR Plan. As we explained in a prior Commission decision adopting a five year rate plan for electric service: "We recognize that a rate plan could create incentives for [the public utility] to reduce expenses which might adversely impact service to its customers. If we find a deterioration in service, we will not hesitate to act to ensure that service is maintained at least at current standards."[2]

In that same Order, we directed the Company to work with the Staff to develop service quality standards and appropriate metrics that were designed to monitor the outsourcing of business processes to Accenture, "to measure the Company's progress in continuing to maintain a safe and reliable gas distribution system while striving to control operating costs."[3] WGL notes that it has been providing the Staff with quarterly reports on its emergency and other call metrics since the Commission accepted the Stipulation between the Company and the Staff in the PBR proceeding in 2007.[4]

On May 19, 2010, the Division filed its Staff Report in this proceeding. The Division did not raise specific concerns with the Company's metrics or average call response times. The Division focused its evaluation on several aspects of the call center's operations, including: the call center's technical capabilities for retaining and storing information; the call center's ability to interface with WGL's Virginia operations to provide prompt responses to emergency calls; the training, drug and alcohol testing, and operating procedures applicable to employees involved in call center operations; the Division's access to call center employees and relevant documents in the course of a pipeline safety investigation; and the recovery of investigative costs that involve evidence obtained from Canada. The Staff made several recommendations in its Report in these areas, and each of these recommendations was addressed by the Company and the Staff in later pleadings.

On June 16, 2010, the Company filed it Comments on Staff Report ("Comments"). In its Comments, the Company did not object to five of the Division's recommendations. Specifically, WGL did not object to the Division's recommendations that the Company:

- Retain all records of compliance requirements for the Company's drug and alcohol program pursuant to 49 C.F.R. Part 199, including training, pre-employment, random, reasonable cause, and post accident testing, for all employees, U.S. and Canadian, in its Springfield Operations Center.
- Retain records of all emergency response training and operator qualification pursuant to 49 C.F.R. Part 192 for all employees, U.S. and Canadian, in its Springfield Operations Center.
- Enforce all contractual provisions in the Company's contract(s) with Accenture regarding audit procedures, including but not limited to those contained in Appendix 10 of the Master Services Agreement.
- Require Accenture to provide Staff with immediate access to call center employees, through enforcement of the relevant contractual provisions in the Company's contract(s) with Accenture, and by any other legal means, for purposes of interviewing and deposing such employees in a Commission investigation.[5]
- Verify that all call center employees are properly trained to recognize the conditions, in addition to the smell of gas, that are indicative of a possible gas emergency.[6]

The Company noted its objections to the other recommendations made by the Division. On July 9, 2010, the Staff filed its Motion for Leave to Reply to the Comments of Washington Gas Light Company ("Motion"), along with its proposed Reply to WGL's Comments ("Reply"). On July 23, 2010, WGL filed is Response to the Staff's Motion along with Proposed Response to the Staff's Reply ("Response"). We hereby grant the Staff's Motion and accept both the Staff's Reply to the Company's Comments and the Company's Response.

NOW THE COMMISSION, having considered the record in this matter, is of the opinion and finds as follows. With respect to the recommendations of the Staff referenced above, we adopt those recommendations, and find that they are appropriate and supported by the record.

In addition, we make the following findings regarding the Staff's other recommendations.[7]

[4] WGL Response at 6.

[5] The Company clarified that it has no legal right to require or provide access to former WGL or Accenture employees. WGL Comments at 15.

[6] Staff Report at 23-25.

[7] The Company and Staff also discuss issues regarding Staff investigative costs. WGL Comments at 14; Staff Reply at 10; WGL Response at 13-14. In this regard, we note that the findings herein in no manner limit the Staff's ability to pursue investigations and settlement to the fullest extent permitted by law.

The Division originally recommended that WGL provide a redundancy for the Company's Customer Information System ("CIS") in order to ensure the Company's ability to obtain and store the customer information when the CIS is off line for processing. The Company maintains that it uses its computer aided design ("CAD") system to record the information when the system is off line, and that the CAD system automatically updates the CIS system when the processing is complete.[8] The Company further represents that the only option available to WGL for continuous operation of the CIS would be to replace the current CIS with an operating system that allows for simultaneous update of records, an option that the Company estimates would cost tens of millions of dollars.[9] The Company advises that it has operated its CIS without a redundant server for over 30 years, and obviously prior to its relationship with Accenture.[10] The Division makes a number of arguments in favor of a redundant server. The Staff notes that it is not aware of, and has not discovered, any incidents involving the CIS wherein a loss of data or customer records has occurred. However, the Division notes that when the CIS system becomes non-functional, a manual process is used.[11] The Division advises that it will continue to monitor the effectiveness of the Company's system. After considering the record, we do not find that a redundant customer information system should be required at this time, but we agree that the Division should continue to monitor the effectiveness of the existing CIS.

The Division also recommended that WGL store all audio recordings of emergency calls at its Springfield Operations Center for five years. The Company advises that it retains all audio recordings of emergency calls for two years or, in the event of an investigation, until the investigation is complete.[12] The Company further advises that it made a strategic business decision in 2007 to relocate all if its information technology infrastructure (including the equipment for call recordings) off site.[13] The Staff does not take issue with where the recordings are made, but recommends that duplicates be stored in Springfield for ease of access, prompt investigative response, and avoidance of delay in recovering this data.[14] In its Response, the Company advises that audio recordings of emergency calls are digital, so the most expeditious way to provide a copy of an audio recording would be to send it via electronic mail.[15] We will accept the Company's representations regarding the ease of access and production of these recordings, and direct the Company to promptly produce all recordings and other documentation of emergency calls to the Division upon request in the course of an investigation.

We turn next to the call center's ability to identify the source of an emergency call. Both the Division and the Company devote significant attention to the Company's and call center's ability to retain and store the automated number information ("ANI") of an emergency call in order to identify the caller and the location of an incident. The focus of the Division's concern is a loss of connection with an emergency caller before the call is completed, which can result in loss of information that the Company can use for a prompt response to the call. The Company expresses several concerns with a directive to develop a system that retains and stores caller information automatically. Among other things, the Company advises that: ANI information cannot be instantly retrieved and would not be useful in expediting the handling of an emergency;[16] implementing a system to retain and store ANI would eliminate the telecommunications redundancy that has been built into its current call center system;[17] the Company's system was not configured to retain and store ANI information for emergency calls prior to the transfer of call center operations from WGL to Accenture; and further that the Company would expect to recover the unknown costs for implementing such a system in rates.[18] The Company also disagrees with the Staff that the emergency call center CSRs do not follow a standard operating procedure in the event of a report of a gas leak when only the caller's telephone number is known.[19]

After consideration of the Company's Comments, the Division ultimately makes two recommendations regarding retention and storage of automated number information and CSR operating procedure. First, the Division requests that the Commission consider requiring the Company to conduct a cost-benefit analysis of implementing a system that retains and stores the ANI for all calls received by the WGL Accenture emergency call center, and submit such findings to the Commission Staff.[20] We find this recommendation appropriate after consideration of all of the information submitted in this proceeding, and direct the Company to do so. Second, the Division requests that the Commission consider requiring the Company to develop a standard operating procedure for CSRs to follow in the event of the report of a gas leak when only the caller's telephone number is known.[21] The Company advises that the emergency call CSRs already have and follow such standard operating procedures, but the Company does agree to document these procedures.[22] We therefore direct the Company to document these procedures, and submit a copy of such documented procedures to the Division.

Finally, we appreciate the Division's need to obtain access to the right personnel, documents and recordings promptly in the course of a pipeline safety investigation. WGL must demonstrate that its call center relocation to Canada does not pose a significant hindrance to the Division's ability to investigate an incident. If it does, we will consider revisiting this issue. As we noted in the original Order in this proceeding, the Commission is empowered to order correction of any practice, act or service that is found to be unjust, unreasonable, insufficient or inadequate.[23]

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The Company shall retain all records of compliance requirements for the Company's drug and alcohol program pursuant to 49 C.F.R. Part 199, including training, pre-employment, random, reasonable cause, and post accident testing, for all employees, U.S. and Canadian, in its Springfield Operations Center.

(2) The Company shall retain records of all emergency response training and operator qualification pursuant to 49 C.F.R. Part 192 for all employees, U.S. and Canadian, in its Springfield Operations Center.

(3) The Company shall enforce all contractual provisions in the Company's contract(s) with Accenture, including those referenced in the Staff's Report, regarding audit procedures by the Company, inspectors, and regulators.

(4) The Company shall require Accenture to provide Staff with immediate access to call center employees, through enforcement of the relevant contractual provisions in the Company's contract(s) with Accenture, and by any other legal means, for purposes of interviewing and deposing such employees in a Commission investigation.

(5) The Company shall verify that all call center employees are properly trained to recognize the conditions, in addition to the smell of gas, that are indicative of a possible gas emergency.

(6) The Company shall promptly produce all recordings and other documentation of emergency calls to the Division upon request in the course of an investigation.

(7) The Company shall conduct a cost-benefit analysis of implementing a system that retains and stores the ANI for all calls received by the WGL Accenture emergency call center, and submit such analysis to the Commission Staff on or before April 1, 2011.

(8) The Company shall document the standard operating procedures that call center CSRs must follow in the event of the report of a gas leak when only the caller's telephone number is known, and submit a copy of such documented procedures to the Division on or before November 1, 2010.

(9) There being nothing further to be done herein, this matter shall be dismissed from the Commission's docket of active proceedings.

SEPTEMBER 2, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In the Matter of Investigating the Outsourcing of Washington Gas Light Company's Call Center Functions to Accenture LLP

ORDER GRANTING RECONSIDERATION

On August 13, 2010, the Commission issued its Final Order ("Order") in this proceeding. Twenty days later, on September 2, 2010, Washington Gas Light Company ("Company") filed its Petition for Reconsideration ("Petition") of the Commission's Order, for the purpose of clarifying the language of Ordering Paragraph (2) of the Order.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of this matter, grants reconsideration for the purposes of continuing our jurisdiction over this matter and considering the Company's Petition.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Reconsideration is granted for the purpose of continuing our jurisdiction over this matter and considering the Company's Petition.

(2) This matter is continued pending further order of the Commission.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00131
SEPTEMBER 16, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

Ex Parte: In the Matter of Investigating the Outsourcing of Washington Gas Light Company's Call Center Functions to Accenture LLP

ORDER ON RECONSIDERATION

On August 13, 2010, the Commission issued its Final Order in this proceeding. On September 2, 2010, Washington Gas Light Company ("WGL" or "Company") filed a Petition for Reconsideration ("Petition") of the Commission's Final Order, for the purpose of clarifying or reconsidering the language of Ordering Paragraph (2) thereof. Ordering Paragraph (2) of the Final Order states that "[t]he Company shall retain records of all emergency response training and operator qualification pursuant to 49 C.F.R. Part 192 for all employees, U.S. and Canadian, in its Springfield Operations Center." The Company "requests the Commission to clarify or reconsider Ordering Paragraph (2) . . . so that the Company be required to retain records of all emergency response training and operator qualification, to the extent that it is required by 49 C.F.R. Part 192."[1]

On September 2, 2010, the Commission issued an Order Granting Reconsideration for the purpose of continuing our jurisdiction over this matter and considering the Company's Petition.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of this matter, finds that no modification of the language of Ordering Paragraph (2) of the Final Order is necessary. The directive in Ordering Paragraph (2) already requires record retention "pursuant to 49 C.F.R. Part 192"; thus, it is unnecessary to add "to the extent that it is required by 49 C.F.R. Part 192" as requested by the Company.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT this matter is hereby dismissed.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00133
MARCH 10, 2010

APPLICATION OF BEAR ISLAND PAPER COMPANY, L.P.

For permission to participate in the PJM Interconnection Economic Loan Response Program

ORDER GRANTING CONDITIONAL PERMISSION TO PARTICIPATE IN THE PJM INTERCONNECTION ECONOMIC LOAD RESPONSE PROGRAM

On December 8, 2009, Bear Island Paper Company, L.P. ("Bear Island" or "Company"), a Virginia limited partnership, by counsel, filed an Application seeking permission to continue to participate in the PJM Interconnection ("PJM") Economic Load Response Program ("ELRP").

In support of its Application, Bear Island stated that it operates a paper mill in Hanover County, Virginia, where it receives electric utility service from Rappahannock Electric Cooperative ("Rappahannock"), which is a member of the Old Dominion Electric Cooperative ("Old Dominion"). Additionally, Bear Island stated that it has demonstrated an ability to shed demand for electricity during peak demand and peak pricing periods and has participated for a number of years in the ELRP pursuant to permission obtained from both Rappahannock and Old Dominion as reflected in a Confidential Settlement Agreement dated October 19, 2007 ("Agreement").

With regard to Bear Island's participation in the ELRP, Old Dominion is the Load Serving Entity ("LSE"), Rappahannock is the Electric Distribution Company("EDC"), and the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") is the relevant electric retail regulatory authority ("RERRA"). On July 16, 2009, the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission ("FERC") issued an Order on Rehearing in its Docket No. RM07-19-001 (Wholesale Competition in Regions with Organized Electric Markets). In that Order, FERC directed the RTOs and ISOs (such as PJM) to amend their market rules to accept bids from aggregators of retail customers of utilities that distributed four (4) million MWh or less in the previous fiscal year (such as Rappahannock) only with the permission of the RERRA. PJM made a compliance filing in FERC Docket No. RM07-19-001, which included certain tariff revisions related to its ELRP. PJM notified its market participants that Economic Load Response registrations for end-use sites that are served by small EDCs (served less than four (4) million MWh in 2008) will be terminated unless evidence of the applicable RERRA's permission or conditioned permission to participate is supplied to PJM by the EDC or LSE. The evidence supplied must take the form of an order, resolution or ordinance of the RERRA, an opinion of the RERRA's legal counsel attesting to existence of an order, resolution, or ordinance, or an opinion of the state attorney general on behalf of the RERRA attesting to existence of an order, resolution or ordinance.

In its Application, Bear Island asserted that the termination of its registration in the ELRP would reduce the incentive for it to curtail load during periods of high-priced electricity and cause practical difficulties and financial hardship for Bear Island during these difficult economic times. Bear Island also represented that both Rappahannock and Old Dominion have consented to Bear Island's request for an order granting it conditional permission to participate in the ELRP.

On December 9, 2009, the Commission entered an Order on Bear Island's Application which, among other things, granted Bear Island conditional permission to continue to participate in the PJM ELRP in order to preserve the status quo, on the condition that such participation be limited and subject to the terms and conditions of the Agreement and subject to further action of the Commission.

On January 12, 2010, the Commission entered an Order Inviting Comments wherein it invited interested persons to file comments regarding the Application on or before February 5, 2010. However, the Commission received no comments in response to the Order Inviting Comments.

NOW THE COMMISSION is of the opinion and finds that Bear Island's Application for permission to participate in the PJM ELRP should be granted on the condition that such participation be limited and subject to the terms and conditions of the Agreement and subject to further action of the Commission.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Bear Island is granted conditional permission to continue its participation in the PJM ELRP, limited and subject to the terms and conditions of the Agreement; such conditional permission is subject to further action of the Commission and shall not serve as precedent in this or any other proceeding.

(2) This matter is continued generally.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00135
JANUARY 8, 2010

APPLICATION OF
NORTHERN NECK ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE

For approval to increase its short-term borrowing limit from $7,000,000 to $15,000,000

ORDER GRANTING AUTHORITY

On December 14, 2009, Northern Neck Electric Cooperative ("Northern Neck") ("Applicant") filed an application with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") under Chapter 3 of Title 56 of the Code of Virginia for approval to increase borrowing under short-term lines of credit from $7,000,000[1] up to $15,000,000. The amount of short-term debt authority requested in the application is in excess of 12% of total capitalization as defined in § 56-65.1 of the Code of Virginia. Applicant has paid the requisite fee of $250.

Applicant seeks approval to increase its available borrowing through a new short-term line of credit ("LOC") agreement with the National Bank for Cooperatives ("CoBank") to bridge any gap in obtaining long-term financing. The additional borrowing capacity through the new LOC will provide Northern Neck an alternative source of financing with a competitive interest rate, especially in times of emergency. CoBank approved the $8,000,000 LOC on November 25, 2009, and Applicant's Board of Directors anticipates executing the LOC at its January 2010 board meeting. The rate of interest paid by Northern Neck will be chosen from interest rate term options determined by CoBank from time to time. During each twelve-month period the LOC is in effect, Northern Neck must have a zero balance on the last day of the agreement. The LOC may renew automatically for a new 364-day term in perpetuity, unless terminated by CoBank or Northern Neck with at least ninety days' notice.

THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the application and having been advised by its Staff, is of the opinion and finds that approval of the application will not be detrimental to the public interest.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) Northern Neck is authorized to increase its borrowing of short-term debt under lines of credit from $7,000,000 to $15,000,000 under the terms and conditions and for the purposes stated in its application.

(2) Should Applicant seek to modify any terms or conditions or seek to increase the limit amounts of the lines of credit approved herein, Applicant shall submit an application with the Commission at least 25 days prior to the effective date of the proposed change.

(3) There appearing nothing further to be done in this matter, it hereby is dismissed.

CASE NO. PUE-2009-00136
MARCH 25, 2010

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

In re: Po River Water and Sewer Company's proposed revised rates, rules, and regulations

ORDER FOR NOTICE AND HEARING

On December 15, 2009, Po River Water and Sewer Company ("Po River" or "Company") notified its customers and the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") of its intent to increase rates and revise portions of the Company's rules and regulations on file with the Commission, effective for service rendered on or after February 1, 2010, pursuant to the Small Water or Sewer Public Utility Act, § 56-265.13:1 et seq. of the Code of Virginia ("Code").

On January 25, 2010, the Indian Acres Club of Thornburg ("IACT") filed a Petition for Declaratory Judgment, Injunction and Additional Relief ("Petition"), in which IACT asserted that Po River failed to provide a copy of the notice described above to IACT on December 15, 2009. Instead, IACT asserted that the Company sent IACT a copy of the notice via certified mail on January 4, 2010, after IACT advised Po River that it had not received official notice. The Petition asked the Commission to declare Po River's notice defective pursuant to § 56-265.13:5 of the Code and Rule 5 of the Commission's Rules Implementing the Small Water or Sewer Public Utility Act (20 VAC 5-200-40) and to enjoin Po River, pursuant to § 12.1-13 of the Code, from implementing its proposed revisions. Alternatively, if the request for an injunction is denied, IACT requested that the Commission schedule a hearing pursuant to § 56-265.13:6 of the Code and suspend the Company's proposed rates, tolls, and charges, pursuant to § 56-265.13:3 of the Code, for one hundred and fifty (150) days beginning January 5, 2010. IACT also asked the Commission to declare the proposed rates to be implemented on an interim basis and subject to refund with interest if implemented after the suspension period but prior to a final order in this case.

On January 28, 2010, Po River filed a letter with the Commission indicating that the Company would not be putting the changes previously noticed on December 15, 2009, into effect on February 1, 2010, and would be delaying implementation of those changes until May 1, 2010. The Company stated that it planned to send a letter to its customers on January 29, 2010, advising them of the new date for implementing the revised rates, rules, and regulations and would also be providing a revised notice explaining the changes and the new effective date of May 1, 2010.

On January 29, 2010, Po River resubmitted to the Commission the revised rates, rules, and regulations as well as the new notice sent to customers that described the changes being made to the rates and certain portions of the rules and regulations on file with the Commission. Po River stated that the notice filed on December 15, 2009, was not sent to one large customer at that time; therefore, Po River was sending a second notice to all customers advising that implementation of the changes would instead take effect on May 1, 2010.
